Again Mentone Leads

Mentone Now Has First Free Paper In This Section Of State

Once again Mentone steps to the front as she has done in the past.

Building up some of the business firms that Mentone rates was no easy task. But some of the business firms she has built up are phenomenal in regard to capital, volume and drawing power for a city the size of Mentone.

Space prohibits mentioning numerous other Mentone accomplishments.

Then Mentone gave you your Free Band Concerts. And is still doing so every Saturday night.

She again lead in giving you Free Movies. And she still gives you Free Talkies every Thursday night.

But now Mentone steps ahead and gives you your Free Newspaper. The papers that come to your door in town or through the mail in the country this week and each succeeding week are absolutely free.

Mentone 5 - Akron 1

Locals Take The All-Stars.

Sunday's game, which was rained out, was postponed to Monday, the Fourth, by request of Akron who was all primed to take their friendly rivals into camp. Akron has secured the services of Rush, a former pitcher with Columbus, Ohio of the American Association League, a Big Ten Catcher to hold him, and a trio of semi-pros from Elkhart and South Bend.

The game proved to be as expected, a battle. For seven innings not a run crossed the plate for either side. Big Ed Creighbaum was bearing down. His speed was terrific, the curves breaking sharply, and his control perfect. You can guess the rest. Nineteen of the Akron stars shot to earth via the strike-out route. Nellans caught a great game. If it had not been for a decision by the Akron umpire, Akron would not have scored. The decision that was responsible for the score was made in the eighth inning. The umpire allowed a man to advance when a Mentone player, not thinking, threw his glove at a batted ball. The rules allow three bases if the ball had been hit by the glove. The umpire not being familiar with the rules, thought that the act of throwing the glove entitled the player to advance. The result was that a man scored when he should not have advanced beyond second base. After this umpire reads the rule, he will feel more badly about it than we do.

It was fitting to have Big Ed start the fire works that upset Akron's hired help. He, being the first man up in the seventh, connected with one of Rush's fast balls and far over the left center fence skyrocketed the ball. The home boys then started to work on Mr. Rush and manufactured one more in the seventh and three in the eighth to trim the picked team 5 to 1.

Next Sunday Mentone plays the Warsaw Eagles at Warsaw.

Large Attendance At Free Talkies

The Free Talkie, "Oklahoma Jim", was seen and heard by a large attentive crowd facing the Farmer's State Bank and Clark's Grocery last Thursday night. The short subject "Musical Revue" featuring Estaine Kaye was very entertaining and amusing.

The acoustics for outdoor talkies are very good at this location. In fact at times the talkies can be heard over most of the business part of Mentone.

Mr. Miller, the motion picture operator who does the showing of the talkies, says that their picture projector is the only outdoor projector in this section of the state using film recording instead of ordinary disk (comparable to phonograph) recording for the sound.

There is still plenty of room for you. So drive in Thursday night (tonight) and see and hear the program.

BAND CONCERT

Has Large Attendance—Cool Weather Does Not Hinder.

In spite of the cool weather last Saturday night a large crowd came to Mentone to enjoy the program by Mentone's Band.

Mentone has a real snappy band this year. The selections can be clearly heard all over the business section of Mentone.

So head your car on Saturday evening toward one of the State Roads leading into Mentone. You'll have a good time visiting with your friends while listening to the band music.

POULTRY

VENTILATE TO GET COMFORT FOR HENS

Simple Methods of Admitting Fresh Air.

Hens enjoy summer breezes but the cold, raw winds chill poultry as they do persons. Yet the poultryman who tries to make his hens comfortable by closing windows in the poultry house only adds to his and their troubles, for he sooner or later gets a wet pen, says Prof. F. L. Fairbanks of the New York State College of Agriculture.

Ventilation should provide air conditions in the laying house which will be comfortable and healthful. It may not be possible to measure a hen's comfort, but all good poultrymen do know when their flocks are contented, he says. In most poultry houses it is possible, without expert labor, to improve air conditions cheaply.

Most tops of windows or other openings are from one to two feet below the highest point in the ceiling. An opening at the highest point approximately one square foot for each 100 hens seems enough to relieve the moisture conditions. The air intakes should be near the floor, for then the air has the greatest distance to travel before it reaches the opening and more chance to mix with the air in the pen and absorb and remove moisture given off by the birds. The bottom openings should be baffled to prevent drafts.

Systems of this type with the exit at the highest point in the house, and with baffled openings near the floor, have been in use for several years and are giving satisfaction, Professor Fairbanks says.

Pays to Raise Broilers for Special Marketing

Special broiler raising is the latest development in the poultry business. It came mainly as a result of the discovery that chickens can be raised on a quantity basis with special equipment and special feeding. Both battery brooders and continuous hot water brooding systems are employed in raising broilers, as are also the colony brooders.

The broiler raiser is not interested in breeding. He buys his baby chicks from a breeder or a hatcheryman and when the birds have reached one and a quarter pounds or two-pound size, he markets the pullets and cockerels alike. In most cases the broiler raiser has a special market which he has developed. Most of them sell their broilers dressed to a special trade.

There are a few things anybody who contemplates going into the poultry business should always keep in mind, and they can be summed up in the following sentence. Start moderately, work hard, and be sure of a good market.

Poultry House Floor

A cheap and very satisfactory type of poultry house floor can be made by building the poultry house in the usual way with the concrete foundation walls extending up about 12 inches above the ground surface. Then tamp in firmly a layer of clayey soil, then oil this thoroughly with used crank case oil then tamp in another layer of loose soil and again oil thoroughly, and continue this until the floor is at the desired height.

This should then be covered with a thin layer of gravel well tamped in, and in this shape is warm and dry, and has a firm enough crust so that the fowls will not scratch holes in it. Later it can be covered with concrete, the oiled earth insuring warmth and dryness.—Wisconsin Agriculturist.

Poultry Increases

Between 1919 and 1929, average production of eggs on farms in the United States increased 63 per cent, according to a report made by Wallace's Farmer. The north-central states, including Iowa, gained at the rate of 65 per cent. Washington led with a gain of 234 per cent, followed by Utah with 223 per cent and California with 149 per cent. Next in rate of increase were Massachusetts, New Jersey and Delaware.

MANY BUTTONS

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Buttons have come into their own. Paris couturiers are using them in quantities, in sizes varying from tiny to huge. The smart three-piece cruise costume pictured is fashioned of brown and beige diagonal tweed with large, handsome brown ocean pearl buttons ornamenting the wide cuffs, a single button fastening the wide rever which can be thrown back at will. A double brown pearl ring fastens the belt. This is one of those transformation costumes which consists of many parts, in this instance a skirt, a jacket blouse and a full-length coat. The scarf and the revers are adjustable. That is, they can be arranged in any number of effective ways.

VOGUE OF PAJAMAS CONTINUES GROWTH

Each Season's Crop Is Less Bizarre Than the Last!

Popularity of pajamas as an intrinsic part of every woman's wardrobe continues to grow. Happily, every season's crop is less bizarre and gypsyish than the last season's. This year they are less full, more tailored and more sombre colors than ever before.

A typical beach pajama costume in the latest approved style, as described in Collier's Weekly, consists of beautifully tailored dark blue wool slacks, quite narrow, almost like a man's flannel trousers, sharply creased like a man's trousers, and perfectly fitted to waist and hips; a marvelously tailored, heavy white silk or jersey blouse with short sleeves, a breast pocket, an open-throated collar and an embroidered monogram; and, if you like, a blue coat like a man's.

There's that matter of the bandanna newly converted into a blouse for pajamas. Someone simply took one of those big cotton handkerchiefs which the French peasants use for noses and head coverings, split it from one corner to the center, knotted the split ends at the back of the neck, let it hang down in front like a bib, tucked it in under the pajamas, and tied the remaining two corners at the waistline in back—a perfect backless blouse.

As for bathing suits, they become more and more negligible as to size and more and more important as to style. Skirtless, backless, legless, all but frontless, these clean limbed, stripped-for-action little masterpieces gain in chic with every inch of fabric they sacrifice.

SAILOR HAT IS IN SPRING SPOTLIGHT

A visit to the hat shops would indicate that Dame Fashion has decreed almost any kind of bonnet as long as some conditions are followed.

Right out in the spotlight is the sailor with its brim and hat band of ribbon or leather, sometimes of contrasting color. The colors are quite gay, the crowns are, on the whole, shallow, and the brims narrow. While the straws fairly blossom on the shelves there are popular arrays of knitted hats, some with straw brims, and some knitted of wool and straw. There is a natty little hat popular for sports that sits like a pancake on top of the head and comes in bright sports colors.

The hats sport any variety of small and striking ornaments of a contrasting color.

Irish Lace Lends Nice Touch to Spring Frocks

Crocheted Irish lace is lending a chaste touch to many a spring frock of printed crepe, plain black or beige crepe or a plain navy blue woolen. It is used in collars, vests, cuffs and on the ends of ties. It is even used to trim some of the smartest and most expensive of the new spring hats. Perhaps if a housewife is frugal she will begin rummaging around in old trunks in the attic, is she has an attic, and some of the old Irish lace she finds there may be the means of making lovely an otherwise ordinary dress this spring.

Heavy Erosion Losses

Soil specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture declare that the annual losses of plant food due to erosion in this country amount to 21 times as much as the plant food consumed in the production of farm crops. Translated into dollars and based upon the average cost of fertilizer, the losses due to erosion amount to $2,000,000,000 annually. Of this amount, there is evidence to indicate that at least $200,000,000 can be charged up as tangible yearly loss to the farmers of the nation. Missouri Farmer.

Worms in Hogs and Sheep

One of the most favorably known and newer drugs in use today among hog and feed men for treatment for worms is tetrachlorethylene. The value of this material as a worm expeller has been firmly established and endorsed by the leading authorities and in addition to its effectiveness it leaves little or no drug effects. Worm remedies such as tetrachlorethylene should be given in individual doses in capsule form to get the best results. Indiana Farmer's Guide.

Potato Rot

The trouble with potatoes rotting is due to a fungous disease that affects potatoes on the leaves and then goes down into the tubers and causes them to rot. Spraying the potato crop with bordeaux mixture is a preventive measure. It is commenced when the plants are about six inches high. The spray is put on once a week, about for as many as six times, when the disease is bad. There are two rots, the wet and the dry, caused by two different fungi.

ORCHARD GLEANINGS

CONTROL CURCULIO TO PREVENT HARM

Important That "Drops" Be Picked Up and Destroyed.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Supplementary control measures against the plum curculio, or peach worm, must often be used in addition to the customary spraying or dusting with lead arsenate. If a large cull pile of wormy peaches at harvest time is to be prevented.

The United States Department of Agriculture considers that the most effective of these supplementary control measures is the collection and destruction of peach "drops." A majority of the small peaches that are punctured by the curculio early in the season fall to the ground within a few weeks after the calyxes, or "stucks," have been pushed off. The worms remaining in these, if they are not picked up and destroyed, later reach maturity, push their way out, and enter the soil to transform into adult beetles, thus starting a new generation of this destructive pest.

Three collections of "drops" will get about 90 per cent of the worms that fall to the ground in peaches during the season. The first collection should be made about one month after full bloom and the other two at intervals of about five or six days. All drops should be made harmless as soon as collected, either by burying in a trench 18 to 24 inches below the surface of the soil and covering with a layer of quicklime before filling in the soil or by submerging them in boiling water.

Another precaution for keeping down the number of adult beetles is to burn over woodlands and brush near the peach orchard during the winter months. This may not always be advisable, but prunings, rubbish, and brush piles should not be allowed to remain and harbor curculios.

Disking under the spread of peach trees in the orchard from about May 10 to the last of June will destroy many pupae in the soil. This should be done as frequently as possible. Jarring the trees in the spring enables the orchardist to collect many adult beetles, which are then killed by placing in a can of coal oil. The regular spraying and dusting schedules should be followed as well as the above measures.

The name "filbert" is correctly applied to either of two European hazels, but in many parts of the United States it is the common name of the native hazelnuts.

Sweater Craze Gaining Importance Every Day

What with the sweater craze growing bigger and better, the importance of the knit jacket is looming large.

They are of every conceivable color and combination—stripes and checks, plaids and polka dots. Some of them reach barely to the waistline. Some are hip-length and belted.

The double-breasted jacket seems slated for a big play, especially if it ends abruptly at the waist, has flaring lapels and big buttons. Ribbed-bottom jackets are smart if they are very short, reaching barely to the top of the hips.

Mixing Corn in Field

The safe distance of separation to prevent the mixing of corn depends very largely on the amount of wind and the prevailing wind. Corn pollen is very light and in windy weather may be blown quite a long distance. It all depends on how far the wind will blow the pollen. Sometimes two kinds of corn planted in the same field may mix where the first half dozen rows of each kind come near each other and the end of the field from which the prevailing wind blows keeps almost entirely free from mixture. That is, if the strongest wind is from the north or west, that end of the field is much more likely to be free from mixture than the other.—Rural New Yorker.

Poultry Hints

Crippled chicks, malformations and dwarfs have no place under any brooder.

Chicks hatched from hens laying small eggs will not produce eggs that top the market.

Symptoms of bronchitis are coughing, sneezing, and rattling sounds in the throat. This disease runs its course very rapidly, deaths being sudden.

Wheat does not contain as much vitamin A as yellow corn. Therefore, when a larger proportion of wheat is fed poultry, more green feed should be fed to make up the difference. Leafy alfalfa hay is recommended.

Peat moss makes one of the best chicken litters. Many commercial poultrymen use it. It is practically dustless. It absorbs manure and can go directly from the henhouse floor to the compost heap. It is the ideal humus for gardens.

Gobi Desert More Arid

The Gobi desert, one of the driest regions of the world, is growing more and more arid, and is steadily advancing into northern China.

THEIVES LOOT BULK STATIONS

Upon arriving at their bulk stations opposite the Mayer Mill last Thursday morning to start their day's business C. G. Carter, Sinclair Agent, and W. A. Warner, Standard Oil Agent, discovered one of the most recent results of the depression, that of hold-ups or robberies.

The Sinclair pumping station had been entered the previous night and the pump started. The locks on the three large outdoor tanks had been broken. A check-up at the Sinclair plant revealed that some gasoline had been stolen from the tanks. The exact amount was not determined.

At the Standard Oil station the garage and storage building had been entered by jamming the padlocked door. A tire tool which had evidently been used for this purpose was found by the door. A gasoline pump, one of the old type formerly used at filling stations, had been broken and the thieves evidently had attempted to get gasoline from this pump. But luckily Mr. Warner had just emptied that tank the day before. The locks to the main tanks had also been broken. A check-up at the Standard Oil plant showed the only things missing were two 5 gallon tank wagon buckets.

Several 10 gallon oil cans were found strung over the ground of both plants indicating that they had been stolen from the store room and used to carry gasoline from the large outdoor tanks to the cars or truck of the thieves.

City Marshall Frank Warren was on the scene early Thursday morning. Sheriff Harley Person of Warsaw was also called.

Installation Of Officers

On July 6 thirty-two members from various Rebekah lodges from district No. 23, which is composed of Marshall, Fulton and Kosciusko Counties, installed the members of the Evening Star Rebekah Lodge No. 151 into their respective chairs. Members from Bourbon, Plymouth Argos, Warsaw and Rochester were present.

The hall was beautifully decorated. A committee served refreshments.

MENTONE WINS SCORE 4 TO 2

In one of the longest drawn out battles that a Mentone team has played in years, the locals defeated the strong Warsaw Eagles Sunday on their own grounds.

The game was tied one and one in the ninth. Mentone pushed over another in the twelfth, and it looked very much as if the game was over. But you never can tell. Warsaw managed to get a man on second in their half. With two men out and two strikes on the batter, he managed to get safe at first on an infield error. The infielder, evidently disgusted, failed to make an effort to retrieve the ball, which allowed the man on second to come all the way home and tie the score again. Neither side was able to get anywhere in the thirteenth. But the Mentone boys got to socking the old ball in the fourteenth and drove in two runs. In the last half inning Big Ed decided that the game had gone far enough, or that he had been away from that new baby daughter too long; anyway he put on a little more steam and Warsaw was stopped cold. The last two men facing Creakbaum struck out.

Nellans, besides catching his usual nice game, pulled Mentone out of what might have been difficulties by taking care of some unusual hard foul flies. On one occasion he ran between the grand stand and the players' dug out and captured a very difficult ball.

Cameron, the new Warsaw pitcher, pitched a very nice game. He held the Mentone boys to eight hits and struck out eight. Creakbaum fanned sixteen of the Warsaw boys and allowed only three hits. Warsaw will play at Mentone the tenth of August.

Next Sunday, July 17, the locals travel to Wabash. Then the strong Rochester team comes to Mentone on July 24.

WOOL PIQUE LAST WHISPER IN CHIC

We've had cotton pique and we've had silk pique.

Now may we introduce the newest member of the family, wool pique, which is the last whisper in spring-time chic.

For instance, one of our more alert shops along the avenue is showing a suit of white wool pique, with a trick yoke effect which makes your shoulders look like those of a West Point cadet. The yoke of the jacket is cut straight across the sleeves, about midway between shoulder and elbow, giving effective shoulder breadth as well as a new dash and a last minute air.

The jacket is short and fitted as to waistline. The skirt is straight, with a front pleat concealing the fact that it is divided. It is worn with a knitted blouse of white wool yarn with an ascot scarf banded in red and green.

If you'd care for a sailor of rough white straw, with a tri-color band of green, red and white, you'd find it added quite the finishing touch.

Bees Are Essential to Proper Set of Fruit

Bees are essential to the proper set of fruit as demonstrated last year in pollination experiments at Ohio State university, according to Virgil N. Argo. There should be a stand of bees on each acre of ground in the orchard for best pollination results.

The blooming time for some varieties of fruit is very short and if flying weather is bad the bees will work near their hives and may not spread out sufficient pollination. If there is a stand near it will bring about better pollination than if they were a distance from the orchard.

Arsenates used as sprays or dusts are disastrous to bees and a spray schedule should be arranged that would not interfere with the bees, Mr. Argo states.

Apple Varieties Will Vary in Qualities

Apple varieties vary greatly in quality, texture, season, and in the best use to which they can be put. Some varieties are fine in December but poor in March. Some are excellent cookers but poor bakers. Some are good for eating out of hand but poor for any other purpose, while others are excellent general purpose varieties. Needless to say, a customer who buys apples for a particular purpose only to find them totally unfit for that purpose is not a satisfied customer and is not likely to be a "repenter."

Horticultural Notes

Apple trees planted 40 feet apart yield 43 bushels more fruit to the acre than trees spaced 30 feet apart, says an eastern investigator.

Pro-pink and pink sprays should be prepared for in April. The disease to be combated is the apple scab. The spray material is lime sulphur. The dilution is one and one-half gallons of concentrate to 50 gallons of water. One and one-half pounds of lead arsenate should be added to control such early insects as curculio.

Many serious consequences may follow when fruit trees, vines and other fruit plants are allowed to starve. Blossoms may form and fail to set fruit, and this is especially true of apples, pears, and plums.

Raspberries, both the red and black varieties, are easy to grow and produce an abundance of fruit the second year. This is also time of blackberries. Just a few plants of each of these fruits will make a fine display of both flowers and fruit and the berries will furnish nourishing food.

Karl Hagenbeck was the first show man to train large carnivorous animals of different species to perform together. He also introduced a new way of confining animals in outdoor menageries. In his zoological garden at Stellingen, a suburb of Hamburg, there were no gratings nor wires about the space occupied by groups of large mammals, broad moats of water being employed to confine them.

PLAY OVERALLS

By CHERRIE NICHOLAS

Spring has come and it's time for children to play out of doors. What more befitting for your little girl to wear than this clever overall costume? Make it of jeans or cotton broadcloth or any preferred sturdy weave. The original model photographed is in marine blue and red, with bright red ocean pearl buttons. Be sure to add the gay pearl buttons for they give this cunning suit the touch that tells.

Raffia Necklaces Are New Spring Accessory

Raffia necklaces are fashion's newest accessory novelty to wear with that spring wool frock. They are made of fine raffia braided in choker design and finished with a long tassel which falls to the waist. White necklaces are worn with black wool frocks and emerald green with light green.

Rakish Little Hats

They are young and cute and rakish, these new hats of woven visca straw, with a low, rounded crown, a brim pointed a bit over the left eye and with two quills in contrasting colors standing straight up on the left side. They are slipped through the crown.

From the German

The quotation, "Though the mills of God grind slowly, yet they grind exceeding small; though with patience He stands waiting, with exactness grinds He all." is from Longfellow's translation of "Retribution," by Friedrich von Logau.

