Scores Highest In State Contest

Miss Anne Nelson, 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nelson of R. 5, Warsaw, scored the highest in the state 4-H poultry judging contest held at the Indiana State Fair Wednesday and Thursday of last week. Miss Nelson scored 1386 points out of a possible 1,500, to lead in the state. She will join a group of 25 other youth on a trip to Washington, D. C. and the United Nations in New York.

Miss Nelson made her unusual score while competing with her team in judging live chickens and broilers, candling and judging eggs and answering a 30-question quiz against 38 teams and a total of 152 boys and girls.

Janice Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delford Nelson of Burket, and Keith Besson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Besson of Mentone, scored 1334 points each for a team total of 4,054 points to place in third position in the state. Archie Leckrone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Leckrone of Claypool, scored 1292 in the team competition. Rules of the contest are that the three top scores only are included in the team totals.

The team from Sheridan placed first with 4,092 points and the Chili team was second with 4,072 points.

Janice Nelson placed fifth in the state on individual scoring while Keith Besson, with the same score, was placed in sixth position by the contest rules. Janice, also, due to the fact that she was enrolled at Purdue University, received a $75 scholarship for her achievement.

This was the fifth year that the Burket Poultry Judging team coached by Delford Nelson, has gone to the State Fair. Last year they placed fourth in the state.

A Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Eckert, of Route 5, Warsaw, are the parents of an eight pound, four and one-half ounce daughter, Debra Diane, born at 11:50 a. m. Wednesday of last week in McDonald hospital.

The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Elva Dall, R. 1, Claypool and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Eckert, R. 5, Warsaw. The mother and new daughter came home Wednesday.

Champions
At State Fair

Karen and Wilburta Latimer, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Latimer of Beaver Dam, won both grand champion and reserve champion honors in 4-H lamb competition at the State Fair last week. The Latimer sisters have been consistent winners at Indiana State Fairs the past few years, which is evidence of their ability to produce and maintain top animals in their breed.

Roberta placed first with her yearling ewe and Karen with her champion lamb. Karen and her lamb appeared on TV in Indianapolis August 29 with Lt.-Gov. Handley.

Other 4-H winners from this area included:

Sheila Binkley, R. 5, Warsaw, clothing; Ronald Severns, R. 5, Warsaw, in pig and swine classes; Mary Gawthrop, of near Etna Green, food preservation.

New Arrival

Mr. and Mrs. Chan Stine are the parents of a daughter, Lori Jo, born at the Parkview Hospital in Plymouth.

Good home lighting may mean the difference between success and failure. Follow these simple suggestions and your child will never be at a disadvantage due to faulty lighting.

1. Eliminate dark shadows in the study room by having an adequate source of general light (ceiling or indirect light).
2. Have a lamp of at least 150 watts for reading (preferably diffused-type giving "soft" light).
3. Eliminate glare (have no unshielded lights within direct vision of child at work in the room).

Your child will be able to make the best progress in study with good lighting. And the suggestions may be used to benefit the whole family. Why not review your lighting needs today?

"PROGRESSION"—BUT NOT PROGRESS (Industrial News Review)

We have a progressive federal income tax—which simply means that the more taxable income a man has, the higher the tax rate becomes.

Our income tax has also proven "progressive" in still another way.

When the tax first went into effect, a Citizen Public Expenditures Survey reminds us, the highest rate was six per cent—and that applied only to taxable incomes in excess of $500,000.

By 1941, the lowest rate had risen to the six per cent level.

Today the lowest rate is 20 per cent on the first $2,000 of taxable income—and from there the rates "progress" to a high of 91 per cent, which is just nine per cent short of confiscation.

The federal income tax, moreover, is just one of the multitude of taxes we pay. On top of it come social security taxes, excise taxes, state income taxes, school taxes, sales taxes, cigarette taxes, property taxes—and so on ad infinitum. The Survey shows just what this pyramided tax structure does to people of comparatively small means. Take a man who works a 40-hour week and gets $86 in return for his labors. He works 13 hours and 20 minutes to pay his taxes—as against eight hours to pay for his food, two hours and 35 minutes for clothing, and eight hours and 35 minutes for shelter.

The "progression" all right—but it certainly isn't progress. We are, in effect, devoting a third or more of our working time to just supporting government. Where will we go from here?

Milk Cans Are Going

Take another look at that old milk can. It may not be around forever.

Bulk milk coolers are replacing milk cans and mechanical coolers on Indiana farms at a rapid rate, according to two Purdue University agricultural economists.

Rollin O. Dunsdon and Charles E. French say most Hoosier markets now have milk picked up in both cans and bulk tank trucks. They're concerned over the inefficient marketing this dual marketing arrangement is causing. Markets are tending toward 100 per cent bulk conversion, the specialists find.

Where does this place the milk producer? Should he continue with milk cans or go to bulk cooling? Dunsdon and French just recently released a Purdue extension publication on this subject. They've entitled it, "Does It Pay to Market Bulk Cooled Milk." It should be a real help to interested producers, because the bulletin explains how to compare savings and investment, on any given tank system. Economists break up savings of bulk cooling into two types—direct and indirect. Direct savings may be found in milk, labor, operating costs, can costs and fat tests. Few farmers will save on all of them, say the specialists. Indirect savings can hardly be put into dollars, but they mean such things as improved quality, easier work load, and an improved bargaining position for the producer.

The decision to go to bulk or stay with cans is no easy one, say economists. A farmer must evaluate costs and savings of his bulk system against the costs he would have with a can system in the same period. He must consider also whether he will lose his grade A market if he does not buy a bulk cooler.

Many of the things a producer must think about in making the right decision are brought up in this new Purdue Extension Circular 421, "Does It Pay to Market Bulk Cooled Milk." Farmers and other members of the dairy industry should see their local county extension agents for free copies.

Special Services At Etna Green

The Etna Green Evangelical United Brethren Church was host to 120 people that nearly filled the church last Sunday evening with guests from Harrison Center Evangelical United Brethren Church, and the young people from Washington Center Church. At this old fashioned Gospel hour there were many who participated in the music. Miss Janet Sue Bechtold and Miss Gene Bechtold, from Columbia City, played a Trumpet Duet, "The Holy City." James White led a rousing song service and played his trombone. The orchestra from the Etna Green church played special numbers, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bollinger from North Manchester played and sang, Mrs. Bollinger playing the accordion. James White, accordionist, and Dale Clabaugh, trombonist, played a duet, Ralph Clabaugh, Bourbon, trombonist, gave a special number. The pastor brought a stirring message to the young people on the theme "Hold that Line."

Rev. and Mrs. H. R. Steele had the young people as guests after the evening service. Refreshments were served to forty-five.

Big Dairy Show To Open In Chicago

America's dairyland will reveal its best products and its finest herds at the forthcoming 4th annual International Dairy Show October 6 to 13, in the International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock Yards. The Amphitheatre is undergoing a third big expansion which, when completed, will make it the world's largest exhibition building.

Owners of purebred dairy animals from coast to coast and from Canada to the Gulf plan to send their best animals to the competitions of the six breeds of dairy cattle that will be featured at the Chicago show. The management is preparing quarters in the Amphitheatre to house more than 2000 head.

Plan "Golden Spurs" Rodeo

A world-championship rodeo, one of the country's biggest in number of competing riders, will be featured daily during the 8-day run of the International Dairy Show.

Top cowhands of the world have indicated they will be in Chicago competing for the International Rodeo's coveted and unique awards—Golden Spurs, plus big cash purses and championship points. They risk life and limb in this dangerous sport that includes bull-riding, steer-wrestling, bare-back and saddle bronc-riding, and bull-dogging.

The management anticipates an entry of from 200 to 300 Quarter Horses in the International Quarter Horse show—another co-feature of the Dairy Show. These horses will be seen competing in both conformation and performance trials. The Quarter horse derives its name for being the fastest horse over a quarter of a mile.

5 days of Judging

Judging of the six dairy breeds will fill most of the daytime hours from Monday, October 8 through Friday, October 12, according to those in charge of the cattle department. All junior classes, consisting of entries owned and shown by young 4-H and F. F. A. members, will be judged on Monday, October 8.

Three breeds—Brown Swiss, Guernseys, and Jerseys—are scheduled for judging October 9 and 10; Holsteins, Ayrshires, and Milking Shorthorns are set for October 11 and 12.

Group tours to Chicago and the show for farm people, organized last year for the first time, will be repeated, according to the management. It will include transportation to the show and return, hotel rooms if desired, and reserved seats for the International Rodeo.

