Indiana Poultrymen Meet At Purdue

The eighteenth annual session of the Indiana Poultry Association opened at Purdue University with more than two hundred members registered. By Thursday noon this registration was almost doubled, which was a material increase over that of last year.

The meeting opened promptly at 10:30 a. m., Wednesday, hatchery day, with a report given by the president of the association, Hobart Creighton, who also outlined the future work of the association. During the day the following topics were discussed: The hatchery outlook and recent developments affecting hatcherymen, feeding problems, incubator management, practical breeding methods for improved hatchery flocks, and the 1937 National Poultry Improvement Plan.

Wednesday night featured a baby chick banquet in the cafeteria hall of the Home Economics building, Purdue University. After the banquet Hobart Creighton discussed: How our Breeders can serve our Hatcherymen.

Thursday was poultry raisers day, and the annual banquet was held Thursday night. Speaker for the evening was the Reverend George Winfrey, Winfall, Indiana. He is a natural born humorist and his emotional appeal in expressing sympathy for the sins and mistakes of the people just naturally win the interest and confidence of those with whom he associates. A most enjoyable evening was spent listening to this practical joker score pun after pun.

Friday was Turkey Day and all phases of turkey raising were discussed in full. That the Hoosier poultry industry has made substantial progress is shown by the far-reaching problems discussed at this meeting. The unusual attendance, the splendid program, the speakers and the fine Purdue Poultry building signify the important place which poultry occupies in the present day agriculture. Everyone who attended left with at least some bit of useful information. A resolution favoring establishment

Warsaw Fair

The Kosciusko county fair came to a successful close sometime between Saturday midnight and Sunday morning. Wednesday it looked as if rainy weather might decrease their usual attendance, but the last three days and nights were perfect as the swarming crowds proved. The fair was well attended from Mentone as usual.

A word of commendation should be added here concerning the free acts. They were all good, especially the roller skating act. The latter brought generous applause from the crowd and it is hoped that fair crowds may enjoy a return engagement of this act next year.

SODALES MEET

The Mentone Sodales club held their anniversary party Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Edna Burns. Roll call was responded to with a confession of their most embarrassing moment at a Sodales club meeting.

This annual event is always one of the most interesting and refreshing of the season. This year the meeting was in the form of a Motor Party. Games and contests were carried out to that effect with unusual and entertaining results.

Even the four-course dinner was of this nature. The group motored to the home of Golda Mollenhour for their appetizers, to Turl Nelson's for their main course, then out to Ethel Nellans, for salad and back again to Edna Burns' for their final dessert course.

There were sixteen members present; the committee, Turl Nelson, Pearl Lackey and Ethel Nellans; the other members, Hazel Linn, Isabel Johns, Ernie Manwaring, Ottilie Walbert, Elanore Manwaring, Fern Carter, Lois Fenstermaker, Golda Mollenhour, Elen Stanford, Ruby Smith, Fay Dunner, Miriam Shinn and the hostess Edna Burns. The day closed with the group singing several selections. Their next monthly meeting will be Thursday, October 8.

Pulled Teeth With Fingers

Until recently Chinese dentists were trained to extract any tooth from a patient's mouth without using instruments, but solely by the strength in their fingers. They were trained for this by repeated extraction of wooden pegs driven into a board. The muscles of their hands and fingers were so developed that this was possible.

The Adjutant Stork

In India the Adjutant, of the stork family, is semi-domesticated, like the European stork. They feed on fish, frogs and small reptiles and are sometimes valuable as scavengers to inhabitants of native river villages. The stork migrates north for the nesting season. They fly at high altitudes with their long legs trailing behind them.

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

A bunch of newspaper men were sitting at a table discussing titled persons and even royalty they had met in the course of their work. When one of the group told of an incident that occurred when he and his wife, and another couple were returning from Europe on a crack liner. One evening, as they were sitting in the smoking room, an Englishman—he was the type who knows who everybody is—aboard the ship within 24 hours—came up and said that a most distinguished passenger was desirous of joining the group, buying a drink and, if permissible, dancing with the ladies. He was informed that the stranger would be made welcome, so he brought forward a youngish man whom he introduced as the prince of Denmark. With the introduction, the prince clicked his heels, saluted and carried himself quite in the proper manner.

The Americans, however, were sure they were being spoofed a bit, so one of the ladies replied, "Gland to meet you, prince, I'm the Queen of Sheba," and the prince merely smiled. "And I'm glad to meet you, too," said a Chicago member of the party. "I've been wanting to meet somebody from your country for some time because I've been wondering what is rotten in Denmark." The prince smiled, bowed and replied, "There is plenty rotten in Denmark." Whereupon, the Americans took him for a good sport and made a place for him at the table.

By and by the conversation got around to the ship's barber and the prince said he hated to go to barber shops. That was the newspaper man's opportunity. "Prince," he said, "with that mug of yours, you don't need to go to a barber shop. Just get one of the sailors to holystone that upper deck of yours." That evidently appealed to the sense of humor of the prince. He laughed heartily.

Well, things went along like that for several days, with the Englishman who had introduced the prince looking pop-eyed at all the joshing. But it evidently appealed to the prince, as he stuck around and took it. You've guessed the answer, of course. Investigation showed that he was really Prince Eric of Denmark, though several times removed, still in direct line to the Danish throne.

