BEWARE THE PEDDLER

Traveling salesmen are not all bad, and likely most of them are very respectable people when you get to know them. However, until you do know them, you can save yourself a lot of grief—and dollars—by not "biting" even though they may convince you it's the biggest bargain in the world. They train themselves in human psychology and develop a sales technique that often sells the most skeptic.

One wonders why today there continues to be one crew after another come into Mentone selling magazine subscriptions. Almost any capable person today can get a good paying job wherever he desires, which would indicate the occupation pays well. Recently one Mentone person was persuaded out of sympathy for a crippled person claiming to be a veteran. The lad was convincing but the Mentone person never received a magazine or ever heard of his money again.

The only safe way is to buy from someone locally you know or send it to the publishers through government mail.

Mentone business people can nearly supply every need, and the respectable salesmen we have in our town and community can supply your needs.

A good rule to follow in the case of any unusual investment—wait three days before you say yes. Oftentimes, I have found, I see a few answers I couldn't see while the salesman was double-clutching through his sales talk.

Yes, I've been taken, too, and that is why I don't want others to pay the penalty also.

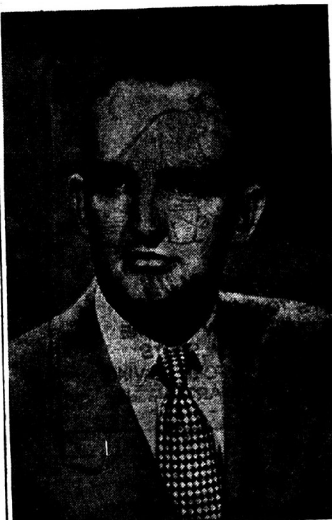

GOLTRY

Sfc. Richard E. and Alyce (Davis) Goltry are the parents of a son, John Martin, born at the Woodlawn hospital Saturday, Oct. 3. The new baby weighed seven pounds 10 ounces.

SECRIST

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Secrist are the parents of a five pound 10% ounce daughter born last Thursday at the McDonald hospital. The new baby has been named Serita Sue.

LESLIE W. GRANT —Evangelist for The Church of Christ is in a series of Evangelistic services through Oct. 18. Each night at 7:30 p.m. except Saturday at the Church of Christ, Mentone, Indiana. You are invited to attend. No collections.

PLAN TO PURCHASE RADIOS FOR CONSERVATION MEN

C. O. Mollenhour, of Mentone, president of the Kosciusko County Council of Conservation Clubs, recently divulged an idea he had of providing radio transmitting and receiving sets for the two conservation officers now employed in this county. At a recent meeting of representatives of the conservation clubs, the plan was further discussed and decided that each conservation club have a part in the purchase of the necessary radio equipment, at a cost of approximately $750. The state conservation department has agreed to maintain the radios once they are installed.

Your editor was unable to contact Mr. Mollenhour today, but last week he had already received a number of contributions from the citizens of this vicinity. If you'd like to help, too, see Mr. Mollenhour.

In addition to being of great value in controlling game law violations, the equipment would be readily available for any emergency that might arise.

THE LAWBREAKER PAYS AGAIN

Man seems to be very ignorant at times. Animals, after some frightful experience, don't make the mistake again. Throughout the ages the natural law of "reap what you sow" has caught up with man, but he still continues to use lies, deceits, thefts, hatred, etc. in his everyday life seemingly feeling that he shall escape punishment—but it can't be done even though for a time it may appear that some individual is eluding judgment.

State Detective Dave Milbourn recently stated that five members of the Stanley gang were arrested at Greenfield, and among the robberies they confessed to in this county was the robbing of the Mentone Lumber Co. of $106.24 Nov. 23, 1950.

Young folks, even though some of us old punks are a little too thick headed to learn, just remember that you will receive the same treatment you give others—you'll reap what you sow. Your harvest—happy or otherwise—depends upon what you sow today.

LIONS SPONSORING FISHFRY HERE ON HALLOWEEN

Committees are busy making the arrangements for a fish fry and entertainment at Mentone on Saturday evening, Oct. 31. Weather permitting, the supper will be served outside, otherwise it will be in the community building. All the fish you can eat for $1.25 for those 12 years and older. Under 12 years the price will be 75c.

The proceeds of the fish fry are to go towards the purchase of chairs to be used by the Mentone and Beaver Dam schools.

Tickets will be on sale by each Lion club member and also the Jones Barber Shop.

A program is being arranged and will be announced at a later date.

PROGRAM OPEN TO PUBLIC

The public is invited to a program at the Methodist church this Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, at which time Paul Weaver and Paul Wargon, scout leaders, will show colored slides and give an account of the trip to Philmont Ranch this past summer.

The program will be preceded by a scout family pot luck supper in the church basement.

MANY VISIT HOSTESS SHOP
Mrs. Robert Riewoldt states that over 100 ladies visited her Hostess Shop last week during its formal opening. Mrs. C. F. Kreighbaum, of Rochester, received the first door prize of the Ming Tree. Mrs. Dale Tucker received the nylon hose and Mrs. Maude Vandemark the Miniature Bouquet.

Poor-Grade Vegetables
Sometimes a homemaker is wise to buy the cheaper, poor-grade vegetables, like when they are to be used mixed in cooked dishes.

Electrified Farms
During the last year more than 200,000 U.S. farms were electrified. This brings the number of electrified farms throughout the nation to 88.1 percent—an increase of 4 percent over a year ago. There are 4,740,849 farms connected to power lines, leaving a total of 641,285 still unelectrified. In addition to those farms without service, about one half that number of other rural establishments — such as non-farm homes, schools, and churches—are unelectrified.

AN OPEN LETTER TO

Egg Producers

DEAR PRODUCER:

For over twenty years we have been buying and marketing eggs from Indiana and Minnesota, and during that time we have established ourselves not only with the producers, but also with reputable outlets and as we are under a government grading program we are better able to realize a better yield for fine eggs and we are desirous of buying here regularly.

We have deposited a cash bond with the Cooperative Shipping Association, and will offer any further proof possible to prove our reliability and business ethics.

Our representative, Gordon Hooper, will be at the Mentone Egg Dock each Saturday. He will be pleased to have you favor him with your shipment. Prices paid will be based upon the New York nearby market of Tuesday.

We solicit your support for this Cleveland market, which is much closer than many of your outlets.

Sincerely,

Decatur Farms

YEAR'S TOP DAIRY SHOW OPENS AT CHICAGO OCT. 10

Chicago will focus the attention of the dairy world October 10 to 17 when the continent's top purebred dairy herds will be on exhibit here in the International Amphitheatre.

The premier Chicago exhibition has attracted the year's largest showing of five dairy breeds and Milking Shorthorns — known as dual-purpose cattle for their yield of both beef and milk. The entry of nearly 2000 animals includes top specimens from the leading purebred dairy herds of the United States and Canada.

Herds From Coast to Coast

Exhibition herds of the six breeds are being sent here from 24 states, Ontario and Quebec — from California and Washington on the West to North Carolina and the New England states on the East and from Canada to Georgia.

Holstein-Friesians lead in number with 531 head from 11 states and Canada, the largest entry of this popular, heavy milking breed of black-and-white cattle, native to Holland — at any show in many years. They are coming from such distant points as the states of Washington and New York and from Canada to Kansas.

Guernseys and Jerseys — rich-milk yielding breeds from the Channel Islands off the south coast of England — will be shown by owners from 14 states and Canada — from Ontario to Alabama and from California to Massachusetts.

Ayrshires are entered from 8 states and Canada. They will be coming from Quebec to Kansas and Wisconsin to Rhode Island. The Ayrshire is widely regarded as the most beautiful achievement of the Scotsman's skill in developing breeds of farm animals.

Brown Swiss cattle, a rugged breed of big milk producers, originating in Switzerland, are being sent to the show from 10 states, extending from Iowa to Vermont, as are Milking Shorthorns, England's most popular cattle breed.

Championship Rodeos Daily
Romance and excitement of the old

West will be brought to Chicago in the 11 rodeo performances scheduled during the 8-day run of the International Dairy Show. The country's top cowboys will compete in a series of dangerous riding events that will count toward the year's championship points in bronc-riding, bareback-riding, calf-roping, steer-wrestling, Brahma bull-riding contests.

One of the four 50,000 sq. ft. exhibition halls of the recently air-conditioned International Amphitheatre will be filled with industrial and educational displays depicting the newest processes and equipment in the production of milk and its products.

WOWO TO BROADCAST KOMETS GAMES

For the second year, WOWO will carry exclusively all the home games of the Fort Wayne Komets hockey team, it was announced by Ernie Berg, business manager of the Komets.

The team, which is currently warming up at their training camp at Oakville, Ontario, is slated to kick off their schedule when they clash with the Troy Bruins, Tuesday, October 13th, at the Memorial Coliseum in Fort Wayne.

THE EGG AND YOU

Fixed temperatures and humidities coupled with strict quality control play a big part between the nest and your plate.

(Reprinted from House Organ of Armstrong Cork Co., Lancaster, Pa.)

It's risky business to buy eggs without knowing something about their background and who handles them. For eggs are like people, some are weak, some strong. Others are large, small, good, and bad. The quality of an egg has no bearing on its size or color. In fact, there are four basic quality standards, each with five possible weight classifications that may appear on the label that seals an egg carton. Eggs are either AA, A, B, or C. The grade label is an assurance of quality after the date of grading, only if the eggs have been kept under proper conditions. Once the egg is laid, the whole problem of getting good eggs to eat depends entirely on the way in which they are handled.

