MRS. SUSAN WARREN, 88,
BURIED LAST SATURDAY

After a serious illness of five months due to the complications of advanced age, Mrs. Susan Malinda Warren, 88 years of age, of Mentone, died at her home at 9:30 p. m. Wednesday of last week. She had been in failing health for two years.

Mrs. Warren was born in Fulton county September 19, 1859, the daughter of Jacob and Anna McIntyre. Most of her life had been spent in Kosciusko county. Her husband, Joseph Warren, died 11 years ago.

Surviving relatives include one son, John Warren, who resided with his mother here; three daughters, Mrs. Bertha Tibbet, Mrs. Nellie Swathwood and Mrs. Mary Shoemaker, all of Mishawaka; 14 grandchildren; 19 great-grandchildren, and two brothers, Schuyler McIntyre of Mishawaka, and Elmer McIntyre of LaPaz.

Funeral services were held at two p. m. Saturday at the Reed funeral home with Rev. Silas Hill in charge. Burial was in the Mentone cemetery.

LIONS ENTERTAINED

The Warsaw Rotary club entertained the Mentone Lions club at a fish fry at McClure Lake Wednesday evening. The Jonah club boys helped fry the fish.

During the later afternoon a softball game between the two clubs almost ended in a "riot" and your reporter was unable to find anyone that knew what the actual score was. One could easily tell, however, that two of the orneryest clubs around were at the lake that evening. Everyone really enjoyed the occasion immensely.

RECOVERING AFTER ACCIDENT

Arthur Kuhn, who resides southwest of Mentone, escaped serious injury on last Wednesday afternoon when he was pinned under his overturned tractor for a considerable length of time. After his calls were heard by some neighbors, it was necessary to call a wrecker to lift the tractor. Mr. Kuhn was then taken to the Woodlawn hospital where an examination showed no serious injury.

Mrs. Wayne Tombaugh, of Mentone, is a daughter of Mr. Kuhn's.

Twenty-five largest bluegills (7 lbs. 12 oz.), caught by Robert P. Gast on Caldwell Lake, $10.00.

There were no entries in the six bass event, but Frank Alexander, of Rochester, was named runner-up in the other bass event with one that weighed 6 lbs. 2 oz.

Mrs. Jack Reed and son Billy spent Thursday night and Friday in Chicago where Billy was treated at the Billings Clinic for a head injury.

WAGE CASE IN FEDERAL COURT

Hearings were held this week in federal court at South Bend, before Judge Swaggart, of the case between some fifteen former employees and the Northern Indiana Cooperative Association at Mentone. The case involves the contention that wages paid from 1938 to 1941 were below the minimums set by the Wage and Hour Laws.

Each side presented many witnesses and testimony ended Wednesday noon. Plaintiff attorneys have been granted 20 days in which to file a brief and the defense has 20 days in which to answer, after which the Judge will render his decision.

PARENTS OF DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Meredith are the parents of a daughter, Marinelle Rose, born at 11:40 a. m. Friday at the McDonald hospital at Warsaw.

Among those to be present will be their four children and their families: Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Kern, Claypool; Mr. and Mrs. Hurshel Drudge, Claypool; Mr. and Mrs. William Boyd, Warsaw, and Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Kern, of Claypool, and the grandchildren and great-grandchildren. A dinner will be served at 12:30 at the Hotel Hays in Warsaw, for the members of the immediate family.

PARENTS ARE RESPONSIBLE

CHICAGO. — Responsibility of parents for providing spiritual training for their children is stressed by Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., president of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, and by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, in statements endorsing Religious Education Week, which is being observed throughout American Protestantism until Oct. 5.

"We Americans are ardent believers in education," Mr. Firestone observed. "However, to many parents, education means only preparation of their children for material life. All too few fathers and mothers realize that their boys and girls must also be prepared for spiritual life in this world as well as for life in the world to come. Religious education of the young is as much the responsibility of parenthood as cultural education of their children."

"Religious Education Week, sponsored by the International Council of Religious Education, serves to focus the attention of parents on the spiritual welfare of their children," he declared.

Pointing out that religious principles help a child to live right and to be humble in God's sight, Mr. Hoover stressed that religious training helps adults to guide their children.

"Parents who violate the laws of the land destroy the hopes and ambitions of their children," the FBI head said. "Religious Education Week reminds us of the great need for increasing every effort to supply the spiritual requirements of our nation."

Ninety per cent of American Protestants are taking part in church and community-wide observances of Religious Education Week, through the 40 denominations and 634 state, provincial, county and city councils of churches and religious education which are constituent units of the I. C. R. E.

It is possible to tell the age of a fish by counting the rings on its fins, much the same as the age of trees is estimated from the rings in its wood. The scales have to be greatly magnified for careful examination.

The religious natives of interior China in the 1880s strenuously opposed the erection of electric wires and poles because these devices would cast shadows on their hallowed burial grounds.

FALLEN LEAVES ARE A HAZARD

Sources of motoring delight when glorifying the countryside in brilliant panorama, autumn leaves scattered in layers under the wheels of speeding automobiles present a deadly driving hazard to unobserving motorists, Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, warned today.

Layers of fallen leaves drifted on streets and highways often cause bad skids, especially if affected by rains or early frost. Flat and slippery, they impede traction, affording no gripping surfaces when the tread of automobile tires ride over them.

Aggravating the hazard is the play of light and shadow, effectively camouflaging the presence of the leaves by blending their coloring with the road surface, Mr. Hayes pointed out.

If caught in a skid, the club recommends the following procedure: (1) cut the wheel of the car in the direction of the skid; (2) take foot off accelerator instantly, and (3) do not apply the brakes suddenly.

To compensate for the concealed skidding hazard of fallen leaves motorists should reduce speeds in shaded stretches of open highways and on curves almost as drastically as under icy conditions. Even in residential areas reliance should not be placed on the prompt and thorough removal of leaves by householders. Country roads with crowned macadam surface for drainage can be negotiated safely only at moderate speeds when laden with moist leaves.

Superimposed on the ordinary hazards of the heaviest traffic in the nation's history, and the additional seasonal factor of curtailed daylight visibility, the accident menace of fallen leaves assumes unusual significance, Mr. Hayes said. Aged nine years, the average passenger car offers less maneuverability to cope with skids.

We have a nice crop just about ready to be picked and if weather permits us to properly harvest the crop we shall be able to offer the following varieties in about the order named.

GRIMES GOLDEN
JONATHON
DOUBLE RED AND RED DELICIOUS
ROME BEAUTY
STAYMAN
GOLDEN DELICIOUS
SPITZENBERG

Picking will begin MONDAY, OCTOBER 6th. We shall need a few days in which to sort and grade so that we may have them ready in sufficient quantities. We feel that sale of apples can begin OCT. 10th.

NOW A FEW WORDS ABOUT RED DELICIOUS

So far as we can learn, the crop of this variety is limited in this part of the state. Fortunately, WE HAVE SEVERAL HUNDRED BUSHELS OF GOOD QUALITY RED DELICIOUS. We cannot take orders to be set back for later pick-up. So, if you want Red Delicious they will be available after October 10th so long as they last.

The container situation is not good. Please note that we do not have sufficient containers to furnish you. So bring your own containers—baskets, crates or sacks—and any containers we might be able to furnish will cost you extra.

No CIDER until we have sufficient varieties ahead to produce the blend that makes our cider so "smacking" good. Probably no cider until after October 15th. No exchange of cider jugs this year. We will fill your jugs that you bring or we will sell you a container but we will not buy it back. Recleaning jugs takes time that we do not have this year.

Hoping that we may be able to supply you with our fine flavored apples, we are, at your service,

AGENT REPORTS WHEAT DANGER

County Agent Joe Clark reported this week that there have been several reports of wheat heating in farmers' bins causing the wheat to go out of condition. Also the operators of the seed cleaners reported finding some grain weevil in wheat which is a very good indication the wheat is carrying too much moisture which will cause wheat to heat.

Farmers are urged to check their wheat to see if it is heating. This can easily be done by digging down in the wheat.

Light Improves Scholarship

Recent surveys reveal that children in well lighted classrooms advanced 10 per cent faster in "educational age" than youngsters in poorly lighted schoolrooms. Good lighting is equally important for both study and play at home. If children are guilty of faulty posture habits, it might be the lights. In order to shield their eyes from the glare they may adopt a slouching habit. While indirect lights are usually recommended, they must be well placed and provide sufficient lights so that the young eyes will not be strained or overworked.

Farmer Gets Half

The farmer's share of the consumer's fresh fruit and vegetable dollar is now an average of 53 cents. Transportation to market takes about 19 cents. The other 28 cents is divided among assemblers, packers, shippers, wholesalers, retailers and the various services needed to deliver the farmer's produce to the consumer's door.

New Kind of Bee

A species of bee called magacollide caused G.I.s considerable trouble on south Pacific islands, not by stinging them, but by building their houses in the bores of military rifles.

U. S. CORN CROP YIELD IMPROVED BY INBREEDING AND CROSSBREEDING

Charles Dienhart, chief breeder for Edward J. Funk & Sons, Kentland, Indiana, making hand pollination, creating an inbred to be used in the production of Super-Crost Hybrids. A similar picture was illustrated in LIFE MAGAZINE in their story on hybrid corn to the Edward J. Funk & Sons' breeding program.

The U. S. corn crop is in a crucial stage at this time. Government forecast yield estimates have been coming down as the season progresses. Farm folks in many sections of the country will have to depend upon a late frost to have fully matured corn. Farmers are grateful to have hybrid corn which gives them better chances for a crop because of the extra vitality that is bred into it. The hybrid corn plant has ability to withstand adverse wet weather, dry weather, and usually matures ahead of frost.

Trees Are Everywhere

Forests cover more than 55 per cent of the land area of South Carolina and produce forest products valued at more than 50 million dollars a year. In Kentucky, two-fifths of the area is timberland—10,500,000 acres—which supports nearly 2,000 wood-using industries in that state. Texas, usually considered a state of wide open spaces, has a pine forest belt about the size of the state of Indiana.

Virgil on Irrigation

Virgil, the poet, in about 40 B. C. wrote a poem in the Georgics, which is the best known of the ancient works on agriculture. He advised "husbandmen to bring down the waters of a river upon the sown corn, and when the field is parched and the plants drying, convey it from the brow of a hill in channels." This seems to be the first writing on irrigation.

Slight English Accent

Satan, while speaking Greek, Latin and Hebrew well, has a slight accent to his English. The authority for this belief is Cotton Mather, American minister and author, who wrote 450 books and was considered a leading authority on the Devil during the 17th and 18th centuries.

Faster Farm Work

In 1830 it required about 60 man hours to produce one acre of wheat. Today an acre can be produced with 3.3 man hours. In 1855 it required about 35 man hours to produce one acre of corn. Today, with good management and power and machinery, corn can be produced with only six man hours of labor per acre. This included seedbed preparation, planting, cultivating, harvesting and storing.

CO-OP. OIL STATION

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Meiser and daughter Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Meiser returned Wednesday evening from a week's trip into Missouri and Arkansas, visiting relatives. They report a fine trip and beautiful scenery. While down that way Joe visited Memphis, Tenn., where he underwent an operation for appendicitis back in 1915. Joe had a severe case and was in a somewhat delirious state. He said in those days he had read of strangers in big cities being placed on a rubber blanket and murdered (the blanket would prevent the spilling of blood) and they were never heard from again. He just noticed something that looked like a rubber sheet on his bed and he heard people talking in low tones. That was enough for him. He took off, threw one nurse to the floor when she attempted to stop him, stepped up on a table and dropped out a window. The window was 18 feet above ground and he hurt his ankle as he landed, but headed somewhere just to get away. His first stop was at a negro's home, but with a white night-gown on he wasn't welcomed in, so on he ran. When almost completely exhausted he was apprehended and brought back into the hospital. The doctor said he would be dead by morning, but it seems the 18-foot drop was enough to start drainage of the poison from his side and he was soon recovering.

"BO" STOPS FOR A DRINK

A week ago Monday what was apparently a member of the wandering fraternity stopped off at Mentone, left his "suitcase" at the railroad right-of-way and came up town for a bottle of wine. Some time later he was pestering Dave Ellsworth as he was working around his home and Night Officer Borton was called. By that time the gent was in the fighting mood and was willing to tackle "Pete", drunk or sober. After spending the night in the county jail he gave them his name and stated he was from Ohio. It was also reported he belonged to the section gang at Mentone but the boys claimed he was unknown to them. The last word was that he was laying out his fine in the county jail.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kohr and Richard Deafenbaugh spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Bloom of Fort Wayne.

A VACATION SUGGESTION

George Clark handed us the following article which he received after writing for information after hearing a radio program:

"HELL'S HALF ACRE"

Plot of ground 150 feet in diameter, foothills of California Mountains, Santa Cruz, California.

Natural laws seem suspended—even the law of gravity. The compass spins like a weathervane and the photo-electric cell stops working.

Once you step on this baffling land, you find yourself leaning far toward the southwest—even the trees lean toward the southwest.

You'll discover that walking is accompanied by a peculiar sense of unreality—somewhat as if you were being urged along by an unseen force—will remind you (if you've had the experience) of walking under compressed air.

Most disturbing upset of all is the effect the place has on your vision. Anywhere you stand, you shrink in stature when you face the northeast. If you stand at the end of a level 10-foot cement walk, you will be 10 inches either taller or shorter (depending upon the direction you face), than another individual of your exact height at the other end of the walk.

There's a little house built on this land—bolted to the ground to keep it in place. Here in a room 15 feet square you can throw a ball with all your strength and watch it drift in slow motion toward the opposite wall. If you hang by your hands from a rafter near the door, your body will swing out through the opening. Plumb lines rear out at a 30-degree angle.

Rain doesn't fall on Hell's Half Acre as it does on surrounding territory. Instead of running over the ground, the water seeps into the soil, then collects at the lower edge of the property and gushes out in a waterfall.

One of the strangest things is the meticulous care taken by animals to avoid the spot. Mountains surrounding filled with deer, bear, wildcats, birds, snakes—every type of wild life—and all come right up to the area—then veer and retreat hastily.

The unusual course followed by rainfall has led to a theory that dense mineral deposits, perhaps as a result of a pre-historic meteorite which may have crashed into the earth, lie beneath the Half Acre.

The spot was discovered by accident by two cowboys who set out to look for a place in the Santa Cruz foothills where they could build a hunting shack.

The mystery spot is located three miles north of Santa Cruz, California and certainly sounds as if it might be well worth one's time to investigate if ever in the vicinity.

(The radio program over which this story was related is sponsored by the Kellogg Co.—which puts plenty of hot air into wheat, oats, corn, rice, etc. to make modern breakfast cereals—but one wouldn't imagine they'd try it on the American Broadcasting network. —Ed.)

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

With the opening of the school season, the old danger of infection with Athlete's foot is renewed as the parasite causing the infection lurks in warm, damp areas such as dressing, shower and bath room floors.

The mingling of students in dressing rooms increases the exposure so proper precautions to protect the feet should be taken. This skin disease, also known as ringworm of the foot, is spread from the feet of carriers who often are unaware of the infection. The fungus may survive in a dry state from approximately six months to a year. It resembles an ordinary household mold and affects the outer layers of the skin between the toes. There are blisters and intense itching; the skin peels and sores and cracks appear between the toes.

