MRS. WILLIAM CREIGHTON DIES TUESDAY MORNING

Mrs. William (Myrtle) Creighton, aged 79 years, mother of Hobart Creighton, republican candidate for governor, died at ten o'clock Tuesday morning in the McDonald hospital at Warsaw, where she had been confined the past 10 weeks after suffering a broken hip in a fall at her home. The immediate cause of her death, however, was a heart attack.

The deceased, who lived with her husband one and one-half miles south of Atwood, was born in 1868, the daughter of Thomas J. and Rebecca Wright, of Stony Point. Her father, Thomas, was said to be the first white child born in Kosciusko county.

Surviving relatives are the husband; six children, Hobart Creighton, of near Warsaw; Mrs. Mildred Byrer, Warsaw; Russell Creighton, of near Warsaw; Mrs. Marjorie Eiler, Atwood; Charles Creighton, Atwood, and Kermit Creighton, Atwood; 21 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held in the Atwood Evangelical United Brethren church at three o'clock Thursday afternoon, with Rev. I. E. Longenbaugh officiating.

Hobart Creighton, who has been busy with his campaign for governor, cancelled a number of his engagements when death came to his mother.

THE LOST IS FOUND

Just read an account of a man in Hanover, N. H., who found his Masonic ring, which had been lost for 11 years, when he stepped out the door in his house slippers and felt a sharp pain—and there was the ring under his foot.

This incident runs parallel to our own local story in that our local man lost his Masonic ring this week. He was certain (?) that he had put his ring in his pocket before shaving, but couldn't find it there.

This man had, on Monday evening, housed a couple of hundred pullets, and on Tuesday morning, while removing the first eggs from the nest, discovered his ring in the nest with the eggs.

(Better have that ring cut down to fit, Vance.)

ORDERS FOR BABY TREES NOW BEING TAKEN BY STATE

Orders now are being taken by the Indiana Department of Conservation's Division of Forestry for young trees to be planted next spring.

As a part of Indiana's expanded reforestation program, a record-breaking number of trees was sold from the state nurseries this spring and a further gain is expected in 1949. This year's sales approximated five million, while Department of Conservation officials are planning to ship out six million young trees next spring.

The following species are available:

black locust, tulip poplar, soft maple, jack pine, red pine, white pine, Scotch pine, Austrian pine and Chinese arborvitae. Shortleaf pine and Virginia pine will be sold for planting only south of U. S. Highway 40, and stratified walnuts also are available.

State Forester Ralph Wilcox pointed out that applicants for trees must comply with the following regulations: the trees must be planted only in rural sections of Indiana for woodlot, windbreak, erosion control or reforestation purposes; no trees are to be used for ornamental or shade purposes and none is to be resold. The purchaser must also agree to protect the trees and the planting areas from fire, livestock and trespass.

Persons applying for trees are requested not to send any money until they have received the invoice. Then, prompt payment is recommended, as the paid orders will receive first chance for the available supply. Foresters will try to inspect all areas where orders call for more than 500 trees.

Application blanks for young trees may be obtained from county agents and district extension foresters. They also are available at the State Forester's office in the State Library Building at Indianapolis.

Shipping of the trees will not begin until the middle of next March.

If we haven't got what you want, ask us and we will see that you get it. Co-Op. Oil Station.

Dangerous Flame Heaters

Emergency operation of open flame gas and oil heaters brings a serious hazard into the home, engineers of the National Board of Fire Underwriters warn. During heavy snowstorms in the northeastern states, many deaths were caused by gas poisoning through use of unvented open flame heaters in tightly closed rooms. If a house is tightly closed or a room is small, the amount of oxygen in the room is gradually burned up, with the result that the products of combustion will contain high percentages of deadly carbon monoxide.

STATE NOW DISTRIBUTING FISH TO ALL COUNTIES

The annual distribution of fish to lakes and streams in every county of the state now is being made by the Indiana Department of Conservation.

Director John H. Nigh said approximately two million fish are being distributed this year from the state's fourteen hatcheries. He added that the department is stressing size and quality of fish, rather than numbers, in this year's planting. Investigation has disclosed that the rate of survival is far greater when the larger fish are transplanted, he said.

The species being distributed this year to Hoosier lakes and streams are large mouth bass, small mouth bass, Southern small mouth bass, crappies, blue gills, reed-ear sunfish, rock bass and channel catfish.

Distribution of the fish is handled by state hatchery personnel and the conservation officers of the various counties. The fish are taken directly from the hatcheries to the streams and lakes in tank trucks containing aerated water.

102 FILE S. S. CLAIMS IN LAST THREE MONTHS IN DISTRICT

"One hundred two wage earners, 65 years of age or over, in the three counties of Elkhart, LaGrange and Kosciusko, filed a claim for Old-Age and Survivors Insurance during the last three months," Gerald O. Kelver, manager of the Elkhart Social Security Administration field office, announced. "Not all of these workers are entitled to benefits at the present time,"

Mr. Kelver explained, "and the number filing during the last three months does represent a decrease from the 124 claims filed by the older workers during the three previous months."

"In addition to filing of these claims 39 wives, 65 years of age or older, whose husbands are entitled to old-age benefits filed their claims."

"Twenty six widows, both those 65 and over, and widows with children under 18 years of age in their care, filed their claims. Two dependent parents claims were received as well as eight claims on behalf of dependent children."

Fifty five applications were filed for the lump-sum benefit due on deceased wage earners' accounts. The lump-sum is a reimbursement for expenses incurred in burial.

"The number of claims filed during the last three months indicates a decrease in claims for monthly benefits over the previous three months, but the figures do reflect an increase in the number of death claims."

FIVE YEARS CONSERVATION IS DONE IN FIVE HOURS

How five years of conservation work was done in five hours on an Ionia county, Michigan, farm, is told in the current issue of Prairie Farmer. The farm, which belongs to William and Hampton Hayes, was an eroded 160 acres containing 15 open gullies.

In the five hours it took to transform the farm, 120 men used modern equipment to close the gullies, build sood waterways and water diversion terrace, also plow contour strips, which they disked, fertilized and seeded to wheat and brome grass. Fences were completely rebuilt on the contour.

13,000 persons witnessed the demonstrations and saw how to conserve the soil, as well as provide cover for wild life and establish non-pastured, productive woodland area.