"There's little we can do to increase the quality of an egg, but science has shown us how to keep quality by proper handling" are the words of Barney Kottler, who with his brother Abe, owns and operates Decatur Farms in Cleveland, Ohio. Decatur Farms is one of the most modern egg processing plants in Ohio. Unlike most egg processors who seem to have grown like Topsy, the Kottlers operate out of a new building boasting the latest industry facilities.

Realizing that their business prospered in proportion to quality in egg handling, the Kottlers invented a rather unique operation to guarantee this degree of quality. Basically, the program is aimed at educating the farmer or supplier on the quality that Decatur expect to buy, and rewarding him accordingly. They pay a premium to producers in order to receive clean, well cared for eggs. Under this system of quality control, the producer is furnished with new cases and inserts, and his name is stamped on each case together with the date eggs are laid. Then, if a producer's eggs are later found to be lacking in quality, his name tag is returned with comments designed to educate him on how to produce good eggs.

Egg shipments are received from Indiana and Minnesota in an up-to-date fleet of pickup trucks and refrigerated semi-trailers. Decatur Farms operate a country buying station in Indiana where eggs are picked up directly from farmers. Delivery from Minnesota emphasizes that speed is of primary importance for eggs are received within a day after picking, with a minimum of handling and no stop-overs enroute. Since a freshly laid egg starts to deteriorate the moment it is laid and continues until it is used, unless retarded by proper storage, egg shipments go directly into a large egg cooler storage room, which is the heart of Kottler's plant. Here, temperatures are regulated around 50 to 55 degrees F. with a relative humidity of 75%. Insulated throughout with 4" of Armstrong's Corkboard, the egg storage cooler has a capacity to hold two thousand cases of eggs. Considering that there are thirty dozen eggs in a case, space to accommodate 720,000 eggs consumes a major portion of Decatur's new building.

Eggs are held in the storage room only until they can be "candled," where they are graded by quality and size, under Government supervision and inspection. Egg quality is based solely upon the content of the egg, not on size. Since eggs cannot be broken open to determine their quality while in the hands of wholesalers or retailers, they must be examined by a process known as candling. This consists of holding the egg before an artificial light in such a way that the rays of light penetrate the egg to some extent, making it possible to observe the condition and behavior of the contents. As the name suggests, "candling" was first done over a candle, which has since given way to improved techniques. Considering the ability and speed at which an experienced "egg candler" plies his trade, it seems impossible that four factors are determined at this point. Yet, to the practiced eye, the condition of the shell, the size and condition of the air cell, the condition of the yolk, and the condition of the white of the egg all come in for close scrutiny at one time.

The shell of a high quality egg must be strong, unbroken, and clean. Dirty eggs spoil more rapidly than clean eggs due to the absorption of bacteria through the porous eggshell.

After candling, where the weak are separated from the strong, the large from the small, and the good from the bad, the eggs are either packaged on automatic machines for distribution to the retailer or sold in bulk. In either case, the graded eggs are conveyed back to the storage room until sold, which is usually within a day after candling.

A good portion of any consumption increase in eggs is due to a better, fresher product. Today's better quality eggs are produced under more modern sanitation conditions and handled through distribution channels with improved technique.

"If more people knew more about eggs," Barney Kottler pointed out, "they'd receive better quality eggs and eliminate wildcat competition from suppliers who operate with inadequate facilities. As it is," he continued, "consumers should buy brand names for their own quality insurance."

As practiced by Decatur Farms, proper handling is good business, for it protects their reputation, their egg quality, and their money.

FEED HOGS ON GRASS

Much has been said about ways to profitably turn grass into beef, mutton and milk. But you're a hog man. What about feeding hogs more grass?

A Capper's Farmer report from some good hog raisers states that several operators are defying conventional ways of feeding. They're serving their hogs a grass menu.

They have good reasons: To cut feed cost; save labor and equipment; afford better nutrition; and send a less lardy hog to market.

Take Brewer Demaree, Bonne county, Indiana, farmer who is trying to solve a grass and roughage problem created by a shift to soil-building crops. He has found it pays to convert a sizable portion of grass to pork, rather than feeding more to his dairy and beef herds.

His gilts, which farrow in June, (he uses sows for February and August litters) live largely on grass and a simple mineral mixture from May until farrowing time.

Demaree's gilts stay on pasture until combining, then go on stubble fields. After the pigs are weaned, the gilts are fattened on corn, grass and minerals.

The pigs continue on grass, and after corn picking glean the stalk fields. Early in December they go on a full feed of corn, commercial supplement and mineral, and hit the market sometime in February.

From an economy standpoint, Demaree is enthusiastic. "It's like finding your pigs, it costs so little," he says.

SUBSCRIPTION SOLICITORS REQUEST EXPLANATION

Three representatives of Capper's Farmer petitioned your editor for an explanation of their activities in our area, since their subscription sales were practically nothing one day this week. The reason, they stated, was the article printed in last week's Co-Op. News about magazine salesmen.

As we stated last week, not all house to house canvassers are not to be trusted, but we urged caution by our readers.

The solicitors were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pollock, who live a mile south of Atwood, and a Mrs. Rudolph. They are now, according to their credentials, working with the Pierce-ton American Legion Post and a portion of the proceeds will be used to purchase hospital equipment.

Your editor has no intention of endorsing any sales plan, or to tell anyone whether to support or reject any such plans. We will attempt to give what information is available and let each person be the judge in the matter.

A couple of years ago the same publication worked with a local organization in Mentone, and the entire county was solicited for subscriptions. This organization received a total of $242 as their share of these subscriptions for permitting them to use the organization's endorsement. They received a small percentage in cash in addition to one wheel chair and one fracture bed without mattress or traction frames.

The representatives this week stated they did not know what percentage of the receipts would go to the sponsoring organization, a figure which your editor would appreciate knowing.

Capper's Farmer is an old established publication, and likely many of our people here read and enjoy it.

AUTOS ARE BIGGEST WILD GAME KILLERS

If some time you happen to wonder why there aren't more wild birds and game, just consider for a moment how many are killed each year upon our highways by automobiles.

George Clark, who drives to his work at Warsaw daily, kept account of dead game seen on this short stretch of highway for one year. The list includes 25 rabbits, 40 'possum, 12 raccoon, two pheasant, five ducks (tame), one skunk, eight cats, two dogs and eight squirrels.

UPHOLSTERING FIRM OPENS IN GOODMAN BUILDING

Leo (Teaberry) Linn and Gerald Romine have rented the Vinson Goodman business building on Main street where they will do furniture upholstering.

Mr. Linn, a former resident of Mentone who has been engaged in upholstering work in Elkhart for over ten years, moved his family to south of Atwood last summer.

Mr. Romine is a Mentone boy and is well known here.

They will pick up and deliver their work, and for the present, will be open only evenings and Saturdays.

EPLER RITES

Funeral services for Charles Fremont Epler, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett (Willodean Hively) Epler, were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday afternoon at the Johns funeral home with Leslie Grant, pastor of the Church of Christ officiating.

The baby had been ill since birth. Survivors include the parents, two sisters, Linda and Diane; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Hively, of Warsaw and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Epler of Hollywood, Florida.

NIGHT BIKE RIDING IS DANGEROUS BUSINESS

In recent months there have been a number of near accidents involving young folks on bicycles with no lights.

A bicycle is a wheeled vehicle and is regulated by the same rules and regulations as an automobile. It would indeed be unfortunate if one of our youngsters would be hit by an auto at night, but it is a little too much for parents to permit their youngsters riding bike safter night without having proper lights on them. Law enforcement officials are attempting to eliminate all traffic hazards and they are entitled to the cooperation of parents.

HALLOWE'EN AGAIN

It's the Halloween season again, which is enough excuse for many of the younger generation to take over where the witches left off and pull a few tricks. Most of the youngsters use fair judgment and confine their operations within the bounds of respect. We're not so old yet but what we want the youngsters to have fun, but let's hope that they will not destroy prop-

NEW TRICK OR TREAT, 1953

Hallowe'en plans for 1953 didn't wait for the frost to be on the pumpkin. In fact, they've been building up ever since children in the United States last fall turned the traditional goblin night into a nation-wide "Trick or Treat for All the World's Children" by collecting coins for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

This will be the third year of the project which has grown by leaps and bounds since it was started by church groups in 1951. Last year, it gained the support of many more churches, schools, clubs and civic organizations. Children in more than 500 communities of 41 states pitched in. Collections — almost entirely in pennies, nickels and dimes — totaled over $32,000.

The new-style Halloween represents the good-will of countless children and parents in this country for less fortunate youngsters of the world. In expressing their approval of this project community leaders stress two values. First, it is a way for children to participate in the constructive work of the United Nations while broadening their horizons to the needs of their generation in other countries. Second, it is a way of channeling the traditionally destructive energies of Halloween pranksters into constructive fun.

Plans are being made for this new type of "Trick or Treat" to be carried out in Mentone this year. Friday night, Oct. 30, the youngsters will go on their rounds, dressed like small goblins or in international costume. But instead of sweets, they'll ask for coins. Later on, they'll have their own party and between bobbing for apples, and other Halloween games, they'll count up their collection and send the money on to the United States Committee for UNICEF.

