DONALD 'RED' BLANCHARD

AUTUMN FASHION REVIEW RAISES $150 FOR NEW SCHOOL ADDITION

Around three hundred persons attended the autumn style show at the Mentone gym last Friday evening. Fashions by Carter's and hats by Olga Clark were ably shown by local models.

FORMER RESIDENT OF MENTONE BURIED FRIDAY

Mrs. Alpha G. Strong, 57, Twelve Mile, Died in Dukes hospital, Peru, early Tuesday morning, following a three-day illness.

She was born August 20 1896, in Mentone, the daughter of Oliver and Myrtle Hirschman. In 1915, she was united in marriage with Hugh Strong, who survives.

Other survivors are two sons, Loyd, Twelve Mile, and Robert, Denver; four daughters, Mrs. Esther Everest, Wabash, Mrs. Gladys Coffing, Roann, Mrs. Opal Grumpp, Denver, and Mrs. Thelma Butcher, Twelve Mile; one brother and four sisters, Loyd Hirschman, Akron, Mrs. Eva Kitson, Columbia City, Mrs. Mary Hammond, Mrs. Mildred Staffeldt and Mrs. Olive Werner, all of Mishawaka; 15 grandchildren. Three brothers preceded her in death.

Funeral services were held at Metea Baptist church at 2:30 o'clock Friday, with Rev. Harry Rhea, officiating.

Featured first were hat styles for both boys and girls. This was followed by two songs and tap dances by talented eight-year-old Elaine Frenger, of Mishawaka.

Older children, teen agers and ladies showed the next group of clothes. Following this, doll fashions from the "Doll House" were described by Mrs. Roland Lukens. Linda Lukens favored with a ballet of the harvest.

An interesting part of the revue was the men's fashions shown by a few local men. This was followed by the beautiful rendition of three numbers by the County Home Demonstration Chorus.

The Jolly Janes truly appreciate the interest and help of all who worked in any way to make this benefit the success that it was. Approximately $150 will be available for furnishings for our new school addition.

IN JUSTICE COURT

On Thursday evening August 27, in the court of Justice of the Peace Eiler, a fine of one dollar and costs, totaling $15.75, was paid by H. E. Giese, of Goshen, on a charge of speeding on Main Street in Mentone. The complaint was filed by Night Officer Eli Julian.

'RED' BLANCHARD TO ENTERTAIN AT THE MENTONE EGG SHOW

Star of the Red Blanchard Show heard on Station WLS, Chicago, Illinois, every week-day morning, and a well known comedian, who is seen and heard on the National Barn Dance Show every Saturday night, Donald "Red" Blanchard will be featured personally in the Mentone Egg Show, Mentone, Indiana, on Wednesday, September 23 at 7:30 p.m..

While Red was very popular as an entertainer before World War II it was as an enlisted man that he really found himself as a comedian. He appeared in many U. S. Army shows, both in this country and in the South Pacific during his several years as a G. I., and immediately upon his return, he joined the WLS staff as a comedian-musician, building a large and loyal audience.

So popular is this former farm boy in his home town of Pittsville, Wisconsin, that he was officially appointed Honorary Mayor and Honorary Chief of the fire department of that little city during special ceremonies when his many friends turned out for Red Blanchard Day.

Red is a most versatile entertainer, playing bass fiddle, guitar, electric guitar and numerous novelty instruments, as well as doing roping tricks, along with a line of patter that keeps his audiences on their toes at all times.

EARL R. NELSON

Last rites for Earl R. (Bill) Nelson 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Nelson, northeast of Sidney, were held Tuesday afternoon at the Landis funeral home in Warsaw, with burial at the Silver Creek Bethel church cemetery.

Mr. Nelson died Sunday evening at McDonald hospital where he had been a patient eight weeks. He had suffered from a spinal ailment for three and one-half years. He was born January 14, 1925, in Fulton county.

Surviving besides his parents are seven brothers, Lewis, of Jonesboro, Bruce and Dorwin, of Elkhart, Paul, of Mentone, and Lindy, Dick and Stanley, of Sidney; and three sisters, Mrs. Jane Harter, of Elkhart and Mrs. Isabel Flohr and Miss Julia Nelson of Mentone.

Those who see this comedian during his appearance in Mentone will have an opportunity to see how well he measures up to the statement made by Jack Benny when he saw Blanchard in an Army show. Benny said, "He is the most natural comedian I've ever seen."

NEW PIG STUDY
TOPIC FOR SWINE DAY

Swine studies aimed at improving the livability of newborn pigs and comparing mixtures of antibiotics for feeding hogs will be demonstrated and discussed for Indiana hog raisers at the thirty-third annual Purdue Swine Day, Sept. 18.

Site of the field event will be the Livestock Experimental Farm, three miles north of West Lafayette, on the County Farm Road.

Swine Day has been divided into two sessions, with the morning program dedicated to a conducted tour of current swine experiments. The afternoon program, to be held in the Hall of Music on the Purdue campus, will be announced at a later date.

Purdue researchers have been experimenting with a limited feeding of corn in order to produce leaner hogs on pasture. They have also been feeding various levels of fat to hogs, and using certain nutrients as supplements for corn on ladino pasture. Results of these trials will be reported at this field day.

W. M. Beeson, Purdue animal nutritionist, is in charge of the day's program.

ALL-MASH RATION

Poultrymen of this area are interested in the high-energy all-mash poultry ration which Dr. F. W. Hill of Cornell University, discusses in his recent article in The Poultry Tribune.

Dr. Hill claims this ration increases egg production about 5%, which could mean about one dollar more revenue per bird.

Jackie Robinson and his wife, Rachel, with two of their children, Jackie, Jr., and Sharon. In the column below, Mrs. Robinson tells what she has done to help Jackie, Jr., withstand the effects of prejudice.

Speaking of Families

By BETH JUDSON

"Mommy, you didn't wash my hands clean!" Jackie complained to his mother, Mrs. Jackie Robinson, wife of the Dodger's great second baseman.

"Oh, yes I did," his mother told him. "Your hands are perfectly clean."

"But they're not clean like the other kids!"

Then Mrs. Robinson understood. Her son, at 2, had just become aware that he was different from his white playmates.

"Haven't you noticed, Jackie?" she said, "you're a nice brown all over. Some children have a different color from others. And you're brown because you're a Negro."

For the time being, Jackie was satisfied. But today, at 6, this keen youngster is sometimes puzzled. There was his white playmate, Poppy, for instance. She played so nicely with him—alone. But when other white children appeared? She quickly gave Jackie the cold shoulder.

What can minority-group parents do to help their children withstand the poisonous effects of prejudice? What can they say?

The enlightened Robinsons may well be an inspiration to those of any race, creed or color. They believe in protecting children with an armor of love, security and self-esteem.

"Of course," Rachel Robinson pointed out, "it's fortunate for our children that our home atmosphere is one of warmth and love. Even our Sharon, who's 2½, and David, just 6 months, aren't too young to sense how much we love them—and the feeling of love and security between my husband and me. Children feel so much more secure outside the home when that's the atmosphere within it."

As for self-respect, at Jackie's age his mother gets across the idea this way,

"It's what's inside of people that counts, and the way they behave. If you're a good boy . . . if you're well-mannered . . . and you do what's right, people will love you."