A DUMMY, A FISHPOND AND A CHICKEN YARD.

Mentone and surrounding community has been chuckling about a story that is being passed around. It seems that on a recent night a dummy appeared by a Mentone fish pond. The dummy aroused considerable consternation since he seemed to be catching the gold fish out of the pond. A few nights later the same dummy appeared in a Mentone chicken yard and from the squawking of the hen it was holding it seemed to be taking all of the chickens in the yard. A revolver appeared on the scene and disposed of the dummy. The coroner's verdict had he arrived on the scene would have been, "instant death of the dummy."

While brutes grew coats of mail in OKLAHOMA

Today the drills of Sinclair oil men have bitten deep into the soil of Oklahoma and tapped that treasure trove of the ages, the Cambro-Ordovician oil pool—the pool that was already old when the age of dinosaurs came upon the world. Piped into the great Sinclair refineries and carefully refined and blended, this oldest of Mid-continent crudes becomes Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil, a product averaging more than 80 million years of Nature's priceless mellowing and filtering. In process of manufacture, Sinclair Opaline is de-waxed and freed from non-lubricating petroleum jelly at as low as 60° F. below zero. Note how Sinclair Opaline lasts in the heat of hard, fast driving—observe at draining time how little oil has been used up. A sure proof of quality! Ask for Sinclair Opaline.

MENTONE 8 WABASH 1

"They say, 'Times do change.'" Wabash was here early in the season and defeated Mentone in a great game, the only defeat of this year and the only defeat Mentone had suffered in two years.

Wabash was composed of a bunch of old heads at the game and played a steady game, but they were not any better than they were in the first game. While the young Mentone players are going forward by leaps and bounds. The result was an easy win for Mentone over a team that the fans only conceded an even chance with.

A nice crowd from Mentone followed the team to Wabash. They were rewarded by seeing the local boys play a fast, tight game that proved too much for Wabash, and bat their star pitcher for 12 hits. Only two locals whiffed the air. Creakbaum allowed 6 hits, three of which were of the scratch variety, and struck out eleven.

Slim Igo as usual took the eye of the crowd with his great work around first. While it was not necessary to take as many balls out of the dirt as on the Sunday before, nevertheless he is proving what it means to have a man of his calibre on first. The young infielders can cut loose on a hurry-up play knowing that if they get it within gun shot Slim will have it.

The whole team is playing nice ball and are looking forward to the game with Rochester next Sunday on the local grounds.

POULTRY

PROVED WORTH OF LIGHT FOR CHICKS

Illumination That Brought Results.

Within the past two years, several experiment stations have reported that more rapid growth and lower death loss may be had with chicks kept in brooder houses where a dim light is used throughout the night.

Personally, we are sold on this method, though our use of all night lights was followed in our first experience (two years ago) through necessity and not because of choice. We bought some started chicks, two weeks of age, that had been kept in a lighted room during their two weeks' living at the hatchery.

As dark approached at the end of their first day in our poultry house, they became panicky. They ran about cheeping or piled up in the corner. We brought in an ordinary farm lantern and hung it from the ceiling. The chicks then bedded down very quietly and quickly. Later we ran electric wires to the brooder house and used a 10 watt light. We used lights until the chicks were six or eight weeks old.

Without question, this lot of chickens grew faster than any lot we had raised previously. Our experience tallies with that of many others with whom I have talked. Even if the chicks become frightened, they do not pile up. We found that they ate considerable feed during that night, even though the light was dim and so arranged that its rays did not fall directly on the chicks when sleeping.—J. W. Wallace's Farmer.

Show Results in Fight on Avian Tuberculosis

A summary of progress in eradicating tuberculosis from poultry is now being issued monthly by the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture. The summary includes the results of inspection of poultry flocks in the eleven states doing systematic work in detecting and eradicating tuberculosis of poultry. These states are Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, South Dakota, and Wisconsin. In addition there are reports for ten other states in which veterinarians engaged in testing cattle for the disease also inspected poultry. The report includes the tabulated results of post mortem examinations of flocks and fowls affected with tuberculosis, as shown by clinical examination or the tuberculin test. The summary for February shows 8,005 flocks under supervision for the eradication of avian tuberculosis.

Fertilizing Material Needed by Fruit Trees

Fruit trees should receive the fertilizing material every spring. Spread it under the outer branches, away from the trunk, where the fine feeding roots are. If a nitrogenous fertilizer such as nitrate of soda or sulfate of ammonia is used, it should be applied at the rate of about one-quarter pound for each year of the tree's age. Thus a four-year old apple tree would receive one pound, and a twenty-four-year old tree would receive six pounds. Old peach trees will rarely need more than three pounds. Spread the fertilizer on top of the ground and let the rain wash it in.

Self Sterile Cherries

The fact that cherry trees drop their fruit when it attains about the size of shot indicates that they are self sterile. The only way to overcome this trouble permanently is to plant trees of other varieties which will bloom at the same time as those already growing, so that the pollen may fertilize the flowers. You can remedy this trouble temporarily by cutting branches loaded with blooms and placing them in pails of water near your trees when your own trees are in bloom.

Trees Deserve Care

Tree lovers often have to face the question of deciding whether or not a particular tree is worth the expense of treatment. Tree specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture say that most shade and ornamental trees with only a few dead limbs are unquestionably worth attention. Others that have many dead limbs or decayed areas may not be worth the expense involved, particularly if they are rapid-growing short-lived trees.

Stretching It

I am sure that if I can love and feel proud of a country as large as the United States, I could with a little effort stretch that love and pride to include more of the earth's surface.—Ernest Elmo Calkins.

To Control Ravages of Stomach Worms

Effective Remedy Offered to Sheep Breeders.

Sheep owners may prevent losses from stomach worm infestation in their flocks by properly dosing affected animals and by breeding their flocks for early lambing. The dosing, which should be started in the spring, is fully described in Leaflet 891, "Controlling Stomach Worms in Sheep and Lambs." Repeated tests made with farm flocks for 15 years have demonstrated that the remedy, when properly administered, is safe and about 97 per cent effective in controlling these internal parasites. Among other control methods the publication mentions the rotation of sheep from worm-infested pastures to clean fields and grazing on high, well-drained ground. Copies of the leaflet may be obtained on application to the Office of Information, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington.

Larger Legume Acreage for Fertility of Soil

An ambitious program is sponsored by the State College of Agriculture for Kentucky, involving an increased acreage of alfalfa, sweet clover and soy beans. The objective is a million acres of each of these legumes. In addition to which there will be heavy seeding of lespedeza and other clovers suited to the South. Restoration of soil fertility is given as the main reason for restoring to legumes, though it is not the only gain that will come to the farmer. Regardless of present prices, which are by no means favorable to the grain growers, the safest policy is to include live stock in the farm program and to grow feed in sufficient quantity to provide for them. Balanced rations cannot easily be prepared without red clover, alfalfa or the more recent introduction, soy bean.

Having obtained a good stand of clover or alfalfa the labor cost, compared with grains, are considerably less, and in this way expenses are kept down. The experience of others in the neighborhood is the safest guide in choosing a legume. While each has its advantages, there are limiting factors to be kept in mind. Were alfalfa suited to all localities it might be generally recommended. If it does not thrive, there are clovers and vetches that will do very well in its stead. By all means give legumes a more prominent place, both for present results and future improvement of the land.

Disk Before Plowing

Disking ground before plowing in the spring may be the means of adding two or three bushels of corn per acre, in the opinion of John Silpher, state extension soils specialist. He cites experiments carried on in Nebraska over a period of six years, which indicate that corn yields there were increased about three bushels to the acre by this practice. This year in Ohio much of the plowing for corn has already been done due to favorable winter weather. Early spring plowing has decided advantages, Mr. Silpher points out, because it saves moisture and allows corn to be planted at the most favorable season. A week's delay in plowing may cause enough water to be lost on an acre to grow 11 bushels of corn.—Ohio Farmer.

Farm Hints

Look after the lawn. Give it seedling where needed and scatter fertilizer.

Cherry trees respond more readily to nitrogen fertilizers than do apples or plums.

Records kept on 137 hogs in Currituck county, North Carolina, showed they paid $1.04 a bushel for all corn fed them.

Early potato acreages, in the early and second-early potato states, are about 26 per cent less than last year's acreage.

A ton of low grade or low formula is not a ton of fertilizer. Much worthless material is included.

The Massachusetts station reports good results in preventing black rot in squashes by dipping them in formalin solution, one part to 50 of water, before storing.

Nearly 600 varieties of fruit are produced in the orchards and vineyards of Massachusetts State college for use in teaching and experimental work. There are 105 varieties of apples alone.

AIRPLANE ROUTE TO EUROPE IS PLANNED

Survey Awaits Sanction of Iceland Government.

New York.—Immediate and detailed survey of the air route to Europe by way of Canada, Greenland, Iceland, the Faroe Islands, and England, with a view to establishing a trans-Atlantic mail line, awaits only the sanction of the government of Iceland of a bill just introduced in the parliament of the land.

This bill would give to the Trans-American Airlines corporation, a subsidiary of the Thompson Aeronautical corporation, now flying passengers and mail between Cleveland and Detroit and between Detroit and Chicago as well as to northern Michigan, permission to establish a base in Iceland under a contract running for 75 years and giving the company exclusive privileges for 15 years.

Survey to Be Made.

Richard F. Hoyt, chairman of the board of the Curtiss-Wright corporation and a director of Trans-American said recently that there would be no delay in making a study of the exact route and flying schedule to be followed should this bill become a law. The detailed work before the proposed trans-Atlantic airline, which would become an international undertaking might require a permit for two years he added.

The northern route to Europe has held the interest of airline operators for several years because of the shortness of the over water legs involved. None exceed 400 miles in length. The United States army round-the-world fliers made use of this route, as did Capt. Wolfgang von Gronau and his three companions, who brought their plane into New York harbor after an unheralded flight from the North sea by way of the northern islands and Newfoundland.

England Studies Route.

Last August Parker D. Cramer, pilot of many fine flights, and his radio operator, Oliver Paquette, were lost on the last short leg of a flight over the northern route, that from the Shetland Islands to Copenhagen.

Cramer had taken off secretly from Cleveland on July 28 to blaze a trail for the Trans-American corporation, and had successfully flown by way of Canada, Labrador and the Greenland icecap as far as the Shetlands.

For more than a year the British arctic air route expedition, headed by Capt. H. G. Watkins, studied the conditions in Greenland and last autumn Lieut. N. H. DeVeth, flying officer of the expedition, reported that he considered the route across Greenland feasible for scheduled flying operations.

ORCHARD GLEANINGS

CHERRY SLUG MAY DO MUCH DAMAGE

Pests Also Attack Foliage of Pear and Plum Trees.

Injury to the leaves of cherry trees by the cherry slug sometimes results in a great deal of damage to the trees. The first brood appears in June and a second in August.

The cherry slug, commonly known as the cherry sawfly, in the adult stage, begins laying eggs on cherry leaves about June 1, says Dr. C. P. Gillette, the Colorado state entomologist. The eggs are thrust just beneath the epidermis of the leaf, one in a place. Little slimy slugs hatch from the eggs. They feed on the upper surface of the leaves, skeletonizing them and causing them to turn brown and die. The second brood comes on about August 1.

The slugs injure the trees and sometimes the market quality of the fruit when abundant. The second brood may so defoliate cherry trees as to cause them to die, August being about the worst time in the year to remove the foliage from a tree. The slug also attacks the foliage of pear and plum trees to some extent.

The slugs are easily killed by spraying the foliage with any one of several mixtures, Doctor Gillette advises. The fruit grower may spray with arsenate of lead, one pound to 50 gallons of water, or with black leaf 40, one part in 1,000 parts of water; or white heliober may be used at the rate of one ounce to three gallons of water.

Arsenic Substitute in Spraying and Dusting

Fruit growers and truckers who are looking for a substitute for arsenic in sprays and dusts will be glad to learn that the Tennessee station has experimented with cryolite and barium fluosilicate and found them quite promising. A summary of experimental results with the two materials is about as follows:

These materials have a comparatively low solubility and are therefore reasonably safe on foliage. They can now be obtained in commercial quantities at about the same price as lead arsenate.

Cryolite and barium fluosilicate are both highly toxic to insects. In small quantities, such as might occur on plants, fluorine compounds, so far as known, are not dangerously poisonous to man.

For adult insects, barium fluosilicate is more toxic than cryolite. Both materials gave excellent control of the Mexican bean beetle when used as a spray at the rate of one pound to 50 gallons of water.

At the rate of six pounds to the acre, neither cryolite nor barium fluosilicate used as a dust caused foliage injury on beans. Thirty pounds or more to the acre produced moderate burning. Five weekly dustings on tobacco produced no foliage injury with either material, and controlled the hornworms and flea beetles.

Both cryolite and barium fluosilicate, used in the dust form at the rate of six pounds to the acre, gave very good control of the bean beetle. These materials were also used successfully when mixed with two parts of lime.

MENTONE SWEATS.

But It's Only The Heat Wave.

Last week with temperatures soaring above 90 degrees residents of Mentone and community sought the coolest possible places. Those that were unable to find a shady place worked up a healthy coat of tan or a nice case of sunburn.

A rain, wind and thunder storm which passed north of Mentone Friday night did considerable damage around Plymouth and Bourbon. The rain practically missed Mentone but the wind storm helped cool the atmosphere for a couple of days. But by Sunday Old Sol was back on the job again nearly taking the top off of the thermometer.

Spend Dollars At Home

They Might Come Back To You

A study was made recently in a city about the size of Mentone. A number of dollar bills were marked by numbering them before they were released into circulation in that small city. Each time a person received one of the marked bills, he reported the number on the bill to headquarters.

Before the bills disappeared from circulation in that community each one averaged passing through six persons hands.

It has been proved that on the average when a person receives money it increases his wealth a certain per cent even though he may spend the money immediately. So every one of the six persons that received one of the dollar bills increased his buying power or wealth.

So spend your dollars at home. They might come back to you.

The exact amount of material used in the mammoth overall was 28 2-3 yards. And the exact amount of thread used in making the overalls was 834 yards.

Around 75 people were entered in the contest. Guesses on the number of yards in making the garment ranged from 9 to 60 yards. Guesses on the yards of thread used ranged from 50 to 3000 yards.

Eel Remains Mystery

The natural history of the eel has been surrounded by mystery since the days when Greek philosophers thought eels spring from such things as horse-hair, and even today science does not know the full life story of these fish.

Poultry Notes

Overheating as well as chilling must be avoided in raising baby chicks.

A pullet usually gains in weight until the end of her first winter.

A chick starting mash should not contain more than 18 per cent protein.

Unless your chicks have some time in the sunshine each day, they should have cod liver oil in their feed.

Farmers in the United States raise more than twice as many chickens as any other country in the world.

The standard weight for an adult Bronze turkey is 36 pounds. It is the heavyweight of the poultry yard.

Low roosts when the chicks are about three weeks old will help to keep them from crowding.

Never let chicks go thirsty. That is the way of extinction. A 10-inch diameter drinking fountain is the most easily handled type.

The Pekin duck originated in China, and was introduced into this country about 1873. It soon became the most popular breed on commercial duck farms.

In a cold house hens must use a greater portion of the food for keeping warm and can have less left for egg production.

Eggs have been very low in price, but quality eggs continue to demand a substantial premium—in the larger towns and cities, at least.

Start the chicks eating at twenty-four hours of age—the forty-eight-hour theory and practice has passed into history as a rearing fallacy.

Helps Feathers to Grow

According to certain English observers, it is reported, when there is any difficulty in getting feathers to grow linseed and sulphur help the growth considerably. At the same time, do not overlook the fact that a good supply of flint grit is also a big factor, and if those who rear chicks would only see that the young have plenty of small grit there would not be the common complaint about the feathers not growing well; it will also keep a lot of other troubles away. There is a lot of silica in a feather, and the best way to help the growth of the feathers is to supply flint grit.

Dog's Service to Man

Such fidelity of dogs in protecting what is committed to their charge, such affectionate attachment to their masters, such jealousy of strangers, such incredible acuteness of nose in following a track, such keenness in hunting—what else do they evince but that these animals were created for the use of man?—Cicero.

British Cannery Making Inroads in U. S. Industry

London.—While other British industries are steadily declining, fruit and vegetable canning enterprises are outstripping their competitors abroad.

Less than four years ago the canning industry in the United States had no serious rival, but it now has been almost shored out of the British market by home factories. Even the supply of pork and beans, a delicacy formerly furnished exclusively by American packers, has been taken over by the British, with a resultant increase in popularity.

Horse flesh is another product canned here in large quantities for export, mostly to the European continent. It is often said in France that many of the "beef-steaks" served in small restaurants actually are horse flesh, and with proper preparation it is difficult to tell the difference.

Canning of fruit has increased more than 500 per cent in the last five years, while vegetable canning industries have grown no less than 2,500 per cent. The present output for both is more than 80,000,000 cans yearly.

Berkeley, Calif.—Jealousy is the principal cause of children's stammering.

Miss Delight Rice, in charge of correction of speech defects, lip reading, and deafness among school children here advanced this theory at a recent meeting of the board of education.

"In the young child," she said, "stammering is usually due to a disturbance of the emotions. In my experience, jealousy is the outstanding cause. How neglected the first child feels when the second baby arrives. As this trouble works in cycles, the jealous child finds that stammering attracts attention."

DAVID EATON PASSES AWAY

Injured in Accident at Mentone
Saturday evening.

David Eaton passed away at 3 A. M. Monday morning at his home five miles south of Mentone. The deceased had been seriously injured when struck by an auto in Mentone Saturday night. At the time of his death Mr. Eaton was 83 years old.

Mr. Eaton had lived in the Mentone community nearly twenty-five years. He had moved to this vicinity from Danville, Illinois. Mr. Eaton was well known in Mentone and surrounding community.

Surviving relatives are: four sons, William who lives in the state of Iowa, Adam of Alberton, Illinois, Bert of Pence, Indiana and Charles at home; and three daughters, Mrs. Florence Green of Sedalia, Alberta, Canada, Mrs. Nellie Plummer of Ligonier, Indiana and Mrs. Daisy Beck of Elkhart.

The funeral services were held by Rev. Mr. C. B. Sweeney of Larwill at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home. Burial was at the Mentone cemetery.

FATALLY INJURED IN ACCIDENT

David Eaton, 83, was struck Saturday night, July 23, when he walked into the path of an auto driven by Harold E. Ward, 17. Witnesses to the accident stated that Mr. Ward was driving his Dodge sedan west through Mentone at about 9:30 o'clock and was unable to avoid striking the aged man whose attention seemed to be diverted by another passing car. The left front fender of the car threw Mr. Eaton to the pavement rendering him unconscious. He was taken to the office of Dr. Chatter. His face and legs had been badly bruised and he was suffering from the shock. He was then removed to his home south of Mentone.

Mr. Eaton had just recovered from a recent illness shortly before the accident happened. He gradually grew weaker, passing away at his home Monday morning.

IT'S OVER LET'S GO

Before one of the largest crowds of the season, the Rochester Merchants defeated Mentone's team in a great game by a score of 3 to 1.

Neither team was able to score up to the eighth inning. At this time Mentone was able to push over one run, which looked like enough the way the team was going. An old saying is that the game is not over until the last man is out. Rochester came back in their half of the ninth, by taking advantage of some very poor head-work on the part of two Mentone fielders, together with the failure of the Rochester pitcher to cover a play at third, allowing himself to be caught where he could not see the play; he called a man safe when it was an easy out, thus costing Mentone a well earned game. The out was admitted by a Rochester player after the game.

A good umpire is more difficult to get than a good ball player, one who understands the rules of baseball with a keen judgement of plays. Creakbaum out-pitched his rival, Smith, only allowing Rochester 4 hits. Mentone collected seven hits. Creakbaum struck out eleven. Smith struck out ten.

Next Sunday the fast Elkhart team that Mentone defeated early in the season by a score of 1 to 0 will play a return game here. The fans who like a close game, one that is played for blood, should not miss this one because Elkhart says they are coming to take this one. We shall see.

Storm Hits Mentone Community

Greatest Damage North of Mentone

Last Thursday evening a severe wind, rain, hail and thunder storm hit Kosciusko County. The greatest damage was around Etna Green, Leesburg, North Webster and the Lake Region. The high wind and small cyclones caused considerable damage by breaking windows, uprooting trees, destroying small buildings, etc.

A large barn on the Ronald Spice farm, one mile east of Etna Green, was struck by lightning about 6 o'clock. Mr. Spice and son, Byron age 8, were in the barn at the time it was struck and both were badly shocked. Neighbors aided in driving all the cattle from the barn and also saved a large farm wagon. All the farm instruments were destroyed as the large barn was soon a mass of flames.