A Gallon Or a Pint

Why not be a walk-in today? At the Red Cross Bloodmobile unit set up at the Warsaw Masonic Temple Thursday, Sept. 6, between the hours of 10:00 and 3:45.

If the quota of 110 pints is to be filled new donors will be needed. Several from this vicinity are already scheduled.

John Miller, past commander of the Warsaw American Legion, believes giving blood is one of the most compensating things a person can do. Talk to any of the 113 members of the newly formed "Gallon Club." All have the same opinion. The local vicinity has four members in this club. Mrs. Elery Nellans heads the list after having given 17 pints of blood. The others are: Dale Wallace 14 pints, Lyman Mollenhour 11 pints and Mrs. Conda Walburn 10 pints. Several more are near the same goal.

Mrs. Nellans says that if at all possible she wants to give four gallons—one for each of her children. Most certainly, a mother for which we are very proud. Someone needs some of your blood.

Fumigate Grain Now

Now is the time to examine stored wheat for signs of weevil infestation, says Glen Lehker, Purdue University extension entomologist.

Lehker reminds farmers and grain handlers that insect and rodent contaminated grain can no longer be sold for food purposes. Federal food and drug laws now allow only one per cent insect damaged kernels as contrasted to two percent prior to last July 1.

To date 23 cars of wheat have been seized throughout the country and condemned by federal inspectors. This means that farmers are finding it increasingly difficult, if not impossible, to sell contaminated grain, the Purdue specialist says. Stored wheat, therefore, should be examined now and fumigated if necessary.

There are many excellent fumigants on the market and if they fail to give satisfactory results, it is because they are not used properly, Lehker believes. Of greatest importance is the use of enough material to kill the insects. Grain in wooden open-top bins requires from four to eight gallons of fumigant per 1000 bushels, depending on the formula used. Under no circumstances should less material be applied than called for in the directions; in many cases more is required. This is because label directions usually are based on gas tight bins of which few are in existence.

Additional directions given by Lehker are as follows: Be sure the grain surface is level and at least six inches below the top of the bin walls. Then spring or spray the fumigant evenly over the entire grain surface. The fumigation job should be done on a warm day when there is no wind and when the temperature is above 70 degrees.

Dairy Herd Pays

Records for Marshall County's Dairy Herd Improvement Association in 1955 show that a dairy herd may return attractive dividends for money invested on the farm during a 12-month period.

As an illustration, G. A. Williams, extension dairyman at Purdue University, divided records of one of the herds on test into three equal groups. Milk production per cow for the highest producers was 9293 pounds of milk, compared with 4811 pounds for the lowest one-third.

The total yearly feed cost for the loafers was only $14 less than that for the more profitable cows. However, the superior cows showed an income above feed cost of $1434 more than the same number of their stable-mates. Every extra dollar the owner invested in feed for the good cows returned $102.43. And, the highest producing cow exceeded the combined milk production of the three lowest milkers by 2738 lbs., but was fed less grain than any one of the three.

Williams says the dairy cow is a living machine, converting the roughages and concentrates into milk—natures most nearly perfect human food. If she is not supplied with the raw materials she requires to convert into milk, her output and her income to her owner must be reduced, asserts the specialist.

"Many dairymen who are increasing the size of their herds and making investments in new and larger equipment, would increase their labor income faster by improving what they have before adding to the size of the present herd. Higher producers, not larger units of production, is my recommendation," Williams adds.

Uses For Gourds

Gardeners who are growing gourds for use as ornamentals, birdhouses or exhibits have been offered some advice by W. B. Ward, extension horticulturist at Purdue University.

Ward says the larger gourds should be left on the vines until the outer rind has hardened and turned from green to an amber color.

The gourds should then be cut from the vines, hung up by the stem in a dry, warm place, and left until the seeds rattle on the inside.

To finish to a high luster, Ward suggests that the epidermis be scraped off and gourd sanded down. He adds that dipper-type or bottleneck gourds may be used for birdhouses.

Plans Complete For Big Egg Show Next Week

A general committee meeting was held in the Mentone school Tuesday evening at which time all details of the big Mentone Egg Show, to be held at the school on next Thursday and Friday evenings, were thoroughly discussed. Indications are that everything regarding the show is on schedule and progressing nicely.

The banquet committee reported that they have arranged to have nearly one and a quarter pounds of french fried chicken to each person attending the banquet Friday evening, Sept. 21, so there should be no reason for anyone to go away hungry. Tickets for the banquet are now on sale and only 400 will be made available this year. If you have not purchased your ticket, better get one shortly.

The program committee announces that Homer and Jethro, the famous WLS comedy team, have been secured to furnish a portion of the entertainment on the first evening of the show. There will be a concert by the Mentone high school band, and a film, "ABC of Egg Buying," will be shown.

A big feature on the first evening's program will be the selection of the egg show queen and her court of four young ladies. Five schools have already submitted the name of their candidate, and five or six others will likely be named within a day or two. The queen will be appropriately given her crown on the following evening.

Queen candidates already announced are:

Jo Ann Tucker, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edison Tucker of south of Mentone. She will represent the Beaver Dam High School.

Linda Scott, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scott, will represent the Laketon School.

Janet Romine, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Romine, has been chosen as the Mentone High School representative.

The Talma High School will be represented by Linda Lukens, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Lukens, R. 2, Rochester.

Cara Lyn Fenstermaker, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Koepig, will be Etna Green's candidate.

Friday night, Sept. 21, in addition to the crowning of the queen, egg contest awards, and the delicious banquet, the Elmer Hinkle show troupe will put on some fine musical and dance entertainment.

Cash prizes and trophies are to be awarded in eight classes in the egg contest. In addition, a gift will be given each exhibitor at the time of entry. The grand sweepstakes prize will be a wrist watch.

The entire program, with the exception of the banquet dinner, is free and an invitation is extended to everyone to come and enjoy the show.

Banks Lead In Farm Loans

Indiana farmers met their credit needs during 1955 chiefly through loans from their local banks, according to K. A. Riner, Farmers State Bank, Mentone, who represents the Indiana Bankers Association as Kosciusko County Agricultural Key Banker. During the year, the state's banks provided for more financial aid to farmers than any other lending agency, he pointed out.

Using figures from the fifteenth annual farm lending survey of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association, Mr. Riner noted that on January 1, 1956, Indiana banks had loans outstanding to farmers totaling $159,303,000 including both production and mortgage credit. This compares with $109,224,000 held by insurance companies, second largest lender to Indiana farmers; $38,774,000 held by Federal Land Banks;

$31,453,000 by Production Credit Association; and $13,250,000 by the Farmers Home Administration.

The total of farm credit outstanding in banks was made up of $99,463,000 in production loans and $59,840,000 in farm mortgages. In addition, banks in Indiana held $21,913,000 in C. C. C. paper not included in the above total.

"The efforts of the state's banks to meet the increased needs for intermediate-term (one to five or more years) loans are reflected in the figures for both real estate and production loans outstanding," Mr. Riner said. "It is estimated that about three-fourths of the farm read estate loans are for purposes normally associated with intermediate-length loans. This would include such projects as the purchase of new machinery, improvement of livestock herds, etc. Beyond that, a substantial portion of the production loans in banks at the beginning of 1956 carried a repayment period of longer than one year."

Mr. Riner gave several reasons for the increasing importance of intermediate-term credit in financing Indiana farmers. "First," he said, "farmers haven't had as much income to repay their obligations during recent years as they had during the war and early postwar years. Second, farm capital requirements have increased to a very high level. Finally, changing habits of farmers' customers have caused a notable shift to different cropping programs. Each farmer who has made such adjustments employed new capital to do it."

These investments made thru the use of intermediate-term credit have greatly contributed to more efficient farm businesses in Indiana and to a higher standard of living for all Americans. All but six of the 466 insured commercial banks in Indiana served agriculture by making farm loans during 1955.

Weight Control Class To Start

A weight control class sponsored by the Home Demonstration Clubs, the Business and Professional Women's Club, the Kosciusko County Health Department, and the Kosciusko County Medical Association and the Indiana Heart Foundation is being offered to anyone who is interested in losing or controlling weight. There will be a series of six meetings beginning Monday, October 1, and continuing through Monday, November 12 at the Women's Building, Fairgrounds, Warsaw, at 2:00 p. m. and 7:15 p. m. These classes will be conducted by Mrs. Joyce Myers, dietitian from the Indiana State Department Public Health. In order to enroll each person must present a certificate of physical fitness from the family physician. These certificates may be obtained from the Kosciusko County Agriculture Extension Office, the Kosciusko County Health Department in the basement of the Court House or from the physician. A small fee to defray incidental expenses will be charged. The series of classes will include discussion on the dangers of overweight, value of exercise, diets and records, food fads, and the reward of normal nutrition. Each member will be weighed in and waist measurements taken at each meeting and these figures recorded.

