VETERANS DAY

November 11th is the anniversary we once knew as Armistice Day. Now it is Veterans Day. It has become the nation's Day of All-Embracing Sacred Remembrance!

No longer does this anniversary commemorate the patriotism of one generation of Americans alone. Today it is consecrated to the valor, the loyalty and the sacrifices of every generation of Americans since the birth of our Republic.

The ranks of our hero dead who are with us in spirit on Veterans Day 1957 stretch from the Concord Road to the beaches of the Pacific, from the battlefields of Europe to the bloodstained hills of Korea.

We can give Veterans Day a great and timely meaning this year. We face a grave new emergency of national survival today. Let us all join ranks in the spirit of our honored dead, and demonstrate a great new national unity on Veterans Day by flying the American Flag!

Putting everything behind Old Glory on Veterans Day will be truly keeping faith and a dramatic demonstration that Americans can join ranks and present a solid front to every new challenge to our freedom.

Shipping Fever Season

This is the time of year for cattle feeders to be on guard against shipping fever, Dr. F. A. Hall, Purdue University extension veterinarian, advises.

Hall says shipping fever occurs most often when cattle are being moved in periods of bad weather from range areas to the feed lots of the midwest.

Along with movement, fatigue, change of feed and change of water, cattle develop a disease similar to the human cold.

Cattle feeders can take a few precautions to help prevent shipping fever when they buy cattle, Hall says. They should purchase the animals as near home as possible, buy healthy, vigorous animals, and prevent fatigue as much as possible while transporting them.

When the cattle arrive at the farm, they should be put in an open barn lot. They should have access to plenty of fresh water and salt, and roughages should be fed for about two weeks. Timothy hay or straw can be used. Do not dehorn, spray or treat unless necessary. Extra exercise is harmful.

"Keep your eyes open for the possibility of an ailing animal," Hall suggests. If coughing, loss of appetite or diarrhea show up a veterinarian should be contacted.

"Early treatment may often result in the prevention of a death loss," he adds. "Pneumonia, if it develops, kills quickly."

House plants that have been outdoors all summer should be repotted, fertilized and brought into the home before cold weather starts. A few tablespoons of commercial fertilizer in a gallon of water could be used to settle the soil around the roots of the plant after repotting, say Purdue University horticulturists.

Water Evergreens Now

A good way to avoid brown, skimpy evergreens next summer is to water them generously in the fall. Purdue University plant pathologists suggest.

Reason for the so-called winter injury is dehydration, they point out.

Evergreens lose water continuously during the winter. Shrubs and small trees subjected to drying winds, or growing in sunny locations, will lose more water than protected plants.

Mulches of leaves or peat moss around the base of the trees and shrubs will increase moisture retention during the winter months.

Wrapping the base of young, smooth-barked trees to a height of three or four feet with burlap, building paper or nursery paper will reduce the dangers of winter injury.

When winter injury occurs, dead branches should be removed as soon as they appear in the spring. Applications of a complete fertilizer in late March or April will help damaged trees to renew their foliage.

The plant pathologists emphasize, however, that fertilizer should not be applied in the late fall.

Thoughts Of A Casual Hunter

(From the American Rifleman) O

I am an average, hard-working citizen. Once, or maybe twice, each year I get out my gun and go with a few friends on a hunting trip. I may take my rifle to the woods in search of a deer or I may take my shotgun to shoot a few ducks or pheasant. When the trip is over, the gun goes back into storage and I forget about it for another year. I am what is known as a casual hunter.

For me, hunting is a wholesome form of recreation which I have enjoyed since boyhood. I have always believed that the right to own firearms and to use them for lawful purposes is a part of our American heritage, but it seems that someone is always proposing a law to restrict the use of guns. Each time we plan a trip the places to hunt become harder to find. More and more acreage is being converted to commercial and residential use. As our population grows the demand for land becomes greater. With increased leisure time, more and more people are participating in outdoor activities. It is only natural that many of them turn to hunting. There is more hunting pressure because there are more hunters per square mile of available hunting area. Each year there is a greater need for hunting safety. I have known about these things for some time.

But I kept asking myself what could I do about it. After all, I am only a casual hunter.

But recently I have been doing some figuring. Come to think of it, there are millions of us casual hunters. Maybe we are not such insignificant folks after all. Maybe we just don't know our own strength. Guess we're just about the most important guys around when decisions are being made concerning our sport. Maybe we'd better look into things more carefully and take a more active interest in affairs affecting our hunting trips. We are an important factor in all matters relating to guns and shooting in our local communities, in our local communities, in our states, and in our nation. This is true whether or not we do anything about it.

Perhaps the most important thing for me and the millions of other fellows like me to keep in mind is that there are many casual hunters, but little or no casual hunting. If we are going to continue to enjoy the pleasures of the sport of hunting, we have a responsibility to help solve the problems which exist. Each of us has a job on our hands which we cannot pass to anyone else. We must express our opinions when we hear the old chestnut, "There ought to be a law!" We must take an active interest in matters relating to game conservation and the preservation of hunting areas. We must encourage firearms safety education to teach hunters how to properly handle their guns and avoid accidents.

We can work together in our own interests. We can become members of our local shooting groups and take an active part in the programs affecting our sport. We can join and support the National Rifle Association of America and other organizations which are doing so much for all hunters. We may be casual hunters, but we cannot afford to be casual about hunting.

Married Recently

At half past two o'clock on Sunday, October 27th, at the Mentone Baptist church, Miss Rebecca Mae Bowser, foster daughter of Mrs. Hazel Guy, became the bride of Larry Stavedahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stavedahl of Rochester.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Irwin Olson before the altar banked with white chrysanthemums, fern and lighted candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Edward Bowser of Mentone, wore a ballerina length gown of shimmering bridal satin. The fitted bodice held a sweetheart neckline trimmed with lace and sequins. Long sleeves pointed at the wrist, and the full skirt was worn over a satin hoop. She wore a studded tulle apron sprinkled with sequins and edged veil of imported silk illusion in fingertip length with blusher.

In her hands she carried a white Bible topped with three white roses accented with white satin streamers ending in small white pompons.

Mrs. Dennis Anderson of Mentone, matron of honor, wore a pale blue dress of taffeta and lace. She wore a garland of white pompons on her hair and carried a bouquet of the same blossoms.

The bridesmaid, Miss Janice Hoffman of Rochester, wore a dress of pale pink made identical to the honor attendants.

The flower girl, Miss Peggy Utter, was in yellow organdy. She scattered rose petals preceding the bride. Her brother, Rex, was the ring bearer.

The mother of the bride wore a two piece brown dress with a corsage of bronze mums. The groom's mother wore a navy blue with red accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

Ted Stavedahl, brother of the groom was best man. Gene Stavedahl, another brother, and Albert Snipes and Dale Ladson of Rochester were ushers.

Preceding the ceremony, lovely bridal aires were given by Miss Leah Nell Lemler, organist and Mrs. Wayne Bowser, soloist and at the closing of the service Mrs. Bowser sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Margaret Ann Bowser of North Webster, niece of the bride, held the guest book.

Serving at the wedding reception which was held at Pete's Restaurant, were the three sisters of the bride: Mrs. Earl Bruner, Jr., of Warsaw; Mrs. Sidney Alber, of Rochester, and Mrs. Marion Flory of South Bend.

For a trip to the Smokey Mountains, the bride chose a red jersey wool sheath dress with black accessories. She wore her white roses taken from her white Bible. The newlyweds will be at home with the bride's mother near Mentone.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Talma High School. She is employed at Pete's Restaurant and he at the Frank Manufacturing Co., both located at Mentone.

Guests present were from Mentone, Warsaw, Pierceton, North Webster, Rochester, Claypool, So Bend, and Van Wert, Ohio.

Married At Burket

Bronze and white chrysanthemums were arranged with candelabra at the altar of the Burket Methodist church where Miss Sharon Williamson and Brooke Doran were united in marriage Saturday evening, November 2.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Williamson, Burket. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Doran of the same community.

Rev. Lloyd Wright, pastor of the church, solemnized the exchange of vows at 7:30 following a prelude of nuptial aires presented by the organist, Mrs. Maude Snyder of Mentone, and Mrs. Bronson Miser, of Fort Wayne. Selections by the latter were "If I Could Tell You" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bridal gown of imported French peau de soie and Alencon lace was embellished with seed pearls and rhinestones at the portrait neckline and on the bou-fant skirt which extended into a court train. A cap of lace and peau de soie held her finger tip veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

Miss Mary Anne Zimmer of South Bend, the maid of honor, wore a princess style gown of Dior blue velvet with a scoop neckline and ballerina length skirt. Similarly styled gowns in open blue were worn by the other bridal attendants. Mrs. Jack Nichols of Lafayette, and Mrs. Robert Wade, of North Manchester. Their flowers were bronze pompons.

Byron Doran of Burket served his brother as best man. Guests were seated by Gene Sponseller of Bloomington and Jerry and Michael Nelson, of Burket, cousins of the bride.

A reception was held in the church social rooms following the wedding ceremony.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Doran are graduates of Burket high school. He has a degree from Manchester college and is self-employed. Mrs. Doran, a graduate nurse, trained at the Memorial hospital school of nursing in South Bend. They will reside at 1001 East Bowman street in South Bend.

Motorists who decorate their cars with paper pennants or other objects are not only endangering themselves, but they can unwittingly cause other motorists to become involved in a serious accident, says the Chicago Motor Club. Decorations impede the driver's vision, and distract other motorists, setting the stage for an accident.

All newly transplanted trees should be wrapped with commercial borer paper, newspaper, burlap, or aluminum foil to prevent sunscald and borer attack, Purdue University entomologists say. The wrapping should be left on the trees for two years.

ANYONE INTERESTED IN A HAIRCUT??

The picture above was taken a few years ago, as one can readily see. The scene shows the interior of a busy Mentone barber shop, that was located in the old hotel building that stood where the Frank Manufacturing plant is now located. The year is not definitely known, but the printed card was mailed from Mentone on September 28, 1914, by H. H.

Mills to Elmwood Morrison at Milwaukee, Wis. It announced the death of Dr. Bennett.

The print was rather faded and reproduction is not too good, but you may be able to identify the seven gentlemen pictured. But in case you cannot, friends here have helped us identify them. The barbers are, left to right: Jess Jones, Harve Poulson and Henry Mills. The gentleman seated on the "next" row is the late Chris Fleck. The men being serviced in the chairs are Fred McKinley, Sam Mentzer and a Mr. Teel, whose first name may have been Harley.

The picture was brought to us by Mrs. Herbert Dorsey, who was one of several to notify us that the one unidentified youngster in our last week's picture was her husband, Herbert.

Ballenger - Leckrone

Miss Sandra Ballenger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ballenger of Claypool, and Archie Lowell Leckrone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Leckrone, also of Claypool, exchanged marriage vows recently in the Beaver Dam Evangelical United Brethren church. The Rev. Wayne Johnson of Claypool performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of white pompoms and Vergi mums, palms and candelabra. Sisters of the groom, Beverly and Barbara Leckrone, lighted the candles.

