Arnold Entsminger
Dies of Injuries

Arnold Entsminger, Palestine, died about 8:15 this morning of injuries he received about forty-five minutes earlier while working at the Laminated Rafters plant at Warsaw. He died in the McDonald hospital of a punctured lung, after his chest was crushed between two piles of the heavy wood-laminated rafters.

Reports were that Mr. Entsminger was removing clamps from some of the rafters that were glued the day previous when the pile fell, crushing him against another nearby stack.

"Bucky," as he was known in Mentone, had worked for the concern for some time, and the past two years he had been living at the "Spike" Daugherty home, just east of Palestine.

The deceased was born March 16, 1907 at Mentone and had lived in this area most of his life. The only immediate survivors are two daughters, Barbara Jane and Mildred Irene, who live with the mother's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Floor, near Akron, and a son, Paul Devoy, who is stationed at Montgomery, Ala., with the air force.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete, but services are announced for two o'clock Saturday afternoon. Friends may call at the Johns funeral home after seven o'clock Thursday evening.

Lions Members Entertain Teachers

The Mentone Lions Club was host to the teachers of the Mentone and Beaver Dam schools on Wednesday evening. There were 39 teachers and husbands or wives present.

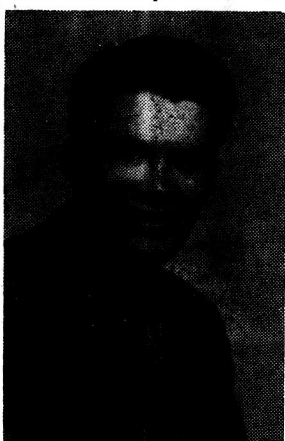

After a very delicious ham dinner, H. V. Johns led in group singing, after which Lion President Leroy Cox, introduced Trustees Earl Boggs and Lawrence Butts, they introduced the principals of their respective schools, who then introduced the teachers.

Dale Kelley and R. O. Jones were on the entertainment committee. Mr. Whitehead, county superintendent of schools, then gave a very fine message to the group.

Conscience is the still small voice that makes us feel still smaller.

Minister Accepts Mentone Call

Rev. Irwin L. Olson, of Park Rapids, Minnesota, shown here, has accepted a call to come to Mentone to serve as pastor of the First Baptist Church here. Rev. Olson has been pastor of the Baptist church there for the past five and one-half years, and also served five years as pastor at Garden City, Minnesota prior to his service at Park Rapids.

Rev. and Mrs. Olson have a family of four daughters and one son. They are scheduled to arrive in Mentone in time to be in the services Sunday, Oct. 30th.

Help Celebrate
58th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Swick, of near Mentone, were guests of honor at a family dinner held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Earwood of Elkhart, last Sunday. The occasion was the celebration of the 58th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Swick.

Peter Grubbs

Fish Fry Saturday

The boys on the fire department always put forth every effort to make this a big affair, and they have always been successful in doing just that. They attempt to give you the finest in food and feed you all you can possibly eat.

This is about the only way the department has of raising funds other than that supplied by the town of Mentone and the four townships, and the funds so gained is always put to good use in purchasing extra equipment for the department.

Advance ticket sales are now in progress and you can save 10c if you buy your ticket now. See any member of the fire department.

Farm Woods Can Return Profits

Lafayette, Ind.—Hoosier farmers can harvest a timber crop each year if a well organized farm woods program is followed.

E. J. Lott, extension forester at Purdue University, says the farm woods is a valuable piece of property and should be managed just as careful as the rest of the farm.

Trees of all sizes are found in good farm woods. Since a few trees reach maturity each year, annual cuttings will yield the farm owner added dividends. And timber can be grown on land too rough for cultivation.

Livestock should be kept out of wooded areas since grazing destroys young trees. Livestock also damages older trees by trampling roots and compacting the soil. Lott predicts a protected woods will grow between 200 and 300 board feet of timber an acre a year. It has been proven through research that there is no such thing as a good woods pasture.

"Safety strips," 10 to 12 feet wide, should be plowed and disced between the woods and sources of fire, such as railroads and highways.

Lott says farmers can improve their woods by cutting dead, defective, crooked, or diseased trees for firewood, posts, or poles. Vines which are growing on good young trees should be removed.

Farmers should use caution when using for selling timber from the farm woods. Enough large trees of desirable species should be kept to replace a barn or other farm buildings. Such timber reserve is added building insurance at low cost.

Further information on farm woods can be obtained from the county extension agent or from the district extension forester.

WILLIAM CAMPBELL in

"Cell 2455, Death Row"

underway in Hoosierland, reports M. O. Pense, extension agronomist at Purdue University.

More than 4000 adult and junior contestants in 85 counties are now being checked by extension agents in cooperation with the Purdue agronomy extension division.

Yields are expected to be very good throughout the state, especially in northern Indiana where ideal growing conditions have prevailed.

Indiana's Corn Growers' Association offers medals for official corn yields as follows: silver medals for 85 to 100 bushels; gold medals for 100 to 125 bushels; green gold medals for 125 to 150 bushels, and rose gold medals for yields of 150 bushels or more.

Last year's corn growing champion, A. J. Custer of DeKalb county who set a record yield of 241 bushels an acre, is not entered in competition this year. However, James Kirkendall, the '54 junior king, is entered in the contest.

Tom Maddox, Benton county farmer, produced a record 63.6 bushels an acre to win the 1954 5-acre soybean event.

Poultrymen can cut down the number of steps needed to fill chicken house feed troughs by lining up the troughs end to end the length of the house, report Purdue University extension poultrymen.

Purdue University agricultural engineers say now is a good time to inspect drainage ditches and make repairs before the winter rains begin.

Tile Storage Is Inexpensive

A large tile buried upright in the soil will provide an inexpensive and long-lasting storage space for many fruits and vegetables, advises W. B. Ward, extension horticulturist in vegetables at Purdue University.

Three bushel baskets of fruit or vegetables can be stored in a tile that is 18 inches in diameter and 30 inches long. When the produce is stored loose, the amount is increased. A tile 24 by 24 inches will store only two bushel baskets but about six and a half bushels in bulk.

Best location for the "tile storage" is in a well shaded place in a locality that has a basement possibility. The more porous tile are considered best, although the hard burned vitrified tile may be used.

Full directions are found on "How to Build A Tile Storage" in Purdue agricultural extension leaflet 278. The leaflet may be obtained without charge from the county extension office or the office of agricultural publications at Purdue.

Farm Lease Ideas Listed By Purdue

Lafayette, Ind.—Eight different lease forms are available from the Purdue University agricultural economics department for Hoosier farm tenants and landlords in need of assistance in developing a satisfactory rental agreement.

Paul Robbins, Purdue agricultural economist, says that some forms are designed to handle situations in which the landlord furnishes most or all the operating capital while other forms provide for the renter to furnish the needed money. Additional information is also available which shows how income, expenses, and ownership of machinery and equipment are customarily divided in the different sections of the state for various leases.

Robbins believes that farm leases should be based on value of contributions made by the tenant and landlord instead of on community customs.

In the past few years, some landlords have changed their lease form from a crop share agreement to a livestock share plan. Under the crop lease, the tenant owns all livestock but often times not many animals are kept.

Under the livestock share lease the tenant and landlord are usually 50-50 across the board on crops and livestock. Both tenant and landlord have a greater incentive to develop proper land use and get needed fences, buildings and equipment under a livestock agreement than under the crop leases. A sounder, more profitable long time organization for the farm is more likely to develop if the lease does not discourage the keeping of the proper amount of livestock.

Investments in new technologies which tenants are making requires additions to or modifications of leases. Many tenants are now investing in heavy applications of "plow down" fertilizer, sow waterways and terraces, and pasture renovations which benefit the farm for more than one year.

At present 42 percent of Indiana's farm land is owned by people who do not farm. About 36 percent of the farm operators in the state rent all or part of the land they farm.

Robbins says many problems between the tenant and landlord can be eliminated if sufficient thought is given to the rental agreement at the time the tenant came to the farm or by periodic revisions of the old lease.

It's Great To Be Home

I want now in this way to sincerely thank all the people who visited me personally or with messages, especially those who responded early when my need was great, your encouragements were bright spots in what were lark days indeed.

Thanks also to those who wanted to do so, but didn't get around to it. I have far too often been found in a position like that myself.

Everyone made their own decisions about what they wanted to do, if anything, and blessed indeed was I when in so many of you I saw Christianity at work.

Visitors and messages were as important to this big cry baby in bed as what the doctors and nurses were doing.

Great indeed was the inspiration that came from people from several churches, the American Legion and similar organizations, also from folks I used to eat with at the restaurants, and those with whom I have worked, or worked for, and many other groups and individuals.

Prayers from many sources, brotherly love in action and medical care have brought me where I am today, well along on the road to what the doctors say should be complete recovery.

I cannot personally thank you as groups and individuals, don't want to show favoritism, or overlook anyone, so to all my benefactors I say, thanks to you, your help was appreciated and will always be remembered. My wish is that I may live among you long enough to partly repay the kindness shown me.

My thanks for the flowers, fruit, food, reading material and other things brought to me, and for kindness shown my family, have been or will be personally extended when I have the opportunity to do so.

I will be confined to my home for some time and you are welcome to visit me there. Suggest you come to the west door; my wheel chair will be nearer that one.

Thanks to so many for so much.
M. ROY RUSH.

Farms Identified

The farm pictured in our Sept. 21st issue has been identified by Mrs. Charles Fout and Mrs. Wm. Snipes as the old Zolman farm. It is now owned by Kenny Owens and is located 3 miles south of road 25. Mr. Owens has not yet been in to claim the picture as his farm. Mrs. Fout, a previous owner stated that a cyclone in 1939 blew down the old bank barn and the new one was built by them.