The committee assisting with the program are: Dr. John Johnson, County Health Director; Mrs. Willie Nine County Nurse; Mrs. Carl Zimmer, Vice President Business & Professional Women's Club; Mrs. Fred Hartman, Health Chairman Business & Professional Women's Club; Mrs. Guy Hygema, Crystal Home Demonstration Club; Mrs. Vern DeCamp, Progressive Homemakers; Mrs. Herbert Hughes, Club 55; Mrs. Wilbur Latimer, Beaver Dam; and Mrs. Ruth McCleary, Home Demonstration Agent.

Strawberry beds may be fertilized in early September, according to horticulturists at Purdue University. Broadcast three to four pounds of 3-12-12 or similar analysis of fertilizer per 100 square feet.

"The Farmer Gives Thanks"

Under the above title, the Abingdon Press, 810 Broadway, Nashville 2, Tenn., is publishing a collection of 56 prayers in which the farmer gives thanks to God in the words of a man of the soil. The 64-page booklet, selling for 50c, is to be published on September 10th.

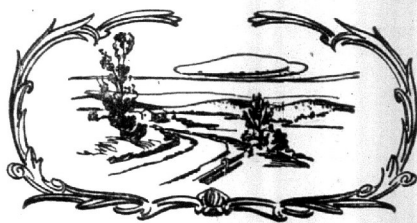

A sample prayer follows:

"If that gnarled old pear tree in the hog lot can tend such a grand bouquet of blossoms, surely we can offer a garland of kind deeds to man and beast ever to please thee, our Lord.

"As the slim crescent in our night sky grows into the bright full moon, most favorable for maize plantings, may we round out our lives with the fullness of God, as the tentmaker said.

"Waft our seed onto good earth, O Lord, and let it bear a hundredfold—feed for thy creatures and meat for thy children the world around." Amen.

Editor Samuel R. Guard offers still another:

"Bright little crocuses scampered clear across the dooryard to tell the forsythia bush; dewy daffodils nodded all day to the sugar maple tree; the red buds wouldn't wait for their new garments of green—nor we, to thank thee for the spring.

"The lambs jump higher than the old ewe's back; the pink-nosed pigs nudge for dear life; the calves take to the creek as the ducklings to the pond; while we thy children in thine own image claim anew the covenant of thy bow in the cloud.

"Preserve us from flood of war as thou didst Noah from the waters of the flood.

"Help us to plow deep, harrow fine, and to seed as if every seed were to bear bread to be broken by the Lord himself." Amen.

Thinking In The Corn Belt

(Industrial News Review)

Not many months ago there were all kinds of dire predictions—many made for obvious political reasons—that agriculture was in for a Grade A depression unless the government took new, drastic steps in the way of aid and subsidy.

Those drastic steps were not taken. But agricultural prices have been coming back—in some cases by big percentages. For instance, hogs touched a low of $10.60 per hundred-weight in December. This June they reached $17.

Moreover, there is evidence that the predictions of disaster—and the demands for evermore costly and extensive government aid—have been more common among non-farm than farm groups. For instance, Fortune, in its August issue, carried an article on conditions in the corn belt. It quotes from interviews with representative farmers. One, a young farmer who depends largely on hogs, expressed approval of Secretary Benson's refusal to put a floor under hog prices, adding: "We were in a bad predicament, but the only way to cure it was to let things get rough enough to get the boys to cure it themselves by breeding fewer sows." Another farmer pointed out that government guarantees would mean government dictation of his operations. A third hog producer, who was farming in the days when little pigs were being killed, said he was against controls because "people who have tasted freedom shouldn't turn back from it."

A majority of livestock men seem to hold views such as this. The country can be proud of such farmers.

Raking out crabgrass in badly infested lawn areas and reseeding with the desired grasses is a September lawn chore. Crabgrass is an annual that starts growth in the spring and matures by early fall, according to botanists at Purdue University. By reseeding areas damaged by crabgrass infestation, a heavy turf which will resist future crabgrass invasion can be formed.

Experimenting With New Plant Growth Booster

(This newspaper normally does not devote extended space for publicity to firms seeking free advertising mention, however, the facts in the following article are so intriguing that we felt it worth printing.—Ed.)

A plant kingdom revolution may be in the making.

If it materializes, its cause will be a virtually unknown chemical that helps plants grow at amazing rates, and often affects them in other important ways.

This promising chemical—gibberellic acid—has been under investigation by Eli Lilly and Company, of Indianapolis, for potential agricultural and other uses. Lilly has studied the chemical as a plant growth stimulant in both climate-controlled laboratories and under field conditions.

Under laboratory conditions, gibberellic acid has increased the growth rate of some plants by five times.

According to T. P. Carney, vice-president of research, development, and control, "The substance has exciting possibilities as a plant growth regulator, but a great deal of laborious and time consuming research must still be done before the full extent of its usefulness is known."

Gibberellic acid is obtained from cultures of a fungus called Gibberella fujikuroi. Technically, the chemical is tetracyclic dihydroxy-lactonic acid, with a formula of C₁₉H₂₂O₆.

Up to the present time, production problems have made it impossible to obtain a sufficient quantity of the chemical to supply even research requirements. However, with its experience in production of biologicals and antibiotics, Eli Lilly and Company has been successful in producing a quantity of pure gibberellic acid. This material is being distributed to scientists at agricultural colleges and other institutions in the interest of obtaining more information about this promising plant growth stimulant and growth regulator.

According to Dr. Carney, gibberellic acid has been tested not only at Eli Lilly and Company but also by a few scientists in the United States and other countries, and interest in the chemical is spreading. This week a number of scientific papers on gibberellic acid are being presented at a conference of biological scientists held at the University of Connecticut, at Storrs.

In past experiments, gibberellic acid has been shown to stimulate growth in field crops such as wheat, oats, clover, the grasses (including corn), and tobacco. It has also speeded growth in vegetables such as peas, beans, tomatoes, cucumbers, and others. And it promotes growth in ornamental flowers, shrubs, and even trees.

Besides speeding growth, gibberellic acid has other potential uses. In scientific experiments, it has been shown to break dormancy in specific plants, to stimulate germination in certain seeds, to reverse dwarfism, and to induce flowering of biennials in the year in which they wouldn't ordinarily flower.

Gibberellic acid is much more vigorous in its growth stimulation than another group of plant stimulants known as auxins. It is also more easily controlled. While the auxins inhibit growth at relatively high dosages, comparable dosages of gibberellic acid cause good growth stimulation for extended periods of time.

Extremely minute amounts of the chemical are needed to give plants a growth spurt. In Lilly laboratory tests, applying as little as a one-hundred millionth of a gram of gibberellic acid to pea seedlings resulted in growth stimulation. The acid was put into solution and applied to the plants with micro-pipettes.

Under controlled conditions, gibberellic acid has been applied successfully in four ways: sprayed onto the leaves, fed through the roots, injected into the stem, and rubbed onto the stem as part of a lanolin paste.

One of the major problems to be surmounted before the full usefulness of gibberellic acid is known is the vast amount of investigational work to be completed. This work must be done by qualified scientists in different parts of the country, under different conditions, and on an appalling number and variety of plants.

SOME SHOVEL

A short time ago the Associated Press wires carried a feature article about a shovel!

It's obvious that to earn such attention the shovel in question must be a very remarkable one indeed. It certainly is. It belongs to a soft coal company, and has been in operation for eight months. Company officials say it has fully justified its cost—$2,600,000. Called "The Mountaineer," it is 16-stories high and has a 150-foot boom. In its brief working life it has scooped up 8,129,903 cubic yards of earth, in 60-cubic-foot gulps, and has laid bare 340,000 tons of coal. The amount of earth removed would leave a hole big enough to swallow the Empire State Building.

This monster typifies the kind of progress that has been going on throughout the coal industry. Present-day competition, along with present-day labor and other costs, make ever more efficient production a matter of sheer survival. Coal is one of the oldest of all our industries—but technologically it is as modern as today.

