PREISCH RESIGNS CO-OP POSITION

The hundreds of N. I. C. A. stockholders and N. I. C. A. customers will be surprised to learn that "Jack" has given notice to Forrest Kessler, chairman of the Board of Directors, of his resignation from his position at the Mill, effective Saturday, September 18, 1937.

Jack is now in the East on his vacation and soon after his return to Mentone will accept a position traveling for a well known feed supply. Present plans are that he will be in the East, then be back on the job at the Mill during the week ending September 18. He will continue to live in Mentone for some time, however his territory will not include this vicinity.

Jack came to the Association over seven years ago, before the first building was started, and was the first man the N. I. C. A. ever employed. He had ten years as a clerk, buyer and manager before coming to the Co-Op Association, therefore came well equipped for the position he filled so capably. His has been over seven years of hard, faithful, efficient service.

It has for years been an every day occurrence for him to wait on a customer, talk on the telephone, answer questions from others about feeds, equipment or remedies, give attention to traveling salesmen and direct the mill at the same time, truly a feat not one in a thousand could accomplish.

During these years he was pleasant and courteous to every customer always loyal and obedient to the N. I. C. A. Directors from whom he received his instructions, and showed keen ability as a director of those working under him.

Hundreds consulted him when making any changes in their formulas, or when any stock on their farm wasn't in a healthy condition.

Traveling men found him a shrewd buyer, one who knew feed ingredients, one who wouldn't order any but the best for the farmers' needs and they had to be priced right.

He had his whispering critics, however they resorted to falsehood to build their case.

Sundays, holidays, and all hours of the night, he was ever ready to open up shop with a smile, and care for trucks bringing supplies, or customers needing feeds. Hundreds availed themselves to this service, for which he received or asked no extra pay.

Many attractive positions, higher salaried than he had with the N.I.C.A. have for years been offered him. His love for the association and friendships among the stockholders held him to the job, but in providing for today, and the many tomorrows, one must also heed the financial side.

Although raised in the city, the chief ambition of his life is to live on a farm in this community, and the greatest pride of his work has been his former employers, the stockholders.

When the N. I. C. A. was an industrial infant, without swaddling clothes, (if you please), his disposition and good judgement were as a mother's smile and care in the nursery.

Many stockholders declare, when unbiased historians write the story of this Co-Op movement, to him will go the credit for the Association's success, and that he will be called, the best friend the Northern Indiana Co-operative Association ever had.

M. Roy Rush,
Director of N. I. C. A.

MENTONE FAIR

The annual Mentone fair came to a successful close Saturday night and the sponsors, the Lions Club, drew a deep sigh and prepared to take things easy for a bit and enjoy the assurance of a task well done. And it was a task well done. Too much credit cannot be given this organization for successfully putting over an enterprise of this kind. Several new departments were added to the fair this year and all received excellent support. The attendance during the entire four days was the best Mentone has ever had.

The drawing for the Lion Club raffle was held Saturday night with the following results. The Kelvinator Refrigerator was won by Eydia Stokas of Warsaw. The Fairbanks-Morse washer went to Mr. I. A. Nelson. The Mix Master was won by Mr. Tommie Blue.

Alfred Free won the N. I. C. A. coal guessing contest, and won the pile of coal. Mr. Free guessed the exact weight, 1250 pounds. Jesse Hileman of Disco won second prize, five gallon of gas, and Lillian Igo won third prize, a chicken feeder.

LIME-BURNING IS NOW BIG INDUSTRY

Early in the history of the country many crude lime kilns were built, and much lime was burned, where-ever outcroppings of limestone were found. Most of this lime was used for building purposes but much of it too went on the land after it had become air-slacked. Wood was cheap and abundant and was used in burning the limestone. The waste lime, mixed with the ashes, was often sold cheaply, as lime-ash. Today, states a writer in the Rural
New-Yorker, most of the limestone that is used for making building lime is burned in large plants, and commonly with coal or oil, and any bi-product often has to be shipped by rail or hauled long distances, adding much to its cost.

Between 1850 and 1870 there was an agitation in favor of ground gypsum or land plaster for use on the land. A commercial drive in selling this product brought it into widespread use in the East. Much of the stone came by boat from Nova Scotia to Boston, New York and other coast cities, where it was finely ground and shipped to all the coastal states.

BANANA IS ONE OF THE OLDEST FOODS

The banana is probably one of the oldest of human foods. Its origin is in doubt. Some authorities say it is native to India and China; others that Columbus found it growing in America. As known today the banana is the result of centuries of cultivation, notes a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Bananas were practically unknown in the United States until shortly before the Civil war. Prior to that those reaching American shores were regarded as curiosities. In 1934 some 43,096,000 bunches came into the United States.

Although there are hundreds of varieties of bananas now on the markets, the principal commercial one is the familiar yellow-skinned fruit which comes chiefly from Honduras. Red bananas do not find favor because of their strong flavor.

Few foods can compare with the banana from the standpoint of economy; their average price throughout the past year being but 5 cents a pound. For this small outlay the purchaser gets a good amount of vitamins A, B, C, D, and G; an alkaline forming food; those minerals that are necessary to health, and wrapped in a naturally sanitary package.

The fruit with small brown dots covering the greater portion of its surface is ripener than the clear yellow banana.

They should never be kept in an ice box, as this ruins the flavor and prevents maturing. One of the best methods is to place them in a paper bag with a string tied tightly about the opening, and hang them in a moderately cool room.

Cigar Tastes Corrected by Proper Soil Treatment

The poor taste and aroma of some cigars can be corrected by proper soil treatment, according to the Connecticut agricultural experiment station.

"Experienced cigar smokers," said Dr. P. J. Anderson, of the tobacco substation, "frequently correlate the taste with the appearance of the ash on the cigar. A dark muddy ash in most cases is associated with poor taste and aroma; while good cigars produce lighter colored ashes," reports the United Press.

The dark ash was found attributable to excess potash in proportion to other gases, causing incomplete combustion of the carbon, "and the gaseous products thus obtained are not so pleasant to the smoker as those resulting from full combustion."

"Good Luck" Bird Misnamed

Bird of good luck to many native tribes, the hammerkop has become an ill omen to people of Johannesburg, South Africa, who have goldfish ponds. Many ponds have been denuded of fish by the feathered nsnermen. Haunting ~~SILHMA~~ ~~.....~~, they feed on frogs. Recently a Johannesburg resident put a frog pond near his pools of goldfish. Both frogs and goldfish began disappearing and soon all were gone. His experience has become the lot of many keepers of goldfish, but now that the hammerkop is fond of fish they do not know whether it will be worth while to restock ponds. The hammerkop builds a nest six feet in diameter with only a small opening for exit and ingress, usually on a hidden rocky ledge.

Lightning Cures Boy It Silenced

While herding pigs Peter Schoti, a farmer's son, took shelter under a tree in Yugoslavia to escape a storm. Lightning struck the tree, according to a report received at Belgrade, and rendered the lad deaf and dumb. Three days later Peter again sought shelter under a tree. Lightning also struck that timber, hurling the boy to the ground. When he recovered he could speak and hear perfectly again.

YOUTHFUL QUERIES

Dave Morgan

It seems so queer that man should have been made in such a fashion that he may destroy himself without, or even with, his own knowledge.

Man knows that it is useless. Man knows there is no gain by it, but here we are; hearing of wars and rumors of the same, till we've almost gotten hardened to it. Most everyone has sympathy for one side or the other and everyone is either shocked or gratified with each report from Spain or China.

Why is it that there should be this natural fighting instinct in some people and a certain admirable level-headedness in others? Is it because the latter group is further advanced mentally or emotionally? Or are they just plain cowardly, as is the general opinion of those who love to fight?

I feel that these natural instincts which man is controlled by have been given us for a very definite purpose; and if man is to find complete satisfaction in the use of these instincts he must learn that there is a proper place for each of them in his life as well as a definite limit to their manifestations and duties.

So let it be with our fighting instincts. The World War has proven this fact so completely that there would seem to be enough food for forethought in that alone. It just seems that a certain group of people among us happen to know how to stir the layman from constructive thinking and doing, into action and thought that is extremely otherwise. And it so happens that these people are the very ones who stay at home.