The farm pictured in our Sept. 28th issue has been identified by Mrs. Truman Long as belonging to Russel Antonides.

Mr. Antoides has not been in or notified us that the picture was of his farm.

We wish to remind the various farm owners that if they will come in to the News office and identify the picture we will give them free a beautifully finished photograph of the farm pictured.

That Man Named Smith

Two men worked at neighboring desks in the Pentagon Building. One always left at four o'clock while the other worked 'til six or later. Finally, although they had never had occasion to speak, the harder worker decided to approach the other. "I beg your pardon," he said to him. "Do you mind telling me how you manage to finish your work every day by four o'clock?" "Not at all," smiled the other. "When I come across a tough piece of detail I mark it 'Refer to Commander Smith,' I figure in an outfit as large as this there is bound to be a Commander Smith. I guess I'm right, too, because none of those papers comes back."

"Brother," said the hard worker rolling up his sleeves, "prepare for action. I'm Commander Smith."

Prevention Best Fire Protection

Hoosier farm families can go a long way toward making the 1955 Fire Prevention Week, October 9-15, a success if they "don't give fires a chance to start."

F. R. Willsey, farm safety specialist at Purdue University, says careful inspection for potential sources will eliminate needless fires.

A total of 274 farmers' mutual fire insurance companies indicate that farm fire losses amounted to $157 million in 1954. An estimated 2500 farm residents also perished in farm fires in that period. Carelessness and neglect were the principal causes of these staggering losses in manpower, livestock, farm products, buildings and equipment.

Willsey believes that the greatest cause for fires in homes, heating and cooking, can be reduced if defective chimneys are rebuilt, heating systems cleaned at least once a year, and worn parts of heating systems and cooking equipment repaired or replaced.

"Do not overfuse electrical systems" the safety specialist warns. A recent inspection of 1049 Hoosier farms, showed that overfusing occurred on 41 percent of those farms. Farm owners are advised to watch for frayed insulation, and loose or sagging wires and fixtures. Fifteen ampere fuses should be used on lighting systems in the barns.

Other fires can be prevented on farms if rubbish is cleared out, lightning rods are inspected and matches kept away from children.

Spontaneous ignition accounts for more than 27 percent of fires in barns and outbuildings. Hay should be well cured before storage and placed evenly in the mow. Ventilation flues in haymows help prevent heating.

Farmers should be sure to store gasoline, benzine, or similar flammable liquids a safe distance from the house. And don't use the liquids to start or boost fires in stoves, ranges or fireplaces.

Each member of the family and all farm helpers should be constantly on the alert to dangers of fires, reminds Willsey.

Fire prevention costs little in comparison to expensive and often deadly conflagration.

Ponds Good Source For Farm Water

Farmers faced with a shortage of water year after year should consider a farm pond, advises Don Sisson, extension agricultural engineer at Purdue University.

A good farm pond can be used to supply water for livestock orchard spraying, fire protection, domestic water supply, and for irrigation of small acreages.

Generally, the most economical location for a dam is across a ravine at a point where the least amount of fill is required to obtain the desired water storage.

Farmers should plan the dam and reservoir well in advance of construction. Size, depth and subsoil conditions must be known before a decision can be made on whether to proceed with construction. A good farm pond should be more than 6 feet deep in at least 20 percent of the reservoir area.

Fall months are usually best for building farm ponds, Sisson says. Some moisture is required for good soil compaction; however, the soil is often too wet during spring months.

Additional information can be found in Purdue extension bulletin 369, "Farm Ponds", which is available from the county extension agents or from the office of agricultural publications at Purdue.

Sisson cautions Hoosier homeowners that pond water is not safe for humans to drink unless treated and disinfected. Pond water treatment information is listed in Purdue mimeo AE 32, "Pond Water for Farm Use," which can be secured from the above sources.

Gardeners who save potatoes for seed planting usually select the wrong type of tubers, according to W. B. Ward, Purdue University extension horticulturist. He says the small potatoes, about egg size, found in each good hill or diseased free tubers are the best for seed. These potatoes, when planted whole, produce whole, produce better yields than larger tubers which have been divided. "Eat those large smooth potatoes and save the 'B' or egg size ones for seed," Ward says.

Convert To Dial Phone Service Here Oct. 18

Work by General Telephone Company of Indiana is progressing rapidly on the conversion of all Mentone telephones to dial operation, according to Norman E. Watson, North Manchester district commercial manager.

The building to house the automatic telephone equipment has been erected and the inside equipment installed. Work is in progress on the outside plant equipment and 90 per cent of the new dial telephones are in place in Mentone homes and places of business. The cable is now being installed, so the work can now be described as in final phases, Watson says.

A total of 523 new dial telephones will be ready for the conversion at 7 a. m. on October 18. An additional 40 dial telephones will also be added at the time of conversion. Capacity of the new automatic dial system will be 300 lines which could theoretically serve about 2,400 telephones.

The new building was completed April 20 of this year and is made of cement block at an approximate cost of $2,500. Serious delays in cable deliveries have been experienced during the last two or three months because of work stoppages in the copper mining and refining industry.

Instructions on how to use the dial telephones will be supplied by General Telephone Company before October 18. These instructions will include a card mailed to the subscriber and a public meeting at the Mentone high school building at 8 p. m., Monday, October 17, when a film "Dial Comes to Town" will be shown to all who wish to attend.

The October 17 meeting will also feature a demonstration of equipment which shows how dial telephones operate. District Commercial Manager Watson and other General Telephone personnel will be on hand to answer any questions on dial telephone operation.

Growth of the Mentone area has been carefully studied by the company's commercial department to determine future requirements by telephone users. By 1974, the Mentone telephone subscribers could total about 840, according to the commercial survey.

Total estimated cost for the dial telephone equipment and building is $128,200, Watson reports. More than 700 new telephone poles have been set. General Telephone has placed 779,422 feet of iron wire and 23,600 feet of lead and plastic cable.

Dial telephone users will be instructed to dial zero (0) for information or repair service, and 1100 to place long distance calls.

Additional long distance circuits have been installed to make long distance service speedier and easier. Mentone numbers are to be five digits in keeping with company and industry policy of planning for the eventual program of customer toll dialing. In customer toll dialing, the telephone user himself dials the long distance number with no long distance operator being required at either end of the call.

Watson urges everyone in Mentone to become familiar with the new dial telephones by adhering to the instruction cards and by attending the public meeting on Monday night, October 17, at the high school building.

Mentone's conversion program is part of General Telephone's huge $4,300,000 budget for this year. General Telephone Company of Indiana has its headquarters in Lafayette and serves more than 136,000 telephones in 225 communities in the northern two-thirds of Indiana. It is the state's largest independent (non-Bell) telephone company.

Mrs. Boggess Suffers Stroke

Nellans has filed a complaint in circuit court against Welcome Heckaman asking $10,000 for personal injuries allegedly suffered when he fell across a trap door opening into the cellar in the main aisleway of the Lake Trail cafe in Mentone on March 24. The plaintiff claims permanent injury to his left shoulder thereby causing his left arm to be paralyzed.

October 16 Is Go-To-Church Sunday

Some 200 officers and workers will assemble at Westminster Hotel Oct. 11th at 7:00 a. m. for their annual "kick-off" breakfast. After the breakfast those who will canvas a territory will be given their material.

Returns From Japan

David Cooper, who landed on the west coast last week after a 19-day boat trip from Japan, received his release from the Air Force at the Parks Air Force Base, near San Francisco, Monday. He flew to Chicago, arriving there Tuesday morning, and then took the train to Warsaw where he was met by members of his family.

Dave said he believed he was willing to try civilian life for a while, anyway. And after 18 months away from his family, there can be little doubt but that he will certainly appreciate his release from military service.

Something New? Yes and No!

To The Co-Op. News:

I have been watching the work of the telephone company for the past few months getting ready for the new dial system.

Thinking the following information would be of interest to the readers of your paper I would like to call attention to the fact that Mentone had an automatic telephone system 53 years ago.

A Mr. Elmer Vandermark and a Mr. VanVactor installed this system in Mentone in 1902 and the equipment was placed in the old Gazette Building now occupied by Ward's Paint Store.

The phones were the wall type like our present old phones, but on the left side was placed a box about four inches wide and 10 inches long. In this box were three parallel columns in slots on which were placed numbers from 0 to 9. In placing a call you would move the first number at the left from 0 to the required number then the second and third likewise. When you had the numbers placed as required you would lift the receiver and the little pins would drop to 0 and your call would be completed. I think these little metal pins were held by a magnet and when the receiver was removed this broke the circuit, but I am not sure of this.

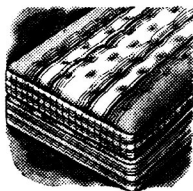

This system worked fine as long as we had no storms to short the lines, then it was quite a mess. (We had no cables then.) After about a year this company was taken over by the Farmers Mutual and "central" girls were "installed."

Our first phone number was 060 and for 53 years we have had a number revolving around 60. This, too, we are going to miss. I have been wondering if anyone else has the same number they started with and have held the same through the years.

MAHLON O. MENTZER.

Dial Phone Service Tuesday

Next Tuesday morning, at seven a. m. Mentone is scheduled to be switched to the dial system by the General Telephone Company. The actual change-over will take but a few minutes, and service will not be interrupted but a few seconds.

Mentone area citizens, who have been using "pet" telephone numbers for years, will find it a bit confusing until they begin to memorize the four-digit numbers of their friends and business associates. Mentone numbers under the dial system will all be preceded by a prefix number "3", which is the number that is used to connect the dial call to a Mentone number or patron.