Precautions to be taken in the school dressing room include scrubbing of floors and benches daily with hot water and soap. Cresol solution can also be used effectively.

Three steps may help protect one from infection: bathe the feet daily, dry them well, and dust them with a fungicidal powder. Precautions that may be taken by a person affected by the disease are: sponge the shoes out with a ten per cent solution of formalin but do not wear them for 24 hours; wear white cotton hose and sterilize them by boiling. Do not go around barefoot as this is the best way to spread the disease. For treatment, consult a physician. Self-medication and over-treatment can cause serious complications.

LIBRARY NEWS

"The Bright Promise," by Richard Sherman, is one of the most popular of the new books. In this searching new novel you re-live with Amy Ellery the twelve most critical years of her life. But this is more than the story of one woman—it is the re-creation of an era that was yours, too—an era packed with problems, the years of the depression and all that followed the epoch-making 30s, those twelve years, 1933 to 1945 already titled, "the Roosevelt era." Turning the pages of this book is like turning the pages of the recent past and more than one reader will say, "That was true; all of it I saw."

"Dark Fantastic" is one book you will hate to leave after you start to read it. It is the story of an ambitious woman who let neither conscience nor pity prevent her from getting the husband she desired. However, her happiness and her very life were destroyed by her own hate and jealousy.

"Mrs. Mike" is the story of a sixteen year old American girl who was sent to Canada because of a serious lung condition. She fell in love and married a member of the "Mounted Police" and in spite of her delicate health, braved all the hardships of the far North to be with her husband. Through her eyes, you see both the perils and the beauty of this North country and the patience and bravery of its people.

We also have a new book of Games by Bancroft which is one of the best we have ever seen.

The children's story hour this week was in charge of Mrs. Dan Urschel, who told the children a musical story and played the records for them. Both were greatly enjoyed.

We wish to express our real appreciation to all the ladies who are giving their time to make the "story hour" a success. We feel the effort is very

FOUR STEPS TO TAKE

We believe that all statements on a given subject should be taken together, and if all are studied carefully we will find there are at least four steps which must be taken by the unbeliever in order for him to come into fellowship with God. These steps are, faith, repentance, confession and baptism.

The fact that we include all of these steps does not mean in any way that we discredit the atoning blood of Christ. These steps bring the individual into contact with the Grace of God and the atoning blood of Christ so that the process may be completed and eternal life assured.

FAITH is the first step, for we read: "He that cometh to God must believe that He is, and that He is a rewarder of them that diligently seek Him" (Heb. 11:6). Again we read, "He that believeth on the Son of God hath everlasting life; and he that believeth not on the Son shall not see life" (Jno. 3:36). Again we are told "For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness" (Rom. 10:10). These quotations and many others, indicate that the first step in coming to God is our faith, our belief in Him as our Creator, Ruler, and Savior.

NBC PROGRAM STARTS 20TH YEAR ON THE AIR

It will be the start of the 20th year of service to American agriculture for the National Farm and Home Hour, Saturday, Oct. 4 (NBC, 12:00 noon CST), when the pioneer farm program celebrates another anniversary.

Everett Mitchel, m. c. of the program for 17 years, will review briefly its 19-year history. Since its first broadcast from Chicago on October 2, 1928, the program has made an all-time record of over 5,000 consecutive broadcasts, except for a brief wartime lapse.

First aired over an embryonic network of about 30 stations, the Farm and Home Hour is now heard over 161 stations, and is within reach of every farm family in the United States. On-the-scene reports from leading farm events, markets, Washington news and musical entertainment continue as the format of the show.

Among the many firsts credited to the Farm and Home Hour are—first network program from Chicago, first program to use extensive remote pickups, and first commercially sponsored program broadcast in cooperation with a government agency.

As their featured contribution to the birthday broadcast, Whitey Berquist and the Homesteaders orchestra will play the show's theme song, "The U. S. Field Artillery March," in its entirety. The Farm and Home Quartet will sing "It's a Wonderful World" and Ken Gapen will report farm headlines from Washington. Herb Lateau directs.

HOMES NEED FIRE CHECK-UP

With the start of the heating season bringing added fire danger, Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 5-11, provides householders with an opportunity to give their homes an autumn check-up.

Last year more than 400,000 homes were damaged or destroyed by fire, a majority of them in the fall and winter months, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, which issues this advice to cautious householders:

Start your autumn check-up in the basement, with the furnace and other heating equipment. Furnaces should be cleaned out once a year, and in the case of oil burners, this should be done by an experienced repairman. Chimneys, flues and smokepipes should be inspected for cracks and holes which will spread fire.

All rubbish accumulated during the summer should be cleared out of the basement, as well as from attics, closets and other places.

Inspect the fuse box. See that only 15-amp. fuses are installed, and get a supply of extra fuses to keep on hand.

Inspect the wiring of all electric appliances, particularly those portable heaters you will use this winter. Have all defective wiring repaired or replaced.

Oil and clean the motors of all electric appliances you will use this winter, so they won't overheat and start fires. If your refrigerator motor isn't the "sealed-in" type, be sure to oil this, too.

Get out your metal screen for the fireplace and set it in place for your first open fire. Inspect your chimney to see that it is clear of all obstructions.

Equip your home with plenty of ash trays, to keep careless smokers from throwing their ashes on carpets or into wastebaskets.

Inspect your kitchen stove to be sure that it is functioning properly. Have a supply of soda or salt on hand to stop grease fires in broilers or cooking vessels.

TWO IN HOSPITAL FOLLOWING PLANE CRASH WEDNESDAY

Accident Occurs During Testing Flight On Newly Acquired Ship.

Allen "Chick" Herendeen, manager of the Mentone Airport, and Sherman "Bud" Summers, of Burket, instructor, who were testing a new army training plane, a used Stearman biplane late Wednesday afternoon, crashed into a field a few hundred yards northeast of the airport as they were coming in for a landing. Charles Creighton, who had just landed at the airport to refuel, Don Smythe, Mrs. Wayne Shunk and Mrs. Herendeen were the only ones to actually witness the crash. A neighbor, Frank Meredith, saw the plane come down behind the trees and rushed to the scene in his auto. Smythe and Creighton rushed to the scene afoot and found both boys trying to extricate themselves from the cockpits of the open plane. Herendeen, after being helped from the plane, walked to the Meredith car in which he was taken to the Rochester hospital. Summers unmistakably was suffering a broken leg and he was taken in the Reed ambulance. After a hurried check at a local doctor's office, both were taken to Rochester in the two vehicles named. Wednesday morning Summers was removed to a Veterans' hospital at Indianapolis.

Dozens of reports have been heard regarding the injuries of the two flyers, and it is still almost impossible to get a complete verdict. Herendeen has his left arm broken above the elbow and his right ankle broken. It was first reported his face was badly cut, but latest reports were that he did suffer a small cut across his face from the goggles he was wearing, but nothing to compare with first reports.

Summers, the heavier of the two and in the front cockpit, evidently suffered the most serious or damaging injuries. His right ankle is broken, the left leg was broken below the knee, the knee cap shattered and a tendon severed in the left leg. His nose was broken and there was one report of injury to his right hand.

There's no report this evening on Summers, but "Chick" is a pretty sore boy. He's just beginning to feel the effects of the terrific jolt they both received.

THAT "AIN'T" HAY—OR IS IT?

Rex Tucker, we are told has been confronted with the problem of keeping the horse from the horsepower, or vice versa.

He has a rather friendly horse stabled in his garage building, and the critter has a habit of nibbling on anything that happens to get close enough. (He even tried to bite me the other day when my back was turned).

Well, to get back to plain horses—Rex "stabled" his new car in the next stall and the one with four-wheel drive tried to start a petting party with the new neighbor. After chewing considerable paint off the hood without response, he gave up. Rex responded in due time, we imagine.

JAMES WAGNER BURIED AT BEDFORD TUESDAY

D. Mr. Wagner was buried at Bedford at 10 a. m. Tuesday, with the Johns funeral home of Mentone in charge.

The dining table was laid with a lace cloth and the centerpiece was a wedding cake topped with four gold bells. On each side were crystal candelabra holding gold colored candles and yellow roses. In front of the cake on the large mirror which formed the base of the centerpiece, stood a miniature bride and groom which had been used on the wedding cakes of each of Mr. and Mrs. Swick's daughters.

TRICKS THAT HELP THE HOME

Unless you are lucky enough to possess a home built to your own specifications, there are undoubtedly a few minor defects you wish you could change. Perhaps there's a jogging corner at one end of a room, or the ceilings are too high.

Miss Eileen Bower, assistant extension home furnishing specialist, Purdue University, says that often wall paper tricks do much to minimize these little annoyances.

There are many effective ways of using wall paper to effect changes in the height of ceilings. If the ceilings are low, they can be increased in height by using a white or a paler shade of the same color of paper as that used on the walls.

Also, Miss Bower says, a pale ceiling improves the natural lighting; dark colors absorb much more light and these warm colors lower the apparent height of the room. Striped patterns used on the walls horizontally will also lower the ceiling while vertical stripes have just the opposite effect.

Our service is quick, our prices low, our food good.

We invite you to come in.

MENTONE CAFE

A dado of one of the attractive woodlike papers of the new fabric-type designs with a lighter toned paper above also serves to lower the ceiling height.

Alcoves need not be just "holes in the wall," Miss Bower commented. They can be turned into interesting and attractive nooks by paper which is a complete contrast.

If you'd like to have a fire place but can't, you can get the same sort of friendly, cozy conversation place by grouping two or three chairs informally around a scenic wall in an otherwise muted room.

Miss Bower warns that changes such as these involve careful planning and thorough consideration of all the principles of color and balance.

It is estimated that farm and rural fire losses for the nation will amount to 30 percent of the total and the losses suffered by farmers alone would permit construction of fifty-thousand $2,000 barns. Attention to this statement from the National Fire Protection Association was called by F. R. Willsey, Purdue University safety specialist, in urging Hoosier farm folks to take steps toward fire protection in their homes and communities in observance of National Fire Prevention Week, October 5 to 11.

When peanut butter is too dry for spreading, it can be rolled into little balls and then dipped into powdered sugar; prepared in this way, the balls are delicious to serve with salads, says Purdue University home economic specialists.

Mature corn high in moisture content will dry dry out much better standing in the field than if cribbed, even if left until spring, Purdue University agronomists say. This practice can also be followed for soft corn in the late fall and early winter to permit it to dry out enough to be cribbed or to be fed as needed.

Self-feeding of suckling sows is a very successful method, and can be started when the pigs are about 10 days old.

COURTESY IS SAFETY FACTOR

The courteous driver develops the habit of attention to the car, the road, immediate traffic conditions, and to the pedestrian while driving on the highways. Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club, states.

Safety authorities agree that seventy percent of all traffic accidents and fatalities are directly attributable to faulty driving attitudes and skills. Primary or contributing causes in ninety-five percent of all traffic accidents completely reported involve violations of traffic regulations which any courteous driver would shun.

The consistent practice of ordinary courtesy on the highways might avert at least one-half the traffic accidents which in 1946 killed 33,500 persons and seriously injured more than 1,200,000 persons.

Drowsiness at the wheel produces fatalities in twelve percent of the accidents in which it is a factor compared to a fatality ratio of four percent for all accidents. A skilled driver knows his limitations and will not attempt to drive when fatigued.

Fifteen percent of the drivers involved in fatal accidents are charged with exceeding the speed limit while another eight percent are charged with driving too fast for existing conditions.

The courteous pedestrian, on the other hand, should know the rules that govern the motorist as well as himself. Ignorance of the laws of the highways is no excuse even if it causes only a minor accident. A survey in four cities and Washington, D. C. revealed that nine out of every ten pedestrians of driving age fatally injured were never licensed to drive.

The courteous pedestrian who takes the trouble to obey safe pedestrian practices sets a valuable example for children and also shows consideration for motorists who might otherwise become involved in a serious pedestrian accident. One of the worst problems the school safety patrol encounters is that of adults setting a bad example for children by crossing streets in the middle of the intersection or against lights.

Three out of four traffic fatalities in the cities are pedestrians. Nationally, the average is two out of five, including rural areas. Three-fourths of all pedestrian fatalities occur at night, although only one-third of all traffic normally occurs during that time.

BANK VAULT DOOR HAS STUBBORN STREAK

The new vault door at the Farmers State Bank must have thought Columbus discovered something else Tuesday and took a half-holiday. It refused to open at the appointed hour and officials were seeing visions of boring through several inches of reinforced concrete.

The door is machined so perfectly that it is more sensitive than a rat's nose, with even a small piece of paper being enough to prevent it from closing properly. Monday it had been checked over by the vault company's trouble shooter, but he must have had his clock set on Pacific time—leastwise it didn't open until 10:30.

ENTERTAINS SOFTBALL TEAM

On last Thursday evening at the school cafeteria, Mr. and Mrs. Mott Bryan entertained the members of the Bryan Chick softball team and friends.

A delicious chicken dinner, with all the trimmings, was prepared and served by Mrs. Friesner and Mrs. Witham. Those present to enjoy the banquet and social evening were:

Mr. and Mrs. Vance Johns, Mr. and Mrs. Harold White, Cecil Stouder, Donabelle Stouder and Mrs. Clarence Stouder; Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Gard; Mr. and Mrs. Delorus Stouder; George Slaybaugh and friend; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Stouder; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stouder; Sam Hoffer and friend; the host and hostess, and Mr. Bryan's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Glen McDowell, of Youngstown, Ohio.

Arthur Brown and Joseph Baker spent one day last week in South Bend assisting in making installations on the new Bendix washers, which are handled locally by Baker & Brown.

NEW FARM STATION NOW BROADCASTING

H. D. Eckert, of Ohio, and Mr. Walker of near here, were in town one day this week and spent a few minutes. Mr. Eckert lived in this vicinity many years ago and made a visit to the local cemetery where relatives lie buried.

Mr. Eckert also announced that there is a new Farm Bureau radio station broadcasting to the farm people from Worthington, Ohio. The station is WRFD, 880 on your dial. Tune in during the day and see how you like it.

Mr. Eckert's business card, too, carries a little message which we feel contains a real lesson. It says:

"In the city of Bagdad lived Hokem the Wise One and many people went to him for council which he gave freely, to all, asking nothing in return. Then came to him a young man who had spent much but got little and said, 'Tell me Wise One, what shall I do to receive the most for which I spend?'"

"Hokem answered: 'A thing that is bought or sold, has no value, unless it contains that which cannot be bought or sold. Look for the Priceless Ingredient.' 'But what is the Priceless Ingredient?' asked the Young Man. Spoke then the Wise One: 'My Son, the Priceless Ingredient of every product in the market place is the Honor and Integrity of him who sells it. Consider his name before you buy.'"

Australian axeman George Park established a world record for the underhand chop event at the Royal Sydney show, by slicing through a tough 15-inch diameter log of black-butt in 45 seconds. In the underhand event the axeman stands on the log to chop it. Chopping times in Australian hardwoods cannot be compared with those of the softwoods of America.