THE LORD PRAYED

"Neither pray I for these alone, (his disciples) but for them also which shall believe on me through their word: That they all may be one, as thou Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me." (John 17:20-21).

How different this prayer of Christ than the prayers of so many who thank God for the division among professed Christians so that every man may have a church of his choice! Jesus not only prayed that all believers might be one, but he described the type of unity which should exist—even as he and his Father are one. They were one, not only in purpose, but in all things which they said and did to accomplish that aim. They were perfectly joined together in all particulars.

No wonder that Paul said, "Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment." I Cor. 1:10-11.

We can never unite on the theories, doctrines and creeds of man. Believers everywhere with nothing but the word of God in hand, can be joined in a unity approved of God.

INCLUDE FIRE SAFETY IN BUILDING PLANS

Hoosier farm folks are urged to observe Fire Prevention Week, proclaimed by President Truman, for October 3 to 9.

The 1947 fire loss occurring on farms of the entire country was $84,000,000 and represented 12 percent of the fire loss of the nation. The National Fire Protection Association says that if a few simple rules were observed carefully, nine out of every ten fires could be prevented and the statement holds true for both rural and urban areas.

Because hundreds of Indiana farmers intend to remodel or build houses, barns and other farm structures in the immediate future, I. D. Mayer, Purdue University extension agriculture engineer, stresses fire resistant construction and advises that structural defects in existing buildings be corrected.

Recommendations made by the engineers are:

1. Be certain that electric wiring is installed correctly and is of sufficient capacity for both present electrical equipment and for additional appliances which might be acquired in the future.
2. All chimneys should be provided with either masonry or metal flue liners. Chimney foundations should rest on the ground and woodwork should not touch the chimney at any place.
3. It is desirable to have fire stops in all walls to prevent flames from following an open path between the studding. The fire stop may either be fireproof material or thick lumber.

4. Wooden shingled roofs should be checked. If the shingles have begun to "cup" they will be a fire hazard. Hot cinders or ashes may be caught by the shingles, with a roof fire as the result.

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

The Indiana State Board of Health will provide speakers to 70 Farmers' Institutes sponsored from November to February by Purdue University in various Indiana rural communities, according to Malcolm Mason, health education specialist, Purdue University.

Last year the State Board of Health provided speakers for 113 of the 183 institutes and this year they will address the other 70 institutes.

"The greatest need in health work in the rural areas is the developig of health councils," Mr. Mason pointed out. "We have now only 85 rural health councils in thestate and many rural communities need this service. The health councils lead, plan and unite efforts in the carrying out of such projects as securing a public health nursing service for the community, or planning ways to provide the community with hospital facilities.

The council can also assist in the rural youth activities. There are approximately 90 youth groups with about 9,000 young people who have in their programs the promotion of health projects and education. We also need to improve the environment and health facilities for many of our rural schools. An active health council can promote these activities for the community," Mr. Mason concluded.

Calling all outdoorsmen

By JIM MITCHELL

Most of us at some time or the other have described a hunting buddy as "good all-round shot" and it always has been a mark of achievement in the gunning fraternity. But what constitutes a good all-round shot?

To find an answer to that question Henry P. Davis of the Remington Arms Company interviewed a number of sportsmen whose backgrounds in all phases of shooting qualified them to set up a standard for comparing gunners. And from the consensus it is apparent that many of us have been using the "good all-round shot" tag too loosely.

Mr. Davis found the sportsmen he interviewed differing slightly in a few cases, but by taking an average he came up with the following percentages that these men figured a gunner should have to do to qualify as a good all-round shot: at quail, 50% at pheasants, 70%; at grouse 35%; at woodcock, 50%; at ducks on pass or timber shooting, 50%; at ducks when shooting over decoys, 75%.

That's a pretty big order for most hunters to fulfill. Naturally, there are hunters who usually can score better than 50% on quail; others will beat the 70% on pheasants. But when you put them all together few gunners can boast such percentages.

Of course, in the strictest sense, to be classed as a good all-round shot you must be able to score well on target, skeet and trap ranges as well as in the field. The same men who set up the field standard were agreed that the following scores would qualify in competitive shootings: traps (16 yards) 46x50; skeet (all bore), 46x50; skeet (28 and 410 gauge), 42x50. For small bore rifle work the 20 shots at 50 yards and 20 shots at 100 yards, 390x400; for 30 calibre shooting off-hand at 200 yards, 44x50; rapid fire at 200 yards, 46x50. With a pistol shooting slow fire at 50 yards, 81x100; time fire at 25 yards, 92x100; rapid fire at 25 yards, 88x100.

Do you know any gunner that can qualify for both field and range work? Possibly you do, but they'll be few and far between.

It is fortunate, however, that all sportsmen don't count the merit of their outdoor sport by the scores they shoot and the game they bag. Most sportsmen have learned that it's a great thrill to follow along behind a pair of bird dogs or hunt in a duck blind with a retriever — even if the bag of game is small. And on the skeet,

Egg Show Next Week

The Mentone Free Egg Show, scheduled for Thursday and Friday, Oct. 21 and 22, in the Mentone Community Building, has as its prime purpose the promotion of the poultry industry in this part of Indiana. The greater benefits accrue to the producers in higher returns per dozen eggs, better markets for eggs and poultry and more economical and up to date production methods. The Egg Quality schools the morning of both days will have some of the nation's top poultrymen participating. The egg exhibit is promoted primarily to interest the younger folks in judging quality eggs and develop an interest in poultry.

Also, starting at 9:30 each morning will be demonstrations by leading Home Economics and 4-H Clubs of the entire county.

Friday afternoon, at 1:30, will be held an egg marketing and financing forum, with Dr. J. Holmes Martin, of Purdue University, in charge. Dr. Martin will be assisted by a number of prominent individuals in the industry. This forum is expected to be the beginning of a program that may play a great part in the future prosperity of the industry and its hundreds of producers.

The famous Akron Jonah club will serve some 700 guests at the annual banquet at seven o'clock Friday evening. The Mentone American Legion and the Jolly Janes Home Economics Clubs will assist in the serving. Following the dinner, Dr. E. I. Butz, head of the Department of Agricultural Economics of Purdue University, will speak on, "Everybody's Uncle."

PROGRESS OF HYBRID CHICKENS DISCUSSED

"Hybrid chickens — how soon, how good?" That's the big current poultry question which is asked, then answered by Prairie Farmer of October 9.