It's a complex situation and it's not easy to understand, but when people start shouting that the Japanese soldiers are eating Chinese women and children, and that true-blooded Americans cannot neglect the duty of helping to alleviate human misery, you'll know that an Ethiopian is hiding behind the woodpile. Somebody cares about human suffering, but he's thinking about how rapidly his bank account is going to grow if he can get this bunch of soft-skulled saps into a lather.

After it's all over with, the boy who stayed at home and shouted, sits back in an easy chair with an uneasy conscience while the boy who went and never came back or whose life has been permanently wrecked, has gone to war for the 'honor' of his country. Honor! We sometimes wonder if a nation that allows such things to happen has any honor.

When the smoke has cleared away the belligerents look over the 'spoils of battle', compare it with the 'cost of battle', finding of course that nothing has been gained, and go home to make a bigger and better army. It makes them so mad to think that they, the best people in the world, should go home with less than they took with them.

And so it goes. If I lick you, you get madder yet, while I go home with a mind that has been relieved of a high pressure. After a while I get a little too unwary and you pounce on me and whale the tar out. It goes on and on, back and forth, hither and yon, nothing gained, plenty lost, but nevertheless ready for another good fight with that cocky Honyak by the railroad when I get better than he is. No wonder we seem to be living in Hell. Heaven won't even look at us.

School Opens Sept. 3.

After the excitement of the Mentone Fair and Live Stock Show, it is our belief that the school children will be quite ready to settle down and start another year of school work. School opens Friday, September 3, when the students will be given instructions as to equipment, books, supplies etc., but classes will not start until Tuesday, September 7.

Trustee Myers has given us the following list of teachers for the ensuing year. They are, Dale Kelley, principal, M. A. Smith, Paul Henry Smith, Walter Fenstermaker, E. G. Harrison, and Walter Bowers are the high school instructors; The Misses Margaret Langell and Martha Lebewill teach in both high and grade school as instructors of home economics and physical education respectively; and Floyd Hollar, Arthur Witham, Eileen Mollenhour, Mary Knoop, Ruth Templin and Anne Sierk will teach in the grades.

ARM IS BROKEN

Little Mary Lou Johnson, six-year-old granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Pittman, broke her left forearm Wednesday morning when she fell from a fence on her grandfather's farm north of town. The injury was not considered serious until she was brought to the office of Dr. Urshel Wednesday evening and an xray was taken by Dr. VanGilder which showed that what was thought to be a sprain, was really a break. The child was taken to Dr. Baum in Warsaw for the special treatment which was required and the setting of the bone. She is getting along nicely now.

Pilot-Fish

There is a small fish about twelve inches long, called the pilot-fish, a member of the mackerel family. This fish accompanies ships and also sharks, guiding the sharks to their food. It swims close in front of the shark, not only to obtain fragments of the food scattered by the shark but also to secure protection from its enemies.

Loss in Coins Heavy

Wear and tear on metal money represents a loss of more than $7,000,000 a year. The government stands the loss. Appropriations are made each year for the difference between the face value of worn coins returned and the amount such coins produce in new coins after they have been melted down and recoined.

More Self-Control Needed

Sometimes it takes more self-control not to do things than to do them.

First Year Baking-- exhibit of loaf cake and cookies. Jean Elliott first; Mary Esther Smith second; Betty Miner third.

Second Year Baking--exhibit of gingerbread and drop cookies. Jane Warner first.

Second Year Food Preparation--Leatha Walters first; Hope Deaton second.

Two of the dresses in the fifth year clothing have been sent to the State 4-H Club Exhibit at Indianapolis.

Miss Mary Alice Long made a silk "Best Dress" which will represent Kosciusko County at the State Fair. Her dress is of brown silk with white, rust, aqua flowers on it. There are four pairs of covered buttons of rust and aqua arranged alternately down the front of the waist. The dress made by Miss Mary Mellott is of black linen trimmed with white buttons from the neckline to the hemline. At the neck she wears a white linen ascot tie. Her dress is entered as a "Sports Dress" at the Indiana State Fair.

Saturday evening the 4-H Club featured a style show. The following girls participated in the style show: Phyllis Lemler, Carol Mahoney, Donna Rae Clabaugh, Maxine Murphy, Genevieve Kraatz, Martha Baumgartner, Jean Elliott, Edna Whetstone, Lois Whetstone, Laurena Shull, Alburta Murphy, Eunice Bush, Mildred Mahoney, Flossie Mikel, Mary Alice Marquess, Iola Tucker, Avonell Blue, Helen Long, Juanita Nellans, Irene Nighswander, Hope Deaton, Barbara Creighton, Clara Schooley, Helen Walters, Mary Mellott, Ruth Nicodemus, Mary Alice Long, Mary Beth Deaton.

From this group there were six girls selected as the best models to represent the Mentone clubs in the County Fair. The girls selected are: Carol Mahoney, Mary Mellott, Eunice Bush, Barbara Creighton, Jean Elliott and Iola Tucker.

FLOWER SHOW

The flower show, which was a department of the Mentone Fair this year, created much interest, and many beautiful specimens of nearly every flower grown in the vicinity of Mentone was on exhibition.

The committee, Mrs. Cora Vangilder and Donald James Smith, very apply assisted by Mrs. John Weissert, had been busy for weeks planning and soliciting and the results certainly justified their efforts.

Thirty persons made entrees for prizes and dozens of plants and bouquets were donated for the show.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Snyder of Crystal Lake arranged a beautiful display of gladioli which included fifteen named varieties and several large bunches of blooms.

The judges, Mrs. Edna Burns, Mrs. Myrtle Whetstone awarded the following prizes:

Best Mixed Bouquet

- 1—Otta Walburn.
- 2—Belva McGowen
- 3—Ercie Cole.

Best Bouquet One Kind Of Flowers

- 1—Mary Alice Long
- 2—Otta Walburn
- 3—Martha Welch

Best Dahlia Bloom

- 1—Mary Alice Long
- 2—Belva McGowen
- 3—Clara Riggs

Mr. M. C. Snyder of Crystal Lake was awarded all the prizes listed under Gladiolus Blooms.

In the class of novelties and unusual plants and flowers, first prize went to Gloria Cook on a "Bird plant" from Belgium and its curious seed pods. The second prize was awarded Mrs. May Borton for her "Crown of Thorns" which showed some pretty blooms and many thorns. Considering the fact that there are no commercial flowers in the Mentone vicinity, the community may justly be proud of the results of their efforts in arranging the first flower show ever held in connection with the Fair. If the interest of the general public may be taken as a guide, the department will be continued.

Mr. Jim Poole of the Chicago Live Stock Exchange, Mr. Frank Hirtman, Miss Marion Bergin of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Fremont Fisher and Miss Jane Jarrette were Saturday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fleck.

O. A. Highway, who was injured during the parade Saturday afternoon when he was knocked from his horse, is convalescing at his home near Mentone.

Price Brothers, LaGrange, Ind., used fifteen tons rock phosphate on their wheat ground last year and have ordered twenty tons for this fall. Their wheat yielded twenty-five to thirty bushels per acre and tested fifty-nine. They now have 4,000 bushels seed wheat for sale.

This same phosphate is handled by

WILL YOU HELP?

June 30th there was a section of our country that had its crops destroyed by storm. A lot of barns and buildings were destroyed. There is only one way these farmers can get back on their feet and that is by what crops they can produce another year. We find a large number of farmers in this area where their wheat crop was destroyed. Now, the question arises as to where they will get their seed wheat for this fall sowing. It is not too big an undertaking for 1899 wheat growers in Kosciusko County to donate seed wheat to this stricken area. We are putting out a call for all farmers in Kosciusko County who have wheat to donate to these farmers. We realize that some farmers' wheat crop was not up to par, but it is better than no wheat at all. If every wheat grower would make his donation, regardless of the quality, I am quite sure these donations would be appreciated.