IMPORTANT GATHERING AT McCLURE LAKE THURSDAY

Last Thursday evening agricultural instructors, county agents, conservation officers, officials of conservation clubs and interested citizens from ten counties of this area met at the McClure Lake conservation club camp to enjoy a fine Jonah Club fish fry and discuss possibilities of further improving the fine camp there. Counties represented included Elkhart, DeKalb, St. Joe, Wells, Marshall, Fulton, Huntington, Wabash, Kosciusko and one other county your reporter failed to remember.

County Agent Joe Clark served as chairman of the discussion program and many fine compliments were paid the camp by those who voiced their opinions. Each one was taken up with the thought that conservation is, and will be more so in the future, one of our major problems.

(If you'll pardon the intrusion, I'd like to digress into a "pet peeve" your editor has had for many years. It is the impression many have of "conservation." Oftentimes this work is considered only in the light of fish and game—bass, bluegills, quail, pheasant, etc.—when actually this is only a minor part of conservation. Really, the important part of conservation is to preserve (or conserve) our farms, our forests, lakes and streams—the things which fish animals and humans must have to exist. Sad to say, I'm somewhat pessimistic. One of these days—5, 10 or 25 years—many of the farms in this area now producing profitable crops of food and grain, will be worn out, worthless and of little value to anyone. Where then will we turn for food or livelihood?

A few years ago — a pitifully few years in relation to history and other nations and lands — this country was virgin forest. What will be left for the next generation if we continue as we have? Erosion and exploitation have taken a deadly toll of the fertility of land everywhere.

Conservation isn't fish and game—it's life for the future generations of men as well as animals.—Ed.)

The visitors further stated that they were taken up with the location of the camp at McClure Lake and appreciated the opportunity of bringing their groups there each year.

The thought, it appears, is that with the cooperation and support of the neighboring counties, the camp could be enlarged sufficiently to accommodate larger groups and be of still greater value to the boys and girls in the area.

FARM FIRES ARE COSTLY

How costly is the average Indiana farm fire?

The answer is, almost three times as costly as the average urban fire, according to F. R. Willsey, Purdue University safety specialist, who urges Indiana farmers to take notice of Fire Prevention Week, proclaimed by President Truman to be observed this week.

Willsey cites a report of the Indiana State Fire Marshall for the months of June, July and August, 1946, which showed a total of 327 city and urban fires with a loss averaging $1329.38 per fire. The reports on rural communities for the same period show a total of 130 fires with a loss averaging $3354.76.

Fires are no different on the farm than they are in the city. Every type of fire encountered in the country could possibly occur in the city. These increased losses are attributed largely to the lack of adequate equipment and trained personnel to fight fires.

Those who live in rural areas are urged to sponsor and encourage fire prevention programs. Willsey calls attention to those who live in rural communities that they should avail themselves of the authority of existing statutes that permits township advisory boards to provide this protection. The people of all our rural communities should receive and be provided with some kind of fire protection, he declares.

Under the statutes township trustees, together with their advisory boards, may provide fire protection for their township by purchasing and maintaining equipment. Many of the township departments are manned by volunteer companies which render a real service to their communities.

OUR CHURCH DOOR

To all who mourn and need comfort, to all who are tired and need rest, to all who are friendless and want friendship, to all who are lonely and want companionship, to all who are homeless and want sheltering love, to all who pray and to all who do not but ought, to all who sin and need a Saviour, the Mentone Methodist church opens wide its doors and in the name of Jesus the Lord, bids you Welcome.

Born Without a Rattle

Newly-born rattlesnakes have no rattle, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica, but develop a joint to their rattle with each succeeding moult. Older joints, however, gradually wear away and are lost, so that the number of joints on the rattle is not necessarily any criterion of a snake's age.

In order to qualify for the Grace of God and benefit by the atoning blood of Christ, there are four steps which man must take. FAITH is the first step. (See last week's article).

REPENTANCE is the second step. Jesus said, "Except ye repent, ye shall likewise perish," (Lk. 13:3), and again, "That repentance and remission of sins should be preached in His name among all nations" (Lk. 24:47). "The times of ignorance God overlooked, but now he commands men that they should all everywhere repent" (Acts 17:30). There are many references in the New Testament on the subject of repentance, all of which make it clear that in order to comply with the Will of God we must repent of our sins, which really means that we must stop doing wrong, be sorry for what we have done, and in the future do right to the best of our ability.

CONFESSION of our faith in Christ is the third step necessary. We are told "If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shall believe in thine heart, that God hath raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved" (Rom. 10:9). This means that confession and faith are necessary, but it does not mean they are the only steps necessary. Repentance and baptism are not mentioned in this particular passage.

Baptism is the fourth and final step. (Continued next week.)
"The churches of Christ salute you."—Romans 16:16

An Olden Sport

Of all modern sports still in popular favor bowling is perhaps the most universal and the oldest. The first white man to visit the South Sea islands found the natives bowling, and bowling equipment has been uncovered in the grave of a child who lived in Egypt around 5300 B. C.

The people of the Evangelical United Brethren church at Athens report that they enjoyed two very inspiring sermons which were delivered by Rev. S. M. Hill in the absence of their pastor, Mrs. Risley, last Sunday. Mrs. Risley is spending a few days in Pennsylvania.

REPORT GRAIN INFESTATION

Many bins of stored grain are being damaged by weevil and other insects that attack grain in storage, according to reports from G. E. Lehker, Purdue University extension entomologist. Damage is greater than usual this year because a comparatively large amount of grain was stored with a high moisture content, and insect infestation and moisture content of grain go hand in hand.

Lehker recommends that farmers having stored grain, examine it immediately to determine if the weevil is present. If the grain is infested, it is comparatively easy to fumigate the bins and stop the damage before extensive losses occur. Among the best materials for grain fumigation are carbon bisulphide and trade name materials containing amixture of ethylene dichloride and carbon tetrachloride.

Carbon bisulphide is highly effective but should not be used in the presence of fire or sparks in any form since it is highly inflammable. If proper precautions are observed, however, there is no great danger connected with its use. Carbon bisulphide should be applied at the rate of one gallon for each 333 bushels of grain. This amount should be used regardless of any recommendations to the contrary which may be found on the container label. The label is sprinkled over the surface and the grain covered with a canvas and allowed to fumigate for 24 hours. In the case of deep bins where the grain is over five feet deep it is desirable to inject a part of the liquid into the grain by means of a screen capped pipe pushed down at several points. Carbon bisulphide has a foul odor but this will disappear within a short time.

The ethylene dichloride-carbon tetrachloride mixtures are available from dealers under various trade names. They have the advantage of being non-inflammable but must be used at the rate of about two gallons per 333 bushels to give effective control. It is used in the same manner as carbon bisulphide. Neither of these fumigants has any effects on the germination or feeding quality of grain.

Complete instructions for using fumigants are given in Purdue Extension Leaflet 224 which is available from your county agent.

artificial insemination has been one of the most rapidly growing projects in the history of dairy extension work.

E. A. Gannon, extension dairyman, and F. N. Andrews, animal husbandryman, of Purdue University, call attention in a recent issue of "Economic and Marketing Information", to the expansion of this work on a co-operative basis. Since its beginning in December, 1946, a total of 32 co-operative breeding associations have been formed in 37 counties and more than 35,000 cows have been signed for breeding to proved dairy bulls.

These cooperatives, organized primarily on a country or small area basis, have been found to be the most satisfactory when at least 100 cows are signed up in an area within a 20 mile radius. In most cases, each herd owner pays a lifetime membership fee of $10 and a breeding fee of $7.00 per cow which normally provides that the cow is serviced three times unless pregnancy occurs on the first or second services.

Milk records of 400 first generation daughters from New Jersey artificial insemination associations show that milk production was increased 700 pounds and butter fat 30 pounds per cow. These increases were made in high producing herds in which the dame averaged nearly 10,000 pounds of milk and 400 pounds of fat.

With this cost of mating in mind, at July, 1947, prices of butter fat, the increased profit of a cow producing 30 pounds of fat more than her dam would be at least $15. This should be regarded as a rather good return on the breeding fee.

In Indiana, the 1945 average production was 4,800 pounds of milk and 188 pounds of fat. It would be expected, therefore, that the improvement in productivity of Indiana cows would be considerably greater than in New Jersey, where the original levels of production were already high.

AIRPLANE CRASH—

Both men were equipped with parachutes as they had been maneuvering the plane to get better acquainted with some of its flight characteristics, and as they came into the field to land they made a short circle over the end of the runway, and were heading in when the plane continued to circle and fall away. It had turned about a quarter circle as it landed on the upper left wing, then the engine and on back on the landing gear, stopping right side up and headed southeast. Government inspectors said the propeller was turning as it hit the ground, but their opinion Wednesday evening was that the motor had failed. Whether this was due to the previous acrobatics, or the cooling effect of the glide into the field is not yet known.

The ship was equipped with dual controls, and likely like an automobile with two steering wheels, both attempted to prevent the crash and may have made the situation worse. Both had their right ankles broken, which could indicate that they were using right rudder to stop the turn.

Herendeen has flown for many years, and anyone that has ever been around his field or his flying knows that he was a firm believer and exerciser of caution. He insisted upon every safety measure at his airport, and it isn't our opinion that he was deliberately disobeying any safety rules. Most plane crashes, like in automobiles or anything else, are caused, directly or indirectly to momentary error in judgment, similar to taking three steps down on a four-step porch. One never knows why, but you do. We trust the boys will soon be able to give us a definite answer.

The plane was the property of Bob Herendeen, Chick's son.

A group of local flyers Wednesday evening announced that they were going to keep the airport going until the boys get back. Dale Tucker stated he would give flying instruction and he and some of the other boys with proper license would do passenger hauling. Likely this can be done only on Sundays, but it will be of considerable value to the airport and the community to keep it going.

We don't stop driving our car when someone drives in front of a train or hits another vehicle head-on killing five or six people—and flying won't stop just because a few planes meet

Col. C. W. (Nick) Nichols, who is well known to many here, has moved to our community and has announced that he will continue in his business of auctioneering.

For the benefit of those who don't know Mr. Nichols, we wish to give a little of his history. He spent five years in the infantry, three years overseas, 18 months in combat and was wounded three times. He is a member of the American Legion and a Mason.

He married the former Marguerite Nellans, daughter of the Charles Nellans, and they, with their six-year-old son, are residing with the Ed. Severns at present.

GEESE "WRITTEN UP" IN FARMERS GUIDE

In the July 15 issue of the Farmers Guide is an interesting article about the flock of geese on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. S. Z. Hoffer, just east of Mentone. At the top of the article is a picture of the geese.

In the article Mrs. Hoffer tells that they were started in the goose business about 10 years ago when Mr. Hoffer traded two pigs for 13 geese. Their flock now numbers around 250.

The Hoffers have a regular market for hatching eggs. The laying season lasts about three months, beginning about the first of March.

As soon as the hatching season is over the geese are turned out on grass and fed nothing in addition, except in winter when pasture is covered, then they eat with the pigs and get some corn.

MRS. C. G. CARTER DIES AT HOME IN ETNA GREEN

Mrs. C. G. (Ferne) Carter, of Etna Green, died at two a. m. Friday at her home following an illness of 18 months due to carcinoma.

Mrs. Carter was well-known in the vicinity of Etna Green, where she and Mr. Carter owned and operated the Cottage lunch room, and here in Mentone where they had previously owned and operated the Lake Trail Cafe.

The deceased was a member of the Methodist church and was an active club woman.

Born in Jasper county, the daughter of Walter and Josephine Ponsler, she had lived in this vicinity most of the time since her marriage to Mr. Carter May 14, 1906.

Surviving relatives include her husband; two sons, Jennings Carter, of Evansville, and Charles of Green Bay, Wis.; two grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. J. A. Glassley, and a brother, Lossen Ponsler, both of Gary.

Funeral services were held at two p. m. Sunday at the Etna Green Methodist church, with the pastor, Rev. A. Summers Clark officiating. Burial was in the Mentone cemetery with the Johns funeral home in charge.

SOFTBALL PLAYERS TREATED TO FISH FRY TUESDAY EVE.

The managers, directors and umpires of the softball association held a free fish supper at the town hall Tuesday evening for all the players. The turnout wasn't one hundred percent but there was a goodly number on hand—and plenty of fish was consumed.

We attempted to get the names of the individuals who sponsored the event but no one seemed to know for sure. I guess it just happened—and it didn't take five minutes to get the $50 or better it took to buy the food, at a rather impromptu meeting after the feast.

FRESHMEN TO HAVE CARNIVAL

Scattered about the various business places are signs which announce a carnival to be held at the school house on next Wednesday evening, Oct. 22.

This gala affair is being sponsored by the Freshman class, and includes games of chance, bingo, cakewalk, side-shows, and everything else which goes with a carnival, including stands where one can buy hot-dogs, etc.

The carnival will begin around 7:30 and each member of the Freshman class invites you to be present.

HOMECOMING AND RALLY DAY

Homecoming and rally day will be observed at the Tippecanoe Methodist church on next Sunday, October 19, beginning with the Sunday school period at 9:30 o'clock. The minister, E. E. DeWitt, will preach at the 10:30 hour; a basket dinner will be served at the noon hour and a special program will follow the dinner, with guest speakers, special music, etc.

An invitation is extended to everyone who may desire to spend the day with the Tippecanoe people. Should some be attending their own church for their regular morning worship, they are invited to come for the noon hour and afternoon program.

MENTONE READING CLUB MEETS

Miss Wreatha McFarren and Mrs. Robert L. Kinsey were hostesses at a pot luck supper of the Mentone Reading Club held October 8th at the residence of Mrs. Kinsey.

Mrs. Walter Lackey presided at the business session in the absence of the club president, Mrs. Dan Urschel.

The program for the evening consisted of a very interesting discussion by Mrs. Leroy Norris concerning The Origin of Garden Flowers. The club trio (Mrs. Artley Cullum, Mrs. Wayne Tombaugh and Mrs. Fred Lemler) sang several songs apropos to the subject discussed. The selections were, "The False Prophet," "I Know A Lovely Garden," and The Lilac Tree. Miss Marilyn Tucker accompanied the trio at the piano and also sang a solo, The Roses of Picardy.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Manwaring on November 12.

JOLLY JANE'S TRIP

When the Jolly Jones Home Economics club visited Chicago two weeks ago Wednesday their first point of interest was the Don McNeil Breakfast Club. One of the ladies interviewed was Mrs. Ralph Mollenhour.

A few days after the trip she received a letter from Mrs. Retha Mollenhour Farrington, of Chetopa, Kansas, who had heard her broadcast, and wondered if they might be related, as her grandfather had attended reunions in Mentone. Her grandfather was George Mollenhour who had married Hannah Kriehbaum and moved to Kansas. He was a brother to Henry of Tippecanoe. Her father was Edward Mollenhour. In tracing the relationship the lady from Kansas proves to be a third cousin to Ralph Mollenhour.

Mrs. Ralph Mollenhour also received a letter from a company in Bakersville, Florida, offering to sell her a recording of her broadcast for $3.50.

The Jolly Jones Home Ec. club made the trip to Chicago by chartered bus on Wednesday, Oct. 1, leaving about 2:30 in the morning and arriving at 6:30. They reported a most entertaining trip.