Mrs. Jay Swick, organist, and Diana Ballenger, soloist, presented the nuptial aires of "With This Ring," "With These Hands," "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer" preceding the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, selected a bridal gown of Dupioni pure silk over nylon net and re-embroidered Alencon lace. It was fashioned with a long molded bodice and long pointed sleeves of silk topped with lace. It was accented with a scalloped neckline, bouffant skirt and sweep train of silk. The front panel of the skirt was applique with lace and the bodice and front panel sprinkled with tiny pearls and iridescent sequins. The headpiece was a crown and side clips of tiny seed pearls illusion and iridescent sequins which held a fingertip veil and blusher of imported silk illusion in place. The bride's bouquet was white roses. The bride completed her attire with pearl earrings, gifts of the groom.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Dale Smith of Wabash and the bridesmaids, JoAnn Tucker, Mentone; Janice Study, Akron, and Diane Sittler of Claypool, were attired in identical gowns of ballerina length and romance blue nylon chiffon over nylon net and taffeta. They were fashioned with a softly shirred bodice into a fitted midriff and scooped necklines. The bouffant skirts came to a floating back panel and the midriffs were applique with cotton lace flowers motifs and studded with pearls. They wore jeweled maline veils over an open plateau of velvet and pearls were matching headpieces. The bouquets were yellow pompoms and bronze Vergi mums. The flower girl, Melody Jo Ballenger, sister of the bride, was attired in a floor length gown of romance blue nylon chiffon over nylon net and taffeta. It was fashioned with a scooped neckline and a bouffant skirt that came to a floating back panel tied in a large bow. Her headpiece was an open plateau of romance blue chiffon. She carried a basket of yellow and bronze pompoms.

John Stookey of Leesburg served the groom as best man and Charles Tucker, Mentone; Mike Nelson and Jerry Nelson of Burket and Fred McSherry of Warsaw seated the 300 guests present.

Mrs. Ballenger selected for her daughter's wedding a sheath dress of lace over taffeta in toupe beige with black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow pompoms. Mrs. Leckrone, mother of the groom, was attired in a frosted green dress of pure silk fashioned with a full skirt. She also chose black accessories and wore a corsage of yellow pompoms.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. A white three-layered cake centered the reception table with Mrs. Mickey Eaton, Mrs. Garwin Eaton, Mrs. Fred McSherry and Janice Moltenhour serving.

The bride chose for her wedding trip to the Smokey Mountains a sheath of Daora blue with a plaid skirt. It was accented with a black bodice and matching jacket. She chose black accessories and wore the corsage from her bridal bouquet. After the trip the couple now reside at 310 North Tucker street in Mentone.

Mrs. Leckrone is a graduate of Beaver Dam High School and Warner's Beauty college in Fort Wayne. She is a beautician. Mr. Leckrone is also a graduate of Beaver Dam high school and is employed as a salesman for Pioneer Feed Company in Mentone.

Tractor Operating Costs

Don't be puzzled trying to figure out next year's costs for operating your farm tractor. Purdue University farm economist Robert C. Suter has worked out 14 steps for budgeting tractor costs that can be applied to any farm business.

Available in a Purdue extension publication, the budget shows Indiana farmers how to figure repairs, interest charges, annual depreciation, housing, fuel, oil and other costs. Suter worked out the budget in line with some allied research which compared operating costs for gasoline, diesel fuel and LP gas-powered tractors of various sizes.

Both the budget plan and the research are included in Purdue Mimeograph EC-136, entitled "Estimating Farm Tractor Operating Costs..." In this publication, Suter has included tables that will help farmers decide what costs per hour to assign to a 2-plow gasoline tractor, for example, or perhaps a 3-plow diesel fuel tractor.

His research showed that gasoline and diesel powered tractors differ in at least two respects—purchase price, which favors gasoline, and fuel consumption, which favors diesel.

Suter found that diesel tractors cost more—$464 for the 3-plow tractors; $673 for the 3-4 plow tractors, and $1,311 for the 4-5 tractors. But he also found diesel saves on fuel cost within the range of 21-27 cents an hour. The economist has charted these cost differences for both gasoline and diesel, so farmers can see the relative advantages and disadvantages of each for varying hours of use.

Hoosier farmers can secure a copy of Mimeo EC-136 from the county extension agent or by writing to the agricultural publications office, Purdue University.

NEW FEATURES IN BIG INTERNATIONAL SHOW

It will soon be show time in Chicago again with the curtain rising on new and exciting features at the 58th annual International Live Stock Exposition, slated for Nov. 29 to Dec. 7 in the International Amphitheatre of the Chicago Stock Yards.

The International will distribute more than $100,000 in cash premiums to livestock and grain growers. In addition to the usual top quality exhibits of both breeding and fat stock in the arena, show rings and stock yards pens—the International Grain and Hay Show and the International Wool Show will have new locations on the ground floor level in Donovan Hall, newest addition to the Amphitheatre. New features are planned to make them more interesting and attractive.

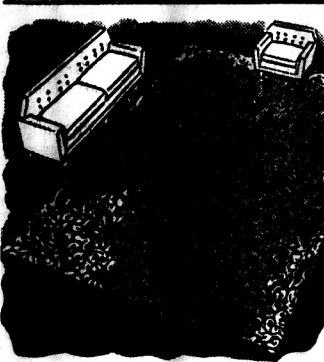

Dust in pastures or hog lots can aggravate respiratory diseases in hogs, say Purdue University husbandmen. They advise hog raisers to move their herd to new pastures or to a concrete slab if possible.

Larger Hog Enterprises

Hog raisers makes more money by increasing the size of their sow herd to 50 or 60 animals, according to R. H. Bauman, Purdue University agricultural economist.

This observation was drawn from a study of the records of 50 Indiana farmers producing two litters a year and running in herd-size from 7 to 127 sows. The study is being continued this year with a larger number of producers; next year a formal report should reveal more conclusively where savings in larger enterprises occur.

Bauman reports a marked increase in net returns as the size of the sow herd increased from 10 to 50 or 60 sows. With labor at $1 per hour, the 10-sow operation netted $270, the 30-sow operation $1,950, and the 60-sow operation $5,800.

According to Bauman much of this increase in net returns was due to larger volume. Another factor was the increased efficiencies associated with the larger size herds.

Net return for the enterprise increased proportionately with the size of the operation. It took an hour and ten minutes to produce 100 pounds of pork on the 10 to 20 sow farms, but only about 40 minutes to produce 100 pounds of pork on the 40 to 50 sow enterprises.

Total investment per sow and two litters was greater on smaller herds than on the larger ones, according to Bauman. Investment per sow was $506 in the 10-sow herd and $381 in the 50-sow operation. Larger hog producers use the same equipment more times during the year, contributing to greater economy.

BEAVER DAM HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

By Roger Nellans

On Friday night, November 1, the Beavers traveled to Milford to start their season's basketball schedule and came home victorious, winning the varsity game by a score of 60-55.

The Beavers got off to a slow start and trailed at the end of the first quarter 21-10. They started clicking very well in the second quarter to pile up a 32-23 advantage at half-time. The Beavers increased their lead to 50-57 at the end of the third stanza but Milford staged a rally in the final session to pull within five points.

Milford's inaccuracy at the foul line in making only 5 of 16 charity tosses, while the Beavers made 16 of 25, was the deciding factor.

The Beavers' scoring was well distributed with 3 men getting into the double figures. Speicher of Milford was high scorer of the game with 21 points while Valentine led the Beavers with 17.

Veterans To Have Supper

The Executive Committee of the American Legion Auxiliary met last week at the home of President Bernice Jones. Plans were made for a Veterans Day Supper to be at the Post Home Saturday, November 9. All veterans and their families are invited. This will be a pot-luck supper and everyone is asked to bring table service. Six o'clock was set as the starting time.

The group also made plans for a Smorgasbord to be held in the school cafeteria Saturday evening, December 7th. Several members have tickets to sell for this supper. Anyone desiring additional ones should contact Charlotte Ernsberger.

Another recent activity of the Auxiliary members was to help with the cleaning of the Post Home following the remodeling.

Sorority Has Initiation For 2

Candlelight initiation service for Mrs. Kent Riner and Mrs. Lee Arnsberger was held in the Social room of Pete's Restaurant Tuesday evening with Mrs. Lyman Mollenhour, hostess. The impressive ritualistic service was given by the Sorority officers and the two new members were welcomed by each member. Those present were: Mrs. Iris Anderson, Mrs. Mott Bryan, Mrs. Dale Cook, Mrs. Don Ernsberger, Mrs. Mervin Jones, Mrs. Arthur Kendall, Miss Barbara King, Mrs. Cecil Long, Miss Annabelle Mentzer, Mrs. Forrest Miner, Mrs. Curtis Riner, Mrs. Kenneth Simcoe, Mrs. Chet Smith, Mrs. Harold Uter, and Mrs. Richard Dickert II.

The next meeting will be a group attendance at the D. A. R. Fashion Parade November 19th.

Refreshments were served to 13 members.

Mrs. Bessie Grass spent the week end at Bristol visiting her daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wagner.

Traffic Stops When Bus Stops

To help stop school bus accidents, motorists should stop their cars when a school bus is loading or unloading passengers, says the Chicago Motor Club.

Motorists should be alert for a signal that the bus will stop. The law in Illinois and Indiana, and throughout most of the nation, requires that drivers come to a complete stop when approaching a school bus stopped to load or unload children, whether approaching from the front or from the rear.

In 1956, school bus accidents in Illinois and Indiana accounted for 163 injuries and 3 deaths, 2 in Illinois and 1 in Indiana. The injuries numbered 86 in Illinois and 77 in Indiana.

More than half million children are transported twice daily over the states' streets, roads and highways. In Indiana alone, approximately 6,000 school buses travel more than 200,000 miles daily.

The law in both states allows drivers to pass a school bus with "due caution" when approaching it from the opposite direction on a multiple lane highway divided by a parkway or median strip.

Motorists should regard the yellow school bus as a moving caution sign; when it stops, it becomes a stop sign, the club said.

Pullets that do not live up to their promise at the time they were housed, that are not sturdy and vigorous in appearance and that are decidedly behind the rest of the flock in production should be culled promptly, according to Purdue University poultry specialists.

October Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Darrel E. Bruner are now residing in Warsaw following their marriage which occurred Sunday, Oct. 6 at the Silver Lake Methodist Church.

Mrs. Bruner, the former Miss Anita Marie Parker, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Parker of Route 1, Silver Lake. Mr. Bruner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bruner, of Route 1, Claypool.

Before a candlelighted altar decorated with baskets of white mums and palms Pastor Ralph Burris performed the double ring ceremony. The nuptial prelude was presented by Mrs. Louise Jontz, organist, and Mrs. John Kinsey, vocalist. Steven Parker, brother of the bride, and Koba Lee Schori, a cousin, lighted the candles.

The bride wore a gown of white lace and net over satin, styled with fitted bodice with V neckline and long fitted sleeves of the lace. A sequin-trimmed lace cap held her finger tip veil, and she carried white Flugi mums. The gown and veil were fashioned by her grandmother, Mrs. Fred Dunning, of Atwood.

Miss Nancy Berner, of Columbus, O., maid of honor, was attired in a street-length dress of cruise tan taffeta with which she wore matching accessories.

Taffeta gowns of Congo brown and frost green were worn by the bridesmaids, Miss Diane Sittler, of Beaver Dam, and Miss Carolee Jones, of Claypool. They carried baskets of yellow mums, as did flower girls Randa Lou Schori and Virginia Bruner, cousin and niece of the bride and bridegroom.