Parents and children interested in getting in on the new-style Halloween fun should contact Mrs. Denton Abbey, phone 176F12, for information.

erty or bother or scare those who are sick or aged.

Take it easy, youngsters, and show some of those "old crabs" that you can have fun and still not do the mean things those fellows did when they were young.

FALL COLORS SHOWING UP

The Chicago Motor Club Touring Bureau reports that autumn landscapes appeal to vacationers.

Indiana has special appeal with routes Ind. 37 south of Spencer to Paoli, and U. S. 150 from Vincennes to New Albany. The high spots in the State for a variety of color will be found in the State Parks which include the Shades, Turkey Run, McCormick's Creek Canyon, Brown County, Spring Mill, Clifty Falls and Pokagon.

Answering the question "What makes the leaves turn?", the Club bulletin says "shades of yellow and orange are in the leaves during the entire Summer but are not noticed because of the presence of chlorophyll, a substance which enables the foliage to derive energy from sunlight. With the approach of cold weather and the ending of the growing season, the green coloring is withdrawn from the leaves and stored for another season, or it is killed by the gradual formation of a thin layer of cells where the leaf is attached to the twig, shutting off further flow or sap, thus finally causing the leaf to fall.

The most delicate, as well as the most brilliant colors of red, scarlet, flaming scarlet and burnt orange are formed by sugar manufactured by the leaves and left after the growing season. Other chemical substances such as tannin and accumulated toxins act on the sugars or in themselves give variations in the red and orange colorations. While frosts are not necessary for the turning of the leaves, they do accentuate and hasten the autumn colors."

Vegetable Salad

For a good fresh vegetable salad, try this recipe: Select a small, firm head of cabbage and remove the outside leave. Cut out the center carefully, leaving the outside shell. Shred the cabbage which has been removed, mix with shredded carrots, green pepper, and thin slices of tart apple. Mix lightly with French dressing and refill cabbage shell.

TILE DRAINS NEED REPAIR ANNUALLY

Lafayette, Ind.—It's generally assumed by some farmers that tile drainage systems, invisible except for their outlet ends, can take care of themselves, and need practically no maintenance.

This belief couldn't be farther from the truth, says Donald Sisson, Purdue specialist on farm drainage. Unless drainage works are repaired annually, they'll eventually fail completely, and may take a complete overhaul at ten times the total cost of regular maintenance to put them back into operation.

If tile drains have been neglected, now's the time to check the entire system and make needed repairs, advises the specialist.

The outlet end is of greatest importance and should be checked first, he believes. It should be at least a foot above the low water flow in the open ditch, and be kept completely open at all times. Prepare for trouble if the tile mains running into open ditches are extended to the ditch bank. It doesn't take long for individual tile to be undercut and washed out, causing almost 100 per cent of these drains to fail within the first year.

Best way to stabilize this tile outlet is to use a section of corrugated metal pipe, 12 to 20 feet in length, depending on the depth of the ditch. Extend this pipe into the open ditch so that the tile water dumps in at the edge of the low water flow level. You should use a concrete collar where the outlet pipe joins the first drain tile, says the engineer.

If it's necessary to outlet the tile at a point where considerable surface water dumps into the ditch, then a concrete headwall may have to be constructed.

A few dollars spent for a gate or grating at the end of the tile outlet may also be advisable in order to keep out animals, reminds Sisson. Once in the tile, they are particularly hard to locate, and may prove to be an obstruction that's very costly to the farmer.

Blowouts or suckholes in all tile lines should be taken care of at once. They are usually an indication to the alert farm manager that tile are breaking, settling out of alignment, too far apart, or obstructed. Even an abrupt change in grade in the tile line may be responsible. If that's the case, a vent or breather should be installed to prevent future blowouts.

Trees that are growing too close to the tile line can gradually reduce to nil the effectiveness of the tile system. Those closer than 50 feet can completely clog the tile with roots, while water-loving willows and cottonwoods are known to give trouble at greater distances. The only sure remedy—cut and deaden trees and stumps, or re-route tile away from trees.

Frequently, the farmer will be faced with a complex drainage maintenance problem. He shouldn't hesitate to ask his county agent or write to the agricultural publications office, Purdue, for free bulletins on the subject. Specialists of the Soil Conservation Service in organized soil conservation districts stand ready to make actual on-the-farm engineering surveys and layouts.

HENHOUSE LIGHTS ARE GOOD INVESTMENT

If you light your poultry house from late October to March, each dime you spend for fall and early winter lights will return $2 on the investment.

How does it figure? Here's a Capper's Farmer rundown on the arithmetic:

It will cost ten cents a month to provide electric lights for 100 hens. They will lay 20 dozen more eggs in a month. Judging from past seasonal cycles, these eggs will bring 10 cents a dozen more than late winter and spring eggs.

That's making a dime earn $2, because you get the eggs in the fall when they're high instead of spring when they're low.

FRANK MIKESELLS CELEBRATE 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Open house was held Sunday, Oct. 11th, at the American Legion Home at Rochester in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mikesell, Rochester, who celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. A covered dish dinner for the members of the family and a few friends was held at noon in the legion home. A short program in their honor was given in the afternoon.

Mr. Mikesell and the former Luverisa Smith were married Oct. 4, 1903 at the home of Rev. William Bender of Akron, who performed the ceremony.

The couple have no children of their own, but raised five of Mr. Mikesell's brother's motherless children. They are Oliver Rhue, Rochester; Lloyd of Buchanan, Michigan; Helen Riley of Fort Wayne, Russell of South Bend, and Clifford, deceased.

The Mikesell's lived in the Talma community where he was a farmer until 1936 when they moved to So. Bend. He was employed as an engineer at Mussell school until he retired in 1950 and moved back to Rochester in May of this year.

DON'T FIELD BURN STRAW

Lafayette, Ind.—Field burning of soybean straw and residues is a sure way to further deplete the soil "bank" of valuable fertility and organic matter, according to Purdue University agronomists. They say a continuation of this practice increases the expense for needed additional fertilizer and other crop residues or manure that can replace such losses.

If extra fertilizer is not used, yields will decline seriously, say the agronomists.

Burning of the straw destroys all the nitrogen present and on a 25 bushel crop of beans, this means a loss of almost $3.00 per acre at present fertilizer prices. Since the bean straw is usually windrowed before being burned, the loss of phosphate and potash on all but the windrowed acres amounts to more than $1.50 per acre. This means a total loss at present prices of more than $4.50 per acre for plant food alone.

Then don't forget the additional loss of organic matter, valued as a mulch and as an aid for improving the soil tilth and water-holding capacity.

The value of soybean straw in increased crop production has been determined in soil fertility studies at Purdue. Crop residues, as returned in a rotation of corn, soybeans, wheat and clover, were found to have an average value of more than $8.00 per ton at present prices. On a 25 bushel bean crop, this would amount to around $10.00 per acre for the residues.

Under the prevailing practice of growing soybeans in rows, the amount of soybean straw is less than when beans are drilled solid. By using the tandem disc on the stubble and residues after combining, most farmers have very little trouble with the straw when drilling wheat.

Losses that can be expected from burning soybean straw should serve as an incentive for farmers to stay away from this practice.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

The University of Life Program begins this Sunday evening at six-thirty with the Fellowship Supper. The speaker of the evening is the Rev. William S. R. Sheridan, rector of St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Plymouth.

He comes highly recommended both as a speaker and as a representative of his church. Rev. Gosser knows him to be affable, eloquent, and understanding. He is on the examining board of Seminarians entering the clerical offices of the Episcopal Church and is a Chaplain at Culver Military Academy.

The Program Committee is fortunate in obtaining Father Sheridan, for his work and speaking engagements necessitate a very heavy schedule. His subject is "What we believe and the ways we worship," the same topic to be used by the speakers of succeeding University Nights.

The Program this year will include Rabbi Albert M. Shulman of South Bend and David A. Bontrager of Middlebury. The latter named is a representative of the Amish Belief. In November, either on the eighth or 15, The Menno Singers of Goshen will present a Program of Music. Representatives of other religious beliefs will also be presented in this year's program of our University of Life.

Frequently the question is asked the Pastor, "What do these represented Churches and Faiths believe?" It is always the unknown and mysterious which causes our prejudices. The Pastor and Committee have believed that the understanding needed for better social and religious relations with them may come as they speak for themselves. An offering will be received each evening at either the Fellowship Hour or during the Program as in past years.

Host and hostesses for this week are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Olson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manwaring. Co-chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Manwaring, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Blue, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bowser, Mrs. Pearl

Meredith, Mrs. Dove Kercher, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smythe, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Max Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Fawley, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Linn, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. George Clark, Mrs. Stella Emmons, Mrs. Broda Clark, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shinn.

MERRY MOLLYS MEET

The Merry Mollys Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Carl Whetstone for a hard time party. The meeting was opened by singing "Onward Christian Soldier" and repeating the club creed. Mrs. Francis Mellott gave two poems for meditation. The history of the song of the month was given by Mrs. Joan Welborn. The lesson on "Salad" was given by Mrs. Betty Hibschan.

In a short business session it was agreed upon having family night on Oct. 30th.