Want To Kill Boxelder Bugs

Boxelder bugs are now increasing their numbers for a fall invasion of Indiana homes, says Glen Lehker, Purdue University extension entomologist.

A brood of the insects is developing on seed-bearing boxelder trees and an inspection of such trees may reveal thousands of red eggs and the small red bugs in various stages of growth. It is these same bugs that will later on leave the trees and enter homes in search of a place to hibernate, warns Lehker.

Homeowners can save themselves a lot of trouble by spraying infested trees now, the Purdue entomologist says. Lehker recommends either three pints of fifteen percent liquid dieldrin or two pints of 45 percent chlordane in fifty gallons of water as preferred materials for killing the bugs. The spray must be applied with a power outfit or other equipment having enough capacity to wet the trees thoroughly. There is no need to spray trees unless they are actually infested with the insects.

Another alternative is to spray the bugs later on as they start to leave the trees and collect on the tree trunk itself, or upon foundation walls and porches. For that purpose a stronger concentration of dieldrin or chlordane is required. Use two pints of the dieldrin in eight gallons of water or dilute the chlordane one part in nine parts of water. The secret of getting control by using this method is to apply enough spray to wet the many surfaces over which the insects crawl. A gallon or two of spray is usually of little value.

Persons who are pestered annually with box-elder bugs should obtain a copy of Purdue Mimeo E-38, available from county extension agents. It gives the details of control and is free for the asking.

Set Feeder Auction Dates

An estimated 6400 feeder calves and 6100 feeder pigs will be sold at eleven southern Indiana feeder auctions this fall, Russell Brower, extension animal husbandman at Purdue University, has reported.

Native feeder auctions have made a rapid growth in the past few years as more and more farmers recognize the advantages in this type of marketing. Co-operative auctions provide farmers an excellent chance to sell feeder calves and pigs at weaning time to feeders, Brower adds.

In 1955, 3824 native feeder calves were sold for $351,688 at five auctions. Last fall 3572 native feeder pigs were sold at four auctions for a total of $48,663. Brower pointed out that in 1955 dehorned calves of the same grade sold for $1.50 more per hundredweight than calves not dehorned. Steer calves of the same grade and weight were worth an average of $5 more per hundredweight than stags or bulls.

Places, dates and numbers of calves to be sold at feeder calf auctions this fall follow: Greensburg, Sept. 18, 400; Linton, Sept. 21, 800; Springville (Angus, Shorthorn and crossbred) Sept. 25, 1100; Linton, Sept. 27, 800; Springville (Hereford), Oct. 2, 1300; Springville (yearlings), Oct. 9, 100; and Vincennes, Oct. 19, 600.

Places, dates and numbers of pigs to be sold at pig auctions are: Springville, Sept. 20, 2000; Linton, Oct. 5, 1100; Springville, Oct. 18, 2000; and Osgood, Oct. 23, 1000.

TIPS FOR SURVIVAL

FCDA Offers Practical Defense Against Fallout

In a split second during the pre-dawn hours of a morning in November 1952, radioactive fallout came of age as a potential hazard to every living thing.

Since then, millions of words have been written and spoken about it. We are told that it cannot be detected by any of the human senses, only by radiation detection devices. It can hitch a ride on the wind for hundreds of miles from a nuclear blast, settle to earth even in remote places and make entire areas temporarily uninhabitable.

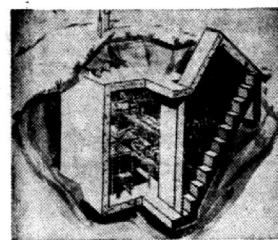

BUT WHAT, ACTUALLY, is fallout? Can its movement be predicted? And what can people do to protect against it?

Fallout is nothing more than tiny dust particles blasted into the air when a nuclear weapon's fireball intersects the earth's surface. This material is then made radioactive by the fireball, and thus carries dangerous radiation to wherever the dust falls.

By plotting high-altitude winds, weather men can predict the area of fallout, and tell approximately where it will land. Radiological monitoring would then establish specific fallout patterns.

People can protect themselves mainly by staying under cover, and tuning a battery-operated radio to emergency civil defense frequencies for expert instructions. A basement makes a fair shelter, an old-fashioned root cellar an excellent one. This is because only 1/5,000th of the radiation that would hit a person in the open will penetrate three feet of earth.

MOST IMPORTANT, remember that fallout leaves no margin for errors, or amateurs. For example, just because the surface wind is blowing from a "safe" direction doesn't mean that the winds above 10,000 feet—which would usually dominate the direction of fallout—weren't blowing some other way. Only the experts have the equipment to predict fallout areas.

FALLOUT shelter designed by the Federal Civil Defense Administration would provide almost complete protection from fallout at low cost if built as a do-it-yourself project. It would also be a welcome tornado and hurricane haven. (FCDA Photo)

EXPLAINS CHANGE IN PROPOSED LEVY

At the tax adjustment board meeting in Warsaw last week the tuition levy for Franklin township was reduced from $1.72 to $1.03.

Mr. Butts, trustee, called this newspaper Monday evening and stated that the original levy figure was in error, as reported to the state, and had already been discovered by him before the tax board met. They officially corrected the error that occurred in recopying the forms.

RADIOLOGICAL monitor at Springfield, Ill., food store uses "survey meter" to measure mock "fallout" during Operation Alert 1956. Thousands of these and similar instruments are being stockpiled, and personnel are being trained by the Federal Civil Defense Administration against the day when they would provide the only way to detect "hot" areas and warn people to avoid contaminated articles.

"DROP IN" FOR DINNER

Considerable excitement was evident last Friday noon when a Bell Helicopter dropped in at the Osmanor Farm Restaurant, west of Mentone. The plane circled the house once and then hovered in mid-air and gently settled to the ground in a little hedge-enclosure about 125 feet square. The flying machine landed about 75 feet from the garage.

owned by the Umbaugh Chemical Co., Valparaiso. Paul Knoop of Claypool, a representative of the firm, and Mr. Umbaugh, were also in the plane. The plane is used to take farmers aloft to view their farms and make a survey prior to the selection of fertilizers. They expect to take some 400 farmers a ride before the season is over.

After a dinner at Osmanor, the gentlemen "whirled" away.

WHAT GOVERNMENT DOES TO YOU

Life magazine vividly restates what it termed an "old truth" in these words: "... The more a government does for you, the more it has to do to you."

Before government can provide you with any service, it must first take the money from the pockets of you and all the rest of the taxpayers. And it always takes more than it returns, inasmuch as the administrative costs run high.

That isn't all—or even the worst of it. Any welfare state eventually turns to a cheap money policy and lets loose the tides of inflation. Every dollar then buys less and less. The result is a murderous combination of sky-high taxes and depreciated money.

Ponds Make Good Fishing

That farm pond—a popular recreation area—can provide an ideal spot for good fishing.

However, Don Sisson, extension agricultural engineer at Purdue University, feels that many farm ponds do not furnish the best kind of fishing over a period of years.

Here are some pointers which Sisson says will assure good fishing and make the pond useful for other purposes:

Maintain adequate depth of water—8 to 10 feet in at least one-fourth of the pond area.

A watershed large enough to furnish enough water to keep the water level up during the entire year. From 10 to 20 acres of watershed for each acre of pond area is adequate in Indiana.

Deepen edges of pond by excavating to help control weeds and mosquitoes. The water should be three feet deep within three feet of the shoreline. There should be a minimum of water less than four feet deep in the pond.

Plant trees and shrubs around the pond but not on the dam or near the pond edges. Grasses should be seeded on the dam as well as around the pond edges to prevent erosion and muddying of the water.

Fence livestock out of the pond area. Animals will keep the pond water muddied by tramping and may contaminate the water and cause the spread of diseases to other livestock.

Any small washes that develop on the dam or near spillways should be repaired promptly. Grass on the dam and around pond edges should be mowed to control muskrats and other burrowing animals.

The best and most readily available species of fish to stock farm ponds are bluegills and the large-mouth bass. The recommended stocking rate is 100 of each species per acre of surface area.

