Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Carl (Zulu) Rathfon, 72, South Buffalo St., Warsaw, died unexpectedly at 12:35 Monday morning at the McDonald hospital due to complications.

Mrs. Rathfon had been in failing health for 30 years. Born in Rochester, May 10, 1884, to James and Laura (Kessler) VanDoran, she was married in Rochester to Carl Rathfon who died in 1943. A member of the First Baptist church, she lived the past 15 years in Warsaw and prior to that had lived 10 years in Jackson, Miss.

Surviving relatives are one sister, Mrs. Mack (Agnes) Haimbaugh, Mentone; two brothers,ogan VanDoran, Warsaw, and Harold VanDoran, Akron.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the McHattion funeral home at Warsaw. Rev. William J. Sweeting officiated. Burial was in the Mentone cemetery.

Will Now Handle Staley Feed Line

The Northern Indiana Cooperative Association is pleased to announce their association with the A. E. Staley Mfg. Co., Decatur, Illinois, as merchants for the complete line of Feeds and Concentrates.

The A. E. Staley Mfg. Co., World's largest combined corn and soybean processors located in the heart of the corn belt and soybean capital of the world is celebrating its 50th year in business.

Their facilities are housed in over 100 buildings, located on 400 acres of ground and employs over 3000 people.

The management of the Northern Indiana Co-Op. recently visited the city of Decatur to tour the manufacturing and research facilities of the Staley Company. They are proud of their decision to bring the Staley Company and its feed products to this community to best serve their friends and patrons. We wish these two great names in feeds "Banner" and "Staley's" the best of success.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Milo Fawley was admitted to the McDonald hospital Wednesday following another stroke.

Mrs. Dove J. Kercher was admitted to the McDonald hospital Tuesday.

New Street Lighting for Mentone

At the regular meeting of the Mentone Town Board, Monday night, a contract was signed with the Northern Indiana Public Service Company for a new street lighting system for Main Street in Mentone. There will be 14 new lights and they will be of the latest type of mercury-vapor lights, producing some four times as much light as the present lights. They will be mounted 30 feet above the street. The only real change in position of the lights will be that at the main intersection only two lights will be used and they will be back about 75 feet each way from the main street on Broadway.

The lights are expected to be in operation by Nov. 15th.

The problem of securing new lights for Main street has been under discussion and in the planning stage the past 18 months.

The present lighting system is owned by the town, and as a consequence, the cost of maintenance is upon the town. The way the lights are installed, and the technical know-how necessary to repair or maintain them, makes the cost of such maintenance almost prohibitive. Under the new contract, the monthly rental and electric charge will be greater, but the cost of upkeep remains the obligation of the power company.

Former Resident Passes Away

Fred H. Evans, 60, died at 12:30 a. m. at his home in Attica, of a coronary occlusion soon after returning home from work. He was born in Grant Park, Ill. on August 5, 1896.

A druggist by trade, Mr. Evans owned the drug store at one time in Mentone. He had a drug store in Attica 27 years. He was married to Louise Lyon at Mentone.

Surviving are: his wife; two sons, Stanford, who is associated with his father in the drug store; and Fred Jr., South Bend; 2 daughters, Alice Smith and Sarah Pattengale, Attica, and 7 grandchildren.

Mrs. Robert Reed of Mentone is a sister-in-law of the deceased.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, Oct. 2, at Attica, and burial was in the Riverview Cemetery.

Rally Day at First Baptist Church

Sunday, October 7th has been set as Rally Day at First Baptist Church.

The Sunday School will be beginning its new Sunday School year, and special programs are planned for each department. Each class will be welcoming many new members and will also be introducing new study materials. If you or your family have not been attending Sunday School regularly this would be an excellent time to enroll with seven departments and nineteen classes. Each class is taught by a trained and consecrated teacher. Sunday School begins at 9:30.

The subject of Pastor Olson's Rally Day sermon will be, "Youth Betrayed." This is a frank and scriptural message dealing with the pressing problem of juvenile delinquency. The message will show how many of our young people in America become delinquents because they have been betrayed by our modern society, by our schools, by our homes, and by our churches. This sermon will be delivered at the 10:30 service.

The Baptist Training Union which meets at 6:30 provides fellowship and training for young people of all ages. We have four groups meeting each Sunday evening. Mr. Eddie Smith, our youth director, has a good program going which we know you will enjoy. Rally Day will be a good Sunday to join your Training Union group.

The final service of our Rally Day will be the Gospel Service at 7:30. Enjoy an inspiring song service led by Eddie Smith and a practical soul-stirring message by Pastor Olson. The people of Mentone area are cordially invited to share the blessing of Rally Day with the friendly congregation of First Baptist.

Club Calendar

Merry Mollies will meet for a hard times party on October 8th at the home of Mrs. Marion Smith at 7:30. Don't forget your scissors.

The Mentone Home Demonstration Club will observe guest day Thursday, October 11 at 1:30 p. m. at Peterson's Restaurant. Mrs. Agnes Rans is the hostess. Mentone American Legion Auxiliary will meet at the Post Home Tuesday, October 9, at 8:00 p. m.

To Be Page At State Conference

Mrs. Frank Smith is attending the D. A. R. State conference October 2, 3 and 4 at the Sheraton Lincoln Hotel in Indianapolis.

This is the second year Mrs. Smith has served in this capacity for the state regent, Mrs. Harry H. Wolf of Muncie. Mrs. Smith was also a floor page four previous years.

The theme of this year's conference is "Maintain and Cherish American Freedom."

Parents of Son

A son, Kim Alan, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Alan Grindle, of rural route, Warsaw, at the McDonald hospital at Warsaw noon Friday. He weighed six pounds and one-half ounce. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Whetstone of Mentone and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Grindle of Warsaw.

Fish Fry Was Well Attended

Members of the Mentone Fire Department report that the fish fry held Saturday was one of the best they had ever held, and the support of the people of the community was splendid. They fed over 700 people during the evening and practically all the food that had been prepared was consumed by the visitors.

The response to the appeal for contributions toward the purchase of the emergency vehicle has been gratifying. Already almost $425 has been received from people in the community. The vehicle is to be used to transport their portable electric unit and the various pieces of life-saving equipment the department possesses. If you haven't seen this new addition, just look for a white wide-panel truck with a red cross on the front.

In behalf of the Fire Department, we want to express our thanks and appreciation to everyone for the loyal support of the department's activities.

SEEKS DIVORCE

Billy Dean Horn, Route 1, Warsaw, has filed a divorce complaint against Diana Kay Horn in circuit court. The plaintiff, who is serving in the navy, asks custody of a son, Rocky Dean Horn, one year old. Married Feb. 21, 1955, the couple separated October 28.

What Happened At PTA?

Do you know? Have you been interested enough to ask - to find out? How many were there? Who was the speaker? What did he have to say? Were you interested enough to go last month or did you stay at home thinking you could find out in the paper?

We hope you were interested and did have a good reason for not attending. We hope you are interested enough to come this month.

At our September meeting a bountiful pot-luck supper was served after which our president, Mr. Rathbun conducted a short business meeting. Mr. Boggs and Mrs. Fredericks reported improvements made in our school. Teachers and parents were introduced and grade count was won by the Seniors.

Rev. McCance of Warsaw was the speaker of the evening. He pointed out the importance of home education as well as school education. All too many times our homes are merely houses.

Is that true of your home? Are you interested in your child, his education? Are you interested in what your tax money is being spent for? Next Wednesday night, October 10, is another P. T. A. meeting. A very interesting program is being planned for you. The speaker for the evening is from Manchester college with a very important message for you, whether your child is 6 or 16. Special music by members of our school music department is also being planned.

Support your school, your child, your teacher, your child's education. Attend and join the PTA. Wednesday, October 10, 7:30.

Polio Still A Problem

Polio is still with us. We should not let our guards down. We as parents must see to it that our children are protected with Salk vaccine. Salk vaccine is effective and is safe under present conditions.

The occurrence of polio in Sheila Witmer, East Wayne pupil, of Warsaw, should be a reminder to us to have our children immunized for polio. It just doesn't make sense to take a chance on polio when it is so easy to prevent it.

As we protect our children from polio, proportionately more adults are getting polio. This fact is reason enough for us to begin to carry our attack on polio to the 20 and over group of persons. Your Kosciusko County Health Dept. and your physician urges adults to be protected; get Salk vaccine now.

Now is the time to start Salk vaccine to get the greatest benefit next summer. You should have one inoculation now and another in four to six weeks and then a third shot in seven months. It takes the full series of these shots over a period of eight to nine months to get full protection.

If you or your child has not had polio vaccine, start now. If you have had one shot get the second in four to six weeks after the first. If it is time for the third shot get it now. Don't gamble. It doesn't pay.

If you have any question contact your family physician or your county health department.

President Council

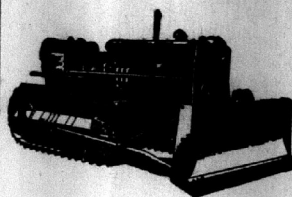

The Home Demonstration Council held its regular quarterly meeting recently at the Women's Building, Fairgrounds, Warsaw, with 58 of the 65 club presidents reporting. Mrs. Gordon Brubaker, Warsaw, County President conducted the business meeting. County Officers for 1957 were elected as follows.

President—Mrs. Kip Sullivan, North Webster; 1st Vice President, Mrs. Gene Sarber, Mentone; 2nd Vice President, Mrs. Dean Brown, Warsaw; Secretary, Mrs. Raymond Hesler, Warsaw; Ass't. Secretary, Mrs. Howard Menzie, Piercetown; Treasurer, Mrs. Paul Kaufman, Warsaw; Ass't. Treasurer, Mrs. Charles Manwaring, Mentone.

The Council voted to hold the election of local club officers in September beginning in 1957. Mrs. Brubaker announced plans for the Christmas workshop to be held Thursday, October 4 and Saturday, October 6 at the Women's Building, Fairgrounds. This is open to all club members and their friends. Mrs. Herbert McCleary, Home Demonstration Agent reminded the group that the Weight Control Classes were to start October 1 with classes at 2:00 and 7:15 p. m. She also explained the workshop lesson sheet which was distributed.

Following the council the style show committee met with the models to discuss the garments they will be wearing at Achievement Day Revue, November 7.

Plan a Safe Hunting Trip

More than 300,000 Indiana motorists will go hunting during the 1956-57 season, predicts the Chicago Motor Club.

Hunters use the highways most frequently just before dawn and just before sunset. Both are times for motorists to be especially alert, the Club urges.

The Indiana squirrel season started in August and ends Oct. 13. Waterfowl may be hunted from Oct. 20 through Dec. 28. The cock pheasant season lasts for 10 days, Nov. 10-Nov. 20, and the quail season is Nov. 10 to Dec. 20.

But the number one hunting target will be rabbits, say department of conservation officials. The season runs from Nov. 10 to January 10.

Deer hunting is permitted for six days for Indiana residents, Dec. 3 to Dec. 8, in the following southern counties: Bartholomew, Brown, Crawford, Harrison, Lawrence, Martin, Monroe, Morgan, Orange, Owen, Perry, and that part of Greene county lying east of the west fork of the White river.

The Motor Club suggests the following rules for motorists who hunt:

—Transport your gun in a case or make sure it is securely fastened down so it won't bounce around.

—Carry ammunition separately from your gun and have it stored in a protective receptacle.

—Never fire a gun from a car—it's often illegal and always dangerous.

—Never fire from or toward a road or highway.

—Never leave a gun unattended. The Motor Club also asks hunters not to use highway signs for target practices. This destructive practice destroys thousands of dollars worth of public property each year. It may mean a stiff fine or jail sentence.

National Letter Writing Week

Postmaster Kenneth Romine announced today that National Letter Writing Week will again be celebrated in Mentone and throughout the Nation during the week of October 7 to 13.

Each year since 1938 this event has been observed as a reminder of the real meaning of a personal letter.

Residents are reminded that one of the basic American Freedoms is the uncensored transmission of their first class mail. It is the most valuable possession of the citizen of a free country.

We all know the importance of letter writing, the way in which it holds scattered families together, of giving comfort and love and news to all the people of the land. But its value is immeasurable greater than that. Its implications are almost infinite.

We in America have the privilege of uncensored and unlimited means of communication. With this in mind all citizens are urged to join in the national celebration. Let's make National Letter Writing Week for 1956 the greatest ever.

THEY GAMBLE WITH DEATH

The curb-stepping little fellow has the right idea. He's making sure no cars are coming before he and his friend cross the street on the way to school.

School teachers, police and traffic safety officials all try to help our school children learn pedestrian safety rules along with the three R's. Joining with those groups, Liberty Mutual Insurance Company suggests that parents can help a great deal by teaching through example. Your children and you, too, should:

1. Look both ways before crossing streets.
2. Never jaywalk.

3. Cross streets only on properly designated crosswalks.
4. Respect and obey signals of the traffic policeman or safety officer on duty.
5. At intersections regulated by traffic lights, cross only with the pedestrian light.
6. Insist that children play their games in schoolyards or at home, not in the street.

And, as a driver, you can help, too, during the school year by driving slowly and cautiously when passing schools or playgrounds. Keep this question always in mind, "Would I want to be behind the wheel of the car that hit him?"

Local News

Max Smith and Miles Manwaring are spending a few days fishing with Estel Smith and friends of Lake George, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Klingerman of Bourbon called on Mrs. Alberta Poulson Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Dan Urschel was in Indianapolis Saturday, attending the Clinic at General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manwaring and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Manwaring attended a chicken barbeque at Weaver's Hatchery, Wakarusha, Indiana, Monday evening. Over one hundred poultry people attended this meeting where an informative film was shown of Kimber Farms, Niles, California and the production of the new leghorn, Kimberchik K-137. Many problems were discussed following the film. Manwaring Leghorn Farms is the producer and distributor of Kimberchiks K-137 in the northern Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, and Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Weaver, Weaver's Hatchery of Wakarusha is one of a number of dealers which Manwaring now has.

SINCERE THANKS

I want to thank everyone for the many cards, letters, visits, flowers and prayers, while I was in the hospital.

MRS. LESTER ROGERS

Purdue University entomologists report that observance of the fly-free date for seeding of wheat is the best way to prevent damage by the Hessian fly. The dates do not change from year to year. They range from September 22 in the north to October 9 in extreme southern Indiana.

Attending Four-Day Short Course

A release from the Dr. Salisbury's Laboratories at Charles City, Iowa states that Robert Goshert of the Burket Elevator, is one of 38 hatcherymen and feed dealers who are attending a four-day short course in poultry diseases and management.