The new officers for the coming year are: President, Mrs. Eugene Sarber; vice president, Mrs. Carl Whetstone; secretary, Mrs. Heston Crevis-ton; treasurer, Mrs. Robert Hibschan.

An auction was held during the recreation hour. The door prize was won by Mrs. Joe Tucker.

The hostess and co-hostess served refreshments in keeping with the party theme.

The November meeting will be held with Mrs. Joe Tucker.

The Royal Neighbors were entertained on Tuesday evening of last week in the home of Recorder Mary Teel. The meeting was opened with the pledge to the flag and the divine blessing was given by Neighbor Mary Borton. Oracle Neighbor Snowden Halterman proceeded with the regular order of business. An invitation to attend the district meeting on Thursday, Oct. 15th at Plymouth, was read but decided not to attend this year. The oracle gave the obligation to Neighbor Linn. The meeting was closed with prayer. The next meeting will be with Neighbor Myrtle Davis. Crazy bingo was played during the social hour, the prizes going to Clara Parker, Mae Borton, Fern Rickel, Mary Borton, Myrtle Davis and Della Dillingham. The hostess served delicious refreshments.

BANKERS TO HELP FARM MEN AND WOMEN

Young men and women from Indiana farms who are interested in agricultural training can now get grants of $100 to take one of the annual winter short courses at Purdue University in January and February.

Indiana banks have set up a scholarship program that will pay many of the expenses for rural youth who want to enroll in the agricultural short course.

This program was announced by James M. Givens, Indianapolis, president of the Indiana Bankers association; George E. Rose, Nappanee, chairman of the agricultural committee of the association; and V. C. Freeman, associate dean of the school of agriculture at Purdue.

Banks will sponsor the program on an individual or community basis, with applications made through the local bank. Young men and women who wish to apply must be 18 years of age and have a good common-school education. They should plan to make farming or related agricultural work their career.

Programs in general agriculture, animal husbandry, dairy production, and dairy manufacturing are offered during the winter short course at Purdue. They are taught by regular staff members of the school of agriculture. Since the short course became a part of the curriculum in 1887, some 5,000 students have completed the eight-week program.

Classes this winter will be taught during January and February for the short course. Costs of the eight-week term are estimated between $150 and $200 for fees, room, board, books, and other expenses. The $100 grants from Indiana banks will pay half or more of the total school term expenses.

More information about the scholarship program can be obtained from the local banker in the community or the agricultural extension agent in the county.

CLUB SEES SLIDES TAKEN IN GERMANY

Mrs. Don Pfeiffer was hostess recently to the members of the Pleasant Valley Community club, which was also guest day. The meeting was opened by the members singing a welcome song, followed by roll call and introduction of the 21 guests and five children. Mrs. Orval Long led the devotions with the poem, "Jesus Is Here."

The newly elected officers are as follows: President, Mrs. Russell Kock; vice president, Mrs. Orval Long; secretary, Mrs. Charles Borden, and the treasurer is Mrs. Mack Haimbaugh.

Mrs. Vernon Castleman, chairman of religions, was introduced and she spoke briefly on spiritual values and stressed the use of "Salute to the Christian Flag."

Mrs. Parke Baxter entertained the group with a scenic group of slide pictures of the Reichstag and Old Castle at Heidelberg, Germany, which were taken by Cpl. Baxter, stationed in Germany with the U. S. Army. Mrs. Baxter also showed a group of pictures, "Wake Island Typhoon," with the story being told by Wilson Drudge. This group of slide pictures was taken by Vivian Cole, son of Mrs. Drudge, who with his wife and six year old daughter, were on the island during the disaster. Mr. Cole is with the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

A group of appropriately costumed women, Blanche Eisert, Doris Long, Lena Eaton, Kathern Barkman, Marjorie Dusenbury, and Lena Alspach, appeared in a clever skit, "Romeo and Juliet," with Mrs. Kermit Biddinger at the piano.

Two mystery packages were won by Mrs. Herschel Dyer, guest, and Mrs. Clarence Peterson and Mrs. Celia Grove won the door prize.

Lovely refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants at the close of the program.

Recent drouth has done much to advance the maturity and ripening of corn and soybeans. Consequently, harvest may start earlier than usual. Purdue University agronomists say official checking of yields to determine county and state champions in the Five Acre Corn Club and soybean yield contest will start in early October. Yields are checked by county agents, state judges, and local groups of farmers. Most of the nearly 4,500 members in the Indiana Corn Grower's Association will take part in one or the other of these contests.

MAKE FALL PLOWING AN EASY OPERATION

Lafayette, Ind. — A good many Hoosier farmers are having trouble plowing hard ground this fall and in some cases are waiting until rain loosens the soil and make the plowing operation easier.

In view of this situation, G. L. Hill, Purdue University extension agricultural engineer, offers some timely tips to farmers who are out to do the best job of fall plowing possible.

Touching on operation of the tractor first, he believes the farmer should set his speed range for plowing as high as the load imposed by the trailed implement allows. All manufacturers design their engine, carburetor, and transmission components to give maximum fuel economy when the above rule is followed.

With the additional power tractors have today, on some farms it's necessary that two sizes of plows be available, observes Hill. For instance, many tractors can pull three 14-inch bottoms in the spring, but they can't be safely operated with this load in the fall.

In his check-up on the tractor's condition, the farmer must make sure the engine is in good repair. This will not be a problem for the operator who maintains his tractor as recommended by the dealer and the manufacturer's instruction book.

Periodic check-ups by competent mechanics will insure that valves, piston rings and bearings will give economical service.

Don't overlook the tractor's wheels and tires. They should be gone over to see that they provide enough traction to pull a plow.

Hill says that wheel slippage, a real problem under heavy loads, can be reduced by doing the following:

Add weights to the land wheel; increase tire air pressure of the furrow wheel; and hitch the plow to tractor so the draft is divided equally on the tractor's drive wheels.

As a final tractor adjustment, the operator may want to set the drawbar at a higher level, in order to increase the traction of the drive wheels for plowing in hard ground.

If this doesn't stop the plow from riding on its "nose," the plow-hitch should be lowered for a smooth furrow bottom and easy leveling adjustment.

Raise coulters and jointers, advises Hill, until they just cut trash on the land, and do not set coulters ahead in expectation that they will cut the furrow slice easier than will the share. As for the shares — be sure they are in good condition for minimum draft and smooth furrows.

This year's calf crop will be a very important part of the herd five years from now. Give every calf a good start in life, urge Purdue University dairymen, but avoid overfeeding. Provide plenty of room to prevent overcrowding, and keep the pens dry and airy.

GIRL SCOUTS ENJOY OUTING

A group of twelve girl scouts were taken on an outing, last Sunday, at Frances Slocum State forest near Peru. Their leader, June Barts, Mrs. Clara Parker, and Mrs. Lois Fenstermaker drove cars to take the girls.

DRUGS NOT ALWAYS

WHOLE ANSWER FOR MASTITIS

A hammer and saw or a load of gravel usually aren't thought of as weapons against mastitis. Nevertheless, in two Michigan dairy herds, these tools cleared up the disease.

One dairyman spent $250 on medication in three months to no avail, reports Capper's Farmer. On visiting the herd, A. R. Drury, Michigan State College veterinarian, found cows had mastitis because they dragged their udders over a high door sill. A little carpentry took care of the problem.

On another farm Drury spotted a mucky spot in the lane between the barn and pasture, through which cows dragged their udders. Treatment failed until the mudhole was filled with a load of gravel.

Extreme cases, yes, but they emphasize a statement by the late Dr. C. S. Bryan, former dean of veterinary medicine at Michigan State College: "Treatment of mastitis without a management program is doomed to failure."

PLYMOUTH TO DISPLAY

'54 MODELS THURSDAY

Plymouth will display its 1954 line of automobiles in dealer show rooms throughout the nation Thursday, October 15, and the Cox Motor Sales, Manton, is eager to show them to you.

The new models have optional power steering and three choices in power drives.

They are longer than last year's models. New body lines, a new front end design, new interiors, new advanced design seat cushions and engine improvements are among the 64 advancements in styling and engineering design.

Plymouth is using the link type of power steering. The hydraulic "muscle" is in the steering linkage. Plymouth officials say it is the most effective, compact and serviceable installation produced for cars in the low price field. It reduces steering effort up to 80 per cent, permits fingertip control in tight parking situations and promotes safe driving through lessening of driver fatigue and absorption of road shock.

In its 1954 line, Plymouth offers three options in power drives. Hy-Drive, a no-shift unit made up of a combination of torque converter and three-speed transmission, was introduced during the 1953 model year. It will be in volume production for 1954 models. The two other options are Synchro-Silent three-speed transmission and Synchro-Silent with Overdrive, which provides a fourth forward speed for cruising.

Duane McKinley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ora McKinley and a carrier for the South Bend Tribune, was recently treated to a fine banquet dinner by the newspaper. Duane was one of 45 carriers out of 1100 to receive a certificate of merit and a small trophy for the courteous and businesslike manner in which he had handled his carrier job in Mentone.

PARCEL POST PACKAGES FOR FOREIGN COUNTRIES

Unless already known to them, persons desiring to send Christmas packages to foreign countries should check at the post office in advance for information as to import regulations for the various countries and the number and kind of customs forms required per parcel etc. Parcels in all cases must be enclosed in strong boxes.