Conclusions reached by the front page story which was written by Ralph S. Yohe, farm service editor, are as follows:

A great deal of scientific skill, time and money are being spent to produce hybrid chickens, which are crosses of inbred lines. Some of them have proved to be excellent layers. They seem to be less temperamental about changes in feeding, weather, and management than purebreds. You can expect better hybrids in the future.

It is too early to say that all the chickens of the future will be hybrids. They will have to be clearly better than the best purebred strains to share the wide popularity of hybrid corn. At present we have little evidence that hybrids will lay more eggs than our best purebred strains under good management. Even if hybrid chicks do eventually take over, it will take several years.

Hybrids have brought to the poultry industry new emphasis on breeding. The hybrid breeder is interested only in the performance of his birds in his customers' flocks. The purebred breeder has frequently been more interested in contest records and high egg production of a few individuals.

In the future you will get better chicks, whether hybrids or purebreds, because of this new trend in thinking. The final test of any chick is how well the pullet lays in the farmer's hen-house and how well the broiler grows in the poultryman's plant.

HOOSIER BIRDS AND GAME PROTECTED IN 1,201 AREAS

Hoosier birds and animals are finding food and protection on nearly 7,000 acres of developed wildlife habitats, the Indiana Department of Conservation has announced.

H. P. Cottingham, in charge of the wildlife habitat development in Indiana — a Pittman-Robertson project started in 1941—reported that 1,201 areas totaling 6,826 acres now are un-

During the past four years 691,800 seedlings beneficial to wildlife have been planted in these game refuges and 9,770 pounds of early amber sorgum and lespedeza seeds used. More than 4,000 signs prohibiting hunting have been erected on these areas during that period.

Cottingham said a new fence contract system with the landowners was inaugurated two years ago, and that much better fences have been constructed more economically as a result. More than 6,600 rods of fence were placed around wildlife habitats in the past two years.

In addition to constantly expanding the wildlife refuge program, Cottingham's crew also inspected a large number of the older areas during the last 14 months. Game use was shown in 778 of the 867 areas visited.

Persons interested in establishing wildlife refuges on their farms may write Mr. Cottingham at the Indiana Department of Conservation in Indianapolis.

NEW WATER TANKER READY FOR SERVICE

The boys of the Mentone fire department have their new rural water tanker ready for service, and with a brand new paint job and a front-mounted booster pump, it looks as if it could do a swell job of fire-fighting itself. With its 2,000-gallon capacity it is one of the largest tankers in the area.

The boys took the new "wagon" to the fire show at Warsaw last week and created quite a sensation, we are told.

The boys in the Mentone department certainly put in a lot of time preparing for a good job of fire fighting, and really must love their work and responsibility. One would have to travel far to find a more enthusiastic and determined group of volunteer workmen.

The one human group which can be considered a "pure" race is probably the Andamanese, who inhabit the Andaman islands off the coast of Burma. These people have been isolated for a long period and until recently were not in contact with any other race.

TAKE IT EASY, HALLOWE'ENERS

Each year about this time your editor gets a lot of advice on what he should say to the Halloween pranksters. Usually we're told to get tough and tell the fun-makers, leaving the impression that I have some dictator ability.

That has never been our policy or attitude. I've almost always found the boys and girls—that is the average ones that ever want to make something of themselves—can have their Halloween fun without damaging property, molesting the old or sick, or resorting to any of the mean tricks that make bad names for themselves. We can't help the few bad characters. They usually have the idea they are tough eggs the same as Dillinger, Al Capone and some of the other men who died in misery because of their foolishness.

Have fun on Halloween, but don't make pests out of yourselves, boys and girls.

Undenominational Christianity

The Church of Christ not only is not a denomination, but one of its main aims is to promote undenominational Christianity. Members of the Church of Christ are Christians and only Christians, with no denominational or unscriptural name.

Not only is it a fact that Christ taught, worked and prayed for undenominational Christianity, but He also condemned all forms of division and denominationalism.

Undenominational Christianity is one of the greatest challenges in the world. The man who is serious and sincere in his religious convictions is interested in undenominational Christianity, because he knows that it is the Christian way of life. The Lord never intended that the Church, which is His body, be divided into many different denominations.

The great need of the hour is real Christianity. We look upon the Church of our Lord as some institution, when we should think of it as the body of Christ. We who claim to be members of this body should dedicate our lives in the interest of peace, harmony, and unity among the Lord's people.

The true Christian is willing to do all that he can to promote undenominational Christianity, in an attempt to answer Christ's prayer for unity, to the end that the world might believe that God sent Him into the world.

WELCOME TO THE CHURCH OF CHRIST

NEXT STATE PARK TO BE LOCATED IN EASTERN INDIANA

With most of the land acquired, preliminary work may be started soon on Indiana's newest park—Whitewater Memorial—in Union county.

This new recreational center for Eastern Indiana will contain 1,512 acres of rugged, wooded terrain between Liberty and Dunlapville, according to John H. Nigh, director of the Indiana Department of Conservation. The entrance will be off State Highway 101.

Practically all of the acreage has been acquired by the Whitewater Memorial State Park Association and a joint county park board—organizations composed of Union, Wayne, Franklin and Fayette county citizens. George Harris of Liberty, heads the association.

The land will be turned over to the Conservation Department upon completion of the acquisition. Kenneth Coughlin, state parks director, announced that Whitewater Memorial will be developed along the lines of other major state parks.

One feature will be a 195-acre lake created by damming Silver Creek, a tributary of the East Fork of Whitewater river. State engineers, now designing this dam, hope to seek construction bids in time to permit the start of some work before the year ends.

Whitewater Memorial park, 16th in the state system, is another step in the Conservation department's long range plan to provide a state park within 35 to 50 miles of every Hoosier resident.

It will be the first to stem from a new Indiana law which permits adjoining counties to share in raising money for acquisition of land for state park purposes. Each county's share is in proportion to the amount of its taxable property in relation to that of the other participating counties.

A few miles south of this new state park site, the Conservation department is proceeding with another project—the Whitewater Canal State Memorial—which calls for the restoration of this historic old canal between Laurel and Brookville. The old wooden aqueduct, which formerly carried canal waters across a stream at Metamora, is being reconstructed as a part of this project.

CISCO SEASON OPENS NOV. 1; RULES ARE LISTED

The season for the taking of cisco—a land-locked herring found in northern Indiana lakes—opens Nov. 1 and closes Dec. 31.