Alton Bruner, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Seating the guests were Robert Dunning and Robert Schori, uncles of the bride, and Richard Goshert. John Parker, brother of the bride carried the rings.

One hundred and twenty-five guests were received in the church parlors. Mrs. Jane Brubaker, Miss Anita Outcalt, Mrs. Robert Dunning and Miss Patricia Silveus assisted in serving at the bridal table. Mrs. Robert Schori held the guest book.

Motorists should prepare now for winter driving by checking their tires, anti-freeze, defrosters, windshield wipers and all safety equipment, the Chicago Motor Club advises.

Russell Adams Returns Home

Russell Adams, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Adams, was brought to his home here today after over five weeks spent in the Memorial Hospital in So. Bend, following an auto-bicycle accident seven weeks ago yesterday.

Although Russell is not ready for visitors as yet, Mrs. Adams reports he walks some, is able to talk more and better, and seemingly is on the way to a slow but normal recovery. This evening, as his twin brother was studying his school work, Russell took the book and turned back several pages in the book, then he said: "this is where we were when it happened."

Visitors will be permitted after Russell has a chance to get acquainted with his home surroundings again.

Indications Of Delinquency

No subject, perhaps, comes in for more discussion than that of juvenile delinquency, and perhaps rightly so because it is such an important subject. From day to day we read and hear of what youth is doing throughout the Nation—and occasionally we hear of it happening right at home.

Little towns like Mentone seem to inherit juvenile problems in waves or cycles, and each such cycle demands something to bring relief. Some times it is tragedy that is the "atomic" blast that brings sobriety to wayward youth, and at other times it is the word or action of the citizenry. Tragedy is such an expensive way to secure relief and juvenile sanity, so it behooves everyone to attempt prior remedies.

A reader has brought to our attention a rather lengthy article in The American Legion Magazine, which gives parents a list of ten signs that point to a juvenile problem. Here they are:

1. Truancy.
2. Evidence of alcohol or drugs on the breath, needle marks on arms.
3. Cruelty to animals. (Or other humans.—Ed.)
4. Sloppy appearance or dress that exaggerates sex. In boys, unkempt hair. In girls, skintight clothing.
5. Unexplained late hours.
7. Appearance of strange articles that were not purchased.
8. Possession of unnecessary weapons.
9. Flagrant disobedience.
10. Friends he never brings home.

There are the ten symptoms. If you recognize one in your child, look into it. If you recognize three, look out! warns the writer.

Parents of Son

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warren of Elkhart are the parents of a son weighing 4 lbs. 13 ounces, named Kevin Laviere. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wagner are the grandparents.

MENTONE HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

By Larry Teel

After leading by a 21-7 margin at the end of the first quarter North Webster's surprised Trojans suddenly found themselves trailing by two points, 33-31, as the local Bulldogs pulled themselves together and looked like a ball club for the first time in this young basketball campaign.

From then on it was nip and tuck for the final 16 minutes of play as the third period ended, 55-53, in favor of the local contestants, the game ended 69-66, as the Bulldogs won their first game as a varsity unit.

The "B" team made it two in a row as they coasted to a 52-23 win. These boys featured a balanced attack led by Dick Long, Bob Hauptert, and Jim Teel.

For the Varsity teams Larry Mauzy with 23 points, led Webster and Larry Nellans scored 30 for the host Bulldogs. Jim Manwaring also played an outstanding game for the victors.

Legion Auxiliary Meets

The Mentone Auxiliary Unit 425 met at the Post Home Tuesday night. The meeting was opened by singing the Star Spangled Banner, pledge to the flag and prayer by the chaplain.

During the business session Nell Reed explained how the fees paid to the District and State Auxiliary are used.

Plans were made to send homemade candy and other items to local servicemen who will be overseas at Christmas. Georgiana Teel is chairman of this project.

The group decided to eliminate the Christmas Gift Exchange and substitute the purchase and wrapping of a gift which a hospitalized veteran could give to a member of his family. A label on the outside should describe the article. These should be left at Bernice Jones' before November 25.

President Bernice Jones called a special meeting for 8:00 Monday, November 25 at the Legion Home. The purpose of this is to make final plans for the Smorgasbord. All members are urged to attend.

Marilyn Horn, accompanied by Maude Snyder, presented two vocal numbers.

Motorists should make sure their mechanical turn signal is not blinking when they don't intend to turn. If you use a turn signal for indicating your direction at a fork in the road, remember that the turn may be so gradual that the signal will not turn itself off. An incorrectly blinking signal distracts drivers, and can cause accidents.

NORTHERN INDIANA Public Service COMPANY

ONE GENERATION BACK ALONG A FEATHERY TRAIL

[The following is a portion of an article in the Prairie Farmer July 23, 1932, written by John Lacey about a tour made by some 200 individuals. The tour started at Wabash. —Ed.]

After a short stop at the Cyclone Manufacturing Company at Urbana, where we saw them making feed troughs, hovers and other poultry equipment, we moved on to the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Whitsel near Laketon. Mrs. Whitsel is the "poultryman" of this farm, according to Mr. Whitsel, who is a railroad engineer. Henry Ford would like these folks, for they have demonstrated the value of combining industry and small-scale farming.

They live in a house that was built when houses were built to last, and they have added some modern touches, planted shrubbery, and in general cared for the place so that it charms you the moment you come in sight of it. Mrs. Whitsel has the feed records and the sales records to show that she raised chicks to laying size for 40 cents apiece, and to show that income above feed cost last year was about $2 a bird. Pretty good pay for the time spent. Skimmilk from Guernsey cows, which has been unsalable, or practically so, provides a cheap source of protein and accounts for egg records that would amaze you. They ship their eggs, after grading, on a cooperative egg car that goes to New York from Laketon every week. Their eggs always bring the tip-top prices.

Versatile Girls

On to North Manchester, and to a lunch prepared by the 4-H girls of Chester township and served in the auditorium of the school building, a palatial structure which no doubt cost the taxpayers plenty. The girls can do other things besides cook. One sang a solo, two sang a duet, and one did a tap dance. The folks liked the tap dance best.

Only a mile or so from the school we came to the Bittersweet Poultry Farm, operated by H. S. Ebbinghouse, a former county agent who has been raising chickens for 10 years. The party of poultrymen, about 200 by this time, decided that this man must be a success because he and his wife and children had taken time off to make a trip to California this summer, leaving the plant in the hands of a capable young assistant. He had 2,000 pullets on range, rotated every other year to provide clean ground. A three-story laying house attracted considerable attention, but most of the visitors thought they wouldn't pattern after it when they build. Too much running up and down stairs.

It's 3:30 in the afternoon when we arrive at Frank Merkle's place in Kosciusko county. Earnest and industrious, Frank is one of the "young pioneers" who have helped to bring that county to the front in poultry during the past 10 years. Frank started blood testing some eight years ago. He got Dr. Frank C. Tucker of Claypool to do the work after considerable persuasion. After he got into the work, Dr. Tucker went to North Carolina to take special work in poultry diseases, and became a specialist in that work. His work has done a lot to make that section of the country famous, for it is a fact that disease is now the greatest single problem in the industry. The work of the good veterinarians, who safeguard the health of our flocks and herds, is not fully appreciated.

Winona Lake for the night. Supper served free by the poultrymen of the county. Nice program of entertainment, with C. I. Bashore of Silver Lake presiding. To bed, for a good sleep, and then up and away at seven for Masa Nelson's place near Burket, where they ship out a car of eggs every week. It has been running for years now, and it brings a lot of extra money into the community. Ask Mr. Davis, who runs the general store, or Mr. Doran, cashier of the bank. They know.

Sanitation Pays

The Nelsons have a general farm, and grow the grain for 1,700 layers, housed in a two-story house, and 1,200 pullets which are full of vigor because they were good to begin with and because disease and parasites have been kept away from them. The range is plowed and planted to some crop after being used one season. Sanitation pays.

C. L. (Chet) Manwaring, proprietor of White City Egg Farm, delayed his departure on a trip West in order to be at home to greet the visitors. A real pioneer in poultry, Chet went through all the troubles the industry is heir to and came out smiling and successful. He captured rich special markets in the East years ago and held them by quality in his product. He has a small hatchery and 4,000 laying hens. Some chicks are started in long brooder houses and some in colony houses on the range, which by the way is in alfalfa. Most interesting recent discovery at White City: A certain kind of red paint, put on the windows, completely stops cannibalism. Reason: Chicks get started on the vice of picking at other chicks when blood appears on the feathers, due to injury. The light, filtered through red paint, takes the red color out of blood, and so the chicks are not attracted to it.

We'll have to move faster now; this is already too long. A short visit at the H. V. Nellans farm, one of the smaller enterprises in the district, the "Petaluma of Indiana", but everything done to safe-guard the health of hens and chicks. Then to lunch at the M. E. church, and inspection of the cooperative feed mill afterward. They know how to work together, these folks.

A larger farm next, operated by Ora Beeson, four miles north. Some 3,000 layers and 2,400 pullets. Sanitation again in evidence, and everything in fine shape. A strictly commercial egg proposition. Eggs are cheap, but feed is cheap too, and you will find more optimism among these egg producers than you will find in most places.

East and north now, to see mass production applied to the poultry industry. Hobart Creighton and his brother have 8,000 hens in four hoghouses remodeled into henhouses. Thirty feet deep they are, but they serve well and saved a lot of expense getting started. It's seven or eight years since I first talked with Hobart Creighton, and at that time he told me something of their plans. They have made good. They have 4,000 pullets nearly ready for production. They do a lot of pedigree work, studying breeding problems continually. They have to fight to keep the place free from parasites and infections, but they're getting away with it.

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Ora Tucker called on Mrs. Nellie Julian.

Sunday callers at the Clarence Lieninger home were Mr. and Mrs. Delois White and family, Mr. and Mrs. Delemer White, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bruner, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Beeson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Nellans.

The Mentone Chapter, Future Farmers of America, this year is planning the fight to cut down on the number of corn harvest accidents in the community.

The decision of the FFA to devote time and energy to this cause is surely justified and to be commended.

Studying the reports of corn harvest accidents reveals some interesting facts. In most cases, the injured man left the picker running while he tried to clean or adjust it. And some of the most serious accidents occurred when guards and shields furnished with the machine were not in place.

The manufacturers of corn pickers, forage harvesters, and other equipment used in harvesting and storing corn have designed this equipment for safe operation. The operator, however, must follow the manufacturer's safe operating instructions.

When an FFA boy calls at your home to explain the project, listen to him. Don't overlook the information he gives because of difference in your ages.

He represents a group of America's finest young farmers with no other interest than to make farming a better, happier and safer occupation.

Farm-City Week November 22-23

Governor Harold W. Handley has signed an official proclamation designating the week of November 22 to November 28 as Farm-City Week in Indiana.

As he signed the proclamation, the Governor said, "It is most important that Hoosier citizens, rural and urban alike, recognize their interdependence. They have mutual interests. The productivity of the farms and of urban labor and business continues to provide the food, the tools, the services and goods that afford our people with the highest standard of living in the world."

