MENTONE STOCK SHOW A SUCCESS.

By "Dobbs" Miller

The 1935 Stock Show which has been the talk of the community for the past several weeks has passed into history, but plans and preparations for a larger and better Fair for 1936 are already under way.

Without question the community's first attempt to hold an organized Stock Show was a success, barring the one unfortunate accident that happened.

More than 250 fine horses, colts, calves and sheep were on display. Many of our visitors were astonished to find so many fine animals exhibited, and their comments were a tonic to those who worked so hard to put this show on.

Many valuable lessons have been learned by the organization and those in charge. The mistakes that may have been made this year can be overcome in another year, and every one is looking forward with anticipation.

Our next Fair will have many added attractions, with plenty of entertainment for those who are not so vitally interested in stock.

While it is not necessary, nevertheless it might be well to correct an erroneous idea that a few people may have in regard to the small admission that was charged at the gate. The organization of Lions that sponsored the Fair advanced nearly two thousand dollars in preparing this entertainment. It therefore became a necessity to be, at least in some measure, reimbursed, as they were not able to take care of the entire cost of so large an undertaking. The Lions Club believes that most everyone really considers it a privilege to spend the small amount asked at the gate to help carry on the work that means so much to our agricultural community. It might be added that if the time should come that this Stock Show would show a profit, everyone knows that the surplus would be spent in other benefits for the community, as the Lions Club is first of all, a service club.

The Lions Club enjoyed your presence and hopes that you enjoyed the show.

W. F. M. S. MEETING

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church held a regular meeting at the church on Friday afternoon, August 30. The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. S. A. Guy. Mrs. C. L. Manwaring had charge of the devotionals.

At the business session the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. S. A. Guy; Vice-president, Mrs. Broda Clark; Treasurer, Mrs. C. W. Shafer; Secretary, Mrs. Ed Kesler; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. E. Kinsey.

Mrs. O. T. Martin gave a most interesting address, a reminiscence on their pastorate in Mentone and the organization of the W. F. M. S. here. A short skit was given by Mrs. Kinsey and Mrs. Lackey. Miss Margaret Martin accompanied by Miss Frances Clark played a violin solo.

The financial report by Mrs. C. W. Shafer was very satisfactory.

Mrs. C. L. Manwaring in closing sang "Is Your All on the Altar," a very fitting benediction to the meeting, which was premeated throughout with the deepest spiritual uplift.

The Mentone Live Stock Show closed Saturday, August 24. The main feature on the last day was the address of Jim Poole, of the Prairie Farmer, who gave an interesting talk on "The Livestock Industry at the Present Time." He considered the raising of livestock profitable but cautioned farmers against overproduction because the export is limited.

CONTROL OF CREDIT A BASIC QUESTION

Economist Describes Conflict Between Opposing Social View-points on Government Bank.

Agitation for government banking is a phase of the conflict between our present "personal competitive enterprise system" in America and the "compulsory state collective security system" of several European States. Virgil Jordan, President National Industrial Conference Board, says in an article in a recent issue of "Banking" published by the American Bankers Association.

"They involve irreconcilable principles of human conduct and philosophy of life and the conflict between them is the key to the economic, social and political struggles of today," Mr. Jordan says.

The enterprise system of which "the development of the United States has been the unparalleled example, depends for its motive power of progress upon the inexhaustible reservoir of energy in individual desire for personal advancement in prosperity, but it guarantees nothing to the individual save freedom of opportunity," the article says in part.

The collectivist security system, he says, "places all emphasis upon the maintenance of a minimum standard of living for the mass without regard to the creative power of the individual, quite simply the security system involves the modern form of the philosophy of the slave society." He continues:

A Sign of the Times

"The many-sided movement toward governmental banking, deposit insurance and currency management is the most direct and decisive expression of the universal instinctive search for security which is the sign of the times. In America our so-called social security legislation is an important indication of the drift away from the enterprise system toward a collectivist security system with concentration of authority in a central Federal government.

"The nationalization of credit is crucial and indispensable for complete state control of the complex industrial and business structure of this country. The drive toward government banking and monetary control is most determined because the relation of the state to credit goes to the root of the enterprise system. A collective security system is inconceivable without nationalization of credit. An enterprise system is inconceivable with it."

Under a collective security system, based on government banking the controls "lie solely in the hands of a few persons and depend upon their judgment, will or caprice," Mr. Jordan says, adding that it is they who must determine "upon the basis of some predetermined plan or upon pure political expediency of the moment, what lines of industry and even what individual enterprises shall have access to the credit reservoir." The state, he says, has the power of life and death over all enterprise that utilizes credit.

"Every government is an organ of party power and must respond to the will of the party that put it in power," the Jordan article says. "Under unchecked government operation it is an inescapable tendency of every currency to depreciate and for credit to expand. However much it may be in the interest of the nation, deflation is too dangerous politically for any government to undertake it deliberately.

"In the end government banking and currency management resolve themselves simply into the use of credit as a political instrument of power, and this instrument tends to be used in the long run for expropriation of the savings of the community."

THE FARM BUDGET

By DAN H. OTIS,

Agricultural Director, American Bankers Association

Inventories aid in the formation of a farm budget. Some banks, as well as the Farm Credit Administration, recommend outlining in advance the method of using production loans. Under this plan provision is made for monthly expenditures and funds are granted to the borrower in accordance with the budget plan. The budget helps to show how loans can be repaid.