More than nine years ago—August 6, 1926, to be exact—Gertrude Ederle set a new record by swimming the English channel in 14 hours and 31 minutes. That was a battle that left her deaf. Now she is fighting another battle. This time it isn't against buffeting waves, but against the effects of a fracture. Two years ago she slipped on a rug in the home of a friend and suffered a broken pelvis. Eleven months in a plaster cast followed. Then came daily massages and many visits of doctors. Eventually, she was able to walk, but even now her legs give away after only a short distance.

The spirit of Gertrude Ederle hasn't given way, however. Not only does she go through a prescribed course of exercises, which she hopes will make it possible for her to swim again, but to while away the time she makes all her own clothes. She holds 20 records of different kinds and when she returned from Europe, after setting her channel record, she was received with the blare of bands and showers of ticker tape.

Subway scene: A fine looking old priest, finding a seat, settling himself comfortably and opening and reading a Jewish daily newspaper. A curious passenger engages him in casual conversation and learns that the priest has a parish in the thick of the ghetto section and has been there so long that he has not only learned to read but also to speak Yiddish.

Grateful Storks

Madrid.—Every day a stork and its two young ones tap on the door of a cottage in Ildes, a village in Aragon Spain. A year ago the peasants found the stork with its leg broken. They cared for it until it flew away to the South.

Now the stork has returned with its young. They call each day at the cottage to "show their gratitude," the villagers say.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

School is such a busy place this week and so much activity going on that we were much in doubt as to what material to begin on this week for this page. We decided to give you an idea what the school is doing toward fair exhibitions inasmuch as every one is immensely interested in the fair this week.

We have some livestock and some farm produce entered in the Agriculture tent. In the open class John, Everett and Dale Beeson are exhibiting corn. Dale is also exhibiting wheat. The livestock exhibited is a Daroc Jersey Barrow by Howard Mahoney and a Herford Calf by Don Boggs. These two last entries are being put in the 4H exhibits.

The Home Economics girls have entered numerous articles in the fair. They are as follows: Vocational entries—Smock-Mary Alice Long, Betty Hammer and Mary Alice Mosier. Ship Mary Bath Deaton. Canned tomatoes—Mary Beth Deaton.

In the 4H department the following have been entered: 5th year clothing—Mary Alice Long, Mary Mellot, Third year clothing—Wilma Mollenhour. Second year clothing—Helen Long, Hope Deaton, Avonell Blue and Iola Tucker. First year baking—Ella Jane Warner.

The girls who are entering for 4H judging are: Mary Mellot, Mary Deaton and Alice Meredith who will judge canning, Wilma Mollenhour, Helen Long and Mary Alice Long who will judge clothing, Letha Walters, Beulah Nettroter and Hope Deaton who will judge baking.

A part of the Girl's Physical training class are taking part in an amateur performance Thursday. They will do tumbling and pyramiding. Those taking part in this work are: Mary Mellot, Margaret Swick, Mary Deaton, Dortha Decker, Betty Ellsworth, Wilma Mollenhour, from the Girl's class. The girls will be aided in their act by Orvil Secore and James Parks.

The girl Scouts also have an active part in the fair. They are putting on a novelty play Thursday afternoon.

The last attraction from Mentone School is the Smythe Boys. They are going to entertain with music and dancing. A school truck was provided Thursday afternoon to take the prospective artists to Warsaw.

In the Advanced Typing class the students are getting some practical secretarial work. Mr. Smith, of the English department had each pupil make a list of all the books he or she had read. It is now the typing students task to type these on cards furnished by the English Instructor.

SENIOR NEWS

School was dismissed Friday in favor of the fair. It is hoped that the pupils will appreciate this favor and show their appreciation by better work in the future.

The Senior Civics class is busy writing up articles on the Foreign exchange. This subject is quite complex. We have learned about the relation of dollars to pounds, of dollars to francs and of dollars to several other kinds of foreign money. We have learned the functions and purpose of this organization and hope to be able to deal with future problems with this bit of fundamental knowledge.

WARNING: People contacting the Seniors of 1937 had better use plenty of caution, after the first semester of school has passed. With only the few weeks of Public Speaking we have already developed or discovered quite a number of silver-tongued orators, and if this work is continued for three more months the Seniors will be able to talk you into or out of anything they want to.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Juniors haven't much to say except that being very fortunate this far, nothing much has happened. We have had our monthly tests and are waiting patiently to see what our report cards will show for the first month of school. The Juniors watched the birdie for the camera-man Thursday morning. We are very anxious to see what we look like on paper.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

Four weeks of study have convinced us that school could be better, and could be worse. Spending a full month on those horrid parts of speech, as a result of not getting our seventh grade work proved to be the worst punishment. We surely were considering ourselves big since we are no longer "those little seventh graders."

In the eighth grade arithmetic class, Mr. Fenstermaker remarked that it must be going to rain because the pupils were so noisy. Carl Whetstone promptly informed him that he was quite wrong. Everyone knows that it doesn't rain every day.

All EIGHTH GRADERS—Be sure to have your Geography lesson or Mervel Smith will bring down his cross cat and "sic" him on you.

We, the eighth graders, are on the verge of rebellion. Mr. Mervel Smith has not read us a single story this year.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

The seventh graders state that they like their subjects very much. It will soon be a month of faithful work for them. Last year they say that some of them did not like history, but this year it has become very interesting. An assignment which they had was to draw a covered wagon or a stage coach. No doubt both looked very much alike when they finished. They thought the study periods very lengthy at first, but after getting some real work to do and longer assignments, they find that the time for study is too limited.