The wind damaged crops several miles west of Mentone and also east of Mentone near Palestine.

The wind caused a large chicken shelter covered with straw to collapse on the Clem Teel farm. The shelter was 100 feet long.

HORN REUNION

The 22nd annual Horn Reunion will be held Sunday, August 7, at Beechwood Park. Huffman's Lake near Atwood. Ota G. Fields of Fort Wayne is President and Mrs. Esther Sarber of Mentone is Secretary-Treasurer of the Reunion.

BARN BURNS

A large barn on the farm of Harvey W. Coplen, two miles south of Argos, burned Monday morning. Mr. Coplen with the help of neighbors succeeded in saving all the live stock and farm implements before the flames destroyed the building.

Mrs. George Eaton and daughter, Mrs. Roy Britch, and son, Frances, of Danville, Illinois attended the funeral of her brother-in-law, David Eaton.

The largest score that any team has been able to pile up against Mentone is a mere 3 runs, while Mentone has crossed the plate from one to eighteen times in winning her games.

Mentone has played the strongest teams in northern Indiana, teams from cities up to thirty or even one hundred times her size. Visiting teams have used players from all over this section of the middle west, but still Mentone sticks to her home talent players and continues to win her lion's share of the games.

POULTRY

BEST HOPPERS FOR THE YOUNG CHICKS

Cup Flats Recommended as Suitable.

Cup flats used for putting eggs in cases make excellent hoppers for chicks during the first week after they are hatched, the uneven surface of the cup flats holding the mash and reducing the amount of waste, advises J. C. Taylor, of the New Jersey agricultural experiment station. By using first one side of the cup flats and then the other each day their durability will be prolonged. The best results will be procured if one flat is used for each hundred chicks.

Trizing that small, open box hoppers be used after the birds are one week old, Mr. Taylor states that a very satisfactory "reel hopper" can be made at home. A trough or box 6 inches wide, 2 1/2 inches deep and 4 feet long is the hopper, with a reel 4 inches in diameter running its entire length and so adjusted at each end that it can be raised and lowered to prevent the chicks from wasting the mash. If both sides of this hopper are used 100 chicks can be fed from it at a time.

Commercial hoppers are obtainable at a moderate cost, the size to be determined by the age of the chicks. Experienced poultrymen have found the open type most economical for the feeding mash to poultry of all ages.

Water fountains for the chicks should be so constructed that they may be easily cleaned and not upset. The most satisfactory fountain for the first ten days is the earthenware bell jar with the flower pot saucer, a type of fountain suitable for 100 chicks. Large metal fountains should be used when the chicks are four weeks old. — Michigan Farmer.

Worm Young Chickens

As soon as the baby chick is allowed to run on ground he is very likely to pick up worm eggs when he starts to scratch and peck for food.

For some time the presence of worm infestation is not noticeable because the worm eggs must mature and the parasites mature before indications present themselves outwardly in the chick's appearance. It is proper to worm young pullets soon after eight weeks of age.

Spring worming aids normal growth and development of young chicks. — Prairie Farmer.

Who Discovered It?

By Bruce B. Brewer, Vice Pres.,
Ferry-Hanly Advertising Company

I was a printer's devil some 20 years ago on a small city weekly. It was a hard job for the editor-owner to sell advertising in those days. Merchants simply didn't believe in it.

About fifteen years ago the small city weekly was "discovered." Advertising men in city advertising agencies began "trying out" the country newspaper field. Gradually they found out that the small city weekly, with its advantage of being read from cover to cover, with its relatively few pages of competing advertising, was an excellent buy for national advertisers. None of this advertising was bought on sentiment, none of it was purchased to support the paper. It was bought for just one reason—it paid.

The local merchants had not "discovered" the value of advertising space in the small city weekly. The very men who should have known its value, did not, for the very simple reason they had not used it enough to find out about it.

Many small city merchants are passing up today the opportunity to use the productive columns of the weekly newspaper to sell their goods more cheaply, more profitably.

Farm Chicken Census

According to figures of the United States census bureau, California ranked seventh among the states in the number of chickens on farms in this country on April 1, 1930. The ten leading states of the nation as to number of chicks over three months of age on farms on April 1, 1930, were: Iowa, 30,096,221; Missouri, 25,197,000; Illinois, 22,081,902; Texas, 21,525,810; Kansas, 19,127,922; Ohio, 17,999,950; California, 17,467,284; Minnesota, 16,611,573; Pennsylvania, 15,496,514; Indiana, 14,082,641.

Pullorum Disease

The accuracy of the blood test for pullorum disease in mature birds has recently been submitted to an interesting test, according to a recent article in the Rural New Yorker. Blood samples were drawn from a group of birds and the poultry disease laboratories in three different states were furnished with the blood samples. Each state laboratory applied its own technique of testing. There was practically no variation in the reported findings from the three laboratories.

Watch Eggs Intended for Hatching Purposes

In keeping eggs for setting purposes, it should be remembered that too high temperatures do more harm than chilling. A temperature of 70 degrees will start some germ development, which is very harmful. It is stated, thus, for best hatching results, eggs should be kept at a temperature below 70 degrees, and above freezing.

Eggs generally hatch better the fresher they are, but it is sometimes necessary to save them as long as two weeks. When eggs are saved they should be turned over once or twice daily. They should be kept covered with a damp sack to help keep them cool and prevent excessive evaporation of water from them. Heavy loss of water from eggs is a cause of poor hatches and weak chicks.

Eggs should rarely be washed, because it generally opens the shell pores. This allows bacteria to get through the shells and spoil the eggs.

Cattle Grubs

There is no satisfactory method for controlling the adult warble flies which bother cattle, but the grubs are easily and cheaply controlled. Begin by treating with an ointment as soon as the grubs begin coming to the backs of the cattle during the winter. Then treat every month until around the first of July.

One part of iodine in five parts of vasoline makes a good ointment, or one containing extract of Derris can be purchased. The ointment is applied by removing the seal over the grub opening and pressing a small amount of salve into each grub cell. Care should be taken not to miss any of the grubs and thus allow them to become flies.—Nebraska Farmer.

Feeding Pigs Cream

Cow testers in 12 Kansas associations tested 99 separators in December and found five that were leaving over .05 per cent of fat in the skim milk. In one association where ten were tested, two were in the .05 per cent class. In a ten-cow herd that means 50 pounds of more of fat a year left in the skim milk. That's too much cream to waste on the pigs.

Separators should be tested especially those that have stood idle for a while. If you don't know how to do it, or don't have equipment, get your county agent or separator dealer to do it for you. Then adjust the separator and replace worn parts. Better get a new separator than operate the old one at a loss. Farm Journal.

Soil Tests Important

It is important that farmers have samples of soil tested frequently to determine the lime need for legumes. A recent study indicated that there is a great difference between different types of soil and their ability to hold the lime after it has been once applied to sweeten the soil. On one soil type, a moderate application of limestone may suffice for many years, while, on another type, frequent applications may be necessary, even though the original requirement was the same in both cases. It seems, therefore, that it is a very practical plan for farmers to use the farm bureau regularly and have samples of soil tested for lime needs. Rural New Yorker.

Finds Cheap Way of Enriching Soil

Stimulation of Nodule Formation Advised by Ohio Expert.

Legumes lacking nodules rob the soils of valuable nitrogen in much the same way as do corn or oats, according to H. W. Batchelor, assistant professor of soils at the Ohio State university, who finds that nodule formation may be stimulated by inoculating the seed of such legumes as clover, alfalfa, soy beans, etc.

Inoculation of such seed, he says, tends to enrich the soil and may be accomplished at very little expense by using properly chosen field soil. Soil from fields producing soy beans having lots of nodules on their roots should be used in inoculating soy beans. Alfalfa may be inoculated with soil from fields producing good yields of either alfalfa or sweet clover, however, neither of these crops can be inoculated by soil from a field producing red clover.

After the desirable soil has been obtained, Batchelor suggests that the soil be sieved free from sticks and coarse sand or gravel, placed in the fertilized box of the grain drill, and sown at the rate of 100 to 150 pounds per acre in the row with the seed. This method has given very good results with soy beans.

Some farmers, he points out, do not have a satisfactory source of soil to use for inoculation, or prefer to use commercial preparations. Such preparations vary considerably in their effectiveness.

Kansas Farmer Has Way to Fallow Sandy Soil

Two fields of wheat stood side by side. One was taller than the other, and looked good for twice as much grain. E. E. Tengarden, extension agent in Stafford county Kansas, wondered what made the difference, so he drove back and asked Ralph Sultor, the owner.

"Well," explained Mr. Sultor, "my soil is so sandy that it would blow away if I fallowed it. I know that summer fallow will increase wheat yields, so I put that field in partial fallow. Corn was planted in every third row. The rows were far enough apart to till with wheat machinery, and the corn kept sand and dust in check. I will get twice as much wheat from the field that was in partial fallow, and I had a corn crop extra."

Mr. Tengarden asked permission to determine yields in co-operation with Kansas State college. The fallowed field made 39.8 bushels an acre and the one that had been continuously in wheat 17 bushels. Capper's Farmer.

1-2 cup peanut butter
1 1-2 cup milk

Sift first four ingredients together, add peanut butter and mix, add milk to make soft batter and beat thoroughly. Put in a greased loaf pan and bake in a moderate oven about 1 hour. This makes delicious sandwiches filled with cream cheese, watercress or lettuce with mayonnaise.

THE TWO CENT FEDERAL TAX

On checks is, of course, not popular with most people and the natural tendency is to avoid writing a check whenever possible. This practice can easily be carried to the extreme and the convenience in making change and having a receipt for bills paid, which is worth a great deal—be lost in the effort to save the small item of 2c. Provision has been made for withdrawals at the bank which is not subject to the Federal Tax.

"Always,"

said MRS. MOLLA PROPP,
"see that the vacuum is carefully adjusted."

MY DEAR, what is it you call the thing that shows how hot the engine gets... micro-meter, isn't it? Anyway, we were driving and Henry said, "would you look at the red column going up. Something's wrong!"

And then it was my turn to say "bother" because when Henry notices anything it means stop and fuss. "No, it isn't the fan... nor the oil level in the generator... nor the hose connection to the timer... nor the water... and she was knocking, too." Henry was muttering all this to himself.

Just then I guessed it. "Henry," I said. "You had my car yesterday. Did you buy any gas and where did you buy it and who did you buy it from and why didn't you get the right kind and why don't you ever listen to me when I tell you the kind I always get?"

I'd have asked him a lot more questions, but Henry stuck his fingers in his ears. He can be so rude at times.

Just the same, he drove to MY station and filled up on gasoline. He also asked them to drain the condenser and put in a fresh lot of oil... and that made me suspect that he had also been buying oil from goodness knows where.

Well, the car ran so peppy after that that Henry—without MUCH arguing—admitted that if one knows where to get the right kind of oil and gas and the right service, it really doesn't matter so much if one doesn't understand ALL about the mechanics of a car.

Around Orchard

BEES MAKE MONEY
FOR ORCHARDIST

In Gathering Honey They Increase Fruit Yield.

Without making a nickel's worth of honey, bees can earn astonishingly large profits for their owner, if the owner is also an orchardist. This was demonstrated during the past year by two demonstrations in orchard pollination by bees, carried on under the supervision of Virgil N. Argo, extension specialist in beekeeping for the Ohio State university.

One of the demonstrations was made in the W. W. Farnsworth orchard at Waterville. The owner rented 104 colonies of bees and established them in the orchard at the rate of one colony to each acre of bearing trees. Pollenization by the bees was held responsible for increasing the yield of a four-acre plot of self-sterile damson plums by 200 bushels over its best previous yield in spite of a poor season. The extra 200 bushels of plums sold at $2 a bushel.

The Ohio Orchard company at Milford Center rented 20 colonies of bees which were placed in two blocks of Minkler apple trees, notoriously "poor setting." A check was obtained by placing the bees at one end of a very long, narrow strip of the trees. The results showed that 47 trees accessible to the bees yielded a total of 2615 bushels of apples, or 5.56 bushels to the tree, while 35 trees which the bees did not reach, produced only 1265 bushels or 3.61 bushels to the tree.

In both orchards bouquets of the other varieties of the fruit from which pollen was to be taken were placed near the hives. The bees distributed pollen from these bouquets as they worked on the growing trees. Research into the possibilities of the system is to be carried further this year.

Simplicity Is Theme of Smartest Dresses

Lines still point the way to smartness. Not only the lines of the model, but the diagonal lines of the various woollens and the lines formed by the ever-smart pin tucking that is seen so much just now.

Simplicity is the theme of most of the frocks. Life is much less complex and exciting than it used to be and clothes are paced in the same gait. Novelties are conspicuous by their absence, so are freak clothes.

Instead we have smart little suits, attractive and wearable, and charming frocks that have a fine dressmaker air about them, but are careful not to flaunt it. This is the type of frock that will be worn for the present, during the day, anyway.

Mentone-Large Egg-Shipping Center

It is claimed that regardless of size Mentone is the greatest egg-shipping center in the state.

Paint this picture in your mind and you will realize why:-(Hundreds of farmers and poultry-men driving along the improved roads to Mentone every week. Their tracks lead to Mentone's two great egg-shipping points, the Winona Egg Cars and the Nickel Plate Egg Cars. From the egg cars their tracks lead to Mentone's two great mills where they secure their feed. And then let's follow them to Mentone's egg case factory.)

There you have the picture of why hundreds of farmers come to Mentone every week to fulfill her claim of being the greatest egg-shipping center in the state.

ELKHART STOPS MENTONE

The unexpected sometimes happens, but to think that Elkhart could hand Mentone an 8 to 1 defeat was certainly unexpected. The game was not as bad as the score would indicate as there were few mechanical errors on the part of the Mentone boys and Elkhart had only one earned run. But the errors of omission were the cause of the local's downfall. No less than five of this type of errors which do not go down against a player's record, were responsible for seven runs.

Mentone has played great ball all summer and until Sunday no team had scored more than three runs on them. It is only to be expected that an off day would come along.

Elkhart will be back Sunday, the 21st, and we shall see a ball game.

Next Sunday the re-vamped Warsaw Eagles will play at Mentone. They have sent word that they are coming to take Mentone.

OBITUARY

In Loving Memory of

Claud D., the only son of Louis P. and Elizabeth D. Hudson, was born in Marshall county, Indiana June 14 1874, and died at his home in Mentone, Indiana at 6 A. M. July 18, 1932 after a lingering illness of some years, during which time he suffered untold agony. All was done by loving hands and medical skill that was possible to arrest the attack of that dreaded disease, but to no avail, so Monday morning he quietly passed away into the great beyond at the age of 58 yr. 1 m. 4 da.

On July 15 1894 he was united in marriage to Miss Bessie Aurand of Knox, Indiana and to this union two children were born, Mrs. Lucille Mollenhour of Warsaw, Indiana and Jack of Mentone, Ind.

Claud and Bessie have spent most of their married life in and around Mentone where they have won for themselves a host of friends.

Claud was a man that was true to his convictions, honest in all his dealings and a zealous toiler. The height of his ambition was to provide for his family the things that were conducive to their comfort and happiness.

While Claud never belonged to any religious organization, yet he believed that there is a supreme ruler and often called upon Him for help. He believed that honesty, truthfulness and integrity were the requirements of his God and he wholly relied upon that to please his maker.

He leaves to mourn his going: his devoted companion, Lucile and husband and three boys, Blaine, Max and Jack, his son Jack and wife, an aged father, (his mother preceding in death just 8 years) besides a number of other relatives and friends.

Nation's Beef Cattle

Total number of beef cattle in the United States, January 1, 1931, was 35,980,000. The figures are taken from the 1931 Yearbook of Agriculture.

As the population of the United States is 122,008,190, this gives one beef cattle to every three and two-fifths persons.

The 11 far western states have 7,924,000 beef cattle, or 23 per cent of the total for the United States.

These 11 states have one beef cattle for every one and one-half persons, as against an average for the United States of one for three and two-fifths persons, or over twice the average.—Idaho Farmer.

Cornborer Parasites

In the last 10 years 20 different kinds of cornborer parasites have been imported into the United States from Europe and the Orient. Of these 12 have been recovered in the field, indicating that they have become established. So far control by this method has not had time to become effective, but in some fields as much as 15 to 25 per cent of parasitism has been found indicating that there is opportunity for further control through this method.—Paririe Farmer.

Dehorn Peach Trees

It is seldom desirable to dehorn peach trees. It is usually much better to give annual pruning of the right amount and keep the trees in a desirable fruitful condition from year to year by such pruning. Dehorning causes a profusion of rank sprout growths below the cuts. Many of these branches cannot be used; some break off and most of them grow too rapidly to be easily trained. The crop also suffers for two years or more following dehorning.

ONLY 1 OUT OF 100

By BRUCE B. BREWER, Vice Pres., Ferry-Hanly Advertising Company

As I write this I have before me a big city newspaper having a circulation of 200,000. Here is the advertisement of a grocer in an out-lying residential section. Not more than 10,000 families live within trading range of his store. Because the pages are crowded with other ads, probably not more than one out of five of that 10,000 sees it.

Only one of every 100 readers of that big city paper is useful to that merchant! He pays for 99 others—99 out of every 100—which are wasted readers to him. And there are many such advertisements in the paper.

Contrast this with your weekly newspaper. Everyone is a prospect. Everyone is within trading range. Everyone reads every page because on these pages is the most interesting news in all the world: news about people they know.

No city newspaper can compare on a basis of page-to-page readability. No city merchant has the advantage you have, Mr. Merchant, in the advertising columns of your weekly.

I asked the city grocer mentioned above if his advertising is profitable at the high rate he has to pay. At first, he said, it was not, but after using it regularly he finds that it pays. I told him then of the opportunities small city merchants are passing up to use, at low rates, local weekly circulation that is 100 per cent useful, with no waste. He cut loose with criticism of those merchants that was so vigorous and forceful I could not repeat it here without fear of wounding the sensibilities of the readers of this column. Copyright 1932.

Prevent Accidents By Clearing Obstructions At Road Intersections

Indianapolis, Ind.—(Special to The Mentone News)—The season is here when road intersections are obstructed by hedge fences and growing crops, preventing clear vision and causing numerous accidents on state highways.

It is important in the interest of human life and property, highway officials say, that the brush be cut, trees trimmed and other obstructions removed at intersections in order to reduce traffic hazards.

John J. Brown, director of the state road department, exhibits several letters from farmers who have written him to say they had cut out a few rows of corn which obstructed motorists' view on roads in their specific locality. Highway officials expressed the hope that others would follow this splendid example.

Again some farmers are careful to plant only low-growing crops in corners at road intersections or on sharp curves, and this procedure has greatly facilitated efforts of the department to make the roads safer for the high speed traffic of this age.

STATE AND NATIONAL NEWS

"It was very gratifying to see your fine camp and realize the good work that is being done there. I came away very well pleased and feel that you and your officers are deserving of the very finest praise for what you are accomplishing."

Not All Hateful

The birds known as flycatchers have the bad reputation of eating honeybees, but government biologists say that it is mostly drones that get eaten, and that the flycatchers make up for eating domestic bees by killing many bee enemies.

"Don't,"

said MRS. MOLLA PROPP,
"let the oil in the condenser get too low."

YOU know, my dear, we read so much about these rackets and gangsters that we don't feel safe anywhere.

Just the other day, Henry and I were out driving in that wonderful suburb where all those rich people live, and we had just read about someone breaking in to one of the fine homes, when—all of a sudden—something went "BANG!"

My dear, I jumped a foot and even Henry seemed startled. "I'll bet that's the racket we're reading about and somebody shot at us and—look—maybe that's a gangster standing on the corner!"

Just as we came flying by the man pointed at us and waved his arms. "Heavens," I said, "now he's signalling to someone. Do hurry, Henry!"

Henry hurried. "Awful streets," he said under his breath and they did seem frightfully rough. "But they look smoother ahead," I said cheerfully. But when we got there they weren't any smoother . . . and then it occurred to me that they had looked smooth all the time.

"I'll bet we have a flat tire," I told Henry. "Maybe those noisy racket persons shot a hole in it." "Or maybe," said Henry, looking foolish, "that noise was just a blowout."

And, sure enough, it was. And the man who was standing on the corner came up and said that he had tried to tell us we had a flat tire when we went by and he was the garageman and would soon fix the tire for us.

All the way home, Henry was trying to tell me he wasn't scared and that he was just trying to get to a place to have the tire fixed. But I knew better, my dear. When a man has a flat tire and doesn't say the usual words THEN he's scared.