A few regulations connected with the netting of cisco were announced by the Indiana Department of Conservation, as follows:

(1) A special $2 licence, obtainable at the department's Fish and Game Division in Indianapolis, is required to take cisco; (2) The nets used must not exceed 150 feet in length nor be of a mesh less than 1½ inches; (3) Only gill nets can be used; (4) No person may have more than one such net in his possession; (5) The nets shall not be used in water more than fifteen feet in depth; (6) Persons catching cisco must strip the fish of milt and spawn and return this matter to the waters from which the cisco was taken. There is no bag limit.

TALMA RESIDENT DIES IN WOODLAWN

Mentone Egg Show to Open Thursday

PLANS COMPLETE FOR TWO DAY AFFAIR HERE

The officials of the 1948 Mentone Egg Show announce on the eve of the opening of this year's event, that they have everything in readiness to accommodate the visitors to the various sessions scheduled.

First events Thursday will be the Egg Quality School and the Home Demonstration Clubs demonstrations, which start at 9:30 in the morning. Entering of egg exhibits will also start during the morning. In the afternoon the demonstrations will continue, and there will be an educational tour for those interested in the poultry industry. Thursday evening Jack Kurkowski and his xylophone band will give an evening's entertainment, and then the selection of the 1948 egg queen will be made. Ten young ladies from as many high schools are entered.

Friday morning at 9:30 the Quality school will continue and the 4-H clubs will present a number of demonstrations. Following the noon luncheon, served by the Home Economics ladies, there will be an egg marketing and financing forum with Dr. J. Holmes Martin, of Purdue, in charge.

The annual banquet session is set for seven o'clock Friday evening, with the famous Akron Jonah Club preparing the fish dinner. The Mentone Jolly James Home Economics club is assisting in food preparation and the Mentone American Legion boys will do the serving. Clold Swartz will supply the chamber music.

Starting at 8:15, there will be a 30-minute broadcast of the crowning of the egg queen, after which Dr. E. L. Butz, of Purdue University, will speak on the topic, "Everybody's Uncle."

The show will end with the distribution of a number of prizes by the Mentone American Legion.

The Mentone Egg Show is sponsored for the purpose of promoting the poultry industry in this area, and it is of great benefit to everyone connected with the business. Producers,

BAND GROUP MEETS

The Mentone band parents organization met at the school house last Wednesday evening and made further plans in their program to secure uniforms for the Mentone band. Thirty-three suits have been pledged, and 40 have been ordered through a local dealer at a saving of better than ten per cent of the original estimate. The uniforms are expected before Christmas.

During the business session it was agreed to form a permanent organization and Dale Kelley was named as head of a committee to draw up a constitution which will be considered at the next meeting Nov. 10th.

The matter of forming a P. T. A. group was discussed and tabled for later discussion.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Carlile and daughter left Wednesday for a trip. They plan to spend part of the time visiting at the Potters Orphans Home at Bowling Green, Kentucky, and in the Smoky Mountains.

BONDED AND LICENSED BUYER

Trucks available at all times. Loren L. Tridle, Buyer.

Several years ago and old hunter with a wide and varied background in the shooting game told us that it always is wise to pattern test a new shotgun before taking it to the field after game. He explained that no two guns are identical and that some scatter-guns will handle certain size loads much better than others.

We have followed his advice with each new shotgun we've bought, and only recently we completed field tests with a new Browning 20 gauge automatic that will be our arm for the current waterfowl and upland game season.

The automatic is equipped with a Poly-Choke, with an overall barrel length of 26 inches. And for the tests we used the new "sealed gas chamber" shot shells developed by Western-Winchester after almost a decade of research.

First, we'd like to report that the gun, the Poly and the new loads lived up to all advance notices. We had never owned a gun equipped with a Poly before, but even the pattern firing proved its worth. And we found no "blown" patterns in nearly 200 rounds, from No. 2's to No. 9's with the newly designed shot shells.

For the past several years we have been shooting 12 gauge guns, both automatics and doubles, at waterfowl, usually using No. 4 or No. 5 shot. But when we step into the duck blind on opening day this season we'll have along a box of No. 6's. It was this size shot that produced the best patterns, fired with the Poly set full choke, at ranges from 30 to 45 yards. And we found the tightest patterns for No. 2 shot, a good goose load at long ranges, with the Poly set on cylinder.

Normally the full choke setting would show up best, but we're sold on trying the cylinder with No. 2's—if and when we can try a little "honker" gunning.

With both the improved cylinder and cylinder setting we found the No. 8's and No. 9's patterning well for close in quail work where most of the shooting is 20 to 30 yards. And No. 7 1/2's proved good in the same setting up to 35 yards. That load will work on pheasants at fairly close ranges. When the pheasants are flushing wild, No. 6's with full choke setting, should be the right ticket in bringing down the ring-neck.

After the pattern tests we honestly believe we have selected the right size shot for our field work. Now if we do our part in pointing the little automatic right there'll be no excuses if the birds or ducks don't fold up and drop. At least we have hopes of bagging our share of birds before the curtain drops on the 1948 seasons.

25TH ANNIVERSARY

On Wednesday evening of last week 33 neighbors and Royal Neighbors met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Freisner to remind them of their silver wedding anniversary and also to celebrate the 43rd anniversary of R. N. A. Camp. On reaching the home, the crowd gave Freisners an old fashioned belling, then entered the house to find no one at home, but a sign on a chair reading, "Hi, folks, make yourselves at home. We will be back when the noise is over." Arlo had learned of the plans earlier in the day. One more blast of a shotgun brought them from a cornfield nearby. A delicious pot luck supper, with a large wedding cake and music, was the evening's entertainment.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Leininger, Mr. and Mrs. William Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Horn and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wise, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Parker and family, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Fawley, Mr. and Mrs. Art Witham and daughter, Mrs. Ray Dillingham and Georgia Teel, Mrs. Mabel Warren, Mrs. Lydia Ryneerson, Mrs. Bessie Bybee, Mrs. Helen Mollenhour, Mrs. Pearl Smith, Mrs. Mary Borton, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mollenhour, Mr. and Mrs. Freisner and daughter Violet.