We have three places in the county where you may bring donated wheat in to: The Farm Bureau Station at Warsaw, Northern Indiana Cooperative Association at Mentone, and the Sharp Hardware Co., at Milford. Tell your neighbors and friends about this neighborly deed. We help charity out of our county and now we have a good chance to help in our county.

We are asking each farmer donating wheat to tag his wheat he brings in to the three places, with his name, address, kind of wheat and if he wants his sack returned.

We have a fair estimate that this area will need about 2500 bushels. Can 1899 wheat growers donate that much wheat? We would like for you to donate what even amount you feel that you can for this neighborly deed.

Remember--bring your wheat in to the Farm Bureau at Warsaw or the Northern Indiana Cooperative Association at Mentone or to Sharp's Hardware at Milford. Bring whatever amount you feel you can reasonably give. Tag the sack with your name, address, variety of wheat and if you would like to have the bag returned.

Giving for a well known cause is satisfaction of the mind and contentment of the soul.

ALBANIA STEPS ON IT; TURNS MODERN

Law Forbids Moslem Women to Wear Their Veils.

Washington, D. C.—Veils are "out" in Albania, according to the National Geographic society. No longer will Albanian women in long, dark coats or bunched red trousers peer at the world from behind filmy headgear. The Albanian parliament recently passed a law forbidding the country's Moslem women to veil their faces. This decree will chiefly change the fashions of older women, since most of the young ones have already come out in the open.

"At the nearest point, Albania is only about fifty miles away from Italy across the Adriatic, yet until recently this rugged mountain country on the west coast of the Balkan peninsula has remained more oriental than occidental. It was under Turkish influence from 1479 to 1912. In 1930, some 683,000 of its more than a million inhabitants were Moslems. Not until 1928-1929, when the new Albanian penal and civil codes superseded Ottoman laws, was polygamy legally abolished.

"Under Turkish rule, Albania was kept backward. About its only industry was rug-weaving. Since teaching in the Albanian language was forbidden, education remained stagnant. Today, Albania has 581 state-supported primary schools, 14 secondary schools, and 278 of its citizens studying in foreign universities.

War Starts Change.

"Until the World war, Albania's interior remained isolated, barbaric, chiefly accessible only by horseback. Then suddenly the situation was changed by road construction and the arrival of motor transport. Albanian citizens were given a hand in this transformation, for each plain-dweller was made responsible for taking care of a twenty-foot section of road. By the end of 1933 the country possessed 1,118 miles of motor roads. In mountainous regions, where the roads were continuously interrupted by mountain torrents, bridges were built. The 360 bridges in existence in 1921 were increased to 2,674 by March, 1933.

"A decade ago it took a traveler on horseback at least eleven hours to make the approximately thirty-mile trip from Tirana (Tirane) across the mountains to the great plain of Elbasan. Today the same trip can be made by automobile in less than an hour and a half by a road opened in 1933 which winds in hairpin curves up the steep slopes, crossing many bridges and Kraba pass, 2,625 feet above sea level.

"Motor transport is rapidly being adopted. Taxis flit through the streets of Tirana, the army has a section of armored cars, and, although donkeys and pack ponies still used extensively in the mountainous districts, automobiles are becoming a common sight on the plains.

American Influence.

"Much of the modernization of Albania is due to returned American immigrants. In 1931 there were 30,000 Albanians working in the New England and Middle Western states. On returning to their native land, those who had wealth erected in Tirana and elsewhere, modern homes equipped with electricity, steam heat, telephones, and modern plumbing. They approve of their country's new national bank, fifty-five post and telegraph offices, and excellent air service established in 1925. Their sons play football, and their daughters attend movies and in shops demand lingerie like that of popular American movie stars.

"Although Albania has an area of about 10,629 square miles, much of this is covered with rugged mountains, forested or barren, and some more than 6,000 feet high. Only about a thousand square miles are cultivated and these primitively. Draining of Lake Malik in the southeastern part of the country reclaimed thousands of acres of farm land.

"One of the chief crops is tobacco. Since Albanians are inveterate smokers, one of the first pieces of apparatus introduced to start Albania's 'machine age' was a machine that made cigarettes.

"Important also among the crops are corn and olives. In former years only the olives were exported and olive oil had to be imported. Two oil refineries were established in 1930 and the next year olive oil was exported. Cotton, the growing of which was begun during the war, is raised for domestic use. Between 1933 and 1935, orchardists received approximately 200,000 free fruit trees from the Albanian government.

"Most of the country dwellers who are not farming are raising live stock. On the plains roam cattle, sheep, and goats. These furnish wool, hides and dairy products. Cattle, cheese, and hides are exported."

Queen Bees Registered

Santa Cruz, Calif.—Being a queen bee in California is little better than being a crook elsewhere. In California queen bees have to be registered. Santa Cruz county figures it has about 500 queen bees each with a retinue of 50,000 bees, but each will be registered on the dotted line just the same.

YOUTHFUL QUERIES

Dave Morgan

The past several months have been months of unreasonable and almost ironical, if not comical contention among our most prominent political circles. To those of us who must be the concerned spectators of these 'major' political clashes, there seems to be even a hint of pathos in the plot of this never-ending stage drama entitled, ironically enough, 'Me versus You.'

Conditions as they exist today are gradually discouraging the average citizens' enthusiasm for a democracy. Politicians seem to be just as human as the rest of us when there is opportunity to exercise their own self-interests. The party first, myself next and those back home after I get mine.

The issue which has caused the most disention has been the infamous 'Court Packing' measure upon which President Roosevelt has refused to compromise and about which the opponents have been equally adamant in their demands for an acceptable rearrangement. Now doesn't it seem so queer that such an epochal proposal should receive such divided attention. A plan that proposes a much needed change in our democracy being thrown aside because a bunch of congressmen refuse to talk sensibly to one another for the very apparent reason that they don't belong to the same party of clique! It is a bit tragic, isn't it?

Regardless of personal opinion as to the need of the proposed change, why should this difference of opinion exist? If the idea is so damnably awful, why don't they all decry it in one loud voice and have it done with? On the other hand, if it has earmarks of being useful, why don't they get their heads together and find a solution? It's possible, but party platforms seem to get in the way after the campaign is over. They've done so much bickering back and forth that they even have you and I scrapping about it. And why not? We probably know as much about what the country needs as congressmen who try to tell us what we should have.

Now I've been raving on about the inconsistency, the unbearable stubbornness, the irksome dilly-dallying and the selfishness of politicians in general without seeming to recognize those who do try to play the game as they are expected to. We do have men in our public offices who perform according to their duties and who never take undue advantage of their positions.

I haven't much to say as to the need of any change in the judiciary department of our government except that if there is such a need, I would never contest it. If the men on the court bench are dangerously conservative, then governmental progress is dangerously slow. On the other hand, the court can be dangerously liberal. The situation as I see it is that the fellows over seventy would rather see things go slowly but more surely, and the young bucks don't like it. If you can find a straight or even a clear path through such a jumble, make yourself known and we'll send you to Washington.

PICTURE DISPLAY

Don't miss the excellent display of kodak pictures taken during the Mentone Fair last week. They are on display in the west window of the Big Drug Store on the Corner. The prints, more than eighty of them, were taken by Robert Kinsey. Some of the action pictures of the free acts are very good and one especially good one is a close-up of a horse's head and neck. Some of these pictures may be used for publicity purposes in putting on the Fair next year.

Brown Reunion

The twenty-second Brown family reunion was held at the home of Mrs. Nancy Brown, August 29. A bountiful picnic dinner was served at the noon hour. A splendid program was given by members of the family. Officers elected were Mrs. Adam Bowen chairman; Mrs. George McKrill, vice-chairman and Mary E. Eherman secretary-treasurer.

There were members of the family and visitors present from Cromwell, Milford, Warsaw, Mentone, Fort-Wayne, South Behd, Mishawaka and the state of Washington.

DEATHS

Huffer

Ed Huffer, aged 62, was found dead Tuesday noon, August 31, at the old Huffer farm north of Palestine. Mr. Huffer had lived on this farm all his life until about six months ago when he retired from active farming and moved to his other place on road 25 east of Palestine, which he had remodeled and redecorated. The tennant and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Eiler, were absent from the farm at the time of his death and the body was found by his brother, Mr. Joe Huffer who resides near by. He had been in ill health for the past few weeks.