Then the Robinsons often talk about all the fine things Negroes have done and how many wonderful Negroes there are. This gives Jackie a sense of pride in his race.

But if the color of your skin doesn't matter, why do some people try to make you think so? Jackie is beginning to wonder. . .

"Sometimes," his mother explains, "people who are afraid or angry or unhappy, take it out on others. That makes them feel big. They really don't know any better, so we mustn't blame them."

With his parents an inspiring example of all they preach, Jackie Jr., already has developed a fine sense of self-esteem. Now he can go into mixed groups and thoroughly enjoy himself.

When a new classmate recently jeered, "You're not clean. You're dirty!" Jackie was not disturbed. He remembered well what his mother had told him.

"I am not dirty," he retorted, "I'm a Negro! And I'm a good boy. That's what counts!"

JAMES MOLLENHOUR AT-3 WRITES FROM FLORIDA

Monday, August 24, 1953

Hi, Art,

How's everything back in Indiana? It's kinda wet down here in Florida. I've been back here about a week now and all it's done since I've been back is rain.

I was attending school in Baltimore, Maryland for six weeks at the Westinghouse plant, studying a course on a particular piece of radar gear we have in our squadron, so that I can help maintain it.

While I was up there the squadron moved from N.A.S. Cecil Field to N.A.S. Jacksonville. I noticed my correct new address in one of the papers I received today. I imagine you also noticed the change in rate from ATAN to AT-3. I was changed to a third class petty officer in June of this year.

By my being in a squadron and with it moving so often it would probably save you a lot of work to keep the below address on my papers, it will probably take me a little while longer to get it then but we're planning quite a bit of moving in the near future.

Address:

James A. Mollenhour AT-3
304-12-05
VF-31
c/o FPO NYC, N.Y.

However that address could be used the rest of the 559 days I have to go and would save you some trouble I believe.

Thanks again for the paper and I hope to see you all (the Rebel in me) around New Years.

Thanks,

James A. Mollenhour

Well, James, thanks for telling us where all our rain went to. The land is so dry in Indiana you couldn't raise a disturbance on it.

POLLINOSIS SENDS RED NOSES NORTH

The pollinosis (commonly known as hay fever) season is going full blast and a good share of the victims have gone to northern Michigan by now or are fighting it out with the aid of respirators, goggles, antihistamines, air conditioners and Kleenex. The highest pollen count on record has been reported but maybe this scorching sun will soon ripen the sneeze-weeds and end it all before the first frost.

Ora McKinley and son Dwayne left Monday on a vacation trip, to find a desirable place for Dwayne, on account of his hay snever. The report is, they are now located at St. Ignace, Michigan. They plan on being away about two weeks.

LABOR DAY TRAFFIC

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 2 — (Special) — Anticipating that Labor Day week end traffic may exceed prewar volumes, State Police Supt. Frank A. Jessup today warned holiday travelers against hazardous driving.

State troopers in the 13 department districts are under direct orders to arrest motorists observed in dangerous law infractions. District lieutenants have been ordered to pay particular attention to high accident frequency stretches of highway.

"Every effort will be exerted to stop speeders, drunken drivers, traffic lane weavers and, other violators before they kill themselves and others," Supt. Jessup asserted.

"Lives could be saved," he urged, "if each driver pledged himself to drive carefully and courteously."

A record traffic jam is expected on Hoosier roads, starting Friday afternoon (Sept. 4) and continuing until midnight Monday (Sept. 7). The increased volume of motor vehicles during the summer will be augmented this week end by holiday pleasure-seekers, state fair visitors and summer vacationers returning to their homes for the start of the school year, the State Police official pointed out.

Records show that 27 people were killed outright or died later of injuries received in traffic smashups from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday over Labor Day week end in 1952.

Let 'Em Ripen

Letting tomatoes ripen fully on the vine will make them tastier and more nutritious.

HAVE NESTS HANDY

FOR LAYING PULLETS

If nests are easily available for those maturing pullets before they start to lay, you will help avoid floor eggs and possibly cannibalism. That's timely advice from Joe W. Sicer, Purdue University poultry specialist.

Chickens are very largely creatures of habit, reminds Sicer. If no prepared nests are handy, the pullets will lay their first eggs in the corner of the brooder house, underneath a raised feed hopper, or perhaps in a secluded spot in a fence row.

Once they form the habit of making their own nests, the desire will carry over into the laying house and many pullets will nest on the floor. This often means dirty eggs. Pullets laying on the floor are tempting their pen mates to peck at the oviduct at the time of laying and "pickouts" can easily result.

Nests may be placed inside the brooder house while the pullets are still on range, or they may be hung on the shady end of a range shelter. Some poultrymen prefer to have two sets of nests placed back to back. In this case they cover the tops with protective roofing.

The same type of nests should be used on the range as will later be used in the laying house. If you are going to use community nests in the laying house, then do not put orange box nests on the range and expect the pullets to make the switch without protest.

600,000 4-H'ers Say "Let's Help Correct Safety Hazards"

Chicago—(Special)—The largest volunteer army ever organized for a peaceful mission is now "invading" farms and rural communities throughout the Nation. It consists of more than 600,000 4-H Club boys and girls whose objective is to show rural folk how to prevent accidents and fires which result in 14,000 deaths and 1 1/2 million injuries among farm people, as well as destruction of millions of dollars' worth of buildings and equipment annually.

Falls account for 36 percent of all fatal accidents in farm homes and 19 percent outside. More than 60 percent of all fatal accidents in working with farm machinery involve tractors, and overturning accounts for more than half of the tractor accident fatalities.

Safety experts give considerable credit to the contributions made by 4-H'ers for the reduction of one-fifth in the number of fatal accidents to farm people in 1951—the last year for which estimates are available—from the estimated annual rate in 1941, the first year of the National Farm Safety Week, which will be observed this year July 19-25.

Illustrative of the 4-H'ers do "approach" to the accident problem, a Tennessee club girl reported that she picked up broken glass, rusty nails protruding from boards, and other sharp articles in the farm lot; helped her father and brother become safety conscious in working with farm machinery; had a ladder with two broken rungs repaired; persuaded her mother to use a step-ladder in reaching high places in the house, and to always wipe up grease or water immediately if it is spilled on the floor.

A Texas 4-H boy reports that their farm tractor often was filled with gasoline to overflowing when the engine was warm. He called this unsafe practice to the attention of his father and brother and now the tractor is filled correctly. His small brothers frequently asked to ride on the tractor, but this safety enthusiast taught them to understand how hazardous it was to hitchhike a ride on a tractor.

Similar reports of the 4-H'ers participating in the National 4-H Safety program are legion. Instead of using "don't" admonitions, expressions such as "Let's Correct This Hazard" prevail.

Outstanding 4-H records of achievement in safety are rewarded with awards provided by General Motors for the ninth consecutive year. They include sterling silver medals for the blue award group in each qualifying county, and an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November for the state winner. Six state winners will be chosen to receive a national award, which is a $300 college scholarship. A handsome plaque, appropriately embossed, will be awarded to the county reporting the most outstanding county-wide 4-H safety program.