SPORT NEWS

The Bulldogs won their baseball game from Burket last Friday by a score of 9 to 2. Contributing factor to the victory was the five-hit pitching by Sophomore, Dale Wiltrout. This makes the second game the Bulldogs have won out of three starts.

Sidney forfeited the game which was to be played on the local diamond Tuesday with their team.

Following is a list of boys who will

EDUCATION

Someone has said that, "Education is to lead from ignorance." He bases this conclusion on the fact that the word is derived from two Latin words namely—duco, which means to lead and e, the prefix meaning from.

The writer is sure, however, that if you will take a second or possible third survey of the true meaning of education, you will agree that the Education, which means to nourish, would come nearer to the true meaning of the word, because education is nourishment.

In our school life our minds are "fed" on English, History, mathematics, music, art, and other lines of culture. We learn to appreciate music, books and nature. As the physical body grows when fed, so does the mind grow when proper food is provided.

Another word this week will be added about our High School Band. It is making splendid progress and all in the organization are very much interested in the work. We are looking forward to a public appearance in the near future.

Arabian Horses Sturdy

Arabian horses are able to carry weight beyond their size, enduring extremes of heat and cold without distress and keeping in condition on the roughest rations. They have been used for racing, hunting and polo in eastern countries for centuries and have been imported and successfully used as a cross for cavalry by the government remounts of all continental countries.

ART OF WHITTLING MAY BE RESTORED

Important in Building of Engineer Models.

Columbus, Ohio.—The art of whittling, once a favorite hobby of men and boys with "time on their hands," but now almost forgotten, may be revived to become an interesting and useful profession—that of building models for engineering purposes.

That's the opinion of Samuel T. Carpenter, for the last two years a member of the engineering faculty at Ohio State university and now on the staff at Swarthmore college, whose views were expressed in an article written for the Engineering Experiment Station News, published at Ohio State university.

According to Carpenter, the engineer who is handy with a knife has a distinct advantage with the increased use of models in engineering. And he adds, "Model engineering is in its infancy."

"Building models has often been thought a hobby, the making of an elegant sailing ship for the mantelpiece being the goal of every home craftsman. It has become much more," Carpenter said.

"The hobby followers have unconsciously developed their art of representing detail to the point where engineers, beset with problems of analysis and verification, have elected to use models to help them in their calculations."

He cited as examples the San Francisco-Oakland bridge and Boulder dam, both of which were verified by models.

In the old days of engineering, Carpenter said, much construction was done on the "make and break" or "shot in the dark" plan. This was costly and the final results uninterpretable. Now, through the use of models, engineers are more certain of results, he claimed.

Protect Married Men in "Balm" Suit in Britain

London.—A married man in England is safe from breach of promise action even if he has been granted a preliminary divorce decree.

The Court of Appeals has so decreed, upholding a decision of a lower court.

Miss Emily Fender, pretty twenty-seven-year-old brunette, a former nurse, brought a breach of promise action against Sir Anthony St. John-Mildmay.

Sir Anthony admitted he had made the promise to marry the plaintiff.

Miss Fender was awarded $10,000 by a jury in the King's Bench division.

Justice Hawke overruled the award, declaring he could not sustain a promise of marriage made between the date of a decree nisi and the date when the decree was to be made absolute.

Asserting such a promise was contrary to public policy, the justice pointed out it was possible for the wife of Sir Anthony to change her mind and appeal to her husband for a reconciliation.

The Court of Appeal received the case and upheld the decision of Justice Hawke.

Permission was granted Miss Fender to appeal to the house of lords, the Supreme court of the land. She announced she would probably take this step.

Fingerprints Grafted on Back of Man's Hand

Indianapolis.—Richard Growe, age twenty-eight, two of whose fingers were amputated 14 years ago, was arrested on a minor charge—and provided police Bertillon clerks with a complete set of ten fingerprints.

A clerk had recorded the amputations, when Growe explained that didn't mean prints of those fingers were unavailable.

Growe pointed to the back of his hand. Grafted there after a machine shop accident 14 years ago, the skin of the amputated fingers still thrives, with the two finger whorls up near the wrist.

Woollegging Is Latest

Marine City, Mich.—The latest in smuggling is the bootlegging of raw wool. United States customs officers recently seized 1,000 pounds of scoured wool in a cottage at Broadbridge Beach, near Algonac, and arrested a woman whose name they are withholding. The wool, which can be bought for 15 cents a pound in Canada, sells on the Detroit market at 36 cents.

Ten Commandments of Indians Given

Oscoda, Mich.—The Rev. John Silas, Methodist minister and a chief of the Indians here, says that the Chippewas of old also had their Ten Commandments, which he quotes as follows:

- 1—Never steal, except from an enemy.
- 2—Respect the aged and hearken to them.
- 3—Be kind to the sick and deformed.
- 4—Obey your parents.
- 5—Be modest.
- 6—Be charitable.
- 7—Be of good courage, suffer in silence.
- 8—Avenge personal and family wrongs.
- 9—Be hospitable.
- 10—Pray to the Great Spirit.

The Dogfish.

The dogfish is a small, slate-colored shark, three feet long, with a strong spine in the dorsal fin. It inhabits both shores of the North Atlantic, southward to Cuba. The flesh is used for food and the liver yields oil. The very tough skin is dried and used, like sandpaper, for polishing wood. Sometimes as many as 20,000 dogfish have been taken in a single haul of the net.

Merl P. Hodges Killed in Accident

Merl P. Hodges, 55, prominent Warsaw building contractor, sustained injuries at Plymouth Thursday evening, and died at 8:40 o'clock enroute to the Parkview hospital. The accident occurred when a heavy timber flew out of position while workmen were hoisting a heavy stone into place above an archway. The contractor who was standing near by directing the work when struck, never regained consciousness.