Practical instruction is being received by him and the other students on poultry diseases and flock management problems from professionally trained staff members of the laboratories. He will be attending lectures, clinical discussions and laboratory demonstrations relating to such subjects as Anatomy of Poultry and Poultry Parasites, Development of Disease, Poultry Management and Sanitation, Methods of Disease Prevention and Control, Merchandising and Selling and Poultry Service Work.

No Meat-Type Monopoly

No breed of hogs has a monopoly on meat-type.

Richard. Hollandbeck, Purdue University extension swine specialist, says the "right kind" of hogs can be found in every breed. There is no breed synonymous with meat-type.

To back up this fact, Hollandbeck cites results of the 1956 carcass Barrow contest at the recent Indiana State Fair where six different breeds were represented among the top 20 placings. In fact, there were five different breeds in the top seven placings.

Of the top 20 placings in the contest, only two hogs failed to meet meat-type carcass certification requirements. "We are proud of these results, especially since they were superior to those at some other state fairs," Hollandbeck states.

Hollandbeck describes meat-type hogs as those which will consistently reproduce themselves in litters of eight or more pigs. At the handy market weights of 200 to 225 pounds, such hogs will have a minimum of carcass fat and adequate muscling so as to provide choice, readily acceptable cuts of pork. In addition, they will attain these two goals in from five to not more than six months of age while on full feed of a common practical ration consisting largely of corn.

Weight Control Classes Start

The first lessons in the weight control class were held at 2:00 p. m. Monday October 1 and at 7:15 p. m. of the same day and will continue each Monday for six weeks. This class is open to any one both men and women who are interested in controlling their weight. The only requirement says, Mrs. Ruth McCleary, home demonstration agent, is a permit from the family physician stating that the member is physically able to take part in the course. These blanks may be obtained at the County Health Office or the Agricultural Extension Office in the basement of the Court House. A small fee will be charged each member to defray incidental expenses. This class is sponsored by the Home Demonstration Council, Business and Professional Women's Club, Kosciusko County Medical Society, Indiana Heart Foundation, State Department of Public Health.

The committee in charge of these lessons is: Mrs. Carl Zimmer, Mrs. Fred Hartman, Mrs. Guy Hygema, Mrs. Vern DeCamp, Mrs. John Lucas, Mrs. Herbert Hughes, Mrs. Wilbur Latimer, Mrs. Herbert McCleary and Dr. John Johnson.

To Visit Corn Test Plots

The Kosciusko County Fall Corn Meeting will be held Thursday October 11 at 1 p. m. County agent Paul Jackson announced today. Keller Beeson of the Purdue Agronomy Department will discuss varieties and fertilization results.

The meetings will be held at the demonstration plots one and a half miles south of Oswego. Twenty-seven commercial hybrids are included in the plots. Also in the fertilizer trials nitrogen was plowed down at the rates of 40, 80, 120, and 160 pounds per acre and 10-10-10 fertilizer at the rates of 400 and 800 pounds per acre.

Members of the Leesburg FFA and Vo-Ag. teacher Bill James cooperated with the county agents in planting and harvesting the plots.

Farm Outlook Meeting Oct. 9th

Plans have been made to hold the annual "Agricultural Outlook" meeting at Women's Building, Fairgrounds on Tuesday, October 9, at 7:30 p. m. according to Paul E. Jackson, County Agricultural Agent. Farmers, homemakers, land owners, and others interested in the economic future for general business and farming are invited to attend this meeting.

What effect will the "Soil Bank Program" have on grain price? Will the hog business be better next year? Should I feed cattle, if so, what kind? Is this a good time to buy land? Are real estate taxes going up? How many years of harrow profit margins should I look for in the farming game? Will the higher steel and labor prices mean higher farm machinery prices?

Lester Arnold, Purdue University agricultural economist, will discuss these and many other questions related to farm commodity prices in the year ahead. This information should assist farmers in making important decisions in regard to their farming operations.

Last fall 87 Outlook Meetings were held in Indiana with a total attendance of about 7000. A good attendance is expected again this year because of the uncertainties facing the farmer.

Christmas Workshop

The following arts and crafts will be offered at the Christmas Workshop the Home Demonstration Clubs are sponsoring at the Women's Building, Fairgrounds, Warsaw on Thursday, October 4 and Saturday, October 6 from 9:30 a.m. until 3:00 p.m.

Forecasts On Soybean Prices

A Purdue University agricultural economist has forecast that soybean prices through the coming season will probably average near the loan rate of $2.15 per bushel—about 25 cents below last season's average price.

W. S. Farris sees some price increase after the low point at harvest. The increase, however, will not be as spectacular as that during the past season, the economist said.

According to September 1 estimates, the U. S. soybean crop is indicated to be 462 million bushels—the third consecutive record crop, a 24 per cent increase over last year and 82 per cent above the 1945-54 average of 254 million bushels.

The Indiana estimate is for a record crop of 54 million bushels 24 per cent above last year's production of 44 million bushels and 56 per cent above the 1945-54 average.

Farris does not believe exports and domestic use of soybeans will increase enough to utilize the large 1956 crop. Last year's total utilization approximately equalled the 1955 production. It is probable, however, that exports of soybeans during the 1956-57 season may increase to 75 million bushels.

If prices of soybean oil and soybean oil meal average enough lower than last year, some further increase in domestic processing can be expected. Domestic use has increased about 14 per cent in each of the past two years. A carry over of 30-40 million bushels would result if the above conditions materialize. Such a carryover, however, would not be too burdensome unless another large crop follows in 1957. Seasonal movements of soybean prices have been very erratic in previous years. The price increase from October to April has averaged 50 cents per bushel over the past 10 years. Price changes, however, varied from a $1.38 increase to a 26 cent decrease. The seasonal price rise has been more than enough to cover average storage costs (10-15 cents per bushel) in eight of the past ten years.

Corn Harvest Tips Given

An estimated 35,000 corn harvesters soon will be put into operation on Indiana farms.

Les Hill, extension agricultural engineer at Purdue University, says the biggest number of these machines will be corn pickers. He adds that an increasing number of field shellers and corn combines also will see service this season.

Hill reminds farmers that corn harvesting is a dangerous job. He urges all operators of corn harvesters to avoid short cuts and chances that may lead to critical or even fatal injury.

Only machines in good mechanical condition should be taken to the field, the specialist asserts. Farmers should start now to replace worn bearings, lost bolts and worn sprockets or the chains. It would be well for operators to review the manufacturer's notes about how to set adjustments for special field conditions. If necessary, attachments needed to help handle weeds or grass should be ordered.

Farmers who start to pick or pick and shell early to reduce field losses should remember to reset snapping and husking roll spacings. This is necessary since the greener corn will snap and husk differently than the dry corn harvested at the end of last season.

Operators of machines which have just been placed on the market usually need to make more frequent inspections of their machines than owners of the older machines. It's a good idea for an operator to report to the manufacturer all observations on breakage and mechanical difficulties—it insures that future models will give better results.

Operators should strive to put as much ear or shelled corn in the bin as possible. Even at best some corn will remain in the field. A farmer can put three or four per cent more corn in the bin through constant observation and checking of adjustments, Hill says.

It's rather easy to keep a record of machine losses in the field. The picker operator should plan to record the number of shelled kernels found in 40-inch squares several times a day. An average of 20 kernels per square can be considered as a bushel's loss per acre. Each ear of corn left in each 133 feet of row can be considered one bushel's loss per acre.

Mentone Senior Class Play

The Mentone senior class play, "Room No. 13", a three-act mystery-comedy, will be presented in the Mentone Gymnasium Friday and Saturday nights, October 12 and 13 at 7:30 p. m.

The characters and portrayals are: Lizzie Spriggins, a lazy maid, Alice Surface; Josh Spriggins, a lazy handy-man, Charles Feldman; Professor Snow, Fred Anderson; Jack, a be-whiskered stranger, Glen Davis; Janet Harris, young niece of Prof. Snow, Sue Borton; Sally Hall, Janet's friend, June Romine; Jim Stevens, likeable young man, Junior Clappitt; Madam Zelda, Friend of the Spirits, Dorothy Christian.

The play is full of mysteries of the old home of Professor Snow. Janet Harris and Sally Hall were invited to visit Janet's uncle, Prof. Snow. They are frightened by many mysteries, the two queer old servants, a falling picture, strange noises, etc. Jim Stevens tried to help, especially after he fell in love with Janet, who scorns him. Jack, a mystery stranger, solves the mystery why tramps are kept in Room 13 in the basement, and has a romance with Sally too. A wierd scene in the play is the seance Madam Zelda conducts with the spirits during which Prof. Snow and Janet disappear. Then there is chaos until the entire mystery is solved in a most unusual conclusion.

The master of ceremonies will be Dewayne McKinley. Four senior boys will sing between act 1 and act 2 with 6 senior girls pantomiming the song. Between act 2 and 3 Dorothy Kendall and Donna Smith will sing two popular numbers. Mrs. Caldwell is the director of the entire program.

If you like a mystery, and most people do, you'll love "Room No. 13." Tickets will go on sale for the public Friday morning, October 5 with Dale Kindig and James Eaton in charge of ticket sales. See any senior and get your reserved seat now. The play cast promises that you will be able to hear and see well any place in the gymnasium.

Methodist Church News

"Rally Day" last Sunday was attended by 202 persons at the 9:30 service of Divine Worship, 144 in the Sunday School at 10:30, 20 youth in the "Teen-Time" program at 6:15, and 110 in the 7:30 evangelistic service with the LeShanas. It has been felt that the attendance throughout the day would have been much greater had not so many families been cooperating with the Scout "Ranch-O-Ree" at Goshen.

Attendance at the "LeShana Evangelistic Crusade" meetings has been very encouraging. The interest and attendance by members of the other churches of the community has been deeply appreciated.

To assist them, the LeShanas are bringing with them musical talent from the staff and student-body of Taylor University, Upland, Indiana. Among those assisting this week-end will be a young man from India, who will feature Indian costuming. A male quartet will be present for all the services on Sunday.

The congregation, and friends of the church, are being invited to be host to the LeShanas and the quartet at a special carry-in dinner at 12:30 Sunday. "Teen-Time" will again be conducted at 6:15 Sunday evening, and the evangelistic crusade meetings will conclude with the 7:30 service.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to share in all of these activities.

Mentone Lumber Robbed Again

Arlo Priesner, an employee of the Mentone Lumber Co., was treated to a shock again Wednesday morning when he arrived for work. The office safe had been broken into again. The last time this happened was on the night of July 4—and that totaled up to three times it had happened.

Mr. McKinley, owner and manager, stated today that the same pattern of operation was used as in previous robberies—entrance through the same window and a hole hammered into the fire-proof vault door. The only real difference this time was that the robbers cracked a vial of tear gas in the vault and they left hurriedly, taking only a little silver and change. The gas was so strong the robbers vomited before reaching the outside of the building.

If you noticed tears or inflamed eyes among the lumber company personnel today, it was likely due to the tear-gas that lingered in the office.

Order Trees Now For Spring

Indiana farmers who plan to plant trees next spring should place orders soon, E. J. Lott, Purdue University extension forester, has reported.

Lott said about nine million trees are being made available to Hoosier farmers at the cost of production through Indiana's 3 state nurseries.

Each year these trees are sold for general reforestation, windbreaks, Christmas trees, and erosion control purposes. Interested farmers can obtain application forms from the county agricultural agent, any state forester, the forestry extension office at Purdue, or the Division of Forestry, 311 West Washington Street, Indianapolis.

Farmers are urged by Lott to order trees early in order to get the desired species.

Varieties of trees available for planting next spring include tulip poplar, black locust, and shortleaf, Virginia, Scotch, jack, red and white pine.

Trees secured from the state nurseries must be planted in rural areas outside of city or town limits. All purchases must be in quantities of 50 or more of each variety ordered. The buyer must pay the transportation cost.

If help is needed to determine what, where and how to plant trees, farmers should contact their county agent or nearest extension forester. Station Circular 306, "Trees for Reforestation in Indiana," may be obtained from the office of agricultural publications at Purdue.

AN "ABSURD" YARDSTICK

This was recently said of the Tennessee Valley Authority: "A number of factors, aside from those of taxes, interest and profit, are favorable to low power costs in the Tennessee Valley region . . . Nevertheless, I cannot ignore the very real advantages accruing to any system which operates for minimum earning rather than a normal profit and which is not required by law to pay interest on its obligations or income taxes to the Federal government. In all fairness, it must be admitted that these result in consumer advantages not enjoyed by the customers of private power companies. Any talk about establishing a measure for the cost of power without reference to these factors is, of course, absurd."

That is not quoted from an address by a spokesman for the independent, taxpaying power companies or of any other group which might be expected to be critical of TVA's financial setup. It was said, instead, by the Chairman of the Board of TVA, General Vogel, speaking before the American Power Conference.

General Vogel thus made it perfectly clear that the general taxpayers are subsidizing the users of TVA power. They do that directly when public money is appropriated for TVA. They do it indirectly because of TVA's freedom from equal taxation—which simply means that the rest of us must contribute to making up the loss.

Finally, there are those who argue that power should be produced "for minimum earning rather than a normal profit." If that argument is sound, why shouldn't profitless operation be proper for the grocery business, the insurance business, the publishing business, the farming business, or any other commercial business—including yours?

Farmer Pledges High Quality Food At Reasonable Cost

"Food—From Farm to Family" is the title of a brochure just published by the Indiana Farm Bureau, Inc. Designed to better acquaint the city dweller with the important part the farmer plays in food production, the brochure points out the "farmers' pledge to the consumer"—an abundance of high quality food at reasonable cost.

The folder is made available in connection with the Farm Bureau's statewide program to promote better understanding between farm and non-farm people. The distribution of the folder throughout the state is being done by county Farm Bureau Information Councils organized by, and composed of local farm people.

"The Indiana Farmer is an important person in your family's life," the folder states. "He furnishes—a raw form—almost all your daily food. He operates his farm business more efficiently than any farmer in the world. That is why you are the best fed consumer in history."

"The American farmer can guarantee plenty of food because he works under a free enterprise system which allows and encourages him to improve his already highly efficient business operation.

"The food you buy today is less expensive than at any time in history. The real cost of food is measured in terms of how long it takes you to earn the money to buy it. Food is a bargain today because you work fewer hours than ever before in order to get it. The farmer helps make food costs reasonable because he is continually increasing his output per man-hour, per acre, and per animal unit.

"You have the highest quality, most balanced diet in the world today. American agriculture delivers high quality food because the American farmer is willing to apply research facts—obtained from agricultural experiment stations like Purdue University, the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and private laboratories—to his farm operation.

"No other farmer in the world is as willing to take a new idea and put it to work as the American farmer. The result is high quality food production for you."

Water Problem Is Possible

Increased water use in both rural and urban areas has given indications that a water resource problem does, or may at some time, exist in parts of Indiana.