Other nearby exchanges can be called. Kindly refer to the emergency directories that were mailed to every patron this week.

The installation of the dial service here will eliminate the "central" operators. All of them were given the privilege of transferring to other posts within the system, but indications are that none will leave Mentone other than Mrs. Olive Frye. She will go to Bourbon as cashier for the district.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Grove of Rochester, announce the engagement of their daughter, Bonnie Lou, to Richard A. Webster of Anderson. Bag of Bulbs Campaign Soon

The Mentone Lions Club is completing plans to join in the national "Bag of Bulbs" sale by members of Lions Clubs.

The Bag of Bulbs sale is conducted in cooperation with a electric light bulb manufacturing concern and the bulbs are sold at regular retail prices. Local dealers are given a small percentage for purchasing the bulbs. This percentage is paid by the manufacturer and the Lions Club receive the normal profit margin for the sale.

The proceeds from the sale will be used for the sight conservation and health funds of the Mentone Lions club.

Citizens who normally use incandescent bulbs, can have 10 extra bulbs in the home for the sum of $2.00 and still help out in a worthy endeavor.

Bill Horn is home on a 14-day furlough after ten weeks training with the navy at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station. He goes to San Francisco for his next assignment.

Then and Now In Farm Pictures

The farm pictured in our last issue has been identified as the Earl Davis farm, near Tippecanoe. Those who named it as the Davis farm were: Dick Bog-anwright, Mrs. Lon Walters, Mrs. Howard Davis and Mrs. Isaac Horn.

family. They disposed of the farm 22 years ago, but it had been in the Horn family for a great many years.

Mr. Isaac Horn, who is 76 years of age, was born on the place, as were his brothers and sisters: Mrs. Anna Meredith and Amos Horn, Elkhart; Mrs. Otto Ames, Bourbon, and Mrs. Wallace Coplin, Warsaw.

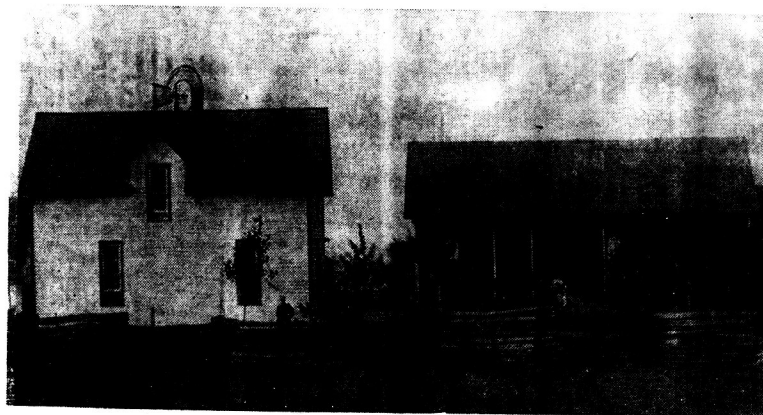

Five of the children have already passed into eternity.

The view here shows the old fashioned dress of the day, the "up-to-date" surrey, rail fence, and other distinguishing features of that day. However, the outline of the house, barn and surroundings remain about the same.

Mrs. Ota Dick and Mrs. Cad-dye Rouch were entertained at dinner Friday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williamson of Claypool.

Mrs. Dewey Whetstone returned to her home here last Thursday after spending 32 days in the McDonald hospital with a fractured limb.

Dairy Show Now Underway

New tops in numbers and quality are promised in the nearly 2,000 cattle that are listed for competitions of the International Dairy Show which started October 8 in the Amphitheatre of the Chicago Stock Yards for an eight-day run through October 15. The cattle come from twenty-six states and Canada.

A record entry of 529 Holsteins heads the list of breeds in numbers. Next are Jerseys with 291 head; Brown Swiss, 281; Guernseys, 269; Ayrshires, 246; and Milking Shorthorns, 238. Holsteins will have a national sale with 52 purebreds from eleven states and Canada consigned for auction on the final day of the show, October 15.

Illinois leads in the number of counties from which entries have been received—35. Ohio is next with 30; Indiana third with 23; and Wisconsin 18. Entries extend from New England to California, from Ontario to Alabama.

Quarter horse entries in the International Quarter Horse Show which is held in conjunction with the dairy show number more than 100 horses from six states that include Texas. The Quarter horse, a fleet, useful animal that works the great cattle herds of the West, will add additional Western flavor to the event which features the World's Championship rodeo for entertainment.

The Collegiate Dairy Cattle Judging Contest will be larger this year, with eighteen agricultural college teams entered for the competitions, an increase of four over last year. The junior 4-H Dairy Cattle Judging Contest will bring 11 state champion teams of boy and girl cattle judges. Eight college teams are in prospect for the Collegiate Dairy Products Judging Contest.

The first annual National 4-H Club Conference and Tour in conjunction with the International Dairy Show will bring 150 4-H dairy project winners from 15 states.

The International management reports that an increased number of farm machinery and dairy equipment awaits show visitors. A new feature this year will be dairy foods displays and twice-daily cookery demonstrations in a modern "Dream Kitchen."

Winners among 20,000 recipe contestants in the show's $25,000 Golden Dairy Recipe Contest have already been selected, announcement to be made at show time. Top prize winners will receive all expense paid tours to the show and will be completely outfitted by one of Chicago's leading department stores. The recipe champion will receive a trip to Europe.

Farmers and Social Security

"How Social Security Covers Farmers," a booklet recently issued by the Social Security administration, explains in easy-to-understand language the rights and obligations of farm people under the social security law, according to Gerald Kelter, manager of the Elkhart Social Security office.

The booklet is intended to help a farmer determine whether he is employed or self-employed, especially in relation to the farming of land leased on a cash rental or share the crop basis. A section of the publication is devoted to income reporting requirements for self-employed farmers. This information is timely, as the reporting of self-employment farm income and the paying of the social security tax will be a part of the Federal income tax return for 1955 which is due April 15 of the coming year.

"How Does Social Security Affect Farm Families?", a question and-answer booklet which gives brief easy-to-understand answers to questions farmers are asking about old-age and survivors insurance has also been issued by the Social Security Administration.

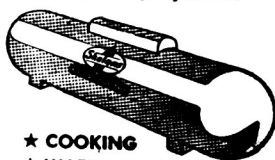

This booklet tells how long a person has to work to get retirement payments, explains the special provision in the law whereby farmers and other newly covered workers can become insured quickly, and gives examples of benefit amounts. A section of the booklet is devoted to self-employed farmers and explains the husband-wife, father-son, and share-farmer arrangements in relation to social security.

Anyone can get free copies of these booklets at the Elkhart social security office, Room 531, Monger Bldg.

Attend Indiana P. T. A. Congress

Mrs. Earl Boggs, Mrs. Harold Markley and Mrs. Del Nelson attended the Indiana Congress of Parents and Teachers, for Region 4, held at the Castle Evangelical United Brethren church, Elkhart, Tuesday, Oct. fourth. It was an all day program.

J. C. Rice, superintendent of the Elkhart city schools, welcomed the PTA conference members and spoke briefly of the importance of the relationship that must exist between school and the home if a child is to receive a good education. Speaking from the teacher's standpoint he said that the teachers feel that "no one ought to be more interested in the pupils than the parents."

Dr. R. E. Michael, Ball State Teachers College, Indiana school education chairman of the Indiana State PTA, spoke on Public Relations. He said that we must provide two-way communication between the school and the parents. Good teaching doesn't "just happen" and "just going to school" isn't enough for the child. There must be contact between the two. It's the responsibility of the entire community to be actively interested in the child and the school.

Miss Louise Brumbaugh emphasized the point, "Do something with exceptional children." Not only the retarded child, but the above average child also.

Clarence Biedenweg, recreation chairman of the state PTA, said "the lucky children are those whose parents plan activity to include the whole family." It is estimated an average father spends seven and a half minutes a day with his son. He asked this question "If you were to pick a person to raise your child socially, spiritually, physically, mentally and morally, would you pick yourself?"

Supt. George Gerich's thoughts concerned parents and their children. He said that real teenage problems are the results of problem parents. There are few really teenage problems and really few bad parents. Upon investigation one showed up the other. It's the few teen-agers in a community that create problems who get the publicity and that bad publicity in turn reflects on all teenagers, which is certainly most unfair and people must wake up to this fact. Our teenagers are what we make them—let's remember this when we begin to repeat stories and gossip we've heard.

Mrs. Graydon Heuman, president, gave so many worthwhile thoughts to the conference members that it is difficult to pick out those few most important ones.

One main point she made was this—addressed to the teachers and parents alike—

"Teach children how to think; not what to think."

She said "do not take out of school anything which will prepare for a full and useful life. There are things other than major educational subjects that make a person a community asset. Don't rob any child of these."

She said that the Parent-Teacher organization should be an educational group. Through it the parents can be informed of what goes on in the school.

After the conference the group was invited to tour the new North Side gym and Jr. High School.

The Mentone Parent-Teacher Association realizes the great need that there is in our community for the right kind of understanding and feeling of cooperation between the school and home. Only this way is progress possible.

Each student needs to know that his parent is interested actively in his progress.

How can we prove to the child any better than by becoming a part of the PTA and being an active member.

We need every parent and every teacher working together to make our school a success and asset to the community.

Make it a "Family night." There is entertainment for the children. The Second Wednesday night of each month.

—Mrs. Del Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ross and family of Arcola, visited Sunday with Dr. and Mrs. O. L. McFadden and daughters.