Hodges began the $55,000 PWA project, a new gymnasium and community building on the back of the Lincoln high school athletic field six weeks ago. At the time of the accident a heavy stone, weighing about a ton and a half, for an archway was being hoisted into position. The hoist had a guy wire attached to an 8x8 inch timber fastened in a doorway as a brace for the lifting machinery. As they were lifting the stone vibration jerked loose the timber and with terrific force hurled it twenty-five feet directly at the contractor. Hodges threw up his arms just a second too late to ward off the flying timber.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Bertha Hodges and four children, Albert, Paul, Robert and Elsie, all of Warsaw; six grandchildren, two brothers, two sisters and one son-in-law.

Palestine Home Coming

The home-coming at the Palestine M. E. church last Sunday was quite well attended. The church was well filled and quite an interesting program was rendered in the afternoon.

A goodly number came for Sunday school and after a short sermon by the pastor, Rev. J. S. Newcomb came the largest attraction of the day, the big cooperative dinner.

The afternoon program consisted of interesting readings by each of the Kertz children, Jane Stickler and the small son of Rev. Newcomb. There was a vocal solo by Orpha Davis who was accompanied at the piano by Doris Wiltout, instrumental music by Edison and Paul Vandermark, two violin solos by Carlton Shirey and Iris Blackwell and an instrumental piece by Mr. and Mrs. John Hipsher. After informal talks by quite a few of the visitors the congregation sang "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again" and was dismissed by Rev. Newcomb.

Etna Monday Club

The Etna Green Monday club met for its first program of this season in the home of Mrs. Victor Anglin. Twenty-three members responded to roll call. During the business session plans were made and committees appointed for a reciprocity meeting with the Martha Washington club of Warsaw to be held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Hamlin on the evening of October 19. Several of the club ladies also attended the twenty-sixth annual convention of the 13th district Federation of Women's clubs at the Methodist church at Plymouth Tuesday. The topic of the evening's program was "Indiana," and the following numbers were splendidly rendered and greatly enjoyed by those present: Song, "Indiana Slogan," "Caves of Indiana," Mrs. Thomas Hamlin, "On the Banks of the Wabash," Mrs. Harley Poor; "Indiana Artists," Mrs. Stacey Shaw.

A brief service in memory of Mrs. O. A. Johnson, an associate member of the club and who recently passed away, was conducted by Mrs. S. B. Iden. Refreshments were served by the hostess during the social hour.

Shortage of Stock Feeds in This State

The following is from G. A. Williams, Dairy Extension Dept., Purdue University.

Limited rainfall and unusually high temperatures which prevailed during the summer have caused a serious feed shortage in numerous sections of the state. Many dairy pastures were rendered practically worthless. Not only did dairymen feed grain more liberally than usual during these months, but they were also forced to feed hay and silage. The result is that these dairymen are approaching the winter feeding period with a feed supply far below normal. To make matters worse much of the spring seeding was lost. Consequently permanent pastures, always a disappointment during July and August, will have to carry an overload next summer.

Such an emergency calls for careful consideration since approximately 25 cents of each farm dollar in Indiana come from the dairy cow. It is well to remember that underfeeding in the dairy herd is usually carried on at a loss. Provided each milk cow possesses the ability for high production, liberal feeding is always the most profitable plan to follow. "Fit the ration to the cow and not the cow to the ration" is a safe rule for dairymen to follow.

When feeds are scarce and high in price checking up on the performance of each cow in the herd should not be overlooked. Dairymen need records at such times more than during normal years. Members of Dairy Herd Improvement Associations have a decided advantage over their non-member neighbors in this respect. Each month the cow tester fills out the individual feed and production record for each cow in the herd. Only a glance is necessary to decide whether or not she is paying for her feed. The tester suggests changes in the amounts and kinds of ration if necessary and leaves the member with a feeding schedule to be followed until the next monthly visit.

Proof of the value of record keeping is furnished by the fact that dairymen who have kept such records for five or more years have higher herd averages and lower feed costs than dairymen who have tested only one or two years. Dairymen facing feed problems during the coming winter may secure valuable assistance from the cow tester's monthly visit.

Schubert's Serenade

Whatever his inspiration, Schubert wrote the "Serenade" to suit the words of a poem by Ludwig Rellstab. A number of Rellstab's poems were originally sent by their author to Beethoven, who declined to do anything with them because of the state of his health, but who recommended that they be turned over to Schubert. This was done after Beethoven's death. In 1828 Schubert wrote a number of fine songs, which were brought out after his death under the title of "Swan Songs." "Serenade" is No. 4 of the Swan Songs, which include six others written to Rellstab's words. Schubert was born January 31, 1797, and died November 19, 1828.

"Mrs. Perry's Victory"

While Ohio and America in general were praising Commander Oliver Perry for his victory on Lake Erie during the War of 1812, many persons who knew his family were saying it was "Mrs. Perry's victory." These people recalled how Sarah Alexander Perry, born in County Down, Ireland, had trained the boy in obedience and had endeavored to instill in him the spirit of heroism which she believed he inherited from her military ancestors, the old Scotch Covenanters.

Congress Debate Perilous

Anti-slavery days were often perilous ones in the halls of congress. Once, as Owen Lovejoy of Illinois was delivering a speech he unconsciously kept advancing to the front as he spoke, until a Southern representative put a hand on his shoulder and growled, "Go back to your own side!" Immediately the passageway was full of members, most of them armed, the "click" of weapons was heard and they were all within the bounds of armed conflict.