CO-OPERATIVE MILL HAS LARGE DRAWING POWER

The Northern Indiana Co-operative Association's Mill at Mentone has accomplished the seemingly impossible.

About two years ago a few stockholders banded together and built a mill with only the few stockholders as the first customers. The list of customers grew by leaps and bounds until today the Co-operative Mill has numbers of customers calling at the mill every day who live at least twenty miles in every direction from Mentone. Not content to stop with a twenty mile radius the Co-operative Mill has increased its drawing range until it has customers coming to Mentone from a distance of 45 to 50 miles.

This is remarkable for a city the size of Mentone.

Clearing Out Brambles Quite Difficult Task

Blackberries make great root growth and send up a multitude of shoots, especially in the corner of a deep soil garden where they have been let go for sometime. A good spading fork, leather gloves, such as iron workers use, and considerable backbone, will handle this job. Put the fork down deeply under a plant, loosen it and with a pull on the top while prying with the fork, most of the roots will come out. It is not easy, but does the work. Some roots will be left in the soil, but these shoots can be hoed off during the season. Quack grass in a garden corner can be handled in the same way.

European Gooseberries Quite Vigorous Growers

There are two groups of gooseberries; the European and the American types. The European varieties are vigorous growers and produce large attractive berries. They are no better in quality than the American varieties and are much inferior in yield. Consequently, they are not recommended for commercial culture though they may have a place in the home garden where something a little out of the ordinary is desired. Columbus is one of the most satisfactory European varieties. Oregon Champion is a cross between the European and American types that has made many friends.

Baby Chick Cannibals

They can be checked by darkening the brooder house and avoiding overcrowding. Paint the windows blue, and cover the muslin openings with blue cloth to dim the day light. Three hundred chicks in a 10-by-12-foot brooder will be about right. A inch of feeder space to the chick. Piling up in corners at night can be prevented by hanging a low burning lantern in the brooder. Emil Peroutek Jewell company uses these methods. Kansas Farmer.

But the instant the radio brings orchestra music into the house they become excited and swim rapidly about kicking their feet, so Mrs. Cornwell says, in time with the music.

Mentone Defeats Fort Wayne

SCORE 8 TO 0.

For six innings Sunday Big Ed Creighbaum set the Fort Wayne Kips down in order not a man reaching first base. Ft. Wayne was so helpless against his pitching that it was pitiful. At that time the Mentone manager decided that he had earned his bread for the day and sent young Billy Blue in to finish the game. Billy took up the task where Ed left off and finished the game without allowing a hit.

So the first no hit-no run game ever played in Mentone by the first team was on record. Only one visitor reached first base, that was in the eighth on a slow roller to the infield that was knocked for an error.

Eighteen Wayne boys whiffed the air. On the other hand Mentone pounded Lefty Sommers for 14 hits and 8 runs.

Next Sunday the fast Elkhart team will be back. The fans have been looking forward to this game, as each team has one victory to their credit, Elkhart winning the last time here. The local boys are all set to take the odd game, and will give everything they have in the attempt. Don't miss this one as it is going to be a hard fought game.

Best Stores In Town

By Bruce B. Brewer, Vice Pres.,
Ferry-Hanly Advertising
Company

I believe the chances are ten to one I could take a file of newspapers from any town or city and, after a little study, pick out the best stores in town. I believe any experienced advertising man could do it.

Just look at the advertisement in this paper, week after week, and you can do the same thing. Perhaps it won't be the largest advertiser who is really growing the fastest, but more probably it will be. The main thing to look for is the advertiser's own expression of his sales story. If he goes about his advertising with a sincere desire to serve you, he goes about his entire business that way. Such a merchant is aggressive, modern and probably gaining on his competition.

I know of a town where one store always had had the woman's ready-to-wear business. It advertised modestly. Then along came two out-of-towners, established their store, began advertising in vigorous fashion, using twice the amount of space of the older store. In a few months business began to swing. Guess who has the largest business now.

Similar opportunities exist in every town today more of them than ever before. Copyright 1932.

Recipe Column

The International Canning Contest is offering splendid prizes again this year for the best entries in several classes: vegetables, fruits, meats, pickles, unusual packs, balanced meal class, jams and jellies. Two thousand prizes with more than $5,000 in cash and merchandise will be awarded. The contest is open to anyone. Full particulars may be had by writing Mrs. Grace Viall Gray, Log Cabin, Aurora, Illinois.

Mrs. Gray says this is the secret of making good jelly:

1. Use a small amount of juice at one time, that is, never work with more than 2 quarts at a time.

2. Use powdered citrus fruit pectin to supply the necessary jelling substance.

3. Use a flannel jelly bag for straining juices and never squeeze if you wish a nice clear jelly.

4. Use a standard cup without a flared edge and measure both juice and sugar in this standard cup.

5. If you wish a tart jelly add the juice of one lemon to every batch. Add the lemon juice to the fruit juice.

RURAL FIRE PROTECTION

The Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific, San Francisco, has published a pamphlet on Rural Fire Protection. It pictures an effective fire district.

The "model" district is eight miles square. It should have four pieces of fire fighting apparatus, or four companies, each covering an area four miles square. The companies are located in towns near the center of their district, and are in charge of a captain and a lieutenant. The chief of the district is in charge of all four departments.

Each company must have at least six men to respond to any fire. The territory is divided into four or more wards, and members must come to every fire in their ward. One member in each ward is designated as a crew leader. Alarms of fires are either telephoned to the chief, who then notifies the proper company, or to company headquarters, where a siren is located to give to give out the message. Each company holds a drill each month, and every spring and fall the entire department meets to discuss fire preventions and fire suppression methods.

A well organized fire department with standardized apparatus and a thoroughly trained, enthusiastic personnel, is as fine an asset as a community or a district can have.

Lights of NEW YORK

By WALTER
TRUMBULL

Real estate men, among themselves, divide New York into districts. There is, for example, the Grand Central district, the Plaza district, the Pennsylvania district, and so on. One of these experts said recently that the absorption power of the Grand Central district, up to 1929, had been about a million feet of rentable space a year. Now there is a surplus there of three and one-half million feet. From this he deduced that the district was now about three years behind former normal growth. He thinks the whole of Manhattan is about three years overbuilt.

It appears to be a fact that in New York, and I suppose in all other places, one side of the street, in a certain area, is very much better for business purposes than the other side. They tell me, for instance, that the greatest pedestrian travel is between the Pennsylvania and Grand Central stations. The mass of people on foot cross on the north side of Thirty-fourth street, then turn up the west side of Fifth avenue to Thirty-eighth street, where they cross to the east side of Fifth avenue to walk the four blocks to Forty-second street. This crossing of the avenue is explained by the old Wendell estate, a church, and the Public library being on the east side. The crowds cross so as to be on the side with the shops.

One of the reasons the Empire State building was constructed on its present location was that it is about halfway between the two stations. But in these days that doesn't do it much good. Its saving asset has been the tower. People have been patronizing that lofty view of the city and country at the rate of about $1,000,000 a year. How long this patronage will continue, nobody knows.

Frank Case, owner of the Algonquin, that meeting place of celebrities, was accosted by an Englishman, who expressed a desire to become a patron of the hotel. Mr. Case welcomed the idea with enthusiasm.

"But, I say, how about my dog?" inquired the prospective guest. "Will it be all right if I bring him? He is just a little fellow."

"It is evident," replied Mr. Case, "that you are not aware of the condition of the hotel business in this country. You could bring your dog if he were an Irish wolfhound or a St. Bernard. You could bring him, and welcome if he were a team of huskies. And, if you care to bring a giraffe or a hippopotamus with you, that will be all right, too."

I happened to see Henry L. Mencken entering an elevator and said to Mr. Case that I had not known Mr. Mencken was in New York.

"I don't want anyone to know it," asserted Mr. Case. "Nor do I wish

Few Agricultural Pests Without Bird Enemies

The United States biological survey, in Farmers' Bulletin 1682-F, describes the "Usefulness of Birds on the Farm." W. L. McAtee, in charge of the bureau's division of food habits research, says that hardly an agricultural pest exists but has effective bird enemies. In Utah during an alfalfa weevil outbreak biological survey scientists found 45 species of birds attacking the pest. One killdeer's stomach examined in this investigation contained 383 individual weevils, and the contents of a brewer's blackbird's stomach showed that the bird had eaten 442 weevils, constituting 96 percent of its food. The everyday services of birds in consuming insects of all kinds and holding back the threatening tide of insect life, are probably of even greater significance than their emergency help. A list published in the bulletin shows that the cotton-boll weevil has 66 bird enemies, the gypsy moth 48, the army worm 43, leaf hoppers 175, the potato beetle 34, and wireworms 205.—Rural New-Yorker.

Cricket in Tonga

Back in London from the Pacific Islands, Commander Sereld Hay points one of his lectures with the story of a cricket game he witnessed in Tonga. Probably Legerd

The William Tell story is founded on a ballad which was certainly written before 1474. It seems that a mythological marksman and a balliff bearing the name of the real family had been joined and helplessly confused with distorted reminiscences of events from 1245 to 1247. In the stories of this period the names of many persons had been inserted and many unauthenticated acts had been attributed to them.

COOPERATION WORKS

By E. Hofer of Portland, Oregon

"Can cooperative marketing of farm products be made to work successfully?" asked Alexander Legge, former chairman of the Federal Farm Board, recently. He answered his own question with an emphatic, Yes.

Cooperation is simply a matter of intelligent self-interest. That type of "independence" which prevents a farmer from joining with his fellows to better the common lot becomes, eventually, a synonym for bankruptcy. Many things have contributed to the present plight of the farmer and one of the most important of these has been the refusal of a multitude of farmers to adopt modern methods of cooperative selling.

Every individual farmer is responsible for the rise or fall of the cooperative movement. Success or failure depends upon his loyalty to the cause or his lack of loyalty. Time after time the cooperatives have demonstrated that they alone can save the farmer from ruin and the future of agriculture lies in their hands.

"He told us,"

said MRS. MOLLA PROPP,

"that the starter amateur needed fixing."

Y'KNOW, my dear, there are so many things to a car and when one reads the instruction books telling how to take care of it, one wonders how to get time for driving.

Henry will study his book for hours and hours. But I'd much rather drive or play bridge.

The other day we planned a long trip. Just before we started Henry took a notion to see if the valve stems would go this way and that the way they should... and after about three hours he said that maybe we'd better take MY car.

Well, the motometer showed 500 miles since the oil in the condenser had been changed and, my dear, you can't imagine what trouble you CAN have if you don't watch that.

So I drove to MY station and you should have seen Henry. He sat with his mouth open watching the men look to see how much water there was, wipe the windows, inspect the grease in the thing we shift with and in the round places back there, give us fresh air in the tires, change the oil, stick a thermometer in the battery. They said that something needed fixing in the amateur and I asked if they meant Henry, that made them smile, all but Henry who said it was a two-for-a-nickel wisecrack.

When we left, Henry said, "So that's how you do it!" "Do what?" said I. "Keep your car going all the time," answered Henry.

And I told Henry all the way to Loveport—and that's a hundred miles, my dear—that if he'd do the same, he'd cut less and drive more. "Let the mechanics fix your carburetor like they do mine," I told him.

"Darned if I won't," said Henry.

Inoculate Legumes

Although legume seeds are cheaper this year than they have been, yet compared with prices of other farm crops, they still cost enough that farmers should use every effort to secure a good stand and best results. Inoculating the seed is an important step toward success. There are a number of good commercial inoculants on the market that should be used according to the directions of the manufacturer. Their use simplifies the job of inoculating. For those who wish to use dirt for inoculation, the easiest plan is to secure soil from a field where well inoculated plants were grown last year. This dirt is then mixed with water to the consistency of cream, and is mixed with the seed, care being taken that some of the mud gets on each seed. The seed is then dried and sown. After inoculation seed should be kept out of the sunlight.—Prairie Farmer.

The man who has in better times been favored with too much credit rather than not enough is finding it is hard to pay his interest now with low prices for his products or labor.

Salt Box for Sheep

A salt box that will supply salt and at the same time apply tar to the noses of the sheep as described by one authority is four inches deep, six inches wide and four feet long. A board three and one-half inches wide, placed flatwise at the back of the trough and three inches from the bottom, runs the entire length of the trough. A strip of sheepskin, wool side out, is tacked to the edge of the three and one-half inch board. This is smeared with tar. The sheep, when they protrude their noses through this two and one-half inch space to secure the salt get their noses tarred. An A-shaped roof over this box high enough so as not to interfere with easy access to the salt will make it weather-proof.—Indiana Farmer's Guide.

Plan the farm garden with rows wide enough to be cultivated with a horse drawn cultivator rather than with a hoe.

Apple trees in soil need about one-quarter pound of nitrogen fertilizer annually for each year's growth, up to thirty years.

Creighbaum Goes To Indianapolis A. A.

Big Ed Creighbaum, the pride of the local ball fans, gets his try-out with Indianapolis Indians of the American Association League early in September. Ed's record and reputation had reached the ears of Manager McCann, of the Indians, who got in touch with A. O. Miller, local manager, and made the arrangements.

Indianapolis is on the road at the present time playing in Minneapolis. Creighbaum is to report as soon as they return home.

Many of the leagues have disbanded, due to the depression, and a young ball player has to show something out of the ordinary to hook on.

Here's hoping that Ed makes the grade as he really deserves a chance. No other pitcher in Northern Indiana has the season record to equal Big Ed's.

MENTONE DEFEATS ELKHART

TAKES ODD GAME OF SERIES 6 to 2

You have often heard it said that the pitcher won his own game. This was nicely demonstrated by Big Ed Creighbaum, Mentone's star pitcher, Sunday, when he pounded out two beautiful three baggers besides pitching a swell ball game. The first extra base hit by Big Ed came with one man on to score Mentone's first run, the other found the bases loaded-scoring three runs.

Elkhart had started out in the first inning by scoring two runs. After that Creighbaum's speed ball got to working and Elkhart never saw the plate again. Mentone took the game by the score of 6 to 2 and with it the rubber game of the three game series, each team having won a game out of the first two.

The Elkhart team put up another nice game as they did in the two previous games and added to the general idea among the fans that they were about the best team to play here this year. They have played all the first class teams in Northern Indiana and Southern Michigan, winning 17 out of 20 played. Mentone took two of their three defeats. They have nothing but praise for the playing ability of the home team.

Next Sunday Mentone travels to Rochester. A large crowd is expected to follow the team. The boys believe that with an even break they can take Rochester on their own grounds. Come along and you will see a real ball game.

Then Labor Day will see Argos here in a field day, band concert and ball game an afternoon of sport and fun.

SPECIAL NOTICE

There will be no services held at the Church of Christ this Sunday due to the fact that the interior of the church is being re-decorated.

The Mentone congregation will meet with the Sycamore congregation at Sycamore chapel.

Mr. Holloway's nose was broken, some teeth knocked out and he bled profusely from the assault. The Pirates were ahead 17 to 5 of the So. Whitley Merchants when the game ended in the ninth inning following the assault.

CHAIN STORE SALES DECLINING

Even the largest and strongest of the chain stores are having great difficulties to maintain themselves. Several have been compelled to stop paying dividends. In a single week one of the chain's sales dropped nearly three million dollars.

They are finding that the independent merchant can easily compete with them now because of their decreased sales, expensive long-time leases (making a high rent overhead) and many chains having the chain store tax to pay.

WORLD WAR BY • • YARNS LIEUT. FRANK E. HAGAN

Blood Brothers

In the words of the soldiers, the Australian and American troops were the firmest friends of the World war because they "talked the same language."

This friendship, according to popular belief, was cemented shortly after the first contingent of American soldiers arrived in France.

Some of the American advance troops resented remarks poked at them by a group of Aussies in a Paris railway station, the accepted legend has it. A pitched battle ensued. After the dead and wounded of both sides were carted away the survivors of the two groups embraced one another.

Americans regarded the Aussies as the hardest-boiled soldiers on the Western Front. Therefore, says Maj. Reed G. Landis, World war ace who is a Chicago advertising man now, a conversation of his with an Australian lieutenant colonel, early in 1918, was gratifying.

"I was leaning against a bar in a cafe at Boulogne," says Major Landis, "when an Australian lieutenant colonel entered. Some American doughboys had recently been assigned to the Aussies for training. I thought I'd find out something about them."

"What do you think of the American Infantrymen with you, colonel?" I asked the officer.

"They are all right, but a bit rough," answered the Aussie battalion commander.

And that, from an Australian Major Landis concludes, was the quintessence of praise for the Yanks or for the fighting men of any nation.

REMOVE BIRD WHEN OUT OF CONDITION

May Check Spread of Coc- cidiosis in Flock.

Chronic coccidiosis in adult fowls cannot be distinguished by external symptoms from other wasting diseases, and only by the use of the microscope after death, says a writer in the Rural New Yorker. Unlike the acute form occurring in chickens, the veen do not display the evidences of the infection, which are to be found in the intestinal contents or in scrapings from the intestinal walls.

Either in chronic coccidiosis or other diseases showing the loss of appetite, dirty plumage, gradual loss of flesh, paleness of comb and wattles and perhaps paralysis of the legs found in such disorders all affected birds should be removed from the flock and watch kept for new cases. The quarters used should be placed in good sanitary condition and the old ruins discarded.

The parasites causing coccidiosis and other infections of like incurability infest ground that has been used for a considerable length of time by poultry flocks, and healthy birds must be kept from such ground if avoidance of infection is to be expected. Chronic coccidiosis spreads slowly in an adult flock and removal of sick birds with sanitary precautions to prevent infection of the healthy members should be observed.

No Raiser Can Report Profit From Dead Hens

Dead hens make the largest item of flock depreciation, and this depreciation is the third largest item, next to feed and labor, or about one-fifth, of the total expense of the laying flock, says Prof. E. G. Misner of the New York State College of Agriculture, after a study of ninety-two New York state flocks in 1930.

The percentage of mortality varied from 3 to 73 per cent of the average number of laying birds. The mortality averaged 28 per cent, with no difference between large or small flocks. When hens are valued at $1 each at the beginning of the laying season and are worth 75 cents at the end of the year, a mortality of 10 per cent makes the depreciation 30 cents to the hen. If the mortality were 40 per cent, the depreciation to the bird would be 60 cents. Professor Misner warns poultrymen to give close attention to disease and parasite control.

Keep your present customers and add new ones by Advertising in The Mentone News.

Use Judgment in Mating

It is poor policy to mate up any fowls, least of all male birds, that have previously shown any signs of disease or weakness. It is unwise to mate up undersized females to oversized coarse males, or vice versa.

The mating seldom "nicks," and it is almost impossible to secure medium sized, normal healthy progeny. Born poultry breeders know by intuition just how many males a certain flock of females will need to get best results.

As a general rule, in flock matings not more than eight or ten lightweight males are required to 100 females. With heavyweight varieties, ten males are about right, providing there is little fighting among males. Otherwise it were best to make smaller flock matings.

Birds Carry Diseases

Birds such as the English sparrows should be fenced out of poultry houses, says the Idaho Farmer. These pests travel far and wide and visit every body's poultry yard in a community, and if possible, carry diseases from the insanitary yards of one poultryman to clean yards of another. Careful poultrymen also make it a point to keep promiscuous human visitors away from their poultry houses and runs, as they, too, readily carry troubles from one poultry yard to another. When visitors are allowed in the well-kept poultry yard they should be provided a box of litter or sawdust, thoroughly disinfected, into which to step before entering the premises.

Don't Cut Down on Feed

This is no time to cut down on the flock's feed even though egg prices are low. In fact, low egg prices make it all the more necessary that birds be fed generously and thus be kept at the height of their ability to produce. The laying flock should have a mash before it all the time during the summer months. In addition it should be given some grain. The only feeding change should be the cutting down and finally the elimination of the morning feeding of scratch grain. —Exchange.

Hens Averaged $4

Hens averaged this net profit over feed cost last year for Mrs. John Niblo, Mascotah, due to careful feeding, culling and breeding. A hatcheryman had an order for chicks from eggs of a profitable flock he had to know the record of the flock. Mrs. Niblo had this information—she has kept records three years. Chicks from her flock satisfied the customer so well a second order was placed and other orders have followed. Quality gets the best price—Kansas Farmer.

JONES' GROCERY

TIME TO THINK!

For more than two years now, prices in America have been dizzily on the toboggan. In the frenzied competitive scramble for business, the last vestige of profit in many lines has been slaughtered to make a buyer's holiday.

It is true that within reasonable limits, reducing prices in slow times as a stimulant to sales, is a natural and effective action. But it is also true that like every other good thing, price-cutting can be abused to the point of diminishing returns, and may even damage the very people it seems to serve. In a country like ours it is well to remember that the public which buys is also the public which sells.