Owing to the long sea transit frequently involved in the transmission of parcels by surface means, and to customs inspections and other formalities to which parcels may be subjected in the countries of destination, it is recommended that mailings be made as early as practicable to assure delivery by Christmas Day. Senders can be reasonably sure that parcels mailed not later than the dates shown below will reach their destinations before Christmas: South and Central America, Nov. 22; Europe, Nov. 15; Africa, Nov. 1; Near East, Nov. 1; Far East, Oct. 15.

HARRY MEREDITH INJURED IN FALL

Harry Meredith was injured about three o'clock Wednesday afternoon when he fell from the roof of the egg dock at the Northern Indiana Cooperative Association.

Mr. Meredith has been painting the metal roofs on all the Cooperative buildings and was just about through when he slipped and fell off the east side of the low building, a distance of 12 to 15 feet.

No one witnessed the fall and Mr. Meredith, even though conscious, did not give any clue as to how it happened. As soon as the man was noticed the Johns ambulance was called and he was rushed to the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester. Mr. Johns stated that even though the examination of the injured man was not complete, indications were he had a broken left leg above the ankle, and a deep cut above his left eye.

Examination at the accident scene showed a three-quarter inch gash in the left bill of his cap, and it is presumed that either in the fall, or in the tumble after he hit the ground, his head hit the hub cap on the auto chassis cart on which he had his paint spray equipment mounted.

BOOSTER TICKET SALE PROGRESSES

On Monday, 61 booster tickets had been sold. This is some short of the goal, but the committee hopes others are still planning to purchase these tickets. Several others have made cash donations for the new stage curtains. As near as we can tell, about three hundred dollars remains to be raised for the special projects. The committee plans to close the sale of booster tickets when the projects have been paid for. If you plan to get a booster ticket, please do so soon.

HOME FROM KOREA

The young lad left Mentone Oct. 16 of last year and arrived back on the same day of the same month in 1953.

Pre-school children will be given free meals when accompanied by their parents. Adult supper tickets are $1.25 and youngsters from 6 to 11 years will be 75c.

The net proceeds of the affair will be used to purchase chairs for the Mentone and Beaver Dam schools. Each school will have the privilege of using them when a need arises.

THE FLYING M. D.

Dr. Dan Urschel, who has been taking flying instruction at the Warsaw airport the past few months, recently passed his private pilot's tests and is now privileged to fly any direction he pleases. Saturday, Oct. 10, he flew to Pontiac, Michigan on a consultation and returned home the same day. He had but three hours and five minutes in flying time for the round trip, which would compare to about eight hours of hard driving in an automobile.

Doc recently gave his mother and father their first airplane ride, and the Urschel family plans to fly to Northfield, Minnesota this week end to visit their son Charles who is attending college there.

HOME ON FURLOUGH

S-Sgt. Merl Blue, who just returned from 11 months in Korea, is spending a 42-day furlough and travel time leave here before he returns to the Shaw Air Force Base in South Carolina to complete his last year of enlistment in the Air Corps.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

Almost a hundred persons heard the interesting and informative speaker, the Rev. William S. R. Sheridan of Plymouth, last Sunday evening at the opening session of this year's University of Life Program. An additional fifteen or twenty children attended a Class on The American Indians taught by Mrs. Denton Abbey. Each succeeding Sunday evening this class will meet to study and do hand-craft pertinent to the subject. This is for pre-school and school children through the Junior age.

This Sunday evening the program includes a film on Catholicism entitled "CLOISTERED" which is "the only authentic version ever released on film and is presented with significant musical interpretation and the holy ceremonies of the Catholic Church." It is a feature film lasting one hour and will be shown at seven-thirty p.m. following the Fellowship Supper at six-thirty.

The chairmen and members of the serving committee are: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kent and Mr. and Mrs. John Ellsworth, Co-Chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Mott Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. William Cook, Mr. and Mrs. William Blackburn, Mr. and Mrs.

Glen Snider, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Riner, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Boggs, Mrs. Lois Fenstermaker, Mr. and Mrs. John Allen Teel, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Simcoe, Mrs. Iris Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kohr, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sarber, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Shoemaker and Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Mollenhour.

The schedule of the remaining programs of this series of University of Life services is: Dr. David Bontraeger of the Amish Church on November 1; Rabbi Albert Shulman of South Bend on November 8, and the Menno Singers of Goshen on November 15. The topic for all these programs is WHAT WE BELIEVE AND THE WAYS WE WORSHIP with an exception for the last named program which will be mostly musical.

The response has been so gratifying that an additional series of evening services following the Holiday season may be developed along this same topic to obtain speakers from churches the time limit of the present series prohibits.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service is observing the Week of Prayer with a QUIET HOUR in the church on Thursday, October 29, at one-thirty p.m. Women of the church and community are invited to attend this observance of meditation and prayer.

October 29 Bishop Raines will speak to pastors and laymen of the Methodist Churches of the Warsaw District on the Church Expansion program. The meeting will be held in the Elkhart Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m.

On Tuesday evening the Methodist Youth of the Warsaw District will meet at the First Methodist Church in Mishawaka for a WORLD FRIENDSHIP BANQUET. Several youth of the Mentone Church will be attending this inspiring meeting.

TESTS PROVE MIXING ACCURACY AT VALENTINE'S

Following laboratory tests that showed the high efficiency of their Custom Mixing equipment, Valentine Elevator of Mentone, Indiana has been issued a Certificate of Mixing Accuracy by the Ralston Purina Company of St. Louis, Missouri.

This certificate qualifies the local feed company to mix Purina Micro-mixed supplements and concentrates with farmers' locally grown grains under approved formulas, thus enabling the farmer to make the best feeding use of his grains.

Samples of the local feed dealer's regular custom mixed feeds were sent to the company's Research Laboratory in St. Louis where analyses were made to see how thoroughly the ingredients were mixed. These samples met the high standards of accuracy set by Pu-rina's Custom Mix & Chow-Mix Division, showing a variation of less than one half of one per cent in protein content.

NEED MORE AGED

COWS IN HERD

Dairymen can't afford to get rid of a cow that returns profits year in and year out just because she's putting on age, says G. A. Williams, Purdue University extension dairyman.

He estimates that a cow still in the herd at ten years of age returns as much net income as three similar cows leaving the farm when six years old.

Unfortunately, many cows leave home at an early age, and for this obvious reason there are few aged cows in Hoosier dairy herds. A study of 20 Dairy Herd Improvement Associations in the state last year revealed the average age of some 8,060 cows was 4.59 years. More than one-fifth of all these cows were two years of age, with 70 per cent of the total less than six years of age. Less than five per cent reached the 10 year-and-over bracket.

In another Hoosier survey, this time with 11,650 cows, it was found that almost half of 2,400 cows disposed of left home in cash sales within the first seven years of life. Some 30 per cent of all the cows sold were considered low producers. Disease and other causes claimed more than 40 per cent of the cows removed from the herd.

In the light of these surveys, it appears that only a combination of good breeding and herd health can increase the number of aged cows in the herd.

If a dairy farmer is purchasing his replacements, he should select animals that come from families having long-lived ancestors. For a sound herd health program, he must feed a balanced ration, supplied with minerals, vitamins, calcium, phosphorus and vitamins A and D. The first-calf heifer should have up to three months of dry period, and older cows, 6-8 weeks.

All sick animals should be segregated from the herd until diagnosed not contagious. Maternity pens should not be used until previously cleaned and disinfected, and the cow must be returned to the herd only after all genital discharges have ceased.

Prevent cows from licking freshly painted surfaces, and old paint pails, says Williams. And above all — keep health and breeding records for all cows in the herd.

ATTENTION

Boys and Girls of Mentone and Surrounding Community

While your teen-age brothers and sisters of Mentone School are enjoying their annual Hallowe'en party in the community building, wouldn't you like to join in on a new-type of Hallowe'en fun? A Hallowe'en in which you go "begging" for the hungry, sick, and otherwise underprivileged children of the world.

Just dress in your desired costume, (maybe you'll be the one to win the prize for the most appropriate costume), and bring an empty cardboard milk container with you to the dining room in the basement of the Methodist Church at 7:00 p.m., Oct. 30. There you will receive a label for your container and an armband to identify yourself while making your calls. We will use milk containers as a symbol of the work that UNICEF is doing — because a big part of it is giving powdered milk and other food to children who are starving or sick because of not eating the right foods.

After doing your "Trick or Treat for All the World's Children" you will return to the church dining room. While the money is being counted — so you will know right away how well you have done — you will have your own Hallowe'en party and refreshments — and a prize for the most appropriate costume!

SEASON APPROACHING FOR FARM SLAUGHTER

Quite a few dollars will be saved on next summer's meat supply by the farmer who butchers for part of his own needs this coming winter. Farm slaughter is popular during cold weather, particularly because refrigeration isn't required, and beef, lamb or hog carcasses will cool thoroughly in a short time in a cellar or outbuilding. Purdue University animal husbandry specialists have a few tips on the slaughtering operation with pork:

They say to select healthy hogs weighing from 200 to 250 pounds, and feed only water to them for 24 hours prior to butchering. Don't bruise them or the meat will be unfit for curing, they add.

When butchering, farmers will get a more rapid bleed if the hog is shackled and hoisted by a hindleg.