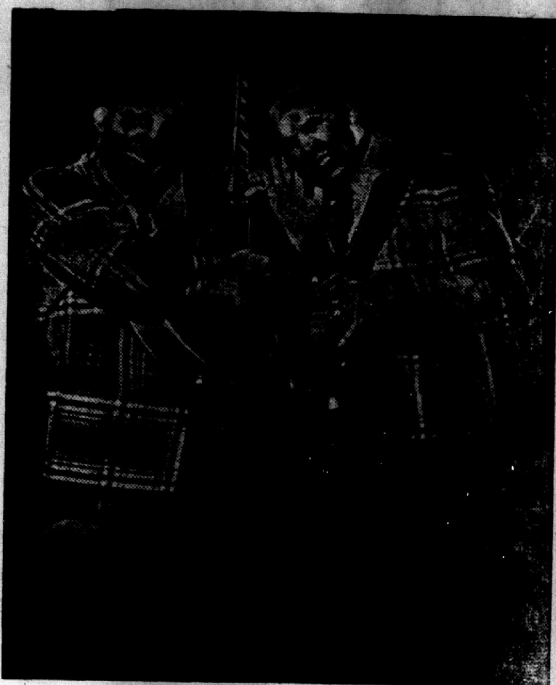

It is not advisable to stock ponds with fish from a creek. Neither is it a good idea to stock ponds with fish taken from other ponds unless the species of fish are definitely known.

Fish for stocking ponds open to public fishing may be obtained through the local conservation officer. Fish for private ponds may be secured from the federal fish hatchery through the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Application blanks can be obtained from Soil Conservation Service technicians, or county agents.

Sisson asserts that the pond should be "fished hard" beginning the second year after stocking. "Don't throw back any fish of useable size. It's almost impossible to overfish a pond by ordinary means of fishing," he adds.

If a pond is not fished hard enough, fish in the pond will not reach large sizes because of overpopulation. Generally, runoff waters in Indiana ponds have high natural fertility. Fertilization of the waters with chemical fertilizers is of questionable value unless maximum fish production is desired.

When a pond becomes so overpopulated that it no longer furnishes good fishing, Sisson recommends that it be drained in the fall and restocked the following year in the same manner as a new pond would be stocked.

Before harvesting gladiolus corms, cut the tops off about two inches above ground level and remove them from the row. Horticulturists at Purdue University say that by doing this work a few days before digging, much of the thrip damage caused by the insect leaving the foliage and wintering over on the corms will be eliminated.

Rev. David LeShana, field evangelist for Taylor University at Upland, Indiana, will be the speaker for special services at the Methodist Church, Mentone. Meetings will be held each evening at 7:30 p. m. from September 26th to October 7th. Mrs. LeShana will share in the music to be presented each evening of the series.

LeShana, a graduate of Taylor University, has been associated with the college in evangelistic work since 1954. Prior to that time, he was pastor of the Friends Church at Ypsilanti, Michigan; and the Sargard Community Church at Greene Fork, Indiana. Born and raised in India, LeShana came to the United States in 1949 to attend Taylor University, and since that time he has done extensive speaking in revival services, youth rallies, civic organizations, and missionary conventions. In the summer of 1950, he toured Europe with a Youth for Christ organization. LeShana is a member of the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends. He was engaged by Taylor, a fully-accredited, liberal arts college, to meet the demand of alumni and friends of the college for speakers at special meetings.

"Dave and Becky" have had a popular appeal to young people in their work. They appear in musical numbers for solos and duets and present a fresh challenge to the field of missions. They plan to return to the mission fields some time in the future in evangelistic work.

The local pastor who will assist in the services is the Rev. Milton G. Persons. Purpose of the meetings is to present the Christian faith as the abundant way of life in which adults and youth can find the key to happiness and the opportunity for meaningful service.

The public is invited to attend.

Club Meets At McGowan Home

The Merry Mollys met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Herschel McGowan with Mrs. Lamar Leffert as co-hostess.

America, the Beautiful was sung and the pledge to the flag was given.

Meditation was read by Mrs. Harold Horn on "Diapering the Baby."

The song of the month was "When the Corn is Waving."

Health and Safety remarks on Kitchen utensils was read by Mrs. Carl Whetstone.

She demonstrated on how to make doughnuts, Kolacky a Czechoslovakia roll, and a braided bread, all of which were very pretty to look at and even better to eat. Everyone received generous samples to taste and take home.

Roll call was answered by giving what we had for supper. During the business meeting, plans were made for family night and for a hardtimes party in October.

Several members signed up for the serving lessons and also for the First Aid and Civil Defense lessons.

Business was closed by singing the club prayer song.

Mrs. Howard Horn received a gift from her Cheerio Pal and Mrs. Carl Whetstone won the door prize.

Games in the baby theme were played and then Mrs. Carl Whetstone was presented with a lovely white baby shawl and comb and brush set from all the club members which were greatly appreciated.

Delicious refreshments were clever and cute nut cups served by the hostess and co-hostess. Also generous helpings of yeast bread were passed to everyone.

The next meeting will be a hard time party at the home of Mrs. Marion Smith.

September seedlings of winter oats give the most satisfactory results, say Purdue University agronomists. Dubois, the most winter hardy variety available, cannot tolerate late seedings under normal conditions in southern Indiana where it is adapted. To be sure of obtaining pure Dubois oats, farmers should use Indiana certified seed in either the foundation, registered 1, registered 2, or certified classes.

Planting Time For Evergreens

September is a favorable time to plant coniferous evergreens in most parts of Indiana, reports H. W. Gilbert, Purdue University extension landscape architect.

If these coniferous evergreens are kept well watered, the plants should be established before winter and will make an early start in the spring.

Hemlocks and firs, however, are best planted in early spring in all parts of the state.

Drying winter winds are especially trying on evergreens since the frozen earth prevents watering effectively and the leaves give off moisture constantly. This is an argument for early spring planting throughout the northern half of the state, although in sheltered, well drained sites fall planting is usually satisfactory.

Sites exposed to drying winter winds are best planted in early spring.

Broad-leaved evergreens suitable for Indiana conditions should be balled and burlapped when dug.

Best results in transplanting small evergreens with naked roots are usually experienced when early spring planting is done.

Pasture and Livestock

Good pasture is the cornerstone of successful livestock production, asserts Ken McDonald, Purdue University animal husbandman.
MacDonald says good stockmen, good pasture and good animals go hand in hand. "There is no method of harvesting yet devised that is as cheap as that which can be accomplished by livestock," he adds.

Eighty per cent of the total feed for beef cattle is from forage of one type or another. And,
95 per cent of the total feed for sheep is from forage.
Farmers should set goals in pasture production that will enable them to produce higher yields of palatable and nutritious forage, extend the grazing season as long as possible—preferably the year around and provide a fairly uniform supply of feed throughout the entire season.

According to the Purdue specialist, about two-thirds of the total pasture gains of beef are made before July 1-15—the first one-third of the pasture period.
Additional feed is then required to maintain the rate of gain. About all lambs raised in Indiana are produced—or should be—in the first one-third of the pasture period.

MacDonald recommends a pasture for beef cattle of 50 per cent grass and 50 per cent legume. Some feeders felt the ratio should be 60 per cent grass and 40 per cent legume to prevent bloat and to provide a more uniformly balanced feed.

Even though sheep need more protein for wool production and milk, 50 per cent legume and 50 per cent grass is sufficient in MacDonald's opinion.

Pastures can save up to 30-50 per cent of the protein supplement and 10-20 per cent of the grain needed to produce 100 lbs.
of pork. An acre of pasture will result in savings of 500-1000 pounds of grain and 300-500 lbs.
of protein supplement. Hogs can do better on pasture with a higher per cent of protein than cattle. A pasture of 100 per cent la-dino clover is excellent for hogs,
MacDonald says.

Records kept by feeders have shown that a $100 return from an acre of good pasture is possible in Indiana, the specialist adds.

Such crafts as ceramic jewelry, candlemaking, winter bouquets, door and table decorations and party favors, aprons, hair pin lace stoles, a variety of gifts which are inexpensive to make and candies will be exhibited. The committee in charge of the workshop consists of Mrs. Gordon Brubaker, Mrs. Donald Paxton, Mrs. Fred Gilliam, Mrs.

September seedlings of winter oats give the most satisfactory results, say Purdue University agronomists. Dubois the most winter hardy variety available, cannot tolerate late seedlings under normal conditions in southern Indiana where it is adapted. To be sure of obtaining pure Dubois oats, farmers should use Indiana certified seed in either the Foundation, Registered 1, Registered 2, or Certified classes.

BAIT ADS AND PHONY MAKE-MONEY-AT-HOME SCHEMES LEAD MAGAZINE'S LISTING OF THE TOP TEN RACKETS

Slick schemes to fleece you of your dollars account for almost 3 per cent of all business, say the editors of Changing Times, The Kiplinger Magazine. Loud and successful, there are ten types of deals most prevalent at the moment.