Having lived in the Palestine vicinity all of his life, he was very well and favorably known and took an active part in community affairs. He was one of the oldest members of the Palestine Church to which he remained faithful until the time of his death. He will indeed be missed in this organization as every Sunday found him in the place of worship, teaching the class he had taught for years and, in short, making himself indispensable to the church he loved and served so well.

He is survived by the widow, Nora Huffer; two brothers, Joseph Huffer of near Palestine and Sherman Huffer of Piercetown; three sisters, Mrs. Jennie Milbern and Mrs. Rolla Anglin of Warsaw and Mrs. Kathryn Vander mark of near Palestine, and a host of other sorrowing relatives and friends that only a life of service to those about him could accumulate. One son preceeded him in death in infancy.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the Palestine Christian Church with Rev. J. E. Smith of Edgerton, Ohio, former minister at Palestine, officiating. Rev. Elwood Dunn of Medaryville, Ind., also a former minister and Rev. D. J. Norwood, present minister were also present. Burial was made in the Palestine cemetery.

War Mothers Meet

The Marshal County Chapter of American War Mothers held their annual meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Weissert in Mentone on September 1st.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cullison, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Daniel, Mrs. Fanny Harris, Mrs. Jennie Dickenson, Mrs. J. R. Losey, Mrs. Belle Strang, Mrs. F. M. McCotly, Mrs. A. M. Cleveland, Mrs. Sarah Manuwal, Mrs. L. F. Overmeyer, Mrs. Nellie Baker, Mrs. Eva Underwood, Mrs. D. C. Knott, and Mrs. Ed Cook of Plymouth; Mrs. Gordon Rothrock and sons Jimmy and Paul Dean from

Goshen; Mrs. Charles D. Wissery and sons John and Martin of South Bend; Mrs. Melvin Cain and daughter Betty Jean and Mrs. Dora Norris of Mentone.

A chicken dinner was served at noon and the usual afternoon program followed.

BIRTHS

Dr. Taylor made a business trip to Warsaw Tuesday morning.

Ivan Clinker has been removed to his home in Akron from the McDonald hospital where he recently submitted to a major operation.

Howard and Jack, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Fawley of near Mentone, submitted to operations for removal of tonsils Tuesday morning at the McDonald hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. Clifford D. Carpenter of New York, N. Y., were Mentone business callers Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sandlin of Burket, have gone to Richmpnd, Ind., where Mr. Sandlin takes a new position with the Telephone company for which he had been manager of the Burket exchange for number of years.

The Misses Jean Manwaring and Annabel Baker made a business trip to Warsaw Wednesday afternoon.

"SAUER RUBEN" JUST TURNIP SAUERKRAUT

Europeans have long used fermented turnips, beans, and other vegetables as well as fermented cabbage or sauerkraut. "Sauer ruben" is the German name for fermented turnips, an appetizing, easily made food. Both spring and fall turnips may be used, but the fall crop gives better results.

Recent studies of sauer ruben by the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils show that the best-sized turnips range from 2½ to 3½ inches in diameter. This size produces a sauer ruben of superior flavor and texture compared with very small or very large roots. The sweeter the variety of turnip the better.

The investigators say that unpeeled shredded turnips produce a sauer ruben of superior quality resembling the texture of sauerkraut more closely than when the turnips are ground or sliced. Peeling the turnips removes some of the sugar and results in a product with a very mild flavor but low acidity and inferior keeping quality.

Slightly less salt than is used in making sauerkraut gives the best-flavored sauer ruben. When the fermentation reaches the desired stage of acidity the sauer ruben may be canned in tin, or kept in open stone jars with the surface completely covered with mineral oil; or it may be fermented from the start in glass jars and sealed without processing as soon as the fermentation stops.

TWO REASONS GIVEN FOR RUST OF IRON

Ordinary iron alloys rust for two reasons, says Popular Mechanics. First, the iron is soluble in water, so oxygen can get to it and convert it into oxide. Second, the presence of moisture and other materials among the particles of iron in the metal creates little galvanic batteries, which destroy the iron by electrolytic action.

In stainless steel the chromium present in relatively high percentages has the happy property of changing itself into oxide very quickly, in a few seconds, in fact, when exposed to air. Thus there is always over the surface of a piece of stainless alloy a very thin, tough layer of chromium oxide, which shields the particles of iron from attack by oxygen.

Other ingredients, such as nickel, also exert a similar protective action, in addition to giving the steel other desirable properties. Elements such as columbium actually guard the individual grains of iron against oxygen and thus prevent weakening and failure from intergranular corrosion.

Ordinarily, whenever the protective film of chromium oxide is broken it heals so quickly that corrosion cannot begin and the metal remains bright and sound. Occasionally a tiny pit, which cannot be sealed effectively by the chromium oxide, is present and starts a local oxidation that may cause trouble. Likewise, the surface may be disfigured by corrosion of foreign particles of iron deposited by tools.

Divisions, Weights in Boxing

The divisions and weights in boxing are: Heavyweight, formerly over 158 pounds, now over 175; light heavyweight, 161 to 175 pounds; middleweight, formerly 158, now 160 pounds; welterweight, formerly 145, now 147 pounds; junior welterweight (created in 1922), 140 pounds; lightweight, formerly 133, now 135 pounds; junior lightweight (created in 1921), 130 pounds; featherweight, formerly 118 to 122 pounds, now 130; bantamweight, formerly 105, 112 and 116 pounds, now 118; flyweight, 112 pounds.

She Slept Amid Stars

A discovery of great importance to antiquarians was recently made among the southern Urals. Workmen have come upon what is said to be the Turkoman grave of a young girl who lived about 1,400 years ago. She was evidently of noble birth. Buried in rich garments, she wore an ornate head-dress enriched with pure gold, silver locket and a veil covering her from head to foot, its folds studded with tiny silver stars. A bronze spoon and a knife were at hand.

Robot Tabs Air Raiders

Officers of an anti-aircraft brigade at Manchester, England, are testing a remarkable machine which gives warnings of air invaders. The "predictor," operated electrically, records the speed of approaching airplanes, their height, and the speed and direction of the wind. The information passes by electrical cable to the anti-aircraft guns.

Many Ferns in Jamaica

Botanists have classified over 500 varieties of ferns in the island of Jamaica. Many are seen to best advantage in Fern gully, near the north shore, where ferns ranging from the smallest to several species that grow taller than a man, line the sides of a cool canyon. The road winds through Fern gully for several miles, in a dense forest of sweetwood and figwood trees. Long slender stems known as "wites," which bear tiny leaves and are elastic, stretching when touched, hang from the graceful limbs of these trees, and everywhere are ferns, ferns and more ferns.

Certificate Eggs To Be Offered Indiana Consumers

A plan to provide Indiana housewives with higher quality eggs than what they are now buying was discussed recently in a meeting of representatives of the Indiana State poultry Association, Purdue poultry department, and Indiana chain stores, which was held at Purdue university.

The plan, which consists of educating consumers to differentiate between choice and poor quality eggs, is to be tried first in Indianapolis on an experimental basis, and if found satisfactory it will be introduced in other parts of the state. It is hoped to expand the consumer demand for better quality Hoosier eggs, whereas now it was said that more than 90 per cent of Indiana's high quality eggs are shipped to New York City and other eastern markets.

The high quality eggs will be sold "Certificate Eggs," and will include grade A and B eggs as determined by federal inspection. A committee to plan the details in carrying out the program on an experimental basis in Indianapolis was appointed. E. R. Menefee, of the Purdue Poultry department, discussed the plan with the group meeting at the University. Hobart Creighton, president of the Indiana State Poultry Association, presided.