With the accumulated data from previous inventories and budgets, budget making becomes easier and more accurate and valuable. As one branch of the farming plant requires more expenditure, such as for new machinery, fencing, livestock, etc., it may be necessary to limit other branches in order to meet these pressing requirements.

The budget helps to formulate a financial program. It is of special importance in arranging to meet special or large expenditures. If the income and expenditures are carefully budgeted it prevents the spending of money needed for interest and taxes before the time of their payment arrives. It helps to provide a reserve.

The Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association feels that this type of work is so important that special emphasis has been placed upon the field of farm inventories, budgets and credit statements as one of its national projects for farm aid.

Primitive Indian Life

Is Fast Disappearing

One result of the opening up of the further reaches of Canada is that the old primitive life of the Indians is fast disappearing, and with it their customs, traditions, and folklore. An effort is now being made to preserve the family trees, commonly known as Totem Poles, of the various tribes. These ancient heirlooms carry the tribal histories of more than 100,000 Indians.

It was the custom among the Red Indians for each tribe to choose an animal to represent them, and thus was born the science of totemism. The carved poles show every sort of animal from lizards to lions, and it is through these that the various families and tribes can be recognized, as well as the periods when they flourished.

Hundreds of totem poles are being collected, some from as far out as the lonely Beaver Island, in Hardy bay, an old trading post of the Hudson Bay company. One of the most famous stands in Jasper National park. It is 65 feet long, and the work of carving it occupied three years.—Tit-Bits Magazine.

Population Over 140,000,000

An increase in population of continental United States of 3,650,000 over the last census of 1930 is estimated by the census bureau. This would make our present population 126,425,046. It was 122,775,046 in 1930. Outlying American possessions had a population of 14,233,889 in 1930. An unofficial estimate of the increase in these five years is 1,000,000, which would mean a total of 141,638,435 persons under the American flag at present.—Capper's Weekly.

Zoo Hybrid Bear Curiosity

An interesting hybrid animal, one so rare that heretofore scientists have believed it couldn't be produced, is the subject of attention and conjecture on the part of authorities at the national zoo in Washington. It is a bear cub, the offspring of a female Alaskan brown bear and a polar bear. Such a hybrid is unusual because the parents not only represent different species but belong to different genera.

BLACKSMITH SEEKS HUGE INHERITANCE IN COURT ACTION

Aks Yugoslavia to Help in Re- covering Many Millions From Austria.

Vienna, Austria.—Josip Schulz, a poor Yugoslav blacksmith, is trying to get a $400,000,000 inheritance from the Austrian government, according to a report in Yugoslavia's most important newspaper, Politika.

The history of his claim starts with the death of his great-grandfather, Anton Ditrch, on March 7 1833.

Anton Ditrch was a rich ship owner in Venice. An inventory of his movable property and real estate written in 1833 is still in the possession of Josip Schulz. Five large palaces in Venice and in Korpha are listed in this inventory, as well as 800,000 golden thalers and an immense number of very valuable jewels. The entire property was appraised at 104,817,000 gold-francs. All his cash was deposited in the government bank of Venice.

Rightful Heir Sought.

For a long time nobody knew who was the rightful heir. Only Josip Schulz could prove forty years ago that he was Ditrch's descendant. Since that day he has been fighting for his inheritance.

As he made inquiry about the inheritance he learned that Ditrch's property was seized by the Hapsburgs after the occupation of Venice. He asked a Viennese lawyer to take legal steps against the Hapsburgs.

As the attorney was near success he died at unnatural death. Schulz claimed. Then another lawyer, Samuel Weiss took the case. Finally, in 1912 he succeeded. The child of Emperor Franz Joseph's cabinet gave him a document in which the emperor allowed a claim of 2,000,000 gold crowns. Josip Schulz was happy. But his happiness was premature. He owned a paper but nobody paid him the debt.

Renews His Efforts.

After the revolution Schulz tried anew. He appealed after all efforts to negotiate with the Austrian government miscarried, to the International court in The Hague. The International court replied that it was not competent.

Taking up the fight again a few days ago, he asked the Yugoslavian government to help him to his inheritance.

Josip Schulz is sixty-five. He hopes even to this day to die as one of the richest men in Europe.

Fortune Is Concealed in Boots of Dead Man

Pittsburgh.—A quarter of a century ago a young Russian immigrant landed in America to seek his fortune.

He had heard, like hundreds of others, that work at what seemed to him fabulous pay was plentiful in the steel mills around Pittsburgh. So he settled at Ambridge and went to work for the American Bridge company.

The other day the immigrant, Wasy Panchak, now fifty-three years old, died in the home of a friend, his dreams of riches more than realized.

But even his closest friends didn't know how much he had, they told Deputy Coroner John Arts. They knew though that Panchak always wore a money belt.

Deputy Arts didn't find the belt on the body but he went carefully through Panchak's trunk and room. He was about to give up when he noticed a pair of boots under the bed.

Just to be sure, Deputy Arts looked into the boots—

There he found $5,830 in currency and a bank book which showed that Panchak had an additional $6,080 on deposit at Ambridge and still more tied up in a closed Ambridge bank.

Frog Siamese Twins Die

Under Knife of Amateur

Niles, Ohio.—The careful hands of J. F. Flaherty, Niles tailor, have failed to save the lives of Johnny and Joseph. Siamese twins of frogdom.

The two frogs, still joined with a tissue link despite the tailor's efforts as a surgeon, died on a bench in his workshop.

"They were the queerest frogs you ever saw," Flaherty said. "Their legs were joined together from birth. Only one frog could jump. When he did the helpless twin 'went along' with his eyes blinking."