The ten you should watch out for are bait ads, fictitious list and comparative price ads; unsound earn-money-at-home schemes; high-pressure home-improvement schemes; questionable franchise deals, especially in vending machines; dishonest debt adjusters; unordered-merchandise schemes; deceptively advertised obesity remedies and baldness "cures"; questionable coupon book deals and fly-by-night cemetery lot promotions.

These deals often fool intelligent people. If you've ever fallen for one you may have made one of these common mistakes: You thought you could get something for nothing or believed merchandise could actually be bought at wholesale prices in a retail store; perhaps you thought yourself bargain-wise and sought out the most sensational offer; maybe you bought just to rid yourself of a pesky salesman or invested before checking up on the promoter; if you signed a contract you may have failed to read it thoroughly, missed the small type concerning "free" offers, or didn't even read it at all.

What can you do if you received unfair treatment and can't get satisfaction from the company you dealt with? First, take your problem to the nearest Better Business Bureau. If you think the transaction involved false advertising, write to the Federal Trade Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Inform your local postmaster if the mails were used in consummating a deal. In the case of false medical claims, write to the Food and Drug Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

Open House At New Feed Mill

The new, modern feed plant of Red Comb Pioneer Mills, Inc., Mentone, Indiana will start operation on October 1st. The new mill will provide extra service and convenience to the multitude of Red Comb and Pioneer users in northern and central Indiana.

The new plant was designed with the idea of using bulk handling to the utmost. All incoming ingredients will be received in bulk and most of the finished feeds will be delivered in bulk to the dealers' trucks. Of course, a portion of the farm trade will require bagged feeds and high-speed bagging facilities have been installed to take care of that demand.

The new plant is capable of producing 120 tons of feed every eight hours. The new mill was designed around the batch system and uses a Yale and Towne detecto automatic scale and push-button panel control for the distribution of all ingredients. This modern system gives accurate, efficient, low cost operation.

Red Comb Pioneer feeds have been shipped into Indiana for many years from the Red Comb

Pioneer Mills at Chicago, Illinois. The increasing demand for Red Comb and Pioneer feeds in the northern and central Indiana area brought about the building of the new mill at Mentone and will enable Red Comb Pioneer Mills to assure more efficient service and highest possible profits to poultry and livestock feeders.

Red Comb Pioneer Mills manufacture a complete line of feeds under the trade names of Red Comb Poultry Feeds; Pioneer Dairy, Beef Cattle, Hog and Horse Feed; Lucky Dog Feed and Pioneer Rabbit Feed. In addition to the new Red Comb Pioneer Mill at Mentone, the company now manufactures and distributes feeds from plants in Chicago, Illinois; Wilmington, Delaware; Marshall, Missouri; Lexington, Kentucky; Cartersville, Georgia; and Springdale, Arkansas as well as operating a grain storage elevator of 1,500,000 bushel capacity, in Minneapolis, Minnesota. These feeds are distributed in thirty-eight states, the West Indies, Bahamas Islands, Puerto Rico and Cuba.

Lloyd D. Bowerman, manager of the new Red Comb Pioneer Mill at Mentone, has announced that an open house will be held on Thursday, September 20th and Friday, September 21st from 12 noon to 6 p. m.

RATES INDICATE VALUE

OF READERS' PATRONAGE

A slight idea of the value a large firm places on the attitude and buying-potential of the readers of newspapers and magazines can be gained from a recent announcement made by the publishers of the "Successful Farming" magazine.

The new rates will be: $4,500.00 for one page advertisement, in

ONLY

THE NEW, LOW COST FOLDING BOOK

CO-OP. HDWE

black ink. A page in colors will be $6,050.00 per issue.

These rates are indicative of the amount business firms pay to bring their advertising message to you.

Oftentimes people will say that prices are so high because advertising costs so much. Nothing could be farther from the truth. Advertising is the only thing that made mass-production and mass-selling possible—and America today can buy so much more today for less money, than would have been possible without the use of advertising to increase total sales of all the things we use.

Mr. and Mrs. Lickson Quackenbush of Indianapolis, called on Mrs. Earl Meredith one day last week.

Bell Named Chairman; Faneuf New President of Bell Aircraft Corp.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Lawrence D. Bell, dean of the country's aviation executives, resigned today as president of Bell Aircraft Corporation and was elected chairman of the board of directors.

Elected to succeed Mr. Bell as president was Leston P. Faneuf, vice president and general manager and treasurer of the company.

Mr. Faneuf will continue as general manager and elected to succeed him as treasurer was William G. Gisel, secretary and comptroller, who will now serve in the capacity of secretary-treasurer.

These top management changes of the 21-year-old aircraft manufacturing firm received unanimous approval of the corporation's directors meeting in Buffalo today.

Mr. Bell said that reasons of health prompted him to relinquish the position he has held since he formed the company in Buffalo in July 1935. He is now in his 45th year in aviation and is one of the few surviving pioneers of the industry era prior to World War I. He is 62.

Mr. Faneuf has been one of the company's executives since joining Bell as assistant to the president in 1943. After serving as chief of the corporate staff, which coordinated Bell's widespread World War II activities, he was elected secretary in 1945 and to the additional office of treasurer in 1951.

GIVING THE LIE TO COMMUNISM

"We are rapidly making capitalists out of butchers, bakers and candlestick makers," says the Apollo, Pennsylvania, News-Record.

This statement was made in an editorial concerned with some facts that were recently made public by the country's principal stock exchange. It has been found that about 8,630,000 people now own shares in our corporations, a jump of 33 per cent in four years; that two-thirds of them have incomes of under $7,500, with $4,200 as the average figure, and that, significantly the greatest growth in share ownership has taken place in the grass roots—that is, in communities of populations ranging from 2,500 to 25,000.

The News-Record points up the most important thing about all this by saying that it gives "the lie to Communists." They, and other left-wingers, have said with weary monotony that big business is owned by the few, at the expense of the many, and that the way to help the poor is to soak the rich. These catchphrases were never based on more than half-truth, and today they are plain lies. There has never been a country in history in which the good things of life were more widely shared than in this country—including ownership of enterprise.

To quote the News-Record once more, "It is, after all, people who make capitalism work."

WATCH THE BIRDIE—Assuming an air of nonchalance, Julius, a chimpanzee from the Detroit zoo, gets mugged by Tarzan, a brother chimp. With the help of a Detroit News' photographer, Thel Burget, the chimps have become quite adept with the camera act.

SCOOP! BEAR TREES MAN—Tourists driving near Cliff-dell, Wash., take a quick second-look when they see this scene. It looks like the real thing, but actually it's the skin of a long-dead bear, nipping at a straw-filled trousers and shirt.

—(Wide World Photos)

MIDGET MALES DOUBLE-UP FOR BIG MAIL—Since the "Big-Top" of Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey circus recently folded, these two midgets are probably looking for work. Could be that Prince Paul and Lauro Marales are making sure their employment applications get in the mail box.

SEA OF MUD—An unusual sight near Agua Dulce, Tex., is this International TD-14A crawler tractor, spreading a "sea of mud," which results from salt water pits. After the tractor, equipped with the special mud-spreader, has done its leveling job, the mud dries and the earth is returned to its original condition.

Renew Old Lawn

If you are among homeowners who have found extensive crabgrass infestation in your mixed or bluegrass lawn, W. H. Daniel, turf specialist at Purdue University, has some timely suggestions.

Daniel says September is rather late for chemical use since frost will soon kill the crabgrass anyway. However, Daniel adds that the homeowner can easily, within one afternoon, considerably improve his lawn for late fall and next spring.

The procedure begins with setting the mower to cut very closely. This close cutting removes the excess top of crabgrass weeds and established grasses. The lawn should then be swept to remove the clippings and further lessen the crabgrass spots. Again mow the lawn.

Next, if the lawn is sparse, spread seed lightly in the thin areas and scratch vigorously. Keep the soil moist for two weeks. As soon as the seed germinates, fertilize the lawn heavily with a nitrogen carrying fertilizer. At least one pound of actual nitrogen per 1000 square feet should be used.

The delayed fertilization favors the new seedlings. If no reseeding is done, immediately after close cutting, fertilize the lawn with more than one pound of actual nitrogen per 100 square feet and reset the lawn mower for a 1½ to 2 inch cut—on most rotary mowers the two highest notches. With the weedy grasses reduced in size and competition the new growth of the blue grass will quickly show a greener, more uniform appearance throughout the lawn.