According to D. Woods Thomas, agricultural economist at Purdue University, irrigation has been a factor in the increased use of water. Irrigation has had a sharp rate of adoption in Indiana in the past few years—only 5000 acres were irrigated in 1949 as compared to some 33,000 acres that Indiana farmers planned to irrigate in 1955. And, the practice of irrigation will probably increase in the next 10-20 years.

But irrigation isn't the only factor leading to a potential water problem. Thomas says per capita water consumption increased from 90 gallons per day in 1890 to as high as 180 gallons per day in 1950 in large urban centers. In the meantime, industrial and recreational needs have also increased.

Thomas says a water resource problem exists when there is insufficient water economically available to meet fully the needs of all those who desire to use it.

In recognition of this potential water shortage problem, the 1955 Indiana General Assembly established the Indiana Water Resources Study Committee. The committee is charged with the responsibilities of making a comprehensive survey of water management laws—both surface and ground water, and with making a report of its findings to the 1957 Indiana General Assembly.

After reviewing the water rights situation in Indiana and other humid eastern states, the study committee members are in agreement that water rights legislation should not be directed toward the restriction of water use. Rather, water rights legislation should be a legal vehicle fostering increased utilization of water resources for the maximum benefits to the people of the state, and the development of adequate water resources, both in quantity and quality, to meet the expanding demand.

Thomas is of the opinion that the 1957 state legislature will adhere to these concepts of the study committee.

Mission Group Meet

The regular meeting of St. Theresa's Mission Group was held Thursday, September 27, at the home of Mrs. Mervin Wagner. The meeting was opened with the group reciting the "Our Father." A successful penny supper was reported, with the Afghan and penny supper project combined, clearing $275.00. Tentative plans were discussed for a dance to be given at St. Francis Parish Hall at Pierceton on Dec. 1. Details will be worked out later. A donation of $10.00 was gratefully received.

The meeting was closed with recitation of the "Invocation to St. Theresa" after which the hostess served delicious refreshments to the following members and guests: Mrs. Robert Rieboldt, Mrs. Stanley Boggs, Mrs. Ned Witham, sons Brad and Christopher, Mrs. Iris Fitzgerald, and Mrs. Norman Camden, Ricky and Bonnie. Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Stanley Boggs.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kellenberger of Monticello, were visitors at the Artley Cullum home Sunday afternoon. Mr. Kellenberger has been on the Monticello fire department for many years.

Purdue University poultrymen advise egg producers to hang a bag of clean nest litter near the nests in their laying house. With clean litter close at hand producers will find it easy to keep the nests in tip-top shape and will have fewer dirty eggs to clean.

Approve Bond Issue for School

The Etna township advisory board has approved and passed a $68,000 bond issue for a new Etna Green school addition. Trustee Lester Gay announced today.

Gay, a farmer, said the board approved a $46,000 bond issue for the school township and $22,000 for the civil township.

A meeting will be held at 8 p. m. Monday, October 22, at Gay's office to pass additional appropriations for the needed funds, a legal step needed so the bonds can be issued, Gay said. He stated this would be a public meeting at which anyone may attend and speak for or against the appropriations.

If you know where your hog pasture will be next year, why not plan to store some corn in that field in temporary storage? Animal husbandmen at Purdue University say some hog producers have constructed field cribs that are fairly satisfactory as ear corn self-feeders. Hauling corn to the farmstead for storage and then back to the field to feed may be extra work, especially if it is to be fed as ear corn anyway.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Botanists at Purdue University report that September is a good time to respray patches of Canada thistle that were treated earlier in the year. The second application will destroy the plants that survived the first application. Either amino triazole or 2,4-D may be used.

Dry cows require some concentrates but the large amounts fed on some farms are unnecessary, report dairymen at Purdue University. Feeding tests prove that four pounds per cow daily are ample as long as there is a good supply of roughages.

Calves that are unthrifty, potbellied and anemic may be infested with stomach worms, according to Purdue University veterinarians. Sanitation, cleanliness of the barns, and rotation of pastures are methods of controlling these parasites. Your vet. can make a microscopic test of droppings to determine if worms are present. Effective treatment can then be used for the specific kind of worm found.

Purdue University entomologists say that stored grain should be examined often between now and the onset of cold weather. If weevil or other stored grain insects are found, the bins should be fumigated at once. There are many commercial fumigants on the market, any of which will give good results if used according to directions.

A Story OF Success In A Small Town By A Hoosier Writer

By AL SPIERS, Editor, Michigan City News-Dispatch, Nixon Newspaper Feature Writer and Saturday Evening Post Contributor.

In this age of lavish leisure, soft security and fat early pensions it's hard to persuade youngsters that success is still compounded of two old-fashioned ingredients—spelled R I S K and W O R K.

But it's true, and Arch Baumgartner of Milford, is a convincing case in point.

Life put Arch behind a large eight-ball early. He was 12 when his farmer father, Emil, died in bleak 1930, after siring 14 children—8 of whom still live.

With help from older kids, Mom Baumgartner saw Arch, her youngest, through high school, then said, "Now you're on your own."

Ambitious, Arch wanted college. He got in a year at Ohio's Western Reserve by living with a teacher brother in Cleveland, and two more at University of Michigan by coaxing a $1,500 personal loan from Jacob Neff Milford banker.

In July 1939—not yet 22, deeply in debt and driving an ice truck for his brother, Wilb—Arch heard that Milford's weekly paper, The Mail, was for sale.

The Mail wasn't much—a hand-set relic with 600 subscribers and antique machinery. Moreover, Arch knew utterly nothing about printing or newspapering.

But the price—$1,800—was low, and a tiny town like Milford doesn't offer many opportunities to young men eager to be on their own.

Too deeply in hock to get more bank money, Arch called a family conference. Would his older brothers and sisters finance him? Some were dubious, but all chipped in loans.

By August, 1939, Arch was a publisher!

More accurately, he was reporter, circulation seller, ad man, printer, pressman, janitor and flunky.

Every word in The Mail had to be hand-set, letter by laborious letter. The Mail's old owner tarried scarcely long enough to teach typesetting to Arch and his sister, Edith, who joined him.

Luckily, Arch found a tramp printer at $15 a week. Somehow they got the paper out. After two no-profit months, Arch said:

"We've got to get a Linotype. Hand-setting is killing us."

He found a $900 used lino he could buy for $15 a month. It shook, rattled and groaned, but miraculously spewed out type lines—until a rainy night and leaky roof rusted its innards. Arch complained to the landlord, who raised eyebrows and said:

"Your rent is $12 a month. For that you expect a new roof?"

Down the street at 206 Main was an old, vacant building. Arch bought it for $500, at $15 a month. Getting materials on credit (another $15 per month!) Arch remodeled and moved in. Repaired, the old lino grumbled anew and The Mail kept appearing.

The paper paid Arch little for his 16-hour days—but it did nibble away at its obligations and by late 1941, with circulation and ad volume slowly growing, the eager young publisher began to see daylight.

Then war's roof fell on Arch's head. Drafted, he was tempted to sell out and salvage what he could. But Arch is stubborn, and his sister, Edith, said, "We'll get out The Mail."

So off went Pvt. Baumgartner to the Air Force, vowing he'd apply part of his piddling military pay to debts at home.

Within a year, Arch won a commission and married Della Frauhiger, a Warsaw girl, who worked so they could pay $50 a month on old debts.

Their Ronnie arrived late in '43 and Arch soon went overseas. When she could, Della got a job back home so the $50 payments could continue.

As a result of these sacrifices, Arch and Della were almost debt free at war's end. Now they poured their energies into The Mail and Milford.

As they built up the paper, Arch was able to buy a new press, a second lino, three job presses, new type and better tools. Della worked at his side, taking time out to have Janie in 1948.

In 1950, some people at Pierce-ton, east of Warsaw, approached Arch. Their weekly paper had folded. Would Arch launch one?

Arch did. In six weeks, he had 400 subscribers. Today circulation tops 1,000.

Even with two papers, Arch and Della found time for worthwhile civic projects. They were leaders in a campaign that created a fine park at Waubee Lake, a project that won top Indiana honors in a Kroger "Build A Better Community" contest. Arch became PTA president, Lion Club secretary, an active Chamber of Commerce booster.

"Anything that's good for Milford is worth doing—no matter how busy you are," he'd often say.

A scant 14 years ago, when he was whisked off to war, Arch was $4,000 in hock. Today he and Della have a spacious comfortable home, and an ample income.

Lucky? Nuts: Arch earned it—every hard-won bit of it.

And in America, even in a tiny town, it's an example of the success that can be won by any young man with a zest to learn, the guts to gamble and a will to WORK!

Paved Feeding Area Is Best

Muddy feed lots may cause a reduction in feed efficiency and daily gain of feeder cattle, according to T. W. Perry, Purdue University livestock nutrition specialist.

Perry experimented with two lots of steers, both fed chopped forage and free choice minerals, but with a sixteen foot platform paved in front of the feed bunks in one lot. The steers in the lot with the concrete platform gained 35 per cent more daily and 25 per cent more efficiently than the steers in the other lot, which was muddy during most of the experiment.

Previous research in a dry season when the feed lot was practically free from mud showed no advantage for the concrete.

Although both experiments were conducted during the summer months, their results indicate that efforts to keep cattle out of the mud during the other parts of the year would also be worthwhile.

In areas and on soils where mud is a problem in feed lots, a concrete feeding platform definitely will improve the performance of cattle, Perry concludes.

Back to school again!

We have several new teachers this year. They are: Ronald D. Malott, Paul Miller, Boyd Reutebuch, Perry Rauscher, and Alberta Hanson.

On September 28, the sophomores initiated the freshmen. Everyone had a good time. The freshmen are looking forward to next year, when they get to do the initiating.

Our baseball team wasn't very successful this year, but we're hoping for a good basketball season.

Our class officers for this year are: Senior Class: President, Phil Bucher; Vice-president, Kerry Huffer; Secretary, Sharon Heighway; Treasurer, Diane Sittler; Student Council, Al Baugher, and Sandra Summe; Reporter, Carol Ann Dickey; Sponsor, Ronald Malott.

Junior Class: President, Wayne Cumberland; Vice-pres., Joyce Hathaway; Secretary, Karen Latimer; Treasurer, Jo Tucker; Student Council, Orvil Thompson and Eleanor Shively; Reporter, Larry Bibler; Sponsors, Fred Haney and Paul Miller.

Sophomore Class: President, Margaret Baugher; Vice-pres., Max Ummel; Secretary, Ronnie Swick; Treasurer, Dora Kelley; Student Council, Bill Whetstone and Marilyn Horn; Reporter, Jim Adams; Sponsor, Mary Howard. Freshmen Class: President, Dick Woods; Vice-president, John Ault; Secretary, David Janké; Treasurer, Allen Study; Student Council, Marlin Valentine and

Phyllis Ummel; Reporter, Burl Blosser; Sponsor, Glen Webster. Eighth Grade: President, Kay Colbert; Vice-President, Barry Blalock; Secretary - Treasurer, Sherry Babcock; Student Council, Jerry Lackey and Diana Kay Ballenger; Reporter, Mary Golden; Sponsor, Boyd Reutebuch. Seventh Grade: President, Freddie Horn; Vice-president, Ned Heighway; Secretary-Treasurer, Betty Smith; Student Council, Paul Bucher and Joyce Bowen; Reporter, Rita Lockridge; Sponsor, Perry Rauscher.

The high school had a party in the gym recently. The teachers furnished games and refreshments. Everyone had a nice time.

Mr. Malott, Mr. Haney, and our school cooks, Esther Perry and Elma Tucker attended a lunch workshop held at Syracuse recently.

We have elected yell leaders for this year. The three selected by our student body were: Diane Sittler, Jo Tucker and Janice Study.

Purdue University horticulturists say that now is the time to clean the fruit and vegetable storage room by scrubbing the floor, walls and containers. Almost all fruits and vegetables keep best in a cool, clean, well ventilated place.

Spray poison ivy and other woody plants in fence rows, waste areas, and ditch banks after the early fall rains. A material known as brush killer—equal parts of 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T—is most effective when applied as a foliage spray after diluting one part of the mixture with 100 parts of water, according to botanists at Purdue University.

Have Hard Times Party

The Merry Molly's Home Ec. Club held its October meeting at the home of Mrs. Eva Belle Smith in the form of a hard times party. Everyone came dressed in their "worst." Mrs. Helen Meyer received the prize for being the "best dressed" hard timer.

After a short business session, conducted by the president, Mrs. Maxine Holloway and vice-president, Mrs. Eunice Leffert. An election of officers was held.

The following were elected for the coming year. President, Mrs. Eunice Leffert; V. President, Mrs. Frances Mellott; Secretary, Mrs. Joan Wellborn; Treasurer, Mrs. Velma Horn; Song Leader, Mrs. Mary Putterbaugh and Reporter, Mrs. Helen Meyer.

Mrs. Betty Sarber conducted a most interesting and informative lesson on the art of flower making from wood fiber.

Two new members, Mrs. Doris Cooper, and Mrs. Bernice Runnells were welcomed into the club.

A very interesting game, trying to remember all the members' maiden names, was conducted by Mrs. McGowen and Mrs. Leffert.

Mrs. Eva Belle Smith remembered the most but we were all winners as we were each presented with a delicious fudge bar made by Mrs. McGowen.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Mary Putterbaugh.

Secret Pal gifts were received by Mrs. Maxine Holloway, Mrs. Eva Belle Smith and Mrs. Helen Meyer.

Mrs. Betty Sarber was presented with a gift from the club as a thank you for the help she gave each of us in our flower making efforts.

At the close of a most enjoyable evening, refreshments of coffee in tin cups and doughnuts on paper plates in keeping with the hard time theme, were served by the hostess, Mrs. Smith and co-hostess, Mrs. Sarber.

There were fourteen members and one guest, Mrs. Agnes Tibbetts, present.

Good attendance was reported in each of the four groups of the Baptist Training Union meeting at 6:30. Teacher Training Classes are off to a good start with an enrollment of 30 last Tuesday.

Sunday, October 14th has been designated as "Go To Church Sunday", in Kosciusko County and all citizens are urged to attend the church of their choice. First Baptist takes this opportunity to invite you to make their services your choice for "Go To Church Sunday." We wish also to congratulate and thank the laymen and their organizations of the county who are sponsoring and promoting "Go To Church Sunday."

Mr. Eddie Smith, youth Director of First Baptist, has announced that the young people will sponsor a singspiration following the evening service on Sunday, October 14th. Both the young and old are invited to join in the thrill of singing gospel songs and choruses. Mr. Smith, a very talented young man who was asked to sign with the Pittsburgh Pirates as a major league baseball pitcher, is giving inspiring leadership to the young people at First Baptist Church.