Flaherty's sympathy got the best of him and he tried to separate the twins.

Father Builds Daughter

Good Full-Sized Violin

Fremont, Neb.—Using simple tools and home-grown wood, Henry Watt of Fremont has built a full-sized violin which his daughter, Evelyn, uses regularly. The instrument cost less than one dollar.

The back, sides and neck of the violin are made of maple wood, grown near Watt's home. The finger bar and tail piece came from a Fremont apple tree. The top is of pine.

Watt whittled out his own forms for the violin sides and shaped them with steam. He has built two other violins but believes his latest effort to be his best.

Find Diamond in Fish

Knoxville, Tenn.—Lacy Kilgore and John Gentry, two Sevier county residents, reported they found a $500 diamond in the stomach of a large bass they caught in the Little Tennessee river below Gatlinburg. They brought their "find" here for appraisal.

MYSTERY VEILS ODD SLAYING OF YOUTH

Murder of Paris Student Is a Puzzle to Police.

Paris.—Eugene Sue never wrote a more mystifying story than that of the violent end of Maurice Dessailly, twenty-three, student in the Ecole polytechnique.

So far as police have been enabled to learn, Dessailly came to his death in a luxurious opium den in the Latin quarter and in the presence of a young woman of good family, and afterward his body was put on railroad tracks to make his death appear accidental or a suicide.

They learned the body was carried to the tracks in an automobile driven by an ex-convict who is declared to have received a considerable sum to leave the country.

Dessailly's body was found on the railroad tracks between Combs-la-Ville and Brunoy, the morning of March 25. A grade crossing watchman, M. Puechvossus, told police he had opened the railroad gates for a mysterious automobile at two o'clock the morning the body was discovered.

Dessailly left his parents home the evening of March 24, saying he would return by midnight. Yet there was found a railroad ticket in his pocket for the village of Brunoy, although his parents said so far as they were aware, their son had no friend or acquaintance at that village.

In Dessailly's clothes police also found a key. The parents had never seen the key, and investigators now believe it was a key to a small apartment in rue de l'Universite, where Dessailly, a mysterious young woman, Mile. "O. D. de V." and another student often went. There police found opium.

A baffling angle came to light when police learned that Dessailly had written to merchants at Strasbourg, ordering 600,000 francs' worth of shoes and radars.

"Devil Chasing Day"

March 17 is St. Patrick's birthday in this part of the world, but in Ball it's "Harl Njepl," or devil chasing day. On the 16th the native islanders dance their ritual dances, chant their ancient incantations, and bear offerings to the gods. Then on the 17th there is no sign of life on all the island. The devils, frightened away by the ceremonies of the day before, sneak back into the villages, but, seeing no activity—not even a curl of smoke—decide that the island is deserted and an unprofitable scene for their activities.

Man Dies to Prevent Killing Worst Enemy

New York.—Rather than yield to an "obsession" to slay a man he blames for his wife's suicide and his own ruin, Harry M. Confess, forty-five, once a prosperous merchant, killed himself.

Sixteen months ago his wife, Nell, a beautiful blond, took her life in Miami, Fla.

Before he followed her to death, Confess wrote to two friends saying:

"Please forgive me. I'll go insane if I don't do it. I've had a constant pounding in my head and have been fighting for six months the obsession to kill — (Name deleted.)"

"Nell would be alive if it were not for him. He caused my ruin."

"I can't stand it any longer. I've been suffering the tortures of hell."

The note was addressed to Murray Goldbergs, Coney Island, and Samuel Adler, Boston manufacturer. They were notified after Confess was found dead, a bullet in his heart, in a hotel.

Man Violates 5 Rules Painting His Own Home

Attleboro, Mass.—Telephore Dargis believes that a man can't paint his house without being dragged into court.

Dargis, an unemployed jewelry worker, began to paint his house and the department of labor and industries charged him with five violations of rules regarding safety devices for use in painting.

Judge Ralph C. Estes criticized the department and declined to impose punishment because he didn't find any rules in any law books before him and wondered how any citizen would know about them.

Stomach of Cow Holds Eight-Pound Stone Ball

Pierre, S. D.—An eight and one-half-pound stone ball, measuring the size of a human head, was found in the stomach of Betsy, two-year-old cow owned by E. P. Cooper, state employee. T. H. Ruth, state director of animal husbandry, said he believed small stones were swallowed by the cow as it drank water from the Bad river.

Ohio Has Namesakes

Halifax, N. S.—Nova Scotia, about half the size of the state of Ohio, has nine Ohio's within its boundaries. Nine towns and settlements bear that name, three of which are in the one county of Shelburne.

Robin Pays Its Rent

Eustis, Neb.—A thrifty robin left a dollar bill neatly folded in a last year's nest, according to Miss Marie Gengenbach, the finder. The bill was covered with dust but otherwise quite spendable. Miss Gengenbach said.

Science Before War

During the war, Australian soldiers trench digging near Beersheba on the road to Egypt turned up ancient pavements with Christian signs and inscriptions. For a week the Australians, continually under airplane bombing by the enemy, dug away, carefully raised it and dispatched it safely to Cairo.

Many Still Use Bead Counters

About 60 per cent of the world still does its calculating on the ages-old abacus, the instrument with a frame crossed by stiff wires on which balls or beads are strung, writes Robert Frenchick Los Angeles, Calif., in Collier's Weekly. Not only is it used throughout all Asiatic countries, Russia and in other parts of Europe, but also by some American statisticians.