No Method Safe For Unclogging Running Picker

Not many corn picker accidents have been prevented by the safety slogan, "Shut off the power when unplugging the picker." Why? F. R. Willsey, farm safety specialist at Purdue University, says it's because many corn picker operators think that they have discovered a novel way of unclogging the running picker that is perfectly safe.

Hearing of another's accident or seeing pictures of farmers crippled for life in picker accidents doesn't scare some operators either. "Too bad," they think. "Too bad he wasn't using my method."

But no method of unclogging a running corn picker is really new. And somewhere, someone has been caught using each method. Some were poking at the rollers with long sticks. Others were working from beneath, or jerking on the stalks. On mounted pickers, some were reaching over from the platform while trying to keep one foot on the clutch. All these methods worked—for a while. Then suddenly one day, using the exact method that worked a hundred times before, the operator got caught. This happens every day during corn picking season.

Some other farmers deliberately take chances. They're disgusted, or in a hurry. Those who have been caught say it's disgusting to go through life crippled, too. And it's hard to find a man who thinks he made a bargain by trading a hand for a few minutes time.

Purdue University has recently published four mimeos on corn picker safety and picker adjustment. You should look them over before the busy harvest season begins. They are Mimeo FS-28, "Harvest of Hands;" FS-28a, "Care in Corn Picking;" FS-28b, "A safe Corn Harvest;" and AE-36, "Corn Harvest Hints." These mimeos can be obtained from county extension agents or from the office of agricultural publications at Purdue University.

Young calves should be kept in individual pens with 25 to 30 square feet of floor space per calf until three or four months old, advise dairymen at Purdue University.

Lots and Lots Of Miles Reports Detroit

Detroit—Sixty-one million registered motor vehicles and 72 million licensed drivers in the United States today are piling up mileage at the unprecedented rate of more than 560 billion miles a year, the Automobile Manufacturers Association reports.

This is an average of approximately 9,200 miles per vehicle, and 7,800 miles per driver.

The AMA released these and hundreds of other facts about highway transportation and the automotive industry as it introduced the 35th edition of its annual statistical handbook, AUTOMOBILE FACTS AND FIGURES.

The new edition contains some 80 pages of tables, charts and indexes, covering a wide range of subjects relative to motor vehicle production and use.

A special feature is the 15-page section devoted to highway subjects. Among the many highway facts presented are these:

1. Motor vehicle registrations and travel mileage on the nation's highways are due to increase more than 33 per cent by 1965.

2. Inadequate roads today are costing U. S. motorists more than $5 billion per year.

3. To correct road inadequacies, $101 billion will be needed for highway construction during the next 10 years.

4. Half of the anticipated traffic growth in the coming decade will be on the 40,000 mile Interstate Highway System.

5. Highway construction and maintenance costs per mile have doubled since 1941.

The following are other highlights from the new book.

Taxes take 24 cents out of every dollar spent for the purchase of an automobile. Special automotive taxes paid by U. S. motorists in 1954 totaled $6.2 billion.

There are 3.3 persons per passenger car registered in the U. S., or an average of one car per family. Seventy-one per cent of the nation's families own at least one automobile, and approximately 12 per cent of car-owning families own two or more cars.

Two out of every three passenger cars produced and three out of every four trucks produced in 1954 were sold as replacements for vehicles scrapped. An estimated total of four million vehicles were scrapped in 1954.

Seventy per cent of the world's passenger car production is in the United States. Of world passenger car registrations, 73 per cent are in this country.

Auto loans repaid in 1954 equalled the amount of loans extended during the year—$12.5 billion. Loans outstanding at the end of the year totaled $10.3 billion.

California leads all states in automobile registrations, with a 1954 total of 4,879,210. New York State is second with 3,893,980.

Christmas Mail For Armed Forces Overseas

The period October 15 to November 15 has again been designated for the acceptance of Christmas parcels for members of our Armed Forces serving outside the continental United States. The following instructions have therefore been issued with the view of assuring delivery of the gift parcels on time and in good condition. Patrons are advised that military personnel are well supplied with food by the Armed Services and that parcels containing foodstuffs subject to spoilage and breakage in transit are likely to reach overseas destinations unfit for use. The term "Armed Forces overseas" includes the personnel of our Armed Forces, members of their families and authorized U. S. civilians employed overseas who receive their mail through an APO New York, N. Y., San Francisco, California; New Orleans, or Seattle, Washington, or Fleet Post Office at New York, N. Y.; or San Francisco, California; or Navy post office in care of Postmaster, Seattle, Washington.

Time of mailing: The importance of mailing Christmas parcels during the designated period cannot be emphasized too strongly—the earlier the better. The public can be reasonably assured that parcels mailed through the regular surface mails prior to November 15 will reach their destinations before Christmas. However, no assurance can be given that surface parcels mailed after Nov. 15, or air parcel post mailed after December 1 will be delivered in time for Christmas. Senders are cautioned not to delay the mailing of parcels until December on the assumption that timely delivery will be assured through the use of air service for the reason that in addition to a large volume of Christmas mail, it is necessary that medical and military supplies be given the highest priority on the available overseas airlift; and that after an air parcel arrives overseas final delivery, in many cases, must be made through the use of such surface transportation facilities as are afforded by shipping, railroads, and motor vehicles. Parcels destined for delivery in Japan, Korea, and the islands in the Pacific should be mailed as early as possible, preferable not later than November 1, in view of the distance involved. Parcels for Navy and Marine Corps personnel serving in the most remote areas should be mailed not later than October 15. Parcels for such personnel known to be in an area which would permit mailing after October 15 may be deposited at a later date within the period.

Size and Weight: Air Parcel Post, other than official matter, is limited in size to 30 inches in length and girth combined and 2 pounds in weight. The maximum size and weight limits for surface parcel post vary according to APO's and NPO's to which the parcels are sent. Customs declarations are required for parcels addressed to some APO's and NPO's, and some articles are prohibited to certain APO's and NPO's. Therefore it is suggested that mailers, before packing parcels cel post for mailing, make inquiry at the post office as to weight and size limits, customs declaration forms needed, and a list of prohibited articles, that are applicable to certain APO's and NPO's.

Preparation—Boxes for overseas transmission must necessarily be of strong construction on account of the great distance these parcels must be transported and the handling and storage they must undergo. It is absolutely necessary that all articles for overseas delivery be packed in boxes of metal, wood, solid fiberboard, or strong double faced corrugated fiberboard. Each box should be securely tied with strong cord. Boxes should contain sufficient cushioning material so that the Contents will be tightly packed to prevent any rattling or loosening of the articles within the parcels. It is also desirable that all fiberboard boxes be securely wrapped in heavy paper.

Addressing: Addresses must be legible and prepared in typewriting or ink. It is preferable that the outside addresses be hand printed on the wrappers of the boxes rather than on labels pasted to the wrappers, since experience has shown that the labels frequently fall off when subject to moisture. It is highly desirable that a slip of paper containing the names and addresses of the sender and addressee, together with a list of the contents be enclosed in each parcel so as to provide identification and proper disposition of the mail (in the event the addresses on the outside become defaced.)

Permissible additions: In addition to the name and address of the sender, inscriptions such as "Merry Christmas", "Please Do Not Open Until Christmas", "With Best Wishes" and the like may be placed on the covering of the parcel in such manner as not to interfere with the address. Or on a card therewith.

Christmas Cards: Greeting Cards for Armed Forces personnel overseas may be mailed at any time but patrons should deposit such cards prepaid at the first-class rate prior to November 15, 1955 at the airmail rate prior to December 1, 1955, if they are to have a reasonable expectation of delivery prior to Christmas.

Registry and Insurance: Mailers are encouraged to register valuable letters and insure valuable parcels.

Remittances: It is recommended that patrons use Postal Money Orders to transmit gifts of money to members of the Armed Forces outside the continental United States. Currency can be mailed only to APO's and NPO's through New Orleans, La., and Seattle, Washington.

Burket Firemen Visiting Homes

Burket Volunteer Firemen have their fire prevention and safety program in full swing as four teams of men visit all homes and business places in the area served by the department.

Object of the campaign is to acquaint home owners with the need of having adequate fire extinguishers on their premises in order to handle small fires at their start. The firemen point out that often a small insignificant fire develops into a real hazard by the time a call can be made to the department and the firemen arrive to put it out.

Garland Kiefer, fire chief, reports that each team of visiting firemen is supplied with six different types of an approved carbon dioxide type fire extinguisher. The home owner is invited to make his selection of the type needed and the local firemen will then deliver the order in a few days.

Kiefer reports that the firemen are ready at all times to protect the life and property of people living in the large area served by the Burket Fire Department.

"They know," he said, "the horror of fire and the destruction it leaves in its wake, of life and property. Our firemen are interested in making our community a safer place in which to live."

"We are not asking for any donations," he added. "We just want every home and farm to be adequately protected and in a position to handle any emergency until our men can arrive with the large equipment."

Serving on the special Home Fire Extinguisher Committee are Guy Baker, chairman; Everett Warren, Chester Shoemaker, John Irwin and Art Wise. Virgil Haupt is secretary and treasurer of the Burket Fire Department.

Adjust Picker for Highest Efficiency

How much of your corn crop will you leave in the field this fall? If your cornpicker is not properly adjusted, you may be leaving more than you think.

Les Hill, agricultural engineer at Purdue University, says to measure off a square 40 inches on each side, centered on a picked row. Each 20 kernels found within this square indicates a one-bushel loss per acre due to shelling. To estimate ear losses measure off 40 hills, 133 feet, or 43 steps along a row. Each good-sized ear found in this distance indicates a one-bushel loss per acre of ear corn.