The proclamation reads in part: Whereas, the state of Indiana presents a more perfect balance of rural and urban interests than any other in the Union, and the 4,300,000 people in Indiana are almost equally divided as to rural and city residents, and Indiana ranks 6th in farm income although it is only 37th in size, and Indiana is the fastest growing industrial state in the entire nation with more than 10,500 industries located here; and

"Whereas, the prosperity and well-being of our state are dependent upon cooperation between these two great elements of our society, farm people and city people;

"Now, therefore, I, Harold W. Handley, Governor of the state of Indiana do hereby proclaim the week of November 22-28 as Farm-City Week in Indiana."

Scientist Gets New Post at Bell

Dr. Walter R. Dornberger, one of the country's leading missile scientists, has been named technical assistant to the president of the Bell Aircraft Corp., Buffalo, N. Y.

Dornberger's appointment was announced by Leston Faneuf, president and general manager of Bell.

An expert with world-wide prominence in the field of guided missiles, rocket propulsion and space travel, Dr. Dornberger joined Bell in 1950 after serving three years as a missile consultant to the U. S. A. F. Air Materiel Command at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base.

He assisted with the development of Bell's Rascal air-to-surface guided missile, which is now operational with the Strategic Air Command, and also was involved in other of the firm's rocket and missile projects.

In his new post, Dr. Dornberger will coordinate with the office of the president the technical projects under development or under consideration and will represent the president at various scientific conferences within the Armed Forces and the defense industry.

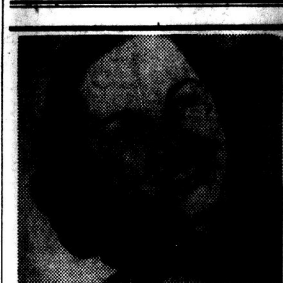

Dr. Dornberger has been engaged in rocket work since 1930. Before and during World War II, he was recognized as one of Germany's leading rocket scientists and in this capacity directed the development of that country's rocket-powered V-1 and V-2 missiles at Peenemunde; Germany's rocket research center.

He was instrumental in persuading a number of German scientists and engineers to come to the U. S. over the past eight years.

He is well known as an author and lecturer. For the past year, he served as technical consultant to Bell's Research Division.

Experts look into the question of why we live; average citizens might attend to the "how we live" problem.

MENTONE HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

By Larry Teel

Mentone's Bulldogs returned home Friday night with a 83-46 conquest of the Blue Blazers from Leesburg. Led by Larry Nellans and Tom Holloway, who contributed 21 and 18 points respectively, the Bulldogs fought to an early lead which they never relinquished.

The second team had a struggle with the Blazer reserves in the first half, but pulled away in the third and fourth stanzas, and won going away 41 to 25.

This Friday the Bulldogs contest the Policedogs from nearby Tippecanoe here in the Mentone gym, it will, however, be considered as the Policedogs home game. The Tippecanoe crew is reported to have looked quite impressive in their last game, a 67-66 defeat by Aubbeenaubee, so the local chargers can expect a real battle if they expect to come out on top once again.

CARE Launches
Food Crusade

With the help of the American people, CARE will feed over 11 million people a day for the next 12 months, it was announced by the overseas relief agency's mid-west director, Miss Martha L. David, Chicago.

Publicly launching CARE's 1957-1958 Food Crusade, Miss David stated that this year's $1 CARE package will average 22 pounds of surplus food. A typical package will contain 5 lbs. milk powder (enough to make 20 quarts), 7 lbs. cheese, 5 lbs. cornmeal and 5 lbs. flour.

CARE plans to distribute 3,000,000 Food Crusade packages abroad, each bearing the name and address of an American sender, between now and spring, Miss David said. Each 22 pound package will feed a family of about five for one month.

"Since it only costs $1 to send one package, $100 will send a ton of packages, enough to feed about 500 people," Miss David pointed out.

In order to pay the packing, shipping and distribution costs, CARE is appealing to the American people for contributions of $1 per package. Food Crusade packages will go to: Ceylon, Colombia, West Germany and Berlin, Greece, Hong Kong, India, Israel, Italy, Korea, Pakistan, Peru, and Yugoslavia. Contributions of $1 or more are needed and should be sent to FOOD CRUSADE, CARE, CHICAGO, Illinois.

The surplus food made available to CARE from U.S. Government supplies for the 1957-58 Food Crusade will total 54,949,784 pounds worth $7,588,075.00.

In addition to Food Crusade packages, CARE will distribute, through its "Country Feeding Programs", 299,346,340 pounds of surplus food valued at $2,000,000 in 15 countries whose governments pay the shipping and distribution costs.

The combination of Food Crusade and Country Feeding Programs totals a distribution of 354,296,124 pounds of surplus food worth $49,588,075.00 to needy people abroad as a gift from the American people through CARE.

South Bend
Shrine Circus

That the circus lives on as a cherished medium of entertainment in America will be proved by the forthcoming appearance of the 1957 Shrine-Polack Bros. Circus in this area.

Presented by the South Bend Shrine Club in the Washington Clay Auditorium at South Bend, the circus will give performances Thursday (Thanksgiving Day), November 28, at 3:00 and 8:15 p. m.; Friday, Nov. 29, at 2:15 and 8:15 p. m. and Saturday, November 30 at 9:30 a. m. and 3:00 and 8:15 p. m.

Throng of children who otherwise would not be able to see the circus will be enabled to attend the matinees by blocks of donated tickets.

New among the trained-animal features are the Hawthorn Wild Animal Fantasy with its leopards, white wolves and zebra, the bertram Mills Chimpanzees from Great Britain and the Paramount Bears with the circus world's only motorcycling polar bear. Back with new tricks are the Besalou Baby Elephants starring Baby Opal and Kip the poodle.

Aerial thrills are provided by Josephine Berosini of solo high-wire fame, the Rose Gold Trio, Barrette's Cloud Swing Girls and Aeriallovelies and the Flying Palacios, introduced by the Spanish rhythm of "Extravaganza Espanol."

All-new acrobatic features include the Fredonias, the Lacy Troupe, the Four Kelroys, Barbett's Balancerinas and, with a definite accent on comedy, the Original Gutis and the Three Lorandos. There is a new contingent of clowns headed by Gene Randow.

JOLTING REMINDER

In our last issue we printed an article that was printed in the Prairie Farmer in 1932, in which a writer told of a tour of poultrymen through this part of Indiana. Mrs. Max Nellans was reading the reprinted article when she noticed where the 4-H girls of the Chester township school prepared a fine dinner for the group—and then suddenly realized she was one of the girls. Also, four girls entertained the group with singing and tap dancing—with the present Mrs. Nellans doing the tap dance.

Mentone P. T. A. Observes Nat. Education Week

Supt. of the Peabody Home, North Manchester, William Visser, described life and activities of the "Senior Citizens" living there. Mr. Visser stated that the aging should be recognized in society, the home, and church because they also have a place there. Many are still very active. They do very many jobs there at the Home. One lady, 90 years young, is working at her profession as a nurse in the hospital there and doing a very good job of it too.

President Ralph Mollenhour appointed committees for the various duties of planning the P. T. A. Penny Supper which will be held Saturday evening November 23rd starting at 5:00 in the Mentone School dining room. Mrs. Rans' famous chicken pie will again top the menu with baked ham and all the other delicious trimmings.

The P. T. A. voted to give one hundred dollars to the school music department instructor, Mr. Bush, to purchase whatever is needed.

DOMES SHELTERS, a new design whose low cost and easy construction would adapt it to mass production, were tested at the Operation Plumbbob atomic tests in Nevada at pressures from 20 to 70 times those which a house is normally built to withstand. The 50-foot-diameter shelters may be seen before the blast in the upper photo. The lower photo shows one of the domes which was deliberately tested at a pressure so great that it would fail, so its weaker points could be studied.

Two Awarded 50-Year Pins

A special meeting was held by the members of the Mentone Masonic Lodge Tuesday evening, at which time Lloyd A. Rickel of Mentone and Frank Warren of Fort Wayne were presented with 50-year membership pins. William Cristo of Fort Wayne, son-in-law, presented the pin to Mr. Warren and Irvin Nelson presented the pin to Mr. Rickel.

The Mentone Lodge has two other members who have received 50-year pins—Lyndes Latner and Mahlon Mentzer—and both were present Tuesday evening.

H. V. Johns was master of ceremonies, and presented Whit Gast of Akron who gave a very interesting message.

Previous to the presentation meeting at the Masonic Hall, the ladies of the Methodist church served a very delicious dinner in the church basement to over 50 members of the lodge and special guests.

CANDY RECIPES

[A number of favorite candy recipes were included in a "candy school" for county Home Demonstration ladies held recently. In the next few issues we shall print a number of these recipes for those who might like to try a new recipe.—Ed.]

QUICK FONDANT

Two-thirds cup (½ can) Eagle Brand sweetened condensed milk; 1 teaspoon vanilla extract; 4 cups sifted confectioners sugar. Blend milk and vanilla. Gradually add sugar, mixing until smooth and creamy.

Fondant Variations

1. Use fondant between nut meats or as a stuffing for dates; or form into small balls and roll in chopped nut meats, shredded coconut, grated chocolate, or candied fruit. Flavor and color as desired and form into round flat creams.

2. Cherry Pecan Logs: knead candied cherries into fondant base, adding more sugar if necessary. Shape into 6-inch logs; roll in waxed paper; chill until firm. Melt approximately ½ lb. caramels in a double boiler, adding 4 tablespoon Eagle Brand Milk. Stir often and mix well. Turn caramel mixture into pie pan. Quickly roll logs in caramel, then in chopped pecans. Roll in waxed paper. Chill until firm. Slice.

3. Nut Balls: Nut balls may be made also by shaping the fondant into small balls instead of logs and then follow the same procedure with the caramel mixture and chopped pecans.

NO COOK FONDANT

One-third cup soft butter; one-third cup Karo Syrup, Red Label; one-half teaspoon salt; one teaspoon vanilla; three and one-half cups (1 lb.) sifted confectioners sugar. Blend butter, Karo syrup, salt and vanilla in large mixing bowl. Add sifted sugar all at once. Mix all together - first with a spoon and then with hands knead in dry ingredients. Turn onto board and continue kneading until mixture is well blended and smooth. Makes about one and one-third pounds of candy. Store in a cool place. Flavor and shape as desired.

EVACUATION PLANNING for Jacksonville, Fla., made difficult because the city is divided by the St. Johns River, got a boost recently when Operation Dunkirk proved with the help of 168 boats that the river could serve as a highway to safety. One of the boats is shown checking in at the CD evacuation point, where its passenger capacity was noted and it was sent on a mock mission to one of two "destination points." Baptist Church News

Sunday, November 24th will be the closing day of an inter-church Sunday School Contest in which First Baptist has been participating. We are now showing an increase in our average attendance during the contest in spite of three very hard Sundays because of illness. Our attendance this past Sunday of 235 was a 20 percent increase over our average attendance last year which is the base for the contest. We are working for an attendance of 250 this coming Sunday which should give us a good rating in the contest. Every member of our Church and Sunday School are not only urged to be present but to bring others with him.

The newly organized Adult Training Union Class which is meeting at 6:30 each Sunday evening has been well attended. Thirty-eight persons have enrolled in the class. Pastor Olson is leading the group in a study of Church History. A total of six Training Union groups meet each Sunday evening providing training and fellowship for the entire family.