Naming Race Horses

The name of a professional race horse is limited to 17 letters and generally to two words. The owners submit names to the New York Jockey Club Register and all the names are subject to the approval of the stewards of the club. No name which has been used within the last 15 years can be duplicated. No word can be used which might be construed as sacrilegious; all names of famous persons are barred, except with written permission.

Typesetting Machine Goes On The Hummer

Just after getting the advertisements set for this issue the motor on our type setting machine refused to work, and it is very evident that it will have to be sent to the factory to be repaired or replaced with a new one.

This unfortunate affair made it necessary to leave out the bulk of the local news for this issue, as our supply of hand-set type is also limited.

We are in hopes that the motor can be replaced or repaired in time to get out the next issue of this paper.

Rare Plant Has Two Leaves

The rare Tumboa plant of southwest Africa grows just two leaves, but these may become 10 feet long.

Tomatoes Known as "Love Apples"

Tomatoes were first brought into this country from South America. They were a garden plant known as "Love Apples" and were believed poisonous until about 1800.

Slower Flying Birds

Woodpeckers, finches and thrushes are among the slower flying birds. They cannot keep up with a car at 20 miles an hour. Jays and orioles are about as slow, but barn swallows, going unevenly in one direction for at least 50 yards, will quickly get well ahead of a 40-mile speed.

Lemons in Early Use

Many years ago, in the days of early sailing vessels, scurvy was a dread disease among the sailors on long voyages. It seemed there was neither an escape nor a cure for it, until one day, quite by chance, a vessel sailed out of harbor, taking lemons in its cargo. They were served the men and lo, not a sign of scurvy appeared.

Mikado's Court in 1503

During the feudal period in Japan (1000-1867), the Mikado's court was at Kyoto, but the Shogunate, which controlled the administration of the kingdom, was at Tokyo, 323 miles away. The Tokaido road was built to accommodate the heavy traffic between the two most important centers of the kingdom.

Largest Artillery Post

Ft. Bragg, located near Fayetteville, N. C., is said to be the largest artillery post in the United States.

Origin of "Cheerio"

The word "cheerio" is a general greeting, toast or valedictory expression. It was used by Shakespeare in the form of "cherry-o."

Andersonville Prison Grounds

At first Andersonville Prison grounds contained 22 acres, and the area was later increased to 27 acres. As many as 33,000 prisoners were at times crowded into the enclosure.

Colors of Red-Wings

Black, with a bit of the brightest red and yellow-buff, are the only colors necessary for the male Red-Wings. He must be military, for he wears shoulder-straps. The broad, upper division is a brilliant scarlet. The lower, narrow division is yellow-buff.

First Radio Law

The first federal statute dealing with radio became effective in 1911 and simply required apparatus and operators on ocean steamers. By the passage of the radio act of 1927 the radio service was set up as a separate division of the Department of Commerce.

White House Begun in 1792

The White House was begun in 1792 and completed in 1799. John Adams was the first President to occupy it in 1800. There were still finishing touches to be added, and it was some time before the grounds were in order.

Liars Contest

Mentone's Saturday night broadcasts are still drawing large crowds. A variety of music and contests have kept the programs interesting.

Next Saturday night a Liar's Contest will be staged. Three prizes will be given which will make it well worth your while to tell a big one.

Murray Thorn, master of ceremonies, invites men, women, boys and girls to take part in this contest.

Step on Your Troubles

Jud Tunkins says troubles are like colds. It's unfair to scatter 'em around among innocent bystanders.

Origin of Numerals

The characters that we use to express number and term "Arabic numerals," and which are said to have been of Indo-Arabic origin by learned men of research, came into European use in the Twelfth century.

Return Lightning

Return lightning is described as a quite small electrical discharge that takes place here and there from objects on the earth's surface directly with lightning flashes. This discharge is quite insignificant to the main flash, but is powerful enough to cause explosions, to start fires and even take life.

First Railroad in Ohio

The first railroad in Ohio, which ran from Adrian, Mich., to Toledo, was fostered by our northern neighbor, the Wolverine state. At the outset there was little confidence in the success of the enterprise. It was described in the Michigan legislature, which granted the charter, as merely "a fanciful scheme that could do no harm and would greatly please certain citizens of Toledo."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Laying Varies

It is not always the largest bird that lays the greatest number of eggs. Although the ostrich usually numbers 15, the emperor penguin, largest of the species, lays but one egg. All other penguins lay two eggs. On the other hand, some of our small songbirds lay four or five eggs.

NOTED WORLD TRAVELER TO SPEAK AT BAPTIST ASSEMBLY

Mr. Charles A. Wells, noted world traveler, gifted journalist, and talented artist will be the feature speaker at the annual meeting of the Logansport Baptist Association to be held at Mentone, Thursday and Friday, September 19 and 20. Mr. Wells' address will be given at a mass meeting in the Community Building at Mentone, Thursday evening at 7:30.

No speaker in the Baptist Denomination has made so thorough a study of world conditions in the light of Christian peace and progress. He is the most popular speaker in the lecture service of this great denomination, having just returned from a second tour of Russia where he studied at first hand through the members of the Baptist Church of Soviet Communism, and having toured extensively Europe and Asia in several former tours as a newspaper correspondent and representative of the missionary movement.

He will speak of the challenge of the philosophy of sharing in communism to American civilization, and point out its dangers. His stirring address, "The Urgency of the Gospel in the World of Revolt," will be illustrated by large sketched drawings which are drawn while he speaks. From a wide, first-hand knowledge of world conditions, he will present the unusual opportunity awaiting the Christian Churches of the world. Having visited many of the missionary fields, he will relate its outstanding service to other nations.