The National 4-H Safety program is conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Colleen and Donna Wilson

BEAVER VALLEY SWEETHEARTS AT MENTONE EGG SHOW

Colleen and Donna Wilson, The Beaver Valley Sweethearts, came to us from the Allegheny mountains in Pennsylvania. There, where they were born, their love for mountain music flowered. When they were ten years old, they were making personal appearances at public gatherings and in theaters. Their big chance came in the form of the Tri-State Amateur Contest on Radio Station WKST, New Castle, Pennsylvania. Through this appearance, they were invited to appear on Radio Stations in Butler, Pennsylvania, Watertown, New York, and Rapid City, South Dakota.

When passing through Chicago a few years ago, they were asked to make a guest appearance on the WLS National Barn Dance Show, and were so enthusiastically received, they were invited to become members of the WLS Family.

Colleen plays the guitar and bass, and Donna plays the Bass fiddle and mandolin. Both girls are brunettes, look like twins, but are not, and have vivacious, sparkling personalities. They both do solo work and are expert yodelers.

The girls have made records for the Coral Record Company, the most outstanding being Mocking Bird Hill. At the present time, they are recording for RCA Victor. Their most popular Victor records on sale now are: Pennsylvania, Wooden Shoe Waltz, Lonely Little Robin, He Loved Her Like a Sister, and more recently, I Care No

Augie Klein

POPULAR ACCORDION PLAYER TO ENTERTAIN AT EGG SHOW

WLS's popular accordion player, Augie Klein, started with the Station in September of 1938, as the accordion player with the Hilltoppers, and since that time has worked with the WLS Rangers, with his brother, Ray Klein, as a duo, but, is best loved by the audiences for his rendition of the popular Polkas, and by the acts, for the wonderful cooperation he gives in playing the background for their numbers. He always has a smile and a good word for everybody, and is untiring in his efforts to give the audiences the best in entertainment. Augie is at home at the piano as well as with the accordion.

Augie Klein was born, reared, and educated in Chicago. He is married to Mary Jane DeZurek, of the De-Zurek Sisters, who were formerly on the National Barn Dance, and they have three children. They live in suburban Elwood Park, Illinois, where Augie spends his spare time taking care of his home and yard.

No other accordion player in Chicago is as much in demand as our Augie, and you will find it a pleasure to see and hear him work when he appears at the Mentone Egg Show at the high school gym on September 22 at 7:30 p. m.

More, How is the World Treating You, You Get What You Pay for, and Just for You with Elton Britt.

You will want to see and hear them when they appear at the Mentone Egg Show.

MERL BLUE TO COME HOME

Sept. 2, 1953
Suwon, Korea

Dear Artley,

I thought I had better write you a line to let you know I soon will be leaving Korea for the good old U. S. A. so you could discontinue my paper at this address. I've appreciated the paper very much in the past and I'm looking forward to receiving it again when I get restationed back Stateside. There were a lot of times during my stay here that the pony threw a shoe and the paper never arrived but that had to be expected. When it did arrive it sure was very much appreciated.

Myron Coplen and I were fortunate enough to be stationed very close together and were able to have a lot of nice visits. Last week we went up to Kimpo A. F. B. and had a short but very nice visit with Loren Gross.

When I return home and complete furlough I will be stationed at Shaw A.F.B., South Carolina. I'm Looking forward to my new assignment in South Carolina. I'm sure I will like the location and will undoubtedly be working with the same radar I have in the past.

I should be leaving here in two weeks. If everything goes O. K. I'm hoping to arrive home around the middle of October.

I guess I had better close Artley, so excuse me for now. Thanks very much for all of the past papers and I'll be looking forward to them again in the future. Please give everybody my best regards and I'll be looking forward to seeing them all soon.

As ever,

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel

Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking appointments. Roomy seats with foam rubber cushions. Turn the key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You can see all around

You look out and down through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

And it's the lowest-priced line

A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers just about everything you could want. Yet it's the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops

An easy nudge on the pedal brings smooth, positive response—right now! Chevrolet's improved brakes are the largest in the low-price field.

I figure this demonstration saved me many hundreds of dollars!

I expected to pay that much more for a new car until I discovered I was better off in every way with this new Chevrolet!

Let us demonstrate all the advantages of buying a Chevrolet now!

MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

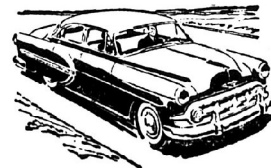

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide*

A lot finer performance on a lot less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

You get more power on less gas

That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field—the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gear-shift models offer the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrifty-King" engine.

It's heavier for better roadability

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady, big-car ride of this new Chevrolet. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than the other low-priced cars.

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

Indiana, being located on the Mississippi flyway, coordinated its dates to conform to those of Illinois and Missouri, by arrangement, William B.
Barnes, coordinator of Pittman-Robertson federal wildlife activities, said.
This year special federal regulations provide for a nationwide experimental season for Wilson's, or Jacksnipe, of 15 days from October 15 to sunset

October 29, and a bag and possession limit of eight birds. Snipe season has been closed for many years.

Bag and possession limits for ducks and geese will be the same as last year—four and eight for ducks and five and five for geese, two of which may be Canada geese.

Hunting hours are changed to allow for an extra hour, or until sunset. The starting time of one-half hour before sunrise remains in effect.
On the opening day of the season, however, waterfowl and coot may not be hunted prior to 12 o'clock, noon.

A forty-day woodcock season has been set from one-half hour before sunrise on October 1 to sunset, November 23. The bag and possession limits are four and eight, the same as last year.

A federal duck stamp costing one dollar must be carried in addition to the two dollar Indiana hunting, fishing and trapping license.

BANQUET TICKETS OVER

HALF SOLD FOR EGG SHOW

Eldon Horn, chairman of the ticket sale committee for the big Mentone Egg Show banquet on Friday evening of next week, reports that over half of the tickets are now sold and indications are that the next few days the balance of available seats will be taken. His report, given at the committee meeting held at the Mentone school Tuesday evening, was incomplete as he was unable to contact all those who have tickets for sale. All those selling tickets are to report to Mr. Horn by next Monday so he can definitely determine how many are yet available.

The Psi Iota Xi Sorority of Mentone will serve the barbecued chicken banquet dinner, starting at 6:30 next Friday evening.

It is believed that the Egg Show has scheduled one of the best programs ever to be presented at an egg show at Mentone. There will be three nights of excellent entertainment and educational talks. The WLS Radio Stars will appear on the first night's program, Sept. 23. Intermission music will be supplied by Mr. Clold Swartz on his Hammond electric organ, and there will be free movies at 6:00 and 9:30 in the barbecue tent. The first feature of the evening will be the Egg Show demonstration contests starting at six o'clock.

The egg queen will be chosen at 7:45.

Thursday evening there will be free movies at 6:30 and 9:30, band concert at 7:30 and the Kosciusko County Home Economics Chorus at 8:30. Prof. Roy Roberts of Purdue and Dr. Ernest W. Anderson of the Indiana State Egg Board, will give two very informative talks to the poultrymen.

In addition to the big banquet at 6:30, Friday evening's program will be highlighted by the crowning of the egg show queen, and the Purdue Variety Varieties Show, with Al Stewart as master of ceremonies.

You won't want to miss a session of the show this year. The poultrymen, businessmen and hatcherymen are putting forth every effort and financial aid possible to help promote profitable poultry operations in this area. Our sincere thanks to all of them for the splendid work they are doing.