TO HOLD ANNUAL DINNER

It is always a great pleasure to be able to announce that once again it is that time of year when the Beaver Dam P. T. A. will hold its annual supper.

This affair will be held next Wednesday evening, Oct. 22, at the gym at the Beaver Dam school. The ladies start to serve at six o'clock and will continue until eight o'clock.

No menu has been announced, but, judging from past years, that won't be necessary.

IMPROVEMENTS BEING MADE AT MENTONE CEMETERY

Several tractors, trucks and volunteer workmen gathered at the Mentone cemetery Monday morning and in a very short while really made a big cleaning on the west side of the cemetery drive. The work was in preparation for a number of improvements being sponsored by Mrs. Emma Yocum.

Mrs. Yocum has been desirous of helping to beautify the cemetery, and last week completed a deal whereby she became the owner of 75 feet of the east side of the Jack Shinn property and she plans to landscape it and beautify it with trees and shrubs.

Mrs. Yocum went further with her plans and hired a contractor to black-top the west drive from the cemetery entrance to the south boundary. Citizens appreciate the magnitude of her gift and are glad to do their part in assisting in every way possible.

ENTERTAINMENT AT HALLOWE'EN FROLIC

Indications are there will be plenty of entertainment at the Lions club Hallowe'en frolic at Mentone Oct. 31. To date they have announced a Lions club quartette, two young tap dancers and a group of accordion and saxophone entertainers.

And of course, there's the big costume parade, and a regular carnival midway.

LEGION AUXILIARY.

The regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary was well attended Tuesday evening, Oct. 14, at the Legion home.

A short report was given by Emma Clutter on the district meeting that was attended by several members.

Barbara VanGilder talked on the beginning and use of the American flag. Mary Manwaring discussed displaying the flag.

The meeting was closed with the group singing, "God Bless America." Refreshments were served by Lucille Teel, Mary Esther Romine and Elizabeth Simcoe.

NEW FARM SHOW ON AIR

The voice of the farmer will soon be heard by Americans everywhere in a new radio program, "R. F. D. America" — a program "of, by and for farmers".

The new show will be aired over the 405 stations of the Mutual broadcasting System on Wednesday evenings at 9:30 EST (8:30 CST) beginning October 29.

R. F. D. America is a farm quiz show. Competing for awards will be farmers selected from a different state each week . . . and asking the questions will be the famed "quizmaster" of the Quiz Kids program, Joe Kelly. For 16 years Mr. Kelly was master of ceremonies of the National Barn Dance program.

The originator of R. F. D. America, Louis G. Cowan, is also the owner-organizer of the Quiz Kids program, heard on the NBC network. The basic purpose of the new show, states Cowan is to show what really fine people farmers are and how well informed they are. We are hopeful, in the process, of helping to bring about a better understanding between farm and city groups."

The program will have a preponderance of fun questions, but also will include technical farm questions as well as those involving serious discussion. Each show will start with four contestants. One contestant will be eliminated with each round of questions, leaving only two to fight it out in the last round for the title of "Master Farmer of the Week." The winner will return the following week to compete with three farmers from another state. Each panel will include at least one farm woman.

Valuable prizes will be given to winners, and even losers will be sure of winning something because as each loser is eliminated, he will receive an award of considerable worth as a consolation prize.

The three new farmers invited to Chicago each week (where the show will originate) will be the guests of the program for their three-day stay. They will take in the theater and Chicago's best eating places and will wind up their visit with their appearance on the network broadcast.

VISIT BROWN COUNTY SOON

Brown county's famous fall foliage will be solidly in bloom this week-end, according to Indiana Department of Conservation officials who operate the state park system.

For those who have not actually seen the phenomenon, it is difficult to believe there will be bumper-to-bumper traffic for miles around "down in the hills o' Brown county." Travel between Brown County State Park and Indianapolis is laborious in the extreme at this season. Department officials repeatedly have suggested more week-day visitors and fewer weekend visitors, but Sunday is the only available time for thousands, particularly in the metropolitan areas.

On one Sunday in 1941 there were 18,000 paid admissions at the Brown county park. After the war slump caused by gasoline and tire shortages, attendance all over the state began to rise in 1946, and this season is almost certain to establish a new all-time record for state park visitors.

Meanwhile the rush is on in Southern Indiana. Nature lovers, lovers of beauty, and just plain Sunday drivers will have a big weekend among the glorious colors of the black gum, sumac, dogwood, maple and sassafras.

FIXING UP the HOME

How to Build a Handy Shoe Shelf

FRIENDS of ours recently rebuilt their clothes storage closets to brighten them up and make the best possible use of all space. In doing the job they devised an interesting and practical solution of the shoe storage problem.

They designed and built a shoe shelf with more than enough space to take care of all the shoes for both members of the family.

Shoes generally are badly cared for, because shoe racks are badly designed and crowded. On the floor, shoes get dusty and are in the way, making it impossible to keep closet floors clean. Why not, asked my friends, have shoes where they are handy to get at and where it will always be easy to put them on the shoe trees? They then set about to answer their own question in an intelligent way. Here's the answer:

They built a shelf that was about waist high. One row of shoes rests along the front of the shelf. A slightly higher row in the back takes a second row. Regular type shoe trees were screwed to a 2" by 2" board which hung down from the top of the shelf above. Shoes are placed on these permanently placed trees and allowed to hang in space. They then placed a 2" by 2" board across the center of the shelf space and put spring type trees on this, adding a fourth row. If they get crowded, they can always add another row behind the present cross bar.

The back, sides and the bottom of the upper shelf were covered with an attractive, bright wallpaper, the bar was painted and the shelf covered with a gay striped oilcloth. A curtain drops over the shelf to keep out the dust.

Mrs. Eva Irvine, of Leesburg, and Mrs. Lydia Ryneerson, of Mentone, attended the funeral of Mrs. Laura Greenwood of Ashley, last Friday. They visited over the week end with the former's half sister, Mrs. Nora McKee and family, of Hudson, Ind.

Obe Haimbaugh and Mrs. Edna Carey, of Mentone, Mr. and Mrs. Herschel V. Lehman and Miss Mary Beth Hartman, of Warsaw, spent Sunday in Albion as guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. McClanahan.

DEKALB HELPS SAVE Ohio - Indiana Corn Crop

Early DeKalb Hybrid Varieties Help
Defeat Late, Wet Spring on Almost
A Million Acres of Farm Land

READ WHAT THESE FARMERS SAY

A. C. Frederick, Wyandotte Co., Ohio, worked day and night to get his DeKalb early varieties in by June 26. He now says — "Yes, DeKalb Hybrid saved the day for me. DeKalb Hybrid Corn at $15 a bushel would be cheaper than Free corn that did not mature." Mr. Frederick's DeKalb early varieties silked 46 days after they were planted.

Abe Steiner of Allen Co., Indiana, is another farmer whose crop was saved by early DeKalb Hybrid varieties. His field was planted June 13th and on Oct. 1st. He said, "A lot of my neighbors have just got roasting ears and my corn is ready to crib now. It's running about 30% moisture. I'm 100 per cent for DeKalb."

John Reynolds and his five boys of Wood County, Ohio, planted a large quantity of early DeKalb varieties and their corn is now well made and due for big yields. Reynolds is just one of many thousands of farmers who made a corn crop this year in spite of very unfavorable weather — made a crop because DeKalb could send in early hybrid varieties to the rescue.

Edwin Smith and brother, William, of Allen County, Indiana, were furnished DeKalb early maturing varieties by their DeKalb dealer. They planted on June 11th and on October 1st they turned the hogs into one of their fields. Their DeKalb corn was well denting and out of danger.

OUTDOOR Notes

By Joe Austell Small

Back in the old muzzle loading days the boys all had their favorite slugs, and if the castings ran out, they fell back on bolts, nuts and gravel. We are reminded of a story told by H. A. Brown about a neighborhood pest in his early days . . .

He was the kind of fellow who would grab his gun and run for a stand every time he heard the dogs driving a deer. If he got wind of a hunt being organized, he would always turn up, claiming a share of the meat. He was also the kind who always borrowed his guns. Just a general neighborhood nuisance that managed to claim a share in every venison killed in a radius of ten miles.

So the boys decided to fix him up good and proper. They told him so-and-so had one of the best deer killing guns in the country. When he came to borrow this gun, he was somewhat disappointed in that it was a ramshackled wreck, tied up with string and wire. But it was already well loaded (the boys had about filled it with black powder, bolts, nuts and gravel, figuring that if he ever let it off he would not want to deer hunt any more), and they told him he could have the load already in the gun so he wouldn't have to burn any of his own powder. Well, they placed him on a stand where they were positive a deer would run that morning and started the drive. A couple of hours later the dogs made a jump in a swamp and tore away straight for this fellow's stand. So they all got together and took out for his stand to pick up the remains.

Pretty soon they heard a tremendous blast. Ba-l-l-loom! The noise most rocked the ground and they doubled their speed.

When they got there, this fellow was standing over a pile of two dead deer, holding a piece of the old gun stock in his hand, his face and nose were bleeding, and he was cussing a blue streak. "What in the world is the matter?" they asked.

"Why, you blankety-blank so-and-so," he sobbed, if you had half this blame gun, I'd a killed four deer instead of just two!"

DEKALB HELPS SAVE Ohio - Indiana Corn Crop

Early DeKalb Hybrid Varieties Help
Defeat Late, Wet Spring on Almost
A Million Acres of Farm Land

READ WHAT THESE FARMERS SAY

A. C. Frederick, Wyandotte Co., Ohio, worked day and night to get his DeKalb early varieties in by June 26. He now says — "Yes, DeKalb really saved the day for me. DeKalb Hybrid Corn at $15 a bushel would be cheaper than Free corn that did not mature." Mr. Frederick's DeKalb early varieties silked 46 days after they were planted.

Abe Steiner of Allen Co., Indiana, is another farmer whose crop was saved by early DeKalb Hybrid varieties. His field was planted June 13th and on Oct. 1st, He said, "A lot of my neighbors have just got roasting ears and my corn is ready to crib now. It's running about 30% moisture. I'm 100 per cent for DeKalb."

John Reynolds and his five boys of Wood County, Ohio, planted a large quantity of early DeKalb varieties and their corn is now well made and due for big yields. Reynolds is just one of many thousands of farmers who made a corn crop this year in spite of very unfavorable weather — made a crop because DeKalb could send in early hybrid varieties to the rescue.

Edwin Smith and brother, William, of Allen County, Indiana, were furnished by DeKalb early maturing varieties on their DeKalb dealer. They planted on June 11th and on October 1st they turned the hogs into one of their fields. Their DeKalb corn was well denting and out of danger.

Dried eggs are used in the manufacture of food products such as noodles, macaroni, prepared flours, ice cream powders, meringues and candy. One advantage of the use of dried eggs is the elimination of about 90 per cent of the water content with attendant savings in freight and storage charges.

JOLLY JANES HOME EC CLUB

The Jolly Janes Home Economics club met Monday night, October 13 at the home of Mrs. Wayne Bowser, with 18 members present. The song of the month was "Li'l Liza Jane. A most interesting lesson on Window Treatment was given by our home demonstration agent, Miss Marjorie Moore of Warsaw. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Pres., Mrs. Harold Utter; Vice Pres., Mrs. Earl Anderson; Sec. and Treas., Mrs. Raymond Cooper. Mrs. Delford Nelson received a lovely birthday gift from her cheerio pal. After the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Robert Wheatstone.

GRIT NECESSARY FOR EFFICIENT FEED UTILIZATION

A good grit is a "must" for the laying flock during periods of heavy egg production when feed intake is at its peak. R. B. Thompson, Oklahoma A. & M. College poultry specialist, declares. If a good grit is not supplied, he warns, hens will indulge in wasteful and harmful gorging and fasting. He advocates the use of commercial grit because of its low cost, controlled qualities, and cleanliness.

A hard, sharp grit that is being used by increasing numbers of poultrymen, is Arrow-Head insoluble flint grit. Hens generally consume only about 3 pounds per head per year of this type of grit for their full needs.

A small container fastened to the wall inside the chicken house is usually the most satisfactory method of supplying grit, in Thompson's opinion. The Arrow-Head grit is obtainable at the Co-Op. Mill at Mentone.

FIXING UP the HOME

By Diane Greeter

How to Keep Floors Gleaming

NO MATTER how modestly furnished, a home with attractive, sparkling floors has charm and quiet dignity. If your floors are of oak or other hardwood, keeping them glistening is fairly simple.

Two fundamentals of good maintenance are daily sweeping with an untreated dust mop, plus an occasional shining with a weighted floor brush or an electric polisher.

Several times a year hardwood floors should be cleaned and waxed.

Most authorities contend that soap and water harm the finish. Special liquid cleaning preparations containing a wax base are highly recommended. These clean the floor thoroughly and leave a thin protective film that tends to prevent dust from penetrating the grain.

Wax, which completes the job of guarding the wood against dirt, also provides that glossy sheen which characterizes hardwood floors. Paste waxes developed especially for floors are available. Apply a thin coat with cheese cloth of double thickness. Allow to dry, then polish with a weighted brush or electric polisher. Polish across the grain first, then with it. About an hour later repeat the entire operation. Rubbing type liquid wax also gives good results. Apply according to manufacturers' directions.

Even a long neglected oak floor can be made like new. Just remove the old finish by sanding or scraping, then apply a new finish.

Tackle Tough Problems

Buck Rogers and his fantastic experiments aren't far ahead of the activities being conducted by the federal farm electrification division. Among the research projects proposed to be undertaken this year are studies in the use of infra-red heaters to dry seeds and provide thermal therapy treatments for farm animals, ultra-sonic vibrations for treating seeds, and the control of insect pests by means of electric lamps and traps.

BAPTISM is the fourth and final step. It is a very much misunderstood commandment of the Lord. Because of this misunderstanding, many people disregard it entirely and say that it is an outward ceremony which has nothing to do with the individual's salvation.

We find that baptism is mentioned in connection with every detailed account of conversion recorded in the Book of Acts after the Church was established on Pentecost. It consisted of a "burial" in water and a "resurrection" to walk in newness of life. It was the final step taken by the individual in coming to God after he had believed wholeheartedly, repented wholeheartedly, and confessed wholeheartedly.

Water baptism is a commandment of the New Testament to be administered by man, and to be obeyed by the penitent believer who desires to be born again and become a child of God. Holy Spirit baptism was a promise to be fulfilled. It was administered by Jesus, on only two occasions. Its purpose was to inspire the apostles and give them supernatural power, and to confirm the acceptance of the gentiles at the house of Cornelius. Supernatural powers continued only during the lifetime of the apostles and those to whom the apostles imparted special gifts.

LEGION MAILING OF SHADES LETTER GOES TO 127,000

Mailing of letters soliciting gifts to the fund to develop Indiana's 15th state park has been completed to 127,000 members of the Indiana Department of the American Legion.

The mass mailing of letters requesting shades gifts from Indiana Legionnaires was carried out by State Legion headquarters.

Here is the letter:

Dear Legionnaire:
"The Indiana American Legion
through its Executive Committee has agreed to help raise the necessary funds to buy the beautiful and scenic area in Montgomery county known as the Shades. This splendid, unselfish community service is a challenge to all Legionnaires. We will need the thorough cooperation of every member.
MAY WE COUNT ON YOU?