THE HEN CAME FIRST DECLARES MICHIGAN LADY

The South Bend Tribune staff writer who recently wrote the feature article relative to the Mentone Egg Show inferred that the egg came first at the time of creation. A lady in Decatur, Michigan, reading the article, takes her Bible to prove the gentleman wrong. Her letter was addressed to Miss Donna Lee Linn, Mentone's egg queen candidate, as follows:

Dear Miss Linn
Congratulations! While reading of the account of the egg show in the South Bend paper I was reminded once again the lack of knowledge of a lot of people, of the Bible. The friends of Mentone seem to have concluded that the egg came first. God's Word says, "And God said, Let the waters bring forth abundantly the moving creature that hath life, and fowl that may fly above the earth in the open firmament of heaven. And God created great whales and every living creature that moveth, which the waters brought forth after their kind and every winged fowl after his kind; and God saw that it was good. And God blessed them, saying, Be fruitful and multiply." Gen. 1:20, 21, 22. Read the whole chapter for yourself. What authority do they (the folks of Mentone) base their decision upon? What made the egg fertile so that it would hatch? What professor dreamed up all this psychology? Why have people turned away from God's word? Is it because it convicts them of sin? I'm praying that you believe the Bible as God's word, as truth. "All scripture is given by inspiration of God and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness." II Tim. 3:16.

Probably you hadn't given these things much thought.

Won't you always consider what God's word says for He answers a good many questions. And He never fails those who trust Him. Is Jesus Christ your saviour?

In His love.

Mrs. Andrew Shick.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

In memory of our departed Neighbor, Laura Summe, who was a member of Maple Leaf Camp No. 2462 Royal Neighbors of America, who departed this life in August, 1948.

Therefore, be it resolved that we sincerely and deeply sympathize with the family and friends of the departed, in their sad bereavement, and that we implore kind Providence to comfort them in this, their hour of trial.

Death has entered our Camp and has taken one of our dear Neighbors, we are again reminded that life is but a vapor, a dream, a shadow that passeth away; and when most unexpected, death comes to all and severs from us one that is so dear.

Therefore, be it resolved, that our Charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days, and that a copy of these resolutions be recorded in the minutes of our next meeting.

DESPISERS OF GOD

Earnest prayer and devout service to God are expected of His children. But we may worship God with zeal, earnestness and deep feeling, and yet despise Him.

Jesus said, "Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? And then I will profess unto them, I never knew you; depart from me, ye that work iniquity." Matthew (7:21-23.)

These people do many wonderful works in His name—are devoted and zealous—but show they despise God by failing to do His will. The apostles delivered this will of God to men; and when we reject or set aside the teachings of the apostles for the wisdom of man, we show that we despise God.

When we rely on other ways than that revealed in the New Testament, God rejects all the service we render and will despise us as unworthy of His love and pity. Devotion plus obedience to the extent of our ability has always secured the favor of God.

AGRICULTURAL OUTLOOK
CONFERENCE ANNOUNCED

Will prices stabilize or fall? Should farmers sell or store their corn and soybeans? How long can "good times" be expected to last? These questions and others of concern to Indiana farmers will be discussed at the Agricultural Outlook Conference to be held Wednesday evening, October 27, at 8:00 in the Court Room in the Court House at Plymouth. This announcement was made by Joe Clark, County Agricultural Agent.

A discussion of probable demand and prices for the major agricultural products during the year ahead will be presented by Paul Mitchell and Noah

Hadley, agricultural economists of Purdue University. Information which farmers will receive should assist them in planning the management of their farm businesses and farm homes in the months ahead.

Topics for discussion will include: The General Business Situation; Feed Supplies; The Hog Situation; Cattle Feeding Prospects; Dairy and Poultry; Land Prices; and The Family Living Situation. All interested people are invited to attend.

SEASON NEARING FOR HUNTERS AND TRAPPERS

Hoosier hunters and trappers soon will be taking to the fields in their annual quest for game birds, rabbits and fur-bearing animals. A brief open season on pheasants, recently decreed by Director John H. Nigh of the Indiana Department of Conservation, will enhance this autumn's pleasure.

Because of the shortage of these game birds pheasant hunting was banned in the state throughout all of last year. At that time, however, Department of Conservation officials promised sportsmen a pheasant season in 1948 if the number of birds justified it.

Present evidence indicating a moderate season, the Department decreed that male pheasants could legally be hunted November 11, 12 and 13 this year, with one cock bird to be the daily bag limit. These dates, which include Armistice Day and a Saturday, were selected in order that working men and school children could have two holidays in which to hunt pheasants.

Opening and closing dates on the complete fall hunting and trapping season, together with bag limits, are listed as follows:

October 16 to November 14, woodcock, four a day.

October 29 to November 27, ducks, geese and coot. Four ducks, 15 coot and four geese daily. Two geese may be Canadian geese or two white-breasted geese, or one of each.

November 10 to December 20, quail, ten daily; Hungarian partridge, five daily.

November 10 to January 10, rabbits, five daily.

November 11, 12 and 13, pheasants, one cock daily. No hens.

November 15 (noon), to January 15 (noon), racoon, opossum, skunk, mink, muskrat. Two 'coons daily; no bag limits on others. No open beaver season.

It also is pointed out that hunting dogs are not permitted in the woods at night from November 1 to November 15.

OFFER SHORT COURSE TO HELP NURSERYMEN

The eight Weeks Nurserymen's short course to be held at Purdue University from October 25 to Dec. 18 has attracted widespread interest and advance enrollment is steadily increasing. Prof. R. B. Hull, extension landscape architect reports.

Prof. Hull said that the course will serve the nursery industry of the state by providing trained nursery workers. Interest in better home and community grounds will be furthered as a result of the improved nursery service.

The course offered includes nursery soil management, plant identification, nursery propagation, nursery plant pest control, business management and bookkeeping, nursery practices, landscape planning and a general course covering public relations, salesmanship and other phases of the nursery business.

Arrangements are being made to bring outstanding nurserymen to the campus during the period of the course to give the students an opportunity for closer acquaintance with the field, and lectures will also be given by the nurserymen.

Further details concerning the course may be obtained from the department of horticulture or by writing directly to Prof. Hull at the university.

"It's The Examination That Counts"

PHONE 143

115 W. Fort Wayne Street

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Samples analyzed by the Food and Drug Laboratory of the State Board of Health to catch impurities before large sections of population have an opportunity to consume or use them and become ill, come mainly from two sources, according to Glen C. Weber, supervisor of the laboratory.