Married At Tippecanoe

Miss Sara Lea Blackford was united in marriage to Ronald Lynn Kauffman in a double-ring ceremony Nov. 15 in the Tippecanoe Community church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blackford of Tippecanoe. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kauffman, of the same community.

Rev. Henry Hiddinga conducted the service at five o'clock following a prelude of nuptial music presented by Mrs. Hiddinga.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length frock of brocaded blue satin in princess style with a bolero jacket and white accessories. Her corsage was of red roses and white chrysanthemums.

Miss Donna Gross of Marion, the bridesmaid, chose navy accessories for a dress in old rose. Variegated pink carnations formed her corsage.

Wayne Kreft, of Tippecanoe, served as best man.

As the couple knelt at the altar Mrs. Hiddinga sang "Our Heart's Prayer." Following the ceremony a reception for 70 guests was held in the church social rooms. Guests were served by Mrs. Rollin Gross, Mrs. C. Frank Cox, Miss Harle Montalbano, Miss Elizabeth Lozier and Miss Rose Blackford.

When leaving for their wedding trip to Ohio, Mrs. Kauffman was dressed in a red ensemble with black accessories. After December 1 she and her husband will reside on the Harold Fenning farm southwest of Tippecanoe.

Both young people are 1956 graduates of Tippecanoe high school. Mr. Kauffman is employed by Geyer and Son of Plymouth. His bride works for the Northern Indiana Cooperative in Mentone.

New Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Crawford of South Bend are the parents of a 6 lb. 5 oz. daughter, born at the Memorial hospital on the 11th of November.

The new daughter has been named Candace and has an 18 month old brother, Bruce. Mrs. Crawford was formerly Carol Lee Eaton of Talma.

Mr. and Mrs. Chan Stine, of Bourbon, are parents of a daughter born Sunday, November 24, at Parkview hospital, Plymouth. The new daughter weighed 7 lbs. 13 ounces and has been named Kathy Ann.

Mrs. Billy Cook, the new baby's maternal great-grandmother, is especially thrilled since Sunday was her birthday, also.

FORTUNATE ACCIDENT

There is the old saying among airplane pilots that "any accident you can walk away from is a good one," and that is about the only comment your editor has of one he had in his auto Tuesday evening.

Driving in from the north on Road 19 about 5:10 in the afternoon, a car was coming from the south just when Floyd Bixler had stopped at his driveway with a tractor and load of corn. As the gate was closed, the wagon extended onto the highway some three feet. Lights from the approaching car made it impossible to see the unlighted corn wagon on the highway until it was too late to avoid a collision. Mr. Bixler, realizing his predicament, leaped from his tractor and made an effort to run up the highway to warn me of the danger.

Fortunately, no one was injured even though repairs were needed for both the auto and the bed on the corn wagon.

FUREL BURNS UNDERGOES SURGERY

Ventilation For Poultry

Chickens are fresh air fiends and can stand cold air if the chicken house is reasonably dry and free from drafts, according to Joe W. Sicer, Purdue University extension poultryman.

Good chicken house ventilation necessitates enough air movement to carry away foul odors, to keep the litter dry, and to avoid condensation of moisture on the ceiling or side walls.

Sicer recommends these simple rules for ventilating the chicken house:

Do not overcrowd the house. As a general rule, allow 2½ to 3 square feet of floor space for Leghorns and 3½ to 4 square feet for heavy breeds.

Have enough high openings. The warm, moist air that you want to get rid of needs high openings, big enough and numerous enough, to let it out quickly.

Don't be afraid to leave windows open, advises Sicer.

Here are a few guides for proper ventilation.

Close all of the north openings tightly with the coming of cool weather.

Keep the south windows open wide until water freezes inside the chicken house.

Adjust any east or west openings and possibly a few south windows to avoid drafts on the birds.

When water freezes inside the house, close the south windows to hold the temperature above freezing, but do not close so tightly that moisture condenses on the ceiling and walls.

As soon as the cold snap has passed, open the south windows to speed up ventilation and litter drying.

Advice to Hog Farmers

Three factors—shelter, water and feed—are important in the efficient production of market hog during winter months.

Richard Hollandbeck, Purdue University extension swine specialist, reports that each factor must be given consideration if hogs are to make the greatest gains during cold weather.

It is neither necessary nor recommended that hogs be kept in a tightly closed building. They stay healthier and freer of respiratory diseases if provided a dry and draft-free sleeping quarters where there is ample bedding. The specialist points out that ground corn cobs make a suitable bedding for shoats.

Even during the coldest period of winter, water is an important part of the ration. Hogs will drink about two pounds of water for each pound of feed eaten, the specialist said. Clean, fresh water which will not freeze can be provided with automatic fountains or other types of waterers.

Pigs under 10 pounds in weight and not on pasture, as is the case in the winter, should receive 16 percent total protein in their ration. The protein content can be reduced to 14 percent for hogs over 100 pounds. Hollandbeck adds that hogs should have access to a self-feeder or box containing salt and a mineral mixture at all times.

Preparing Cattle For Market

Keep cattle clean just before shipping them to market, advises Henry Mayo, Purdue University extension animal husbandman. Manure, mange, or lice on the cattle detract from their appearance and reduce the value of the hide.

Mayo suggests having a hill or solid place for the cattle to lie on cobs. Cattle will gain faster if they have solid bedding. Keep the cattle lot especially clean during the few weeks before shipping to market.

The specialist says the feed should not be changed within 30 days before marketing. A change might throw the cattle off feed and result in weight loss.

Too many or too few cattle in a truck may cause injury to some of the animals. Cattle will ride better if they have been grouped together for several weeks before shipping.

The loading pens should be accessible at all times because low market runs and higher prices may occur during bad weather. If loading at night, locate a light so that cattle can see to the front of the truck.

Agricultural engineering blueprint No. 5835 will give you detail and design for cutting gates, sorting pens and loading chutes. This three-sheet blueprint, showing six different corrals, can be obtained by sending 75 cents to the agricultural engineering department, Purdue University, Lafayette.

A study made in Minnesota shows that only about two percent of the state's 55,000-plus automobile accidents last year could be attributed to causes beyond the control of drivers—which simply means that human factor was responsible for 98 percent.

Calf pens should be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected to make them ready for the winter months Purdue University veterinarians say. Baby calves need dry, well-ventilated pens.

Winter Coat For Strawberries

A strawberry mulch should be applied in early December after a few hard freezes, according to Frank Emerson, Purdue University extension horticulturist. Without a mulch many strawberry plants may be killed by freezing temperatures.

Any organic matter will mulch the strawberries, but Emerson recommends straw. Sawdust and cobs compete with the strawberries for nitrates in the spring. Nitrogen should be applied along with sawdust or cob mulch.

The strawberries should have a two inch covering of unpacked straw. Emerson warns, however, that an excessive covering might smother the plants.

A good mulch will prevent alternate freezing and thawing, thus averting heaving of the strawberry plants. Heaving pushes the plants out of the ground until the crowns of the plants are exposed and damaged by low winter temperatures, Emerson explains.

In addition to providing winter protection, a mulch will also provide protection against spring frost during bloom, help conserve moisture during the summer, assist in weed control, reduce fruit rots during harvest and prevent the berries from getting dirty by direct contact with the soil.

The mulch should be partially removed from the rows as soon as the plants begin growth in the spring, Emerson says. It may be pulled back over the plants during bloom if frost is predicted. The mulch should be worked into the soil during the seasons to add organic matter.

The trouble with most people, and nations, is that they want advantages without giving anything in return.

WHEN YOU ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR FAITH

GEORGE MECKLENBURG SAYS:

- You take a stand for faith and for a spiritual interpretation of life. You testify and witness to the faith in you.
- You count on the side of the spiritual. You tell the world that you believe in God, Eternity, Immortality.
- You challenge all that is evil, all that which is contrary to the will of God. You say that you are against everything that hurts human beings. You tell your neighbors that you are seeking something higher.
- You salute Christ and His Church. You appreciate what the Church has done for humanity.
- You come to God's house, to adore, to worship, to praise. You become a part of that host that has been worshipping God down through the ages. You have been caught up in Spirit.

The Methodists of Mentone would encourage everyone to attend some Church. They are participating in the "World-wide Church Attendance Movement" from New Year to Easter. Let everyone develop the habit now of faithfulness in attendance somewhere!

The Country Neighbors Club met recently at the home of Isabelle Peterson for their November meeting.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Eleanor Hoover. The pledge to the flag was given and the club "creed" was repeated in unison. For devotions, Mrs. Ada Maxwell read Col. 3:13, and a story "What Should I wear?" The club members stood as she read a Thanksgiving prayer.

During the business meeting plans were completed for the Apron Sale to be held at Frank and Jerry's and a donation of $5 was given to the Retarded Children's School at Warsaw.

Mrs. Leroy Norris then introduced Mrs. Pearl Lackey who gave a book report on the book, "Down Rytton Waters." She also gave some information about the Library.

Secret pal gifts were received by Eleanor Chamberlain and Eleanor Hoover.

Delicious refreshments were served to the members and five guests. The guests were Mrs. Charles Hershberger, Mrs. Mae Hershberger and son Richard, Mrs. Myrtle Pfeiffer and Butchie Teel. The December meeting will be a Christmas Party at the home of Emma Zolman with Dorothy Herendeen assisting.

APPROVE DISTRIBUTION

The following final distribution of the Anna Hudson estate has received approval of the court. Mabel Rickel and Raymond Hudson of Warsaw, receive $827.43, and $827.42, respectively, Hazel Linn, Mentone, Ronald Hudson, Warren, Howard Hudson, Etna Green, and Lawrence Hudson of Claypool, each $827.42. The latter has been discharged as administrator.

Use plenty of cobs in feed lots for bedding, say Purdue University animal husbandmen. They point out that caked manure will stain hides and may influence the buyer to cut the price of cattle.

Putting Sputter In Sputnik

The latest bulletin from outer space indicates that traffic hazards may be rarer there than in the United States, but our safety record bears up well by comparison. Sputnik No. 1, which was launched on October 4th, is traveling at the rate of 432,000 miles per day.

Matthew C. Sielski, director of the Chicago Motor Club's Safety and Traffic Engineering Dept., computes that if Sputnik No. 1 is still aloft on November 15, it will have traveled a total mileage of 18,200,000 in 42 days. Yet this is merely the equivalent of the number of miles traveled by automobile in the United States which results in one traffic fatality.

Now that Sputnik No. 2 is also circling above, with passengers to boot, and apes are getting their tickets to the moon, we can reasonably expect a rise in the space fatality rate, says Sielski. Traffic engineers have their slide rules at the ready, and as the statistics come in, they will continue to interpret them for earthbound travelers.

Since it takes time and space in which to stop, a motorist should maintain a safe distance between his car and the one ahead, the Chicago Motor Club advises. On winter's slippery roads, a motorist may find it impossible to match a sudden stop by the driver ahead.

Motorists should adjust the speed of their car to traffic, road and weather conditions, says the Chicago Motor Club. Regulatory signs authorizing high speed limits are meant for ideal conditions, and not for wet, icy, or snow-covered roads.

When approaching a railroad crossing, motorists should reduce speed and take the time to look and listen before getting too close to the tracks. After the stop has been made and a train has gone by, motorists should remain alert, watching for a second train on another track.