Delegates from the eighteen churches comprising the Logansport Association will attend the annual business educational and inspirational meetings during the day sessions of Thursday and Friday, as well as the great mass meeting held in the Community Building of Mentone on Thursday evening with Mr. Wells as the speaker, to which visitors of all denominations are invited.

Weather Man's Workshop

The weather man employs a rather imposing workshop of intricate instruments in addition to his barometer. He has thermometers to measure temperature and instruments to measure humidity, air direction (wind vane), air velocity (anemometer), and combinations of these to gauge and record the different factors of the weather at a single operation and automatically, such as the aneroid-barograph, which he dispatches aloft in an airplane. He has rain gauges and snow gauges, balloons and kites, sunshine recorders, and scores of other complicated mechanical assistants.

The mill buys wheat, oats, corn.

Auto Deaths Highest

Probably it is because the male sex is more venturesome, but reports of insurance statistics show the automobile death rate for boys up to the age of fourteen to be two and a half times that of girls of the same age and that of adult males to exceed adult females by three and a half. But the youngsters are apparently more careful than the grown folks. In 1934 the automobile accidental death rate for boys of the above age was 19.4 per 100,000 and for girls, 7.5, while it was 46.0 for male adults compared to 13.0 for females.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Will on Music Paper

Penned on music paper, with the writing beginning at every second bar, the will of James M. Duffey, late attendant in the National museum in Dublin, Irish Free State, was filed for probate recently, but no one could explain the unique method of preparation.

Sailing Women

Among the 34 members of the crew of the Soviet freighter which carries general cargo, five of the sailors are women. One of the group is third officer, another is assistant engineer, two are stewardesses, and another an assistant in the steward's department.

Salt Water Kills Trees

Hundreds of trees in swamps along the North Carolina coast have been killed by salt water that swept inland from the ocean during a terrific storm two years ago and failed to drain back.

Publicity Profit

"Do you think good plays win literary prizes?"
"Not necessarily," answered Mr. Stormington Barnes, "but good managers often do."

Pupil—One geese is goose, and a whole lot of geese is geese!—Washington Post.

1790 Law Curbs Radio

A law passed in 1790 was the basis of a police order issued in Paris stipulating that no sound from an automobile radio set may be heard outside the car.

The Great Question

"What are the young man's intentions?"
"Well, he's been keeping me pretty much in the dark."

The "Torch" Song

Webster's International dictionary recognizes the word by defining a torch song as "a popular, sentimental song of unrequited love; hence, a torch singer." One explanation is that the phrase is based on an old saying that when a jilted lover is pining for the loved one he is "carrying a torch" for her. Songs designated as torch songs are "blues."

Mouse Throws Flier Into Dizzy Spiral

Gambier, Ohio.—The jokesmiths long have been convinced that a tiny mouse can terrify any woman but Donald M. Gretzke, flying instructor at Kenyon college here, is not laughing at any mouse jokes. He has a reason. He was flying with Robert Reid, student pilot, when suddenly he grabbed the controls, threw the ship into a fast spiral and landed in a jiffy. Leaping out of the cockpit, he madly loosened a leg of his flying suit. Out jumped—a mouse!

ENGINEER TO TRY AGAIN FOR FORTUNE

Undaunted by Kidnaping, He Plans Another Hunt.

Los Angeles.—A treasure hunt for a fortune in Spanish coins, jewels, gold and silver—cached in the wilds of Mexico as early as 1771—was planned by Louis F. Vremsak, California engineer, who recently was released from Mexican bandits.

Undaunted by the ill fortune that befell him on his first expedition, Vremsak was negotiating with the Mexican government for permission to explore caves in a desolate mountain region where he claims the treasure is hidden.

"I have documents which show that thousands of gold and silver bars and triangular gold coins were buried by Spaniards to save them from invading bandit gangs," he said.

While the engineer did not reveal the locality of the purported buried treasure, he said he found landmarks listed in the documents during his first trip into the territory.

"We found a waterfall described in the documents, a rock shaped like a soldier and other significant landmarks, but the cave apparently has been covered by landslides," he explained. "When we go down there again we'll excavate and I'm convinced we'll find the treasure."

Vremsak said he obtained the documents from a descendant of one of the men who buried the treasure and that it specified the finder may keep all "except jewels and table jewelry," which must be turned over to the church of Coloitian.

Jose Navarro, the engineer's Mexican attorney, and Mary McKenney, blond woman partner, who negotiated for his release from the Mexican bandit, Juan Villareal, are working with him on resumption of the treasure hunt.

"When I return and find the fortune," he said, "I will be through with treasure hunting forever."

"Her conversation must be monotonous."

"Not at all. She's continually changing her mind."—Border Cities Star.

On With the Dance

"Didn't you say let's get together and get somewhere?"

"I did," answered Mr. Dustin Stax. "But when I requested a grand march the band struck up a waltz and we just kept on going round and round."

"Becows" He Did

"Give me a sentence containing the word 'seldom.'"

WAFING BREEZES

Burn egg shells to avert bad luck.

To stumble down the stairs is unlucky.

No spoken funny story should exceed 40 words.

If you wish good luck never shave on Monday.

Florida extends farther south than any other state.

If you sing before breakfast you will cry before supper.

"Pull" may get a job, but "know how" has to hold it.

Imports, says little Freddie, are ports very far inland.

Speak good English and people will get used to you—and like it.

Curiosity invented the telescope; and curiosity discovered America.

Watching a steam shovel, you readily see it is not afraid of anything.