Clem Teep was taken to the McDonald hospital for medical treatment on Tuesday.

MENTONE HOME DEMON- STRATION CLUB MEETS

The Mentone Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Claude Barkman in Mentone on Thursday, September 10, at 1:30 p. m. Mrs. Bertha Meredith was co-hostess.

17 members answered to roll call by giving their middle names. There were three guests present.

Vice-president Mrs. Oliver Teel presided over the meeting. The lesson subject, "Herb Cookery", was very ably presented by Mrs. Howard Horn. She pointed out that Herbs are leafy plants without hard stems. They are something to add flavor and seasoning. They have been in use since the beginning of Bible times and may be used either fresh or dry. Caution should be used by beginning gradually in their uses.

Samples of the more common ones were passed among the members and helpful leaflets were given to all. The leader, assisted by Mrs. Harry Sullivan, prepared some "Herb Burgers" for each to sample.

Meditation was given by Mrs. Bertha Meredith who read a poem entitled,

"Meditation" after which the group joined in singing "Count Your Many Blessings." In the absence of the president, Mrs. Harry Vernet, the Vice-president continued with the business.

A silent auction was held where many useful articles of clothing, fancy work, and food were sold to the highest bidder on paper.

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Harry Vernet and Mrs. Gertrude Hill.

On October 8 the club will meet with Mrs. Edith Darr at which time the lesson on salads will be given.

Our guests were Mrs. Leslie Grant, Mrs. Tessie Newton, and Mrs. Bessie Gross.

WINNING PRIZES THE EASY WAY

It's a well know fact that the only difference between a lady's ten buck bundle of Toni shade and a two dollar hat is two flights of stairs down to the bargain basement, but the latest wrinkle in coming out with the best in the shortest possible time was invented by one of our enterprising young poultrymen in the Mentone school.

Frankie Manwaring worked as a helper in the poultry building at the recent Indiana State Fair and he and one of his buddies took a second look at the pigeon entries and decided it needed something to bring it up to the standards required for a poultry state like Indiana. With the aid of a flashlight and the urge to go places—higher up—they took a nocturnal stroll over the cold stone walls and added a few entries in the pigeon pens.

The boys captured four ribbons, one of which was a blue one.

To heck with trapnesting and pul-lorum elimination—too much work—when you can win from any court house roof.

Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Nelson and Mr. Nelson's sister, Mrs. Caddie Rouch, and Mrs. Alberta Poulson, spent Monday and Tuesday at Beech Grove attending the General Association of Regular Baptists State Conference.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemler of Mentone and Fred's three sisters, Mrs. Maggie Imes, Mrs. Ada Bowers and Mrs. Ella Woodcox, all of Bourbon, returned home Saturday night after a one week trip to Montana to visit another sister, Mrs. Clifford Martin, at Sidney, Montana. When they arrived there, Mrs. Martin had left to come to Indiana to visit them. They went on to the Black hills in So. Dakota, before returning home.

MERRY MOLLYS MEET

The Merry Mollys Home Demonstration club met Monday evening with Mrs. Frances Mellott.

The vice president, Mrs. Eugene Sarber, opened the meeting by the group giving the pledge to the flag and singing America the Beautiful, which they followed by repeating the club creed.

The Meditation was given by Mrs. Bob Hibschan. The song of the month, "Go Down Moses," was sung. Mrs. Frances Mellott gave health and safety remarks. A very interesting lesson on "Herb Cookery" was given by Mrs. Frances Mellott. The ladies responded to roll call by giving their maiden name.

The business meeting was closed by the president, Mrs. Herschel McGowen, in singing the club prayer song and giving the club collect.

Those receiving gifts from their secret pals were: Mrs. Carl Whetstone, Mrs. Donald Horn, and Mrs. Marion Smith. The door prize was won by Mrs. Bob Hibschan.

Mrs. Everett Welborn, Mrs. Bob Hibschan, were in charge of the entertainment. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. Herschel McGowen.

The October meeting will be a "Hard Time Party" at the home of Mrs. Carl Whetstone.

SMYTHE - DARR

(The gremlins invaded the Co-Op. News last issue and secretly mixed up a number of lines in the following news story. There's no explanation or excuses, but it happened nevertheless. We're sorry it happened and trust everything stays in order until we get this reprint printed and delivered.—Ed.)

The wedding of Miss Monna Lou Darr, daughter of Mr. Elmer Darr of Riverside, California, and Don A. Smythe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smythe, Mentone, was solemnized, in a double ring ceremony, on Saturday, September 5 at 2:30 P. M., in the First Baptist church in Mentone. Rev. E. C. Ralston of Winona Lake officiated, assisted by Rev. Chester Doden, pastor of the church.

A musical prelude was given by Miss Jalaine Smythe and Mrs. Rex Yazel. Vocal numbers by Mrs. Yazel were, "Because," "With This Ring," "I Love You Truly," and "O Promise Me." While the candles were being lighted, Miss Smythe played, "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life." Ken White played the organ during the ceremony. At the close of the ceremony, Mrs. Yazel sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Bouquets of white gladioli among palms, provided the background for the wedding party which included the Maid of Honor, Miss Carol Eaton of Rochester, and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Alice Cornwell of South Bend and Miss Mary Bauman of Winona Lake.

They wore identically styled ballerina length gowns of light blue net over taffeta, with matching headbands. They carried white flowers.

The little flower girl, Danya Lee Creviston, wore a frock of light blue taffeta. Bobby Weirick, the ring bearer, wore a navy blue suit.

The ushers were Archie Cornwell of South Bend and David Bowser of Mentone.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Norbert Darr, wore a ballerina length gown of lace and net over white satin. Her fingertip veil fell from a lace hat edged in tiny pearls. Her bouquet was of white roses, with streamers of pom-poms.

Mrs. Darr, grandmother of the bride, wore a purple lace dress with black accessories. Her flowers were lavender. Mrs. Smythe's dress was grey silk with pink accessories. She wore flowers of pink and white.

Mrs. Josie Smythe, grandmother of the groom, wore a navy blue dress with pink and black accessories. Her corsage was pink gladioli.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church basement for one hundred and fifty guests. Those serving were Mrs. Harold Smythe and Mrs. Heston Creviston of Mentone, Mrs. Elwin Creviston, Ft. Wayne, and Mrs. Cedric Utter of Rochester.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Smythe are graduates of Mentone High School. He is employed at the Bendix Corporation of South Bend and Mrs. Smythe is employed at the Rodeheaver Publishing Co. of Winona Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Smythe are now residing in their newly furnished apartment in Mentone after a short wedding trip into Kentucky.

Long Bridges

Florida's Overseas Highway to Key West ranks as one of the longest oceangoing roads in the world. One link, the Long Bridge, jumps seven miles of open water. The Thousand Islands International Bridge between New York State and Ontario leaps from island to island for eight and a half miles. The San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge extends eight miles, including a tunnel in the middle through an island. A railroad bridge over Lake Pontchartrain in Louisiana is seven miles long, with a nearby highway bridge of five miles. Gandy Bridge near Tampa, Florida, which like the Chesapeake Bay Bridge is part causeway, totals six miles.