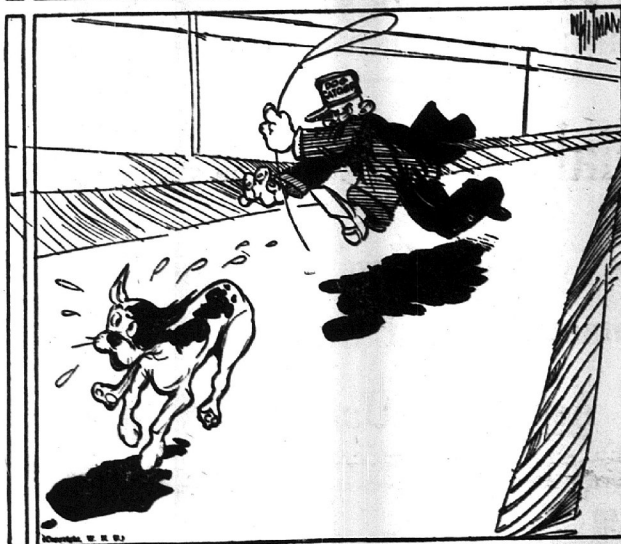

Following were persons appointed on the committee to carry out the egg quality program:

Walter Johnson, manager of Swift Company plant at Logansport; Monroe Schlosser, president of the Schlosser Brothers Company at Frankfort; Ora Beeson, chairman of the egg department of the Northern Indiana Cooperative at Mentone; J.F. Hugenberg, Kroger Grocery and Baking Company, Indianapolis; D. L. Harris, of the Indianapolis Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company; and one unnamed representative each for the Standard Grocery Company of Indianapolis and the Oakley Stores of Terre Haute; and E. R. Menefee of Purdue.

New Fountain At Shafer & Goodwin's

The Big Drug Store on the Corner has purchased a new Walrus stainless steel ten-foot fountain that is indeed an asset to our little village. The front is of black and green non-scratch, non stain composition and the fixtures and back part are of stainless steel. It has a capacity of forty gallons, and is Freon Gas operated. The new Walrus fountain is two feet longer than the former fountain and can be much more conveniently operated. With their refrigerator, Shafer & Goodwin have an ice cream capacity of 60 gallons, a capacity which will enable them to serve their public amply and well at all times. We are indeed proud to have in Mentone, merchants who realize the importance and advisability of using the last word in equipment, and who know from experience that it will pay the largest dividends in the long run.

ACCIDENT NEAR TUCKER'S BRIDGE SATURDAY NIGHT

A car driven by Verl Roose of Plymouth crashed into the base of the bridge near the Floyd Tucker farm Saturday night. The car was damaged to the extent of approximately eighty dollars. Roose had driven off the side of the road to permit a car, driven by Vincent Meredith to cross the bridge. The Roose car slipped on the wet grass and slid into the bridge. Miss Freda Borton, who accompanied Mr. Roose, suffered a broken nose and a deep cut on her face when the impact threw her against the rear vision mirror but the driver was uninjured. The injury was reduced at the office of Dr. Urschel.

Personality Brain Waves

Reveal Characteristics

Our biological personalities are highly individualized. They write their individual characteristics in our brain waves, according to Dr. Lee Edward Travis and Dr. Abraham Gottlob, who have been investigating this subject at the University of Iowa. Brain-wave records of 22 individuals were mounted on a wall and four experimenters were required to identify the brain-wave tracings. Each was given a brain-wave tracing from a known individual and was required to pick out the unmarked tracing on the wall that came from the same individual. The tests were repeated a second time. A total of 352 identifications was made. By chance 4.5 per cent of the identifications could have been made correctly. Ninety-four per cent of the identifications were correct, only twenty errors being made.

In the first test two of the men got 91 per cent of the identifications correct and two got 82 per cent. In the final test all were 100 per cent correct. "Our conclusion is that the human brain potentials have individuality and that an individual can be distinguished from other individuals by his brain potentials," they said.

DEATHS

Creakbaum

Daniel Creakbaum was born near Sevastapol, Ind., in the spring of 1867 and passed away at his home in Sevastapol on Tuesday, September 7, at the age of seventy years, five months and one day. Death was due to cancer from which he had suffered for the past year. He had lived in this vicinity as a farmer all his life.

He is survived by the widow, Lucinda Creakbaum; two daughters, Mrs. Eva Thorne of Warsaw and Mrs. Mary Dunmire of Elkhart, Ind.; six sons, Elvin, Lester and Charles of Mishawaka, Ind., Edward and George of Mentone and Ronald at home; eight grandchildren and a host of other relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Methodist church with Rev. E. E. DeWitt officiating. Burial was in the Mentone cemetery. The body was in charge of the Reed Funeral Home.

TEEL REUNION

The fourth annual Teel reunion was held Sunday, September 5, at the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Teel. After a sumptuous dinner a short business session was held at which time it was decided to hold the next reunion at the same place on the first Monday in September. Clem Teel was elected president and Goldie Teel Kesler secretary, for the ensuing year. A resolution of sympathy was placed on the minutes and a copy sent to Orven Highway, who was injured by a horse during the Mentone fair and was unable to attend. Relatives from Fort Wayne, South Bend, Rochester, Macy, Wabash, Akron and Gilead were present.

ANOTHER CALL FOR HELP

We are again asking the wheat growers of Kosciusko County to donate seed wheat for the area in our county which lost their crops by storm. Most of this damage was in Scott and Etna townships. It is estimated it will take 2,500 bushels of wheat to supply the wheat growers of that area. If every wheat grower in the county would donate wheat, regardless of quality, I am sure it would be appreciated. We have three places where you may bring your wheat; The Farm Bureau at Warsaw, The Northern Indiana Co-operative at Mentone and Sharps Hardware at Milford. We are asking you to put your name, address, variety of wheat on the sack and if you would like to have your sack returned.

It will only be a short while until these farmers will be needing seed wheat. If you can help by donating any amount, regardless of quality, then let's not forget, but bring your wheat in to any of the three places mentioned above, when you come to town.

Jones—Miller Reunion

Twenty-two Years in Attic

After Armand Bolon, French soldier, was wounded in an early World war battle near Mulhouse, France, he was sent to a field hospital. When well enough to travel, he asked for a leave of absence to visit his parents but failed to come back. August 7, 1914, he was listed as a deserter. He disappeared as completely as if the earth had swallowed him. A short time ago, French police received a tip that he was at the home of his parents in Andernay. Gendarmes searched the house and found him hiding in the attic. He had spent the entire 22 years hiding in the house. Although it was searched repeatedly during the war and afterward, he always managed to secrete himself where he could not be found. Until police were tipped off recently, no neighbor or passerby had ever seen Bolon in the house. He will be tried before the military court for desertion.

Girl Engineers Ship

Charlotte Wilson, seventeen years of age, of St. Andrews, Scotland, has qualified as a marine engineer and has carried out the traditions of her family by going to sea. She is engineer on her father's fishing vessel, the Katherine, and along with her father and grandfather she will sail regularly to the fishing in the bay. She dresses for her work in a blue jersey and overalls. It is her task to start, stop and maneuver the ship. She also helps to pull in the nets. She admits that it is a hard life for a girl, but she much prefers it to housework.

Famous Model Saved

The hundred-year-old model of an old Dutch frigate, which was given to Cecil Rhodes by Rudyard Kipling and has been on display at Capetown, South Africa, has been saved from destruction. The wood was molding. A search was made for a seaman who knew the ropes and riggings of the ships of olden times. Captain Neil Campbell of Table Bay was found, and he has restored the model to its original beauty.

Gas Flames Extinguished by Music or Sound Waves

Do you know that fire can be put out by music? This has actually been done in public by Charles Kellogg in London, England. By drawing a violin bow across a piece of metal he rapidly extinguished gas flames, reports the Milwaukee Journal. He says that from 32,000 to 49,000 sound vibrations per second are required for fire fighting purposes.

More recently it has been discovered that life—the life of men and animals—may be ended by sound. An ordinary quartz crystal can be used to produce waves which run in hundreds of thousands per second. These high frequency waves are known as supersonics—that is, they are above the range of hearing. Although no human or any other ear can hear them, yet they set up vibrations in the ear so powerful that they shatter the blood corpuscles and produce death.