When prices are cut to the point where they strike at the jobs and the earnings of the great body of people engaged in production, shrunken buying power offsets shrunken price and creates the appeal of increased value. When price-whittling threatens quality of workmanship and quality of materials, the public is quick to sense that a cheapened product at a cheapened price is no bargain.

When quality is sacrificed, standards decline, reputation dim, progress stops—even the buyer loses.

"Prospect" Deluged With Calls by Practical Joker

Some practical joker with a fondness for using the telephone, made Mrs. Hendricks of Ft. Wayne the world's best prospect for tradesmen ranging from laundrymen to undertakers and provided her service of policemen and firemen. All came at intervals during the day. While Mrs. Hendricks was explaining to undertakers that their services were not needed, morticians from another firm arrived. Then came four clanging, speeding fire trucks to extinguish a fire reported in the basement of the home. After that the police.

Then Mrs. Hendricks called the Better Business Bureau.

Biblical Quotation

"Of making of many books there is no end" is found in Ecclesiastes, chapter 12. While the authorship of this book of the Bible was long attributed to Solomon, scholars have not agreed upon this point. In fact, the modern point of view is that the book is a compilation of the writings of several men.

Bus Makes Summer House

By adding a porch to a double-decker motor bus a German family transformed the vehicle into a home that serves very nicely so long as Berlin's temperature does not fall too near the frost mark. The "two-story" home is large enough for three or four persons, and it also has numerous windows.

Who Can Afford It?

By Bruce B. Brewer, Vice Pres.,
Ferry-Hanly Advertising
Company

"They can afford it—I can't." That argument, used by a local merchant when he is reminded that large national concerns profitably use small city advertising space, simply doesn't hold water.

In the first place, the big national concern probably grew to largeness from a start in using small city advertising. Secondly, it costs the national advertiser far more to use the paper than it does the local merchant.

The big advertiser must use thousands of papers. Divide the number of papers used into his total sales and you quickly see how costly it is for him, and yet, he uses this advertising only because he knows by experience it pays him.

To illustrate: A national advertiser's sales in 1,000 small cities are $2,000,000 annually. He spends for advertising an average of $100 in each small city, or $100,000 in all. His $100 in each city must bring $2,000 in sales.

On the same basis, a retailer with sales of $10,000 should spend $500; with $25,000 he should spend $1,250; on $50,000, his advertising should amount to $2,500; on $100,000 it should be $5,000.

In addition, the merchant secures a lower rate, so his money buys more advertising, which makes his advertising-sales cost lower.

Now, "who can afford it?"

Radio Flashes

Kate Smith Still Popular

Kate Smith, the affable songbird of the south, remains as popular as she was this time last year, when she first began to make radio history. An audience soon tires of the average voice, but Kate's full soprano has kept the interest of her listeners.

Miss Smith was born in Virginia but spent her childhood in Washington. She entertained at various events about town and Nicholas Longworth predicted she would become a great singer.

Later she entered a training school to become a nurse. A year later she decided to let her voice instead of her hands help the sick so she gave up nursing and joined Eddie Cantor in "Honeymoon Lane." A few more musical shows and she ended up in radio.

KOSCIUSKO COUNTY FAIR STARTS SEPT. 26

The annual Kosciusko County Fair will be held in the business district of Warsaw from September 26 to October 1.

"I always watch the thermostat,"
said MRS. MOLLA PROPP,
"so I won't exceed the speed limit."

MY DEAR, it was AWFUL! Henry—being mechanical, you know—was telling me what caused the knocking and joggling as we drove along.

It was quite clear to me at the time... something about the what-you-may-call-it and the transmission—or was it the vacuum! Anyway, I told Henry that the car never behaves like that when I take it out and was it because of the compression or WHATEVER it is.

It did seem funny, my dear, for while I may not know all the names like alemites and high tension, I do know I have driven cars for several years without any trouble. You just push THAT and step on THIS and away you go!

Well, I kept telling Henry it was this and that. But he KNEW it all. All men are like that. He kept saying it was something in the multifold—or was it the displacement? I thought I noticed a funny smell and finally I told him to drive in at an oil station, and Henry told the oil station men just what seemed to be the trouble. No doubt, Henry said, the distributor wasn't working and then the oil couldn't get to the shackles—or something like that.

Henry was all fussed up, but just the same he asked me to take an ice cream with him while the car was being fixed. He CAN be awfully nice at times.

When we got back we asked the station man if everything was all right and he said it was and Henry asked him how much it was and he said nothing. "What was wrong?" Henry asked of him.

"Nothing," said the man. "Only you had the emergency brake on."

"Oh," said Henry, and he didn't have a word to say all the way to town. He didn't get a chance.

NEW COAL BINS AT COOP. MILL

The Northern Indiana Cooperative Association's Mill has been busy this week constructing their new up-to-date coal bins, in preparation for handling coal this fall and winter. These bins are clever in construction due to the fact that the railroad tracks run onto the top of the bins. This enables the coal cars to be run over the individual bins and the coal simply dumped into the bins, thus saving the extra unloading charge. The driveway to the bins is below the level of the railroad tracks thus enabling the customer to simply drive up to the bins and load on coal before driving to the scales.

The work is progressing very rapidly and the bins will be completely finished in a little over a week.

RENTS 240 ACRES BUSY MAKING MONEY

Lakota, Iowa—Art E. Anderson is busy making profits on the 240 acre farm he rents near here—accumulating funds with which to buy a farm of his own.

He is one of the Iowa farmers who kept accounts last year. He knows farm conditions are not what they might be, but he is successful despite circumstances.

His farming methods are not complicated. He believes in complete crop rotation, getting the most from the land, diversification of crops, keeping accurate records and in feeding live stock and poultry.

He stresses the last point most heavily. Good times or bad, he says, he is convinced that the farmer who feeds stock and poultry, profits most.
All he raises each year on 150 acres of grain land he feeds his shorthorn cattle, Duroc Jersey hogs and poultry.
Often he buys 1,000 bushels more.

Albert Bowman's Barn Burns At Talma

The large barn on the Albert Bowman farm was destroyed by fire about noon last Tuesday. Sparks from a nearby sawmill were believed to have started the fire. A bucket brigade was formed to help prevent the flames spreading to nearby buildings and the Rochester rural fire truck was rushed to the scene. They succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to other nearby buildings.

The loss is fully covered by insurance. Work on a new barn will start immediately.

WORLD WAR BY * * YARNS LIEUT. FRANK E. HAGAN

Victim of "Ol' Debbil Sea"

District of Columbia troops of the hard fighting Forty-second division (Rainbow), are fond of relating an incident which occurred while they were on the way to France aboard the Covington, a transport boat which later was sunk by the Germans during a return voyage to America.

Just as with other troops who listened to the "You can't stand here, soldier" of the high seas, men of the Rainbow were required to stand by in "abandon ship" drills at least twice a day, at odd hours.

At such times, the soldiers must appear at their allotted stations on deck with the regulation "full pack" as described in army regulations.

Private Henry Buffington, one of those typically fine fighting men, whose home was in an outlying section of Oklahoma, was caught at a disadvantage one day when the alarm sounded. Hurrying frantically, he appeared at his station minus a hat.

All the other soldiers were dressed properly so Buffington was singled out at once by Major Bryson, a stern disciplinarian. In his best military manner, the Major demanded:

"Private Buffington, where is your hat?"

Instantly, the soldier spun around, clicked his heels snappily together, raised his hand smartly in salute and replied:

"Sir, I'm sorry, but it blew off into the creek."

Traffic Survey Started

Indianapolis, Ind. (Special to The Mentone News) Approximately fifty men have been placed to work in eleven counties of the state by the state highway commission to survey traffic over a period of the next four months.

According to Ralph E. Simpson, assistant state highway director, the survey is a continuation of a preliminary survey last March and April in Boone county near Lebanon, which established the fact that 75 percent of all traffic in that vicinity is on state highways.

This survey in the counties of Kosciusko, Adams, Marion, Lake, Pulaski, St. Joe, Boone, Brown, Scott, Orange and Vanderburgh, checks traffic on all state roads in these respective counties and on selected county and township roads.

The traffic survey establishes without a doubt which roads in Indiana carry the bulk of traffic. Likewise it establishes the nature of traffic as regards out-state, city and county. By the survey the State highway commission determines when a road under state jurisdiction should be given better maintenance, a cheap form of wearing top or high type pavement.

Part of this traffic survey started on State road 25 east of Mentone this week.

Graded Eggs Sell Best

The average per capita consumption of eggs in Canada is 301, nearly an egg a day for every person, and the highest consumption of any country. Canadian officials credit this to the fact that eggs are carefully graded, and that the Canadian housewife goes to market and buys eggs with confidence. She knows that eggs graded as extras are of the highest quality and can be used for any purpose in the home. Every egg passing into trade in that country is graded.—Prairie Farmer.

Bantam as Foster Mother

The little bantam hen assumes an important role in the pheasant rearing programs of many of our states. In these projects the common little bantam hen is given the job of hatching the pheasant eggs and looking after the chicks. If this kind of hen isn't used, game breeders advise that at least a fairly small chicken hen should be placed in charge of a clutch of pheasant eggs, because a large, clumsy specimen is quite apt to kill some of the young chicks.—Ohio Farmer.

CHICKS HAVE RIGHT TO PROPER START

Therefore, Give Attention to "Hatching" Eggs.

Successful Colorado poultrymen who produce eggs for hatching find that it pays to give close attention to (1) the condition and care of the breeding flock, and (2) proper care of hatching eggs before they are set.

More farmers and poultrymen than usual are hatching their own chicks with setting hens—the good old fashioned method—reports O. C. Ufford, extension poultryman at the Colorado Agricultural college.

"The breeding flock from which hatching eggs are being produced," says Ufford, "should be carefully culled to eliminate hens that are too fat, lack vigor or health, or have serious defects of type and color."

"Bacillary white diarrhea, a serious disease of young chicks, comes from hens in the breeding flock that are affected," he adds. "It is not possible to recognize such hens except by blood testing the individual birds."

Green feed and sunshine supply vitamins that are needed for normal health and growth of chicks, it is pointed out. The baby chick first makes use of vitamins when it is developing in the egg, but the egg will not contain these important elements unless the breeding flock is fed a ration that supplies them. Therefore the flock should have plenty of sunshine and a well-balanced ration that includes green feeds, minerals and water.

WHY INDEPENDENT MERCHANTS CAN COMPETE WITH CHAINS

When business was booming, the chain stores bought up the choice locations for stores in all of the larger places at top rental prices and for long term leases. Now—with prices down on commodities and profit cut accordingly the chains are forced to sell as high or higher than the independent merchant to make up for their high rent they are paying on those long term leases. Nice for the landlord—but who pays him? The public.

LaPorte, Ind.—A grand Centennial Celebration will be held here beginning Sept. 11. MENTONE 4 ARGOS 2

Mentone took the Labor Day game from Argos in one of the best games of the season by a score of 4 to 2. The score reminds one of former Mentone vs Argos battles. In all the games the two cities have played neither team seldom topped the other by more than one or two runs and neither team seldom put more than 3 or 4 runs over the plate.

Preceding the game the large Labor Day crowd enjoyed a band concert and base ball field stunts.

The lapel microphone in use, showing flexible cord connecting with amplifying equipment. Inset: microphone, cord, and special input circuit in case.

In ordinary use, the lapel microphone is equipped with 30 feet of flexible cord connected with the amplifier of the public address system, thus enabling the speaker to move about freely without reference to the location of a fixed microphone.

When worn on a speaker's clothing, the lapel microphone picks up sound as the result of chest vibrations, in addition to that reaching it through the air. The former being rich in low frequencies, this would result in an unnatural quality of transmission, if it were not for the provision of a special input circuit which attenuates the low frequencies sufficiently to correct the effect of the chest vibrations.

WORLD WAR BY • • YARNS LIEUT. FRANK E. HAGAN

The Recruit

When Montoya joined the recruit squad, four other native Mexicans, an Indian who immediately was called "Chief," and an assortment of patriots from Fort Slocum came with him.

Herding sheep in the high ground of New Mexico failed to equip Montoya for the "squad east" and "squad west" duties of the young men of America in 1917. He found it difficult to learn.

A sergeant named Gray commanded the recruits. He gave them instructions. Then an older compatriot of Montoya, Aragon by name, translated the intricate maneuvers into Spanish so Montoya could understand. Thus tediously, and only through the patronizing assistance of Aragon, did Montoya learn.

Gray saw Montoya again in the Aragon. The little Mexican had become a real soldier, under sound of the guns.

The single stripe of a lance corporal, better known by then as the distinguishing mark of the first-class private, had been dug up somewhere. Montoya wore it.

"Hi, Montoya!" shouted Sergeant Gray as he sidestepped the carcass of a newly-killed horse and pressed forward in the torn-up road north of Montaucon. "How're you?"

"Fine," answered Montoya with dignity.

"And Aragon. How's Aragon getting on?" cried Gray.

"Aragon?" and the little lance corporal smoothed his new chevron proudly. "Oh! Aragon. He's nothing but a d-d recruit!"

Losses Sure When the Chicks Are Overcrowded

Crowding always results in enormous losses and occurs just prior to the chicks taking to the roost. It may be discouraged by maintaining heat but eventually the chicks will take to the corners. It might be ideal but impractical to construct a round brooder house, but one can eliminate the corners in a house with square corners. A scheme of this kind consists of inclined wire netting frames about 2 feet wide placed in the back and sides of the house. The inner edge is next to the floor while the outer is elevated about a foot from the floor. It is, of course, necessary that these frames fit tight so that it is impossible for chicks to get underneath. With this arrangement as the chicks crowd out they are elevated and there is no danger of the chicks being suffocated. Usually small roosts are nailed on the upper side of the frame and it is only a short time until the chicks are roosting. The old idea was that too early roosting caused crooked breast bones, but that idea has been exploded so that now the advice is to get the chicks roosting as soon as possible.—Missouri Farmer.

Estimating Oil Need

Five hundred chicks kept in confinement for the first four weeks will eat about 200 pounds of mash and will need four pounds or two quarts of cod liver oil. The same number of chicks will consume close to $50 pounds of mash the first eight weeks and, if confined, will need two and one-eighth gallons of cod liver oil. From this, one can estimate the amount of oil that will be needed and can make the purchase and have it ready when the chicks are hatched. Cod liver oil may be secured from the local druggist, or the county agent or farm demonstration flock co-operators in the county can supply the names of companies that sell the cod liver oil.

Brooder-House Litter

Ground corn cobs make satisfactory litter for brooder houses, says the Nebraska College of Agriculture. The coarsely ground cobs make as good a litter as chopped hay or straw. Some poultrymen prefer to use commercial litters. Sand does not make a good floor covering unless the chicks are well fed all of the time. Chicks placed on sand sometimes fill up on it producing indigestion and other unsatisfactory results.

the paper and place in the refrigera-

Pit Pony Has Premonition

After 26 hours' strenuous work rescuers found the body of Edward Hall, who, with two others, was entombed by a fall of stone in a coal mine at West Pelton, England. Animal lovers declare that a pit pony, Oscar, had a premonition of the disaster. The farmers and Merchants Street Fair and 50th Anniversary celebration (celebrating Mentone's 50th birthday) will be held Wed., Thurs., Fri., and Sat., Oct. 12 to 15th.

There will be six Free Acts daily, three in the afternoon and three in the evening. Another act features 'Baby Marie', the youngest aerial performer in the world. There will also be plenty of major fair attractions.

The premium list for exhibits and prizes will be found on another page of this issue. The exhibits are limited to agriculture only.

Mahlon Mentzer, committee member, is corresponding with the officials of the Nickel Plate R. R., planning to secure some suitable relic of 50 years ago, to display for the 50th Anniversary Celebration.

George Clark, committee member, requests that any one having relics that have any connection with 50 years ago, and especially the beginning of Mentone, to bring them to the Mentone stores for display in the show windows during the Fair and Celebration.

You can play a big part in helping to make the Free Fair and Anniversary Celebration a success by writing your friends, especially former Mentone residents, and tell to be sure and come to Mentone and meet their former friends and neighbors during Fair Week.

All the committees have been appointed and everything is working toward a successful Fair and Anniversary Celebration week.

M. The game will be played at Beyer Field at Warsaw to determine the county base ball champion for the year of 1932.

Burket now holds the honor of 1931 but they were quickly put out of the race for the cup this year.

Both teams have a clear record and this should be one of the best high school games ever witnessed by any one. So all you Bulldog fans get out your car, decorate it in orange and black and follow the team to what we hope will be a victory for Mentone High.

JUNIOR WHETSTONE

MENTONE 13 BOURBON 1

Brush the dust off of Monday's daily newspaper and let's compare the Mentone Merchants with the Yanks. Mentone made 13 runs and collected 19 hits in their game Sunday the Bambino and his team mates made exactly the same number of runs (13) and collected the same number of hits (19), to take the fourth straight game and the world series from the Cubs, on the same day.

Nellans caught his usual good game behind the plate. Igo, fans say just to show Bourbon, knocked a home run with no one on bases. Creakbaum allowed only 2 hits the entire game (as Manager 'Dobbs' Miller says, just to make them feel good). The final score was 13 to 1.

SPEAKS BEFORE ST. JOE VALLEY POULTRY ASSOC.

Hobart Creighton, prominent local poultryman, was the principal speaker at the meeting of the St. Joseph Valley Poultry Association in the Chamber of Commerce building at South Bend Tuesday night.

Mr. Creighton, originator of having kitchenette apartments for laying hens, explained the idea in his address. The apartments are just small rooms in which the happy chickens eat, sleep, pass the time of day and occasionally lay an egg.

Mr. Creighton is a member of the Creighton Brothers Poultry Hatchery which is located northeast of Mentone.

Historical Document

The Ruodlieb is a romance in Latin verse by an unknown German poet who flourished about 1030. He was almost certainly a monk of the Bavarian abbey of Tegernsee. The poem is one of the earliest German romances of knightly adventure, and its picture of feudal canners gives it value as an historical document.

Dyeing Kangaroo

Kangaroo leather may be dyed any color, and does not differ in this respect from other leathers. The reason leathers in general, and particularly kangaroo leather, are dyed usually brown or black is that these colors enable the tannin on the hide to be more easily concealed. Kangaroo leather makes a very fine shoe leather.

Loneliness In Life By Harry Davis (Senior)

Though life be long and weary,
And long and rough the road,
Still something may be accomplished
If we only carry the load.

On the long lane of life
To your home beneath the sea.
The glory of your name
For-ever-more shall be.

To that unknown nation
Where all the people go,
To spend their life in sunshine
For the praise to God is known.

M. H. S. Produces Championship Team

'Andy' Goshert Coaches Champions.

The Mentone Bulldogs hold the name of being the Kosciusko county high school baseball champions of 1932. The name was bestowed upon them Saturday, October 8, when they handed a 12 to 0 defeat to Leesburg, and kept their clear record for the season.

Mentone batted first and collected 3 runs in the first inning. Both teams were held scoreless in the second, but the Bulldogs broke away for one more in the third and carried their four point lead until the first of the ninth when they decided they wanted their cup full of scores when they received it. Therefore in the ninth they collected 8 more runs, the name of county champs and a beautiful trophy for M. H. S.

The Bulldogs are composed of Orie Vandermark, Bill Blue, Ralph Long, Byron Nellans, John Miller, Guido Shirey, Woodrow Shirey, Orville Vandermark, Lester Blackburn, Paul Long, Earl Smalley, Leo Ly... Coryliss Paulus and Corlye Paulus and their faithful coach, 'Andy' Goshert, who has coached his boys to a wonderful record that will long be remembered at Mentone High School.

PSI IOTA XI

The local chapter of Psi Iota Xi entertained the annual fall meeting of the Northern Province at the Argonne Tea Room at Warsaw, Sat., Oct. 15.

At the business meeting over which Miss Eloise Lawton, of Decatur, presided, Miss Jane Duemling of Fort Wayne, who is a member of the Charity Board, gave a very interesting report. One of the recent projects was the purchasing of ten oxygen tents costing approximately $4,000 which will be given to the following Indiana and Ohio hospitals: Daviess County Hospital, Washington; Clark County Hospital, Jeffersonville; Bloomington City Hospital; Bartholomew County Hospital, Columbus; Reid Memorial Hospital, Richmond; Huntington County Hospital; Howard County Hospital, Kokomo; Cass County Hospital, Logansport; Lutheran Hospital, Fort Wayne; and the Van Wert Hospital. Mrs. W. W. Duemling, Grand President, also gave a very interesting and inspiring talk.

The grand officers received beautiful corsages as favors. Between courses the guests were entertained by Mrs. Snyder, concert soprano of Bluffton.