"Uncle Sam has millions for farmers who don't plant, millions for workers who don't work, millions for everyone's retirement, and billions for the upkeep of tired foreigners. All this and a debt of $278 billion, too . . .

"Won't some kind soul tell Americans the awful truth—there just ain't no Santy Claus!"

ripe, according to Purdue University extension forester Ed Lott.

Lott says that farmers wouldn't think of selling hogs at 100 or 300 pounds, and the same idea holds true for farm timber.

Trees should never be allowed to die in the tops—a sure sign that the timber is over-mature and losing value, Lott points out. Timber should be cut and sold when it is ready to be harvested.

The farm wood lot should be culled as is a poultry flock or dairy herd. In other words, every cutting should be in the nature of a salvage cut with the clean-stemmed high value trees left to make full use of the space they occupy. The undesirable stock should be removed for use as custom logs, posts or fuel.

When it comes time to market some timber, Lott emphasizes that some of the most valuable species of trees should be retained as a source of seed. A good growing stock should also be maintained to insure maximum growth in value and volume, and to permit future selective cuts at short intervals.

Logs should be sold by volume, but at the same time the producer must realize that a buyer cannot pay as much for small common logs as for the larger, higher grade logs.

If the farm timber stand is to be profitable it is essential that the stand be protected from livestock. Animals trample the young stock and damage the older stands. And, the hazard of fire should be guarded against at all times.

Further information on woodlot management is contained in extension leaflet 384, "Minimum Timber Cutting Practices for Indiana," available from county agents or the agricultural publications office at Purdue.

Control Cattle Lice Now

Now is the time to spray for cattle lice, according to Purdue University entomologists. Lice control practices should be used early in the fall for a head start on the pests.

Infested cattle rub and scratch against stanchions, fences and other objects, often causing bruises. Close examination will reveal the lice crawling among the hairs. Although lice are a year-around problem, damage is usually most severe in late winter and early spring.

Sound management has an effect in controlling lice. Cattle should be well fed, kept in clean, well ventilated stables, and not overcrowded.

Outbreaks should be controlled by spraying, says Glen Lehker, Purdue extension entomologist. This means that the job must be done before cold weather, since the spray to be effective, must wet the cattle to the skin. Cleaning and spraying stables, and separating treated from untreated cattle will also help control the lice.

For beef cattle only, 8 pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDT or 3 pounds of 12 per cent gamma BHC in 100 gallons of water may be used. Eight pounds of 50 per cent methoxychlor, one and a half pounds of 25 per cent wettable lindane, or one pound of 5 per cent wettable rotenone per hundred gallons of water can be sprayed on both dairy and beef cattle. Lindane and BHC should not be used on animals less than 3 months old, although they do have the advantage of killing the lice with a single application. Treatments with DDT, rotenone, or methoxychlor should be repeated in 15 days.

Lehker recommends that dusting only be used in emergencies during the winter months, since it is a poor substitute for spraying.

Animal husbandmen at Purdue University say that lambs feeding in corn fields require additional roughage—especially after heavy frosts. It is a good plan to bring the lambs to the barn for a daily feeding of good quality hay, especially toward the end of the feeding period. Be sure that the lambs are tagged and that every lamb can see, the specialists say.

Former Mentone Man Takes Life

Ellis Edward Melton, 48, who moved to Wabash from Mentone two years ago, ended his life in the kitchen of his Wabash home at 2:40 a. m. Wednesday of last week by shooting himself with a shotgun.

Dr. L. W. Yoder, Wabash coroner, returned a verdict of suicide and indicated domestic difficulties were believed responsible for the act.

Relatives said Melton, who was an employe of the General Tire and Rubber Co., had quit work at 11 p. m. Tuesday, returning home at midnight. After objecting to a dog sleeping with his son in the room where he also slept, they said he went to the kitchen and committed the act. His wife, hearing a muffled sound, went to the kitchen and found the body.

Surviving in addition to the widow are three stepchildren, Stephen Baker, Wabash, Mrs. K. Kerlin and David Baker of Silver Lake; one brother, Theodore of Etna Green, and a half-brother, Roy Strapes, in West Virginia.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p. m. Friday in the Wire funeral home, Wabash, and burial was in the Palestine cemetery.

Mrs Fawley Buried Saturday

Mrs. Milo Fawley, whose death last Wednesday was announced in our last issue, was buried in the Mentone cemetery Saturday afternoon. Funeral services were held at the Reed funeral home at two o'clock with Rev. Milton Persons of the Methodist church, officiating.

Mrs. Fawley was past president of the Mentone unit of the Mothers of World War II and a member of the Friendly Neighbors Home Economics Club.

The War Mothers had special graveside services at the cemetery.

ENTERS MAYOS

Mr. and Mrs. Don Coleman and Mrs. Dearth Tucker drove to Rochester, Minn., today where Mrs. Coleman went for observation. She has been assigned to Room No. 267, Methodist Hospital, at Rochester, Minn.

Basketball Season Nears

The first basketball game of the season will soon be upon us. On November 2nd Mentone will be host to the Bourbon Comets.

Season tickets are on sale for adults and students in the principal's office.

At present there are 32 boys out for basketball. Nine are seniors, four are juniors, eight are sophomores and eleven are freshmen. They are:

Seniors—Larry Horn, Ron Sechrist, Tom Hoover, Larry Long, Glen Davis, Fred Anderson, Dale Kindig, Junior Clappitt, Dwayne McKinley.

Best prospects for the varsity are the juniors and seniors although two sophomores show promise also. These sophomores are Tom Holloway and Larry Nellans.

The outcome for the season is unpredictable. We face a tough schedule with many of the schools having their teams of last year nearly intact. We have only two veterans, Horn and Hoover, who have had much varsity experience. It remains to be seen how our second team of the 55-56 season will measure up to our competition's veterans. Up to now our boys show spirit, drive and determination and if we improve as the season progresses we could be one of the better teams of the county before the 56-57 season is over.

Coach Abe Hoogenboom.

GRASS FIRE WEDNESDAY

The Mentone Fire Department was called to the Abe Whetstone farm home Wednesday afternoon to extinguish a grass fire.

Due to almost a total lack of rainfall the past couple of months the countryside—and city as well—needs only a spark to start a fire, and the Mentone firemen have been expecting many such fires to start. Everyone is urged to use extreme caution for the prevention of fires.

Mentone Reading Club Meets

The Mentone Reading Club held its first meeting at the home of Mrs. Max Nellans on Wednesday evening, October 3. A delicious carry-in dinner was enjoyed. Mrs. Don VanGilder was assisting hostess.

The business meeting was conducted by the new president, Mrs. Arvilla VanGilder.

Each one present responded to roll call by reading a concise, to-the-point statement concerning politics.

Mrs. Dan Urschel and Mrs. Earl Shinn were in charge of the program. To begin, each person checked the answers to a personal quiz i. e. "Did you vote in the last presidential election?" "Will you vote the same ticket this fall?" "Are you registered?" etc. Mrs. Shinn, who has made politics and political reading a hobby for many years, then talked on some unusual but possible events in the matter of succession to office in case of illness or death of a presidential candidate and other pertinent information.

Another quiz, dealing with facts of government, was given on questions similar to the following:

Who can be president?

Who can vote?

What is the last day to register?

What are the freedoms mentioned in the Bill of Rights?

Name the government units to which officials are elected by the people?

What are the three branches of government?

What state has the largest number of representatives? Who is in charge of the House of Representatives? Can he vote?

Who is in charge of the Senate? Can he vote?

What are the qualifications for a representative?

What are the qualifications for a senator?

Mrs. Urschel showed a few color slides taken recently in upper Michigan showing the lovely fall colors of the leaves.

RECOVERING

Mrs. Agnes Baker is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Witham at Atwood after recently undergoing an operation for the removal of a cataract from her eye. She is recovering nicely.

Accepted For Medical College

Charles Urschel, son of Dr. and Mrs. Dan L. Urschel, who is presently in his senior year at Carleton College in Northfield, Minn., has been notified of his acceptance to Medical School at the University of Chicago for the autumn quarter, 1957. Charles and his father will thus be alumni of the same institution, as Dr. Urschel graduated from Rush Medical College of the University of Chicago in the Class of 1935.

During his school career, Charles has majored in chemistry and zoology, maintaining an Honors Record in the top 10% of his class throughout this time. He has been active in photography, having served as photography editor of the school annual during his freshman year, and during the past 12 months has been engaged in the production of publicity movies for the college. Sharing his father's interest in aviation, he has a Commercial license, with ratings for both land and seaplanes, and is at present the president of the Carleton Flying Club. He has been a member of the Carleton Choir throughout his college life, and played trombone in the College Band during his freshman year.

Charles has no definite plans for specialization following medical school, but is currently engaged in a research project to determine the effect of certain types of surgery on diabetes in animals.

During the past two summers, he has been sailing master at Y. M. C. A. Camp Manitowish in Northern Wisconsin, and plans to continue this work during vacation periods.

Buy Meat-Type Boar

Some tips on buying a meat-type boar have been offered hog producers by Richard Hollandbeck, Purdue University swine specialist.

A meat-type boar will sire market hogs that grade high "on-foot" and yield a better value to the consumer, the specialist asserts.

Here are some things to look for in a good boar: Satisfactory length, not too extreme but longer than the market barrows a farmer expects to sire from the average sow herd. A good topline, trim underline, uniform width from front to rear, a well-sprung rib and width in his chest. Rugged bone, not coarse, and sound feet and legs set with one on each corner so he walks away straight with no "joint" in his back.

Commercial breeders needn't worry too much about breed, color, head and ear, according to Hollandbeck. It is well for a buyer to remember that a boar does not look masculine with a long, thin neck and narrow head. Buy a boar that looks like a "he" boar.

If possible, a hog producer should buy a boar from a certified and uniformly good litter. Back-fat and growth data on the balance of the litter and on other pigs from the same sire will help in the selection as will the feed conversion records.

Borers May Damage Trees

If you are a homeowner who has had trouble with borers attacking transplanted trees, Don Schuder, Purdue University research entomologist, has some tips which may prove helpful.

Schuder says it's a case of an "ounce of prevention being worth a pound of cure." Proper treatment, selection and transplanting of a tree will prevent subsequent trouble.

Some tree species such as white birch and the European mountain ash are almost certain to succumb to borer attack within a few years. Such trees should not be purchased unless the buyer realizes he will need to keep them sprayed annually to prevent their being killed by borer infestation.

It would be much safer, the specialist asserts, to select such trees as sweet gum, thornless honey locusts, sugar maple or pin oak, which usually are less susceptible to borers.

When the species of trees has been selected, choose a tree that is fully branched, straight-trunked, and growing vigorously. Beware of trees which have a small ball of earth, or from which the leaves have fallen prematurely. It is safer to buy a tree from a local nursery where it will be dug and planted almost at once. "Shipped in" trees may have been dug for several weeks.

When a tree is transplanted, the trunk should be wrapped with strips of burlap or special borer paper available from local nurserymen or hardware dealers. The wrapping should be applied spirally from the soil line to the lower branches and secured with twine. Such a covering will prevent sunscald and subsequent borer attack.

The tree wrapping should be left on at least until the second summer after planting. It is a good idea to check the twine holding the wrapping several times a year—it may become too tight as the trees grow and expand.

Check Farm Ditches Now

Farm drainage systems must be kept in good condition if they are to do an efficient job, Don Sisson, Purdue University extension agricultural engineer, has reminded Hoosier farmers.

If drainage systems get in poor condition, the damage to land and crops from one hard rain may be greater than the cost of a good drainage system. Maintenance of drainage systems is important in Indiana since more than 50 per cent of the farm land has some artificial drainage.

Sisson says October or November is a good time for a farmer to inspect his entire drainage system. Needed repairs can, thus, be made before fall and winter rains.

When the inspection is made the farmer should be on the lookout for shoals, bars and other obstructions in open ditches. All brush should be cleared, followed with a chemical spray program next year. Sisson adds that a brush filled ditch may be only half as efficient as a clean, open ditch. Banks, berms and inside slopes of ditches should be seeded to grass.

Open ditches should be pastured by cattle only when the banks are not wet and muddy. All stock should be kept out after a period of heavy rain or freezing weather. Hogs should be kept out at all times.

Farmers should watch for erosion on banks where surface water enters. A concrete structure or grass chute should be considered to solve such an erosion problem.

Where fences cross open ditches, free swinging water gates are needed so that trash will not accumulate and clog the ditch.

When open ditches need a general "clean-out", the cooperation of all farmers in the drainage area of the ditch may be needed. Each landowner in the watershed needs to recognize his own responsibility.

9961 '21 '100

Saddle Club Trail Ride

The Tippecanoe Saddle Club will have a trail ride at the Bill Byerline farm October 21st. Basket dinner at 12:30 DST. Watch for trail ride signs on route 110 west of 31.

A western band will play afternoon and evening.

Mouse damage to orchard trees was noticeable last winter and indications point to an even more acute situation this coming winter, say entomologists at Purdue University. Now is the time to bait orchards to control these pests before they can cause damage and to hit them at a period when young are not being produced to replace those killed. Use zinc phosphite-treated apple baits or strychnine poisoned oats.

Encouragement Given To Farmers At Outlook Meeting

"Net income of U. S. farmers in 1957 is expected to be 5 to 10 per cent above 1956 with most of the increase coming from larger government payments."

That is what Lester Arnold, Purdue University agricultural economist, told farmers in Warsaw Tuesday night of last week. The meeting was one of 79 economic outlook meetings being held throughout Indiana from October 8 to 18.

"Demand for farm products is expected to continue strong and prices received by U. S. farmers will strengthen moderately. However, prices paid by farmers will rise also with the parity ratio for 1957 averaging near 83, about the same as for the first eight months of 1956," Arnold said.

Prices of machinery, building and fencing materials and farm supplies are expected to be higher than average 1956 prices. Total farm production costs will be about three to five per cent higher in the year ahead. Fertilizer prices, feed prices and perhaps used farm machinery prices are expected to remain stable as compared to last year.

Mr. Arnold forecasts hog prices to average $2 to $3 above the past year, which should result in a hog-corn feeding ratio of near or slightly below average.

The Purdue economist looks for the price of corn to average near $1.25 a bushel, with the 1956 harvest time price, No. 2 basis, $1.05 to $1.15. Oats and barley prices are likely to average slightly higher than last year, but soybeans will probably not average much above the loan rate of $2.15. The price of wheat is predicted to average near the $2 loan rate.

No significant changes in price levels for beef cattle are seen for the coming year except as supplies of highly finished fed cattle are reduced next year.

Lamb prices are expected to be slightly higher than last year.

For local dairymen Arnold said prices for dairy products will remain the same or slightly higher in the year ahead but will be strongly influenced by support levels.