It's Home Fashion Time, September 24 through October 3. This is the furniture and home furnishings industry's annual style show staged in thousands of retail stores across the country.

During Home Fashion Time the new developments in furniture and home furnishings are highlighted. These important features show the homemaker how today's furniture can make housekeeping a pleasure instead of a chore.

Note all the convenience in the living-dining area shown. Round dining table has a lazy susan in the center. Small scaled room divider provides storage space and a serving surface for the dining area as well as the living room area. Mobile server with three shelves is almost indispensable in today's home. The modern three piece sectional sofa gives the room flexibility in arrangement.

The comfort, convenience, and style shown in this room setting are typical examples of new Home Fashion Time furniture. Whether you prefer Modern or Traditional furniture you will find that today's furniture is contemporary in function.

ADVERTISE — IT PAYS!NURSES IN DEMAND

Opportunity knocks twice for women who want to be nurses, according to Miss Helen Weber, president of the Indiana State Nurses' Association.

The girl or boy who cannot take a three year nursing course, or those who do not meet the requirements for entrance to professional schools of nursing can in one year receive training as a practical nurse.

"Enrollment has doubled in practical nursing courses throughout the country during the past year," she said. "Some 17 thousand women, many with only an eighth grade education, have been prepared in the past five years. The assistance they give to nurses and hospital administrators goes far to relieve the nursing shortage."

Nearly eighty percent of the graduates of practical nursing courses are employed, some seventy-one percent of them in hospitals.

"Of course the need for trained nurses continues," Miss Weber said. "The shortage has become almost a chronic problem. With more people making use of hospital facilities it is obvious that more and more young women and men are needed in the profession.

Indiana has 2087 students enrolled in 24 schools for professional nurses and 81 in the Indianapolis School for Practical Nurses, figures which fall far short of the state's requirements for adequate care of the sick.

EATING A KEY TO HEALTH

Lafayette, Ind.—Good eating and good health go hand and glove! That's why the daily diet frequently gets blamed for a poor physical condition and why proper foods must be called upon for a body-building assignment.

However, it's not enough merely to recognize the close relationship of food to health. Miss Ann Liggett, Purdue University extension nutritionist, says that good health is a family concern, and should be practiced regularly by parents and children. What makes the job of staying healthy easier is that each member of the family requires the same basic foods, even tho the quantities and ways of preparation differ from youngster to adult.

Father needs food to supply energy, vitamins, minerals and proteins. Similar foods will be needed by mother, but perhaps in smaller servings. Their daily requirements for these foods will include three cups of milk; one or more servings of leafy green and yellow vegetables; one or more servings of citrus fruit, tomatoes or raw cabbage; two or more servings of potatoes, other fruits and vegetables; and one or two servings of meat, poultry, eggs, dried peas and beans.

Parents should have cereal or enriched bread every day, plus butter or fortified margarine.

Small children need foods that build straight legs, strong teeth, firm muscles and resistance to infections and disease. They need milk (four cups daily) in all their meals along with a variety of vegetables and fruits, cereals, eggs and meat. All of their meals should be simply prepared.

Miss Liggett believes that foods should be cooked to bring out their natural flavor, and that very salty, highly seasoned, greasy foods be avoided. She stresses that fresh vegetables be cooked with only a small amount of water to save minerals and vitamins, and to assure a good taste and attractive color.

Pick Them Yourself

FROM SEPT. 24 TO OCT. 1

Due to circumstances over which we have had no control, we find ourselves physically unable to take the necessary active part in the harvest of this year's crop.

We believe the wise thing for us to do is to invite you to come to our orchard and pick your own apples.

While our apples were held back a little by the drought they were sprayed and were not hit by hail. If you come early you should be sure of getting what you want.

We have ladders and picking bags which you may use, of course, not to accommodate all at the same time, but the trees are not high and a great many can be picked from the ground.

VARIETIES:

Red Delicious - Delicious - Grimes Golden - Jonathon - Spitzenberg - Baldwin - Winesap
- Stayman Winesap.

PRICES—$1.00 to $2.00 per bu. basket. Baskets available.

PROTECT CRIBS FROM RODENTS

Lafayette, Ind.—Unprotected granaries and corn cribs in Indiana surrender more than a million dollars' worth of feeds and grains each year to invading armies of rats and mice.

Wherever there's farm storage, you can expect a visit from these hungry rodents, warns G. C. Oderkirk, specialist of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Purdue University. He advises farmers to prepare their cribs now, while empty, for the invasion that is bound to come when cold weather hits.

Greet rodents with a tempting meal of poisoned bait, placed where they can eat at their leisure. It takes only a few minutes to fit the corn crib with a bait box having suitable holes to allow entrance and departure of rats and mice.

Here's how the bait station is made: Cut away a section of the bottom board in the crib, and set a sturdy box inside, one that measures about one foot high, one foot wide, and two feet long. Then, hinge one side of the box, so that the poisoned food and water can be easily placed in the station from outside the crib.

Many farmers have found that two stations, placed in the south or southeast corner of the crib, where there is protection from the cold north and westerly winds, are the most effective. Bait boxes in corn cribs are particularly valuable in that they serve as permanent locations to expose bait, safe from cats and dogs.

Oderkirk also recommends that stations be tried along fence rows, away from farm buildings, in order to reach rats and mice before they find their way into granaries and cribs. Replace baits frequently, so that fresh material is always available.

Indiana farmers are advised to lock their gas tanks against theft. During the past few months, Purdue University agricultural engineers have received numerous reports from farm operators complaining of unaccounted for gasoline storage losses. In most cases, the estimated losses ranged from 100 to 200 gallons, too much gasoline for the usual amount of leakage or evaporation.

HIGH ENERGY

ALL-MASH RATION

Poultrymen of this area are interested in the high-energy all-mash poultry ration which Dr. F. W. Hill of Cornell University, discusses in his recent article in The Poultry Tribune.

Dr. Hill claims this ration increases egg production about 5%, which could mean about one dollar more revenue per bird.

WORD FROM MAX GRUBBS

Sept. 14, 1953

Dear Artley,

Just a few lines to let you know I am all right. Thanks a lot for sending me the paper. I really do appreciate it very much. I never knew how much a paper could mean until I got away from home a little while. I am also glad to hear that the boys from Mentone are getting home safely. My address is the same, so I hope to have more mail coming in. Believe me I will answer all that comes in. This shore duty gives me a lot of time to do so. I have been working in a submarine overhaul shop repairing engines. I hope they don't send me out to sea anymore. So far I haven't met anybody from around close home, except one man who used to go to the outdoor movies a lot. Well Artley, can't think of much to write but I hope the letters keep coming in. Thanks again for the paper.

More Pay

All types of wage rates were up from last year by about the same percentage for the country as a whole except weekly rates without board or room which were up more than other rates. Based on the average of all rates, increases varied somewhat by regions with the large increases in the east and west north central and the mountain states.

Wheat from this year's abundant crop may be fed profitably to poultry. It can be used to replace part of the corn in the ration for growing pullets and laying hens on good pasture. However, Purdue University poultrymen say not to use wheat as the only grain for chickens confined to houses or on dried up pastures unless an ample supply of vitamin A is provided. It does not carry the high vitamin A content normally present in yellow corn.