Beaver Dam School News

Grade cards went out Tuesday evening.

A meeting of the principals of the 4 participating schools met Monday afternoon at Beaver Dam to draw plans for the annual 4-Way Tourney to be held at Akron during the Christmas vacation. The first game will be played between Mentone and Silver Lake with Beaver Dam playing Akron in the second game.

Yesterday afternoon, Rev. C. J. McSherry of the Beaver Dam and Burket E. U. B. spoke to the students of the upper six grades.

Next Tuesday the second class girls will be given the Betty Crocker test.

On Monday next week Dental Examination will be given to all students in grades 2, 4, 8, and 11.

Last Saturday evening Mr. Susie Belcher became the bride of John Hennrich, one of our high school teachers.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation to the many friends and neighbors for their acts of kindness, cards, flowers, gifts, and most of all for the prayers said in Russell's behalf during his stay in the hospital. God bless you all.

Since parking lights aren't appreciably noticeable at dusk, the motorist unintentionally may leave his lights on when parking at that time, says the Chicago Motor Club. Forgetting to turn off parking lights will result in a dead battery.

Motorists should divorce basketball emotions from driving habits when going to or coming from a game. Basketball is a sport where it is understood that someone will win or lose. Driving is not a sport, and motorists can't afford to lose.

Motorists should not drive when they have been drinking. Alcohol will cause drowsiness, delayed reaction time, obstructed vision and unnatural recklessness.

Motorists and passengers alike always should alight from a parked car on the sidewalk side, the Chicago Motor Club advises. Opening the car door in the face of traffic may cause a car to hit you or your automobile or to have an accident when it swerves to avoid hitting the open door.

Farmers interested in seeding birdsfoot trefoil for permanent pastures in 1958 are advised by Purdue University agronomists to order certified seed of the Empire Variety this month. Empire trefoil stands close grazing and is long lived, but seed of this variety is never plentiful, the agronomists point out.

To avoid the usual rush in late winter and spring, farmers who plan to sell seeds of any kind next spring should get it cleaned and tested during late fall and early winter, according to Purdue University biochemists. A representative sample should be drawn and mailed to the State Seed Laboratory at Purdue. A teaspoonful of clover and grass seeds and at least a pint of oats and soybeans should be submitted for testing.

Two tablespoonfuls of fertilizer in a gallon of water can be used once a month when watering house plants, according to Purdue University horticulturists.

Purdue University dairymen suggest this yardstick for measuring dairy cow profit: She should produce ten times her body weight in milk annually on a twice-a-day milking for 305 days. Lower producing cows do not pay market prices for feed and labor.

Clean up all plant refuse and either make it into a compost pile or burn it, Purdue University entomologists recommend. This refuse, if left in the garden or flower bed, makes ideal cover for insect pests and frequently serves as a source of disease next spring.

Don't forget to mulch the strawberry bed, remind Purdue University horticulturists. A complete covering of the patch with clean straw will reduce the hazard of winter injury and a short crop next year.

Not all soils need lime, Purdue University agronomists report. About one of every ten samples tested at Purdue already has enough limestone for good legume growth. Before applying lime, soil should be tested.

Udders of young dairy calves should be inspected to see if there are more than four teats, say Purdue University dairymen. Extra teats should be removed before the calf is a month old to prevent uneven development of the udder.

With the advent of cold weather, rats and mice will be moving from fence rows and fields to the shelter of buildings. Prepared baits should be set out now to stop a build up of these pests, Purdue University entomologists assert.

November is a critical month for litter condition in the laying house, Purdue University poultrymen point out. There should be at least six inches of dry litter material on the laying house floor by early November. If litter is not that deep, dry shavings or crushed cobs can be added.

Over the nine-year 1948-56 period, workers' wages rose an average of 61.4 per cent. Average productivity per worker, on the other hand, rose only 26.1 per cent. The difference was in large part made up by increased prices.

Columnist Robert S. Allen writes that it is now feasible to produce a weapon capable of destroying missiles flying through outer space at speeds of 15,000 miles an hour and more. The cost of a missile-destroyer program would run into the billions.

Attends Safety Council

If traffic in Talma becomes safer in the future, it conceivably can be attributed to ideas brought home from the Governor's Teen-Age Traffic Safety Conference in Indianapolis last Saturday.

Representing Talma were Frances Newton, Dick Peterson, and Jim Dick of Talma High school.

In addressing several hundred delegates from all parts of Indiana to the second such conference, Governor Harold W. Hanley set the theme by stating, "The youth of this fine state of ours have a huge stake in traffic safety, not only in their present role as teen-agers, but because the success or failure of future traffic in Indiana rests with them. I believe we owe it to our high school students to gather their representatives together that they may discuss the urgency and necessity for responsible behavior in traffic."

Delegates heard Jim Reece, famous 500-Mile Race Driver and member of the Champion 100-mile-an-hour-club, compare safety on race tracks to the situations on the highway. They also heard other teen-agers talk to their peers on the important problems of good driving.

Principal items on the agenda were: The new Driver Education Law, The Current Traffic Safety situation and the teen-agers' role in traffic safety. The governor's conference was called by Wilbur Young, Indiana Superintendent of Public Instruction. Special sessions were held for parents and teachers who "chauffeured" the delegates to the conference.

All participants were urged to make reports of the conference to school assemblies and civic clubs. It is expected that the delegates from Talma will have an opportunity to carry the teen-agers' version of traffic safety to several luncheon and civic organizations.

Split Application Of Lime

A Purdue University agronomist, R. D. Bronson, has recommended a split application liming technique for the establishment of legumes on acid soils.

This is the practice of plowing down half the required amount of limestone and disking the other half into the seed bed before planting.

Bronson said the object of split application is to apply the total amount of limestone needed on such a way that soil conditions are favorable to the early growth of plants—particularly legumes.

When limestone is plowed down, the acid soil is brought to the surface from below at the same time. An acid soil, when prepared as a seed bed, is unfavorable for the growth of young seedlings, the specialist explained.

Legume seedlings need a favorable pH and an adequate supply of calcium in order to thrive until their root system can "reach down" to get the limestone which has been plowed under.

Agricultural ground limestone contains enough of the finer particles and can be used to get quick neutralization of soil acidity when applied in split application. Information on fineness of local limestone can now be obtained from the county extension agent.

Split application is also desirable as an initial treatment for any very acid mineral soil, or as a periodic treatment of very acid muck or organic soils.

Liming is not recommended for acid tolerant muck crops such as blueberries and some varieties of potatoes. Bronson, however, suggests a split application of 4-5 tons per acre of limestone for field crops, such as corn, grown on very acid muck soils. Here, the limestone is needed to supply calcium.

Soil tests should be used to determine the amount of limestone required.

"Now is the time for farmers to take samples on which to base their liming program for next year. By testing periodically and applying the needed limestone to a part of the farm each year, split application for establishing legumes can be avoided," Bronson concludes.

Beaver Dam jumped off to an early lead and was never threatened. The Beavers substituted freely throughout the game with all ten men getting into the scoring column.

Larry Bibler was the outstanding scorer for both teams in collecting thirty (30) points in a little over three quarters of the game. In their efforts to hold Bibler, Leesburg fouled frequently and the Beaver Dam center connected on 14 of 18 charity tosses. Ummel and Valentine also got into the double figures getting 11 and 10 points respectively. Ted Thompson led Leesburg with 11 points.

Church Of Christ News

Announcement has been made the past two weeks regarding a free, six lesson correspondence course offered by the church. Some have indicated a desire to take this course, and we feel that others would like to take it but are hesitant to do so. May we take this opportunity to give some additional information about the course?

The course is offered absolutely free, as we pay all of the postage and furnish the lesson sheets. The lessons are to be worked out by you in your own home with your own Bible as the textbook. Then they are to be mailed to us for grading. You are under no obligation in any way.

The lessons deal with Bible themes. The answers will be found in the Bible. Here is a sample of the lessons. True or False. God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on him should not perish but have eternal life. Matthew 16:16-17 John 1:1-14; 3:16.

Let us help you study the Word of God. The lessons will be mailed out in a few days to those who desire to take the course. Send us your name today.

In spite of illness in the area, the attendance for the services of the church has increased the past month. We are always grateful to have visitors present for the services, and want to take this opportunity to invite you to visit our services.

After the first of the year, churches of Christ in this area are presenting a television program, The Herald of Truth, over the station at Elkhart. Detailed announcements will be made concerning this program at a later date.

Portable Elevator Operations

Lafayette, Ind.—Portable farm elevators are among the most dangerous machines on the farm, says F. R. Willsey, extension safety specialist at Purdue University.

If farmers are to avoid accidents with elevators, they must recognize several sources of danger, Willsey adds, and points out some of the common dangers with suggested ways to eliminate them.

Getting caught in rotating shafts is one cause of fatal elevator accidents. Shield those parts, advises Willsey. Also, farmers pinned under collapsed elevators are the most common farm elevator accidents. The collapse occurs suddenly, and the path of the fall is unpredictable.

Willsey also says that lifting cranks can injure arms and other parts of the body when spinning out of control. Then too, elevators can start serious fires when hay leaves and straw chaff build up around the hot exhaust of a power unit.

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

MIRACLES OF TODAY!

Are there no more miracles? Yes, just this last Summer God took a few handfuls of grain which farmers cast on their fields and fed the whole population of the world. He did this as easily as He took five loaves and fed the five thousand people while He was on earth. No miracles? Well, in the Autumn He changes the dews of the night and the showers of morning into beautiful fruits in the same manner that He once turned water into wine.

Many who read these lines seem powerless to believe in miracles. Life is so commonplace . . . each day is but the same old routine. But for those who believe, every day is a new opportunity to conquer through the power of faith in God.

A mother wrote this letter to me a short while ago:

"Our little three-year-old daughter, Linda, had suffered for over a year from a rare kidney ailment. It finally was diagnosed as glomerulo nephritis, probably brought on by tonsil poisoning. She was swollen all over so that she couldn't wear her clothing and the bottoms of her feet were so round that she couldn't balance herself. In fact, the physician warned us that any type of exertion might cause her to drop dead at any moment. We prayed and asked others to pray for her, but somehow we fell short in our faith.

"Our doctor decided, with our permission, to experiment with injections of cortisone. These reduced the swelling and improved her condition generally, but every time we tried to leave off the injections she immediately began to swell again. We took her to our minister. He told her that he would put his hand on her head and pray and God would make her well. He did pray for her and from that day forth she told everyone she was well.

"Within three weeks, we took her to the doctor for a monthly check-up. He was amazed to find that she was normal for the first time and asked what in the world we had been doing for her. When we told him that she was healed through the power of God, he said, 'Well, something certainly happened.'

"Today she is living a normal life and playing with other children as if she had never been sick. The doctors are impressed and say that no other similar case on record has ever shown the remarkable recovery that she has made."

The above account is, however, not a rare occurrence to people who believe that God is good. You see, you are His property . . . His dwelling place. He desires His house to be in first-class condition. He is able to keep it that way. Remember, He is a carpenter, a builder. He is also the Great Physician. You are His child. Would a physician forsake his own sick child? No! Then look to Him and believe in Him for your own healing.

Take heart! Every day, every hour, every moment is a miracle; and God's miraculous power is at work every moment of every hour of every day.