Daniel says the best time to plant grass seed is in the fall. In Indiana, plantings made in early September usually survive with the least care and produce the most weed-free lawns.

ADVERTISE! IT PAYS!

Dairymen at Purdue University say that heifers due to freshen during the fall months should be placed with the milking herd several weeks before they are expected to calve. This acquaints the heifers with the schedule followed at milking time and is especially important when a milking parlor is in use.

To Conduct Revival Here

"Enduring peace in the world today, as never before, calls for the release of the power inherent in the Christian Church with its membership of some 650 million people," says Rev. David LeShana, field evangelist for Taylor University, Upland, Indiana, who will speak at special services at the Mentone Methodist Church, Mentone, Indiana, each evening from September 28th to October 7th. Services start at 7:30 p. m., including Saturday nights.

Only as each individual discovers the power of prayer and the effectiveness of living a life under God for others rather than for self can the Church make its voice heard on the major issues of the hour, LeShana asserts. "The Church and its people must banish from thought and life the hatred, bitterness, hypocrisy, intolerance and sin that has crippled the message of the Church. We must be dedicated to the task of showing to the world the only power that will make and keep peace: unconditional surrender to the will of God and a realistic experience of a spiritual awakening throughout America," he adds.

LeShana has done extensive speaking in the United States since he came from India in 1949 where he was born the son of missionary parents. As a student at Taylor University, he served a church as pastor and led more than a score of special evangelistic services. In his senior year he was co-chairman of the Taylor Youth Conference, a week-end of spiritual challenge designed for high school students. He toured Europe with a Youth for Christ team in the summer of 1960.

Since graduating from Taylor in 1953, LeShana has appeared before civic organizations, youth rallies, and missionary conventions while pastor of the Friends Church at Ypsilanti, Michigan. He returned to Taylor, a fully-accredited, liberal arts college, in 1954 to serve as field evangelist due to the increasing requests of alumni and friends of the college for special speakers. Mrs. LeShana, also a graduate of Taylor, will assist in the music and the work with young people. The public is invited to attend.

Mrs. Richard Whittenberger demonstrated the art of baking with yeast and made some beautiful as well as delicious varieties of the use of basic sweet dough. The party was "Come as You Are" and very amusing. Meeting closed with the group reciting the Club Creed led by Mrs. Glen Lowman. The next meeting will be held October 10, with Mrs. Dick Whittenberger as hostess.

Plan Boy Scout Fund Drive

Henry Foy, Warsaw, Finance Committee Chairman of the Scout Fund Drive, Tuesday, Oct. 9th, has appointed a committee to assist him in handling the Annual Boy Scout Fund Campaign.

Joe Ettinger was appointed General Chairman and has enlisted the aid of the following: Ed Aker, Industrial Contributions; Dr. Gene Lee, Professional Contributions; Don Hogan, Business; Hurley Gerard, Residential.

The goal for Kosciusko county is $10,000.00 to carry on Scouting, which has enjoyed a wholesome growth here the past few years. All money collected in the county is used in the county. Total budget for the Pioneer Trails Council, comprising Kosciusko, Elkhart and LaGrange counties, is $44,215.65.

The Pioneer Trails Council has been hailed as one of the best organized and most active councils in the nation.

Funds to be collected October 9th are for the fiscal year November 1, 1956 to October 31, 1957. The fund campaign in previous years was conducted during February or March. Bad weather and other factors plagued Scout Fund Drive workers during these times. So Scouts councils throughout the state concluded to move up the annual Scout Fund Drive to "Indian Summer."

"Also of great importance," Mr. Henry Foy stated, "is the fact that we can begin our year's activities in full sight of available funds rather than an estimate of income."

NATIONAL BIBLE WEEK IS COMING

The week of October 15 through 21 is an important one. It will be the 16th annual National Bible Week under the sponsorship of the Laymen's National Committee, an all faith's group.

The theme for the 1956 observance is: "The Bible—Timeless and Eternal." Truth, Faith, Hope, Wisdom, and Charity are the five basic virtues. These too, are timeless and eternal—and these are found in our Bibles. So let National Bible Week be your week, the week to stress the importance of this great book, the treasure house of spiritual strength and faith.

A Valuable Protection

MENTONE FIRE DEPARTMENT

It is of little need to tell of the importance of any Fire Department. This week has been set aside to honor our Fire Department.

The men give freely of their time with no questions asked. It is a good feeling to know that you have an active and cooperative Fire Department.

They have just purchased some new equipment to make it still more effective. A truck is being equipped with all the necessary First Aid Equipment, portable light plant, resuscitator, Scott Air Devices. Also, it is going to give them a place to store the men's equipment so that the regular truck will not be overloaded, and too, the chance of equipment being lost lessens.

All of this cost money as we all know. The firemen are sponsoring a fish fry this Saturday evening, to raise funds, but it will not be enough to mark out the $1200 debt.

The fire department will much appreciate any contributions, and will repay them with a better equipped Fire Department.

Our hats go off to this fine organization.

BEFORE YOU DIET

Reducing diets seem, to have reached the dimension of a craze in this country. A word of warning is in order. Elemental wisdom demands that no one should undertake a diet—especially those of an experimental and strenuous kind—without first obtaining competent medical advice.

An example is provided by two new low-protein diets which have been given much publicity. One is based on a liquid combination of corn oil, evaporated milk and dextrose. The other employs regular foods, but the foods chosen contain little protein.

Two physicians and the American Medical Association's council on foods and nutrition have now warned against the indiscriminate use of these diets. Their statements appear in a recent issue of the AMA Journal. One statement questions both the safety and effectiveness of the diets. The other two urge that people use them only under strict medical supervision. A note of discouragement enters too—even patients on whom the original diets were tested successfully regained weight when they quit the diets.

It is also pointed out that some people wrongly blame protein for causing their obesity and, left to their own devices, may go to a dangerous extreme of protein reduction or elimination. The science of dietetics has proven that a substantial protein intake is necessary to the mental and physical vigor of the great majority of people.

In any event—before you diet, see your doctor.—Industrial News Review.

Horticulturists at Purdue University say that late September is the time to plant flower bulbs. It's important that the bulbs be planted at the right depth. The horticulturists say to plant the bulbs in depths four times the diameter of the bulb. For example, a bulb one inch in diameter should be planted four inches deep. The soil should be well enriched with phosphorus and potassium—3-12-12 is a good analysis of fertilizer. The fertilizer should be worked into the soil to depths of 6 to 8 inches.

Do not burn the leaves this fall, advise horticulturists at the Purdue University. Pile them, cover with a small amount of soil sprinkle a complete fertilizer, and a compost pile is started.

Farmers Tour Of Caribbean

For Indiana farmers who want to go "south of South" for a winter vacation in December, a two-weeks trip has been planned by Hoosier Travel Service, a Farm Bureau affiliate. It offers a flexible plan for seeing most of the larger Caribbean Islands.

The excursion will leave Indianapolis November 27 and will return to Miami, Florida, December 9, the day the annual American Farm Bureau convention opens in that city. The tour plan allows for a choice of travel class and length of stay in Miami.

On the islands the group will be taken to Puerto Rico where they will stop over in San Juan. Extensive sightseeing will be included at each stop-over with still enough time for leisurely enjoyment of the Caribbean sun and the island beaches.

They will then go to Port-Au-Prince, Haiti, spend three days on Jamaica and two in Havana and the island of Cuba. Announced plans include seeing the cities, the farms, mountains and resorts.

Cobs Make Good Mulch

Corn cobs make a good and economical mulch for trees, bushes and shrubs around the home, advises W. B. Ward, extension horticulturist at Purdue University.

Ward says corn cobs, either ground or whole, form a good mulch. The cobs will conserve moisture, help prevent winter injury to the plants, and add fertility to the soil when they rot.

A layer of ground cobs will also make a good mulch when spread on the garden. An application of nitrogen fertilizer next spring will help to quicken the decomposition of the cobs.

Crushed corn cobs can be purchased from grain elevators or at farm or garden stores.

Animal husbandmen at Purdue University advise farmers that changeable fall weather necessitates the provision of all-weather protection for hogs. This is particularly true for baby pigs. Both shades and shelter houses are needed for the variable weather conditions.