In the afternoon, auction bridge was played with prizes awarded to: Mrs. Robert Wilkins, Miss Hazel Plummer of Fort Wayne, Rozella Koskusi, Flora, Inez Smith, Huntington Inez Greensfelder and Florence Closson, Logansport, Lora Green Fousey, Ft. Wayne and Julia Schulthess, Garrett.

Coach Goshert Turns Out Champions

Coach 'Andy' Goshert, Mentone High coach, has probably set an all time base ball record this season. His team went through the entire season without defeat and only one unearned run scored against them. In contrast his crop of heavy hitters scored 61 runs against their opponents.

Pitcher 'Bill' Blue, the important cog in Goshert's machine, has also probably set an all time high school record. Bill has pitched three no-hit games this season. In all of the games played he allowed only four hits and has a record of 88 strikeouts.

In the five previous years that 'Andy' has been coach at Mentone he has also established an enviable basket ball record. Out of 98 games played by his teams he has won 83 and lost only 15. Once his team won the sectional tournament and played in the finals at the regional tournament.

Evangelist Will Lecture

At Baptist Church Friday

Evangelist George D. Blomgren of Chicago is to be heard at the Baptist Church Friday night, Oct. 21, when he will be speaking on the subject "Sunrise at Midnight" in which sermon he will tell the thrilling story of his escape from the hands of Benito Mussolini's private detectives. The lecture is held under the auspices of the Baptist and Methodist churches. There will be no admission charge.

Mr. Blomgren was arrested outside the duke's office when he went to the government building of Rome to study Mussolini's activities. After his arrest Mr. Blomgren was informed that he had committed sufficient crime, although unconsciously, to have sent him to Devil's Island, the land of forgotten men. He has given this lecture over 550 times in America's leading pulpits, and reports say that it is the most informative, startling and thrilling sermon lecture of its kind depicting the signs of the times.

WORLD WAR BY * * YARNS LIEUT. FRANK E. HAGAN

The First Outfit Across

Base Hospital No. 4, the first unit of the United States army to participate actively in the World war, sailed from New York on the S. S. Oranda May 7, 1917, and arrived at Liverpool ten days later. On May 18 the members of this outfit were taken to Buckingham palace where they were welcomed by King George, who said:

"It is with the utmost pleasure and satisfaction that the queen and I welcome you here today. We greet you as the first detachment of the American army which has landed on our shores since your great republic resolved to join in the world wide struggle for the ideals of civilization. We deeply appreciate this prompt and generous response to our needs. It is characteristic of the humanity and chivalry which has ever been evinced by the American nation that the first assistance rendered to the Allies is in connection with the profession of healing and the work of mercy."

Base Hospital No. 4, one of the original six base hospitals sent to Europe for duty with the British, was organized at Cleveland, Ohio, and remained with the British Expeditionary Force in France during its entire overseas existence, operating as No. 9 General Hospital, R. E. F. It ceased functioning about March 1, 1919, sailed from Europe on the S. S. Azammon on March 31, arriving in the United States on April 7, 1919, and was demobilized soon afterwards.

The attention of the Fair crowd was temporarily distracted Saturday afternoon at the sounding of the fire siren. Delicious Danger

SENIOR NEWS

Some new fish were bought and delivered Friday for the science room. We now have quite a nice collection of fish in our aquarium. We also have several snails and frogs. Many plants were donated for the laboratory and the room looks very nice.

On Wed. and Fri. of last week the Senior English class gave speeches on debatable subjects. There seemed to be some question in the minds of some of the students about whether the health of the general public is better or worse than it was fifty years ago.

The typing classes have started on speed tests. Perfect copies are also sometimes required. The students are graded accordingly to their ability to type a perfect copy in a given number of trials.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Junior English class has been studying journalism. One day each member of the class had a newspaper to discuss concerning individuality, advertising, yellow journalism, politics, etc.

Another day they discussed news stories. A little later they wrote news stories. The original ones were very good but some students had not taken time to get original ones.

They also wrote editorials. Several students expressed fine ideas in their editorials.

Juniors Have Impromptu Debate

The Junior English class held an impromptu debate one day last week. The question was: "Resolved that students should not be compelled to attend school until they are sixteen."

Those speaking on the affirmative team were Ruth Rush, Junior Whetstone and Wilma Grass. The negative team was composed of Georgia Jones, Leonard Baker and Doris Shewman. The chairman was Delois White and the other judges were Ethel Witham and Wayne Minear.

Both sides were well defended. The affirmative won the debate.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Tuesday of last week the Freshman English class gave impromptu speeches. They drew slips of paper from the desk not knowing what they were to talk about beforehand. Some of the most interesting subjects were: value of a high school education, courtesy, baseball, natural beauties of Indiana, sportmanship, value of carnivals, and Home Economics for boys. Paul Carter says, "It isn't polite to giggle at funerals or meetings, and it's against the rules to giggle in school." We'll remind Paul of this sometime.

The pictures which were taken last week are now ready to be sold to the students who wish to buy them. They are to be ten cents each.

The Home Town Fair By Fred Ross (Senior)

The home town fair was the funniest thing,

That ever hit our town;

It made the old folks laugh and sing
And the young folks run a round.

The wild man was the best of all,

But he was really tame,

For when the girls play ball,

That will be some game.

Sportmanship

By Rush Rush (English III)

There is much said about sportmanship in athletic contests of all kinds. And sportmanship is essential there. But it applies just as much to any phase of life.

This is very true in school life. Many students copy others' written work. They can get their grades that way but they do not know any more about the work than before they started. When you copy another person's work, you do not hurt the other person; but you hurt yourself, more than you might think possible.

But when you do not use your own thinking power, you lose your ability to use it when you want to do so.

More than that, you are not treating your teacher in a sportsmanlike manner, for he grades on the work you turn in, and you get the grades that by rights and by all rules of fair play should go to someone else.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

The local union met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Blue. Inspirational and encouraging reports were given of the National Convention. The keynote sounding of our Strength coming from God to win our battle against lawlessness and 'booze. The same note resounded from our County Institute. All were urged to consider the ballot as a privilege and opportunity. Secretary.

THEATRE NEWS

The attraction at the Strand Theatre Friday and Saturday will be "Cornered," Tim McCoy's latest western. A supporting cast that includes such screen notables as Shirley Grey, Noah Berry, Raymond Hatton and Niles Welch play important roles in this fast-action film.

In "The First Year," which is Janet Gaynor's and Charles Farrell's first comedy attempt, Janet introduces an element of puckish humor which has hitherto been suppressed; while Charlie emerges as a mere serious young man bent on convincing the world, and Janet in particular, that he is a fit and proper husband.

The success of the picture, coming Sunday to the Strand Theatre, is said to be due largely to the more mature characterizations of Janet and Charlie who seem at last to have reached their height in this play by Frank Capra.

You can see the world's best known laugh maker, Will Rogers, in "Down to Earth," a picture every one will enjoy, as a guest of The Mentone News and the Strand Theatre at the Strand this afternoon or evening with one paid admission. Look for Free Ticket on front page.

Maurice Dudley Gives Away Sugar

Assisted by Adam Bowen.

Maurice Dudley gave away the Free Sugar and Free Flour at Mentone Saturday night. Adam Bowen very ably assisted. The largest crowd of the season started gathering around the band stand a few minutes before 9 o'clock. Mentone's band gathered and played a selection drawing a still larger crowd.

Mr. Dudley's ready wit and pleasing personality held the undivided attention of every person from the first sack of sugar to the last sack of flour.

Dogwood Tints

The forest service says that pink dogwood originated from the white by grafting and may be considered a sport. This means that dogwood of a pink tinge was grafted on to other dogwood of a pink tinge, the color there by being deepened.

Give Thyself

The only conclusive evidence of a man's sincerity is that he gives himself for a principle. Words, money, all things else are comparatively easy to give away; but, when a man makes a gift of his daily life and practice, it is plain that the truth, whatever it may be, has taken possession of him. —Lowell.

Dress in Quaint Attire

People of southern Brittany, France, a hardly old fashioned race, strongly steeped in tradition, still retain their quaint, yet picturesque costumes of ancient times and are deeply devoted to their festivals of the saints, or "Fardons."

Foolish Men

"Men are so courageous," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "that they continue in the mistaken belief that a war with no terrors for them may be made to frighten an enemy no less brave." —Washington Star.

Sure Cure

Green is said to be good for the nerves. Preferably long green. Toledo Blade.

Shoe Heels

Shoes or some kind of foot covering have been used since ancient times. Up to the Seventeenth century, soft leather shoes without heels were worn. Early in the Seventeenth century shoes with heels became popular.

May Day in History

The celebration of May day as a popular holiday is of very great antiquity and came to England with the Roman invasion. In medieval and Tudor England it was a great public holiday, in which the classes both rich and poor were up with the dawn to "go Maying" and to dance and feast around the May pole. On account of its popular appeal May day was selected as an international labor holiday by the International Socialist congress in 1890.

Materialism a Superstition

The day is not far distant when our successors will look back with wonder at the materialistic superstition of the times we are living in; for materialism is nothing better than a superstition on the same level as a belief in devils and witches.—J. Scott Hallane.

By popular request Mr. Hardini, escape wizard extraordinary, has been secured under the auspices of Psi Iota Xi Sorority for a return, this time a complete engagement, before the Mentone Community public on Saturday, evening, October 29, in the former Friendly Club Room.

You will remember the two amazing performances Mr. Hardini gave before the large Fair crowds, when he freed himself from ropes after having been securely tied and handcuffed, with City Marshall Frank Warren's handcuffs. He also escaped from a straight jacket in about 23 seconds.

AN EASY CHOICE

The future of agriculture is dependent on the choice the individual farmer makes today whether he cooperates with his fellows, for the common good, or whether he continues to do business as a separate entity in a world in which cooperation, in all lines, grows steadily more necessary.

The latter course means continued low prices, a declining market, general demoralization of business. The former course means eventual prosperity and a sound and progressive agricultural structure.

The choice should be an easy one. The line is sharply drawn between cooperation and bankruptcy.

THREE INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Miss Annabelle Hunter of Talma is injured.

Miss Annabelle Hunter, daughter of Mrs. R. N. Hunter of Talma, was injured in an automobile accident at 7 P. M. Saturday evening when a car driven by William Walters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russel Walters of Talma, struck a tree at the corner of Ninth and Madison Streets in Rochester.

The accident occurred when Mr. Walters, who was driving west on Ninth St. swerved his machine in order to avoid striking a sedan which was being driven from the north on Madison Street. Miss Hunter, who was thrown through the windshield of the Walters machine, suffered a badly sprained back and neck. Miss Annabelle Hunter, sister of the injured girl, and Mr. Walters received minor cuts and bruises.

The injured were given medical attention by Dr. M. O. King and were later taken to the home of Miss Hunter's sister, Mrs. Donald Boggess. The Walters machine, a 1928 Chevrolet coach, was demolished.

WORLD WAR BY YARNS LIEUT. FRANK E. HAGAN

Swank

When you think of swank, you remember the British. Their officers excelled in immaculate dress, disregard of personal danger and the sort of nonchalance that reached for a fag in the hottest moments.

Sing not then for the tiny but spic-and-span Guards officer assigned to a company of Australians, back of the lines south of Amiens.

His dress was complete and satisfactory, even to swagger stick and monocle the day he fell the soldiers in for inspection for the first time. Even the Aussies, hard-boiled as they were, gulped a moment over such sartorial perfection.

The soldiers were properly impressed. When the swanky one appeared next day he found each Aussie wearing a monocle, staring blandly through it at strict attention.

"Hut!" exclaimed our immaculate "lieutenant" after the first shock passed. He plucked from its eye his own monocle, flipped it high in air and caught it in the socket as it came down again.

"Try that, you blighters!" chortled the little officer triumphantly. And he turned proudly on heel and walked away.

TRY GIRDLING TO MAKE TREES BEAR

Heroic Measures Are Sometimes Found Necessary.

What might be called heroic measures are sometimes necessary to bring obstinate apple trees into bearing, says W. H. Alderman, chief of the division of horticulture, University of Minnesota. Plum as well as apple trees may make vigorous growth for a series of years but bring forth no blossoms or fruit.

Unproductive trees that are staunch and vigorous, that have the constitution to withstand a major operation, can be forced to form fruit buds by girdling, said Professor Alderman in a talk before the short course in horticulture at University farm. On non-bearing trees that are making good growth a half-inch girdle of the bark only, cut about the first of June, will not injure the trees and will bring them into bearing the following year.

A fine wire tightly bound about such trees, while not quite so effective, will cause them to produce. The wire will cut into the bark and should be removed in August or there is danger that the tree will be killed.

Girdling should not be practiced on weak, unproductive trees, for it would make a bad matter worse, said the university horticulturist. Lack of nitrogen may be responsible for poor growth and under development, in which case nitrogen in the form of barnyard manure, or sulphate of ammonia or nitrate of soda should be applied to the soil. Combining this fertilization with rather heavy pruning and the chances are such trees will respond with regular crops of fruit.

Important That Sprays Be Continued in Summer

Since it is important that we control other diseases, particularly apple blotch, as well as apple scab and also attacks of codling moth, curculio, and other insects, it is important that the fungicidal and insecticidal sprays be continued from the calyx period up until within about five or six weeks of harvest time, making in all from six to seven to as many as eight or nine spring and summer spray applications. The exact number of sprays will depend, of course, upon the severity of the attack to be controlled and the length of the growing season.

The spraying chemicals to use may consist of either lime sulphur or bordeaux. Lime sulphur at a strength of from one to one-fourth gallons to fifty gallons of water plus one pound of arsenate of lead is preferred particularly for the early applications, as it is less likely to do injury by russetting or burning the young fruits than bordeaux and arsenate of lead.

Moreover, the first cover spray following the calyx period, if made within 10 or 12 days, should consist of lime sulphur and arsenate of lead, on account of the danger of russetting or burning the young fruits at this time. Where apple blotch is serious, all later sprays should consist of bordeaux 2-4-50 and one pound arsenate of lead, because bordeaux gives better control of apple blotch than lime sulphur and arsenate of lead.

Horticultural Facts

The most important essentials in spraying or dusting are thoroughness, timeliness, and the use of the proper mixture.

Gooseberries and currants add much to the food value. These are easily grown, require little care and give big returns.

For the strawberry bed select most fertile soil and one as clean of weeds as possible. Clover sod or heavily manured sandy soil are best.

Grapes should be pruned severely every year and it is a tremendous job to prune and cut away the surplus wood and remove it from a woven wire trellis.

Discontinue cultivation in the apple orchards the latter part of June or early in July. Better color to the fruit will result and cultivation costs are kept low.

It would seem that as the small fruit plantings are constantly growing less and less, that it is the duty of every one to encourage the proper planting and care of small fruit patches, so that we may again point with pride to the fruit produced on all home grounds.

When the fruit trees become rather thick and bushy, so as to create a dense shade, then it will be well to thin out the smaller branches.

Fertilize grape vines in the spring just as the buds are bursting. One-half to one pound of a nitrogenous fertilizer will be sufficient.

The apple scab fungus is present in all apple growing regions. It is generally, however, more serious in the northern apple growing district than in the southern.

THEATRE NEWS

The Death Ray, powerful weapon with the range of radio waves, is the centre of contention between Chandu and his hated enemy Roxor in the Fox film version of "Chandu The Magician," opening on Sunday at the Strand Theatre. Edmund Lowe, as Chandu, and Bela Lugosi as Roxor bring to the screen the first views of these familiar characters made famous by nation-wide broadcasts as a popular radio feature.

Kate Smith, the song bird of radio, did so well in her portion of "The Big Broadcast" that she has been signed for another picture, "Moon Song," written by Fannie Hurst especially for the screen.

More than 16,000 feet of film have been used in getting the sequences for Eddie Cantor's "Kid From Spain."

"Chandu" and "American Madness" are playing at a number of Chicago theatres.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Sunday, Oct. 16, being the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Guy, a number of their relatives and friends were invited to spend the day with them. It was a lovely day and one that will live long in the memories of those present, who were; Mrs. Cora Erwin of Bourbon, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Blue, Mr. Con Blue, Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Haimbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Blue, Mrs. Howard Repke and son, Jack, and Mr. and Mrs. James Blue of Mentone.

We were treated to a wonderful turkey dinner. Each piece of cake was decorated with 25 beautiful Easter lilies made of ice cream. Mr. and Mrs. Guy received many beautiful flowers of which a lovely basket of snap-dragons was presented by the M. E. church. All departed in the evening feeling that it was good to be there and hoping that we might all be able to attend their 50th Anniversary.

RELICS DISPLAYED

Among the interesting relics displayed during Mentone's 50th Anniversary celebration were: the hand carved wooden model of the first locomotive to run on the Nickel Plate tracks, a horse drawn-hearse formerly drawn by a sedate team of black horses, the original plat of the village of Sevastapol, picture of the first store building erected in Mentone, a land grant signed by Martin VanBuren, and many other relics too numerous to mention.

THAT'S METICULOUSNESS

Three months of research into the history of California preceded the writing of "The Vanishing Frontier," a story of the early days of the state, starring Johnny Mack Brown, and featuring Evalyn Knapp, ZaSu Pitts, Raymond Hatton and J. Farrell MacDonald which comes to the Strand Theatre Fri. and Sat. It was necessary to have not only historical details, but costumes, settings and colloquisms of speech absolutely accurate.

Some business firms fail to realize that their strongest competition is not local competition but competition with other towns and cities. Absence of local competition makes foreign competition all the stronger.

Owen Horn and Foy Scott of Warsaw and Clayton Holloway of Mentone started early Sunday morning on a 642 mile motor trip through southern Indiana and through parts of Kentucky and Ohio. They went through Wyandotte Cave, near Corydon, the first capital of Indiana. They also climbed to the top of a hundred foot state forest fire tower from which one can see six different counties at once. They also visited Louisville and Cincinnati. They returned home early Monday morning.

It's surprising that one can live 45 to 50 miles from a University that turns out leading contenders or national champions in the collegiate football circles every year and yet probably less than half a dozen persons from this community ever drive the 50 miles to see them play during their home games. We are speaking of that wonderful 'Irish' scoring machine put out at Notre Dame every year. So far in three games this fall the 'Rambles' have run up 177 points, or practically a point a minute, to their opponents 0.

HARD TIMES BEGET STRONGER MEN, STRONGER INSTITUTIONS

Adversity has its uses. Strong men and strong institutions come through hard times with the consciousness of greater strength, added poise, renewed courage and a firmer faith.

This Bank and its predecessors have seen economic disorders come and go—always a better bank because of deepening experience and firmer faith in the fundamental soundness of policies which have stood up in all kinds of times, under all conditions.

The discontented person thinks he wants to get away from his poverty his unsatisfactory position, his tire-some relatives and friends, and go somewhere else where he is confident that he will find success, riches, and admiring companions.

All the time he blames his sur-rounding, but with confidence and the will to go forward every obstacle could be overcome. Every trial of strength only adds to your confidence, increases your determination, and prepares you for victory.

None of us should be content with poverty, but self-pity and jealousy are no ways of overcoming it.

The way to get Discontent out of our heads is to be happy with what life offers, always looking for additional causes of happiness, and to enjoy in full whatever little things occur in daily life.

Easy to Minimize Loss From Hens Eating Eggs

Complaints of hens eating eggs dropped on the floor or in the nests of the pens are quite common. The habit usually starts from hens finding a cracked egg. Curiosity and appetite are the incentives that lead the hens to taste the contents of the egg. Being very palatable they take advantage of every such opportunity and soon look for eggs, whether broken or not. If the nests are kept dark there will be little trouble from layers offending. If the eggs are gathered regularly from the floor, that will minimize the loss at that point. If the contents of the normal eggs are removed through one end and the shell is refilled with a mixture containing mustard, pepper, gasoline and other ingredients distasteful to hens, combined with any substance that will hold them together in a paste some may be cured of the habit if they taste the concoction.

Easy Way to Get Eggs

Otto Harz of the Greenleaf community in Washington county purchased some White Leghorn males a few days ago to use in breeding up his flock. In commenting on that transaction, Leon and E. Neff of Washington, the farm agent of Washington county, mentioned a project carried on at the Kansas experiment station at Manhattan Mongrel hens having a trapnest record of 72 eggs a year were mated with pedigree Leghorn males having an ancestry record of 200 eggs or more. Their daughters averaged 150 eggs, the next cross 188 eggs and the third cross 193 eggs.—Kansas Farmer.

Hardini Mars His Performance

Although Hardini undoubtedly performs some amazing feats, his performance here Saturday night was marred by his uncontrolled disposition.