Hill says that proper picker adjustment and early harvesting will reduce the loss of corn regardless of what other conditions affect the crop. Moreover, adequate "wrench work," prompt replacement of worn parts, and frequent lubrications will reduce the chance of accidents. The machine will be able to handle the corn more effectively and the corn will be in better harvest condition.

Now's the time to get out the manufacturer's instruction book and look it over again. In it you will find a complete listing of the machine's adjustments, maintenance requirements, and safe operating procedures.

Additional suggestions can be found in the Purdue University mimeo entitled "Corn Harvest Hints," available at the county agent's office. Specialists' help in harvest problems encountered is provided by many leading manufacturers.

Mentone Now Has Dial Phone Operation

All Mentone telephones were changed to dial operation at 7 a. m. Tuesday by General Telephone Company of Indiana, Inc. In a matter of seconds the old switchboard in the downtown office died as the wires were swiftly cut. Almost immediately the new dial equipment in the recently built structure behind the telephone office was put to work.

According to Norman E. Watson, North Manchester district commercial manager, there were 524 telephones in operation in Mentone before the cut-over and 585 after. The conversion itself went smoothly, with about the usual number of shorted circuits, switched wires, etc. Most of the phones went into immediate and satisfactory operation, and over 20 company trucks and drivers were on hand to take part in the conversion. As the new system went into effect, these men, armed with maps and designated areas of operation, swarmed over the town and countryside first cutting the circuits to the old phones and then removing the phones from the premises.

Long distance calls are being handled through Warsaw. Dial 110 for long distance and you will be connected with the toll service.

It is reported the dial equipment and new building cost in the neighborhood of $128,000. More than 700 new poles were erected and the company placed 779,422 feet of iron wire and 23,600 feet of lead and plastic cable.

Bert Holloway Falls In Barn

Robert Holloway fell from the mow of his barn, east of Mentone, about noon Wednesday and was taken to the Murphy Medical Center, Warsaw, in the Reed ambulance. He was then taken to the Memorial hospital, South Bend, later in the afternoon.

Mrs. Holloway was with her husband when the accident happened.

Clayton Holloway, a son, reported late Wednesday evening that examination had revealed that his father suffered fractures of both arms above the wrists, and has a ruptured kidney. He was suffering considerable pain, and it is thought the injuries are plenty serious for a man of 70 years of age.

Curtis Riner
Leaves Hospital

Curtis Riner, 51, returned to his home Monday afternoon after spending 61 days in the McDonald hospital after suffering a stroke.

Mrs. Riner reports he is eating well and is able to walk about the home, with assistance. Although unable to talk, he has managed to form a word or two recently, which is very encouraging.

McIntyre Barn
Burns Early Monday

The Mentone fire department was called to the Harold McIntyre farm, at the north edge of Sevastopol, about three o'clock Monday morning, when it was discovered that a barn was afire. The barn, containing about a thousand bales of hay and some farm machinery, was nearly destroyed when the firemen arrived.

An unusual circumstance was that when the firemen attempted to turn on the fire truck water pump, the valve handle dropped off. A half-moon key that locked the handle in place, dropped to the ground and it was some minutes before a wrench was found to open the valve. The firemen always try to have the equipment in first class operating condition, but the tiny Allen set-screw that held the key in place, had loosened without being noticed.

Charles M. Horn
Dies Very Suddenly

Charles M. Horn, 42, of near here, dropped dead from a heart seizure at the Midwest Spring plant at 2:45 Thursday afternoon. He had been a resident of this place his entire life.

Mr. Horn was born June 26, 1913, to Granville and Mary Dorland Horn. May 8, 1935, he was married to Velma Smith, of near Akron. Mr. Horn, who was a member of the Church of Christ at Mentone, was employed at the Mentone factory and also drove a school bus for the Talma school.

Survivors include his wife; one son, Robert; four daughters, Annabelle, Jeanette, Doris and Donna Jean, all at home; four brothers, Howard, Donald and Kenneth, Mentone, and Clarence, of near Rochester; two sisters, Mrs. Ford Meredith and Mrs. Howard Clipp, both of Elkhart, and two half-sisters, Mrs. Harvey Mollenhour of South Bend and Mrs. James Craddock of Huntington, W. Va. One son, Dale, died last March 23.

Final rites were held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the Church of Christ with Leslie Grant, pastor, officiating. Burial was in the Mentone cemetery with the Johns funeral home in charge.

Scout Fish Fry

Interested In New Sidewalk?

A local businessman has secured an estimate from a contractor for the rebuilding of sidewalks in Mentone, and already several business people have expressed an interest. The price quoted, we are told, is 60c per square foot of surface.

Polio Vaccine
Now Available

Dr. Wilson and Dr. Urschel, along with other doctors in the area, have recently received a supply of polio vaccine, for public use. The present supply is to be used only in children between the ages of 5 and 9.

According to the latest recommendations, the vaccine will be administered in two shots, separated by a period of 3 or 4 weeks, with a third or booster dose being given in approximately 6 or 7 months. The available supply is by no means unlimited, but should be adequate to take care of the children within this age distribution, in the community.

This is new vaccine, prepared by the Eli Lilly laboratories of Indianapolis, and has been safely checked by all of the recently incorporated methods. There have been no reports of polio being induced by the administration of the vaccine.

Inasmuch as this is being commercially supplied to the doctors, and not paid for by the polio foundation, there will be a nominal charge for the shots. However, this charge is not excessive, and provisions have been made whereby the doctors can obtain vaccine for free distribution in any case in which the family could not pay for the regular shots. Even with the very inadequate protection afforded by the single shots which were given last spring, there is no doubt of the protection given by the vaccine, and no one should deny their children this protection.

Dropping New Car Franchise

Leroy Cox, Plymouth and DeSoto dealer in Mentone for the past several years, is announcing this week that he intends to drop the new car franchise and devote all of his time to his garage and used car operations.

The competitive condition in the new car field the past few years, along with the high cost of servicing, maintaining show rooms, etc., has resulted in a very narrow margin of profit. Mr. Cox, in evaluating the future, feels that abandoning the franchise is the proper move to make.

Hallowe'en With a World Viewpoint

This Hallowe'en, for the third time in our community's history, children will be raising money for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. As before, their cry will be "Trick or Treat," but the treats will be for the world's underprivileged children, helped through UNICEF.

All boys and girls in the community are urged to join in this fun. Put on your Hallowe'en garb: spook, goblin, or whatever you wish. Bring an empty milk carton with you to the basement of the Methodist church at 7 o'clock Friday evening, October 28. There you will be assigned into groups. Each group will be given either a street or section of town to "trick or treat." Some groups will be taken by auto through sections of our surrounding community to "trick or treat" our farmer friends also.

When done with your "trick or treat" jaunt return to the church basement for a party, and between bobbing for apples and other Hallowe'en games the money will be counted and sent on to the United States Committee for UNICEF.

NIPSCO to Build Ultra Modern Office

Northern Indiana Public Service Company will construct a new, one-million dollar five-floor general office building addition in downtown Hammond early next year. Dean H. Mitchell, NIPSCO president, disclosed today in the current issue of the Company's monthly magazine, THE NIPSCO PICTURE.

The large, ultra-modern structure will be erected at the rear of the Company's present main office building which is located at the corner of Hohman Avenue and Russel Street. The site for the new building is now occupied by the vacated First Methodist Church. Wrecking crews will demolish the old church late this fall, according to the magazine article.

Mitchell said the new office building will relieve overcrowding at the main building and will also accommodate NIPSCO personnel now quartered elsewhere in downtown Hammond.

L. Cosby Bernard and Company, architects and engineers of Hammond, are presently putting the finishing touches on detailed plans for the building. Following the completion of all plans, NIPSCO will accept bids from contractors. Company officials estimate the entire cost of the project at more than one-million dollars.

The five-story building will be 50 feet wide and face Russell Street. It will extend lengthwise for 143 feet along an alley parallel to the present NIPSCO main office building. The second, third, and fourth floors will be joined to the present building above the 16-foot wide alley.

The new building will be constructed of masonry with structural steel framework. Large picture windows on each floor, an overhanging canopy, and an attractive employees' entrance at the front of the building will add to its overall appearance. Parking space for autos used for Company business will be located to the north and to the east of the structure.

Features inside of the building will include an elaborate air conditioning system with special facilities for ventilating and filtering air; high-intensity fluorescent lighting; acoustic ceilings; an elevator; and walls largely made of plaster and clear glazed tile. An auditorium in the basement will be used for employee meetings and lecture sessions.

The floor space area in the new building will be almost equal to the area in the Company's present office building. The structure is so designed that two additional floors may be added when needed.

The new NIPSCO office building addition is part of an extensive expansion and modernization program now in progress by the Company throughout northern Indiana.

BIG CHANGES AHEAD

The world you live in today will be an exciting and wonderful one in just five or ten years, predict the editors of Changing Times, The Kiplinger Magazine. Here are a few things that are within the realm of probability.

By 1965, the average family can expect $1,400 more income, in terms of 1955 dollars. Reasons for the trend are lower taxes and higher productivity.

In the 1960's, most young couples will be ready to buy a home even before they think of raising a family.

Expect fewer canned and frozen foods. Instead, many foods will be irradiated, will need no refrigeration and will last indefinitely.

Sometime in the 60's or 70's millions of workers will go to the factory or office four days a week and have three days of play.

Photographers will use magnetic tape that will be used for either color or black-and-white pictures. No developing or printing will be necessary. You'll be able to reuse the tape and project pictures on your TV screen.

The turbocar will be sold within ten years. A jet-powered turbine will make the wheels go round. Only one-fifth the present number of moving parts will be needed and the car won't have a transmission or clutch.