Poultry and egg prices are expected to average below a year ago for the first six months of 1957.

Farm land prices in Indiana are expected to change little from current levels during the next year or two.

No relief is expected for family living costs. Goods and services will be available in adequate supply but at prices somewhat higher than in 1956.

Poorly managed pastures at this season of the year tend to reduce the daily milk production, say Purdue University dairymen.

This is likely to get fall freshened cows off to a poor start in the lactation. Feeding of a few pounds of hay daily will supplement poor pasture and reduce the daily grain allowance which otherwise is required.

CHRISTMAS MAIL FOR ARMED FORCES OVERSEAS

The period Oct. 15 to Nov. 15 has again been designated for the acceptance of Christmas parcels for members of our Armed Forces serving outside the continental United States. The following instructions have therefore been issued with the view of assuring delivery of the gift parcels on time and in good condition: Patrons are advised that military personnel are well supplied with food and that parcels containing foodstuffs subject to spoilage and breakage in transit are likely to reach overseas destinations unfit for use. The term "Armed Forces overseas" includes personnel of the Armed Forces, members of their families and authorized U. S. civilians employed overseas who receive their mail through an APO, FPO or NPO office.

Parcels mailed prior to Nov. 15 should reach their destination before Christmas. No assurance is given that parcels mailed after Nov. 15, or air parcel post after Dec. 1, will be delivered in time for Christmas. Air transportation cannot be assured due to the fact that medical and military supplies have priority on the overseas airlift. After arriving in the foreign area regular transportation facilities may not permit immediate delivery.

Air parcel post is limited in size to 30 inches in length and girth combined and 2 lbs. in weight. Other restrictions and limitations make it advisable to check with your postmaster before packing your parcel.

Boxes or packages must be packaged to withstand rough handling without breakage to the parcel or contents.

Addresses must be legible and prepared in typewriting or ink. If a label is used, it is advisable to also address the parcel on the wrapping. Also enclose a slip with the name and address of both the sender and the one to whom it is being sent. Frequently labels or outside addresses lose off or are mutilated.

Greeting cards for Christmas should be sent prior to Nov. 15, and air mail prior to Dec. 1.

Patrons are advised to use postal money orders for the transmittal of money to members of the Armed Forces outside the U.S.

Other members present were: Mrs. Forrest Miner, Miss Barbara King, Mrs. Cecil Long, Mrs. Jack Pritchard, Mrs. Mott Bryan, Mrs. Harold Utter, Mrs. William Hudson, Jr., and Mrs. Paul Quinn.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Stiffler spent Sunday evening at the Rhoda Jones home.

THANK YOU

Thank you friends and neighbors for the cards, flowers and visits while I was in the hospital, and a special "thank you" to Rev. Persons and Rev. Olson and to the Methodist church for the flower and plant.

Don't Burn Soybean Straw

Field burning of soybean straw and residues is a sure way to further deplete the soil of valuable fertility and organic matter, say Purdue University agronomists.

The agronomists say a continuation of this practice increases the expense for needed additional fertilizer and other crop residues or manure that can replace such losses. If extra fertilizer is not used, yields will decline seriously, say the agronomists.

Burning of the straw destroys all the nitrogen present. Since the bean straw is usually windrowed before being burned, the loss of phosphate and potash on all but the windrowed acres amounts to several dollars per acre.

There is the additional loss of the organic matter, valued as a mulch and as an aid for improving the soil tilth and water-holding capacity.

The value of soybean straw in increased crop production has been determined in soil fertility studies at Purdue. Crop residues, as returned in a rotation of corn, soybeans, wheat and clover, were found to have an average value of more than $8 per ton.

Under the prevailing practice of growing soybeans in rows, the amount of soybean straw is less than when beans are drilled solid. By using the tandem disc on the stubble and residues after combining, most farmers have very little trouble with the straw when drilling wheat.

Losses that can be expected from burning soybean straw should serve as an incentive for farmers to stay away from this practice.

Another Hazard Of Winter

Carbon monoxide, the motorist's deadly enemy, is a sneaking killer that strikes more often in cold weather, warns the Chicago Motor Club.

Even small doses of the lethal gas are sufficient to slow drivers' reactions enough to cause accidents, says the Motor Club. One part of carbon monoxide in 700 parts of air can be fatal, and one part in 1,700 parts of air can cause nausea. Because carbon monoxide is colorless, odorless and tasteless, it cannot be detected by the senses.

But there are danger signals to warn the motorist. While you are in an automobile, any drowsiness, headache or nausea should be heeded as warnings. Other symptoms are delayed braking reaction, faulty coordination and poor vision. When any of these reactions are noted, all occupants should get out of the car immediately, walk and inhale deep breaths of fresh air.

Carbon monoxide is produced by imperfectly burned motor fuel, and usually consists of about 7 per cent of the exhaust gases. An excess may be produced by faulty engine adjustment, but even the best adjusted engine may leak enough carbon monoxide to be fatal. The chief danger points are faulty gaskets, defective exhaust systems and clogged tail pipes.

You may be overcome by carbon monoxide without warning. To reduce this danger, Chas. M. Hayes, president of the Motor Club recommends the following precautions:

—Never run a motor in a closed garage or other unventilated enclosure.

—Always keep a car window open to assure air circulation.

—If you are sitting in a parked car for more than a minute or two, shut off the motor.

—Check your engine for proper combustion.

—Check all points of the exhaust system for leaks and stoppages.

—If you back into a snow bank, make sure the exhaust pipe isn't clogged.

—Get out of the car immediately at any of these danger signs: dizziness, headache, nausea, slowed brake reaction, reduced coordination, decreased vision.

The Kitchen Band from Tippecanoe, consisting of Mrs. Jake Yantiss, Mrs. Harry Blocker, Mrs. William Heck and Mrs. Lee Mullins, rendered several selections and Mrs. Vance Johns gave two readings entitled, "Richard's Practicing" and "I'm Engaged".

Mrs. Fred Lemler showed slides from Yellowstone park and various other places in the west, and Mrs. Rans and Mrs. Hill played a piano duet.

Delicious refreshments were served by the committee to the forty-three guests, members and five children present.

Baptist Church News

Mrs. Everett Rathfon, Mrs. Elmer Newberg, Pastor and Mrs. Irwin Olson attended the sessions of the National Sunday School Convention in Moody Memorial Church in Chicago on Friday, October 12th. Mrs. Rathfon and Mrs. Newberg are department superintendents in the Primary and Junior Departments at First Baptist.

A delightful musical treat was provided for the congregation at the evening service and singspiration on Sunday evening, as Youth Director Eddie Smith brought with him to the services the Freshman Quartet from the Grace College in Winona Lake. They inspired and entertained everyone with their beautiful rendering of the old gospel songs.

"An Expose of the Cults" will be the subject of a new series of messages which Pastor Olson will be introducing this Sunday evening. In the series of messages Pastor Olson will, from the Scriptures, point out the doctrinal errors of some of the well known religious cults and also present the truth of God's Word concerning the Doctrines in question. We trust that this will be both an interesting and informative series of messages.

Trick or Treat

For All the World's Children
For the fourth consecutive year you will be hearing, "Trick or Treat for all the world's children" when your doorbell rings on Friday evening, October 26. Each year our collections for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund have increased and we are grateful to those people, both youngsters and adults, in our community who have contributed to the program of UNICEF. Again this year we are inviting all the children of the community to join together in collecting money for UNICEF neighbors and friends for them instead of asking for a treat from selves.

Last year the children in 6,000 communities participated. Children from the forty-eight states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, Cuba, and the Canal Zone took part in collecting $520,000 for the fund.

Milk and medicines were sent to the sick and hungry children of ninety countries from the Hal-low'en collections, last year. Over 5,000,000 children had milk to drink every day from shipments of the UNICEF fund.

To Show New Chevrolet Here

Fuel injection and a new triple-turbine automatic transmission will make their debut on the 1957 Chevrolets.

The Chevrolet Motor Division announces that fuel injection, will be introduced on the Corvair engine, a lively new V8 of 243-horsepower that is to be available as an option throughout the line of Chevrolet passenger cars. Also unveiled for the first time is the new transmission, known as the Turboglide.

The 1957 Chevrolets go on display at the Boardman Chevrolet in Mentone Friday, October 19. In addition to the trail-blazing Ramjet fuel injection and the new transmission, the latest models present a multitude of other styling and performance features that promise greater owner satisfaction than ever before.

Fuel injection, a long-time objective of American automotive engineers in their quest for ideal flexibility in performance, replaces the customary carburetor. Because of quicker power response and faster warm-up, it is expected to gain almost universal adoption within a very few years. Chevrolet pioneers the device in its field and will be one of the few makes, regardless of price, to offer the advance on engines this year.

The Turboglide transmission is a Chevrolet exclusive. It carries the principle of torque conversion—first introduced in Chevrolet's Powerglide in 1950—to a new peak in efficiency. The triple-turbine—with infinitely variable ratio characteristics—produces an uninterrupted driving force at all speeds. There is no feeling of "shift."

Turboglide incorporates an unusual hill retarder, one of many new safe-driving improvements on the latest Chevrolets. The retarder aids braking on steep downgrades. With larger glass area, surer traction, stronger frames and a re-design of steering wheel and instrument panel to reduce possible injuries on abrupt stops, the cars set new standards of safety.

In eye-appearance the 1957 Chevrolets differ strikingly from 1956 models. While two and one-half inches have been added to overall lengths, the horizontal sweep of new styling motif gives the impression that the car is even longer than its 200 inches. All bodies are lower, with a reduction of an inch and a half in height of the cowl and substantially increased windshield areas.

War Mothers Meet at Winona

Monday evening, October 8th, the Mothers of World War II, Mentone Unit 106, met in the Westminster Hotel, Winona Lake, for their thirteenth anniversary meeting. Twenty members and three guests enjoyed a most delicious smorgasbord dinner.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Myrtle Davis. The meeting was opened by pledging allegiance to the flag and singing one verse of our National Anthem, which was followed by prayer by the chaplain. The president then introduced and welcomed the guests, Mrs. Gladys Boyer of Onward Unit 131, the district president; Mrs. Louise Harden of Logansport Unit 18, a past district president, and Mrs. Gail Hart of Hudson, Indiana. The recording and financial secretary's reports were read and accepted; also the treasurer's report. All bills were allowed. Mrs. Wagner thanked the unit for cards, visits and prayers for and in her behalf while sick. The nominating committee was appointed as follows: Lavera Horn, Ethel Whetstone and Blanche Whitmyer. They are to report at the November meeting. Enjoyable talks were given by the visitors. They stressed the need of our help in making life more pleasant for the veterans in our hospitals as some seem to be forgotten by loved ones and friends. These boys and girls have given their all that we might enjoy life. Why should they be forgotten? Let's rally to the task of making them as happy as we are.

The meeting was closed by repeating the Mothers Creed in unison, prayer by the chaplain and joining hands and singing "Blest Be The Tie."

The November meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Davis.

Those attending were Dora

Norris, Bertha Meredith, Emma Cook, Sadie Ellsworth, Maude Romine, Rhoda Jones, Jane Jeffries, Edith Young, Edith Scott, Elenora Coplen, Belle Morrison, Flossum Newell, Miriam Shinn, Dora Whetstone, Ellen Stanford, Blanche Whitmyer, Lavera Horn, Myrtle Davis, Ethel Whetstone, Ethel Wagner and guests, Gladys Boyer, Louise Harden and Gail Hart.

Lawrence Bell Dies Suddenly

Lawrence D. Bell, founder and board chairman of the Bell Aircraft Corp., Buffalo, N. Y., which produced the world's fastest and highest flying airplane, died Saturday at the age of 62. Bell was a native of Mentone.

Mr. Bell had been in ill health since last May. He entered Buffalo General Hospital eight days previous. Death was attributed to a heart ailment.

"Larry," as he was better known at Mentone and vicinity, was considered the dean of the nation's aircraft executives. He founded the company at Buffalo in 1935 and served as president until last September, when Les-ton P. Paneuf succeeded him.

Bell Aircraft developed and built the rocket plane, X-2, which reportedly flew 2,200 miles an hour, or three times the speed of sound, minutes before it crashed last month. Earlier the X-2 had set an altitude record of 126,000 feet.

The company also produced the first plane to crack the sound barrier, the first jet plane, the first commercial helicopter and the first jet plane to take off and land vertically (VTOL).

Bell was born in Mentone on April 5, 1894. His first job in aviation was as a mechanic for two exhibition pilots when he was 18. Two years later he was employed at Glen L. Martin's factory and at 20 years of age was appointed superintendent. In 1917 Mr. Bell moved to another Martin plant in Cleveland, Ohio. In 1928 Bell went to Buffalo with Consolidated Aircraft Corporation, and as this firm moved to the west coast Bell then organized his own firm.

Mr. Bell was selected to give the dedication address for the new Mentone school unit two years ago and a year later was here to dedicate a new school library which was established by the Bell Foundation.

School Holds Memorial Service
Tuesday morning a memorial service was held at the Mentone school for Mr. Bell. Dale Kelley gave an address on the life of the noted man.

It is reported also that the private model plane collection of Mr. Bell's is to be presented to the Mentone school.

Home Service Appeal Starts

The annual Home Service Appeal throughout Kosciusko Co., for funds for the support of the work of The Salvation Army takes place this year from October 23 to November 10. Attorney George M. Bowser of Warsaw is the General Chairman, and the goal is $7500.00.

Mrs. Mott O. Bryan is serving as chairman for Harrison Township again this year, and Raymond Lash is doing likewise in Franklin, and each of them have a number of workers assisting them. During the 3 weeks of the campaign, the Salvation Army solicitor who visits Mentone every Saturday, will not come here; so those who have been in the habit of giving to her can make their contribution to the Home Service solicitor. Captain and Mrs. Floyd Root, the new officers in charge of the work in this county, will be glad to do their best to help in any emergency anywhere in the county, be the need along spiritual or material lines. Over three hundred meetings were held last year in the interest of children and youth, and over two hundred for adults. More than seven thousand garments and pairs of shoes were given to the needy during the past year; also furniture, groceries, fuel, and other aids. Transients were also helped with clothes, lodging and meals. Funds are being raised at this time to help carry on this work for another year.

SHOPPING ISSUE
NEXT WEEK

Another issue of the "Mentone Shopper" is scheduled to be put in the mails next Tuesday. Advertisers are urged to get advertising copy into the office of the Country Print Shop Friday or Saturday. At least make space reservation.

This monthly issue is printed as a special service to the merchants of Mentone, and the co-operation of all advertisers and the careful consideration of all readers and patrons is appreciated.

Mrs. Adam Poe was released from the Murphy Medical Center at Warsaw today.

Mrs. Richard Dickerhoff is at her home at Mentone after receiving medical treatment at the McDonald hospital.