Engineers Needed

One reason for today's need for engineers: While it required 153,000 engineering hours to design the first B-17 less than 20 years ago, it took more than 3,000,000 engineering hours to develop the B-52.

MENTONE PEOPLE APPEAR IN FARM MAGAZINE

The October issue of Capper's Farmer has a feature article on the egg industry in the Mentone area, and of the various pictures taken by the staff writer, we see some familiar faces. Mrs. Gerald Ballenger is shown as she grades eggs, and Adam Carper's smiling face protrudes from under his engineer's cap as he is about to mark the weight on a case of 30 dozen of Mentone's quality eggs as they were being railroaded into the Carpenter Bros. truck.

Mentone poultrymen should feel fine to know that they can attract the attention of magazines that circulate nationally.

Adequate storage for this fall's corn crop will enable farmers to get a much better price for their corn.

Wheat farmers were taking as much as 50 cents a bushel under the loan price at harvest time when lack of storage forced them to sell, reminds Capper's Farmer.

But farmers short on storage space are saying: "Where, exactly, will we put all the corn? With 90 million bushels now sealed on farms, we still have to find room for what promises to be a fair-sized crop."

Most lending agencies consider storage structures good investments, points out the farm magazine. The government has extended for another year the loan program under which you can borrow up to 80 percent of the cost at four percent with four years to pay.

You also can reseal your old corn this year for delivery next year, and collect a resealing payment of 13 cents a bushel. That's fairly good "rent" for crib space.

Many farmers have built, or are building, pole cribs at little cost, the magazine adds. One Iowa corn grower built a structure to be used for corn storage and as a hay self-feeder. The sides are built like a feed manger, leaving an 18-inch opening which can be boarded up when corn is stored.

There's time to put up a multi-purpose building to be used now for corn storage and later as a farrowing house, brooder house, two-car garage, or machine shed.

Don't overlook the possibility of converting all or part of an unused building to bin or ear corn storage. The latter will require equipment for artificial drying.

However, remember that most of these buildings will need some remodeling, states the farm magazine. They have probably not been built to carry the high pressures on side walls which result from grain storage.

Regardless of the design or construction material your corn crib should: Provide for either natural or forced ventilation; protect against weather, rodents and thieves, and maintain quality for a two- or three-year period.

FEED FOR HOGS AND CHICKENS

FOR SWINE

For weaning pigs. Start when 3 weeks old with a drink made of 10 gallons of water to one gallon of semi-solid milk by-products, or if you slop, soak your grain and supplement in a similar mixture.

For Brood Sows: Slop with a 10 to 1 mixture of water and semi-solid milk by-products and mix with grain (preferably oats, bran and a little corn). This has a lot to do with your good strong pigs at birth.

For fattening hogs after they reach 125 lbs.: Soak your shelled corn for 24 to 36 hours in a mixture of 5 gallons of water to one gallon of semi-solid milk by-products and you will have remarkable success in weight gains. Semi-solid milk by-products is an appetizer and conditioner and should be fed to chicks, broilers and laying hens. Feed just as it comes out of the container mixed with bran or on your feed of mash. It will work with any kind of feed. Feed it all the time to your growing chicks and to your laying flock. For wet mash for laying hens use about 3 pints milk mixed with 3 pints water for each 100 hens. You'll get the best of results.

Don't feed this product as heavy as ordinary condensed milk products for BEST results.

This product is a proven and recommended conditioner and appetizer-fed to champions throughout the Central West. This milk by-product contains natural milk growth and appetite vitamins, acids and proteins, such as B5-Niacin Acid—B2-Riboflavin—B12-Vitamin—B1-Thiamin—Minerals—Calcium—Phosphorus—all of which make milk products so necessary to successful hog and chicken feeding.

LIGHTNING DAMAGESTALMA FARM HOME

The rain Saturday was good for the Newcastle township crops but it was bad for Mr. and Mrs. James Walsh of Chicago, who have a farm home near Talma. Lightning struck the back porch of their farm house west of Talma on Road 25 and set the house afire at about five o'clock Saturday afternoon, causing damage of $6,500. The residence is known as the Chas. Jones farm and is the second house west of Talma.

The Mentone and Rochester fire departments battled the blaze for about an hour and a half.

The high estimate of damage is due to the fact that the owners had just remodeled and installed all modern appliances in the dining room and kitchen. The Walshes bought the home 12 years ago. They live in Chicago but motor to Talma to spend the week ends.

FARMERS WITH WHEAT ALLOTMENTS LOOKING FOR SUBSTITUTE CROPS

Lafayette, Ind.—Because allotments are limiting their intended wheat acreage, many Indiana farmers are looking to other small grain crops they can use to fill out fields and keep rotations intact. Choice of a substitute crop is not an easy one, particularly for farmers who in the past depended on wheat as a companion crop for their legume grass seedings.

Choose wisely according to areas of adaptation and variety recommendations cautions K. E. Beeson, Purdue University extension agronomist. He reminds farm operators that crops such as winter oats and winter barley, both enthusiastically mentioned by some as substitutes, are in most cases winter hardy only in the southern part of the state.

Winter oats do not survive the average winter more than two or three counties deep along the lower Ohio River. Winter barley may be grown safely about as far north as U. S. Highway 40. In these adapted areas, farmers should seed both crops two weeks to a month in advance of the fly free date for seeding wheat.

A few farmers have done well with winter barley in northern Indiana on well-drained, sandy-loam soil. In the northeastern section, a number of others have found the Michigan winter barley survived fairly well.

Farmers in central or northern Indiana, with the possible exceptions noted above, will have to consider winter rye or spring oats as their logical alternate for wheat. Rye tolerates the drouthy, sandy soil areas while spring oats is best suited to the productive, well-drained, non-drouthy soils, and is the preferred crop on such land.

Although rye, particularly Balbo, has been extensively used in past years, and has proved highly desirable for pasture, erosion control and as a cash crop, it is objectionable because it volunteers freely and contaminates wheat. Heavy demand for Balbo, the preferred variety, is usually greater than the seed supply in Indiana.

Along the Michigan line, Spelt, a winter grain much like wheat, is occasionally grown. It yields about the same as oats, and has a similar feeding value.

CELEBRATES FIRST BIRTHDAY

On Sunday, at the Max Smith home, a number of relatives gathered to help little Sara Jo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith, celebrate her first birthday.

The birthday cake was baked by Sara Jo's great-grandmother, Mrs. Ora Tucker. Pictures were taken of the little guest of honor and her cake. She received several nice gifts, also.

Those present to enjoy the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Ora Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tucker and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tucker and family of Akron, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cooper of Tippecanoe, Mr. and Mrs. Max Smith, Mrs. Robert Smith and little Sara Jo.

The young lady's father, Sgt. Robt. Smith, is in Japan with the Marines.

NEW EVERGREENS NEED

PLENTY OF WATER

Lafayette, Ind.—With the approach of fall, more and more Hoosiers are turning their attention to improving the grounds around their home. Some plan to establish a new lawn. Others will concentrate on landscape plantings of evergreens.

In either case, early fall planting is the wise choice, say Purdue University horticulturists. This allows the grass to establish a crown before cold weather sets in, and have a source of growth the following year. Similarly, ornamental evergreens, helped by fall rains, become established before winter and make an early start in the spring.