The scalding operation calls for a temperature of 144 to 160 degrees F. Water up to 180 degrees can be used if the hog is removed as soon as the hair slips on the shanks and snout. If you use a barrel or small scalding tank in place of a horizontal tank, scald and scrape one end of the hog at a time, since the hair slips more easily while hot.

The cooling process, following dressing, is vitally important, say the specialists. Suitable cold days will be required — meaning about 34-40 degrees. Any weight of carcass held at these temperatures for 12 to 18 hours will have sufficient time to chill thoroughly before the cutting and curing operations are performed. Make sure the carcass isn't frozen, or the curing ingredients won't be able to penetrate.

If slaughtering beef, 24 hours at temperatures of 35-40 degrees will usually chill the carcass sufficiently.

For further information on the dressing, cutting, and curing of pork, beef and lamb, farmers should ask their county agent for Extension Bulletin 307, entitled "Meat on The Farm."

ORDER STATE NURSERYTREES THIS FALL

State nurseries in Hoosierland are now taking orders for spring delivery of trees, according to E. J. Lott, Purdue University extension forester.

Farmers who would like to plant for timber production, windbreaks, erosion control, or Christmas trees, should be sure to obtain a nursery stock application from either the forestry extension office at Purdue, or the Division of Forestry office, 311 North Washington Street, Indianapolis.

Three state nurseries report that they will have a good supply of several species of trees, both conifers and hardwoods. Listed as available for planting next spring are black locust, tulip poplar, and loblolly, shortleaf, Virginia, Scotch, jack, red and white pine.

Trees are available for planting in rural sections outside of city or town limits and are sold in quantities of 50 trees or more of any one species. During the shipping season, usually from March 15, until May 1, purchased trees can be either picked up at the nursery or shipped to the farm.

If farmers need any help in determining what, where and how to plant, they should contact their county agent or write to the forestry department at Purdue for the following bulletins: Extension leaflet 294, entitled "Ten Pointers on Tree Windbreaks," and Station circular 306, on "Trees For Reforestation in Indiana."

For devotions Mrs. Artley Cullum

read "Ten Commandments For Modern Parents," which was followed by a vocal solo "For the Lord Is Mindful" by David Gosser, Jr. accompanied by Mrs. Dan Urschel.

Mr. Kent gave a report on finances for the new gym equipment.

A motion that the P.T.A. donate $200 toward the new public address system, was made by O. L. McKinley, chairman of the Budget and finance committee. The motion was carried.

Zanna Hammer introduced the speaker, who was Mr. Walter Nagle, boys' probation officer for Allen county. He showed two films, "Vandalism" and "A Boy In Court."

Mr. Nogle stated that of the hundreds of children, who appear before him, one third had never been in Sunday School or church and half of them came from broken homes. In the United States there are 17,000,000 boys and girls who have never attended religious services. He stressed the fact that courts don't want to punish children, but to correct them.

In a survey made as to the "why" of delinquency a mother gave the following reasons: 1. staying out late, 2. disobedience in home, 3. indifference to the family welfare, 4. quarrelsome, 5. bad companions, 6. poor radio programs and reading material, 7. poor attitudes toward family. A teacher gave these reasons: 1. low grades, 2. poor citizenship (lying, cheating, etc.) 3. poor attendance at school, 4. association with trouble makers, 5. poor church attendance, 6. disinterest in wholesome teenage clubs, 7. disinterest in athletics, 8. bad language.

When parents ask "What Can He Do?", they are urged to see the teacher and honestly discuss the child's needs.

Mr. Nagle closed his remarks by saying that we should be thankful that we live in a country where we have religious freedom and stressed the fact that it is up to the parents in the home to deal with the problem of delinquency.

Following his talk, Mr. Nagle showed a most interesting exhibit of knives, daggers, ropes, guns, etc. which had been made by some of the youth who had been apprehended in Allen county.

Hostesses for the social hour were: Florence McKinley, Doris Nellans, Violet Long, Mary Tridle, Bobby Wallace, Esther Markley and Fern Beeson.

GET YOUR CAR READY FOR WINTER

Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club, today warned motorists to condition their cars for winter driving.

U. S. Weather Bureau records show that at this time last year the first spell of freezing weather hit the Midwest on October 6 when the temperature went down to 28 degrees. On October 29 the thermometer registered 25 degrees.

If you're a motorist and don't want to exceed the family budget for car repairs this winter here are some steps which the Chicago Motor Club advises you to take at once:

1. Drain and flush the cooling system of your car; check all hose connections; tighten clamps; add standard brand anti-freeze solution.

2. Check ignition system, distributor points; reset timing; clean or replace spark plugs.

3. Test battery for full charge; clean terminals; tighten cables.

4. Check and adjust fuel system.

5. Apply lightweight winter grade oil and grease.

6. Place a shovel and a box of sand, salt, cinders or ashes in your car trunk for use when you get stuck on icy streets, in ruts or at curbsides.

Hayes advised motorists to visit their service stations, garages or repairmen at once. He pointed out that early motorists will get better attention than the late-comers who wait for the thermometer to plummet below the freezing mark.

BEAVER DAM FRANKLINETTES HOLD OCTOBER MEETING

The Beaver Dam Franklinettes met with Mrs. Richard Whittenberger Oct. 14 with 14 members and 4 children present. Mrs. Glen Lowman read a poem for meditation. The Health and Safety Remarks were read by Mrs. Don Hoffman followed by singing the "song of the month," Old Folks at Home.

Mrs. Merl Harrold gave an interesting lesson about salads. Four salads, a relish plate, and celery seed dressing were displayed and sampled. Getting children to eat salads was discussed.

The September lesson (not reported before) was Herb Cookery given by Mrs. Glen Lowman. Since many herbs were new to the club members, the lesson leader passed several around for inspection. Peas seasoned with mayonaisse were served. A short cake decorating lesson was given by Mrs. Richard Whittenberger also in September at Mrs. Dall Barber's home.

Family night was held Oct. 9 at the Beaver Dam Conservation Club House. Contests and games were enjoyed after the potluck supper. Committee for the evening was Mrs. Merl Harrold, Mrs. Wilven Teel, Mrs. David Bryant, and Mrs. Preston Johnson.

Election of officers was held with results as follows: President, Mrs. George Cumberland, Vice President, Mrs. Richard Whittenberger, Secretary, Mrs. Don Hoffman, Treasurer, Mrs. Wilven Teel, Assistant Secretary, Mrs. Dale Nellans, Assistant Treasurer, Mrs. Preston Johnson.

Mrs. Preston Johnson received the door prize. Visiting, auction, and refreshments were enjoyed after the business meeting.

Speaking of Families

By BETH JUDSON

A step-mother who became the American Mother of the Year! That, you probably know, is the distinction of Mrs. Ethlyn Wisegarver Bott.

Quite a different story, isn't it, from that of some other stepmothers you hear about. But why is that? What's so often the trouble between step-parent and child?

It's just human nature," observed Mrs. Bott, "for a bride to put her new husband first in her thoughts. Above all else, it's his security and happiness she's thinking of.

"But . . . what about the children? His children? Chances are, she takes wonderful care of them — physically. Good food. Proper clothing. Clean faces. But their emotional needs are something else again. She's just so wrapped up in her husband that she forgets how children need their share of affection, too. They feel, then, as though they're being pushed on the shelf."

This "left-out" feeling never had a chance to take root in the Bott home, however. Even before she married, this thoughtful woman analyzed the problem. To be successful both as wife and mother, she reasoned, meant she must bend over backwards to make the children feel that they were truly an important part of her life.

"That sense of belonging," remarked Mrs. Bott. "It means everything!"

One of her best ideas for getting across this feeling was the family club. Every Sunday they met, all of them. They elected officers, appointed committees and worked out their problems—disciplinary and otherwise — in a democratic way. Everybody had his say.

Part of the club meetings were spent exploring new fields of interests. They studied a little art, a little music. Prayers and religious discussions were also an important part of the program.

Now the four Bott children are all grown up and happily married. If you read their tributes to their mother when she was elected American Mother of 1953, you know how enthusiastic their praises were.

"Getting the right point of view at the very start means so much," Mrs. Bott said. "A step-mother needs to realize that her devotion belongs not only to her husband but to his children, as well."

TO BE ON DEBATE TEAM

Charles Urschel, a freshman at Carleton College, Northfield, Minnesota, from Mentone, Ind., is a new member of the College debate team, which begins activity next week with the opening round of the annual intramural tournament. The topic for the year is "Resolved: That the United States should adopt a policy of free trade."

Miss Ada M. Harrison, associate professor of economics, is faculty adviser. At the conclusion of the tournament, debaters will participate in inter-collegiate meets which will begin in November. They will visit college campuses throughout the Midwest.

Charles is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Dan L. Urschel, 501 E. Main Street, Mentone, and a graduate of Mentone High School.

FARM FACTS

Many dairy cows are bred to freshen during the next few months. A considerable number are two-year-old heifers. It is good management to bring the heifers into the herd at least a couple of weeks before they are due to calve so that they may become accustomed to the schedule followed at milking time. Purdue University dairy specialists say that a few pounds of grain helps to condition the heifer.

Sweet potatoes should be harvested during October, advise Purdue University horticulturists. And do not bruise the roots, or you'll shorten the length of time they can be stored.