SENIOR NEWS

Everyone has settled down peacefully after the fair week and are ready for some more good hard work. The Seniors are working especially hard in their public speaking course. Last week we were asked to give a speech, basing our authority on the statement of some renowned and revered man whom nearly all the class knew. When Ernest Wagner gave his speech, he based his authority on his own statement and left it to the class whether or not his authority was valid.

History is getting more interesting each day. The Senior history is a Forum of Free Speech. It is all right to express your own particular opinion in anything as long as you do not throw books. In our work we are taking up some questions that are always next to a Senior's heart. This makes the class very interesting and every one wants to help and to be helped.

In the advanced typing class, secretaries were picked at random for the different teachers. The hunt and punch picking resulted as follows: Julia Ann Busenbarg, Mr. Fenstermaker; Alice Meredith, Mr. Paul Smith; Marcella Leiningert, Mr. Mervall Smith; Helen Shoemaker, Miss Langell; Louise Paulus, Mr. Harrison; and Doris Wiltrout, Miss Lebew.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Juniors are really getting down to work now, after one month of getting started and getting acquainted with new teachers and our various subjects. We expect to do much better work this next month.

In Typing we know almost the entire keyboard and we will soon work for more accuracy and speed.

The class met Tuesday, October 6, and voted to have Paul Smith, the English teacher, as our director for the class play. The type of play and various things will have to be decided before we can start on it.

We are glad (at least part of us are) that we have received our report cards.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

The Sophomore class was very pleased to hear that one of its members, Mary Beth Deaton, won honors at the county fair. She placed first in the judging contest of canned goods. For a prize she receives four dollars for a trip to the National Live Stock Show at Chicago.

We have welcomed a new member to our class, namely Wilma Bronson. She comes to us from North Manchester.

A Minor Incident: The other day in English class, Mr. Paul Smith was asked when Hallowe'en was coming. His reply was that he did not know. The questioner made it very plain that if he didn't know, that he would find out in a very short time.

FRESHMAN NEWS

The Freshman had an exchange in editors this past week. Bob Nottingham has volunteered to take the place of Dick Manwaring. Let's see some news coming this way Bob.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

The eighth grade class is still existing with larger assignments each day. We have finally left the parts of speech and are trying to master the English Book.

Ruth Wagner and Phyllis Blue celebrated their return to school by a good old fashioned stand in the corner.

Arithmetic is sometimes unbearable and never workable for the greater share of the class.

Wednesday in the eighth grade General Science class, Mr. Harrison demanded that Ray Jones and Alpheus Freeman meet him next morning. Being very obedient boys, they appeared at Mr. Harrison's room as directed. Ask them the particulars of the case and they will tell you that it is unhealthy to neglect their studies.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

We the seventh grade are still trying to gain information. Arithmetic is getting harder every day and so is English. Sometimes we get discouraged but we soon get caught up.

AGRICULTURE

The winners of the Kosciusko Co. Beef Calf Club at the Warsaw fair were as follows: Lawrence Ulmer-Etna Green, first; Devon Sponseller-Etna Green, second; Donald Boggs-Mentone, third; Max Kintzel-Etna Green, fourth and Edward Kinsey-Warsaw, fifth.

The first four calves were sold Saturday to the Elkhart Packing Co. at ten cents per pound.

JUDGING CONTEST

About forty boys took part in the live-stock judging contest held Friday forenoon at the Warsaw County Fair. Five rings of livestock were judged including horses, sheep, hogs, beef cattle and dairy cattle.

The five boys making the team were Philip Lash-Beaver Dam, Gerald Engle-Beaver Dam, Dale Wright-Piercetown, Elger Teeter-Warsaw and Everett Mikel-Mentone.

The vocational agriculture boys that won prizes at the county fair were Everett Beeson, second on 10 ear exhibit of white corn and John Beeson, second for exhibit of single white corn.

Howard Mahoney, Mentone, won first on his 4H club barrow at the fair.

SPORT NEWS

The Mentone Bulldogs lost their last scheduled baseball game of the season to the Silver Lake boys by a score of 5-3. The game was easily one of the most exciting of the season, with both teams showing up well. Summe, Silver Lake's big pitcher, heaved them down with lots of steam, but he couldn't keep the Bulldogs from scoring. The game was called at the end of the fifth inning on account of darkness.

Taking the whole season into account, the local fans have a team to be proud of. The local boys won three games out of five, which is better than lots of big league teams can do. Add to this the fact that only one of last years' regulars played this year and you have a record to be proud of.

ATTEMPT ROBBERY AT R. R. STATION

Sometime Sunday night or early Monday morning an attempt to rob the safe at the Mentone depot was made. It is very evident that the safe crackers were new at the business, and from the way they went at the job knew very little about the construction of iron safes. About all they succeeded in doing was to destroy the dial so that agent Banner could not open it. It is supposed to have been the work of local talent or tramps.

ANNOUNCEMENT

For three and one half years the Northern Indiana Co-operative Association has published the Co-Op. News and given back to the residents of Mentone and surrounding community that which they could not long exist without—a newspaper.

Recently the Co-Op. News has changed from a semi-monthly to a weekly publication in order to improve itself as an advertising medium and to bring the news of the community to you while it is still news. Since April 1933 it had discussed the affairs and enterprises in the community which were of interest to everyone, told of your comings and goings, brought you a page of school news, related your various club meetings and arrived in your home at regular intervals without a penny of cost to you.