Every cent collected will be spent to assure Indiana having as its very own, one of nature's masterpieces comprising 1,452 acres of virgin timber, with rocky ledges, waterfalls, sandstone bluffs and deep cut ravines. A scenic wonderland in the heart of the nation.

We have pledged the Legion to do its utmost to make the shades a part of our State Park System. We are hoping that our total contribution will equal or exceed one dollar per member, and in order to succeed, it will be necessary that each member give to the full extent of his or her ability. There is no limit to the amount you may contribute. Every contribution, large or small, will be gratefully received, and your name recorded as a public spirited citizen who holds the interest of his state at heart.

Send your contribution now in the enclosed envelope."

It is signed by Harold E. Morris,
Department Commander; W. I. Brunton, Immediate Past Commander and chairman of the campaign, and W.
E. Sayer, Department Adjutant.

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Ringworm of the Scalp

The 181 cases of Tinea capitis, or ringworm of the scalp, reported in Indiana since January 1, by Indiana Health Officers to the Indiana State Board of Health show the continued presence of this disease which has resulted in the establishment of a new fungus diagnostic service for physicians at the Indiana State Board of Health laboratories.

Physicians desiring this service have only to mail the infected hairs in a Wasserman container to the State Board of Health and the type of fungus causing the infection will be identified free.

There are several types of Tinea capitis but the type which seems to be epidemic in Indiana is the human type—M. Audouini. This is spread by direct contact—by the exchanging of caps, combs and other common articles. Loose infected hairs fall out and are carried in the air with the fungus staying on an object for weeks without losing its virulence.

In some epidemic areas in Indiana, clinics have been established so all children may be examined and those infected isolated to prevent spreading of the disease. The organism causing ringlike patches in the hair is hard to see with the naked eye but is visible under Woods light used in the clinics.

Parents, schools, theatre owners and barbers must cooperate in controlling the prevalence of ringworm of the scalp which first appeared in epidemic form in Indiana in 1945. Find cases early and send them to the physician immediately for treatment.

MANY YOUTH ATTEND RELIGIOUS CAMPS

Some half million young people attended 3,000 church camps and conferences during the past summer in the United States and Canada, according to Dr. Roy G. Ross, general secretary of the International Council of Religious Education, which represents 90 percent of American protestantism in educational work.

Although only a fairly recent development, denominational camps going back to about 1918, summer camps have become a very important phase of the church's program for inspiring her outstanding youth with ideals of Christian service and educating them for their tasks.

"Camps have done more to change the lives of the young people who have attended them, especially in enlisting them for Christian leadership, than any other single factor of the church's program," Dr. Ross claimed.

The reasons for their great influence are, according to Dr. Ross: (1) The opportunity which they give youth for fellowship with other young people of high ideals, thus helping them to feel a part of a large and significant movement of serious Christian youth. (2) the close association with noted leaders who symbolize their own opportunities for significant service. (3) The opportunity to think seriously about the current problems which face Christian youth in their everyday thought and activities.

Although summer camps have until recently been primarily for youth from about 12 to 25 years, other age groups now have their camps in large numbers. Children, adult and family camps are now multiplying rapidly.

Even for young people there are new developments. Work camps, caravans, relief projects, students working in industry, government, agriculture and cooperatives are among the many other types of new summer opportunities which churches are providing for their youth.

SCHOOL BUS INSPECTION

Safe transportation of rural school children concerns all of us. Two times every school day nearly 7,000 school buses move about 230,000 pupils to and from their studies. Before this fleet ends its task, it will have traveled 200,000 miles. It entails a tremendous responsibility.

Indiana's state police are in the midst of inspecting those buses to determine if they are mechanically fit for this important chore. It was necessary to use vehicles during the war that would have been condemned in normal times. With new equipment presently available, the State School Bus Committee has ordered that bus bodies or chassis manufactured before 1938 be replaced before the fall term next year. Troopers have been ordered to enforce the edict.

The ruling will necessitate adjustments in cases where bus contracts extend beyond the 1948 replacement deadline. However, it is pointed out that other states are not so lenient in the use of aging equipment. And it would be criminal to expose our youth in buses no longer considered safe. Safety of the children is the paramount issue.

GROANS NOT ALL BY HALLOWE'EN FRANKSTERS

There's no closed season on hearing things that aren't so, but one naturally expects a lot of queer things at Hallowe'en time.

However, events Tuesday evening were too realistic for comfort—and sleep for Pauline Borton. A small pig that had been badly injured by an auto, took refuge beneath her window and voiced his agony in a very realistic manner. Very disconcerting, to say the least, so Officer Borton was requested to investigate. He soon located the badly injured creature—a 65-pound pig that had been hit by an auto. Knowing what was making the gruesome sound effects was of untold consolation to Pauline, but then she and Pete wondered who owned the critter. Several known pig-owners in town were routed away from their log cutting, but no one claimed the pig. By that time the pig had quieted down somewhat and everyone decided to let him remain there until morning.

Early Wednesday it was discovered that Lauren Tridle had purchased a small pig in a load of larger ones and it was his animal. Another call to the Borton home by the night policeman disclosed the fact that the pig had disappeared — such strange goings on. Tridle was called and informed the funeral cortege would be held up, temporarily. At noon, the telephone broke the stillness of an empty stock pen when Pauline called stating the pig was back at her front step and she couldn't get into the house. Tridle, we presume, got the pig as we haven't heard any more reports tonight.

And out at the Gilbert Griffis farm, we are told, an old sow got herself all fixed up for the Hallowe'en season by covering herself with about a gallon of red barn paint. It seems the painters moved the ladders before they did a two-gallon bucket of paint and when they came back after the paint they found the old sow had the ball hooked over her ears. She drank about half of the mixture, but to date none of her suckling offspring have shown any Communistic tendencies.

Ghosts, too, we have been told, are to be found almost anywhere. Our county home demonstration agent was bouncing along on highway 25, near Palestine the other evening when a skeleton dangled from a tree and came down over the highway in front of her. She applied the brakes quickly and likely the noise she made was of only one syllable but longer than anything Webster every got in his dictionaries.

The skeleton must have appeared before some other motorists, too, as one car returned with a fully loaded shotgun—and the skeleton stayed a skeleton.

FINAL JINGLET'S THIS ISSUE

Leonard Waldman, of Schlusell & Waldman of New York, informed us by telephone last week that the jinglets appearing in this issue will be the final ones to be announced from the contest.

SURELY A TRUE FRIEND

Legion are the reports of the faithfulness—and understanding ability—of man's faithful friend, the dog, and Mentone is not to be denied. Chick Herendeen's Collie, "Tip," was among the first to arrive at the scene when he and Bud Summers crashed at the Mentone airport Tuesday of last week. The dog found a place under the crumpled wing and refused to leave until dark when Chet went out and brought him back to the barn. Even then, he tried to evade the pleading of Mr. Herendeen. Now, the dog sits around the barn lot looking around the sky and listening for the familiar hum of his master's plane. He knows something isn't like it should be, and we wonder if he might not even know the answer to that, also.

X-ray examinations late Saturday disclosed a cracked vertebrae in Chick's neck and he was taken to the Methodist hospital at Indianapolis in the Johns ambulance Tuesday. The left arm, broken above the elbow, did not stay in place and an open reduction will be made and some mechanical means will be used to hold the broken ends of the bones together until they knit.

Bud Summers, we are told, is improving. An operation performed on his foot disclosed that a small piece of bone was broken off and wedged in such a way as to lock the ankle. This was put into place and it is expected that if other complications do not interfere that he will eventually have full use of the foot again.

NOTICE

The W. S. C. S. of the Methodist Church is sponsoring a drive to collect used clothing for overseas relief. Clothing may be left at the church anytime until October 26th. Clothing must be clean and in a good state of repair.

MENTONE H. S. BASKETBALL

First practice for the 1947-48 season was held on Oct. 7 and 25 boys reported. On Friday, Oct. 17, the team elected Bowser captain.

The schedule follows:

Nov. 1, Beaver Dam here.
Nov. 7, Akron there.
Nov. 15, Bourbon there.

TO RETURN HOME ON LEAVE

Word was received by Rev. and Mrs. Hill the fore part of the week stating that Rev. and Mrs. John Knecht plan on leaving for the United States about the middle of November. They plan

The Knechts have been in China on coming via Pan-American Airlines, at one of the Mission Colleges for nearly a year, and had planned on being there for five years before taking a furlough. Their trip home is necessary for reasons of health, as John is suffering with an infection of the bladder which cannot be treated at the hospital there.

TO SPEAK AT STATE MEDICAL MEETING

The 98th Annual Session of the Indiana State Medical Association will be held at French Lick next week. Dr. Dan Urschel is to be one of the speakers at this meeting, talking before the general scientific assembly on Thursday morning. The subject of his talk will be "Recent Advances in the Treatment of Brucellosis." There have been a number of new developments in this disease during the past few years, among which has been the recently publicized transfusion and sulfonamide treatment developed by Dr. Huddleson in Michigan. Dr. Urschel has been in contact with the East Lansing men who developed this, and will give the first report on it in this state. Other developments include the use of streptomycin and sulfadiazine, the experimental use of para-amino-benzoic acid, and others. The method originally devised by Dr. Urschel, intradermal vaccine or Brucellin, is still the most dependable on the basis of proven use, but may be supplanted by one of these newer items.

Dr. Urschel was particularly honored in being asked to speak at the General Scientific Session, as all the other speakers on this program are distinguished physicians from out of the state. These include Dr. Wm. S. Middleton, Dean and Professor of Medicine at the University of Wisconsin Medical school; Dr. Alexander R. MacLean, of Rochester, Minn.; Dr. George T. Pack, of Cornell University Medical College; Dr. Lee Foshay, of the University of Cincinnati, and Dr. Bruce K. Wiseman of Ohio State University College of Medicine.

There has been constantly increasing interest in Brucellosis throughout the midwestern states during the past few years. Despite continued effort, Bang's disease remains common among hogs and cattle, and so long as this is true, the disease will be seen in humans. The Indiana State Medical Association, through the efforts of the editor of its Journal, Dr. E. M. Shanklin, of Hammond, has conducted a vigorous campaign to attract public aid in fighting this menace to public health. This campaign was given national publicity several years ago when TIME magazine called attention to the work being done by two Indiana doctors, Dr. Neal Davis of Lowell, and Dr. Urschel of Mentone.

MENTONE FIREMEN ENTERTAIN COUNTY GROUP

Twelve towns were represented at the first regular meeting of the Kosciusko County Volunteer Firemen's association held at the Mentone town hall on last Thursday evening. Nearly one hundred were present to enjoy the fine fish fry prepared by the Mentone firemen and their "Jonah Club" friends.

State Fire Marshal Carter Bowser, was present and spoke briefly to the group. Others present from the Fire Marshal's office were Bud Moon, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Potts, Mrs. Double and Miss Jones.

TAKEN ILL MONDAY

Mrs. Don Ernsberger was stricken Monday morning with a blood clot. Her condition on Wednesday was about the same. A sister, Mrs. A. A. Overstreet, who is a nurse, is caring for her. Another sister, Mrs. Doris Nate, and her mother, Mrs. Essie Gossett, are with her, also.

ENTERTAINS WITH SHOWER

Mrs. Loreh L. Tridle entertained with a pink and blue shower honoring her sister, Mrs. Harold Holloway, Friday evening, Oct. 17. Bingo and various other games were played during the evening. Dainty refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Margaret Spangle and Mrs. Sudy Young of Rochester; Mrs. H. E. Holloway, Mrs. Henry Kelfer, Mrs. Guy Baker, of Burket; Mrs. Edward Ayers, Mrs. Harold Maloy and Sandra, of No. Manchester; Mrs. Elvin Teel, Mrs. Ray Dillingham, Mrs. Jake Gross, Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. Charles Feldman, the guest of honor, Mrs. Holloway, and the hostess, Mrs. Tridle.

Tables and refreshments were in keeping with the scheme of pink and white. Bouquets of roses were center pieces and the gifts were in a pink and white umbrella.

BUNKER HILL FLYING FARMER VACATION SPOT

A dream come true is in the offing for flying farmers who have long campaigned for the establishment of landing strips near vacation spots, according to William Renshaw, Indiana editor of Prairie Farmer.

In a recent report to Prairie Farmer-WLS, which was heard on "Field Editor's Roundup," a program conducted each Monday at 6:15 p. m. by Arthur C. Page, associate Editor of Prairie Farmer, Renshaw outlined the advantages of such a plan at Bunker Hill Naval Base, near Peru, Indiana. The plan was the result of a meeting at the base by some fifty flying farmers on Sunday, October 5th.

The Bunker Hill Naval Base, now on leave-of-absence from active service, is composed of 2,400 acres, with close to 100 acres surfaced with either concrete or blacktop. The airport facilities at the base have been leased by Jim Evans, a flying farmer from CARROLL COUNTY, Indiana, who will operate a flying service there under the name of Airparks, Inc.

The location and set-up have an appeal to the flying farmer aggregation because of the splendid facilities. "The base has one of the largest and finest swimming pools anywhere in the country," said Renshaw.

"It also has a tremendous gymnasium, as well as a recreation hall, and all three will be open to the public early in November." During the time that the base was used for training naval pilots, approximately 3,800 men were regularly quartered there, an indication of the possibilities the place offers, not only to the rapidly growing flying farmer group, for recreation, demonstration and business meetings, vacations or weekend flying jaunts, but to other vacationers as well. The Bunker Hill Naval Base looks very much like it is going to become a famous vacation spot, with the airport as just one of its features," Renshaw concluded.

tures," Renshaw concluded.

Brazilian Thunderstorms

In central and western Brazil there are thunderstorms on an average of 100 to 150 days a year. These figures become smaller towards the coast. In the interior of the coastal states they amount to only 60 a year.

*Increases since 1939, from Department of Labor Index for moderate income families in large cities, and from National Housing Agency.

...our costs have gone up, too!

SOME PEOPLE get along under higher prices by using less or doing without. Some have more income to help meet higher costs. All can adjust outgo to income, to a large extent.

But a railroad cannot skimp or do without and still provide good, efficient and safe service—adequate to the needs and desires of the public.

The chart at left shows why the Eastern Railroads have had to ask for an increase in freight rates. The simple reason is that the increases allowed since 1939 are nowhere near enough to meet today's costs. The revenue the railroads get for hauling the average ton of freight is only 15% more, whereas the cost of operating the railroads has increased more than 63% in that period.

Only recently, for instance, an arbitration board added another $468,000,000 to our annual bill for wages and wage taxes, of which $187,000,000 is borne by the Eastern Railroads. This brings the increase in these items alone to more than 75% since 1939.

All the railroads ask is what the law says they should be allowed to have. That means just and reasonable rates. The law says there is need in the public interest for adequate and efficient railway transportation service at the lowest cost consistent with furnishing such service.

In other words, all the railroads ask is sufficient revenue to enable them, under honest, economical and efficient management, to provide the kind of service people want.