Cub Scouts Receive Awards

Cub Pack No. 58 held its monthly meeting Friday night at the Methodist church with approximately 70 persons present.

Den 1 opened the meeting with the flag ceremony.

Cub master Frank Nellans introduced the parents of all the new cub scouts. Mr. and Mrs. Zanna Hammer, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Thornton and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Parker.

Then Den 1 and 4 put on skits which were based on the theme of the month "Puppets."

Den 2 presented an Indian ceremony for awards with the help of the Cub Master and Scout Master Wayne Tombaugh. The following awards were given:

Steven Lewis, Wolf badge and Gold Arrow; Douglas Haney, Bear Badge; Stephen Nelson and James Whetstone, Silver Arrows. Webelos badges were presented to Melvin Cooper, James Keirn, Lyle Long, Gale Nellans, Steven Shirey and David Teel.

Mr. Tombaugh gave a talk and described his Indian suit and head dress.

The meeting was closed with Den 2 singing Taps and saying the scout prayer.

CHRISTMAS PACKAGES FOR FOREIGN COUNTRIES

For reasonably sure delivery of Christmas parcels to foreign countries, the postmaster suggests the following schedule be observed:

To Africa and the Near East, not later than Nov. 1.

To South and Central America and Europe, not later than Nov. 10.

Due to the restrictions on what can be mailed to various countries and the type and number of customs forms required, it is suggested that patrons make inquiry at the post office in advance of packaging and mailing.

DIVORCE GRANTED

Domnagene M. McKinney has been granted a divorce from Neil B. McKinney, in circuit court. She was also given permission to resume her maiden name of Dillman. Title to a house trailer and auto were awarded the defendant.

Bonita Nellans entered the Woodlawn hospital at Rochester today. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Nellans.

Production Up For Dairymen

Dairymen should receive a satisfactory income per cow until the end of 1956 if two requirements are met, says G. A. Williams, Purdue University extension dairyman.

First, maintain the increased production that was recorded in the first half of 1956. Second, have available abundant supplies of high quality roughages, Williams says.

Records from Dairy Herd Improvement Associations reveal that milk production per cow per month for the first six months of 1956 averaged 53 pounds more per cow than the five-year average from 1950-54. If dairymen can maintain this increase, half the battle is won, the specialist asserts.

Although feed cost per cow for the same period was down $1.53 and income above cost of feed exceeded the five-year average by 91 cents per cow, winter feed costs can be expected to increase each month from October to December. Therefore, it is important that dairy farmers have adequate supplies of high quality roughage. Cows consume larger amounts of high quality roughage (hay and silage) than if the quality is inferior. This reduces the consumption of grain needed, and the forage that is consumed supplies more digestible nutrients per unit.

Williams suggests feeding 4 to 6 pounds of grass silage and 1 to 1½ pounds of hay for each 100 pounds of live weight. This ration eliminates the need for protein supplement, and should include only a mixture of ground oats and corn. Each one pound of grain mixture fed daily should produce 3 to 5 or even 6 pounds of milk. One pound of salt and 2 pounds of steamed bone meal for each 100 pounds of the grain mix will provide the necessary minerals.

knowledge that Communism is a flop—it would also mean his own liquidation. The prospects for full Russian stomachs are indeed dim.

Fall plowing is a good farm practice where the land is level and erosion is not a problem, say Purdue University agronomists. Plowing should be done as late as possible to reduce nitrification and the resulting loss of nitrogen which may take place through leaching.

The Russian Way

In 1917 an oppressed Russian people rebelled against the Czar. They were "fed up" with the tyranny of the Russian rulers. What has transpired since then would seem to indicate that they jumped from the frying pan into the fire—opened the door to tyrants far worse than any Czar had ever dared to be.

Nor can it be said that they improved their economic lot by swapping one set of dictators for another. In fact, the living standard of the Russian masses is lower today than prior to the revolt against the Czarist regime. For instance, the totals of cattle, hogs and sheep in Russia are below those of 1917, with more Russian mouths to feed today than in that year.

Through collectives and state farms the "red" leaders have tried to boost food production. Under compulsion, Russia still needs 57 farmers to feed 43 city folks. Just contrast that with the U.S.A. where it requires only 18 free farmers to produce enough food for 82 people.

Nikita Khrushchev, in his infrequent sober moments, is trying to rectify the situation. He has promised the Russian people more food. He will not be able to make good on that promise unless he abandons the present "Russian way" of totalitarian control of agriculture. There is little likelihood of his doing so, because that would be an ac-

SOIL TESTING

Those who wish to have their soil tested call Mentone 3-2705

Take Soil Samples Now

Soil samples taken now while the soil is in good shape will help farmers plan their 1957 fertilization program.

R. D. Bronson, Purdue University agronomist, has reported.

Early reports will permit the farmer to plan limestone applications for fall, consult the county agent on the best fertilizer program, shop around for the best price of fertilizer, get discount for early delivery of fertilizer, and help insure that the right analysis is obtained.

A farmer should plan ahead for sampling, the Purdue specialist believes. He suggests that the field layout be sketched and that soil-type boundaries be determined as well as what areas to sample as a unit.

If soil samples of the entire farm are taken at once, a better overall picture of the farm fertility status is given.

Any Indiana farmer can submit soil samples to Purdue for testing. A service charge of 50 cents per sample is required to cover costs. After the soil has been tested at Purdue, a copy of the test results and recommendations will be sent to the farmer as well as to the county agent who can give advice for individual farm needs.

Local facilities for soil testing are also available.

75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children under twelve years of age. This does not include the age of twelve. Tickets will be sold at the supper, so everyone is welcome.

We are going to have a Hal-lowe'en party. It is just for the High School students. We are going to have a scavenger hunt and a fun house. The Juniors will serve the refreshments.

Members of the paper staff are: Editor, Karen Miller; Assistant Editor, Monte Sriver; Circulation, Deloris Reed; News, Ted Stavedahl and Catherine Hisey; Chatter, David Busenburg and Mitzie Meredith; Sports, Ronnie Jones and Steve Coplen; Mimeograph, Robert Jordon and Nettie Wagoner; and Staplers, Jerry Duzan and Larry Simpson.

Don't be in a hurry to close the laying house windows even if the first frost has occurred, say poultrymen at Purdue University. The end and rear windows can be closed to prevent drafts, but the front windows should be kept open until it gets cold enough to freeze water inside the house.

Children's Pictures Taken Free and Published In The News

It is an undisputed fact that the responsibilities of tomorrow's world, our Nation, and Community will rest upon the shoulders of the children of today. Since this is true, the publishers of this newspaper would like to give you a good look at these future "World Builders."

The only way we can do this is by publishing pictures of them in a feature series.* To assure the latest and best reproduction pictures . . . they must all be of uniform size and quality . . . we have invited the Woltz Studios of Des Moines, Iowa, a nationally known portrait studio, to take these special pictures for us.

An expert children's photographer for the Studios with all the necessary equipment for this specialized work, will be here, Tuesday, November 6. Pictures will be taken at the Legion Hall and will be open from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

No Charge to Parents

There is no charge to the parents. There are absolutely no strings to this invitation. It is bonafide in every sense of the word. Parents do not have to be subscribers, nor even readers of this newspaper to take advantage of this feature. Neither are they obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those who want some additional prints may obtain a limited number by arrangement with the Studio representative when they select the pose they want printed in the paper.

It is entirely up to them.
The More Pictures the Better
The News simply wants pictures of all the youngsters and the more, the better. So the Mothers and Fathers of the community in which this paper circulates should remember the date, November 6, at the Legion Hall and not fail to bring their children to the photographer.

You will be mighty glad, afterwards, if you did, and very very sorry if you do not permit your children to participate in this event. The kiddies will have much fun and both Mother and Dad—and the youngsters, too—will be very proud to see their pictures in print later.

Appointments may be made by calling Mrs. Kenneth Romine, phone 3-3805.

Corn Harvest Hampered

Harvest of a record Indiana corn crop is being hampered by a severe fall drought.

A Purdue University extension agricultural engineer, Les Hill, has offered some suggestions to help farmers combat picker losses due to dry corn stalk conditions.

Hill said operator reports indicate that the minimum difficulties will be encountered only by alert observation of the snapping rolls and adjustment of the action of the rolls.

Rolls spaced too close is the most common fault found by operators, Hill said. If stalks are being broken off at about the third or fourth node, a wider spacing of the rolls should be tried. Long pieces of stalk—four to six feet—become lodged over the snapping rolls or in the elevator and cause trouble.

Broken stalks of any length are hard to eject from the rolls and cause more shelling of the ears. The broken stalks keep the ears in contact with the turning rolls for a longer period of time, the specialist explained.

Wider roll spacing decreases the "shock" to the stalk when it is first grasped by the rolls and will reduce breakage. A further reduction in breakage will result since wider spacing of the rolls will not crush the stalks as much as a narrow spacing.

Some farmers, no doubt, will not reduce stalk breakage if they try a wider snapping roll spacing. If breakage is still severe, the operator should check the roll time as outlined by the manufacturer. Rolls which are out of time will pinch and break an excessive number of stalks.

Operators should also take into account the forward rate of travel of the picker with relation to the speed of the gathering chains. The best speed relationship will be when stalks are taken through the rolls without being bent forward or backward.

Shelled and ear corn losses should be checked before and after adjustments and speed changes are made. To determine shelled corn losses, the number of kernels in a 40 inch square should be counted. Each 20 kernels will mean a bushel loss per acre. Each ear left in 133 feet of row will represent one bushel loss per acre. Changes in picker adjustment and operation should be made on the basis of this survey, Hill concludes.

Trick or TreatFor all the World's Children

Did you know . . .

. . . that on the island of Lombok in Indonesia there are only 5 doctors for 2,000,000 people. In the United States there is a doctor for each 770 persons.

. . . that East Pakistan has only 270 trained nurses to serve a population of 45 million. The United States has 244 graduate nurses per 100,000 population.

. . . that before UNICEF help, 77 of 100 children in the Himalayan Terai of India had malaria. Today only 3 out of 100 are affected—a drop of 96 per cent.

. . . that in West Punjab half the deaths are among children under 10 years of age.

. . . that more than half the children in the world will go to bed hungry tonight.

. . . that by the end of 1956, UNICEF will have shipped over 790 million pounds of dried milk. . . that because of new dried buffalo milk plants erected through UNICEF aid, milk consumption in one area in the State of Bombay has risen 300 per cent. . . that Spurgeon Keeny, UNICEF regional director for Asia, has said that Asia is not only sick because it is poor, but it is poor because it is sick.

. . . that UNICEF selects programs which have permanent impact on nutrition standards and health habits.

If you want a chance to help in aiding these areas, be saving your coins. For on Friday evening, October 26, witches, goblins, etc. will knock at your door extending a milk carton to accept your aid.

They will be asking, "Trick or Treat for All the World's Children," instead of for themselves. Perhaps they won't be thinking of themselves as missionaries but they will be.

Cobs For Bred Gilts

An experiment conducted by Purdue University animal husbandmen has shown that ground corn cobs are a cheaper source of fiber to regulate feed intake when bred gilts are self-fed than is alfalfa meal.

And, J. H. Conrad and W. M. Beeson, Purdue swine nutrition specialists, say this is true whether total feed costs during gestation or net feed costs per pig at farrowing time are compared.

In the Purdue experiment, a comparison was also made of hand-feeding and self-feeding bred gilts. Hand-feeding resulted in 30-34 per cent lower feed costs per gilt than self-feeding. The net feed cost per pig at farrowing time was from 30-37 per cent lower for the gilts that were hand-fed than those that were self-fed. However, the self-fed gilts farrowed more pigs per litter and weaned more pigs per litter than hand-fed gilts.

Previous research has shown that 15 per cent alfalfa meal was needed in a hand-fed gestation rate. In this experiment, there was little difference between reproductive performance or rate of gain when self-fed gilts were fed 5 to 15 per cent of alfalfa meal.

From this experiment, the specialists concluded that 5 per cent of alfalfa meal is an adequate level to feed in a self-fed ration, since a hog consuming 10 pounds daily of a ration containing 5 per cent alfalfa meal will receive one-half pound of alfalfa meal daily. From a nutritional viewpoint, there appears to be no advantage to adding more than 15 per cent alfalfa meal to their hand-fed or self-fed rations.

Based on previous research at Prudue, a ration of 35 percent ground corn cobs, 42 percent ground corn, five per cent alfalfa meal, 5 per cent molasses and 6 per cent each of soybean meal and meat and bone scraps adequately fortified with minerals and vitamins is a good one for self-feeding bred gilts.

Additional details can be obtained by writing to the agricultural publications office at Purdue for mimeo A. H. 181, "Comparison of Ground Corn Cobs and Alfalfa Meal for Self-Feeding Bred Gilts."

Dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Earl Meredith Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Meredith and daughter Marcia and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blesch of Akron.

Fall Plowing-Fertilization

A Purdue University extension agronomist, R. K. Stivers, has come up with some timely information for farmers who plan to plow under fertilizer this fall.

Stiver says ammonium forms of nitrogen may be safely plowed under on poorly drained silt loams and heavier textured soils if done after the soil becomes cold in late fall. Thus, the agronomist recommends that this plowing be done after November

1 in northern Indiana and November 15 in southern Indiana.

Nitrate nitrogen is very likely to be lost by leaching if plowed under in the fall. Phosphate and potash may be plowed under in the fall without danger of loss where erosion is not a problem, Stivers adds.

The specialist explained that nitrogen in some forms is not held tightly in the soil like phosphate and potash. Nitrate forms of nitrogen are particularly liable to loss by leaching of water through the soil. In Indiana, nitrate nitrogen should not be plowed under in the fall because of the probability that some or all of it will be lost by leaching before the corn can use it the next summer.

Ordinarily, nitrogen should not be plowed under on well drained sands, sandy loams, or loams in the fall. On these soils, the ammonia is rapidly converted to the nitrate forms of nitrogen and is likely to be lost during the winter or spring.

Ammonium forms of nitrogen are held tightly on very fine clay and organic matter and are not subject to loss by leaching while in such forms. Silt loams, clay loams, and clays are able to hold the ammonium forms of nitrogen better. However, ammonium forms of nitrogen are oxidized slowly when the soil temperature rises above 40 degrees and quite rapidly after 60 degrees. After this chemical change the nitrates are easily lost by leaching after heavy rains.

Poorly drained soils do not warm up rapidly, water does not percolate through them readily, and often they do not have enough available oxygen for a rapid conversion of ammonium to nitrate nitrogen. Thus, when ammonium forms or nitrogen are plowed under on poorly drained silt loams and on heavier textured soils it should be done after the soil becomes cold in the fall.