Now in order to operate with a profit we must have national advertising, and to have national advertising we must have a paid subscription list. We have set the subscription price for one year at 25c—less than one half the amount it costs to mail it to you. We do not expect to profit from the amount paid for subscriptions, the thing we are interested in is a list of subscribers to present to our national advertising agent.

Hence, within a few days a solicitor will visit you and you may place your subscription with him. In this way you can help a town of this size and this community of influential and enterprising farmers maintain a voice in the newspaper world.

White Elephant Sale

The Mentone Girl Scouts held a joint White Elephant and bake and food sale in George Buchtel's Tin Shop Saturday. Despite the rainy weather and subsequent meager Saturday crowd the girls report a very successful day. This sale has become a yearly event and people are beginning to look forward to it.

From the appearance of the display the town people were very liberal in their contributions. One white elephant of special note was a full size "Flower Garden" pieced quilt top. They also had a nice display of baked food.

Boy Scout News

Boy Scout leaders from all parts of Elkhart, Kosciusko and LaGrange counties assembled at the New Paris high school on Monday evening, October 19, for the semi-annual meeting of the Pioneer Trails Council.

The meeting was originally announced for Bethany school, but it was later found necessary to change the arrangements to accommodate the large number who were expected to attend.

Plans were laid for launching the largest extension program ever undertaken in this Area. This program included the organization of many new troops so as to make the Scout program available to boys in every neighborhood. It also includes active promotion of the Cubbing program for younger boys, and the Senior Scouting program for young men.

Eleven group conferences related to the various phases of the Scout program followed the general business session. The conference subjects were: Troop Committee Chairmen, Troop Committee Secretaries and Treasurers, Troop Committee Education Men, Troop Committee Activities Men, Troop Chaplains, Troop Committee Health and Safety Men, Council Administration and Finance, Scout Leaders, Cub Leaders, Senior Scout Leaders, and Rural Scouting.

Citizens who were interested in boys work were invited to join with the scout leaders in their meeting.

MENTONE NOT AFTER COUNTY FAIR MEETING

(From Warsaw Times)

The following announcement from O. A. Heighway and Leroy Norris, president and secretary of the Mentone Community Fair Association, should put at rest any reports of friction between the Mentone and Warsaw fair associations. The letter is self-explanatory:

"It is apparent that there are some false conceptions in the minds of the people with regard to the fairs in this county. Some have the idea that Mentone is trying to draw the Kosciusko county fair away from Warsaw. Please let us make it clear, in the outset, that we have no such intention.

"A county the size of Kosciusko with all of its agricultural resources can well sponsor more than one fair. However, we are of the opinion that Warsaw is the logical place for the county fair and we are not desiring to disturb their organization in any way.

"The Mentone community fair was the largest this year of any held thus far. Let us further point out that Warsaw had their record fair this year. With these facts in mind it shows that both fairs may continue and both be successful.

"The Mentone Community Fair Association has but one motive. That is, to encourage the young people to learn to produce more and better live stock; and all agricultural products. (Older people can learn too, if they will.) The result of which is greater wealth in the community and more taxable property from which everyone benefits.

"Friendly rivalry in exhibiting products produced by individual effort produces a community spirit that makes for better citizenship. It helps to occupy the minds and time of folks to the extent of exclusion of influence of life that so many times are derogatory to their well being.

"We want to co-operate with all our neighboring communities in promoting their interests as well as our own and we hasten to correct any impression that our motives are mercenary or selfish."

Remarks

The pupils of Mentone school wish it were possible for every reader of this page and every patron of this school to visit us some day to see what we really do with our school time. At this time, the second period in the afternoon, a visitor would be pleased with the industrious atmosphere which surrounds our school.

In nearly every room pupils are studying or reciting. In the commerce room typewriters are clicking at the command of the Junior's fingertips. In the assembly various grades are preparing their various subjects. Some of the more scientific minded Seniors are deeply engaged in their Physics recitation. The Freshman class is absorbed in the wonders of Biology. The Eighth graders are discovering more about the world in which we live from the geographical angle. The Sophomores are delving into the intricacies of practical composition work.

As a whole our school represents a very well organized and diligent group of young people.

SENIOR NEWS

The Seniors are finding out each day that they know more and more about less and less or perhaps it is less and less about more and more. In our course in citizenship we are learning the rules of the game of life. These rules include honesty, fairplay, kindness, dependability, justice, bravery, earnestness, diligence, perseverance, progressiveness, open-mindedness, tolerance, self-control, and last but by no means least, courtesy.

Our shorthand and bookkeeping courses are rather stiff and keep us well supplied with work. These two subjects require more care, thought and time than most any other subjects in school.

In our public speaking course, we are taking up the composition of our own speeches. We are tearing speeches down to see how they are built so that we can use these plans on our own speeches.

Our school is entering the one-act play contest this year. There will be three local county contests and these three winners will try for the county title. The winner of the county contest will be sent to Fort Wayne where entrants from ten different counties in northern Indiana will compete for a prize. The winner here will compete in the state wide contest. Let's get busy, fellow students and loost for better play production and our beloved school.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Juniors are going to be busy during the next month getting ready for their class play. The parts have been assigned and those who have them are busily at work on them.

Since we have such a large class, not all could be used in the cast, but everyone is willing to do their best in order that the play may be a great success. Mr. Paul Smith, the English instructor is in charge of the play.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

In English class the other day, Mr. Smith told us that he had lost a cat by leaving the basement window open. Thus giving us the background for a theme, he permitted us to finish it. So far this year we have written about twenty different themes and letters.