The sanitarians pick up samples in routine inspections, in answer to complaints from the general public, or from goods held under embargo. The second source of supply is from county and city health departments and physicians.

"Most of our work at the present time involves food sanitation, but we also analyze drug products for adulteration and misbranding," Mr. Weber said. "We examine canned goods for keeping qualities and meats for chemical preservatives and harmful bacteria."

"Our work with food includes the examination of baking products and flour mill products for insect and rodent contamination; analysis of tomato products for excessive mold content; examining bottled carbonated drinks for faulty washing and adulteration with saccharin. If a food poisoning outbreak occurs, we run bacteriological and chemical analyses upon the available food in attempting to trace the source of the epidemic."

"In most cases the evidence points to unsanitary food handling by someone preparing the food, or to unsanitary practices of preparation."

STATE PARK VISITORS MAKE MANY SUGGESTIONS

Visitors using the facilities of the various rest parks in Indiana this summer made extensive use of the suggestion boxes placed in each park. The "suggestions" left were limited to requests for more roadside parks. Notes of appreciation for the facilities were written by travelers from Maine to California. Out-of-state travelers who are not acquainted with the convenience of these parks in their own states, were more avid in their praise than the Hoosiers, many of whom have begun to take them for granted.

Landscaping supervisors in charge of the parks in the six highway districts collected the suggestion notes received during the past few weeks and have chosen a few at random for publication.

Consideration of the following excerpts may cause the Hoosier reader to gain added appreciation of his state highway rest park system:

"We traveled 4000 miles and found this park the nicest and cleanest of all encountered on our travels. Thanks, and come to Pa. to see us." C.C.P., Philadelphia, Pa.

"I hope the other states follow the same pattern." Mrs. M.A., New York City.

"We found this place inviting and delightful. Thanks to thoughtful Indiana folks like you." Mr. and Mrs. B., Easton, Pa.

ROBBERS INVADE MENTONE LUMBER COMPANY SATURDAY

A group of nocturnal visitors, loaded with tools but short of cash, paid a visit to the Mentone Lumber Company some time Saturday night and carefully divided the cash on hand. They left a badly battered safe, the checks and a terrible mess on the office floor. Undoubtedly the visitors don't attend Sunday school anywhere because they left the pennies behind, too. All they wanted was the $488 in cash which they found in the safe.

Entrance was gained to the building by prying up the office window to the north. A number of heavy blows took the combination from the safe and released the locking mechanism. Before departing they closed the window and the safe door and courteously left the night light burning. It is even thought they went down stairs and turned off a noisy stocker, as it was found turned off Sunday morning and none of the employees remember having turned it off.

Ora McKinley, manager and owner of the firm, found the battered safe when he made his usual Sunday morning trip to the firm. He notified Officer Borton who called the sheriff.

The same firm was entered some time ago but the intruders seemingly were frightened away. The same evening two men were picked up for suspicious reasons and lodged in the county jail. A sack of burglar tools found at the same time failed to make a case against the man and the court turned him loose last week.

Henry Lockridge returned to his duties at the Co-Op. mill Saturday after a four weeks layoff caused when a piece of steel was imbedded in his right leg, near the knee. Henry was attempting to remove a "frozen" bearing from a piece of machinery, and a heavy blow with a hammer and chisel shattered the bearing holder. A piece about the size of a buckshot drove itself almost two inches into the leg. Doctors did not remove the metal as they considered it too dangerous to attempt unless complications arise at a later date.

HE OUTFOXES THE FOXES. Burrell High, Niles, Michigan, has found trapping a profitable hobby. In 30 trapping days he caught 51 red foxes, 150 muskrats, 5 raccoons, 6 skunks, 35 opossums and 3 mink. High has a 5 mile trap line in Cass County, three of which he covers by boat, and the other two on foot. He processes the hides himself and then sells to fur buyers at current rates — and all this is done in spare time — High's regular job is switch tender for the New York Central Railroad.

SALT DOES IT

With plenty of salt before them all the time, livestock make better use of their feed. Their digestive systems are more active . . . they assimilate better . . . they pack on pounds faster . . . they're healthier and thriftier.

Purdue University tests show that, with hogs, for instance, 321.4 pounds of corn with salt did the work of 451 pounds with no salt. Salt also saves proteins and minerals.

For best results, feed salt free choice—not only to hogs, but also to dairy cows, meat animals, sheep. Put a few salt feeding stations around the farm and use Morton's Free Choice Salt.

NON-HARDENING
and storage conditions

Morton's Free Choice Salt is especially developed for livestock feeding. It's pure, easy to feed, easy to use for mixing, and formulated to remain NON-HARDENING under normal use and storage conditions. Be sure to ask your dealer for it by name — Morton's Free Choice Salt.

Salt Saves Feed because it supplies the sodium and chlorine needed by the digestive system—the sodium for making bile which digests fats and carbohydrates; chlorine for the hydrochloric acid which converts feed proteins into body tissue.

Feed Salt Free Choice for more profit. Some animals need more salt than others. The best way to feed it is free choice. Then each animal can take what it needs for maximum thrift, faster gains, lower feeding costs, and greater profits.

"Boarder" cows — cows that don't produce enough milk to pay for their room and board — take a bite out of the dairy farmer's bankroll. To help men discover and eliminate "boarders" from herds, thousands of cow testers, employed by Dairy Herd Improvement Associations, visit farm D.H.I.A. members once each month. The cow tester weighs morning and evening

Once a month the cow tester weighs the milk produced by every cow in the D.H.I.A. member's herd. Evening and morning milk production is recorded in the herd record book. Annual production per cow, figured from these monthly checks, is almost as accurate as if milk production was weighed every day.

Feed consumed by each cow for a 24-hour period — hay, grain and silage — is also weighed and entered in herd book. By figuring feed at going market prices, tester quickly sees which cows are producing milk to pay for their feed bill.

Usually the cow tester spends a full day each month at the member's farm, weighing and testing the milk, entering production, feed consumption and feed costs in the record book, and helping the farmer analyze and use the records for herd replacement. The tester also helps in many management problems.

The simplified herd record book he keeps for the farmer, shows at a glance which cows are paying for their keep . . . which are not. The records also show which cows' calves are worth saving for herd replacement. Records are especially valuable to buyers and sellers when stock is offered in private sales or at dairy cattle auctions.