Baptist Church News

A religious survey of the city of Mentone will be conducted by the First Baptist Sunday School on Sunday afternoon, September 30th. Survey workers will call at all homes within the village limits between the hours of 2 and 4 p. m. The object of the survey is to learn where each family of our community attends church and Sunday School. Cards will be filled out for each family and a tabulation of the information made at the close of the survey. A report of the findings will be published in next week's paper, showing what percentage of the people of our community are attending Church and Sunday School. The survey cards of all persons who indicate that they prefer either of the other churches of Mentone will be turned over to pastors of those churches for follow up work. This survey is an effort of First Baptist Sunday school to serve its community efficiently and your cooperation with the survey workers will be greatly appreciated.

Sunday, September 30th has also been set as promotion Sunday at First Baptist and certificates of promotion will be presented to Sunday School pupils during the morning worship service. A dedication service for all its Sunday School teachers will be held at the 8:00 o'clock service.

Mr. Eddie Smith, a senior student at Grace Seminary in Winona Lake, began his ministry as Youth Director and Song leader at First Baptist last Sunday evening. The folks are already greatly enjoying his talented ministry.

APPLES

This advertisement is addressed to our many customers who last year picked their own apples.

Our crop is much reduced this year. However, it is confined to fewer trees and we believe it will not present too great a problem in picking.

In spite of the shorter crop our prices will be no higher than last year.

Please remember:

Bring containers, including one in which to pick. Our usual supply of ladders will be available.

Mix varieties if you wish and pay by the pound for what you take away.

We do not limit quantities but we must insist that all trees be available to all pickers at all times.

You may NOT drive your car among the trees. But we will go in and bring out your filled containers if you wish.

At all times we want you to have the best of the crop and in return please leave on the trees the apples you do not want. Varieties: Delicious, Grimes, Jonathan, Stayman.

We cannot reserve or set aside picked apples. Only after those who pick their own are through will there be a possibility of picked apples being available.

Orchard will open Friday, Sept. 28 at 8 a. m. ODS and remain open each day until supply is gone. No apples will be picked prior to that time in order to equalize opportunity. No further guarantee is given following the start of picking.

Marketing Guides

Lafayette, Ind.—Prices for Indiana farm products are expected to decline during the fall months but the purchasing power of these products is expected to average higher than a year ago, agricultural economists at Purdue University have reported.

According to the farm economists, the Indiana farm price of corn in the year ahead is likely to average near $1.25, the support price for non-compliance corn. The price at harvest for No. 2 corn will probably be around $1.10 to $1.25 per bushel.

Next season's average soybean price will probably be near the loan rate of $2.15 per bushel. Some price increase can be expected after the low point at harvest, but the increase will not be as spectacular as that during the past season.

Hog prices are expected to decline to a seasonal low of about $14 in November primarily due to increased marketings. November hog receipts are expected to be higher than October and probably the heaviest for any month this winter.

Prices of all except strictly prime cattle are expected to weaken in the months ahead. This price decline is due to increased numbers of summer started fed cattle and short fed heavy cattle which are expected to reach market beginning in November.

Feeder cattle prices are expected to weaken during the next three months due to the short feed supply in the western corn belt and range states.

Broiler prices in producing areas will continue to decline and will probably go below the 18 cents received during November and December of last year.

F. F. A. News

The Mentone Chapter of F. F. A. recently elected officers for 1956-57. They are:

President, Larry Long; Vice President, Keith Besson; Secretary, Ronnie Severns; Treasurer, James Eaton; Reporter, Jim Manwaring; Sentinel, Melvin Keplinger.

The Chapter advisor is Robert Hewlett, Vocational Agriculture teacher.

Hogs Need Supplement

It will pay farmers to continue to feed protein supplement to fall, report Richard Hollandbeck hogs turned into corn fields this and Vernon Bell, Purdue University extension swine specialists.

Most hogs turned in corn fields are fairly large, causing some producers to ask whether it will pay to feed protein supplement to these animals. A summary of 13 experiments conducted throughout the corn belt indicates that supplement will pay dividends.

Here are some results obtained: Pigs receiving supplement gained one-half pound more per head each day. Each bushel of corn produced 4.5 pounds more pork when supplement was fed. Each pound of supplement saved 6.4 pounds of corn.

Corn Harvest Safety Hints

A safe corn harvest this fall is up to you, Mr. farmer.

The best insurance you have against the loss of a hand is your own caution, according to F. R. Willsey, farm safety specialist at Purdue University. Without caution you may land in a hospital with nothing to look forward to but months of disability, high medical expenses, and despair.

Try to unclog your running picker and it's possible you may never operate a picker again. Sure you may have unclogged the picker a thousand times before when it was running. And you may have saved a few minutes in each process. But sometime you may not be so lucky.

It's a poor gamble when you bet a hand, an arm or even your life against a few minutes. It's hardly worth the while.

Sure you know a neighbor who's lost a hand in a picker. And no doubt you've said, "It won't happen to me." An accident can happen to you as easily as to anyone else. But you can reduce the chances if you're careful.

Here are just a few tips from Willsey it will pay for you to follow this fall:

Never attempt to clean, oil or adjust the machine while it's in motion.

Always shut off the tractor and disengage the power take-off before leaving the tractor.

Be sure all safety shields are in place before operating the picker.

Keep hands away from snapping and husking rolls when the machine is in motion.

No doubt you'll beam with pride when the golden corn begins to fall onto the wagon. Indeed it's your payment for a summer's work that started when you ordered your seed early last spring.

Why not make sure you're around and able to grow another bumper crop next year. Yes... be careful—you are your best safety device.

For Winter

It's time to get your car ready for winter driving, advises the Chicago Motor Club, as temperatures in some areas have already skidded close to the freezing mark.

By having their cars prepared now for cold weather, motorists will save time, trouble and often expensive repair bills, according to the Motor Club. The Club's Emergency Road Service department said that one out of every six motorists in Illinois and Indiana is immobilized at some time each winter.

Weather records for the last six years show that freezing temperatures and snow have struck the midwest three times in the last week of October and four times before November 5.

The Motor Club recommends that motorists have their cars winterized now to avoid delays at service stations and garages. The rush will start immediately after the first forecast of cold weather.

Kenny Foundation Broadens Work In Treatment, Research Fields

Minneapolis, Minn.—Scientists, professors and department heads of leading medical schools across the country are cooperating in the expanding medical program of the Elizabeth Kenny foundation, according to Marvin L. Kline, national executive director.

KLINE

The program, he explained, includes medical research, and the sponsoring of fellows and medical seminars and scholarship grants. The medical research program which the Kenny foundation is sponsoring at its own treatment centers and a number of universities across the country is not limited to the field of polio, but includes other neuromuscular disorders of various kinds, he asserted.

"Included on the medical advisory committee and planning committee set up by the Kenny foundation to help provide greater service," Kline said, "are doctors who are affiliated with the various departments of the following schools:

"University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn.; Stanford university, Palo Alto, Calif.; University of California, Los Angeles, Calif.; New York university, New York City, N.Y.; Columbia university, New York City, N.Y.; Ohio State university, Columbus, Ohio; Baylor university (hospital), Dallas, Texas; Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn.; College of Medical Evangelists, Los Angeles, Calif.; McGill university, Montreal, Canada; Washington university, St. Louis, Mo.; University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis.; University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich.; University of Illinois, Urbana, Ill.; Herman hospital, Houston, Texas, and Marquette university, Milwaukee, Wis.

"The Kenny foundation's expanding rehabilitation program offers help to persons of all ages who have nerve, muscle or joint disabilities which our medical staff believes may be lessened by such treatment."

The program of the Kenny foundation is made possible through funds contributed by the public.

It's a good idea to spread a light layer of straw under the branches of that favorite persimmon tree, report horticulturists at Purdue University. The straw will prevent many of the fall fruits from mashing.

"Watch for unusual native nuts and fruits in the woods this fall." That's the advice from Purdue University horticulturists who say that some excellent walnuts, pecans, hickory nuts, and seedless persimmons can be found.

Entomologists at Purdue University say to make certain that house plants which have grown outdoors during warm weather are insect free before they are moved indoors for the winter. Spray them at least twice at weekly intervals with malathion. Use two teaspoonfuls of 57 per cent emulsion per gallon of water. Aphids, leafhoppers, mealy bugs, scale, white flies and mites often build up in large numbers on neglected house plants.

Purdue University entomologists say that fall is the best time to control cattle lice. One thorough spraying will kill the insects present and prevent them from building up and causing damage this winter. Lindane is an excellent insecticide for louse control. It should be used according to directions on the package.