Choosing a doctor is like marrying. Once you get used to him you hate to swap.

It isn't very complimentary to this world, the way babies weep after they enter it.

Out of the mouths of babes and sucklings cometh forth wisdom—and whoops.

Love is funny. You fall in because you are together too much, and fall out for the same reason.

If you make up your mind early to get rich—well, you are a very extraordinary young man.

Best way to get chores done is to set aside a day and do them all at once—in a certain kind of fury.

It may be discouraging to gain knowledge so that you can talk on any subject and then find nobody to talk to.

It might be pretty swell at that to provide a stack of small napkins beside each plate instead of one two feet square.

A very young man may spend a great deal of time being bored. Later he acquires sense enough to conceal it when he is bored.

Methane Gas on Planets Tells Interesting Tales

Tiny rays of light coming from the sun, deflected from the various planets, and finally arriving at the earth tell interesting stories, says Pathfinder Magazine. In passing through the atmosphere of any planet certain elements of the light are absorbed. Such absorption causes lines and bands to appear in the spectrum which are read with remarkable exactness by scientists. A short time ago Doctors Adel and Slipher announced that the "big four" of the solar system, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, and Neptune, have atmospheres which consist chiefly of methane and ammonia (both poisonous). Now these same scientists have learned how high the layer of methane, or marsh gas, or "coal damp" extends and how much it weighs. Jupiter has the thinnest band, it being only half a mile thick with a total weight of eighty million billion tons. Saturn's layer is slightly thicker but its total weight is less. Uranus has a four-mile-thick layer whose weight is the same as that of Jupiter's, and Neptune tops the list with a methane wrapper 25 miles thick and weighing six hundred million billion tons. Methane is one of the chief constituents of illuminating gas.

Sun-Time Unreliable

Contrary to general belief our most accurate clocks do not correspond exactly with the sun, for the truth of the matter is that sun-time is accurate for only about four seconds each year. For the remainder of the 365,242 days of the year, says Pathfinder Magazine, the sun is either ahead of or behind time. Old Sol's greatest variation occurs about the beginning of November when he crosses the meridian about 16 minutes before noon and again around the middle of February when he crosses the meridian about 15 minutes past noon. Consequently scientists have been forced to set up a mean standard of time by which to regulate our clocks.

Longest 'Phone Call Made

The longest telephone call ever made was recently put through by the post office at Sydney, N. S. W. It connected a subscriber in Rockingham, an Australian city, with California, by way of London. The total distance was about 19,000 miles.

Coffins Cause Outcry

During "Safety First week" in Cologne, Germany, a coffin or cross was placed at every place where someone had been killed during the year, but the coffins caused such an outcry that they were removed after a few hours.

Just a Beginner

Dentist—I'm afraid I'll have to drill. Patient—My goodness, can't you work without a rehearsal?

Nasty Both Ways

"She's really a lot older than she looks." "Yes, and what's more—she looks it."

Meaning of Word "Reich"

The word reich means government and the third reich refers to Germany's third system of government. The first was the German empire, the second the German republic following the World war and the third the Nazi rule, a reversal of the policies of the earlier reichs.

The mill buys wheat, oats, corn.

Extra Special!

The Co-Op. News has made arrangements whereby all of its readers and friends can secure most any magazine or city daily newspaper at wholesale price.

In the following list the price quoted under the heading of "agents net price" is all you will be charged for any of the following publications. Besides the saving in the price, you save the cost of money order, stamp and the trouble of writing a letter.

Orders will be accepted any day of the week at the Country Print Shop, Mentone. If you cannot call you may order by mail, sending either cash or money order. Checks on Farmers State Bank, Mentone, will also be accepted. Checks on banks in other towns should have 3c added to take care of handling charge.

Should you not find the periodical wanted in this list, call at the Country Print Shop for quotations on same.

As this price list requires a great deal of space it will not be published again, hence we suggest that you place it in a safe place for future use.

When sending in an order write very plainly, giving name and post office address. Also state whether it is a new subscription, or a renewal; in case it is a renewal, write your name the same as it appears on the magazine or paper you are renewing.

U. S. AGENTS SEEK TO SOLVE STRANGE GEM TRANSACTIONS

Scotland Yard and Other Foreign Police Are Aiding in Investigation.

New York.—Sixty star federal "G" men are digging into the ramifications of the international jewel-theft and recovery ring which has stolen millions of dollars' worth of gems in recent years, and bribed officials.

Scotland Yard and the German, French and Italian police are co-operating. In addition to the detectives of nearly every large city in the United States, Canada and Mexico. Jewelry stolen in one country frequently turns up thousands of miles away.

Sitting in the center of the excitement is Noel C. Scaccia, mystery man of the diamond-and-ruby world, who as a private detective has recovered nearly two million dollars' worth of stolen jewelry.

New Federal Law.

It was the passage of a new federal law, making it a crime to transport stolen property from one state to another, which resulted in the campaign to wipe out the jewel theft racket.

Fantastic beyond belief are the operations of the jewel theft ring, according to Adams. He said:

"The gang sometimes goes out and buys up entire communities — the police, the district attorney and the courts. It is easy to understand how they can do it in small towns, for the value of a single necklace is often greater than the entire pay roll of the officials of the community."

First, he says, the jewels which are to be stolen are located, and the thieves make certain they are in a "right town." They contact political chiefs who control police, and the prosecutor's office in some cases.

Avoid Murder.

They always try to avoid committing murder, for that causes such a sensation that they are arrested some times despite their "pull."