According to many of the Nation's top dairymen, the combination of cow testing and record-keeping the D.H.I.A. way is the most important thing dairy farmers can do to boost milk production and increase dairying profits. The picture-story below shows some of the steps in the D.H.I.A. program.

I think the ten years I spent judging fairs gave me the most fun I've had out of life. For it not only afforded me the opportunity to taste all those countless delicate cakes, those rich juicy pies, cheese tortes, sugar cookies, butter horns, and all the rest, but it made it possible for me to get to know these other farm women, who like myself found such joy in cooking.

Cooks just don't come any better than our country women. For one thing, each woman has one or more dish that is her pride and no one can measure up to, or surpass her particular standard of perfection. As a matter of fact, our farm women have glorified our American way of life by taking the fruit of the land—milk, cream, butter, eggs, cheese and transforming it into food fit for a king!

Much of this art came from the Old World originally... take for instance, Swedish Butter Fingers, Danish Pastry, Armenian Beaurack, Rice Bavarian or Bohemian Kolacky. It was while judging the county fair, year after year, up in Manitowoc County in Wisconsin, that I really became acquainted with that rich Bohemian dessert—kolacky—"little wheels" that spin magic! But just as these women had varied the kolacky and made original fillings, so has all of our food taken on a New World accent, until our Dairy Dishes have become our truly American food!

SOUR MILK PANCAKES: the well-remembered kind that grandma used to make and with the same melt-in-your-mouth goodness.

(serves 4 to 6)
2 cups flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. soda
2 cups sour milk
2 tbs. butter, melted
2 eggs, well beaten

Sift dry ingredients together, add milk. Stir lightly. Add butter and fold in eggs. Bake on hot, ungreased griddle.

YOU CAN MILK...

YOU CAN FEED...

YOU CAN CLEAN...

Without ALL that STOOPING and SQUATTING!

Cows will come to you to be milked. In fact, with a little training and the right equipment she will put her udder and teats within such easy reach that you won't ever have to stoop over or squat down again to put on a milking machine. What's more, you won't ever have to step over a gutter with the Surge system of milking cows.

With FEWER Steps and NO HAULING!

The more cows you have, the more miles of walking and hauling it takes to feed them. Just because you're used to doing it is no reason why you have to. With a Surge system the cows do the walking and hauling for you.

A lot Easier than the way you Do!

The daily chore of barn cleaning can be dodged, too. With a Surge system of milking cows you can quickly hose down the milking room and use a power loader once or twice a year to clean a loafing barn. In fact, there are plenty of other reasons why this is the way cows are going to be milked on most farms some day.

MENTONE ALL SET FOR BIG HALLOWE'EN FROLIC FRIDAY EVENING

The Mentone Lions Club members are busy this week making arrangements for the big Hallowe'en frolic to be held on the street Friday evening, Oct. 29.

The evening's festivities will start at seven o'clock when the masked visitors will assemble at the Reed and Cox corner on West Main Street. Prizes are offered for a number of classifications, with two special prizes of $10 and $5 for individuals or groups who will perform on the outdoor stage. Competition in this event need not interfere in the masked parade contest as winners in the parade are still eligible to compete in the entertainment contest.

There is no charge for any part of the affair, except at the concession stands, which are maintained solely to partially defray the expenses involved. Here, too, visitors will find an opportunity to appease their hunger with sandwiches and popcorn or their thirst with fresh cider secured from a local orchard.

Mentone invites you Friday evening.

IN NEW OFFICE

The C. & H. Trucking Company has its office located in the office building formerly occupied by Dr. T. J. Clutter. Clayton Clutter and Lewis Harshbarger are the co-owners of the C. & H. Trucking Line, having consolidated their trucking lines early this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Harshbarger are living on the Orville Wilson farm, west of town, having come to our community from Columbia City.

POLITICAL RALLY AT WARSAW SATURDAY EVENING

The republicans of the area are arranging for a big homecoming rally for their candidate for governor, Hobart Creighton, Saturday evening at Warsaw. Congressman Halleck and Senator Jenner will be on the program and the affair will be broadcast over 22 AM stations and five FM radio stations. Fourteen high school bands and a large number of floats will be in the parade that is expected to be nearly two miles in length.

GENERAL ELECTION ON NEXT TUESDAY

Tuesday, Nov. 2, is the day for the 1948 presidential election, as well as candidates for state and county offices.

The ballots will contain two referendum measures which will require the attention of voters. One is: "Do you favor the payment of a soldier bonus to Indiana veterans of World War II," and the other is: "Shall the county sheriff be elected for a four-year term instead of the present two-year term." The veteran ballot also has a number of possible ways of paying the soldier bonus, and the voter is expected to name a choice, but this can be left blank without invalidating your bonus vote, we are told.

HAVE NEW DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Bryan are the parents of a daughter born at 5:48 a. m. Saturday at the McDonald hospital in Warsaw. The new baby has been named Jenny Lou.

BAND PARENTS MEET NOV. 10

All individuals who took the responsibility of financing a uniform, are asked to bring the money to this meeting.

As the quota is not yet filled, all others are asked to donate as generously as possible.

LIBRARY NEWS

The Golden Plover, traveling over the ocean, makes its 2,400-mile flight from Nova Scotia to South America apparently without stop, probably requiring 48 hours of continuous flight. Adults migrate in the fall before the immature birds, a large number of which go southward by an inland route. The tiny ruby-throated humming bird crosses the Gulf of Mexico in a single flight of more than 500 miles.

HEALTH FACTS FROM YOUR STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Four Indiana milk manufacturing plants are attempting to qualify for furnishing supplementary milk supplies to Grade A milk markets, according to John Taylor, director, Division of Dairy Products, Indiana State Board of Health.

The Indiana plants which are located at Fort Wayne, Bluffton, Shelbyville and Crawfordsville not only sell milk, but manufacture milk products.

"If the plants are successful in qualifying they may sell their milk in Grade

A areas," according to Mr. Taylor. "They are attempting to qualify by making routine inspections of the dairy farms supplying the milk, by improving the sanitary methods of handling the milk, by running routine sediment and bacterial tests, and by other procedures which will raise the quality of the milk.

"The developing of these and other Indiana plants to furnish better quality of milk will help to avoid the shortage of milk in Grade A areas," Mr. Taylor concluded.