We also learned recently that we had to do some outside reading. Mr. Smith has decorated the English room and assembly with book lists. Our quota is ten books.

The Sophomores had a meeting and decided to give the bewildered Freshmen a party in November. Committees were appointed, but no definite plans have been made.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Due to the resignation of the Freshman editor, Richard Manwaring, another editor was chosen in his place, namely, Robert Nottingham.

In Latin the class is taking up declensions at the present and most of them are plenty interesting. We have one Junior girl and three Sophomore girls in the class with us this year. We hope we shall set a high record for all coming Freshman classes.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

The thrill and excitement over the first month's report card is over, and also the "not quite so thrilling" feeling when you confess to parents the reasons for the low grades.

The Eighth grade geography class is very interesting to some pupils. Alpheus Freeman, the ever smiling boy, had no time to draw a map, so Mervel Smith put him in the hall. He stood in front of the door. You can imagine the force upon the door. Poor door!

Mervel Smith: "Can you guess what will happen if you do not have your geography lesson tomorrow?"

Alpheus: "No, I can't."
Mervel: "You won't sit in the cloak hall as you did today. The sense of feeling will demand that you stand."

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

We of the Seventh grade are trying our best to improve our grades this month. Our subjects are getting more difficult each day.

In arithmetic we are getting into simple interest and compound interest problems and none of us know much about them yet, but we hope to be their master in the near future.

In history we are each going to make a quill pen, and we think it would be fun to write the Declaration of Independence with it.

AGRICULTURE NEWS

The Agriculture class consisting of Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors went out to the White City Egg Farm last Tuesday to select seed corn. We were accompanied by our teacher, Mr. Harrison. After the selection of the corn, we were shown through the poultry houses and incubation room.

Besides the study of corn, we have studied erosion. The other day Mr. Harrison showed us a picture of a deep wash-out or gully caused by two farmers plowing a furrow down a hillside as a means of settling a dispute over the boundry line. Harrison asked Devon Hibschan if he knew what caused the Grand Canyon. Devon replied, "No, I dont believe I do." Then to our surprise Mr. Harrison replied that a Scotchman lost a penny in a Gopher hole.

HOME ECONOMIC NEWS

The advanced Home Economic class started an experiment to see how bacteria grows under different conditions. First we sterilized the equipment and heated the potatoes for five minutes. We put a piece of potato in six cans. We sealed one without touching the inside of the can or the potato. The next one was touched with a pencil and sealed. The next one was touched with our fingers and sealed. We allowed a fly to walk across the next one, and the last one we exposed to the air for fifteen minutes, then sealed it. We are patiently awaiting the results.

SPORT NEWS

Twenty-eight ambitious candidates answered to coach Fenstermaker's call for basketball material. Among these were only three or four veterans of last years squad. However, there proved to be a wealth of new material that will be invaluable.

The first game as usual will be played with Milford on November 6, on the home battlefield. Milford has always had a strong team and the local boys will have to work hard to get into shape for this engagement.

GRADE NEWS

In the First grade our little fellows are beginning to read in their first readers entitled, "Playfellows". In arithmetic they can count by their 1's and 10's to 100. In writing they have started using pencil and paper instead of writing with chalk on the board. These pupils are under the direction of Miss Eileen Mollenhour.

The Second grade are coming along fine. They can count by 2's to 100, can also read and write the names of the numbers. They know all the months of the year and the days of the week.

The third grade is beginning to carry in addition. They are making an animal book in colors. For Hallowe'en they are making original decorations.

The fourth, fifth and sixth grades are progressing in fine manner, preparing another group for high school.

LET US ELECT A MENTONE MAN

Why not let the county know that the people of this vicinity believe in its citizens as well as the town, by giving "Tom" Fitzgerald a rousing vote at the coming election?

For the first time in years we have a candidate for an important office on the democratic county ticket for the office of prosecuting attorney.

Thomas F. Fitzgerald has resided in our village for a number of years, has always been ready to do his bit toward any movement that would benefit the community, and now that he is seeking office it is no more than right that we give him our support regardless of party affiliations. He is perfectly competent to fill the office and if elected will be an official that will look after the duties of the office.

We are quite sure that he will greatly appreciate the support that he may receive from the people of this community.

In the afternoon the visiting missionary who is always present at these meeting was Mrs. Lesley from Mexico. She was the main speaker of the afternoon services and her illustrative description of old Mexico and the curious customs and mannerisms of the inhabitants, the difficulties she encountered there and the reaction of the Mexicans to the Christian religion was intensely interesting to everyone. She also displayed several beautiful hand-made rag, pottery and other colorful articles.

Mrs. Breckbill, well known in missionary circles was also present and as usual her touching talk brought smiles as well as tears to her attentive audience.

There was a 6:30 o'clock dinner served in the church basement which was followed by several talks and general table discussion. Later in the evening services were held in the main part of the church.

RED CROSS HIGHWAY POSTS AID INJURED

1,000 Function At Key Points To Give Emergency Care To Traffic Hurt

Highway first aid stations, set up by the Red Cross to give emergency care to victims of traffic accidents, are saving lives, according to James L. Fieser, vice chairman in charge of domestic operations.

"More than 1,000 of our emergency posts are already operating in 47 states and thousands of others will soon be established at key points along America's highways," Mr. Fieser stated.