After the jewels are taken, the thieves lie low for a while. Then they contact a trustworthy man who will get in touch with the insurance companies, or with some detective or adjuster. Adams added:

"The insurance companies are always willing to pay a reward running between 10 and 15 per cent of the insured value."

Adams cast some light on a number of thefts in "impossible" situations—such as from a locked apartment, or the loss of jewels while traveling. In some such cases the person purposely "loses" his jewelry—as to collect insurance.

Auto Jack Is Used to Help Man's Broken Back

San Antonio, Texas.—A common automobile jack is a useful surgical instrument in the treatment of broken back, Dr. Slim Driver of Dallas told the Texas Surgical society here.

A person suffering from a broken back, Doctor Driver explained, is placed on a frame of metal splints with his feet tied down and a weight attached to his head.

An automobile jack is placed beneath the frame and the patient's back and slowly raised to the level of his extremities. Thus the ligaments of the backbone are enabled to draw the fractured pieces of vertebra into place and the patient can be placed in a plaster cast, the surgeon said.

Dr. Robert Moore, associate professor of surgery, told of a method of eliminating pain in heart ailments by severing a certain nerve.

Ghouls Rob Graves of Pioneers of California

San Jose, Calif.—Evidence that ghouls have been systematically looting the historic old Spanish cemetery at Almaden, one-time site of world-famous quicksilver mines, was discovered.

Several open graves were found with headstones destroyed and fences knocked down. Sheriff George Lyle has been asked to take steps to apprehend the grave robbers, who evidently are seeking jewels and other possessions buried with their owners in the old Spanish days.

The oldest grave in the cemetery is that of R. Quireposano, who died May 30, 1876. A pepper tree has grown directly through the grave, which is surrounded by a fence, and now towers high above it.

Absent-Minded Motorist Smashes Wrong Motor Car

Kokomo, Ind.—Guy Lawrence, Miami, parked and locked his car in the business district here, and when he returned he found two automobiles, identical in appearance.

He could not remember his license number and picked what he believed was his.

When the door lock wouldn't respond to his key he went to a locksmith and had another made. When that one failed, he picked up a stone and threw it through the windshield.

Then he discovered his mistake. He reported to police, paid for a new windshield, and set himself to the task of memorizing his license number.

Student Never Absent

Logan, Ohio.—Myel Skiver has gone through his eight years of grade school at Haydenville without a day's absence.

Earliest Sponge Rubber

Probably the earliest mention of sponge rubber is in British patent No. 13103, issued to William Edward Newton, Middlesex, England, in 1850. The sponge rubber was made by mixing raw sugar, resins, or other materials, with the rubber prior to vulcanization, and was used for shoe soles and for other purposes in connection with footwear.

COWS NEVER DRINK; DEW CHIEF SUPPLY

Hawaii has cows that never drink. Grazing in fertile valleys on the slopes of Mauna Kea, the 13,800-foot mountain in the northwest of the island Hawaii, where mists constantly drift in on the trade winds, the cattle slake their thirst through the air they breathe or by cropping the wet grass. When taken to drier regions they balk at the sight of water, not knowing what it is.

The existence of this non-drinking cattle was recently brought to the attention of the bureau of animal industry of the Department of Agriculture. The cattle are bred on a ranch, adjacent to the 500,000-acre Parker Ranch, which has 32,000 Herefords. It was not intended to deprive the animals of water. Originally they were kept on land where water was plentiful. But portions of the herd, attracted by luxuriant grass, wandered into valleys where there were no streams nor lakes.

They soon discovered that they obtained enough moisture without drinking, because of the mist and rain. The offspring of these cattle grew to maturity without ever having seen as much as a bucketful of water.

The Drink to Happiness

The drinking of a liquid from a single cup by the bride and groom is an important part of the wedding ceremony among two-thirds of the human race, or all those living in non-Christian countries. The majority use a distilled liquor, beer or wine while the others prefer either animal or coconut milk.—Collier's Weekly.

Asbestos Used in Ancient Rome

Writings of ancient Greece and Rome indicate that asbestos was used in incombustible fabrics for tablecloths, winding sheets, bandk reliefs and other articles.

The "Aristocrat of Fruits"

The "aristocrat of fruits," the avocado called "calavo," is grown in California, Florida and Texas and is considered a "native" fruit in those sections. For generations West Indians regarded the avocado as a staple food, using its pulp on bread like butter.

U. S. ONCE PLANNED GHENT TREATY STAMP

The bureau of engraving and printing at Washington, where our postage stamps are printed, is still believed to have in carefully guarded vaults the officially approved sketches and engravings of two stamps that were almost ready for issue at the outbreak of the World war. The existence of these sketches and plates, notes a writer in the Philadelphia Inquirer, were known to a few officials, but the public was kept in complete ignorance of them.

The first was a design for a two-cent stamp in red that shows two figures clasping hands across the world. One figure holds the American flag and the other figure grasps the British flag.

The second was a drawing for a five-cent stamp in blue. It shows a dove flying before a winged figure representing the Spirit of Peace. At the bottom of both stamps is the legend, "Peace 1814-1914." The stamps were to have commemorated the one hundredth anniversary of the Treaty of Ghent which cemented peace between the United States and Great Britain. The World war unfortunately spoiled the plans of the new issue.