$363,053.33 IS PAID IN HIGHWAY TRAFFIC FINES

Renewing his plea for "common sense driving," Col. Robert Rossow, State Police Superintendent, announced that traffic law violators arrested by troopers in the first eight months of the year paid $363,053.33 in fines and costs and served 7,300 days in jail.

The cases of about 10 per cent of the 21,764 persons arrested are still pending in courts over the state, he said. In addition, troopers issued 29,370 written warnings to other drivers during the period.

Speeding and reckless driving accounted for a major portion of the arrests, records show. Also high on the list were drunken driving, passing on hills and curves, leaving the scene of an accident, disregarding traffic signals and faulty equipment.

"Police action must have the support of those who walk and drive if the death and injury toll is slowed," Col. Rossow said.

He cited August, when 88 persons were killed and 2,100 others injured in 5,200 reported accidents, to illustrate the importance of public co-operation.

AMERICAN LEGION POSTS TO SPONSOR SAFETY PROJECTS

The Safety Committee of the Indiana Department of American Legion has announced that each American Legion Post in the state is expected to adopt and carry out at least one major safety project during the coming year.

These activities may take any form the post chooses, and reports of the activities are to be graded on a competitive basis in order that awards may be made.

The American Legion is vitally interested in child safety and will sponsor a statewide program in February, in cooperation with the Indiana Traffic Safety Commission, which is intended to give both children and adults a wider knowledge of the traffic laws in Indiana. The program will be correlated with the National Safety Council program and will be known as "Don't Take A Chance—Know and Obey Traffic Laws."

Reseed Burned Forests
Cones of some species of pine trees require the heat of a forest fire to open them, releasing their seeds. Therefore vast amounts of good seed are accumulated through the years which automatically reseed burned-over areas after a forest fire causes the cones to open.

Taken regularly—Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such 'middle-age' distress. It's what Doctors call a uterine sedative. It positively contains no opiates—no habit-forming drugs. Pinkham's Compound helps nature (you know what we mean).

Fan: "How do you account for the slump in Joe's fielding average?"

By JIM MITCHELL

The problem of securing a good place to hunt is one that confronts more and more novice gunners each season. And the experienced hunters, too, frequently find it difficult to make the right contacts in unfamiliar territory.

This problem, however, can partially be solved by two things. First, make friends with the farmers in regions you want to hunt, cooperate with them and lend a helping hand during the off-season. Second, learn and follow the rules of good sportsmanship.

WHEN IN BURKET,

EAT

SPORT CENTER CAFE

Open 6:00 A.M. 'til midnight and Sundays

"For the individual who practices all the simple, yet important, rules of sportsmanship, this problem becomes a self-effacing one when the word gets around that a certain hunter is a 'right kind of guy!'" says Gail Evans of the Remington Arms Co.

We know farmers who keep a "black list" for certain hunters and the farms always are closed to this group. Yet these same farmers welcome the "right guy" when hunting season arrives.

Few gunners enjoy hunting alone, and most sportsmen welcome congenial shooting partners who speak the same language. Most sportsmen, however, are reluctant to run the risk of getting stuck for a day in the field with some thoughtless or careless hunter who ignores the niceties of field etiquette or violates the unwritten laws of sportsmanship. They make that mistake with the same individual only once.

So if you are invited this fall to hunt with some sportsman who has contacts with the farmers where game is plentiful, watch your step and be a good sportsman. That way you'll be invited back.

And above all things, don't take chances; observe all the rules of safe gun handling. Then adhere to field etiquette. For instance, give your companion all the breaks in shooting. The accepted practice is to alternate on singles, so follow this rule and never try to "wipe his eye" by hogging the shots. You best find out what side your companion shoots from — then take the other side, being careful never to shoot a bird traveling towards your gunning partner. And don't get branded as a "claimer" by always being sure you killed a certain bird before claiming it. A "claimer" never gets a second chance to hunt with a good sportsman.

If you are hunting with a dog that belongs to the other fellow, never try to handle it. But be sure to praise its work when good, overlooking faulty bird work by not mentioning it. And be sure to let the dog make an effort for the retrieve before you start searching for a dead bird.

There's an old adage to the effect that "if you want to find out about a man, get him in a poker game or take him hunting." Remember that the next time you are in the field.

Looking to the Future—

It has never been the policy of your editor to use a political party background in writing any article for this newspaper. Political parties do have important services to perform, but the thought uppermost in my mind has always been that of the greater service to the most of our citizens. If at any time I should stray from this point, it will not be intentional, but will likely be momentary inability to quickly find the words to express myself clearly.

Kosciusko county citizens next Tuesday will have an opportunity to express themselves with the American ballot, and I feel we have a few matters to consider, other than political parties. Perhaps I should say we have a selfish interest, too, in addition to being proud of the opportunity to present a candidate for governor. That "selfishness," however, is the acknowledged privilege of every home town—or county, or state—of a public official. That official, naturally, is more aware of the needs and desires of his home area, and his evaluation of the need there may appear more urgent than a similar need somewhere else within the confines of his jurisdiction. When necessity demands that such an official make a decision between one public need and another, history has proven that such decision will be made in favor of the local need.

We cannot enumerate what those needs may be in our county, but we know there will be many during a four year period, and our well-known and highly respected citizen will be mighty important in securing an opportunity to explain those needs to the proper officials.

Several years ago, in a community where I was a publisher, we had a citizen who had been a college friend of the then governor of Indiana. Whenever we needed help in a big problem, this friend helped immeasurably in contacting the right people. That town today has one of the finest networks of highways of any little town in the state. We need a little help in our highway program, too, to mention just one possibility.

We in Mentone are aware, also, of the large part Hobart Creighton has played in building up the feed and poultry business in the area. We should be proud of his work in this respect; and we all point with pride to the fact that one of the nation's biggest poultrymen is right here in our county.

There is no question that a capable writer, or lecturer, could find subject matter for many articles to either praise or condemn one or both of the candidates for governor, but we have no intention of mentioning any of these facts.

Patriotically and economically, a fellow citizen, Hobart Creighton, is entitled to a big vote from Kosciusko county citizens Tuesday.

SIAMESE CARROTS

Two ladies dropped into the Co-Op. News office the other day displaying a pair of carrots grown on the Grover Tinkey farm. One carrot had three bodies, two of which completely encircled the other carrot. They looked as if they had been tied by hand.

(The ladies said not to mention it, but friends may be able to get some of the carrot seeds at the Tinkey farm.)