Guided missiles for such peacetime uses as carrying freight and delivering transcontinental mail may be tried out within the next decade.

The atom will do everything from providing energy for power, to preserving food and purifying medicines.

Last, but not least, Long term weather forecasting will be more reliable. On a Monday you'll be told what the weather will be like on Saturday and be able to count on it.

PRETTY LEAVES CAN BE DEADLY

Colorful autumn leaves can be as deadly as they are beautiful. Once fallen onto streets and highways, leaves often become traffic hazards, the Chicago Motor Club points out.

Wet leaves are as slippery as ice under the wheels of an auto. Avoid piles of leaves whenever possible, the Motor Club advises. If there are too many to drive around, slow down while on dry pavement, and proceed cautiously.

Even the best drivers will skid occasionally. Here are suggested steps to bring a car out of a skid successfully:

1. Keep calm. If you are not in control of yourself, you cannot be in control of your car.
2. As it is the rear end that skids, turn front wheels in the direction that the rear wheels are skidding. This straightens the car and makes it easier to handle.
3. Do not put on your brakes.
4. Keep the clutch engaged. This cuts speed and gives maximum control.

Fallen leaves present two other dangers for motorists:

1. Burning leaves causes smoke. Sometimes thick smoke will obscure a driver's vision. On approaching an area filled with the smoke of burning leaves, go forward with extreme caution. By the time you get there, your vision may be out to a few feet.

2. Children like to play in piles of dried leaves. Frequently drivers can't see them. Whenever you see a pile of leaves during the hours that children are apt to be in the streets, drive around it. Don't take a chance with young lives.

Now is a good time to take a critical look at interior lighting in farm buildings. A copy of USDA bulletin 1838, "Electric Light for the Farmstead," can be obtained from the agricultural engineering department at Purdue University.

The Chicago Motor Club says highway warning signs are there for your benefit. Pay close attention to highway signs and you'll find that driving will be a pleasure.

"I know you won his marbles fair and square, but you better give them back before he fires you!"

Agricultural engineers at Purdue University report that overloading wagons and trailers at harvest time can be an expensive speed-up measure. Bent axles and frames, blown out tires, and damaged wheel bearings are results of this practice.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT

After months of careful appraisal of the responsibility involved in a new car dealership, and considering the need for me to spend more time in my garage business, I have decided to drop the new car franchise I have had.

I shall continue to buy and sell used cars, as time permits, but feel my time can be more profitably used in my other business interests.

My sincere thanks and appreciation go to my many friends who have purchased new Plymouths and DeSotos from me. I trust we can continue to serve you with our service. We have the parts, facilities and mechanics to serve you. We invite you to come in and have your car serviced for winter. We have both Methanol and Permanent Antifreeze.

National Farm— City Week Oct. 23-29

National Farm-City Week will be observed October 23 through 29. Kiwanis International has taken the leadership in this project and is acting as the coordinating agency.

The Indiana Farm Bureau, as a part of its continuing Public Relations for Agriculture program, is cooperating with Indiana District Kiwanis in planning rural-urban activities throughout Hoosierland during Farm-City Week.

The purpose of the program is to promote better understanding between farm and non-farm people. The program is designed to lead to an understanding of our farm economy by city dwellers and an understanding of town and city problems by rural people.

National Farm-City Week is being sponsored by a large number of national, regional, state and local business, industrial and agricultural organizations.

Indiana farmers are vitally interested in cordial rural-urban relations and for several years have worked actively toward this objective through their Public Relations for Agriculture program as carried out by their various county Farm Bureau organizations.

It is hoped that Farm-City Week will be a further demonstration that urban and rural America are dependent one on the other.

Can Place Tree Orders Now

Lafayette, Ind. — Farmers interested in securing trees for planting next spring can now place their orders with state nurseries.

E. J. Lott, Purdue University extension forester, reports that about eight million trees are being made available to Hoosier farmers at the cost of production.

Each year these trees are sold for general reforestation, wind-breaks, Christmas trees, and erosion control purposes. Interested farmers can obtain application forms from the county agent, any state forester, the forestry extension office at Purdue, or the Division of Forestry, 311 West Washington Street, Indianapolis.

Lott urges farmers to order early in order to get the species desired.

Trees secured from the state nurseries must be planted in rural areas outside of city or town limits. All purchases must be in quantities of 50 or more of any one species and the buyer must pay the transportation costs.

Varieties of trees available for planting next spring include tulip popular, black locust, and shortleaf, virginia, scotch, jack, red, and white pine.

If help is needed to determine what, where, and how to plant trees, farmers should contact their county agent or nearest extension forester. Extension circular 306, "Trees for Reforestation in Indiana," may be obtained from the office of agricultural publications at Purdue.

Mrs. Smith, who led the Christmas gifts collection program in 1953 and 1954, and her committee, will ask civic groups in this region to cooperate in the Christmas gifts program.

Collected gifts will be distributed to patients at parties in hospital wards in December. The depot to which these presents may be brought will be announced later.

Each year, the Indiana Association for Mental Health encourages civic organizations in counties to collect gifts for mental patients. Last year, more than 35,000 gifts were collected, providing each of the 17,000 confined to state mental hospitals with at least two gifts.

Clubs, sororities and other organizations interested in participating in this worthy program are asked to contact Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Smith is immediate past president of the Kosciusko County federation of Clubs and is active in the First Baptist church and Sunday School. Her husband, Russell B. Smith, is president of the Kosciusko County Committee of the Indiana Association for Mental Health.

'56 Chevrolet sets new Pikes Peak record in top-secret test!

Not long ago a hush-hush, camouflaged '56 Chevrolet scorched the nerve-breaking road up Colorado's Pikes Peak for a new NASCAR* certified record—the first time that old King of the Mountains has seen a new official stock car record in years! And what a road! 170 chilling turns and no guardrail! It's the first and only time a new model ever proved itself such a great road car before its introduction! The '56 Chevrolet showed the kind of performance that makes driving safer and more fun. So wait for the car that beat the King of the Mountains!

Prop.—DEAN MEYER

M. HANEY AND J. CLINKER WED

The marriage of Maurice Ronald Haney and Julia Ann (Judy) Clinker (shown here) was held recently in the Beaver Dam E. U. B. church. The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Joseph Bear.

The altar was beautiful with baskets of yellow and white chrysanthemums, palms and candelabra. Miss Wilma Clinker, sister of the bride, held the guest book.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a ballerina length gown of imported lace and nylon tulle yoke, and a high lace collar and long pointed sleeves. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a white satin cap. The pearl necklace and earrings were a gift of the bride's grandmother. The bride carried a white Bible topped with white carnations and satin streamers.

Mrs. Darlene Wright of Plymouth was matron of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown styled similar to that of the bride's. The strapless gown was of white lace and nylon tulle over pink satin. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations encircled with white satin.

Little Peggy Ellen Butts, niece of the bride, was adorable in a light blue nylon dress as she sprinkled rose petals down the aisle.

The best man was Raymond Adams, friend of the groom.

Fred Haney, Jr., brother of the groom and Gene Butts, brother-in-law of the bride were the ushers.

The bride's mother wore a dusty rose dress with navy accessories and the groom's mother wore a blue figured dress with navy accessories. They both had white carnation corsages.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Esther Perry played "I Love You Truly", "Indian Love Song", "Through the Years" and "Al-ways." Miss Carol Rathbun played "The Lord's Prayer" soft-ly through the ceremony and also the traditional wedding march-ces.

Immediately following the ceremony the reception was held at the bride's home. The table was covered with a lace cloth, on which the three-tiered white cake was centered. Punch and mints were also served. Those serving at the reception were Mrs. Geneal Butts, sister of the bride, and the Misses Eleanor Carte, Laura Adams, and Karen Heighway.

Mr. and Mrs. Haney are both graduates of Beaver Dam school. Mr. Haney is employed at Sonoco Products in Akron while Mrs. Haney is secretary for the Man-ware Leghorn Farms near Mentone.

For her going away outfit the bride wore a light blue princess style dress with a white lace hat and black accessories. After the honeymoon to Southern Indiana and Kentucky the couple are at home in their newly furnished apartment at Man-ware Leghorn Farm.

A prenuptial shower was given for the bride by the Misses Sally Shively and Karen Heighway at the Robert Heighway residence.

IN NEW ORLEANS

Dr. Dan Urschel is in New Orleans this week, attending the annual meeting of the American Heart Association. Dr. Urschel, Vice-president of the state heart group, is a charter member of the Scientific Council of the national organization.

GET SEED TESTED NOW

Hoosier farmers should send a sample of their clover or grass seed to the state seed laboratory at Purdue University for testing as soon as possible.

A. S. Carter, assistant state seed commissioner and chief inspector, points out several advantages of sending in samples early. Seed will be tested promptly and thus the report will be on hand when needed. Then, too, if large quantities of weed seed or noxious weed seeds are found, plenty of time will remain to have the seed re-cleaned and re-tested before planting time.

Carter says that farmers commonly make two mistakes when submitting samples. Some send in dirty seed, some fail to take a representative sample, and some do both. Seed should definitely be cleaned before it is sampled. The combine cleaner seldom does anything near a complete job.

To guarantee a representative sample, take seed from every bag or from several areas and depths of the bin. Mix well and draw off a teacupful of clover or grass seed, or a pint of soy beans or any seed of comparable size.

Free mailing envelopes and forms for recording names and the description of the seed sample can be secured from the county agricultural agent.

Show-off drivers use poor judgment. There is nothing adventurous about driving too fast for conditions. Don't try to impress anyone with speed . . . speed kills!

Most Profitable Cropping Practice

Hoosier grain farmers should consider various factors when determining the best cropping system for their farms, advises Lynn Robertson, farm management specialist at Purdue University.