Many Languages in Use

Throughout the World

There are almost 3000 individual languages in the world, according to the French Academy of Arts and Sciences, although the most of them are of local significance only. There are four, English, French, German and Spanish, which stand out as world languages. English, spoken or understood by at least 220,000,000 people, easily leads them all. French is the traditional tongue of diplomats, society and literature. It affects about 120,000,000 people. German is spoken or understood by about 110,000,000 persons and is the main speech of the Balkans and central Europe. A great deal of scientific and technical literature is in German. Spanish affects about 75,000,000, mostly in the Central and South American countries, where it is the chief commercial language except in Brazil where Portuguese is the national tongue.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Having the Money

One American millionaire has a domestic servant pay roll of about $20,000 a week, another recently paid $3,500,000 for landscape gardening on his estate, and another owns so many rare antiques and works of art that they not only fill his several mansions but also a large private storage warehouse which he maintains for them in New York city.—Collier's Weekly.

"Doctor" of Sports in Germany

German university athletes will henceforth be able to obtain the degree of "doctor" through their prowess on the playing fields. Hamburg university has led the way by deciding that the study of physical culture is to be classed as a scientific subject which, with two other subjects, will provide the basis for examination for the title of "doctor."

French Taking Up Baseball

American baseball is enjoying a boom in France to the extent that a nation-wide organization has been formed known as the "Federation Francaise de Baseball et de Theque." Four hundred teams are playing in various parts of the French nation.

Fire Most Disastrous

A serious fire is about the most disastrous thing that can happen to a business. Out of every 100 industrial and commercial companies whose buildings burn, only 57 attempt to survive and 40 of this number suffer greatly from a heavily reduced credit rating or a substantial loss in income.—Colliers' Weekly.

COURTS ARE SLOW IN DECISIONS BUT PIERRE SPEEDS UP

Smart Frenchman Learns Something by Visiting Correctional Court.

Paris, France.—Pierre Foucault was a frequent visitor to the correctional court, where he was called to explain little irregularities in his business relations.

That gave him an opportunity to look over the various occupations offered a young man in the administration of justice, and after reflection he decided that no position was better suited to his inclinations and capacities than that of collector of fines.

So Pierre Foucault continued to be a frequent visitor to the correctional court, but instead of sitting in a special place reserved only for himself, and perhaps an officer or two, he mingled with the audience and listened carefully to the cases, and particularly to the amounts of the fines assessed.

Memories Are Revived.

On days when there was no court Pierre Foucault revived his memories by calling on the leading actors whom he had seen in courtroom dramas. As a memento for them he left receipted forms calling for payment of fines plus court expenses. As a memento for himself he carried away an amount of his host's money equal to the figures he had carefully added up in the lower right-hand corner of his form.

None of those he called on proved difficult. For one thing, Pierre Foucault knew—for good reasons—just what the court formula looked like. For another, he knew also just how the amounts of fines were calculated on the basis of the nominal sum mentioned by the judge, and he performed his calculations to the centime with meticulous exactitude, arriving, just like the government, at a result about seven times the amount of the fine.

Courts Share in Divisions.

The only complaints his customers made was that the courts were very slow in deciding trials but surprisingly quick to collect.

"Ah," Pierre Foucault would explain, "the courts are under the ministry of justice. We are under the finance ministry."

And with a pleasant smile and a word of thanks he would lift his hat politely and pass on to his next call, for he was hard-working.

Came a day when the ministry of justice worked faster than the ministry of finance, and Pierre Foucault presented his little bill after the government's account, instead of before.

So Pierre Foucault paid another visit to the correctional court, and this time he was again accorded his official place, in a little railed-off box, reserved expressly for himself and an officer or two.

Warden Frees Jail Birds for Night Robbery Jobs

Belgrade.—The police of Ptuj, in Slovenia, were baffled by a series of burglaries carried out in their district over a period of some months. The skill and general "style" of the crimes indicated they were the work of a Frantz Kozelj and his gang, notorious safebreakers. But Frantz and his gang were all in prison.

Then they caught the burglar in the act. To their amazement it was Frantz. He confessed that the night warden of the prison allowed him and his gang to sleep all day and spend the nights "away on business." In return, the warden received a percentage of the spoils.

Now the warden is in prison with Frantz and his friends—but not in his former capacity.

Wolf Passes Automobile Doing 50 Miles an Hour

Springfield, Mo.—If you don't believe a wolf can run 50 miles per hour, you can get an argument over the question any time from Frank Hosey and several other farmers in the vicinity of Ruble Rose farm, six miles southwest of here.

Hosey shot the animal with a rifle after dogs and men on horseback had pursued it all one day. The dogs finally chased the animal into a pond, where Hosey killed it.

Hosey said he and other hunters were traveling 50 miles an hour in an automobile down a highway and were passed by the wolf.

That's their story and they're sticking to it.

Prisoner Teaches Cops Art of Fingerprinting

Hornell, N. Y.—Paul Schamber, twenty-nine, "smells a rat" in the jail sentence imposed on him for illegal train riding.

When arrested he gave his occupation as "fingerprint expert," and now he is compelled to hold class in jail teaching members of the police force his art.

Municipal fingerprinting is an innovation here and results are being improved greatly under the prisoner's tuition.

Fox Snuggles Down in Abandoned Crow's Nest

The trustees of the Educational Foundation of the American Bankers Association have set aside funds from the foundation to grant 100 loan scholarships of $150 each to qualified applicants for attendance at the school.

Titmouse or "Sugar Bird"

The Titmouse or "Sugar Bird," is an excellent acrobat, and he climbs, swings, and daringly clings to the bark and twigs of trees in his search for insects. A deserted woodpecker hole, or hollow stump, is lined with feathers, soft grasses and mosses when he chooses to mate in spring nesting time.