Stivers says factors other than temperature and drainage affect the speed of the chemical change of ammonium to nitrate forms of nitrogen in the soil. Acid soils have a slower rate than neutral soils. Carbonaceous materials such as corn stalks or wheat straw in the soil reduce the rate. In addition, too little as well as too much moisture in the soil will slow down the process of nitrification.

Agricultural engineers at Purdue University suggest that the thrust bearings of the corn picker snapping roll be replaced when they become worn to reduce the shelled corn loss at the rolls.

To maintain high milk production during fall and early winter, many dairy farmers have increased the number of cows freshening at this time of year. Dairymen at Purdue University report that this means many young dairy calves must be cared for at this time of year. As soon as each heifer calf is weaned, she should be supplied with all the early-cut, well-cured hay she will eat. Feed one pound of grain for every two pounds of hay the calf will eat.

Cattle Can Have Worms

Lafayette, Ind. — A Purdue University extension veterinarian has revealed that worm infestation in cattle may be greater than most farmers realize.

According to Dr. F. A. Hall, many farmers are surprised to find that cattle do have worms. However, the majority of cattle in Indiana probably harbor some stomach worms, the specialist said.

It is believed that cattle will withstand worm infestation to a certain extent without showing symptoms of the presence of the worms. Although no harm from worms may be visible, the cattle do a better job of feed conversion—that is make better gains—if they are free of worms.

Calves that become unthrifty, pot-bellied and anemic should be examined for the possibility of stomach worm infestation. With recent day drugs, Hall said it is possible to keep down the accumulation of large numbers of the parasites. Modern treatment will practically eradicate the worms from the animals' stomachs.

A veterinarian can determine if worms are present in the calves through a microscopic examination of the animals' droppings.

THE GENERAL WAS 4-F

The United States won its independence from Britain under the military leadership of a soldier who would have been turned down flat by the modern draft board. When George Washington took command of the Continental army in 1775, Dr. Rudolph Marx writes in American Heritage, the 43-year-old general was a man rendered hopelessly 4-F by previous attacks of smallpox, influenza, tubercular pleurisy, dysentery, malaria. Despite his sickly condition, Marx says, "we have no record that Washington was ever incapacitated all during the Revolutionary War."

W. S. C. S. Meets

"Volcanoes in Southeast Asia," was the lesson theme, Thursday evening October 18, of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, held in the Sanctuary of the Methodist Church, and was introduced by Mrs. Abbey. Mrs. Ward told of the work the Methodist Church was doing in the Island of Southeast Asia (also of their needs) which include, Formosa, the Philippines, Sarawak in Borneo, Indonesia, Malaya, and Burma. These islands are like a string of volcanoes stretched across the ocean, they being along the coast of China and swing up toward India. About 180,000,000 people live on these islands, several of which are refugees, she pointed to the great need of the churches as in some places the communists were gaining ground. Mrs. Lash spoke of the "Partnership" in suffering, of how the early church did not face severe persecution until it was about one hundred years old, then the Roman emperors tried to crush its life by the sword. She spoke of the Methodist church celebrating its centennial in China in 1948, and that a year later the communists were in power. There is much work to be done on these islands. Let us pray that we may be ready spiritually to do our part. Mrs. Bunner used the book of Philipians for her devotions. Mrs. Urschel gave a report of the group meeting which was held at North Webster on Monday, as thirteen members attended this meeting. A short business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Davison. Light refreshments were served to the 27 members and guests at the social hour by the hostesses, Mrs. Carper, Mrs. Shaffer and Mrs. Personette.

Sorority Meets

At a called meeting of the Beta Epsilon Chapter of the Psi Iota Xi Sorority the Insection Night date was changed. The meeting was held Monday, October 22, at the home of Mrs. Forrest Minner.

Pecans were distributed to the members for sale. The price this year will be $1.65 a pound.

Inspection night will be held on November 26th at Osmanor with Officers' meeting at 6:30 and dinner at 7:30 p. m.

The next meeting will be on Tuesday, November 6th at the home of Mrs. Jack Pritchard at 8:00 p. m. for regular business session. Bring constitutions.

The November social meeting will be held on the 20th with Mrs. Chester Smith hostess.

Members attending the called meeting were Miss Barbara King, Mrs. Dale Cook, Mrs. Curtis Ringer, Mrs. Kenneth Simcoe, Mrs. Iris Anderson, Mrs. Jack Pritchard, Mrs. Wm. Hudson, Jr., Mrs. Cecil Long and Mrs. Chester Smith.

The doll display will be taken to Rochester on Saturday, October 27th and to Meyer's I. G. A. store in Mentone on November 3rd.

P. T. A.Penny Supper

The Mentone P. T. A. is sponsoring a penny supper to be held in the school cafeteria November 10. The best recipes of the best cooks in Kosciusko County will be used. Our Mentone wives and mothers are already hurrying around planning the menu, soliciting food and securing help for the big night.

All profits realized will be used for a special project in our school as some need will be furnished to help further the education of our future citizens. If someone knocked at your door and asked for help to promote better education and consequently a better community would you refuse? You do have that opportunity to help. We are knocking at your door and asking you to attend the P. T. A. Penny Supper Saturday, November 10. Will you be there?

The Bill Boardmans are building a log-cabin-type home just south of the Emma Yocum home in Mentone. They plan to have the unit ready for occupancy about the first of the year.

Injured On Toll Road

Gerald Tombaugh, 45, brother of Wayne Tombaugh of Mentone, was injured in a five-car pileup on the new toll road, near Gary, one morning last week. The cars piled up during a heavy fog. Gerald is an engineer on the road and resides at Gary where he is now confined to the Mercy Hospital.

Last Saturday doctors believed he was making excellent progress toward recovery from a serious skull fracture, two broken ribs, leg lacerations and a badly bruised left side. Monday night, however, Wayne Tombaugh was informed that his brother had taken a turn for the worse and was to have more X-rays. A blood clot was found under the skull and surgery may be necessary.

The accident happened five miles out of Gary. Tombaugh, driving a station wagon, swerved to avoid a three-car pile-up and was hit from behind by a fifth car reportedly traveling at high speed.

Election Tuesday

The general election will be held throughout the Nation on Tuesday, and all registered voters are urged to go to the polls and choose the candidates they consider best qualified to handle the duties of the offices which they seek.

The ballots in Indiana will also feature a referendum on the time situation in Indiana. There will be four questions asked:

Do you favor Central Standard Time for Indiana? If so, then do you favor Daylight Saving Time? Do you favor Eastern Standard Time? And if so, do you believe Daylight Saving Time should be considered for the summer season? It has been ruled that even though your answers may conflict, all votes shall be counted.

CLAYPOOL GETTING BIGGER

Indications are that the town of Claypool is spreading out. One day this week we noticed their town limits sign hanging at the east edge of Mentone. That's taking in a lot of territory for 446 inhabitants.

(There'll be no charge to the official town of Claypool for advertising the location of their municipal signpost.

Files Large Damage Suit

A Warsaw doctor and an elderly driver from New Richmond (Montgomery county) are defendant alone in one complaint, and jointly in another with Miss Mary Hormell, 74.

Mrs. Edna R. Borton, 59, Mentone, the plaintiff, claims she was injured in a car accident where Miss Hormell was driver of one car and that Dr. Thomas treated her.

The wreck occurred October 30, 1954, at the intersection of West Winona avenue and South Columbia street in Warsaw. Mrs. Borton was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Austin.

In her suit Mrs. Borton alleges she employed Dr. Thomas on December 22, 1954 and thereafter because she had lost sight in her left eye from a blood clot affecting the optic nerve.

She charges the doctor "did not use due or proper care of skill" in trying to cure her.

The complaint continues, "the plaintiff was temporarily and permanently injured, to wit: her head was bruised, her neck injured, the vision of her left eye impaired; she suffered severe urinary tract bleeding and injury to kidneys, which were temporarily and now permanently impaired."

She alleges that Miss Hormell failed to stop for a stop sign, causing the wreck.

Son Is Born

Mr. and Mrs. Max Friesner are the parents of a son, Jack De-wayne, weighing 9 lbs. 2 oz., and born Thursday at the Murphy Medical Center in Warsaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Friesner are the paternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Clingenpeel, Warsaw, are the maternal grandparents.

TRICK OR TREAT FOR ALL THE WORLD'S CHILDREN

To those children and adults of our community, who helped carry out the plans for the UNICEF collection and party last Friday evening, we are pleased to announce the amount collected was $60.00. This increased amount is a gratifying indication of continued interest of both children and adults in UNICEF efforts to help meet the problems of sickness and hunger which plague two-thirds of the world's children. We are indeed grateful.

Mrs. Nye Dies

Mrs. Ida B. Nye, 85, who lived her entire lifetime in Fulton county, died at Woodlawn hospital at 8:45 p. m. Friday after being taken suddenly ill at her home, 4½ miles west of Akron.

Born on August 5, 1871 in Fulton county, Mrs. Nye was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Alsbaugh. On November 17, 1887, she was married to Gilbert Nye, who died in 1949.

Mrs. Nye was a grandmother of Mrs. Wayne Tombaugh of Mentone.

Winter Rose Protection

Gardeners can help prevent winter injury to their roses by taking a few precautions this fall.

Purdue University horticulturists say that winter protection should be given roses once the plants have become partly defoliated.

Soil, peat moss, straw or other material can be used to prevent deep freezing or "drying out" of the tops of the plants. If soil is used it should not be taken from around the roots of the plants but should be brought in from another area.

Some homeowners place one inch mesh chicken wire around the plants and tamp the leaf mulch or other organic material to the desired height. Next spring the wire can be removed and the mulch leveled around the plant.

All grafted and budded roses should be protected against winter injury at least 3-4 inches above the budded union. Thus, the mulch should extend at least from 4-6 inches above the ground level or union.

When tree roses are protected against winter injury, mulch should be from 5-8 inches above the tall stem.

For homeowners that raise figs Ward suggests that the fig plants be enclosed by a fence or stockade and the inner area filled with straw, covering the entire plant. A roof of some sort should be placed over the top to protect the mulch from rain or snow.

Ready Shrubs For Winter

Weather can't be controlled to prevent winter injury to evergreens and other ornamental plants but homeowners can take a few precautions to reduce the chances of damage.

Plant pathologists at Purdue University say the combination of dry summer and fall weather and low temperatures during the winter or early spring may cause damage to evergreens and other shrubs. With the severe drought over most of Indiana this fall, a start has already been made in the direction of those conditions. And, similar conditions have prevailed for the last three years.

Here are six precautions which will help to reduce the possibility of winter damage to ornamentals you've worked so hard to establish:

Select well drained soils as sites for ornamental shrubs and trees.

Soak the soil thoroughly around the trees or shrubs before freezing weather sets in. This is especially true of evergreens.

Mulches of oak-leaf mold or peat moss around the base of the trees and shrubs will increase moisture retention during the winter months.

Proper fertilization and soil aeration will not only increase root growth but tend to increase deep rooting. Shallow spading of soil around the trees in the fall when possible will improve aeration and water drainage.

Wrapping the base of young, smooth-barked trees to a height of 3-4 feet with burlap, building paper, or nursery paper will reduce the danger of winter injury from "drying out."

If winter injury does occur, remember to remove dead branches and twigs as soon as they appear early next summer. Applications of any good complete fertilizer in late March or April will help damaged trees to renew branches and twigs destroyed or damaged by winter injury.

Unless these precautions are considered, the plant pathologists say home-owners can expect serious loss to shrubs and evergreens this coming winter.

D. A. R. Meets

The Anthony Nigo Chapter D. A. R., Mentone, met the evening of October 23rd at the home of Mrs. Frank Smith with Mrs. Max Smith and Mrs. Everette Rath-fon assisting.

Regent, Mrs. Everett Rathfon, welcomed our guests and members and had the Ritualistic Service and pledge to the Flag given.

Under business we voted to give $25 to Tamassee, one of our approved schools, to be used for interior decorating of our Indiana Cottage which needs our help badly, as pointed out by Mrs. Arthur Brown who recently was a visitor there.

Ten dollars was contributed to the Cencer Fund in memory and honor of Mrs. Lulu Tucker, mother of Mrs. Ernest Igo, and the grandmother to Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. Eldred Paulus, and Mrs. Glenn Clauss, also in honor of the late Mrs. Elmer Rathfon, mother of Mrs. Arthur Brown. We deem it a privilege to thus honor them knowing that their first thought was for others and that "the grass withereth the flower fadeth" but humanitarian deeds shall stand forever.

Mrs. Miles Manwaring read The President General's message and Mrs. Bernice Rush gave excerpts from our National Defense Magazine.

Mrs. Ray Linn presented three Mentone High School Seniors, Janet Romine, June Romine, and Leah Nell Lemler. They rendered two vocal numbers, "Mighty Like A Rose" and "Now Is The Hour."

Our guest speaker was Mrs. William D. Rollison, Northern District Director from South Bend. In her very charming way she gave a very interesting and thought provoking talk outlining our D. A. R. projects, urging us to increase our Membership and asking us to protest the hiring of foreign instructors, in our public schools, who thus plant the seeds of Communism through out our land but rather to hire American born Teachers.

At the close of the Meeting we had our usual Auction thereby increasing our funds for D. A. R. activities.

The Hostess and her Committee served beautiful and delicious refreshments in keeping with the Hallowe'en Season.

Other guests present were Mrs. O. L. McFadden and Mrs. Dale Stiffler.

Mrs. Marie Ross and daughters of Warsaw called on their aunt, Mrs. Etta Halterman Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Zeth Huffer called Sunday evening at the Garrie Rose home.

Mrs. Russell Gross of South Bend and Mrs. Betsy Gross, visited Carl Gross and family at Manhattan, Kansas.

Prevent Mastitis

Dairymen are in for sizeable losses whenever mastitis affects cows in the milking line, says Dr. F. A. Hall, extension veterinarian at Purdue University.

Cattle may often show presence of mastitis germs but show no ill effects themselves. They are just as dangerous, though, since they can transmit the infection to other members of the herd through improper milking methods.

Symptoms of acute attacks in cattle are stiffness and soreness, udder infection, fever and off-character milk. Often the glands of the udder never recover from the infection.

Mastitis germs are brought in to the herd through the purchase of an infected cow. Injuries which result from accidents, short stalls, inadequate bedding or improper use of milking machines help to spread the infection.

Hall advises dairymen to pay close attention to three areas of dairy husbandry in order to prevent and control mastitis.

Good herd management—closely related to mastitis prevention—consists of proper housing, preventing injuries by removing of possible accidents, separating any cow in heat from the rest of the herd, and testing replacement cows before they are added to the milking line. An adequate dry period for rest and body maintenance should be allowed each cow.

While correct milking procedure may be a part of good management, it is so closely tied to mastitis control that it deserves special attention, Hall feels.