A word of caution on the transplanting of evergreens is offered by H. W. Gilbert, Purdue landscape specialist. It's a must, he says, that they be kept well-watered during the fall, and don't remove the burlap. Merely loosen it at the crown, set in a hole two feet wider and eight inches deeper than the ball of earth, and place firm-ed topsoil under the ball so that the top is one inch below lawn grade.

Water thoroughly, after filling with topsoil to within four inches of the top, and tramping around the ball. Then without tamping and when the water has soaked in, finish filling with topsoil to grade level, or a little less.

Gilbert believes a slight depression around the evergreen is desirable to hold moisture and to allow the homeowner to mulch with peat moss or ground corn cobs. If the latter is used, put a handful of a well balanced chemical fertilizer over the cobs.

Stir the cob mulch several times during the next year to assist soil aeration.

CATTLE FEEDERS' DAY SET FOR OCT. 9

What effect will the feeding of aureomycin have on young beef calves and growing and fattening steers and heifers? For answers to these research questions, Hoosier cattlemen will not want to miss the annual Fall Cattle Feeders' Day at Purdue University, Friday, Oct. 9.

Animal nutritionists at Purdue have been investigating the role of this antibiotic in cattle feeding for a number of years and T. W. Perry, research, will be on hand to give the results of this work as a main feature of the morning program. Feeders' Day this year is scheduled to start at 10 a.m. on the Livestock Experimental Farm, located three miles north of West Lafayette on the County Farm Road.

How chopped forage compares with pasture as a feed for cattle will be discussed by W. M. Beeson, animal nutritionist. Four lots of cattle, including 96 two-year old steers, were used in this trial. The feeding of chopped forage alone, chopped forage and the new Purdue supplement G, corn, chopped forage and supplement G, and pasture only were tried as rations during the summer. Now the steers are on chopped field corn and supplement A.

Whether it's more economical to allow cattle to graze on pasture or to take pasture to the cattle will also be covered in this presentation.

The current interest of many cattlemen, particularly breeders, in dwarfism, has encouraged the Purdue animal husbandry staff to include a session on this subject. Dr. F. N. Andrews, animal breeding specialist, will talk on the "Present status of dwarfism in cattle."

Visitors at the field day will also get a chance to see 150 head of yearling feeder steers purchased for Purdue cattle experiments during 1953-54. Lunch will be served at the Livestock Experimental Farm.

Chairman for the morning session will be Claude Harper, head of the Purdue department of animal husbandry. The afternoon session, which will be held at the Livestock Judging Pavilion on the Purdue campus, will be announced later.

Farmers are reminded to stay on U. S. 52-by pass around Lafayette, when attending Feeders' Day. Signs along this route will direct them to the Livestock Experimental Farm.

House pullets early, say Purdue University poultry specialists. This means just as soon as they come in production. The adjustment from the range to the laying house usually takes a few days and for this reason it is advisable to put pullets in the house before high egg production is reached. Make sure that feeders, waterers and other equipment are not out of reach.

The four children of U.S. Attorney General and Mrs. Herbert Brownell, Jr., at lunch together. Left to right: Jim, 9; Ann, 14; Joan, 16; and Tom, 12. Below, their mother tells how her friendly guidance helped Joan with dating problems.

Speaking of Families

By BETH JUDSON

"They're a nice family—a very nice family," the maid volunteered as she flicked her dust rag over the furniture.

The "very nice family" was that of the Attorney General of the United States, Herbert Brownell, Jr. Children in the family number four.

"The last thing I could do," Mrs. Brownell said when she came into the room, "is set myself up as a mother who has any answers. We just coast along and sort of let Nature take its course."

She sounds casual. She is casual. But—with a purpose. Doris Brownell believes you can keep kids on the track much easier if you guide them along in a friendly, understanding way. It's when you block them with a battery of "no's" that they're tempted to jump the track!

Take the problem of the dating teen-age daughter, for instance.

"Joan was 13 when her first beau came around," Mrs. Brownell said. "She seemed so young to be starting, yet we didn't stop her. When boys and girls are old enough to want to go out together, it seems natural that they should. If we try to obstruct this normal urge, we can be pretty sure they'll find some way to get around it—and we won't know about it!"

Once when Joan was dating a boy her parents didn't approve of (for what they considered good reasons), there were no ultimatums. No "you stop seeing that boy or else . . ." sort of thing.

Instead, Mrs. Brownell frankly but in a friendly way, told her daughter how they felt about the boy. Then they let the matter drop. Before long, Joan of her own accord announced, "I'm not seeing Ted any more."

That's the way it usually goes with the Brownells. The dating problems of both Joan, 16, and Anne, 14, usually work themselves out in the natural course of events. As a result, their happy family life isn't plagued with unpleasant scenes, smoldering resentments, or outright rebellion.

Observed Doris Brownell . . . "Dating teen-agers are so much easier to handle if we can guide their activities in a friendly, understanding way."

BOOST SWEET POTATO YIELDS

Delay harvesting sweet potatoes for winter use until there is danger of a freeze, suggests Purdue University horticulturists. They say gardeners who harvest too soon are bound to cut their yields.

Even after the sweet potato vines become darkened by a killing frost, the sweet potato root continues to make some growth, observe the specialists. It's best to leave the vines alone, particularly since they add frost protection to the soil and for the roots.

When you do harvest sweet potatoes, keep in mind that they are easily bruised and should be handled carefully. After the roots are dug and dried in the sun for 30 minutes or more, place them in well-ventilated crates or baskets. And remember, sweet potatoes keep best under fairly warm and dry conditions.

WANT ATTRACTIVE GARDEN SPOT THIS WINTER?

If you want a garden spot that's pleasing to look at, and not an eyesore during the winter months, plan to seed a hardy cover crop by early October. You'll dress up the area and enrich the soil as well, says W. B. Ward, Purdue University horticulturist.

He suggests gardeners broadcast some small grain such as rye, wheat, winter oats or barley before the last row cultivation in the fall. Rye or wheat should be chosen in northern Indiana for their winter hardiness. Winter oats and barley are more adaptable to the southern part of the state.

Small grains will usually germinate in a few days, especially with adequate moisture. They'll show a rich green color and form a striking contrast with the winter snows.

A cover crop is particularly liked because it aids in the control of wind and water erosion, and when plowed under in the spring, will increase the organic content of the soil.

PASTURES PAY BIG

"It doesn't cost to improve pastures —it pays!"

That statement by an east central Missouri farmer sums up what many farmers in his state think of improved pasture. More than a half million acres have been renovated since the Missouri pasture improvement program got rolling.

Jimmy Low, Missouri cattle feeder, told a Capper's Farmer editor during a recent pasture tour on his farm, "My pasture will pay me more than a 100-bushel corn crop this year."

Low pastured 260 head of steers on 150 acres of improved alfalfa, bromegrass, ladino and timothy last spring and this summer. Eighty acres of improved pasture seeded three years ago made him more than 500 pounds of beef an acre last year. Others in the state have hit as high as 800 pounds of beef an acre.

"The cost of pasture improvement always scared me until I tried it," says dairyman Oral Gigler, "but it paid me back better than 7 to 1 the first year."