A concrete or wooden floor for hogs will soon pay for itself in corn saved, believe Purdue extension swine specialists. The extra dividend is the convenience for yourself.

Peonies and a few other perennial flowering plants may be planted in late October, remind Purdue horticulturists. Both plants and soil should be watered thoroughly.

BAN ON FIRES

Gov. Craig has issued a proclamation intended to prevent fires during the extremely dry weather. Anyone throwing any cigarette or burning article along the highway, or starting any outside fires will be subject to a rather heavy fine.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks for the expressions of sympathy and kindness shown us during the sickness and loss of our baby daughter.

FALL IS PRACTICAL TIME TO FIGHT FIELD MICE

Now that most of his apples are harvested, the fruit grower may want to start a vigorous campaign to rid of destructive mice in the orchard. Late October and early November is an excellent time to go all out in orchard treatments against this expensive pest.

Hoosier farmers with tree plantations and growers in the truck crop business should join ranks with the fruit grower in this defensive war, believes G. C. Oederkirk, rodent specialist, U. S. Wildlife Service, Purdue University. His reasons — severe mouse destruction this past year to pine varieties in nurseries and plantations, and considerable damage to melons and sweet corn as well.

For all farmers concerned, Oederkirk recommends the following plan of attack as the best known control:

Use poisoned bait, such as zinc phosphide rodenticide and strychnine oats in mouse runways under matted grass. Place it in a number of spots in no more than tablespoonful quantities, suggests Oederkirk.

And if no runways exist, place bait on top of the ground. As long as there's some protective cover, such as broken bales of hay or straw scattered in separate piles, mice will soon make runways. Even old fertilizer bags, apple crate tops or asphalt paper will attract mice.

In the case of truck crop fields, particular attention should be given to the baiting of field borders and fence rows. Removal of brush and grassy swales along these borders will limit harborage available to mice, and keep them from foraging in the planted field next year.

CONTRIBUTED EDITORIAL

A way is not needed to demonstrate the excellent service rendered by the Salvation Army; although any American boy, who has served in the armed forces, will testify to the worth of this splendid organization. Right here in this county, scores of citizens will testify to its worth.

It is not generally known that Kosciusko originated the idea of county units for Salvation Army service. Every township in the county is organized with a chairman who is prepared to receive emergency calls for relief. These calls will be promptly relayed to the officers in charge of the Warsaw Corps, who will take care of the need. It may be a family that has lost their home by fire, and needs shelter, clothing, furniture, etc. Others may need groceries or medicine because of accident or illness. Whatever the need, the Army stands ready to help.

Primarily, the Salvation Army is a Christian organization, with posts all over the world. It is non-denominational, and its doors are always open to the underprivileged, as well as to those who are more fortunately provided for. It is true that some folks look upon the Army as a collector of old clothing, furniture and newspapers; thus overlooking its primary purpose—the saving of souls and relief for the needy. Probably there is in the entire world, no other organization more fully dedicated to these greatest of needs. Remember this when you see one of these uniformed servants of the Master, out in all kinds of weather, ministering to those who most need the touch of a friendly hand, and a word of cheer.

The Salvatio Army advisory board is composed of representative citizens of this county, including the chairmen of all the seventeen townships, and renders valuable assistance to the local work. Thus the Army is represented in every section of the county. The Board treasurer, Mr. Ross Sittler, receives all moneys raised during the Home Service appeal.

This is the time of year when the annual solicitation of funds for operating expenses takes place in every city, town and township in the county. When you are contacted for your gift to this worthy cause, keep in mind that you are thus afforded a great opportunity to become a partner in this Christian and needy work, and give liberally. Your dollars can be put to work in no better cause. Nearly fifty percent of the needed budget is provided from collections received in their meetings, the sale of the War Cry, and other sources. The balance of $5500.00 is then to be raised during the Home Service appeal, which takes place this year from November 3 to 17.

Pupils Form Pep Club

Sixty two pupils in grades 7-12 have formed a pep club to strengthen the cheering at basketball games. The students have elected Marita Tucker, president and Jackie Stidham as vice-president. Plans are to hold regular practice sessions and perhaps later form a cheering block. Yell leaders are Marita Tucker, Janice Nelson, and Betty Griffiths.

Three New Pupils Enroll

On Monday the three children of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Harmon enrolled in the Mentone School. Karen is in the first grade; Larry in the second; and Gary in the fourth. These children formerly attended school at Laketon.

Basketball Season To Open Soon

Coach Abe Hoogenboom and his Bulldogs are hard at work getting ready for the season opener at Bourbon on November 6. A number of fine prospects are trying out for the team this year. Mr. Hoogenboom has used various combinations in an attempt to find the best one for the first game. The first home game will be with North Webster on November 13. This game will be held in the old gym.

Library Receives New Books

Through the courtesy of the American Legion Auxillary, the school has received twelve copies of the book, The Key to Peace by Clarence Manion. This book suggests a new weapon in the crusade for world peace. Other new books are Sportsmanlike Driving, The Arbutus, 1953 yearbook of Indiana University.

DEFENSE DEPT. REPORT ON "MISSING IN ACTION" CASES

Upon completion of the exchange of prisoners on September 6, 1953, under terms of the Armistice Agreement in Korea, there remained in the "missing in action" category 6,713 members of the Army, 78 Navy personnel, 671 members of the Air Force, and 493 Marines.

Many of these men have been missing since the early days of the conflict in 1950. They have been carried as "missing in action" under provisions of the Missing Persons Act because, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, they may reasonably be presumed to be living.

All possible efforts are being made to obtain information as to their fate or whereabouts. Such efforts include communication with the Communist forces and interrogation of recovered prisoners. In the latter connection, it was pointed out that it will be months before all evidence received from recently returned prisoners can be examined and evaluated in connection with the missing personnel.

Such testimony is expected to confirm fears that many now carried as "missing in action" have died. The remaining personnel will be the subjects of exhaustive search of battle areas wherever possible, and further questioning of all those with possible knowledge of them.

In the light of casualty reporting experience in Korea, it is now the considered opinion of the Department of Defense that most of these men must eventually be presumed dead. They have not been so reported thus far because of strict requirements that be reasonably conclusive evidence of the fact before a man is reported as having died.

It was emphasized that the conditions of battle in Korea made it impossible to recover and identify many of our battle dead. No assistance was received in this respect from the opposing forces, which explains the high "missing in action" figure in the Korean conflict.

CHICAGO PREPARES FOR BIG LIVESTOCK CLASSIC

Agriculture's greatest annual event will celebrate its fifty-fourth renewal as plans are made for the 1953 International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Show. It is scheduled for November 28 through December 5 in the International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock yards.

The continent's top specimens of livestock and crops will be on exhibition to the nearly half million visitors the management anticipates will attend this year. The eight-day show is officially designated "International Live Stock Exposition week in Chicago" by Mayor Martin Kennelly.

Over ten thousand of the country's top cattle, sheep, swine and horses from the majority of the States and Canada will be on exhibit. Champions from state and regional shows will compete for over one hundred thousand dollars in cash awards and for the enviable purple and blue ribbons that will designate them as the continent's best.

Farm youth will dominate the first day's program, spotlighted in the Junior Livestock Feeding Contest where boys and girls from many states will show their prize winning steers, lambs and hogs from earlier shows. Judging of carload lots of prime market bees is also scheduled for the opening day.

The thirty-first International Grain and Hay Show and the Wool show will also be judged on the first day, and its exhibits will be colorfully displayed during the remainder of the show.

Heading the entertainment features of the International will be fourteen action-packed performances of the International Horse Show, which will officially open the show on Friday night, November 27. It is the first time a Friday show will have been held, made necessary, according to Horse Show Chairman, W. J. O'Connor because of heavy listings this year in all classes.

Entries for all livestock classes except carlots and grain and horse shows will close November 1. Carlot entries will be accepted until November 21 and grain and hay and horse listing may be made until November 3.

TREES AND SHRUBS NEED PLENTY OF WATER

Prolonged dry weather throughout the state makes necessary the following warning to Hoosier homeowners:

Water deeply all woody plants that were transplanted this year. H. W. Gilbert, Purdue University horticulturist, says watering will insure satisfactory vigor of these trees and shrubs, enabling them to withstand the severity of winter weather.

Give particular attention to evergreens, especially those recently transplanted, he observes. They'll need watering right down to the deep roots, and it should be done so that the soil around all roots is thoroughly soaked. It's good insurance for the homeowner to repeat this job every 10 days, until the ground freezes, except of course in areas that may receive periods of heavy rainfall.

Another excellent practice, says Gilbert, is to soak the soil during periods of thawing. This is a sure way to get available moisture to evergreens during winter.

Cow comfort is an important factor in successful herd management. Purdue University extension dairymen suggest broken windows be replaced and openings in the stable be closed in order to avoid drafts.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

Tonight at seven-thirty Bishop Richard C. Raines will address ministers and laymen of the Warsaw District Methodist Churches at St. Paul's Methodist Church in Elkhart. His subject will be: "What Makes America Great?"

All laymen and women are invited to attend this service. Special music will be featured in the program, and the Bishop will again inspire his listeners with his affable personality and keen intellect.