How far such waves can be used in war is still a problem, but they have already found a peace-time use. They are used instead of machinery in making emulsions.

Mrs. Rose Morrison spent a few days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Rush.

Safer Headlighting

New York, Sept. 11th—To minimize headlight glare in the eyes of forty million drivers and all pedestrians, the Automobile Manufacturers Association announced here today that its member companies are undertaking a comprehensive program to encourage proper use and maintenance of headlamps. This new program will supplement the extensive activities in the general field of highway safety which the industry is supporting through the Automotive Safety Foundation.

In announcing the program, Alvan Macauley, President of the Association and of the Packard Motor Car company, revealed that the automobile companies are mobilizing the support and collaboration of the industry's thousands of dealers and service stations. In addition, the industry plans to make use of every available channel through which motorists can be impressed with the importance of proper use of modern headlighting systems to give relief from glare and of regular maintenance to provide safer seeing.

Commenting on the program, Mr. Macauley said: "The High incidence of highway accidents at night is a source of grave concern to the automobile industry as it is to every one interested in making motoring safer. While there are other reasons for the night record, such as fatigue and alcoholism, lighting plainly is an important element in the situation."

"The industry, of course, has long recognized it as such and has spent large sums of money in research to improve headlights. This research, which is being continued unabated, has produced the modern headlamp which is considered to be the finest and most precisely made piece of optical equipment in large-scale production."

"However, whether this headlighting equipment makes as large a contribution to safer motoring as it is capable of doing depends obviously on its being properly used and efficiently maintained by regular service. In this respect, it is no different from many other parts of the car."

"Briefly, it is for these reasons that the automobile industry is launching a broad and continuing program aimed at raising the standard of headlamp use and maintenance."

Supplementing Mr. Macauley's comments, Paul G. Hoffman, President of the Automotive Safety Foundation and of the Studebaker Corporation, said: "Although in some states and cities conditions are better than in others, due to the creditable efforts of enforcement officials and safety organizations, taking the country as a whole, neither use nor maintenance of headlamps is nearly so good as is desirable from a safety standpoint. As a consequence, despite the finely engineered headlamps with which cars are equipped, glare is causing unnecessary interference with vision because of failure to use this equipment properly while neglect of maintenance is so reducing the efficiency of the headlamps that many motorists are not getting nearly as much light on the road as they could have."

"While this is a continuing program, there is an especial seasonal significance to the inauguration of the concert effort in the early Fall, when accident totals normally increase with the expansion of vehicle use, early nightfall, and concentration of traffic at mass gatherings such as football games, etc."

Egg Prices Lower Than Last Year

According to the report from the Fourteenth Oklahoma Egg Laying Test conducted by Oklahoma College, Stillwater, Oklahoma, the average price of eggs per dozen for August was 15.09c. This is 7c under the price of Eggs for August a year ago. However, feed prices have also dropped. Grain in the past year has dropped from $2.23 to $1.79 and Mash from $2.18 to $1.62.

This contest has been running since October 1, 1937 and is drawing to a close. The Fifteenth Oklahoma Egg Laying Test will start at the same time this year. There are thirteen hens to a pen, ten high birds competing. Artificial lights are used. We do not know if anyone from this county is entering again this year or not.

ECONOMICS CLUB

The Harrison Center Home Economics club held its first September meeting at the home of Mrs. Ellis Tucker and daughter Irene. Roll call was responded to by telling which paper or magazine the family most enjoyed. After the business session the hostess presented three contests with Edna Murphy and Joy Miner winning prizes. The mystery package was won by Laura Plummer.

Refreshments were served and club was adjourned to meet in two weeks with Mrs. Hettie Cinninger of Atwood.

Morgan Reunion

The thirty-second reunion of Griffith and Jane Morgan was held at the home of Ellie Styles and two daughters, Vera and Ruth, of 221 South High St., Warsaw, Sunday September 5, 1937. At noon tables, loaded with good things to eat were placed before eighty members in attendance.

At 2:00 o'clock a business meeting was held. Roll call was taken by pres. Winston Morgan of Chicago and read by Mary Fletter of Valparaiso, Ind. New officers were elected with the following results: pres. Charles Morgan of Warsaw and secretary Mrs. Vernon Jones of Claypool.

The next reunion will be held at the home of Humphrey Morgan of Valparaiso, Ind., the Sunday before Labor Day. The oldest member of the family present was George Morgan of Oklahoma, 77 years, July 8. The youngest present was little Sonya Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan born July 8, 1937. The year closed with the loss of two members of the family, William Morgan May 25, 1937 and Sarah Cox May 26, 1937. There were two marriages and three births. Beside the eighty members of the family in attendance there were three visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Whetstone and the former's mother of Mentone.

Prison Gets Pipe Organ, School Tools in Trade

Lansing, Mich. — Michigan State college "swapped" a pipe organ with the Michigan Reformatory for a few machine shop tools recently. Warden Fred A. Chapman, of Ionia, explained the inmates wanted an organ for their chapel. The college had no suitable place to install the instrument, but needed the tools for use by engineering students.

56th Annual Convention Of W. F. M. S.

The fifty-sixth Annual Convention of the W. F. M. S. of Warsaw District, North Indiana Conference met at the Methodist Church in Mentone Tuesday, September 14th. By 9:30 the church was well filled and by noon approximately 250 members had gathered at the church.

The services began at 9:30 o'clock a. m. with the President's procession and at 9:35 a vocal solo by Mrs. Essig of Warsaw. At 9:40 Mrs. S. A. Guy extended a very cordial greeting to the assembly and Mrs. Earl Greenwalt of Topeka, Ind., gave the response. The morning devotions were conducted by Mrs. Hollepetter of Warsaw during which the congregational singing was led by Mrs. Bradway also of Warsaw.

One of the main features of the morning was an inspirational address given by Mrs. Werking, Conf. Secretary. Following this Mrs. Tillman of Nappanee presented the Reading Circle Diplomas.

Our 70th Anniversary was discussed by Mrs. Pittinger of Kokomo, Ind. and Mileage Roll Call was taken by 23 Auxiliaries, following which Rev. E. E. DeWitt gave the noontide prayer.

At the noon hour a most delicious luncheon was served by the Ladies Council of the church. The afternoon session did not convene until 1:20 so the ladies took that opportunity to briefly admire the town and spend the time socially.

At 1:20 a short song fest, conducted by Mrs. Bradway was enjoyed and Memorial Services were held with Mrs. Robert Tilly of Elkhart officiating. Featured on the afternoon program were three very interesting talks given by Mrs. Graham, Conf. Young Peoples Secretary, Mrs. Coleson, Conf. Children's Secretary and Mrs. Nossett, Conf. Treasurer respectively.

A playlet, "Blessing Center" was given by the Kendallville Auxiliary. The main address of the afternoon was given by Miss Mary Mann of Minting, China. Her highly interesting and inspirational subject was "High-Ways". Miss Mann led the Missionary Benediction that closed the afternoon session.

More than sixty attended the Standard Bearer Banquet under the direction of Miss Graham and Miss Stroup that was the main feature of the evening. This brought this most exceptional day to a close.

The success of the Convention was largely due to the untiring efforts of the membership of the hostess church. It was an event long to be remembered.

Co. Championship Game, Sept. 26th

One of the sporting highlights of the season will take place Sunday, September 26 at Rochester. Baseball fans and thrill-loving fans will have the opportunity of witnessing the climaxing event of the baseball season when the Talma Boosters will meet the Rochester Merchants in the final championship game. These teams are two of the best semi-pro teams in Indiana and the feeling between them is not of the best.

Ed Kreighbaum or George Smith will be on the mound for Rochester and Barkman will do the pitching for Talma. It is interesting to note that Kreighbaum was formerly Talma's pitcher, which will only add fuel to the flames Sunday. Added talent is expected to be submitted to both line-ups. Talma has already defeated most of the semi-pro teams in northern Indiana and Rochester has defeated many including the last year's Indiana State Champions, Bringham, twice this summer. The Boosters defeated the Rochester team twice last season by a score of 4-3 and 5-2.