Gigler's records show it cost him $35 an acre to apply the 259 pounds of actual plant food per acre called for by soil test. His 12-acre improved pasture returned $3,000 in extra milk and feed or more than $250 an acre, the first year.

"What is the secret of high pasture yields?" Capper's Farmer asked the experts.

"There isn't any," says Arnold Klemme, University of Missouri extension soils specialist. "It's just a matter of doing the right things at the right time."

"Applying enough fertilizer so soil fertility is not a limiting factor is one of these major items. The others are seeding a recommended pasture mixture on a good seedbed and proper management of the stand."

"There's no one fertilizer that has proved superior for high pasture yields," explains Klemme. "It's supplying the total amount of plant food needed by the particular soil that's important."

You can get the plant food needed in many different forms, states the farm magazine. Rock phosphate is the cheapest source of phosphate in the long run. Muriate of potash or mixed fertilizers are the usual source of potash. Soil tests will indicate the amount of each needed, in addition to lime requirements.

Once you get the right balance of limestone, potash and phosphorus, nitrogen becomes the key. Extra nitrogen really gives pasture a boost. It gets pastures off to an early start in the spring, making a longer pasture season.

Forage from nitrogen pastures is much higher in protein. Often 100 pounds actual nitrogen (300 pounds ammonium nitrate or equivalent) on a pasture will bring back as much as 1,000 pounds of extra protein an acre.

Nitrogen and clipping have proved to be the best weed control measure farmers have tried. Nitrogen keeps the grasses growing vigorously, which tends to crowd the weeds. Clipping during the summer months takes care of weeds that survive.

CHECK FIRE HAZARDS

Savings of a lifetime—even lives—are lost every year in farm fires that could have been prevented.

Estimates show that farm property worth $133,000,000 and the lives of 3,000 farm people were lost in U. S. fires this past year. Carelessness and neglect were the principal causes of these staggering losses in manpower, livestock, farm products, buildings and equipment.

WARSAW, INDIANA

That's why F. R. Willsey, Purdue University safety specialist, joins with U.S.D.A. and the National Fire Protection Association in stressing vigilance in removing fire hazards during National Fire Prevention Week, which is from Oct. 4 to 10 this year.

Inspect systematically for these hazards, advises Willsey.

Start out by checking the lightning rod system. Replace rods or wires that are damaged or worn, and be sure ground connections are secure. Then look for defective sooty and poorly constructed chimneys. Either correct defects you find, or do not use the chimney, warns Willsey.

Combustible roofs are a constant danger where the chimney is being used. Correct faulty construction, remove leaves, guard against sparks and embers, and install spark arresters on chimneys.

Overhaul and clean defective stoves and furnaces, and replace unsafe wiring and worn cords.

Remember that many barns have burned because of spontaneous ignition of hay. Don't store wet hay in barns. Make frequent examinations of cured hay after storage and repair roof or walls of barn to prevent leaks.

Farmers should be sure they don't store gasoline, benzine, or similar volatile flammable liquids in the house for any purpose. Nor should they use them to start or boost fires in stove, range or fireplace.

Cultivate careful smoking habits, provide plenty of ashtrays, post "no smoking" signs in appropriate places, and keep matches away from children. Remove rubbish regularly from the house, cellar, attic and closets, and do not let oil rags accumulate. Willsey says debris should be burned outdoors only on still, damp days, preferably after 4:00 p. m.

Instruct your family, farm help, and train yourself to be constantly alert to danger of fire, reminds the safety specialist. Keep in mind that preventing fires costs a whole lot less than fighting them.

If that patch of Canada thistle that was sprayed with 2, 4-D is turning green with new thistle growth, spray it again. The new growth is from roots that were not killed by the first spraying. Purdue University plant pathologists believe if the plants are six inches or more in height, respraying will do some good toward further reducing the thistle stand for next year. Use about two quarts of 2, 4-D in 20 gallons of water per acre.

LOOK FOR, READ
BLANKET LABEL

Look for a label on the blanket you intend to buy, advises Miss Frieda C. Stoll, extension clothing specialist at Purdue University. And be sure to read it. It contains information which will help the shopper to make a wise selection.

If you find a blanket that is labeled all-wool, expect a wool content of 98 per cent or more. Labels mentioning part wool, refer to blankets containing five to 25 per cent wool. The word wool will not be mentioned in labels where the blankets have less than five per cent.

Blankets not made of wool, are usually of cotton, rayon or nylon materials, or perhaps a combination of these. Miss Stoll says a blanket that combines cotton with 25 per cent wool and a wool nap will be a fairly warm one.

Nylon, in blends, adds strength and luster and is also moth resistant. Blankets of 100 per cent Dynel, a material that has a soft feel and is as warm as wool, are also on the market in appreciable quantities. Dynel will take dye fairly well, but will not look good after laundering.

Don't overlook the size of the blanket on the label, reminds the specialist. For a double bed, a 72 by 84 inch blanket is the usual size. For the person who is tall and needs a long bed, 80 by 90 inch blankets are available.

Specific washing or cleaning directions should also be stated on the label along with the percentage of shrinkage, insurance of quality, and the brand name and address of the manufacturer.

McKinney - Dillman

Before an altar banked with beauty baskets of white gladioli and tall candelabra, Miss Donnagene Mary Dillman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Dillman, became the bride of Neil B. McKinney, son of Mrs. Ester Figel, Warsaw.

Rev. David Gosser performed the double ring ceremony in the Mentone Methodist church at 7:30 p.m. on September 25 as "Oh Perfect Love" was played softly at the organ.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Ruth Urschel presented an organ musical of nuptial music including "At Dawning," "Oh Promise Me," "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," "I Love Thee," and "Romance."

"Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Miss Marita Tucker, Mrs. Urschel accompanying.

The bride chose a two-piece street-length dress of pastel pink rayon and acetate trimmed with black velvet. Her hat was black and close-fitted with a forehead veil and she carried a white Bible on which rested a corsage of red roses on lace. White satin streamers flowed from the roses and tiny white pompoms were fastened to the ends.

Mrs. Sidney Alber, the bride's only attendant, wore navy blue changeable taffeta with black accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Rodney Gible attended as best man and William Blackburn and Dean Snyder served as ushers.

The bride's mother was attired in a navy blue sheer over taffeta with navy accessories. Her flowers were red roses.

Mrs. Figel's gown was of purple crepe. Her accessories were black and her corsage was of pink carnations.

A reception was held in the church basement following the ceremony, where refreshments were served by the Misses Jackie Blue, Jackie Ward and Mary Louise Bare.

After a short trip the newlyweds will reside in Fort Wayne where the groom is employed at Bowser's, Inc.

MARRIED IN SOUTH BEND

Miss Millicent Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Myers 748 Diamond St., and H. William Peterson III son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo W. Petersen, Jr., 823 Sherman Ave., were married on Saturday, Sept. 26, at the Holy Trinity Lutheran church at 4 o'clock. A reception followed in the church parlors with a buffet supper at the home of the bride.

Both are graduates of Central High School. The bride attended Hanover College, Hanover, Ind., and is a member of the Alpha Delta Pi Sorority. The groom is a graduate of Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., and is attending Drake University, Des Moines, Ia. They will reside in Des Moines.

Obe Haimbaugh is great-grandfather of the bride. Mrs. Edna Carey, great-aunt of the bride attended the wedding.