Some examples of increased costs since 1939, affecting railroad operation

Increased freight rates since 1939 have increased the revenue from hauling the average ton of freight one mile

MAIL BOXES PROTECTED BY POSTAL DEPARTMENT

The following note, from the Post Office Department to postmasters, states:

"The time is near at hand when Hallowe'en pranks may begin to have ideas about such activities, and as has happened at various places in the past, boys who are not familiar with postal laws may consider it good sport to tear down mail boxes.

"It is suggested that you give notice inviting attention to the fact that wilful and malicious tearing down of mailboxes is a violation of a postal law and may be punished by a fine or imprisonment.

"This suggestion is more in the spirit of protecting Hallowe'en pranks, usually boys from 12 to 20 years of age, from becoming involved in violations of a law, which they may not suspect at the time to be a violation. In all of the investigations of this type of depredations it is found that almost invariably they have been committed by young people who did not understand the seriousness of the offense, or that it was a violation of a postal law."

PUBLIC NOTICE

Attention is herein called to the fact that several evidences of the nuisances which have been carried on in times past, and have been the subject of many complaints, have been noted, in that several windows have been smeared with soap or other substances, and numerous other depredations of this nature committed on property in the town. As has been done before, warning is hereby given to all concerned that such practices are subject to legal action and will be dealt with accordingly.

This notice is given with the full accord and support of the town authorities and by the undersigned as a constituted peace officer of this town and township.

"HELP," said Midwest Farmers

DeKalb "Saves Day" for Thousands
by Supplying Early Seed in Water-Soaked
Midwest Farming Areas

On June 11th, Abe Steiner of Allen County, Indiana, was just starting to plow his field. (See picture on right.) On June 13th he planted it to an early maturing DeKalb Hybrid variety, and on October 1st he said, "Just look at this DeKalb corn—it's under 30 percent moisture and is ready to crib."

Yes, DeKalb early maturing hybrid varieties "saved the day" for Abe and hundreds of other Indiana and Ohio farmers, in what otherwise would have been a disastrous year. Because of DeKalb's widespread seed production fields, it was possible to ship in early seed from undamaged seed production areas to Indiana and Ohio farmers who otherwise would not have had a chance of making a corn crop. And DeKalb "came through" with mature corn that means the difference between profit and loss to Midwestern farmers.

DeKalb Planted on June 11—"Made" Oct. 1st

Edwin "Bud" Smith and his brother, William, farm a nice piece of Indiana land near Monroeville. They've raised DeKalb Corn for the past 10 years—always with a good crop. This year, like many other farmers, they were "way late" in getting their corn in—June 11th to be exact. The picture of Edwin and his son filling the planter box was taken on that date. They planted an early maturing DeKalb variety and on Oct. 1st, "Bud" and Bill had their picture taken in the same field—only this time with a fine, mature crop of DeKalb Hybrid Corn. Yes, this year, the Smith Brothers have mature corn—not roasting ears—even in spite of a late, cold, wet spring—and as they say, "thanks to DeKalb."

WANT TO KILL A DEER?

If you want to drop a deer in his tracks, forget that time-honored heart shot and hit him in the neck."

That's the advice John S. Rose, The National Rifle Association's conservation expert, gives the nation's 11,000,000 hunters in the October issue of the American Rifleman, based on the results of a six-month study on the business of deer killing.

"Then," quoting Rose again, "if you miss your lead and the bullet lands a couple of feet back of where you want it, you can still count on a very dead deer somewhere in the immediate vicinity, or at least a deer that won't run into the middle of the next county."

Rose, in his provocative article, "Stop That Buck", presents facts based on over 5,000 1946 deer kills and attempts to prove that, "the ideas of the vast majority of United States hunters on where to hit a deer to bring him down are 'way off base.'" Rose's factual findings are startling and will be something a lot of experienced and inexperienced hunters alike can mull over just as they are getting ready to take to the woods.

The conservation expert began his study by questioning a representative group of "big name" hunters on where you should hit a buck if you want to be sure of anchoring him in his tracks. He got the 'cut and dried' answers—"hit him behind the shoulder," "bust him in the heart," "get him in the chest."

After questioning the big name boys, Rose studied his five thousand kills and his findings refute the hunters.

The NRA expert found that 94 percent of all deer hit in the neck dropped in their tracks or trailed a little over five yards as an average. The heart shot brought down only 51 percent in their tracks and the rest trailed up to an average of 35 yards with extreme cases going to a thousand.

Among other types of hits he studied the gut shot, frowned upon by every good hunter, and found that it turned in a record that compared favorably with the heart shot.

Rose misses no arguments in the defense of his viewpoints. He considers all types of hits, angles of shots, ranges, leads, bullet performance and all sundry other factors that might come into a successful kill and then defends his neck shot above all others.

He did find that the NRA survey backed up the reputation of the spine shot, which has always been classed as deadly. Eighty-four percent of all the deer hit in this area dropped in their tracks. The average trailing distance for all hits in the spine was barely over thirteen yards.

Rose's survey proved two things—that the neck and spine shots were most deadly. With that in mind he tells in his well-illustrated "Rifleman" article why all hunters should forget their time-honored heart shots and aim for the neck. He proves that if your lead is bad and you miss the neck, you most likely will hit the deer in the spine. Thus you get a chance at the two most deadly spots, most deadly as proven by the study.

Rose ends his article with the unqualified statement: "To put the whole affair on a blunt, meat-getting basis, the hunter who uses the neck shot, regardless of considerations of sportsmanship and humane killing, is going to stand a better chance of bringing home his buck than will the adherent of the time-honored heart aiming point."

There is no doubt that the National Rifle Association's conservation expert has shaken time-accepted deer killing theories. All hunters should make a point of reading it.

HAMPSHIRE HOG SALE SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

Leroy Norris reports that the purebred Hampshire boar and gilt sale held by eight local breeders at the Warsaw fair grounds Tuesday was a success in every respect. There weren't so many bidders, but those present paid an average of well over a hundred dollars a head for the animals put up for auction.

Livestock raisers are realizing more and more that profit in the industry is dependent, to a great extent, upon owning purebred animals.

Chick Herendeen was scheduled for an open reduction of his fractured left arm Thursday. The bone was broken in a plane accident two weeks ago and it became necessary to operate and wire the bones together before they would knit.

Bud Summers, injured in the same accident, was to have undergone an operation on his kneecap but we have no report upon the findings in the matter. Both boys, unless more serious complications occur, are on the road to recovery.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAYS

A dinner was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cloice Paulus honoring the birthdays of Mary and Earl Smith, K. Paulus, Bud Paulus and Cloice Paulus.

Those present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Paulus and son, of North Manchester; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith, of Rochester; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kinsey, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Paulus, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Cloice Paulus.

HARRY BOGGS DIES IN CRASH

Harry Boggs, brother of Stanley Boggs of Mentone and Dale of near Goshen, met death late Wednesday afternoon when the car in which he was riding was hit by a large ready-mix cement transport truck, at the Gaskall corner, near the Bud Parker farm, southeast of Burket. Mr. Boggs' daughter, a teacher in the Burket schools, is reported in a serious condition in the hospital.

Reports from the accident are rather confusing at this early hour Thursday, and telephone communication to the community was disrupted when the auto reportedly hit a telephone line pole and broke it down.

Reports at Mentone are that Mr. Boggs was going east, with his daughter at the wheel, when the large truck coming from the south, crashed into the car and it went careening off the highway, over the ditch and into a field. Mr. Boggs died at the scene, we are told.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to thank each and every one who has been so kind and helpful in so many ways following the accident. We cannot find words to express our gratitude and appreciation. Dorothy and Chick Herendeen.

The Philco people were somewhat behind in their advertising schedule and the matrix for the printing plate arrived by special courier about midnight Wednesday. This fact, along with an exceptionally large amount of other advertising, caused a few hours delay in the mailing of this week's issue.

SLAPS THEM TO DEATH

A farmer of our acquaintance said that his boy and a couple other boys went squirrel hunting (while the season was still open) so about two o'clock in the afternoon he thought he had time to shoot a few squirrels and said to himself, "I believe I will take the old scattergun back in the woods and show the boys how to shoot the furry little fellows". So, he said, "I went back in the squirrel timber and sat down on a stump and I NEVER IN ALL MY LIFE KILLED SO DARN MANY . . . mosquitoes."

THEY SAID IT ON NBC

"With food the world's number one problem, the world's population appears to be outgrowing its food supply. This picture led the early economist Malthus to predict that population is always limited to food supply. Agricultural experts doubt whether western Europe can ever produce enough food to feed its enlarged population. America alone could not make up the difference unless we forget our other customers"—Alex Drier on NBC commentary.

More Milk . . . Higher Quality
...with less time, work and equipment

Faster Milking increases milk yield . . . you get all the milk each milking; you keep milk production high throughout lactation. Here are two exclusive CO-OP Universal features that make machine milking faster . . . simpler:

CALF-NOSE INFLATIONS—patented off-center openings do away with "crawling," eliminate need for stripping with but rare exceptions. Large size accommodates flow of easy milkers as well as hard milkers.

CALF-NOSE CLAW—scientifically designed, it places heavier milking action where it is needed—on the heavier-milking rear quarters. Thus, all four quarters finish milking at approximately the same time.

PLUS Protected Low Vacuum CO-OP Universal Milkers milk fast and efficiently on only 10 to 11 inches of vacuum . . . controlled and protected by a weight-type relief valve and a mercury-column vacuum gauge.

Remember, too, there is a CO-OP Universal Milker to best fit your individual needs. Only your cooperatively-owned CO-OP Universal Division makes a complete line of milking machines: Standard Calf-Nose Milkers . . . Short-Tube Milkers . . . Floor and Track-type Portable Milkers.

Underwater Light

A lamp that can be used only under water has been developed. It's a 1,000-watt job, the size of a 40-watt bulb, for deep-sea diving assignments. Its filament almost touches the bulb, and operation under water is necessary to keep the glass cool.

Feed Despite Heat

Bass often will be found feeding during a blazing hot afternoon around water vegetation and obstructions. They also congregate around springs and at the mouths of feeder streams, and where a moving current keeps the water well aerated.

LIBRARY NEWS

Library to Close Next Week

The library will be closed next week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, by order of the State Library Association, in order that the librarian may attend the State Library Convention which will be held in Indianapolis, October 30 and 31 and Nov. 1.

Books due may be left in the library box.

Children's Story Hour

Last week Mrs. Harold Nelson gave the first grade children a great deal of pleasure with her two stories, "The Dog That Came True," and "A Hal-lowe'en Story. This week, Mrs. Robert Kinsey told two more stories which the children liked very much. They were, "Paddy's Three Pets" and "Lost in the Leaves."

New Books

We have many new books, just now, that are very good. As the library will be closed three days next week, why not come in now and lay in a supply of good reading material?

"Of Human Bondage," by Somerset Maugham, is an autobiographical novel and is recognized by many critics as the author's masterpiece. It is the story of the first thirty years of Philip Carey's life. Through his clear eyes, we see an English school, a German university, a colony of artistic failures in Paris and a village on the British coast. Like Philip, the reader comes to realize that if one has lived thoroughly, life has a meaning and pattern as rich, though as unsymmetrical, as those formed by the colors in an oriental rug.

Edison Marshall has been admired for years for his stories of the North which are especially enjoyed by the men. In his new novel, "Yankee Pasha," he tells the extraordinary adventures of a Yankee frontiersman who followed a golden-haired dream from Salem Harbor to the harems of the Sultan of Turkey.

Another writer for the men is Rider Haggard. His latest book, "King Solomon's Mines," is full of interest and adventure.

"Take Back the Heart," by Vivien Grey, is a light romance but an unusually appealing one.

"Tarzan and the Foreign Legion," by Edgar Rice Burroughs, is the latest of that well-known series. A mishap stranded Tarzan of the Apes in the mountains of Japanese-held Sumatra for nearly two and one-half years after the invasion. Here in company with American fliers, natives and Dutch guerrillas, he found full scope for his marvelous jungle trained senses. This story of his adventures will appeal to all who enjoy the Tarzan stories.

"Take Three Doctors," by Elizabeth Seifert, is the story of Christy Jones, a young veteran doctor, and his struggle working in the hospital in a small and stagnant town. It is also the interweaving of three distinctly different medical personalities and the struggle between them.

We have a new edition of Anna Sewall's biography of a Horse, "Black Beauty." Those who saw the show will get double enjoyment from this book. In "Lassie Come Home," all dog lovers will find real interest and enjoyment. This is one of the most poignant, yet realistic dog stories ever written.

We also have a new Faith Baldwin book.

Ask for these books at your library.

"HELP," said Midwest Farmers

DeKalb "Saves Day" for Thousands
by Supplying Early Seed in Water-Soaked
Midwest Farming Areas

On June 11th, Abe Steiner of Allen County, Indiana, was just starting to plow his field. (See picture on right.) On June 13th he planted it to an early maturing DeKalb Hybrid variety, and on October 1st he said, "Just look at this DeKalb corn—it's under 30 percent moisture and is ready to crib."

Yes, DeKalb early maturing hybrid varieties "saved the day" for Abe and hundreds of other Indiana and Ohio farmers, in what otherwise would have been a disastrous year. Because of DeKalb's widespread seed production fields, it was possible to ship in early seed from undamaged seed production areas to Indiana and Ohio farmers who otherwise would not have had a chance of making a corn crop. And DeKalb "came through" with mature corn that means the difference between profit and loss to Midwestern farmers.

DeKalb Planted on June 11—"Made" Oct. 1st

Edwin "Bud" Smith and his brother, William, farm a nice piece of Indiana land near Monroeville. They've raised DeKalb Corn for the past 10 years—always with a good crop. This year, like many other farmers, they were "way late" in getting their corn in—June 11th to be exact. The picture of Edwin and his son filling the planter box was taken on that date. They planted an early maturing DeKalb variety and on Oct. 1st, "Bud" and Bill had their picture taken in the same field—only this time with a fine, mature crop of DeKalb Hybrid Corn. Yes, this year, the Smith Brothers have mature corn—not roasting ears—even in spite of a late, cold, wet spring—and as they say, "thanks to DeKalb."

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Personal cleanliness goes a long way toward controlling impetigo—a communicable skin disease which easily becomes epidemic in schools and causes parents and teachers much concern.

Impetigo is marked by blisters that usually appear on the face, around the mouth or cheeks. Appearing about one to five days after exposure, the blisters turn amber color, break and form yellowish crusts. The disease does not leave scars, is not dangerous, unless complications develop, but it is annoying.

Oil may be used to soften the crusts and the secretions removed with soap and water. This can be done with cotton swabs or disposable tissue. Watch that the ointment the physician advises does not get into the child's eyes.

Impetigo is spread by the moist discharges from the effected skin arear so care should be taken to burn the dressings and discharges. The common use of handkerchiefs, napkins, towels, pencils, combs and other personal belongings must be avoided. The patient's underclothes, towels and personal belongings should be sterilized.

Children with impetigo should be kept away from other children until the sores are healed. To prevent the spread of the disease, keep the child's nails short, wash his hands with soap and water several times a day and at bedtime. The physician should be consulted relative to treatment.

The Apostle Peter compares the importance of our baptism to Noah's Ark, wherein "eight souls were saved by water. The like figure whereunto baptism doth also now save us, not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God." I Pet. 3:20. We see that the washing or dipping of the body in water is not what saves us, but it is our obedience to a definite command. We must admit that the commandment to be baptized should be obeyed the same as all other commandments. (See I John 2:4, 5.)