PREFERENCES CHANGE IN MEATS WE EAT

We Americans, to propound a truism, are meat eaters on a grand scale. Our annual per capita consumption runs around 160 pounds—more than in any comparable country. The figure is only exceeded in some of the smaller nations whose economies are based on meat, such as Australia and Argentina.

However, despite the old principle that "pigs is pigs" our preferences in meat do change, and substantially so. What has happened in the last 16 years was recently described by E. E. Broadbent, livestock marketing specialist at the University of Illinois.

We eat much more beef per capita—85 pounds last year as against 55 in 1940. Veal, too, has found increasing public acceptance, to the tune of a 30 per cent increase in the same period of time. And consumption of poultry and eggs has shown substantial gains.

Contrariwise, lamb and mutton have slipped down the ladder. Last year's per capita buying of these was 4½ pounds as compared with 6½ pounds in 1940. Pork has declined from 73 to 67 pounds for each of us. In this connection, Mr. Broadbent believes that pork's loss of favor is due to its high ratio of fat to lean. He advises farmers to recognize changes in consumer preferences for meats and plan their production accordingly.

Wise farmers watch the trends and do that. For the great American industry will and must give the consuming public the cuts and types it wants, where and when it wants them.

Motorists should not weave from one lane to another like a skier in a slalom, says the Chicago Motor Club. Such weaving in and out of traffic increases the risk of collision with other cars. Competent drivers choose their lane with care, and move from it only when they are sure they can do so without endangering others.

A good mineral mixture for sheep contains two parts steamed bone meal to one part of loose salt, say Purdue University animal husbandmen. Extra salt should be used the year around.

Candy and gum add up to big business in this country. The food chains alone will sell something like $400 million worth of these savories this year.

Married At Tippecanoe

Miss Sara Lea Blackford was united in marriage to Ronald Lynn Kauffman in a double-ring ceremony Nov. 15 in the Tippecanoe Community church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blackford of Tippecanoe. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kauffman, of the same community.

Rev. Henry Hiddinga conducted the service at five o'clock following a prelude of nuptial music presented by Mrs. Hiddinga.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length frock of brocade blue satin in princess style with a bolero jacket and white accessories. Her corsage was of red roses and white chrysanthemums.

Miss Donna Gross of Marion, the bridesmaid, chose navy accessories for a dress in old rose. Variegated pink carnations formed her corsage.

Wayne Kreft, of Tippecanoe, served as best man.

As the couple knelt at the altar Mrs. Hiddinga sang "Our Heart's Prayer." Following the ceremony a reception for 70 guests was held in the church social rooms. Guests were served by Mrs. Rollin Gross, Mrs. C. Frank Cox, Miss Harle Montalbano, Miss Elizabeth Lozier and Miss Rose Blackford.

When leaving for their wedding trip to Ohio, Mrs. Kauffman was dressed in a red ensemble with black accessories. After December 1 she and her husband will reside on the Harold Fenning farm southwest of Tippecanoe.

Both young people are 1956 graduates of Tippecanoe high school. Mr. Kauffman is employed by Geyer and Son of Plymouth. His bride works for the Northern Indiana Cooperative in Mentone.

New Arrival

Mr. and Mrs. Chan Stine, of Bourbon, are parents of a daughter born Sunday, November 24, at Parkview hospital, Plymouth. The new daughter weighed 7 lbs. 13 ounces and has been named Kathy Ann.

Mrs. Billy Cook, the new baby's maternal great-grandmother, is especially thrilled since Sunday was her birthday, also.

FORTUNATE ACCIDENT

There is the old saying among airplane pilots that "any accident you can walk away from is a good one," and that is about the only comment your editor has of one he had in his auto Tuesday evening.

Driving in from the north on Road 19 about 5:10 in the afternoon, a car was coming from the south just when Floyd Bixler had stopped at his driveway with a tractor and load of corn. As the gate was closed, the wagon extended onto the highway some three feet. Lights from the approaching car made it impossible to see the unlighted corn wagon on the highway until it was too late to avoid a collision. Mr. Bixler, realizing his predicament, leaped from his tractor and made an effort to run up the highway to warn me of the danger.

Fortunately, no one was injured even though repairs were needed for both the auto and the bed on the corn wagon.

FUREL BURNS

Surviving besides her son, Herman, are three other sons, Omer and Samuel, R. R. 5, Rochester, and James, Argos; six daughters, Mrs. Harry (Agnes) Jordan, of Mishawaka; Mrs. Edwin (Beryl) Clements, Twelve Mile; Mrs. Wesley (Elsie) Day, Kent City, Mich.; Mrs. Charles (Edith) Milkovich and Mrs. Pauline Ocvirk, Kalamazoo, Mich.; and Mrs. Walter (Irene) Hyde, Warsaw.

Ventilation For Poultry

Chickens are fresh air fiends and can stand cold air if the chicken house is reasonably dry and free from drafts, according to Joe W. Sicer, Purdue University extension poultryman.

Good chicken house ventilation necessitates enough air movement to carry away foul odors, to keep the litter dry, and to avoid condensation of moisture on the ceiling or side walls.

Sicer recommends these simple rules for ventilating the chicken house:

Do not overcrowd the house. As a general rule, allow 2½ to 3 square feet of floor space for Leghorns and 3½ to 4 square feet for heavy breeds.

Have enough high openings. The warm, moist air that you want to get rid of needs high openings, big enough and numerous enough, to let it out quickly.

Don't be afraid to leave windows open, advises Sicer.

Here are a few guides for proper ventilation.

Close all of the north openings tightly with the coming of cool weather.

Keep the south windows open wide until water freezes inside the chicken house.

Adjust any east or west openings and possibly a few south windows to avoid drafts on the birds.

When water freezes inside the house, close the south windows to hold the temperature above freezing, but do not close so tightly that moisture condenses on the ceiling and walls.

As soon as the cold snap has passed, open the south windows to speed up ventilation and litter drying.

Advice to Hog Farmers

Three factors—shelter, water and feed—are important in the efficient production of market hog during winter months.

Richard Hollandbeck, Purdue University extension swine specialist, reports that each factor must be given consideration if hogs are to make the greatest gains during cold weather.

It is neither necessary nor recommended that hogs be kept in a tightly closed building. They stay healthier and freer of respiratory diseases if provided a dry and draft-free sleeping quarters where there is ample bedding. The specialist points out that ground corn cobs make a suitable bedding for shoats.

Even during the coldest period

of winter, water is an important part of the ration. Hogs will drink about two pounds of water for each pound of feed eaten, the specialist said. Clean, fresh water which will not freeze can be provided with automatic fountains or other types of waterers.

Pigs under 10 pounds in weight and not on pasture, as is the case in the winter, should receive 16 percent total protein in their ration. The protein content can be reduced to 14 percent for hogs over 100 pounds. Hollandbeck adds that hogs should have access to a self-feeder or box containing salt and a mineral mixture at all times.

Preparing Cattle For Market

Keep cattle clean just before shipping them to market, advises Henry Mayo, Purdue University extension animal husbandman. Manure, mange, or lice on the cattle detract from their appearance and reduce the value of the hide.

Mayo suggests having a hill or solid place for the cattle to lie on cobs. Cattle will gain faster if they have solid bedding. Keep the cattle lot especially clean during the few weeks before shipping to market.

The specialist says the feed should not be changed within 30 days before marketing. A change might throw the cattle off feed and result in weight loss.

Too many or two few cattle in a truck may cause injury to some of the animals. Cattle will ride better if they have been grouped together for several weeks before shipping.

The loading pens should be accessible at all times because low market runs and higher prices may occur during bad weather. If loading at night, locate a light so that cattle can see to the front of the truck.

Agricultural engineering blueprint No. 5535 will give you detail and design for cutting gates, sorting pens and loading chutes. This three-sheet blueprint, showing six different corrals, can be obtained by sending 75 cents to the agricultural engineering department, Purdue University, Lafayette.

A study made in Minnesota shows that only about two percent of the state's $5,000-plus automobile accidents last year could be attributed to causes beyond the control of drivers—which simply means that human factor was responsible for 98 percent.

Calf pens should be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected to make them ready for the winter months. Purdue University veterinarians say. Baby calves need dry, well-ventilated pens.

Winter Coat For Strawberries

A strawberry mulch should be applied in early December after a few hard freezes, according to Frank Emerson, Purdue University extension horticulturist. Without a mulch many strawberry plants may be killed by freezing temperatures.

Any organic matter will mulch the strawberries, but Emerson recommends straw. Sawdust and cobs compete with the strawberries for nitrates in the spring. Nitrogen should be applied along with sawdust or cob mulch.

The strawberries should have a two inch covering of unpacked straw. Emerson warns, however, that an excessive covering might smother the plants.

A good mulch will prevent alternate freezing and thawing, thus averting heaving of the strawberry plants. Heaving pushes the plants out of the ground until the crowns of the plants are exposed and damaged by low winter temperatures, Emerson explains.

In addition to providing winter

protection, a mulch will also provide protection against spring frost during bloom, help conserve moisture during the summer, assist in weed control, reduce fruit rots during harvest and prevent the berries from getting dirty by direct contact with the soil.

The mulch should be partially removed from the rows as soon as the plants begin growth in the spring, Emerson says. It may be pulled back over the plants during bloom if frost is predicted. The mulch should be worked into the soil during the seasons to add organic matter.

The trouble with most people, and nations, is that they want advantages without giving anything in return.

WHEN YOU ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR FAITH

GEORGE MECKLENBURG SAYS:

- You take a stand for faith and for a spiritual interpretation of life. You testify and witness to the faith in you.
- You count on the side of the spiritual. You tell the world that you believe in God, Eternity, Immortality.
- You challenge all that is evil, all that which is contrary to the will of God. You say that you are against everything that hurts human beings. You tell your neighbors that you are seeking something higher.
- You salute Christ and His Church. You appreciate what the Church has done for humanity.
- You come to God's house, to adore, to worship, to praise. You become a part of that host that has been worshipping God down through the ages. You have been caught up in Spirit.

The Methodists of Mentone would encourage everyone to attend some Church. They are participating in the "World-wide Church Attendance Movement" from New Year to Easter. Let everyone develop the habit now of faithfulness in attendance somewhere!

The Country Neighbors Club met recently at the home of Isabelle Peterson for their November meeting.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Eleanor Hooper. The pledge to the flag was given and the club creed was repeated in unison. For devotions, Mrs. Ada Maxwell read Col. 3:13, and a story "What Should I wear?" The club members stood as she read a Thanksgiving prayer.

During the business meeting plans were completed for the Apron Sale to be held at Frank and Jerry's and a donation of $5 was given to the Retarded Children's School at Warsaw.

Mrs. Leroy Norris then introduced Mrs. Pearl Lackey who gave a book report on the book, "Down Ryton Waters." She also gave some information about the Library.

Secret pal gifts were received by Eleanor Chamberlain and Eleanor Hoover.

Delicious refreshments were served to the members and five guests. The guests were Mrs. Charles Hershberger, Mrs. Mae Hershberger and son Richard, Mrs. Myrtle Pfeiffer and Butchie Teel. The December meeting will be a Christmas Party at the home of Emma Zolman with Dorothy Herendeen assisting.