The game will be called promptly at 2:00 p. m.

This Society We Call Intelligent

It is interesting to note to what ends and heights the human race might reach if it merely had the intelligence to do the things that it knows it should do instead of yielding to every human weakness and every human appetite. With the knowledge and light it already has the human race could transform the world in the next generation but the likelihood that it will is quite remote, in fact so remote that there is little possibility of its being done.

Society places into the hands of its weaker members the opportunity to drink and gamble away its substance, only to be faced with the necessity of levying a tax on that portion of society which has the will power to refrain from such waste to support these weaker members when they reach old age in pauperism or because of their acts are confined to prisons or asylums.

Society permits war to wipe out its hard earned savings and its reserve of man power and then saddles upon itself an oppressive burden of debt to pay for the destruction caused by war, of physical and human values. There is a law in nature known as the law of compensation. The substance of the law is that every act has its consequences, its pay day.

Society is blind that it fails to recognize the inexorableness of this law. If it did it would know that every drunkard, every gambler must in the end be supported and maintained by a tax on society. The drunkard who spends his life's substance for liquor and because it burns out his usefulness, his power to sustain himself does not pay for his folly. The unfit who produce unfit offsprings are not the ones who bear the burden of their error. The gambler who wastes his earnings and comes to old age a pauper does not pay for his folly. The nation that plunges a world into war does not pay the full debt. Society pays, and pays to the last farthing, not only for the economic loss which the degenerate's weakness has caused to himself, but in ever widening circles of its extreme ramifications as it effects all of society.

The Germans and the Dutch

The terms "Pennsylvania - German" and "Pennsylvania-Dutch" are used indiscriminately. There is a difference, says the Philadelphia Inquirer. The Pennsylvania Dutch are largely of German and Swiss origin. Ancestors of Pennsylvania Germans emigrated from the region of the upper Rhine and from the valley of the Neckar in southern Germany.

Ain't It A Crime!

A local man is looking for a device that will create static and radio interference. He says he has a neighbor who persists in getting up at 5 o'clock in the morning and turning his radio on the loudest pitch. And we know one who keeps his dog chained in his back yard and wakes his neighbors at all hours of the night with his howling and barking.

Then there is the woman who arises at an early hour, (especially on Monday morning) rushes through her household tasks and gets her washing on the line long before her neighbors have their water hot; she then keeps the telephone busy for the next hour enumerating the amount of work she has finished at this early hour, in spite of the fact that her neighbors have just finished packing lunches and getting children off to school and are anxious to be about their own work and are in no mood to be bothered with petty trivialities over the telephone.

Speaking of telephones, how often do you hear over the telephone "This is I" ?

The Japanese, if they continue bombing hotels in which many people are gathered and defenseless, will make war almost as dangerous from the standpoint of persons killed and injured as are the American highways.

Are you observing the 30 mile speed limit signs that have been placed at the city limits of Mentone?

If all the cars that crowd the highways on Sundays and holidays were paid for, the depression would indeed be over. The number of deaths and injuries that are continuing to mount in automobile traffic accidents would be diminished also.

In her column "My Day" Mrs. Roosevelt recently took her readers into her confidence by saying: "I am always terribly nervous until my bills are paid." A local business man told us yesterday "I am just like Mrs. Roosevelt, except that I am nervous until I get my bills collected."

In the good old days when a firm's iron safe was supposed to hold the day book and a handful of change, not much space was needed, but with the necessity of multiplied state and federal reports, social security and its accompanying records, the old safe will no longer serve. The average small business needs a safe as big as was required in the good old days by the First National Bank.

recently showed us an invoice he has had in his files for over thirty years. He is still doing business with this old established firm and still filing invoices.

He is going to need some more filing cabinets before another thirty years rolls around if his business and number of employees increase as in the past and state and federal reports and their accompanying records are kept as they are being kept at present.

We note a school in the middle west is introducing some new courses in its curriculum. Among them are "Every Day Living," "Social Behavior," "Spendings of the Family," "Use of Leisure". A far cry from the old three R's but what would be the matter with such a course in our own school? These are the things that concern our daily living and our getting along together, and what is more important than this?

The driver's law will not be a complete success until some plan is found whereby an offender and his friends can be thrown into jail for evidence of an attempt to use influence, political or otherwise, to aid an offender in escaping from the consequences of his infraction of the law. In the new Utopia every traffic offender will be judged on the merits of his act rather than on the question of his ancestry, family connections and social affiliations.

We were talking to a local business man the other day who employs considerable help. "One of the difficulties I meet up with most often," he said, "is finding people with sufficient enterprise about them to learn anything about the business. The attitude of too many seems to be to find out as little as possible about the business and accept as little responsibility as possible. Such persons never increase in value to the firm. They are never worth more than their starting wage. I had a boy working in my store as an errand boy. In three months he knew every item of merchandise on my shelves and its selling price, though his work did not call for such a knowledge. He is valuable help to me. In contrast I had a woman bookkeeper who worked in the store three years and didn't know the difference between beans and rice. She never took the trouble to learn. It wasn't in her line, she said. At the end of three years she wasn't worth a dime more than her starting wage, while the boy was worth two or three times his starting wage. Some people are just so lazy it is a pain to have them around."

Zion Park Named by Mormons

Zion National park in Utah, created by act of congress in 1919, was prior to its reservation as a park a national monument, called by the Indian name of the river, Muhuntuweap. The later name is appropriate, however, for in early days its principal accessible feature was named Zion canyon by the Mormon settlers, who, being deeply religious, felt the great mountains forming the canyon walls were in truth temples of God.

Okapi of Giraffe Family

Okapi is the native African name for an animal of the giraffe family (Ocapia johnstoni). The okapi is about five feet high at the withers. The forehead is red, the cheeks yellowish white, while the neck, shoulders and body range from jet-black to purplish and wine red. The hind quarters and hind and fore legs are snowy white or cream color, touched with orange and transversely barred with purplish black stripes and blotches.

FIRESTONE builds a first-quality tire made of top grade materials and sells it for less money because Firestone passes savings along to you in the form of extra values. Firestone controls rubber and cotton supplies at their sources, manufactures with greater efficiency and distributes at lower cost. Because of these economies you get —

PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS—8 extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the patented Gum-Dipping process.

PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES—because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.

PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING—because the tread is scientifically designed.

LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE—because of the extra tough, long-wearing tread.

SENIOR CLASS LARGEST

IN HISTORY OF M. H. S.

The senior class reports that it has an enrollment of twenty boys and fourteen girls making a total of thirty-four. This is the largest Senior class in the history of M.H.S. The Seniors hope to set forth ideals for those who are following in their steps and that the followers will attain higher rounds than they have yet reached.

CLASSES ELECT OFFICERS

The Senior class election was held September 9 and the following people were elected officers. President, Bob Tucker; Vice-president, Jean Burns; and Secretary-treasurer, Betty Hammer. We feel that the class has chosen very efficient officers and that with the aid of the other class members the activities following will be a great success.

The Junior class officers were elected as follows, Dale Wilttrout, President; Robert Eiler, Vice-president; Mary Mellott, Secretary-treasurer. Mr. Bowers is the class sponsor.

Our little Sophomores started out their second year of high school feeling that three years more studying would be greatly needed.

Mr. Mervil Smith is keeping them informed about the war affairs. They have teasingly elected Jack Shinn as their General and if the Japanese come over here they are going to throw rocks at them.

The Freshmen have not reported any election of officers in their class this year. However they seem to be taking on the responsibilities of being in high school, very successfully.

The eighth graders seem to be able to find their way around this year but the seventh graders have not been any more fortunate than the other pupils who have lost themselves between classes the first week of school in Junior High.

M. H. S. BAND NEWS

The band, composed of members from Mentone, Beaver Dam and Etna Green, under the supervision of Mr. Walter Bowers, has been quite active during the summer. On Tuesday night of each week the group met at the school house to practice for the concert they gave each Saturday night. These concerts were held near the main intersection of Mentone.

With headquarters in the large tent at the entrance of the fair grounds, the "Mentone Lions Band", as it was called for the duration of the fair, played for three free acts in the afternoon and evening each day of the fair.