Although each farmer must determine the most profitable cropping practice for his individual farm, certain information and principles can be followed.

Robertson says Hoosier and other cornbelt farmers can find helpful information in the new North Central regional publication No. 57, "Economics of Cropping System in the Cornbelt." Copies are available from office at Purdue.

Relationship between crops—whether they complement, supplement, or compete with each other are discussed in the bulletin. These relationships and costs of production, along with prices for crops, determine which cropping system will net the highest return.

Other subjects discussed include the importance of crop market prices to the livestock farmer, economic aspects of the use of fertilizer, mechanical practices, new rotation techniques, plant population, and weed and insect control.

The bulletin was prepared by a subcommittee of the North Central Farm management Research committee and published by the University of Nebraska.

Auxiliary Plans Hallowe'en Party

The Mentone American Legion Auxiliary Post 425 met on November 11 to conduct its regular business meeting.

A report was given by our president, Mrs. Elwin Teel on the meeting held for our Gold Star Mothers and also on the convention held at Logansport. Each member was urged to attend the next convention which will be held on November 2 at the post home in Warsaw.

Each member was urged to attend the church of her choice on Go To Church Sunday, October 16.

A Hallowe'en box is being packed to be sent to our adopted daughter, Rose Mary Mullett at Knightstown Home. Any member wishing to contribute a gift contact the Knightstown Home chairman, Mrs. Emma Clutter, by October 22.

A Hallowe'en party is being planned for October 25. Come masked and join in the fun.

FRUIT STORAGE ADVICE LISTED

Hoosier farmers and gardeners can safely store fruits and vegetables for use this winter if temperatures and moisture are controlled in the storage room.

W. B. Ward, extension horticulturist in vegetables at Purdue University, says most fruits and vegetables keep best when temperature is around 32 to 40 degrees and the moisture content between 70 and 75 percent.

Vegetables such as peanuts, potatoes require warm storage, 50 to 60 degrees, and a fairly dry atmosphere. Onions should be stored at 32 to 40 degrees in a dry place.

Ward advises that handling should be kept to a minimum and only good produce should be stored.

A dry atmosphere is evident if produce shrivels and dries. Sprouting and rot means too high a temperature. A close watch on storage places will prolong the season for quality fruits and vegetables, Ward concludes.

DAIRY CALF MANAGEMENT

Dairy calves born during fall and early winter months require special care and handling, according to G. A. Williams, extension dairyman at Purdue University.

Williams says calves should be left with their mothers for several days in order to utilize the valuable colostrum, which is the first milk. If the cow produces more of this milk than the calf can drink the surplus should be stored in deep freeze for later use by calves which are slow in making a start.

"Don't overfeed," Williams warns. The stomach of the young calf is small and too much milk can upset digestion. Not more than one pound of milk should be fed for every ten pounds of live weight when the calf is fed twice daily.

Fall and winter calves will not be able to utilize pasture. Each calf, therefore, should be provided with an individual pen containing about thirty square feet.

If no danger of draft exists, an open shed is more satisfactory than a damp, poorly ventilated pen.

If calves need to be dehorned, this should be done before the calves reach four weeks of age. The electric dehorner does a very efficient job, Williams says.

Calves should be weaned at six weeks and started on a ration of two pounds of high quality hay for every pound of grain.

Farmers are urged by biochemists at Purdue University not to send samples of fertilizer to the state chemist for a test. It is preferable to have an official inspector draw a representative sample.

A NEW SIGN ON HIGHWAYS

Signs reading "Yield Right of Way" mean just that, the Chicago Motor Club pointed out today.

The new "Yield" signs mean that a driver does not have to come to a full stop at an intersection with such a sign if there is no cross-traffic. It does mean that he must slow down (Illinois law: "to not more than 20 miles per hour") and make sure that the road is clear before entering the intersection, the club explained. After yielding, and entering, a motorist may proceed, without a full stop, when a safe interval occurs.

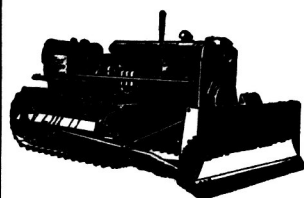

While not as positive as a "Stop" sign, the "Yield" sign is less time-consuming where cross traffic is light. It is more informative than a "Slow" sign since it does require a stop when traffic conditions warrant.

(Editor's Note: Judging by the speed some of our grownup citizens normally take "Stop" signs, their autos will have to be in top mechanical condition to attain a comparative speed for the new "Yield" signs.)

What Is UNICEF's Duty

In December 1946, the General Assembly established the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, which is called UNICEF.

The first task of UNICEF in the years immediately following the war was to bring help — food, clothing, medicines — to children who had suffered the privations of war. For the most part aid then was given to children in the war-devastated parts of Europe.

UNICEF is the only intergovernmental organization concerned with children. As such, it is non-political and non-denominational.

For every dollar UNICEF expends, local governments spend at least an equal amount. In some instances they spend much more.

UNICEF aid is not permanent but is designed to get the country started on its own.

The results, however, are of a permanent nature. Immunize a child against diphtheria, protect him against tuberculosis, or teach a mother how to better care for her children, and the achievement endures. Aid for milk-drying and pasteurizing plants, vaccine production laboratories and training centers likewise have permanent value.

Friday evening, October 29, a group of children will visit the homes in Mentone seeking a "treat" for UNICEF children. Your contribution, large or small, will help.

Following the solicitation the youngsters are to be entertained in the Methodist church basement.

Dairy specialists at Purdue University say that forty to sixty percent of the cows on dairy farms will freshen during the next three months. Heavy milkers, especially first calf heifers, should be placed on full grain feeding gradually. Often udder trouble is caused by feeding too much grain, especially corn, immediately after calving. Full grain rations should not be fed until four to six weeks after calving.

CORN SILAGE WILL CUT FEED COSTS FOR BROOD SOWS

2-Col—Corn silage will cut feed Lafayette, Ind.—Feed costs for sows during gestation can be reduced as much as 20 per cent if a corn silage ration is fed, report J. H. Conrad and W. M. Beeson, Purdue University animal husbandmen.

In addition to reduced feed costs, sows fed corn silage farrowed up to 2 more pigs per litter during two recent experiments at the Purdue livestock experimental farm. The sows fed silage weaned an average of 1.3 more pigs per litter at eight weeks than other sows.

From these two experiments, the Purdue specialists concluded that normal healthy litters can be produced when sows are fed a ration of good quality corn silage supplemented with proteins, vitamins, and minerals.

During the Purdue experiments, silage was fed twice daily in large flat bottomed troughs with the supplemental feed distributed over the silage. Thirteen pounds of corn silage were consumed daily per sow in addition to 1.5 pounds of a high quality protein supplement.

Adequate protein and minerals must be fed if optimum gestation performance is to be obtained since corn silage is extremely low in these two items. The daily feeding of 1.5 pounds of a highly fortified protein supplement corrected the nutritional deficiencies of corn silage during the Purdue tests. Sows fed this limited amount of supplement and corn silage made satisfactory gains and were in good condition at farrowing time.

Detailed information on the experiments can be obtained by writing to the office of agricultural publications at Purdue for A. H. Mimeo 151, "Corn Silage as a Feed for Brood Sows."

Check your tires now for winter driving. Smooth, worn tires can double your stopping distance on wet pavements.

Insurance against swine losses due to hog cholera, according to the veterinary science department at Purdue University. Swine raisers should vaccinate all hogs on the farm, except those already immune for cholera.

Economical Dairy Feed Plan Listed

A Purdue University extension dairyman, G. A. Williams, believes that unless one pound of grain when fed with the roughage part of the ration, produces four pounds of milk the dairy herd is not being fed for the most economical production.

A study of 500 DHIA herds in Indiana revealed that only 22.8 per cent of the herds reached that level of efficiency.

Some of the low milk-grain ratios arise when dairymen attempt to force mediocre and low producing cows to higher levels. Too much grain and not enough hay silage and pasture is fed.

Williams lists three pointers in the interest of a higher milk-grain ratio:

When plenty of good quality roughages are available, 3 to 5 pounds of grain daily is enough for dry cows.

Cows producing less than 2 to 3 gallons of milk daily will not need liberal grain allowances if they are supplied with roughage.

With liberal supplies of high quality roughages, grain fed at the rate of one pound of concentrated feed for 6 pounds of milk daily is more profitable on the basis of present day prices than one pound of grain for three pounds of milk.

Mentone W.S.C.S. Meeting

"Thus shall they know that I the Lord their God am with them, and that they are my people, saith the Lord God." Thus opened the W. S. C. S. program, Thursday, October 20, on the topic of the "Indian Americans."

Our guest speaker, Mrs. Richard Reahard, of North Manchester, gave an interesting account along with slides, on her experiences as a missionary worker with the Yuma Indians.

Along with the theme Mrs. B. DeWitt gave devotions including a reading of the Twenty-third Psalm as the Indians have interpreted it with phrases associated with them.

Refreshments, consisting of donuts and coffee were served by our hostesses: E. Simcoe, Emma Clutter, Lavera Horn and Mrs. Reed.

The table decorations were unique in keeping with the season of fall and harvest, along with the Halloween time.

October Friendly Neighbors Meeting

MISSISSIPPI 4-H CLUB MEMBER PRODUCES 304 BU. CORN YIELD

Lamar Ratliff, 16 year old 4-H member from near Booneville, Miss., reached his long-cherished 300 bushel an acre corn yield this year.

Lamar, who described his disappointment at not attaining that goal in several previous tries at the June meeting of the National Plant Food Institute, this year raised an official yield of 304.38 bushels on his acre.