Cows should be milked at regular times by the same person.

Washing the udder with warm, sterile water and testing each quarter with a strip cup should precede the use of the milking machine. Healthy cows should be milked first, followed by any that may be suspected of carrying infection.

Rapid milking should be the rule, following instructions given by the milking machine company. Teat cups should not be allowed to remain on the cow longer than necessary and should be dipped in an antiseptic solution between use on each cow. The milking machine parts should be thoroughly cleaned and sterilized between milkings.

In order to discover trouble and need for treatment before damage occurs, Hall advises periodic testing of each cow. The test is inexpensive and can be performed by the local veterinarian. Modern drugs can be valuable when a competent veterinarian administers them in early stages of infection.

Fatal Fallacies

Store Garden Equipment Now

It's time to store garden tools, chemicals, and seed. W. B. Ward, Purdue University extension horticulturist, reminds Hoosier home owners.

Ward says all insecticides and fungicides should be stored in a tight container and placed in a cool dry spot. Such materials should be placed beyond the reach of children and should be labeled as a safety precaution.

Garden seed can also be stored in a cool and dry location. If weevil may be a problem, seed disinfectants should be applied.

Garden tools, such as hoes and shovels, should be cleaned, sharpened and a rust preventative applied.

New Arrivals

- 14½ Years In Private Business Office
- 8 Years Deputy County Clerk
- 4 Years County Clerk

The Clerk of the Kosciusko Circuit Court is an important and complicated office requiring both experience and willingness to work. In the past 10 years the duties of the clerk have increased three fold. The Clerk is not only the clerk of the court, but must keep the voting records and registration straight for more than 22,186 voters. The Clerk must collect and disburse support money for wives and children, must act as the clerk of the Circuit and Juvenile Court. Must keep all records of wills, proceedings in estates, guardianships, trusts, insanity and mental health records. The Clerk issues hunting and fishing licenses, marriage license. The Clerk holds bail money and does 160 or more other jobs that require accuracy in recording and accounting. If I am elected through your generous support, I will serve your interests faithfully and well.

Because of the extreme amount of work at this time in the clerk's office due to the coming election, I've not had the opportunity to meet and talk to as many people as I would like. But as clerk of the County, I deem it necessary for me to spend all of my time to serve you better.

Married Saturday At Kewanna

Miss Helen Hendrickson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hendrickson of Kewanna, and John Dennis Fitzgerald, son of Mrs. Iris Fitzgerald of Mentone, were married at St. Ann's Catholic Church at Kewanna, in a double-ring ceremony, Saturday at 10:00 a. m. Father James Fitzgerald performed the ceremony.

Betty Minneman supplied the organ music and the children's choir of St. Vincents church of Logansport sang. The altar was decorated with baskets of white lilies and palms and there were white satin bows on the pews.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Miss Emily Frulby of Rennselaer was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Sheila Fitzgerald, sister of the groom, of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, and Mrs. Barbara Ginn, cousin of the bride, Kewanna. The Junior bridesmaid was Miss Betty Jean Hendrickson, sister of the bride, also of Kewanna. The best man was Thomas Fitzgerald, brother of the groom. Ushers were Francis Hendrickson, brother of the bride, and George Fitzgerald, a brother of the groom.

A reception was held at the home of the bride from two until four in the afternoon. A wedding breakfast was held at the Ben Hur in Logansport and at 12:30 there was a dinner for the bridal party and relatives.

The bride is a graduate of the Kewanna high school and St. Margaret's School of Nursing. She is now employed at the St. Joseph hospital in Logansport. The groom graduated from the Mentone high school in 1951 and is now employed by Hinchcliff Motor Service in Chicago. After a week's trip to New Orleans, they will reside at Rochester.

Benefit Auction

A gigantic Community Auction, sponsored by the Atwood Lions Club, will be held at the Etna-Bourbon Sale Barn, Route 30, west of Etna Green, Saturday, November 3, beginning at 9:00 a. m.

Everyone is invited and should anyone have anything they wish to sell, here is an excellent opportunity to get your merchandise before a large crowd of buyers. Any commission agreeable to the owners will be set and donations have been tremendous.

Proceeds from this sale go the Lion's project to place furniture in the new grade school recently constructed in Atwood.

POSSE ON THE PROWL for the two-gun scourge of the badlands? Not at all. They are members of Plaistow, New Hampshire's unusual mounted civil defense auxiliary police. The "mounties" may never be called on to "get their man," but they could be useful in moving through New Hampshire's woods or rough country in search of a lost person, or to reach a remote settlement threatened by forest fire or other natural disaster.

Your Candidate For Judge GEORGE M. BOWSER

on the Democratic Ticket

Ask Your Lawyer

Yes, ask your lawyer about the necessary qualifications for the office of our circuit court judge. The administration of justice by our courts is one of the most important functions of our democratic form of government. However, our courts will be no better than the judges who run them. This matter is so important that it crosses party lines and is determined by the character and ability of the judge involved in a given case.

Your lawyer would list the following as necessary qualifications for your judge: —

1. Honest and impartial;
2. Even temper and disposition;
3. Ability to work with lawyers and litigants;
4. Legal ability;
5. Christian conscience.

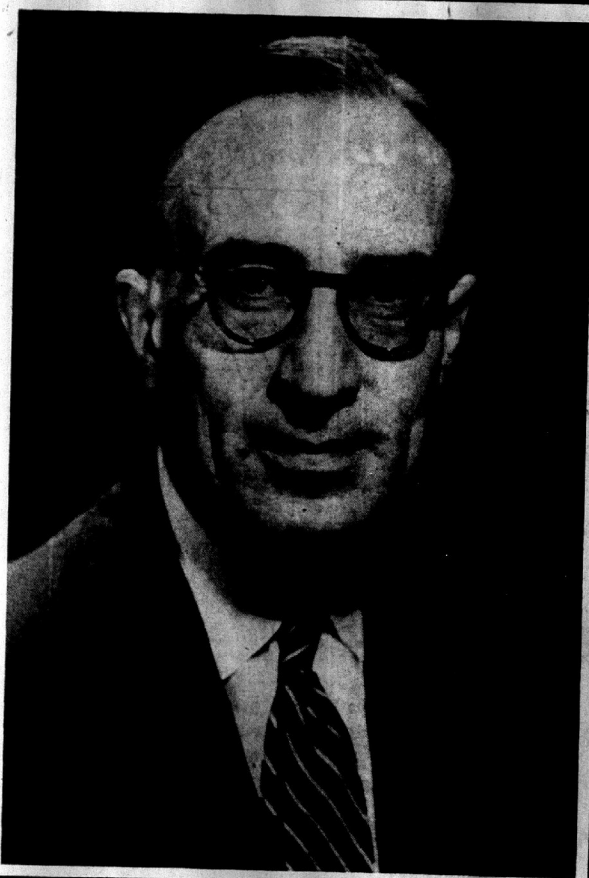

I sincerely believe I offer each of these to the voters of Kosciusko County. This is important to all of us. Why not "Ask your lawyer" concerning this important matter.

Where the Family Income Goes

For the ten years since World War II ended this country has been riding a virtually uninterrupted boom with more Americans spending more money on more things than ever before. But, according to the President's Economic Report delivered last January, there have been profound changes in how we spend and for what we spend.

If you are a typical family you are spending a smaller percentage of your after-tax income on food than in many years—under 25 per cent, as against 27 per cent in 1947. Meanwhile, your budget for medical expense and personal care has grown bigger. At the same time you're spending an all-time high on your automobile and automobile parts—a full 6.3 per cent of your budget, against 3.7 per cent only a decade ago.

You're spending the lowest percentage ever on clothing and shoes—holding these expenditures at 7.7 per cent, against 11.1 in 1947.

But you're spending much more on housing and all the services involved in maintaining that roof over your head. Your housing budget takes 11.6 per cent of income, against 9.1 in 1947. Rent as such has disappeared from the calculations of millions of Americans who have enthusiastically bought homes of their own.

The President's Economic Report gives a fascinating picture of our land and of the upgrading in our incomes and living standards. Only a nation which has equalized itself into a great middle class could develop a spending pattern giving less and less to food, more and more to automobiles. Only a nation which is fundamentally prosperous and confident could devote a bigger percentage of its income to services than to clothing. Only a peace-loving, family-loving nation could place so large a percentage of its spending money in housing. It's a nice picture of a nice land.—Sylvia F. Porter, Hall Syndicate.

A Series Of Local Children's Pictures To Be Taken Free For Publication

There is No Limit — There Is No Obligation

Tuesday, November 6 is the big day for the picture taking of your youngsters! The News is having pictures taken of all children who are brought by their parents or other guardian to the Legion Hall between 10 a. m. and 5 p. m. absolutely free of charge. The Woltz Studios of Des Moines, Iowa, a nationally known portrait studio, will be in charge of the photography. The News wants a picture of your child to print in its forthcoming feature, "Citizens of Tomorrow," a series of photographic studies of local children. The more we get the better the feature will be, so the cooperation of the mothers and fathers is urged.

It often seems to parents that children are little one minute and are grown up the next, so fast does a child's growing stage pass. Here is a splendid opportunity to catch a likeness of your child or children at the present stage for the pleasure you will get out of it in future years and for the pleasure you will enjoy in seeing it in print. You will want to clip it from this, your home town newspaper, and preserve it for the youngster when he or she grows up.

There is absolutely no charge or obligation for taking the pictures. Parents don't even have to be a subscriber to the News, nor even a reader. You do not have to purchase pictures either, though you may obtain additional prints by arranging direct with the studio representative if you want them. That is entirely up to you!

Appointments may be made by calling Mrs. Kenneth Romine, phone 3-3805.

The fall forest and field fire season is here. It is much easier to prevent field and forest fires than it is to fight them, say foresters at Purdue University. Care with fire in the woods and fields is extremely important at this time of year.

The American Way - As You Read It

By Dr. Alfred P. Haake
(Alfred P. Haake, Ph. D., is a noted economist, public relations consultant, author and lecturer.)

Whenever I write something for publication I feel some apprehension lest someone read into what I have written something that is not there, or twist my meaning to make it something different than I intended, or miss my real point to emphasize something of lesser importance.

Much depends on how you read it, and not even the most careful writer can escape entirely being at the mercy of those who read what he writes.

Several weeks ago I wrote a piece entitled "A Problem For All America." In it I tried to make clear that the Supreme Court decision of more than a year ago really mixed two issues that should be dealt with separately. One was that of segregation in the public schools, which is really the problem and responsibility of the several States and not of the Federal Government, since the entire question of education and its administration, by virtue of the 9th and 10th Amendments to the Constitution, is the responsibility of the several States.

The other issue is that of relative responsibility and power of the States and the Federal Government. Over a period of years, even before leadership in the Democratic Party deserted the principles of Thomas Jefferson and led the parade of collective good through concentrating power and responsibility in the Federal Government, the Constitution of the United States has been pushed further and further into the background of futility by interpretations which successively contradict each other as well as by the actual ignoring of its provisions by left-wingers in our administrations.

I asked that we restore respect for that Constitution, even by the Congress, the Supreme Court and all Public Officials who swear to support that Constitution when they take office.

A reader who took exception to my article accused me of neglecting the rights and equality of men, and the brotherhood which should motivate us in our dealings and relations with our fellow men.

He pointed out, among other things, that the black race is not inferior to the white race despite differences in evolution, and illustrated his point with an example of negro children who were found superior to another group of white children. He denied what I had pointed out as biological taboos against the mixing of certain blood strains and hooted at the danger of the white race being diluted by mixture of races. He called for equal treatment in all respects.

But he missed the real point. What I emphasized then, as I do now, is that we cannot legislate goodness into people, nor establish social relations by supreme court edict. Real integration can come only if and when people are ready and qualified for it. Our task is to encourage all men to do their utmost to become worthy, within as well as between races, and encourage them to give others the opportunity to make themselves worthy.

It is sheer nonsense to insist that men are equal in all respects. There are inequalities among my own five children. Equality before the law, in responsibility to the laws that govern life, and in the sense that we are all children of a common God—that equality is ours. But there are tremendous differences in endowment, ability, performance and individual deserving according to individual behavior. Such inequality keeps life moving. Life with utter equality would be like an ocean without motion, a vast stagnant pool covered with the miasma of rotting things and death.

Brotherhood does not require equality in social or economic activity, or life on the same level. The Greatest of them all found brotherhood with slaves and those persecuted, without first demanding that slavery and persecution cease or that tyrants cease their tyrannies. The Spirit He engendered proved itself the most effective of all remedies for human ills through the years, and will carry men infinitely further toward real brotherhood and full opportunity for individual growth than all the power of all governments seeking to control the economic and social lives of their citizens.

Ventilate The Poultry House

"Open your chicken house windows wide enough in the right places at the right time. If you do you'll usually be able to get the ventilation needed to keep the house dry and wholesome."

That's the advice of Joe W. Sicer, Purdue University extension poultryman, who says the big job in fall and winter ventilation of the laying house is to remove the excess moisture.

Each one hundred hens drink about six gallons of water a day. And, all the water is left in the house except about three quarts that are in the eggs when the flock is laying at a 70 per cent clip. Most of the moisture is in the droppings that are left in the litters or under the perches.

According to Sicer, this moisture must be evaporated into the air and then moved out through openings in such a way as not to create drafts on the hens.

When forced ventilation is not used, Sicer recommends the following for fall and winter:

Close the north side of the laying house tightly and close or adjust openings on the east and west ends of the house to prevent drafts.

Keep the south windows open wide until water begins to freeze in the house.

When water starts to freeze inside the house, close part of the south windows but never close all of them.

As soon as the cold snap passes, open the south windows wide again.

By keeping the house as cold as possible during the fall the birds are hardened to cold and will be better able to stand severe weather.

Ventilation openings must be high—preferably six feet or more above the floor—if the moist air is to move out quickly. Insulation of the house is helpful since warm air can pick up more moisture than can cold air, Sicer says.

Free Concert
At Akron

The 30-voice Studebaker-Packard Male Chorus of South Bend will present a free concert in Akron Sunday afternoon at three o'clock central standard time.

The concert is being sponsored by the Akron Mothers Study Club as a part of their civic project for the year and will be held in the school gymnasium.

Mrs. Ethel Stuart Gaumer, director, is also bringing Deloris Gunn, soprano soloist, Pat Rusk, 15 year old pianist, Robert Collins, tenor, and Don Henry, bass.

Pat has won 15 medals and plays 8 instruments. She was the 1955 winner in the International Recording contest, with 1,000 entrants.

Mrs. Gunn sang in Akron last winter with the Philharmonic Singers, who are also directed by Mrs. Gaumer.

Special invitations have been extended to schools and the public is cordially invited.