This commandment of the Lord, which is a symbol of the burial and resurrection of Christ, marks our death to sin and resurrection to the Christian life and Eternal Life, provided, of course, that we continue in the "strait and narrow way which leads unto life."

Baptism, according to the Apostle Peter's sermon on Pentecost, is "for the remission of sins;" Acts 2:38., it is the act of being transferred from the world of sin into the body of Christ, or the Church of Christ, as shown by these words: "For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ, have put on Christ." Gal. 3:27.

PICTURE ON STATE PARKS

Long demanded by Hoosier nature lovers, a professional motion picture of Indiana's state park system soon will be available for distribution, Indiana Department of Conservation officials announced today.

The film, being taken with both sound and color, is in production through cooperation with Indiana University. Two widely experienced men from the school's audio-visual center were assigned to the task—cameraman Sol Dworkin and script writer Harold Otwell—and several members of the Department of Conservation have been assisting in the non-technical work.

The project was begun last winter while there was snow at Pokagon, and it ended with the famous fall foliage in Brown county, making possible a film of year around activity, at the state parks. Although the actual camera work is completed, the picture is far from finished, and no requests are being accepted. When distribution becomes possible, an announcement will be made by the Indiana Department of Conservation.

WYOMING RANCHER TO RECEIVE SKELLY AWARD

Herbert Livingston, Weston County, Wyo., rancher and soil conservation leader, will be honored with the W. G. Skelly Agriculture Award on This Farming Business, Saturday, October 25 (NBC-Split, 7:00 am. CST).

Livingston will be cited for his untiring efforts to save and improve the soil, thus building up a larger food production in line with recommendations by the Department of Agriculture. His ranch of 2,160 acres has a system of flood irrigation ditches and spreader dams. He employs improved feed and crop practices and has offered his land as a demonstration place for government soil conservationists.

The ranch's main industry is beef cattle, of which 100,000 pounds are sold annually. Livingston raises 100 tons of hay yearly for winter feed. His interests lie not only within his own fences, however, as he is a state leader in progressive agriculture, acting as vice-president of the Wyoming Farm Bureau and in other capacities in county farm organizations.

SUGAR OUTLOOK FOR 1948 MIGHTY SWEET

"The bureau of agricultural economics had something to say about the world sugar situation this week," reported Ken Gapen, of the U. S. Department of agriculture, on a recent National Farm and Home Hour broadcast (NBC, Saturdays, 12:00 noon CST).

"Sugar supplies for the United States have a prospect of being even larger in '48 than in '47. A year ago, sugar supplies were averaging 75 pounds a person in this country . . . now around 95 pounds a person," he said.

NO OPEN SEASON ON PHEASANTS

Ring-necked pheasants will get a rest in Indiana this year.

John H. Nigh, director of the Indiana Department of Conservation, today announced "after thorough investigation" that there will be no open season this fall for the pursuit of cock or hen pheasants of any species. The law provides for an open season each year unless the Director of the Department exercises his discretionary power. Nigh said his action is based on the fact that "all species of pheasants are being depleted throughout the state and are being threatened with extermination." The decision was advertised publicly, and the required hearing was held.

In 1946 there was a six-day open season on pheasants, November 11 through November 16, between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. The bag limit was two with a possession limit of four.

Big Tractor Market

The American tractor market is estimated at 4,500,000 farms, of which many already have replaced their horses with tractors. The number of tractors on farms is expected to reach three million by 1950.

PLANS ARE COMPLETED FOR LIONS HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Many Cash Prizes Offered In Costume Parade. Evening Program to Include Many Interesting Features.

Members of the Mentone Lions club have been busy this week making final arrangements for the big Hallowe'en party to be held in Mentone on Friday evening, Oct. 31st. Electric service wires have been erected to supply the lights and current necessary to light up their "midway" and provide illumination for the parade and other events on the program.

Cash prizes have been set up for ten classifications in the masked parade, with a grand prize of $10.00 going to the best costumed entertaining group.

There are two tap dancing numbers, a musical group, Lions quartette, etc. to supply a portion of the entertainment, in addition to the parade. The parade will form at the Robert Reed and Leroy Cox intersection of Main street at eight o'clock.

The midway will be located on No. Broadway, between the post office and the drug store where bingo, concession and eat stands, etc. will be located.

Everyone is hoping for nice weather as a large attendance is expected. Everyone is invited to join in the fun—or stand on the sidelines and watch the others.

FARMS CHANGE HANDS

Considerable activity has been noted in the exchange of farm ownership just southwest of town the past few days.

The Win Warner farm has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Clingenhagen, of Akron, Ohio. Mr. Clingenhagen is on the police force in Akron and his wife, the former Letha Jenkins, is a cousin to Mrs. Herschel Nellans.

Negotiations are in progress for the sale of the Frank Warren farm to Herschel Teel, of Mishawaka.

Bob Saemann reported Saturday evening that he had contracted to purchase the Robert Reed farm at the south edge of Mentone.

FIVE INJURED IN HEAD-ON AUTO CRASH TUESDAY

Five persons were more or less seriously injured Tuesday evening when two cars collided head-on at the bridge on highway 19 north of Mentone.

The Devon Cain auto, coming south while returning from a shopping trip to Plymouth, met a car driven by a Mr. Felix of Plymouth. Vision in the early darkness was reduced due to the rain that had been falling.

Injured were Mrs. Melvin Cain and her daughter, Mrs. Eugene Sarber, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Devon Cain and her three year old daughter, riding in the Cain car, and Mr. Felix. The Johns ambulance was called to the scene, but as he was unable to transport all the injured, the little unconscious girl was placed in an auto and taken to a Mentone physician and instructions were given to call the Reed ambulance at Mentone and the Beigh ambulance of Bourbon. The roadway was blocked by the wrecked cars on the bridge, and the injured were taken to different hospitals.

Reports late Wednesday afternoon indicated that the young child, in the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester, was the most seriously injured, having a possible skull fracture. Mrs. Eugene Sarber, also at Woodlawn, was able to be up some Wednesday but had several broken teeth.

Mrs. Devon Cain, mother of the small child, of Burket, is in the Murphy medical center at Warsaw with bruises on her face and severe lacerations on her knee and leg.

Mrs. Melvin Cain, who was badly cut about the face and head, is in the McDonald hospital at Warsaw.

Mr. Felix suffered fractures in both the upper and lower jaws and he was taken to another hospital by his wife. It was reported she was in the car

ALLEN NELSON DIES AFTER LINGERING ILLNESS TUESDAY

Allen Nelson, 90, a retired farmer, who had resided all his life in this vicinity, died at 4:30 a. m. Tuesday at the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester, where he was admitted Sunday for treatment. He had been in failing health for the past four years and became seriously ill due to complications.

The deceased was born in Fulton county January 11, 1857, the son of William and Maria (Pentecost) Nelson. He was married to Minnie Garwood September 21, 1878. He resided in Fulton county until he retired from farming about 27 years ago and moved to Mentone. Since the death of Mrs. Nelson in 1943 he had resided with his daughter, Mrs. Clarence Leininger, south of Mentone.

Other surviving relatives include three sons, Amasa, of Mentone; Don, of Argos, and William T., of California; 11 grandchildren; 22 great-grandchildren; two brothers, Thomas Nelson, of Warsaw, and Ora Nelson, of Logansport; four sisters, Mrs. Fred Swick, of Mentone; Mrs. Emma Nellans, of Tippecanoe; Mrs. Ed Hagans, of Elkhart, and Mrs. Cora Johnson, of Dallas, Texas.

Funeral services will be held at two o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Johns funeral home. Lloyd Boyll, pastor of the Mentone Church of Christ, of which Mr. Nelson was a member, will officiate. Burial will be in the local cemetery.

with him when the accident occurred and was not injured but this report has not been verified.

Next Tuesday is again election day for Indiana, cities—the day when the citizens make their choice of the people who are to be entrusted with the business affairs of the town for the ensuing four years.

The selection of capable officials is a matter of considerable importance and citizens should cast their ballots only after careful study.

Political parties have an important part to play in our Nation, but when the affairs of a small community are considered, qualifications should be of more importance than party affiliation.

The candidates for Mentone are:

Trustee First Ward—

Mervin Jones, Republican

Dale Tucker, Democrat.

Trustee Second Ward—

Donald J. VanGilder, Republican.

Merl H. Linn, Democrat.

Trustee Third Ward—

Miles L. Manwaring, Republican

Cloice Paulus, Democrat.

Clerk-Treasurer—

Mrs. Howard Shoemaker, Republican.

Mahlon O. Mentzer, Democrat.

PORTION OF NEW RAILROAD FLASHERS NOW IN OPERATION

The new railroad flasher signals at the Nickle Plate crossing on West Main street were placed in operation Tuesday forenoon. The South Broadway signals are ready to operate when the lights arrive and work is progressing on the crossing at the west edge of Mentone.

The Main street crossing signals use a total of 24 red lights, and with those necessary at the other two crossings, over 40 lights will be used in Mentone.

We have requested information as to the cost of the new protective lights and hope to have it for our readers in the very near future. In the meantime, what is your guess as to what the cost will be? Three thousand, five, ten or fifteen thousand?

CHECK AUTO FOR WINTER

A reminder to motorists that prompt conditioning of their car for cold weather is essential to driving safety. Convenience and economy was delivered recently by Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club.

The urgency of prompt winterizing is increased by the average of cars, now nine years, but other car owners should remember that their vehicles are not immune to the rigors of cold weather. The club's emergency road service reports indicate that 8 percent of service calls last winter were from owners of 1946 and 1942 models. 22 percent of repeat cold weather calls were to service 1941 cars.

The motor club executive recommended a seven-point program of pre-winter precautions which motorists should see that competent mechanics or service station operators execute on their cars:

1. Check and adjust the fuel and ignition systems thoroughly, including distributor points, spark plugs, timing, carburetor, and fuel pump. Removal of engine pan to permit a cleaning along with fuel pump screws and air cleaners is advisable.

2. Test battery for full charge; clean, repair, or replace terminals and deteriorated cables.

3. Drain and flush the cooling system; check hose connections, fan belt and thermostat before adding standard brand anti-freeze solution.

4. Change to lightweight engine oil and gear grease.

Driving safety demands particular attention to the following items in winterizing cars.

5. Close scrutiny of the exhaust system for defects which might be fatal sources of deadly carbon monoxide gas: blown out gaskets, loose manifold and exhaust connection, and holes in mufflers and exhaust pipes. The carbon monoxide peril increases with the age of cars, which now average nine years.

6. Check brakes, steering wheel, wheel alignment and tires.

7. Be sure that windshield wipers operate efficiently enough to carry heavy loads of sleet and ice.

Mechanical conditioning for winter safety and economy should be supplemented by two practices: (1) to prevent frozen fuel lines add eight ounces of pure grain alcohol to each full tank of gasoline, and (2) carry a shovel and box of salt, sand, cinders, or ashes as starting aids in icy streets, ruts, or curbs. Heavy waxing minimizes the danger of corrosive action by the salt on chromium parts of the car.

LAMBING OFF CORN

"Lambing off" corn is another way to clean up the corn field during fall and winter months. Experiments have indicated that lambs harvest soft ear corn in the field very efficiently without showing any signs of digestive disturbances, Purdue University animal husbandrymen report. At the same time, however, several experiments have indicated that young lambs are susceptible to injury from moldy corn and add that it may be fed with more safety to older sheep. It must be kept in mind that not all samples of moldy corn are safe for sheep, and since one is not able to tell by appearance of spoiled corn whether or not it is dangerous, there is always considerable reason for caution in using moldy corn.

Use of Paper Containers

Although developed in 1906, little use was made of paper containers for milk until about 1935. The advantages of the paper containers are that they relieve the storekeeper of the chore of handling empty bottles and refunding deposits. They also weigh less than glass bottles and take up less space. A 12 bottle case of milk in glass containers weighs 61.5 pounds, while 12 bottles in paper containers weigh only 32.5 pounds. A truck of 1.5 tons capacity can carry 120 cases of milk in glass or 300 cases in paper. They also require less refrigeration and use less refrigerator space.

"Just Twice the Best Corn—"

Indiana Farmer Gets Double Yield From DeKalb

Kenneth Le Master, of Portland, Route 1, planted 20 acres of a hybrid which he had used before, and because of the wet spring, he became discouraged with his prospects for a good crop—so much so that he replanted 4 acres to DeKalb 404A. And here's what he says, "8 rows of my DeKalb made a bigger load than 16 rows of the other corn. DeKalb is just twice the best corn—that's all. I'd been ahead if I had torn up all the other corn and replanted the whole field to DeKalb 404A." He says his 404A got ripe sooner than the other corn which was planted 3 weeks earlier.

Guernsey Breeder Saves Crop with Early DeKalb

O. M. Miller of Route 1, Rochester, Indiana, is another fine Pure-bred Guernsey Breeder that believes in good corn and good dairy animals. And that combination has been profitable for Mr. Miller. This year Mr. Miller was "up a stump" because of the late, wet spring—but early varieties of DeKalb saved the day for him. He planted DeKalb 45C on May 26 and it was ready for cribbing on October 15. He says his DeKalb corn crop this year would almost pay for his land.

Drives 400 Miles in Vain

"When I knew we had to have some early corn last spring," says Claude Tribolet of Route 2, Roanoke, Indiana, I drove 400 miles into Michigan looking for it." He didn't get it, but he did look up his DeKalb dealer and bought DeKalb 240 and 404A from him. And he says, "I'm not a bit sorry. My DeKalb is almost 100 percent made—a good yield and good standing." Mr. Tribolet still has 14 bushels of a late competitive hybrid in his attic. He says, "I've bought DeKalb again for next year so that's your answer as to whether or not I like it."

More Men Suicides

The increase in suicidal tendency was more pronounced among men than women last year. For the first quarter of 1946 alone, the death rate from suicide was more than one-third above that for the like period of 1945, when the country was still at war; among white males the increase was more than 50 per cent; while among white females, it was only 10 per cent, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica. The death rate from suicide for each of the first 11 months of 1946 was well above the corresponding rate for 1945. For the year as a whole, the increase amounted to 14 per cent.

OUTDOOR Notes

By Joe Austell Small

Geez! What a Buck!

The number of points in a deer's antlers has little or nothing to do with its age, as the animal's health, food supply and other factors determine how big its horns are to be during any year of its life. Thus, often old bucks grow spikes while some young ones have been known to strut forth with 78-prong antlers.

They Call it Charity

The following is old, but so is good wine.

Fox hunter: "Say, Louis, dey tell me you vas a charity man. You nefer did a charity in your life, nefer did you gif a cent to anybody."

Quail Hunter: "Vell, iss dis so? You lissen to me now. Yestiday I was standing in front of de t'ater ven a lady with a baby kum along, both of dem crying, so I ask, 'Lady, vats de matter?' She say: 'Mine baby iss sick and i got no money for a doctor'. 'Vell, vell, dass all right, here iss fife dollar to take baby to a doctor; he will charge two dollar and I wait here for the change.' After a vile she come back and gifs it me de change—three dollar. Vell, iss she happy; so iss de baby happy coz she feel better. Also de doctor iss happy, he got a new patient. And me? Vell, I am happy too for de fife dollar bill vas counterfeit!"