On Tuesday evening of this week the Pastor and five young people attended the MYF World Friendship Banquet held in the First Methodist Church of Mishawaka. Dr. John Young, Superintendent of the Mishawaka City Schools, spoke encouragingly of the effort Methodist Youth are making to promote good will and friendship. Much of the address was given to personal observation of a trip recently taken to Austria to attend the graduation services of Kurt Overhooper, an exchange student who resided in the Young residence at Mishawaka for a year. An educator, Dr. Young commented on the different standards of the educational systems used in America and abroad. He believes that if the best of these systems were combined we would have a truly remarkable educational program.

Jacqueline Stidham, one of our own youth and President of the District MYF had part both in the planning of the Fellowship Banquet and in the Program itself. Others who attended were Mary Ellen Bryan, local MYF president, Betty Griffith, Sherry Shoemaker, and David Paul Gosser. Three hundred and thirty-two youth and youth leaders attended the Banquet, over a hundred more than last year. The Warsaw District Youth Program is one of the most successful in the North Indiana Conference.

Most of the readers will obtain copies of this item to be reminded that the local church WSCS is observing the Week of Prayer with a special service this afternoon at one-thirty. All women of the church and community are cordially invited to attend and participate in this observance.

Soon after November 1 the Methodist Church will present on television a program called "The Pastor." It will be a 15-minute weekly dramatic presentation of which we as Methodists can be proud.

Raymond Cooper and a number of District Laymen and ministers met at New Paris on Monday evening to prepare the Program of presentation for the North Indiana Conference Church Extension Crusade. This is a project to raise $550,000 to be used in the North Indiana Conference for the establishing of new churches and congregations in the rapidly growing centers of population and a Wesley Foundation Building at Ball State Teachers College.

Mr. Cooper is Co-Chairman of the Sub District Special Gifts Committee. Mr. Charles Manwaring is Chairman of the local church program. In addition to attending the Bishop's meeting in Elkhart, they, along with other local laymen will attend a special meeting in Warsaw on November 10.

This Sunday morning a representative of the Gideons will speak briefly of the program and work carried on by the lay business men associated in the distribution of Bibles and New Testaments in jails, hospitals, hotels and motels, and in the schools.

The University of Life Committee presents for its program this Sunday evening, Mr. David Bontraeger and Mr. David O. Burkholder, representatives and speakers in the Amish church. We are privileged to have them with us to help in understanding our various religious faiths and beliefs and in building true democratic tolerance with those who help make America.

Co-chairmen of the serving Committee are Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Davison and Mr. and Mrs. Miles Manwaring. Their Committee consists of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hatfield, Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Friesner, Greta Latimer, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Bunner, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Long, Mr. and Mrs. John Boggs, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Witham, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Carper, Mrs. Effie Personette, Mrs. Ethel Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Mollenhour, Mr. and Mrs. Rae Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Nellans, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lash, Mrs. Bertha Sarber, and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Nellans.

MILK FEVER STRIKES

HERD'S TOP COWS

Watch for milk fever in cows that are freshening this fall, particularly your top producers, advise Purdue University veterinarians.

Milk fever is usually associated with high producing families of cows, remind the specialists, and your most valuable cow is most likely to come down with the disease. Symptoms may appear right at freshening time, or a few hours before or after the calf is born.

Be suspicious if the cow becomes dull, is difficult to move, refuses to eat and drink, and starts to stagger. Constipation is a 100 per cent sure symptom, and oftentimes the cow's temperature goes below normal. Unless she's treated promptly, she will go down and be unable to get up.

call for veterinary help as soon as possible. With prompt treatment, chances for saving the cow are excellent.

Veterinarians give this final warning — if the cow goes down, be sure she isn't allowed to lie flat. There's danger of bloat, or a chance that the cow will regurgitate and choke, unless she is down with her legs under her, with head held normally.

DO YOU ALWAYS LOCK YOUR CAR?

Motorists in Illinois and Indiana are prohibited to leave cars without locking their ignition, warned a Chicago Motor Club bulletin today.

"You are not only inviting the car thief to help himself," the bulletin stated, "but you are also permitting your car to be used as a potential killer of youth. Too many children have fallen prey to the temptation of stepping into an unlocked car and trying to drive away. This negligence on the part of car owners has increased the number of accidents resulting from unlocked ignitions."

Each motorist can play a part in helping to stop this rise. He is not only protecting the children of his neighborhood, but may also be preventing the possible theft of his car. The Club suggests the habitual following of these rules to protect you as a car owner:

1. When leaving your car, make certain both ignition and doors are locked.
2. When parking at night for lengthy periods, avoid dark or unlighted streets.
3. If it is necessary to leave the car parked for any length of time, visit the location as often as possible.
4. Never leave any articles of value in a parked car where they can be observed by passers-by.
5. Strict caution should be observed to avoid purchasing a stolen car. These cars are usually offered substantially below prevailing market prices.

HALLOWE'EN FOR THE WORLD'S CHILDREN

Mom! Dad! What are your children doing this Hallowe'en? We'll bet Junior and the gang are looking forward to a great time — ringing doorbells, begging for sweets, or a party, perhaps. Well, Hallowe'en is traditionally a time for festivity. But did you know that many of the young people of our town and community are planning a very special kind — one in which they'll have just as much fun as ever and at the same time help needy children all over the world. On Hallowe'en night they'll go "begging." But instead of asking for cookies or candy for themselves, they'll ask for coins that they can send to the United States Committee for UNICEF — your national organization that is working for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. Out of the world's 900 million children, two-thirds — 600 million — live and die in want — the helpless victims of poverty, hunger and disease. UNICEF is helping fight these childhood perils in 69 countries — with food and medical supplies and by setting up health and welfare centers. UNICEF is the only U. N. agency set up exclusively to care for the world's underprivileged children. And this needed agency depends solely on voluntary contributions — yours and mine. So let's all pitch in and help. And when your doorbell rings Friday night, Oct. 30, be ready with pennies, dimes or quarters — whatever you can spare — for UNICEF and the underprivileged children of the world.

CANNIBALISM IN POULTRY HARD PROBLEM TO HANDLE

Cannibalism or back-picking and feather pulling among laying hens is an ugly vice that can make a poultryman's life a nightmare. Cannibalism generally occurs when the birds are laying at a good clip, and once it gets started, it seems that just plain "cussedness" possesses the ringleaders.

How can this objectionable habit be thwarted? Purdue University extension poultry specialists say prevention is the best cure. Overcrowding and inadequate feeder and water fountain facilities probably do most toward setting the stage for an outbreak of cannibalism. Laying hens require three to four square feet of floor space per bird, three 8-foot feeders per 100 hens, one nest for each five hens and water fountains capable of providing at least six gallons of water daily per 100 birds.

There's also a psychological angle to the cannibalism problem, the specialists add. Hens laying at a high rate seem to suffer from nervous tension to the extent that they pick at each other for want of something better to do. Some flock owners have found that providing their hens with fresh, green alfalfa hay or scattering whole oats in the litter keeps the hens busy scratching rather than picking at each other.

At any rate, preventing cannibalism is less expensive than trying to cure it. One suggestion is to eat or sell the ringleaders. Another measure is to cut off about a third of the upper beak. This isn't as inhumane as it sounds — debeaking is painless and does not interfere with eating or drinking.

Mrs. Earl Meredith and Mrs. Ora Anderson were Thursday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Laird.

PUT "BUZZ BOMB"

ON POLICE TRUCK

Hallowe'en pranksters put one of those exploding "buzz bombs" on the Mentone police truck the other evening, but luckily the thing failed to explode.

Regardless of who did it, one can rest assured that said person gave very little thought to the possible dangers involved. I don't imagine the night policeman has had very much experience around such things, and at his age, the excitement could easily have caused his death. The pranksters, also, likely never thought what the consequences would have been had the thing worked and burned up the truck. This would bring the insurance investigators onto the scene with the guilty ones being confronted with heavy fines and prison sentences should they be apprehended.

To my knowledge the Hallowe'en tricks have been mainly limited to window soaping and the like, and the youngsters are to be complimented for their actions.

Boys and girls, have your fun for the balance of the Hallowe'en season, but don't pull any of those tricks that will get you into trouble or endanger the lives or property of others.

UNIQUE HALLOWEEN TRICK OR TREAT

This Friday evening many children will go out through the community masked and wearing arm bands with the insignia of UNICEF and carrying boxes for your contributions to this United Nations Children's relief project. (See article on front page of October 14 issue of Co-Op News.)

The children desiring to help in this project will report in the basement of the Methodist Church for their arm bands and boxes. They will leave the church at seven-thirty to ring your door bells and hold forth their container, and at nine o'clock be back in the church for refreshments and games. Several prizes will be given to costumed participants.

To The Boys and Girls

Remember, boys and girls, this is still Halloween, still a night for fun. Only, instead of warding off witches and black cats, you'll be helping fight the enemies of childhood-hunger, disease, suffering. We hope you'll still get a few apples or cookies for yourself, but your real object will be to get something for other children — to collect money for the Children's Fund to help your brothers and sisters in other countries.

So bring your empty cardboard milk containers with you to the dining room of the Methodist Church, Friday evening, October 30, at 7 p.m. You will receive a label for your container and an armband as an identification that you want to help other children in the world.

TALMA W.S.C.S. TO MEET

Mrs. Fred D. Barr will be the program leader and Mrs. Roy Hubbard will conduct the Worship Service. Roll call will be answered by "A Bible Verse on Stewardship."