The Red Cross highway posts are placed at danger spots in rural areas where medical aid is not readily available. The importance of this coverage of the open road, the Red Cross holds, is given sharper emphasis by the fact that there has been a 150 per cent increase in rural traffic fatalities during the past twelve years.

The project was initiated last year on a national scale as a practical approach to the highway accident problem. The Red Cross felt that it could best apply its strength by succoring those who continue to be injured pending a reduction in the highway accident rate through legislation and safety education.

"Our program brings first aid skill to the scene of accident in an effort to reduce the number of persons killed and maimed in automobile mishaps," Mr. Fieser said. "Our highway first aiders are not medical men in any sense, but it is their job to turn the injured over to the medical profession in the best shape possible."

The Red Cross highway posts are established at gasoline service stations, tourist homes, rural police and fire departments. The personnel of the posts are trained by the Red Cross in first aid, standard first aid equipment is installed at each station, and identifying signs for the benefit of motorists are erected beside the highway at both approaches to the station.

The attendants of these roadside units who qualify as first aiders volunteer their services through the Red Cross and may under no circumstances accept pay for caring for the injured.

To complement the highway first aid stations, the Red Cross has announced formation of mobile units. Several thousand trucks which regularly ply the highway in the course of routine work will be equipped with first aid kits. Drivers and crews will take courses in both standard and advanced first aid, and each truck will be identified as a Red Cross mobile unit. More than a hundred trucks are already operating.

"The highway police of eight states who have finished first aid training will join this army mobilized to cut accident fatalities and prevent complication of minor injuries through mishandling at the scene of accident," Mr. Fieser said.

"We receive reports from our first aid stations daily, telling of essential care given to traffic casualties on the spot and of lives actually saved."

This and many other Red Cross programs of equal value are supported by the people of America during the annual Roll Call for members. This year the Roll Call will be held from November 11 to 26.

SENIOR NEWS

What next? The Seniors were asked to make eight minute speeches in public speaking this week. Some of us talked our full eight minutes, while some of us ran down at seven and still others at five. We had a detailed outline for our speech and followed this outline in giving our speeches.

There is one recommendation that we can give Paul Smith to any one asking for recommendations. It is that he can surely devise intricate and difficult tests. He wasn't quite so hard on the Seniors as he was with some of our lower classmen, and we consider ourselves quite a bit lucky.

The students in shorthand class are coming along very well. They are beginning to take dictation at the rate of 60 words a minute, which is quite an accomplishment for students who have only been in training for six weeks.

Our class party date has been set for Tuesday, November 17. We are all looking forward to the time with great anticipation, as this is our great affair of the season.

We experienced the worst possible test this week ever given in English. We are thankful that we have only one more of such type this month.

Last week, Betty Ellsworth in a great rush to get to the blackboard in geometry class, slipped and fell. She suffered no broken bones, and very slight bruises.

FRESHMAN NEWS

The Freshman class were debating in Biology class whether flies bite or not. Seventeen of them said that they did and sixteen said that they did not. A bite must come from the mouth parts, so we decided to look this question up in the encyclopedia. The quotation from the book is as follows: "The mouth of the fly is made up of an organ that people call the tongue, although it is all the mouth parts of an insect combined in one. This tongue is really a long tube through which the fly sucks juices. It is jointed and is bent under the head when not in use." If flies bite, why don't they chew their food instead of dissolving it, then sucking it up?

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

School is no worse, and we are very much delighted at the prospect of only three days of study this week. Geography is difficult but is lots of fun for all of us except those who have had the misfortune to be caught whispering. Irene Nighswander was the last victim. Her punishment was to stand on the floor for five minutes.

General science tests have become a common thing now, but that does not make them any less difficult. We are learning one thing at least, and that is not to mind C's, D's and X's.

English is still going, if isn't going so smoothly. We are stuck again, and this time it is on clauses. The average eighth grade pupil by this time does not see why the editors of the English book did not forget to put clauses in.

In arithmetic class the eighth graders demanded a ciphering match. Mr. Fenstermaker consented, although he still considered it too hot for such a thing. Ethel Sensibaugh and Bobby Whetstone were appointed as captains, and chose their teams. The following day a great match took place. It was quite an exciting match. The winners felt themselves ready for another match. The winning team was Ethel Sensibaugh's.

A few days later Mildred Mahoney and Hope Deaton were chosen Captains. They chose up sides, and the next day another big match took place. Hope's team was defeated. In the last match between these two teams, Hope's team had the edge over Mildred's team.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

We are still working harder than ever as our subjects get more difficult. We are quite enthused over our history, as we are going to do our best to hang some patriotic pictures. We think the school needs them. We have appointed committees to take charge of this work and see that they are put in the proper places. The committee for their selection is Dorothy Hatfield, Lois Whetstone and Mary Alice Marquess. The committee for handling the financial end is Bobby Anderson, John Tucker and Kenneth Romine. The committee for buying the materials is Barbara Creighton, Flossie Mikel and Iola Tucker.

Bobby Anderson caused some excitement and laughter in arithmetic class when a box-elder bug crawled over his hand and the class had a big laugh out of it.

AGRICULTURE NEWS

The Agriculture class has been trimming the apple trees in the lot south of Maurice Gruelach's home this past week. This work was directed by E. G. Harrison.

HOME ECONOMIC NEWS

The experiment of the advanced class has turned out with excellent results. All the potatoes which were touched by hand, pencil or any other object had a spreading colony of bacteria. This proved to us that bacteria is easily grown and that every precaution should be used to prevent its growth.