Mr. Hardini had been performing some of his feats Sat. night when he again invited anyone in the crowd to tie him up so that he would not be able to escape. It is also reported that he offered $10,000 to any persons performing that feat.

John Lyons and Maurice Greulach stepped upon the platform and tied Mr. Hardini. They tied him in such a way that any movement to free him would choke him. They then placed him in a box and nailed the top on by driving the nails in from diagonal directions.

Then the crowd waited. They waited some more. Mr. Hardini failed to appear from the box. Then someone near the box heard the request, "Let me out of here." The box was opened and Mr. Hardini was untied, suffering from lack of air. It is reported that he was very angry toward the ones that tied him. He did not stop there but later directed some of his remarks to some of the committee sponsoring his performance. So far Mr. Lyons and Mr. Greulach haven't seen the $10,000.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Stackhouse left on a week's motor tour through the southern states. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Stackhouse will be at home at 1232 E. Wiley Street, Bloomington, Indiana.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CANDIDATES

(Including Judge Lemuel W. Royse, on last page)

SETH E. ROWDABAUGH
Candidate for Prosecuting Attorney.

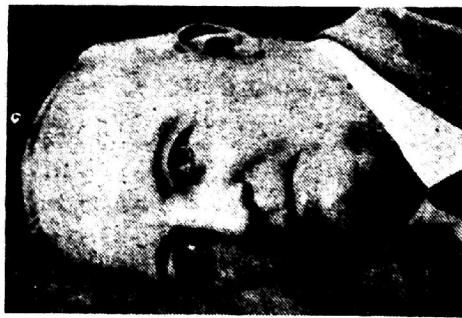

The Rowdabaugh family has been prominent in the northern part of Kosciusko County for more than seventy years. Seth E. Rowdabaugh was born and reared on a farm and schooled in county schools. He graduated from North Manchester Academy, attended Purdue University three years, and graduated from the State University of Iowa with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. In seeking his education Mr. Rowdabaugh was compelled to make his own way thru college and during that time he taught school for seven years, part of which time he served as Superintendent of his school. After three years in the University of Michigan Law School he received the LL.B. degree. For the past five years Mr. Rowdabaugh and his wife were engaged in business in Syracuse, to which he gave his entire time during college vacation period. Mr. and Mrs. Rowdabaugh have a family of five children, two of whom attend the Syracuse High School. Mr. Rowdabaugh is engaged in the practice of law in Warsaw with offices in the Times Building. Because of his excellent education and fine training, he is well equipped to handle the office which he seeks.

LELAND KINSEY
Candidate for Clerk.

Leland Kinsey was born on a farm in Clay Township, went to school in the country school and graduated from Claypool High School. He remained a resident of Clay Township until coming to Warsaw to serve as deputy for his father, Elmer Kinsey, who had been elected Clerk of the Circuit Court. Upon the death of his father seven days after taking office, Leland was appointed by the Board of Commissioners to serve until the election. He announced his candidacy and was that year nominated at the Primary and led the ticket in the fall election. He is married and has one son. Along with the duties of his office he has always taken an active interest in community affairs. His record as a public official is one of which he may well be proud, and upon this record we recommend him to you.

GRANT B. WILLIS
Candidate for Treasurer.

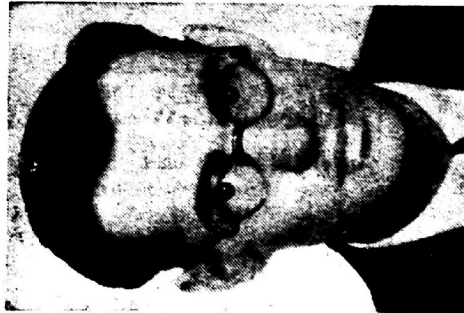

Mr. Willis was born and reared at Canton, Ohio, graduated from Canton High School and Canton Commercial College. His business experience consists of having been Secretary-Treasurer of a large lumber company in Canton, Ohio; Secretary and Sales Manager of Cleveland Brick Company, Cleveland, Ohio; General Manager of the Willis Office of Public Accounts; General Manager of San Ricardo Mining and Milling Company, Sonora, Mexico; Assistant Treasurer and Sales Manager, Autman-Taylor Machinery Co., Mansfield, Ohio, with 20 branches in the United States and Canada; President of Peoples State Bank at Leesburg, Indiana and at present President of Kosciusko County Bankers Association. Mr. Willis has been a tax payer of Kosciusko County for eleven years. He united with President McKinley M. E. Church in Canton, Ohio in 1889 and for the past four years has been engaged as a teacher of the "Loyal Men's Class" of the Leesburg M. E. Church. He is the father of three daughters and one son. Because of his varied experience in business, banking and as a Public Accountant he is well qualified to serve tax payers of Kosciusko County as Treasurer with assurance to them that the affairs of that office will be conducted in a business like way.

HARLEY D. PERSON
Candidate for Sheriff.

Harley D. Person was born on a farm in Prairie Township and has spent most of his life on that farm. He was engaged part of the time as an employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Prior to his having been elected Sheriff two years ago, he attained a remarkable record on the State Highway Police Force. During his term of office as Sheriff of Kosciusko County, he has likewise made a remarkable record and is referred to by Government Law Enforcing Officers, and other officers, who have been associated with him, as one of the most conscientious and efficient officers in Northern Indiana. He is courageous and fearless in the discharge of his duties and is always on the job day and night. Mr. Person's record is the best recommendation we can offer to the voters of Kosciusko County for his re-election.

ROBERT J. PFLEIDERER
Candidate for Surveyor.

If training, natural adaptability, experience and integrity are still requisites for public office, Robert J. Pfeleiderer should be made County Surveyor.

After graduation from the Warsaw High School, he spent four years in the School of Civil Engineering at Purdue University and was awarded the B. S. C. E. Degree. He has spent four years since then as an Engineer in State Highway Work. He has successfully met the rigid requirements of the Indiana State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors and holds license No. 1970.

Mr. Pfeleiderer is a native of Kosciusko County. His reputation for integrity is unquestioned. He is industrious. His candidacy is the Republican answer to the demand for publican answer to the demand for young and aggressive control of government affairs.

Candidate for Coroner.

The Coroner is the representative of the State at a tragedy. Though his duties are official, it is right that officialdom should not trample the finer instincts of those affected by a tragedy. Perhaps this is the reason an undertaker is often chosen as Coroner.

Paul Landis is the present coroner. He is well known in Kosciusko County because of his splendid reputation as a funeral director and because of his long residence in the County. He was born and reared in Jackson Township and is a graduate of the Sidney High School. His professional training was received at the Worsham School of Embalming in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Landis have a family of four children. Mr. Landis is active in civic affairs and is a member of the Methodist Church. He is a taxpayer and a lifelong Republican.

Candidate for Commissioner Middle District.

Mr. Lehman was born on a farm in Harrison Township 57 years ago and has spent his entire lifetime in that Township as a farmer. In 1898, when the United States engaged in War with Spain, Mr. Lehman was one of three young men from Harrison Township who voluntarily offered their service to their country. He served throughout the entire war.

Mr. Lehman reared and educated two sons, one of whom is living with his parents on the farm, the other having lost his life in the service of his country. Both Mr. Lehman and his wife are members of the Methodist Church and are highly respected in the Community. Because of his education, his business experience and his knowledge of the needs of the farmer and other taxpayers, Mr. Lehman is peculiarly well fitted to look after the interests of the taxpayers of Kosciusko County as its County Commissioner.

Candidate for Commissioner Eastern District.

Does History repeat itself? When Kosciusko County Court House was erected, it was the largest venture of the County up to that time. Washington Bybee was one of the County Commissioners in charge of that project. This same Mr. Bybee is grandfather of the present Candidate for County Commissioner for the Southern District, Mr. Lyndes Latimer.

Mr. Latimer was born, reared, schooled, and has ever since resided on a farm in Franklin Township. In his home community he is known as a substantial and progressive farmer and stock raiser, capable in all affairs of business. But his activities have extended far outside his home township. For two years he was in charge of the Indiana State Fair Camp Ground and an active participant in farm extension work under Purdue University.

Mr. and Mrs. Latimer are the parents of two grown boys, college men, active in the affairs of the world. As a taxpayer and a business man, Mr. Latimer becomes the Republican pledge for efficiency and economy in County affairs.

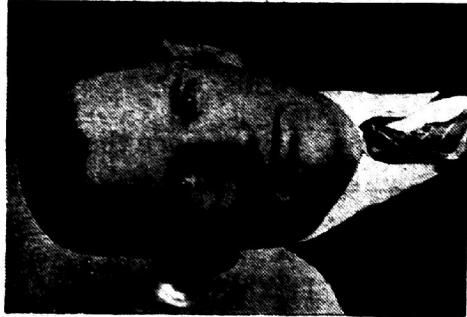

Candidate for Joint Senator.

In too many cases, both the voter and the candidate regard a political office as a job. The better view is that of a selection of a public servant. Arnold Schuler, as a candidate for Joint Senator (Kosciusko-Wabash Counties) should be classed under this later view. It has been said that Mr. Schuler does not need the "job." Mr. Schuler readily admits that as a "job" he has no interest in that place, but as an opportunity to serve he seeks support. Mr. Schuler is recommended because of his clear, clear cut view of the social responsibility which is placed upon a legislator.

Arnold Schuler is a farmer. His early years were devoted to education, as a teacher in grade and High Schools. He was two terms trustee in his own township, and his record there is still an object of pride in that locality. Mr. and Mrs. Schuler have three grown children, two of whom are college graduates. Members of the Schuler family are found in the profession and as leaders of the communities where they reside. No words here can give an accurate impression of this candidate. Regarding him we say "Ask the man who knows him."

Candidate for Representative to State Legislature.

Mr. Creighton was born in Harrison Township, Kosciusko County, thirty-six years ago. He lives with his family on a farm adjoining the one on which he was born, is married and has two children. He attended rural grade schools of Harrison Township, Atwood High School, Wisconsin College and Indiana University. He holds a diploma in Business Accounting and Auditing. He taught in the grade schools of Kosciusko County three years and in the High School for seven years. He enlisted as a volunteer in the Air Service of the United States Army during the World War, is a member of the American Legion and past Post Commander of Atwood Post of that organization. At present Mr. Creighton is engaged in the business of operating a poultry farm in Harrison Township. He is on the Board of Directors of the Indiana State Poultry Association and is associated with other farm and poultry organizations. He is a member of the United Brethren Church in Atwood and Superintendent of the Sunday School. Because of his business experience, education, and especially because he is a keen thinker and not in the least radical, he is well equipped to look after the interests of the taxpayers of Kosciusko County in the Indiana Legislature.

These names will appear in the Republican Column of the County Ticket November 8, 1932. As individuals and as a group their election will insure good government.

THEATRE NEWS

Bob Steele, hero of many dashing western stories, becomes a flying cowboy in his latest World Wide production, "Texas Buddies," which will be the feature at the Strand on Friday and Saturday.

In this stirring story of the western desert country, the galloping cow-pony and the soaring aeroplane meet and act as allies against a common cause. Bob Steele will be presented as a war flyer who has returned to his former home and buddies in Texas. He finds himself soon involved in as much excitement as he ever found at the front. Foiling a plot to rob the Air Express, he is obliged to act as an emergency pilot in a plane that is scheduled for a crack-up. A helpless girl is left on his hands and, to add to the excitement, she is kidnapped.

The versatile Bob Steele has thought up a lot of new stunts for "Texas Buddies."

"Washington Merry-Go-Round," Columbia's widely heralded political blast, opens a 3 days' run Sunday at the Strand. James Cruse directed the picture which features Lee Tracy and Constance Cummings. The story shows Tracy as a newly-elected member of Congress who goes to Washington with a load of high and mighty ideas and ideals. What he encounters there and what he does about it is what makes "Washington Merry-Go-Round" one of the most talked about films in recent years.

HON. LEMUEL W. ROYSE

Candidate for Judge of the Circuit Court.

It is with pride that the Republican Party presents as its candidate for Judge of the Kosciusko County Circuit Court, the Honorable Lemuel W. Royse. His life is an open book to the people of this community. It reveals a clean and honorable record, a record of hard work, of stainless integrity and of brilliant achievement. As a lawyer, he early took his place in the front rank of his profession. A thorough student, a profound thinker, a clear reasoner, an eloquent speaker, he measured up to its brightest minds and its highest ideals. With a profound knowledge of the law he brought to the bench the judicial temperament, a sense of justice and a clear conception of the equities of each case. His decisions are held in the highest regard by the bench and bar of Indiana, and are rarely appealed. His mind is in its full vigor and he is at the very zenith of his powers. His court is a busy one and he is never absent from the discharge of his duties. His retirement would be a distinct and definite loss to Koscusko County.

REBEKAHS HAVE SPOOK PARTY

The Spirits of Hallowe'en held full sway last Wed. night when guests were entertained at the I. O. O. F. hall. The rooms were very effectively decorated. Ghosts ushered each guest into what was supposed to be a grave-yard. The room was in complete darkness except for the moonlight on the tombstones. Ghosts also wandered around in the grave-yard. The wind blew, the cats meowed, and the owls hooted. One guest suffered a complete breakdown while reading the inscription on a certain tombstone.

After a while the lights were turned on. Prizes were given for the best masked and everyone took part in a cake walk, games and contests. Music was furnished by Bus Smith and Wayne Minear. Delicious refreshments were served at a late hour.

Shooting Stars Are Defeated

Atwood Wins In Fast Game

The Shooting Stars broke the ice to start their season of basket ball when they barely lost a close game to Atwood on their home floor Saturday night.

At the end of the first half the local team was leading by a score of 12 to 7. During the last half Mentone led until the last few minutes of play when Atwood went into a scoring spree by scoring points with their well-known "hook-shots." As the final whistle blew Atwood was leading by a score of 28 to 24.

As this was the first game of the season for both teams their style of basket ball was rather irregular but a good game was witnessed.

The team this year is under a new management and the following men are on the line-up; Edgar Igo, Walter Barkman, Elery Nellans, Devon Eaton, Don Lyon, William Blackburn, L. G. Alber, and Walter Fenstermaker.

The boys are out this year to show you a good brand of basket ball. They will play Etna Green Saturday night at Etna. Etna Green claims to have a real team this year.

Let's return to medieval days where we can all live in a castle! Oh, girls, that's a time when you can have all the courteous knights around you wish. And the entertainment, wouldn't it be fine to see a tournament, and have no school?

We are surprised to find that there are several artists in the Sophomore class. Mr. Smith has asked us to draw a castle or a knight on horseback. The result has been amazing to all.

It was once said of him that he liked all the girls that liked him, and more. Who? Well ask him. He also likes sports, especially baseball and some day he is planning to be another Babe Ruth.

CURCULIO SERIOUS PEST IN ORCHARD

Combined With Brown Rot Does Immense Damage.

Curculio, an insect, and brown rot, a fungous disease, make a combination that is responsible for tremendous losses every year in crops of peaches, plums, and cherries.

Brown rot often enters one of these fruits through a puncture made by a curculio. It is important, therefore, to kill the insect if the disease is to be controlled, announces Arthur I. Farley, extension pathologist of the New Jersey agricultural experiment station. Furthermore, he points out, curculio causes many of the young fruits to become wormy and fall to the ground before they are mature. In order to control the insect, growers should spray peaches as soon as the husks split enough to expose the small fruits; cherries and plums should be sprayed when the petals fall, and again when the fruits develop to the size of a small green pea. In order to control brown rot, growers should follow the application of others.

The material recommended by the experiment station for the control of this destructive combination of insect and disease is New Jersey Dry-Mix, twelve and one-half pounds, and powdered lead arsenate, one pound to fifty gallons of water. The amount of lead arsenate may be increased to one and one-half pounds for plums and cherries, but should not be increased on peaches. It is also recommended that four pounds of high calcium lime be added to every twelve and one-half pounds of dry mix used on peaches in combination with lead arsenate.

Set Strawberry Plants at Suitable Depth

It is important that strawberry plants be set at the right depth. If set too deep the crown may be exposed. Set them to the same depth as they stood in the nursery and be sure to firm the soil around them, so as to leave no hollow spaces or air spaces around the roots. Plant only young plants with light-colored roots. Plants with black or dark brown roots are usually worthless for planting. If the roots are heavy prune them back somewhat and leave about two healthy young leaves on the top. Keep all fruit stems and blossoms removed during the first season except that everbearing varieties can be allowed to blossom after the third month. A cloudy day followed by a shower is a good time to plant strawberries.

Apple Scab Is Serious on Certain Varieties

Like all fungous diseases, apple scab is more serious on some varieties than upon others. All varieties of apples, however, are subject to the disease and may be damaged materially. Certain varieties, however, are notorious for their susceptibility and these should be grown by the growers, as it is necessary to give such sorts more particular attention as regards to spraying than the more or less resistant varieties. Moreover, there are unaccountable variations or differences in the susceptibility of different varieties of apples in different parts of the country.

Horticultural Hints

The ground for berry bushes should be well fertilized with manure, to be plowed or spaded under before the plants are set.

No fruit is more generally liked than the strawberry. Yet how few really grow nearly enough of this delicious fruit even for the home table.

Fall planting is often successful with some fruits but it is more risky than spring planting. Plant early in the spring is especially important with cherry trees.

Gooseberries generally are stripped from the bush, leaves and all, the pickers wearing leather gloves to protect their hands. The leaves may be removed by running the fruit through a small flailing mill.

In pruning currant bushes, cut out oldest wood and thin out the weak, young canes. Leave a few strong, one-year-old shoots every year and try and cut out all of the wood which is more than four years old.

One of the most important essentials in spraying is thoroughness of application.

A spray application of lime sulphur and lead arsenate should be applied to cherry trees when the blossoms shatter or as soon thereafter as the weather permits.

Storage scald on apples can be practically eliminated by using one and a half pounds of shredded oil paper, containing 18 per cent by weight of mineral oil, for each barrel.

May Wedding Superstition

The superstition that May is an unlucky month for weddings comes from the Romans. Their month of May contained two important festivals—Bona Dea, the feast of the goddess of Chastity; and Lemuralia, the celebration of the dead. Marriage at that time, then, was certain to be ill-omened, for it was an affront against the goddess, and, secondly, an affront to the dead to introduce brides into a period of mourning.

SUBSTANCE SIZE OF A PEA LUBRICATES MILE-SQUARE AREA

A REVOLUTIONARY new motor-lubricating fluid has been perfected which has as its chief ingredient a highly lubricative colloidal (gel-like) substance so finely subdivided that a volume the size of a pea would cover a mile-square surface with a thin self-lubricating film.

This startling statement was made by Dr. G. A. Abbott, head of the chemistry department of the University of North Dakota and state oil chemist, at Grand Forks, who is a nationally recognized authority on oils, following his exhaustive tests with the fluid.

The fluid, which was used in pre-conditioning the motors of both an automobile recently driven 745 miles at Halifax, Nova Scotia, and an airplane flown 35 minutes at Winona, Minn., after all oil had been drained from their crankcases, was perfected by W. V. Kilder, former newspaper man of La Crosse, Wis.

The minute colloidal particles of the substance, when introduced into a motor by adding the carrier fluid to the regular crankcase oil, are attracted to the surfaces of the pistons and cylinders, forming a very thin but smooth and uniform lubricating film that thoroughly fills the finest pores and crevasses of the metal," Dr. Abbott said. "As this lubricating coat wears away it is continually renewed by fresh deposits of the colloidal particles in the oil stream. These particles, which readily pass through the finest filters, carry electrical charges that serve to repel and prevent them from collecting into larger masses and settling out. It is very probable that the fluid also contains some stabilizing agent in small quantity to prevent settling.

"Thus when a motor thoroughly conditioned with this substance is run after all oil has been drained from it, the film established upon the metal surfaces will serve as a lubricant until its thin layer wears away. When it disappears there is left a mottled surface exposing both iron and the colloidal substance, for the cavities of the metal are still filled with sub-microscopic particles of the latter. As the mottled surface is ground down these particles are smeared over the protruding metal spots, which strongly attract and hold them. In this way a continuous film of lubrication is maintained until the metal is worn down to the limit of penetration of the particles into its pores.

"From the physical and chemical properties of the fluid investigated it is reasonable to expect practical engineering tests to show a marked increase in motor efficiency, due to better lubrication," Dr. Abbott added. "This should cause the motor to run cooler and should result in a saving of fuel and in longer life of pistons and rings."

WORLD WAR BY * * YARNS

LIEUT. FRANK E. HAGAN

The Death Platoon

Most Americans are familiar with the story of the "Lost Battalion," but how many know the story of the "Death Platoon"? It consisted of 29 men of the One Hundred and Fourth Infantry of the Fifty-second infantry brigade of the Yankee division and it was commanded by Lieut. Chester R. Howard, an Iowa boy.