Turtle Riddance

You can rid a pond of turtles by putting out floating set-lines. You attach a thin copper wire, long enough to reach to within a few inches of the pond, to an air-tight can. Then you fasten a strong hook, baited with fish or meat, to the end of the wire and set the can afloat. Even the large turtles will find that they can't get away from these floaters or break the wire — a feat they can accomplish easily when it is attached to anything solid.

Stinging Appetite

Skunks sometimes eat bees. They thump their feet at the entrance of hives and eat the bees as they emerge. Skunks have been known to kill a hive of bees, working after dark.

Tape a Look at This

Prickly pear or any other small, hard to get-hold-of cactus stickers can easily be removed with adhesive tape. Press a piece of tape firmly over the stickers, then remove. The stickers will come off with the tape.

It's the Man Who Pays

At least to begin with, it's the man who pays among Mohammedans. Payment by the husband to the wife of a sum of money, or other lawful and material consideration, as his dower, is a necessary feature of a Mohammedan marriage.

METHODS FOR STORING

HICKORY, WALNUT MEATS

If access is to be had to a nut bearing hickory or walnut tree, there is a way to prevent any of those delicious nut meats from going to waste, Miss Lois Oberhelman, extension nutrition specialist at Purdue University, says. Under this method, nut meats may be kept the year around and prevented from developing a rancid or "stale" taste.

First, get the entire family busy picking out nut meats. Hickory nuts crack more easily if they are soaked in boiling water 24 hours. The next step in canning the nut meats, Miss Oberhelman says, is to heat and dry them in the oven. Spread them out in a thin layer in a shallow pan and heat for 30 minutes in a slow oven (250 F). Stir every 10 minutes.

Have half-pint or pint jars clean, dry and hot. Fill the jars with the hot nut meats and seal carefully, following the directions for the particular type of jar top, and then process in either the boiling water bath or in the steam pressure canner.

For the boiling water bath, have enough water in the canner to come up two inches on the outside of the jars. Put the lid on the canner. Bring water to boil and process 30 minutes. Remove the jars from water and at once complete the seal on the jar if necessary. allow to cool and store in a cool, dry dark place.

In the steam pressure canner, Miss Oberhelman says, the water should come up about an inch on the outside of the jars. Put on the canner lid and exhaust steam and air from the cooker for 10 minutes. Close the petcock and bring steam pressure up to five pounds, processing for ten minutes. Turn off to remove the heat and at once remove the pressure by opening the petcock. When the pressure is zero, open the cooker, remove the jars and at once complete seal if necessary. Allow the jars to cool and then store in a cool, dry, dark place.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore, who are sixty-seven years of age, are the parents of two sons and two daughters: William G. Moore of Sacramento, Cal., N. C. Moore, of Akron, Mrs. Zelda Bell of Rochester, and Mrs. Harold Nelson of Mentone; and they have nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Moore, the former Cora M. Zechiel, daughter of George and Jennie (Stamm) Zechiel of Culver, and Mr. Moore were united in marriage Oct. 23, 1897, at the Methodist parsonage in Culver, Ind., by the Rev. F. G. Howard. Mr. Moore, who was born in Fulton county and spent practically all of his life here, represents one of the oldest families in Fulton county. He is now serving his second term as county recorder. Mr. and Mrs. Moore resided in Akron for around 30 years, where he worked in the hardware.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore state they are extremely grateful that thus far no death in their immediate family has marred their half-century of wedded life.

DISPLAYS OLD NEWSPAPER

Ray Dillingham has placed an old Tri-County Gazette on display in the post office. The paper is 32 years old and carries the date line of March 25, 1915.

On the front page appear the obituaries of Mrs. Elizabeth Kinzel (grandmother to Mr. Dillingham), Mrs. Abe Mollenhour, and Uncle Henry Haimbaugh.

In a grocery ad for Teel Brothers the following items and prices are listed: bananas, 15c a dozen; oranges, 25c a dozen; lemons, 25c a dozen; lettuce, 16c per pound; fancy apples, 25c per dozen; cabbage, 2c per pound; honey, 20c per cake; English walnuts, 20c per pound.

Several other interesting articles appear. The paper will be on display for several days.

RETURN FROM EASTERN TOUR

Mr. and Mrs. George Mollenhour returned on Sunday from a three-day tour of Washington, D. C.

They made the trip with a group of over 300 people who are Home Economics Club, Rural Youth or Farm Bureau members from Indiana and Ohio. There were only three couples from Kosciusko county. The group left Plymouth last Wednesday evening at 5:05 and arrived in Washington, D. C. at 9:30 Thursday morning. While there they saw the most interesting places. They report ideal weather during the entire trip, and are enthused over a prospective tour to New York next year.

HEAR FROM PACKAGES SENT TO EUROPE

Some time ago the members of the Church of Christ packaged and sent some 700 pounds of clothing to destitute families in Czechoslovakia. These packages were sent directly to the needy families, through information given the congregation by one of their ministers who had been in Europe and had first hand knowledge of affairs.

To date between 12 and 15 letters of gratitude have been received by Lloyd Boyll. These are, for the most part, written in Hungarian, several of them coming from mothers whose husbands were lost in battle or in prison camps. One letter said that even a crust of bread would be received gladly.

YOUNG ADULT CLASS MEETS

The Young Adult Fellowship of the Methodist church met Friday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Paul Irwin. A pot-luck supper was served. Later, singing and games were enjoyed.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Teel, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parker and daughter Patty, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Breeden and son Lynn, Dr. and Mrs. Don VanGilder and daughters Donna Kay and Martha Ann, Mrs. Herschel Teel and sons Larry and Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Denton Abbey, Paul Rush, and the host and hostess, Rev. and Mrs. Paul Irwin and family.

HAS EXHIBIT AT STATE MEDICAL MEET

Scientific exhibits are an important part of any medical convention, and the annual session of the Indiana State Medical Association, which is being held at French Lick this week, is no exception. At these exhibits clinics and individual physicians prepare charts, diagrams, x-rays, etc., to illustrate new developments in treatment and diagnosis.

At French Lick this week there are two exhibits on the use of streptomycin in tuberculosis, one from the Mayo Clinic, the other from the Veterans Administration in Washington. Dr. Wiseman, of Ohio State, has an exhibit on blood diseases, the Caylor-Nickel clinic one on heart disease. The Mayo Clinic has a demonstration on one phase of the treatment of arthritis, while Doctors Trusler and Bauer of Indianapolis are showing new methods in plastic surgery. In all, there are 13 exhibits, one of which has been prepared by Dr. Dan Urschel, his subject being: Heart Symptoms in Chronic Brucellosis. He has prepared charts showing the methods of diagnosing this troublesome condition, the manner in which it sometimes resembles heart disease, and the other diseases which cause similar symptoms.

FARM NEWS

Farmers have stored huge amounts of wheat. Reports in Kansas indicate that "75% of the terminal receipts are being ordered into storage by farmers." Some may be doing this to spread their income into next year, but others are holding for a price rise such as that which has occurred in each of the last 8 years.

Farmers interested in removing stumps from their fields will find saltpeter will help them do the job. The saltpeter is most effective when applied in the summer or fall. It should be placed in the center of the stump in a hole from one to one and one-half inches in diameter and about 18 inches deep. After putting one to one and one-half ounces of saltpeter in the hole, it is then filled with water and plugged tight. In the spring the plug is taken out and about 10 ounces of kerosene is poured into the hole and ignited. The stump will smoulder away, without blazing, to the very extremities of the roots, leaving nothing but ashes.

Unused treated oats, wheat and flax can be planted next year. Thousands of bushels of chemically treated oats, wheat and flax that could not be planted throughout the central west this spring because of adverse weather need not be lost. Du Pont plant pathologists advise that the disinfected seed can be carried over and planted next year, if properly stored and handled. "Treated seed should not under any circumstances, be fed to poultry or other livestock," they declare.

Spraying cattle with DDT means more meat. Cattle growers obtained about 50 pounds of extra beef per animal for every five cents worth of DDT used to control horn flies, according to cooperators who conducted numerous spraying and dipping tests in Kansas during the past 2 summers. Based on these estimates, the loss of beef in Kansas alone due to horn-fly injury amounts to more than 85 million pounds annually, which would be worth approximately $8.5 million to the grower when figured at 10 cents a pound, according to Dr. E. W. Laake, USDA entomologist, who supervised the tests.

Lespedeza hay in a feeding test at Purdue University in 1946 was found to be more valuable for promoting growth and fattening in yearling steers than mixed clover-timothy hay. The steers receiving lespedeza hay as the principal dry roughage in a fattening ration made 19 pounds more gain per head for a feeding period of 154 days than those getting the clover-timothy roughage.

FOUR STEPS TO TAKE

(Concluded)

We have learned from the scriptures that "With the heart man believeth UNTO righteousness;" (Rom. 10:10), that God "granted repentance UNTO life;" (Acts 11:18), that "with the mouth confession is made UNTO salvation;" (Rom. 10:10), that finally we are "Baptized INTO Christ," (Gal. 3:27), or into Christ's body, the Church.

The primary issue involved in Christian baptism is that of the Lordship of Jesus. Jesus commanded immersion of penitent believers for the remission of sins. When one accepts Jesus as Lord and understands what he has commanded, the question of baptism is settled. "If ye love me, keep my commandments." (John 14:15)

When Jesus said, "Except a man be born of water and of the spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God" (John 3:5), he was impressing the fact that a man must be completely converted before the new birth into God's kingdom can be effected. All these four steps are necessary, including obedience to the command to be baptized in water, in order that the spiritual birth may be complete; that he may be a "newcreature" eligible to "receive the gift of the Holy Spirit" (Acts 2:38), and be "added to the Church" (Acts 2:47) by the Lord as one who has been saved. "Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and enter in through the gates into the city." (Rev. 22:14).

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

The peak of poliomyelitis in Indiana for this year has probably been reached with the onset of cooler weather, according to the Indiana State Board of Health which revealed today that the incidence of the disease so far this year fell considerably below the number reported for a comparable period in 1946.

The decline is in line with this year's national decline in poliomyelitis cases.

Since January 1, the number of poliomyelitis reported by Indiana health officers to the State Board of Health was 207 as compared to 337 cases reported for 1946, a decrease of 130 cases.

The total reported cases for the United States to October 11, is 8,442 as compared with 20,686 for the same period last year. The five year median is 10,845 for this period.

The number of cases reported so far for October is 28 which equals the ten-year average for the month.

Poliomyelitis deaths in Indiana this year fell below the number recorded for the same period a year ago. Seven deaths occurred between January 1, and September 1, 1947. In 1946, fifteen deaths took place during that time.

Aid to Perspiration

Curry, one of the oldest condiments known to man, is used in practically every meal eaten by the 320 million inhabitants of India, rich or poor. Because of India's tropical climate, natives air-condition themselves by eating a perspiration-inducing condiment. Curry causes them to perspire, making the surrounding hot air feel cool in comparison with their skins.

OBTAIN RAT BAIT NOW FROM COUNTY AGENTS

Corn, or any other grain, placed in rat infested storage is subject to an enormous amount of rat damage which should not be tolerated, warns Milton Caroline of the rodent control office of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service at Purdue University.

Farmers should make an attempt to control rats on their premises before the corn crop is brought in from the fields. Many Indiana county agents are aiding in this campaign to reduce rat damage to grain by providing red squill for distribution this fall. The county agents obtain the bait through the rodent control office at the university.

The amount of corn eaten, destroyed or tainted by rats on Indiana farms is worth almost one and a quarter million dollars at present day prices. This does not include the cost of property damage, spoilage of food other than corn, and poultry losses.

All farmers will profit by taking advantage of this service and participating in the rat bait distribution campaign. Killing rats at the same time the work is being done on neighboring farms means prevention of rat migration, and consequently better control, reminds the rodent specialist.

Individual effort is good; community effort is better, Caroline points out.

CARELESSNESS KILLS HUNTERS

Fourteen persons were killed and 17 seriously injured in hunting accidents during the past 12 months, Indiana Department of Conservation officials announced today.

Henry P. Cottingham, director of the Pittman-Robertson Wildlife Habitat Restoration project, who annually compiles these statistics, declared "the totals are extremely high for a state like Indiana where no big game is hunted. In a state where there is an open season on deer, that period alone might account for six or eight deaths, but most of our fatalities seem to be caused simply by carelessness with guns."

Casualties included the loss of one foot, one hand, one arm and an eye. Probably the most freakish accident took place when a Bloomington sportsman was crushed to death by a boulder which a rabbit had been using for a hiding place. An aviator was killed and his passenger injured while pursuing foxes in an airplane near Kempton.

Cottingham considered it "significant" that six of the recorded deaths involved men under the age of 25. One ten-year-old lost his life.

Hunting was only indirectly responsible for several of the casualties. The figures must be classed as minimum Cottingham pointed out for they were taken from newspaper records, which are almost certain to be incomplete.

5-ACRE CORN CONTEST JUDGING IS UNDERWAY

The annual official yield check-up of more than 2,000 corn growers enrolled in Indiana's famed Five-acre Corn Club to determine the state corn growing champion is now underway in some 80 counties. This information comes from M. O. Pence, Purdue University extension agronomist, who is chairman of the committee in charge of annual contest.

Yields are being determined by 19 experienced judges working with county agents and volunteer workers in cooperation with Purdue University and the Indiana Corn Growers' Association. This contest, which was started in 1914, has been a strong factor in bringing many national corn growing championships to Indiana and in improving corn yields on thousands of Hoosier farms.

Last year the state corn championship was won by Robert Swaim of Parke county with a yield of 174.4 bushels per acre. Mr. Swaim is enrolled again this year, but hundreds of other growers are competing for this coveted award, and according to past records, a new champion is always in prospect.

Despite the unfavorable season resulting from delayed planting and cool weather in early summer, Indiana farmers are expected to have the highest average corn yield of any corn belt state. It is rare for all parts of the state to have equally unfavorable weather, says Pence. Some parts of the state are reporting the best corn in many years. It is quite possible that last year's mark may be exceeded this year and a new champion crowned corn king.

Those who are serving as Five-acre judges are as follows: Richard Newlon, Salem; Alfred Bartelt, Huntington; George Murray, Washington; F. E. Shaw, Holton; George Prifogle, Brookville; Jesse Shields, Montpelier; W. A. Henry and Arthur Wyss, Fort Wayne; S. A. Marshall, LaGrange; Ralph Brubaker, Leesburg; Andrew Carson and Andrew Radell, Peru; Lloyd Zook, Delphi; O. C. Musselman and William Waltz, Arcadia; James Covert, Franklin; Howard Harvey, Mt. Summit; John Andreanopolos, Princeton; and Elmer Wheeler, Westfield.

Peanuts and Soybeans
In 1933 the production of peanuts in the United States about equaled that of soybeans. By last year peanut production had increased 300 per cent and soybean production about 1,500 per cent.

The season of fires has arrived. Burning off fields and gardens starts many fires, besides damaging the top soil. Rural people should avoid burning debris in windy dry weather; fires easily get beyond control in this way, and may spread to adjoining woodlands, Purdue University foresters warn.