School started, we find the band limited to Mentone students. The members are as follows: Coronets, Devon Cain, Doyal Webb, Paul Vandemark, Jack Shinn, Helen Walters and Lola Mollenhour. Clarinets Bobby Anderson, Jean Burns, Barbara Creighton, Lena Rush, and Sam Blue. Trombones: John Tucker, Kenneth Romine and Leatha Walters. Saxophone; Dortha Decker. Bass Horns; Robert Tucker and Robert Eiler. Drums; Marjorie Long and Robert Nottingham. Baritone; Forrest Meredith.

The band has accepted an invitation to play a short concert at the Warsaw Fair, also to march in the parade on Friday.

The organization is working to purchase uniforms needed for the coming activities.

SCHOOL STARTS WITH A BANG

The school year of 1937 and 1938 began Sept. 7, 1937. We're not sure when it will close but we hope sometime in April.

Classes met Tuesday morning and with a few changes in the schedule it was well under way by Wednesday. We have a very efficient staff of teachers and also a good student body and by the end of the year we hope to have accomplished a great many things.

Our enrollment this year is 359, the upper six grades being 205.

The High School Faculty has not changed since last year. The students consider themselves very fortunate to have their teachers back. The lower grades have had three changes in teachers, those being; Miss Templin who replaced Beulah Blackburn. Miss Lehman replacing Mary Knoop, and Miss Sierk who replaced Miss Esther Reece.

LOCAL STUDENTS WIN PRIZES AT STATE FAIR

We are indeed proud of our 4H club this year, both the boys and the girls. Each club exhibited some product at the Indiana State Fair this fall. Bobby Miner and Jim Besson exhibited poultry at the fair and Bobby received ninth prize as his well-earned reward. Miss Mary Alice Long also exhibited a dress she has made this summer in her 4H work.

The County judging team attended the fair and received 17th prize in Dairy judging and 37th prize in Live stock judging. These teams competed with 78 other teams. We are certainly fortunate to have such a fine group of future farmers in our county.

Mentone students who attended the State Fair were Mary Ellen Myers, Mary Alice Mosier, Everett Besson, and Frank Smith, all Seniors; Jim Besson, Sophomore and Bobby Miner, eighth grade. These students all reported a very educational and enjoyable fair. A new attraction this year was the improved buildings and lighting system. A large crowd from all over our state attended this fete held every year at Indianapolis.

MENTONE WINS 1 TO 0

Mentone's baseball team met Beaver Dam Tuesday evening on the Mentone diamond.

This game was well played by the pitchers of each team. One might have thought as he watched the game that he was witnessing the Big Leaguers at play as the final score was one to nothing in our favor.

Some of the outstanding features of the game were thirteen strikeouts by Wilttrout and a line drive down to center field by Linn which brought Secore dashing over home plate for the winning run of the game. This run was made in the first of the seventh inning. Fine sportsmanship was shown between the friendly teams throughout the game.

Fine Arts Festival At Goshen Sept. 28

The Thirteen District Federation of Clubs Fine Arts Festival will be held in the First M. E. Church, at the corner of 5th and Jefferson Streets, in Goshen on Tuesday evening, September 28, at 7:30 p. m. All federated club women are invited and urged to submit original poems, short stories, music, craftwork, paintings, and to exhibit precious possessions, as on such contributions depends the success of the festival. All women who wish to submit their talents are asked to notify the county art chairman or the county president in your own county. A committee will pick up the articles and return them.

A good program is being planned. The committee in charge hopes to use some of the poems and musical compositions in the program. Mrs. Lydell, 13 district fine arts chairman, will be the chairman of the festival and the four fine arts chairmen in the district will comprise her committee.

Those wishing to stay over night for the convention the next day are asked to notify Miss Eva Graham, South Main street, Goshen, or Mrs. M. H. Wissinger, 261 Emmerson street, Goshen.

The thirteenth district convention will be held the next day, Wednesday, September 29, in Goshen. Information regarding the convention will be announced next week.

Paul Jones' "Bon Homme Richard"

When Capt. Paul Jones of the American navy found himself without a ship in the midst of the Revolutionary war, it was the French who bought him a ship to go on with. He immediately named it the "Bon Homme Richard," with Benjamin Franklin's "Poor Richard" in mind, where the latter says: "If you would have your business done, come yourself; if not, send."

Roughness of Great Oceans

The Pacific ocean is less subject to storms than the Atlantic. This is due to various reasons, partly on account of its great extent and partly because there is no wide opening to the Arctic region. The normal wind circulation is on the whole less modified in the North Pacific than in the Atlantic. The trade winds are generally weaker and less persistent in the Pacific, and the intervening belt of equatorial calms is greater.

Plenty of Music in Library

The music department of Vienna's National library contains some 20,000 books of printed music, some 12,000 volumes of MSS., and more than 8,000 books of musical literature for reference.

Bones Prove Toothache and Arthritis Not New

The inhabitants of the Salt River valley during the Thirteenth and Fourteenth centuries suffered arthritis and toothaches, just as modern people do, archeologists concluded after examining the weathered skeleton of a man found in a wall of the Pueblo Grande ruins here, writes a Phoenix, Ariz., United Press correspondent in the Los Angeles Times.

The skeleton, measuring five feet in height, was the twelfth found in the ruins during the past two years.

J. D. Hayden, research worker, pointed to the enlarged kneecap and decayed and abscessed teeth.

"This fellow probably was too weak, or too ill, to migrate with other members of the tribe when they left the Salt River valley because the soil became waterlogged," Hayden explained. "You see his teeth were in pretty bad shape; he probably had an awful toothache. And this enlarged kneecap indicates a bad case of arthritis."

"A small group of the aged and ill folk remained behind in Pueblo Grande," Hayden said. "When one of them died the others were too weak to gather wood for cremation, as was the tribal custom. They merely dragged them outside to what we would call a porch, dug a hole and buried them."

International Color Code

An international color code, designed to insure a uniformity of color all over the world for the first time, has been drawn up by French scientists after long research. Tens of thousands of copies of this code have been run off for use by chemists, botanists, dyers, textile manufacturers and paper makers throughout the world. The new international code includes some 720 shades printed beside written explanations in various languages.

Columbus Monopolized Chile

MRS. ROOSEVELT LIKES FAIR "SAMPLE"

NEW YORK (Special).—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the President, like more than 200,000 others persons from all over the world, has already sampled the New York World's Fair of 1939 by visiting the exhibit the Fair Corporation maintains for the public on the Fifth Avenue floor of the Empire State building.

"I am much interested in this Fair," said Mrs. Roosevelt, after she had seen the ingeniously illuminated models and animated displays that promise so many wonders for the Nation's Fair. "It seems to me that there is opportunity here to do a remarkable piece of work from the educational standpoint. The conception of the whole Fair as outlined to me sounds very provocative of thought." The theme of the Fair is "Building the World of Tomorrow."

Origin of Name "Texas"

The name "Texas" is derived from a Hasinai word meaning "friends" or "allies," and in its original form was probably "techas," according to an authority. It has been used by the Hasinai Indians as a form of greeting. The word "Dakota" had a similar meaning among the Sioux Indians.

Musicians' Slang

In musicians' slang, a trombone is a "slushpump," an accordion is a "box of teeth," a band leader is a "front man," and a woman vocalist is a "canary."

Money, Latin; Cash, French

The word money comes from the Latin, moneta, which originally meant "a mint," because the temple of Juno Moneta, in Rome, was the place where money was coined. Cash, on the other hand, is of French origin, derived from the word caisse—a box.—Pearson's London Weekly.

Canyon Named for Mormon

Bryce Canyon National park is 55 square miles in size and has been under jurisdiction of the federal government since it was first named a national monument in 1923. The "canyon," which in reality is a great horseshoe-shaped amphitheater three miles long and two miles wide, was named after Ebenezer Bryce, a Mormon pioneer who settled there in the early seventies. It is filled with a myriad of fantastic figures cut through the pink and white limy sandstone of the Paunsaugunt plateau.