Putting Sputter In Sputnik

The latest bulletin from outer space indicates that traffic hazards may be rarer there than in the United States, but our safety record bears up well by comparison. Sputnik No. 1, which was launched on October 4th, is traveling at the rate of 432,000 miles per day.

Matthew C. Sielski, director of the Chicago Motor Club's Safety and Traffic Engineering Dept., computes that if Sputnik No. 1 is still aloft on November 15, it will have traveled a total mileage of 18,200,000 in 42 days. Yet this is merely the equivalent of the number of miles traveled by automobile in the United States which results in one traffic fatality.

Now that Sputnik No. 2 is also circling above, with passengers to boot, and apes are getting their tickets to the moon, we can reasonably expect a rise in the space fatality rate, says Sielski. Traffic engineers have their slide rules at the ready, and as the statistics come in, they will continue to interpret them for earthbound travelers.

Since it takes time and space in which to stop, a motorist should maintain a safe distance between his car and the one ahead, the Chicago Motor Club advises. On winter's slippery roads, a motorist may find it impossible to match a sudden stop by the driver ahead.

Motorists should adjust the speed of their car to traffic, road and weather conditions, says the Chicago Motor Club. Regulatory signs authorizing high speed limits are meant for ideal conditions, and not for wet, icy, or snow-covered roads.

Clean up all plant refuse and either make it into a compost pile or burn it, Purdue University entomologists recommend. This refuse, if left in the garden or flower bed, makes ideal cover for insect pests and frequently serves as a source of disease next spring.

Don't forget to mulch the strawberry bed, remind Purdue University horticulturists. A complete covering of the patch with clean straw will reduce the hazard of winter injury and a short crop next year.

Not all soils need lime, Purdue University agronomists report. About one of every ten samples tested at Purdue already has enough limestone for good legume growth. Before applying lime, soil should be tested.

November is a critical month for litter condition in the laying house, Purdue University poultrymen point out. There should be at least six inches of dry litter material on the laying house floor by early November. If litter is not that deep, dry shavings or crushed cobs can be added.

Attends Safety Council

If traffic in Talma becomes safer in the future, it conceivably can be attributed to ideas brought home from the Governor's Teen-Age Traffic Safety Conference in Indianapolis last Saturday.

Representing Talma were Frances Newton, Dick Peterson, and Jim Dick of Talma High school.

In addressing several hundred delegates from all parts of Indiana to the second such conference, Governor Harold W. Handley set the theme by stating, "The youth of this fine state of ours have a huge stake in traffic safety, not only in their present role as teen-agers, but because the success or failure of future traffic in Indiana rests with them. I believe we owe it to our high school students to gather their representatives together that they may discuss the urgency and necessity for responsible behavior in traffic."

Delegates heard Jim Reece, famous 500-Mile Race Driver and member of the Champion 100-mile-an-hour-club, compare safety on race tracks to the situations on the highway. They also heard other teen-agers talk to their peers on the important problems of good driving.

Principal items on the agenda were: The new Driver Education Law, The Current Traffic Safety situation and the teen-agers' role in traffic safety. The governor's conference was called by Wilbur Young, Indiana Superintendent of Public Instruction. Special sessions were held for parents and teachers who "chauffeured" the delegates to the conference.

All participants were urged to make reports of the conference to school assemblies and civic clubs. It is expected that the delegates from Talma will have an opportunity to carry the teen-agers' version of traffic safety to several luncheon and civic organizations.

Split Application Of Lime

A Purdue University agronomist, R. D. Bronson, has recommended a split application liming technique for the establishment of legumes on acid soils.

This is the practice of plowing down half the required amount of limestone and disking the other half into the seed bed before planting.

Bronson said the object of split application is to apply the total amount of limestone needed in such a way that soil conditions are favorable to the early growth of plants—particularly legumes.

When limestone is plowed down, the acid soil is brought to the surface from below at the same time. An acid soil, when prepared as a seed bed, is unfavorable for the growth of young seedlings, the specialist explained.

Legume seedlings need a favorable pH and an adequate supply of calcium in order to thrive until their root system can "reach down" to get the limestone which has been plowed under.

Agricultural ground limestone contains enough of the finer particles and can be used to get quick neutralization of soil acidity when applied in split application. Information on fineness of local limestone can now be obtained from the county extension agent.

Split application is also desirable as an initial treatment for any very acid mineral soil, or as a periodic treatment of very acid muck or organic soils.

Liming is not recommended for acid tolerant muck crops such as blueberries and some varieties of potatoes. Bronson, however, suggests a split application of 4-5 tons per acre of limestone for field crops, such as corn, grown on very acid muck soils. Here, the limestone is needed to supply calcium.

Soil tests should be used to determine the amount of limestone required.

"Now is the time for farmers to take samples on which to base their liming program for next year. By testing periodically and applying the needed limestone to a part of the farm each year, split application for establishing legumes can be avoided," Bronson concludes.

On Friday night, November 22, the Beavers played host to Leesburg, collecting their third victory in as many starts.

Beaver Dam jumped off to an early lead and was never threatened. The Beavers substituted freely throughout the game with all ten men getting into the scoring column.

Larry Bibler was the outstanding scorer for both teams in collecting thirty (30) points in a little over three quarters of the game. In their efforts to hold Bibler, Leesburg fouled frequently and the Beaver Dam center connected on 14 of 18 charity tosses. Ummel and Valentine also got into the double figures getting 11 and 10 points respectively. Ted Thompson led Leesburg with 11 points.

They traveled along the coast of the Mediterranean Sea through Monte Carlo and Nice in France, then traveled north to Paris where they visited friends. From there they went to Brussels, Belgium, and to the Netherlands then returned to Worms, Germany where Jim is stationed. Dorothy and Jim will return to the States the first of March.

Their Address is:

Church Of Christ News

Announcement has been made the past two weeks regarding a free, six lesson correspondence course offered by the church. Some have indicated a desire to take this course, and we feel that others would like to take it but are hesitant to do so. May we take this opportunity to give some additional information about the course?

The course is offered absolutely free, as we pay all of the postage and furnish the lesson sheets. The lessons are to be worked out by you in your own home with your own Bible as the textbook. Then they are to be mailed to us for grading. You are under no obligation in any way.

The lessons deal with Bible themes. The answers will be found in the Bible. Here is a sample of the lessons. True or False. God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on him should not perish but have eternal life. Matthew 16:16; John 1:1-14; 3:16.

Let us help you study the Word of God. The lessons will be mailed out in a few days to those who desire to take the course. Send us your name today.

In spite of illness in the area, the attendance for the services of the church has increased the past month. We are always grateful to have visitors present for the services, and want to take this opportunity to invite you to visit our services.

After the first of the year, churches of Christ in this area are presenting a television program, The Herald of Truth, over the station at Elkhart. Detailed announcements will be made concerning this program at a later date.

Portable Elevator Operations

Lafayette, Ind.—Portable farm elevators are among the most dangerous machines on the farm, says F. R. Willsey, extension safety specialist at Purdue University.

If farmers are to avoid accidents with elevators, they must recognize several sources of danger, Willsey adds, and points out some of the common dangers with suggested ways to eliminate them.

Getting caught in rotating shafts is one cause of fatal elevator accidents. Shield those parts, advises Willsey. Also, farmers pinned under collapsed elevators are the most common farm elevator accidents. The collapse occurs suddenly, and the path of the fall is unpredictable.

Willsey also says that lifting cranks can injure arms and other parts of the body when spinning out of control. Then too, elevators can start serious fires when hay leaves and straw chaff build up around the hot exhaust of a power unit.

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

MIRACLES OF TODAY!

Are there no more miracles? Yes, just this last Summer God took a few handfuls of grain which farmers cast on their fields and fed the whole population of the world. He did this as easily as He took five loaves and fed the five thousand people while He was on earth. No miracles? Well, in the Autumn He changes the dews of the night and the showers of morning into beautiful fruits in the same manner that He once turned water into wine.

Many who read these lines seem powerless to believe in miracles. Life is so commonplace . . . each day is but the same old routine. But for those who believe, every day is a new opportunity to conquer through the power of faith in God.

A mother wrote this letter to me a short while ago:

"Our little three-year-old daughter, Linda, had suffered for over a year from a rare kidney ailment. It finally was diagnosed as glomerulonephritis, probably brought on by tonsil poisoning. She was swollen all over so that she couldn't wear her clothing and the bottoms of her feet were so round that she couldn't balance herself. In fact, the physician warned us that any type of exertion might cause her to drop dead at any moment. We prayed and asked others to pray for her, but somehow we fell short in our faith.

"Our doctor decided, with our permission, to experiment with injections of cortisone. These reduced the swelling and improved her condition generally, but every time we tried to leave off the injections she immediately began to swell again. We took her to our minister. He told her that he would put his hand on her head and pray and God would make her well. He did pray for her and from that day forth she told everyone she was well.

"Within three weeks, we took her to the doctor for a monthly check-up. He was amazed to find that she was normal for the first time and asked what in the world we had been doing for her. When we told him that she was healed through the power of God, he said, 'Well, something certainly happened.'

"Today she is living a normal life and playing with other children as if she had never been sick. The doctors are impressed and say that no other similar case on record has ever shown the remarkable recovery that she has made."

The above account is, however, not a rare occurrence to people who believe that God is good. You see, you are His property . . . His dwelling place. He desires His house to be in first-class condition. He is able to keep it that way. Remember, He is a carpenter, a builder. He is also the Great Physician. You are His child. Would a physician forsake his own sick child? No! Then look to Him and believe in Him for your own healing.

Take heart! Every day, every hour, every moment is a miracle; and God's miraculous power is at work every moment of every hour of every day.

PREFERENCES CHANGE IN MEATS WE EAT

We Americans, to propound a truism, are meat eaters on a grand scale. Our annual per capita consumption runs around 160 pounds—more than in any comparable country. The figure is only exceeded in some of the smaller nations whose economies are based on meat, such as Australia and Argentina.

However, despite the old principle that "pigs is pigs" our preferences in meat do change, and substantially so. What has happened in the last 16 years was recently described by E. E. Broadbent, livestock marketing specialist at the University of Illinois.

We eat much more beef per capita—85 pounds last year as against 55 in 1940. Veal, too, has found increasing public acceptance, to the tune of a 30 per cent increase in the same period of time. And consumption of poultry and eggs has shown substantial gains.

Contrariwise, lamb and mutton have slipped down the ladder. Last year's per capita buying of these was 4½ pounds as compared with 6½ pounds in 1940. Pork has declined from 73 to 67 pounds for each of us. In this connection, Mr. Broadbent believes that pork's loss of favor is due to its high ratio of fat to lean. He advises farmers to recognize changes in consumer preferences for meats and plan their production accordingly.

Wise farmers watch the trends and do that. For the great American industry will and must give the consuming public the cuts and types it wants, where and when it wants them.

Motorists should not weave from one lane to another like a skier in a slalom, says the Chicago Motor Club. Such weaving in and out of traffic increases the risk of collision with other cars. Competent drivers choose their lane with care, and move from it only when they are sure they can do so without endangering others.

A good mineral mixture for sheep contains two parts steamed bone meal to one part of loose salt, say Purdue University animal husbandmen. Extra salt should be used the year around.

Candy and gum add up to big business in this country. The food chains alone will sell something like $400 million worth of these savories this year.