W. Taylor Smith, Prentiss county agent, told Croplife, a newspaper for the farm chemical manufacturers and dealers, at Minneapolis, Minn., that Lamar broke the land about nine times and applied 25 loads of barnyard manure last fall. He planted March 23, using 1,000 lb. 14-14-14 and 200 lb. ammonium nitrate. When the corn was knee high, he sidedressed with 300 lb. ammonium nitrate.

The corn was planted in 30-inch rows, spaced 8 inches, with 25,850 plants to the acre, Mr. Smith reported. It was cultivated twice. Lamar had a three-acre pond ready but rain was "just right," and there was no need to irrigate.

The corn was weighed and moisture tested and the yield determined by the state agricultural college. It was of high quality, Mr. Smith said.

Lamar's previous yields were 179 bushel in 1950, 187 in 1951, 214 in 1952, 165 in 1953 and 218 in 1954.

In June, he told the National Plant Food Institute: "I still believe I can make 300 bushel on that acre and I'm trying again this year."

According to Mr. Smith, Lamar will be out to beat his own record in 1956.

D. A. R. Meels

The Anthony Nigo Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held their October meeting at the home of Agnes Rans. The hostesses were Mrs. Mary Smith and Mrs. Emma Gill.

The meeting was called to order by our regent, Mrs. Annabelle Rathfon. The ritualistic service was conducted by the chaplain, Mrs. Emma Gill, followed by the pledge of Allegiance to the flag. A short business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Rathfon.

The President General's message was read by Mrs. Lena Igo.

Mrs. Frank Smith, a page for our new State Regent, Mrs. H. A. Wolf, gave us a brief talk on the State Conference.

A very interesting article on Hallowe'en was given by Mrs. Pauline Drudge.

During the social hour we held our auction after which the hostesses served dainty refreshments in keeping with Hallowe'en.

The November and December meetings will be on December 6 at Peterson's Lunch. Mrs. Vera Kelly and Mrs. Max Smith will act as hostesses.

P.P. Packages for Foreign Countries

Unless already known to them, persons desiring to send Christmas packages to foreign countries should check at the post office in advance for information as to import regulations for the various countries and the number and kind of customs forms required per parcel, etc. Parcels in all cases must be enclosed in strong boxes.

Owing to the long sea transit frequently involved in the transmission of parcels by surface means and to customs inspection and other formalities to which parcels may be subjected in the countries of destination, it is recommended that mailings be made as early as practicable to assure delivery by Christmas Day. Senders can be reasonably sure that parcels mailed not later than the dates shown below will reach their destination before Christmas:

Hobby Show at Indianapolis, Nov. 12

"Do-It-Yourself and Enjoy It" will be the theme of the sixth annual Indiana Hobby and Gift Show which will open a nine-day exposition at the Manufacturer's Building, Indiana State Fairgrounds, November 12.

The show, second oldest of its kind in the nation, is sponsored by the Indianapolis Star for the benefit of the Santa Claus Fund. Already more than 150 exhibitors have reserved booths at the show.

A swimming pool suitable for your backyard, and a family-size log cabin which you can build yourself, will be two of the deluxe exhibits at the show.

The beautifully landscaped swimming pool made of vinyl rubber will be exhibited at the Hobby Show by Paradise Pools represented by Dr. and Mrs. John W. Funk, of Muncie. The pool to be installed at the show measures 27 by 12 feet, an ideal size for families and friends.

The log cabin to be shown is "The Hoosier," a two-bedroom building, 30 by 24 feet, with 12 by 7 porch. The logs are seasoned cedar, and the precision pre-cut logs offers the "handy man" another avenue of economy.

Inquiries about the Hobby Show may be addressed to Hobby Show, Inc., Post Office Box 6089, Indianapolis 20, or telephoned to Indianapolis HUMBOLDT 1212. Edward Schoenberger is director of the Hobby Show.

Specialist Urges Swine Farmers to Meet Buyers' Wants

Self-service meat counters in super-markets across the nation have made it possible for the homemaker to state her preference in the type of pork desired. And Dick Hollandbeck, Purdue University extension swine specialist, says the homemaker is doing just that by rejecting the overfat cuts for lean, meaty cuts of pork.

Firm, lean, meaty pork chops were displayed alongside overfat ones in a typical self-service meat counter in a recent experiment. The lean chops were priced 10 cents higher per pound than the overfat chops. The homemaker's preference for the lean, meaty chops was three to one.

A similar set-up was repeated the following week but a sign was posted to call attention to the lean, meaty chops and the preference rate jumped to six to one. Like situations have been known to exist all over the country.

Why do homemakers have this preference? Persons who have had to pour out a half skillet of grease before making gravy know. And most homemakers have learned that little grease appears from frying firm, lean, meaty pork chops.

Hollandbeck advises Hoosier farmers that this difference in chops, steaks, hams, and other retail cuts of pork is attributed to type and breeding—not feeding. Fortunately for the hog raiser, the type of hog which contributes these firm, lean, meaty cuts of pork is also the type of hog which will be the most economical in the feed lot.

Good, meat-type hogs have a higher average daily gain and a higher feed efficiency. Thus, they go to market quicker with less feed required. "The real beauty is that they don't have to be limited fed on a high fibrous feed to grade U. S. No. 1 at the handy market weights of 200 to 225 pounds. A common, practical ration consisting largely of 'King Yellow Corn' will do the job," the Purdue specialist said.

"Let's all strike up the tune called by the homemaker. It means doing the job quicker and cheaper and also receiving a higher price," Hollandbeck concluded.

Start Plans For CROP Campaign

Plans for the Kosciusko County CROP Campaign for the coming year were discussed Sunday afternoon, Oct. 16, at a meeting of farm, church, and civic leaders held at the First Brethren Church, Warsaw. Also present were some of last year's volunteer workers and other interested persons.

A resume of Indiana's giving and Kosciusko county's share of that amount was given, showing that of $19,600 contributed in the state of Indiana, this county gave $3,730.57.

George A. Hunn, last year's CROP chairman, reported that 1954 contributions were distributed in 26 different countries.

The Indiana Council of Churches is again sponsoring the collection of food and money to send food to the hungry overseas.

Through its parent agency, Church World Service, CROP has been asked to supply food again in 1955 to refugee centers in western Europe, Arab refugees in Palestine, flood and drought victims in India and Pakistan, refugees in Hongkong, the homeless in Korea and those fleeing from their homes in Indo China.

Monday, October 31st, at 7:30 p. m. the state director, county CROP officers, area leaders, township chairmen, and interested persons will meet in the First National Bank building at Warsaw.

Rats and mice will move from the field into farm buildings and houses as cold weather approaches. Purdue University entomologists say this invasion can be prevented by cleaning out sources of food and eliminating hiding places. Anti-coagulant baits should be placed around as well as inside buildings.

Livestock Need Ice-free Water

With all the emphasis during the past few years on the advantages of self-feeding livestock, many farmers have overlooked an equal number of advantages for supplying water the same way.

Bruce McKenzie, extension agricultural engineer at Purdue University says that too often the livestock water supply is just taken for granted. On many farms water supply facilities are the weakest link in the entire livestock production program. All this exists even though experiments have repeatedly shown that an ice-free, always available water supply is essential for maximum livestock production. The very best in feed and forage can't offset a restricted water supply.

In addition to a increased livestock profits, automatic watering also means a saving in labor. "In times like these when farmers are striving for the utmost in efficiency, automatic watering should be standard equipment on every farm," McKenzie declares.

The best way to supply clean, fresh, ice-free water to livestock is through automatic, heated waterers. Thanks to pressure water systems, water can easily be piped to every feed lot and building on the farm.

McKenzie suggests that farmers throw away the water bucket and the ice axe, and contact their electrical supplier or local dealer for further information, who can help design a system to meet individual needs.

Fine Program For Farmers Convention

Indianapolis, Oct. 24.—Planned around the theme, "Progress Through Understanding," the 37th annual convention of the Indiana Farm Bureau will be held November 9 through 11 in the Murat Temple. Headliners on the program will include Homer L. Brinkley, executive vice president of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, who recently returned from extensive travel in the Far East. He will discuss international trade, speaking the second forenoon.

Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, treasurer of the United States, will come from Washington, D. C., to address the convention the first afternoon. Dr. George S. Benson, president of Harding College, newspaper columnist and proponent of basic Americanism, will be the principal speaker at the Wednesday evening session, November 9. His subject will be, "Basic Concepts of Government."

American Farm Bureau legislative director, John C. Lyon, of Washington, D. C., will appear on the first afternoon program. Gov. George N. Craig will be the first convention speaker. Others appearing during the program will include: Indiana Farm Bureau president, Hassil Schenck; Frank Beall, personnel director of the Indiana Farm Bureau Cooperative Association, and Larry Brandon, former official of the Indiana Farm Bureau, Inc. The business session of the organization will be held on Friday in the Athenaeum.

Musical entertainment will be provided by the Swanee River Boys, the Campbell Accordion Concert Band, and Howard W. Holmes, vocalist.

To be held concurrently with this event will be the annual convention of Indiana Rural Youth, co-sponsored by Farm Bureau and Purdue University. Their sessions will be held in the Egyptian Room of the Temple. They will meet jointly at the evening session. Winners of the talk meet and public speaking contest will appear on the evening program. The Rural Youth club winning the public relations award will be honored at the same session.

An attendance of four or five thousand is expected at the three-day event.

Watch for signs of sheep scab, advise Purdue University veterinarians. If individual animals in the flock show loss of wool or skin irritation, sheep scab should be suspected. Supervised dipping is the only satisfactory method of controlling this infection.