During September, 1918, the One Hundred and Fourth had served in the terrific fighting at St. Mihiel and after more than 30 days in the front line trenches the outfit was looking forward to a few days of relief. Instead they were ordered to join the First corps of the American army, then fighting the Meuse-Argonne battle. So they set out for that sector, marching away through rain and fog and mud. Dead tired they were, but for seven nights they marched, resting in the daytime. Upon their arrival at Hamont they were attached temporarily to the Eighteenth French division.

On October 13 the One Hundred and Fourth was ordered to support a surprise attack by the French tanks that night. Lieutenant Howard was given the post of honor, the lead of the infantry attack. His objective was a ridge a mile ahead of the jump-off and his orders were to "gain this objective and hold the position at all costs." The attack was no particular surprise to the Germans. No sooner had it been launched than they opened up with everything they had. Six of the nine tanks were disabled and finally the attack was called off. The remaining three tanks lumbered back to safety and the infantry retired. That is, all of it retired except Lieutenant Howard's platoon.

Advancing steadily he and his men crept ahead and were soon lost in the fog. He did not know of the orders to retire and kept on until he reached his objective. There he and his men, some of them wounded and all drenched and mud-covered, threw up breastworks as best they could, pushed their rifles over this slight defense and waited for the remainder of the outfit to come up. But almost immediately the Germans laid down a heavy barrage to clean up any parties that had survived the first furious bombardment. This continued for hours.

Twenty five days later the One Hundred and Fourth took part in an attack by the whole division. This time the attack was successful and the Americans swept forward to the objective of October 13. There on the little ridge they found Lieutenant Howard and the 29 men of his platoon. Their guns were still pointing toward the Germans. Every man, rigid in death, was facing the enemy. The "Death Platoon" had obeyed orders.

An Act of the English Puritan parliament of 1644 prohibited the setting up or dancing around the maypole, a custom which had existed throughout the history of medieval and Tudor England. Proof of Immortality

Mankind makes mistakes in interpretation, but mankind does not make fundamental mistakes in thinking. A great idea never is postulated without realization. A TRIBUTE TO OUR FRIEND

This community has suffered a great loss in the death of our good friend and neighbor, L. D. Manwaring, who passed away a few days ago at Colorado Springs, Colorado.

On account of the health of their daughter they left this community about thirty years ago, yet this was always home to him. His heart and mind were centered in the activities of this community.

Loren, as we all knew and called him, was a man of sterling integrity, always battling for that which he thought to be right and commanded the highest respect of those with whom he came in contact.

We who knew him intimately, knew him to be a sincere, conscientious Christian gentleman. His greatest ambition was to see his friends prosperous and happy and to contribute to their happiness in every way possible.

The Baptist church in Mentone was his church home, the progress of the church and its activities were uppermost in his heart and mind. His desire to see the church extend its influence and activities were some of the things that influenced his life as well as the lives of others.

Those who were unfortunate could always find in him a wise counselor and a true friend. His purse strings were open to the needy.

The world was better for his having lived. It is poorer for his passing.

No greater tribute could be paid him than "He went about doing good."

One of his friends.

SODALES CLUB

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses.

OBITUARY

Loren D. Manwaring was born March 1, 1859, and died November 6, 1932, in Colorado Springs, Colo., aged 72 years and 5 months.

Mr. Manwaring was born and reared to young manhood on his father's farm one mile east of Mentone. In June 1886 he was united in marriage to Cora Bybee. They took up residence in Mentone where they remained until going west which was necessitated by the health of the family. To this union was born one daughter Mrs. Edward Stoddard, of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Loren Manwaring was connected with the organization of the Farmers State Bank of Mentone for a number of years, having been elected president of that organization following the death of Elmer Eddinger. He was still a stockholder in the institution at the time of his death.

Mr. Manwaring was a charter member of the First Baptist Church of Mentone, and as long as his residence was in Mentone was a member of its board of deacons. He took great interest in church work, and the spiritual and moral betterment of the community. The chief aims of his life were to help someone into the Christian life, and share the burdens of the needy. He believed with all his heart in the imminent return of the Lord, and that now was the time to prepare to meet him. He was conscious of the approaching end and told his family not to mourn for him, for he was ready to go to be with his Lord, and his only sorrow was in leaving them.

Loren requested to be buried at Denver, Colo. on account of that being the future home of his family. He leaves a devoted wife, Cora Manwaring; one daughter, Mrs. Edward Stoddard, and one granddaughter, Shirley Stoddard, all of Colorado Springs, Colo.; one sister, Mrs. N. A. Clay, Mentone; four nieces, Mrs. Linden Blue, Denver, Colo., Mrs. Selby Finn, Chicago, Ill., Mrs. H. E. Nottingham and Miss Nina R. Clay of Mentone. Two nephews, Frank Manwaring and Chester Manwaring, Mentone.

Chester Manwaring, Frank and son Charles motored to Denver to attend the funeral services which were conducted by the Rev. G. W. Everson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Denver.

SENIOR NEWS

Mr. Champer has been having trouble with pupils asking to speak unnecessarily during the first assembly period after dinner from 12:30 to 1:30. He became so disgusted Friday afternoon that he told the students that he would give them time to think up something to talk about but that he would not grant anyone permission to speak until one o'clock. Promptly at one about thirty-five students hands went up. Mr. Champer proved he was a good sport by nodding permission to the whole group.

Three teams have been organized in girls' basket ball. Neither the Seniors nor the Freshmen had enough players for a team so they have gone together and the Freshmen girls claim that they play on the Senior team. The Juniors have just enough for a team while the Sophomores have the largest group of all.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Junior and the Senior debating teams have been chosen. The debate between these two teams will be held in the near future. Members of the Senior team are; Orville Vandermark, Marguerite Huffer and Lester Blackburn. Members of the Junior team are; John Doran, Helen Vandermark, and Delois White.

The yell leaders have been chosen. Fred Ross and Oliver Smith are now going to see if they can get some more noise from the basket ball fans. The first pep session was held at the gym Friday noon.

For the first time since the teams were organized the Sealawks defeated the Undecided Tillies. A snappy basket ball game was experienced and the score was 10 to 4 at the end of the game.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

"When in Rome do as the Romans do," says the old saying. So the second year Latin Class did so as near as was possible. We had a Roman dinner in the cafeteria room on the evening of the second day after the Ides of November. We followed as nearly as was possible the customs of the Romans at the time of Caesar. All had Roman names and conversed freely of Roman occurrences. Leo Lynn very suitably acted as our host with Guido Shirey as the King of Wine. Miss Mentzer, our honored guest, and Mr. Kelly, our Latin teacher, were present. The first year Latin students kindly offered their assistance which we gladly accepted. They acted as servants.

On the menu was: Under the Gustus; eggs, lettuce, sardines and olives. Under the Cena; rabbit, chicken, pork, beans, peas, cabbage, beets, wine, bread and butter. And Under the Secunda Minna; nuts, mints, apples and wine.

Mr. Kelly was reading about a very brave man. Zip! Bang! Would you believe that after hearing of such a wonderful man everyone jumped about a foot out of their seats? And yet it was only a blind which is not an exciting matter at all.

Mr. Champer asked Flo if she had ever made a quilt. Upon being told that she had not he assured her that she had better begin soon for his wife had already been working on one for two years. We wonder if he girls will accept his advice.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Kathryn Blackford and Mary Rush have been busy the past week making letters for the basket ball suits of the first team boys.

GIVING THANKS IN DARK DAYS OF REVOLUTION

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S Thanksgiving day proclamation at Valley Forge took great pains to put before the soldiers "the tremendous reason for this most special acknowledgment of the divine goodness." We of today, looking back with a full knowledge of the great trials and sufferings placed upon the Continental army in that winter of misery at Valley Forge, may perhaps wonder at the faith thus unfolded. There is, however, one fact which we, accustomed to observe the last Thursday of November as Thanksgiving day, should not overlook. It is Thanksgiving day as we know it, with a definite place upon our calendar, did not come into existence until 1863.

Thanksgiving day originated with the Pilgrims, who set aside a day for thanksgiving at Plymouth immediately after their first harvest, in 1621. The Massachusetts Bay colony first observed such a day in 1630 and frequently thereafter until 1680, when it became an annual festival in that colony. Connecticut also had a similar festival annually from 1647 onward. Usually these days for thanks giving followed the harvest, and were set aside primarily to give thanks to the Lord for the blessings he had bestowed upon the Colonists. During the Revolution, the Continental congress appointed one or more days for thanksgiving each year, except in 1777, when not even a congressman could find any blessings to point out to his constituents as reason for rejoicing. These Revolutionary Thanksgiving days usually were founded upon some military success and fortune smiled wanly, indeed, upon the Continental army in 1777—the winter of despair at Valley Forge.

Valley Forge Observation.

Washington's Thanksgiving day proclamation at Valley Forge came after the snows and the hunger and the sufferings of that terrible winter of 1777-78 had departed and spring smiled again upon the fertile valleys of Pennsylvania. The occasion was the entrance of France into the war as an ally of the Colonies. The Valley Forge Thanksgiving May, 1778, was a military celebration, with the chaplain of brigade directed "to offer up thanks and deliver a discourse suitable to the occasion." Then there was cannon fire and hurrahs, and cries of "Long Live the King of France!" "Long Live the Friendly European Powers!" and finally a general running fire and the huzzas, "The American States!"

Celebrations of Peace.

Another special Thanksgiving day was ordered by General Washington at Newburgh on the Hudson, April 19, 1783, eight years to the day from the shot fired at Lexington. Ultimate peace had been assured ever since the surrender of Cornwallis, but the question had become alarmingly acute ever since: How was it possible to keep even a remnant of the army alive to receive the treaty of peace? Six months more of this starvation, this utter discouragement as to the use of it all—the harassed general dared not think of what his poor boys might be driven to do to end it all.

The joy with which the information was at last received from Sir Guy Carleton that a cessation of hostilities was announced can scarcely be imagined. Immediately, the commander in chief issued his proclamation and directed that a public religious service and thanksgiving should take place on the same evening, April 19. This was probably the happiest Thanksgiving America has ever experienced, writes Estelle Harris in the Bicentennial News, published by the Alexandria, Va., Gazette in co-operation with the United States commission for the celebration of the two-hundredth anniversary of Washington's birth. A country gained glory and honor, and home around the bend of the road. December 11, 1783, the gloriously solemn day appointed by congress, Dr. John Rogers preached his famous sermon, announcing . . . "We have taken our place among the nations and empires of the earth."

Presidential Proclamation.

The first Presidential Thanksgiving proclamation named November 26, 1789. As far as the people were concerned, they could join in with any and all services, for they felt the nation was saved again now that the great Washington was at the helm. As for Father George himself, he was entirely too busy to write much in that diary of his, that is such a precious legacy to his people. Here is all he says: "November 26. Being the day appointed for a Thanksgiving, I went to St. Paul's chapel, though it was most inclement and stormy—but few people at church." The signing of the confederation articles was the especial occasion.

Quelling the insurrection in Pennsylvania was again a deliverance from danger, and cause for great rejoicing on the part of all the people, and a proclamation was made, appointing a day of thanksgiving for the general welfare and stable condition of the Union. This was issued from Independence hall, and February 19, 1795, was thus set apart, on which day the nation was "with devout reverence and affectionate gratitude, to return thanks for its national blessings and implore their continuance." As with all of George Washington's papers, this proclamation abounds in patriotism and counsel of the highest order, both as worthy of emulation today as yesterday.

Much Reason for Thanks.

In looking back to these special Thanksgiving days of early American history, no patriotic heart can help feeling the beauty and appropriateness of these gatherings. Also, the part they played in keeping the little nation as one ideal family, until it could walk alone, the American fathers holding before it the truths on which the foundation rests, liberty, equality, integrity. For whatever else has or has not happened, the foundation of this nation still rests securely and there is much to be thankful for on Thanksgiving day. The stars have not faltered in their course and freedom still reigns. The good earth has blossomed and fruited for her overlord, man, as in 1607 and 1776, and now that autumn has marked the finish of her harvest for this year, old earth is drawing back her sap, her chlorophyll and her chemicals into her storeroom, to be covered with snowy blankets instead of green grass—con serving and renewing all her power, making ready for next summer's spread of glory.

BULLDOGS 20 BEAVER DAM 16

Coach Goshert's fighting Bulldogs lived up to their name Friday night by defeating the fast stepping Beavers—20 to 16 on their home floor. McFarland, high scoring threat of the Beavers and who has been scoring an average of 19 points per game, was stopped in his tracks by Mentone's defense. He made only one field goal in the game.

Mentone ran up a lead in the first half. McFarland then passed from the picture in the third quarter on personal fouls and from then on the Bulldogs had the game clinched.

Both teams played great ball, waging a terrible battle throughout the entire game.

The scoring follows by points.

Mentone: Blue 2, Shirey 6, Smalley 2, Long 1, Vandermark, Orie 9.

Beaver Dam: Marshall 2, McFarland 4, G. Bidleman 2, Kern 5, Tucker 2, D. Bidleman 1.

FAMOUS PILOT TO TOUR U. S. AT 230 MILE AN HOUR AVERAGE SPEED

"World's fastest and safest transport plane" with which Major James H. Doolittle (inset) will set new inter-city records in 9,000-mile flight.

CHICAGO.—A nation-wide dramatization of commercial aviation of the future, when American business and professional men can breakfast at home, have lunch and transact important duties in cities 1,000 miles away and be back with their families for dinner, will be staged next week with Major James H. Doolittle, world-famed flyer, playing the leading role.

Doolittle will take off from the Municipal Airport here November 23, on a 9,000-mile flight along the principal airways reaching from Chicago to the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific coasts in "Shelllighting," a new ship of his own design which he claims is "the fastest and safest transport plane in the world," and with which he plans to maintain an average speed of 230 miles an hour between stops throughout his tour.

His epoch-making flight will be the longest ever attempted for the purpose of establishing new inter-city speed records with a transport plane carrying passengers. Four persons will accompany him. His speed will be just double that of the present average of planes operated by American commercial air lines. His ship, which is the last word in airplane design and equipment, is capable of a speed of more than 245 miles an hour.

The plane is equipped with a 700-horsepower Wright Cyclone engine of advanced design, an improved N. A. C. A. radial engine cowling, automatic variable pitch propeller and retractable landing gear. It is also equipped with a two-way radio, latest improved flight instruments, and a mechanism in the wings which prevents the forming of ice, enabling the pilot to maintain predetermined schedules in any kind of weather without endangering his life or those of his passengers.

Some of the plane's equipment either was perfected or improved by the famed pilot himself.

While Doolittle has established many speed records for land planes, he is universally recognized for his outstanding accomplishments in the field of aeronautical engineering, as well as scientific research and development of airplanes and aviation lubricants and fuels. As manager of the aviation department of the Shell Petroleum Corporation, St. Louis, he devotes practically all of his time to such endeavors.

Doolittle plans first to make a circuitous flight throughout the East, stopping at Detroit, Buffalo, Toronto, Ont., Boston, New York City, Washington, Pittsburgh and Cleveland. He will then proceed southward, stopping at Tulsa, Okla., Houston, New Orleans, Atlanta and Nashville, after which he may head for the Pacific coast, landing at Omaha, Denver, Salt Lake City and San Francisco. Returning to Chicago on the last leg of his flight, he probably will stop at Los Angeles, Santa Fe, N. M., and Kansas City. He expects to make his all-daylight tour of the United States in the phenomenal time of six days.

Mentone Bulldogs Whip Fulton 30-25

When two Bulldogs meet you never fail to see a good scrap. And that rule was not broken when the Mentone Bulldogs met the Fulton Bulldogs at Mentone Friday night. It was a battle royal from start to finish with the Mentone pack coming from behind in the last quarter to sink blow after blow to leave no doubt as to which was the champion pack of canines.

Trailing by three points at the start of the final quarter Coach Goshert's team lived up their name, Fighting Bulldogs, by making a whirlwind finish of 11 points to their opponents 3 to completely subdue the Bulldogs from Fulton.

Scoring was as follows: Shirey 10, Blue 8, Smalley 2, Nellans 1, Long 2, Orie Vandemark 3.

THEATRE NEWS

"The Golden West" brings George O'Brien to the Strand Theatre screen Friday and Saturday in two roles—that of a southern youth in love with a girl whose romance is torn asunder by a family feud and, later, as the leader of an Indian tribe. These contrasting roles are said to give O'Brien the best opportunities he had been privileged to enjoy in any of his outdoor romances.

A romance between the fiery-tempered daughter of an elderly sea-captain and the sport-loving son of a millionaire forms the theme of "Toss of the Storm Country," starring Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, which opens next Sunday at the Strand Theatre.

This section of the county will be represented on the stage when the "Hoosier Firecrackers," composed of near-local talent, appear at the Centennial Friday. The "Hoosier Firecrackers" have been appearing on numbers of programs lately and rank as "The Pride of the County."

Friday night at the Centennial is "Ladies Night." Each lady attending will receive a box of excellent Bon Bons. Several other prizes also are to be given. Then on Saturday afternoon "Kiddies Treat." Every boy and girl that attends receives candy.

OBITUARY—CHAS. DAVISON

Charles Duncan Davison was born at Livingston, Illinois, on February 16, 1860, and departed this life at his home in Marshall, Friday evening, November 11, 1932, at the age of 72 years 8 months and 25 days. The deceased was the fourth son of Reese and Catherine Davison to whom were born six other sons, Lyman, William, George P. of Terre Haute, David A. of Princeton, Indiana, John H. of Marshall, B. M. of Springfield, Illinois and one daughter, Carrie, who became the wife of Frank Taylor. The sister and two brothers, William and Lyman preceded him in death several years ago.

On June 9, 1880, he was united in marriage to Nancy Lurinda Ross of Ashbury, Illinois. To this union were born six children, Edna Pearl, who died at the age of twenty years, Golda J. at home, Marjorie of Chicago, Asa H. of Urbana, Ross L. of Marshall and Fenton B. of Mentone Indiana.

When a young man, Charles was converted at the Livingston church and never lost faith in his Savior. His last weeks were spent in praise and thanksgiving that he had been blessed with the encouragement of Christian parents and for the anchor that had held him fast. He was happy in the assurance that he was prepared to meet his Lord and Master.

Heavenly visions blessed his sick room as favorite old hymns were sung for him. Then he slept and when he awakened, he said, "I shall leave you all in one of these sleeps, and I want to say 'Goodbye' while I can. I want you all to meet me Over There." He seemed ever to see the Savior in the distance, and about a week before the end, he smiled and said "At last, Jesus is headed this way."

Those left to miss him everywhere are wife, five children, six grandchildren, four brothers with families and many other relatives and friends. Floral tributes were many and beautiful. The funeral service was held in the Livingston church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. Laren Spear officiating. "We'll ever Say Goodbye in Heaven," "Asleep in Jesus," "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and "Meet Me There" were favorite songs and were beautifully rendered by Mrs. Walter Craig, Mrs. Harry Cropp and C. C. Carroll of Marshall. Burial was in the Livingston cemetery.

Adversity has its uses. Strong men and strong institutions come through hard times with the consciousness of greater strength, added poise, renewed courage and a firmer faith.

Man Falls Into Lion's Den

Trying to find a way out of the Groot Schuur zoo in Capetown, South Africa, a native climbed into the lion's enclosure and fell into the pit. He was seized by a lion and lionesess, and his neck was broken by a blow from the paw of one of the beasts. He was badly mauled.

Self-Conceit

Utter faith in one's own opinions is the best barrier ever devised against the entrance of truth. The self-conceited thinker is always a poor thinker, no matter how fine a mind he may originally have had. He is confining himself to a pint cup, when he might use the ocean.

A Soap Bubble Blowing Party

IN the early 1890's we are told, soap bubble blowing parties were the fashion and furnished many hours of amusement for our mothers and fathers, and even grand-children and grandchildren.

Nowadays when soap has so many utilitarian and personal functions in our social scheme, especially since the same kind can be used for everything including care of the baby, laundering delicate fabrics, scrubbing floors and other seemingly unrelated tasks, we have perhaps lost sight of how much hilarity and good fun can be had from a cake of ordinary white soap.

A soap bubble blowing party will keep any group of children and even a group of grown-ups amused and entertained for an afternoon.

For the little ones the affair will need to be carefully planned. A wise hostess will provide or suggest that the little guests bring brightly colored and decorated rubber aprons. These can be purchased at the ten-cent store and will add to the general color and gaiety of the occasion and at the same time prevent uncomfortable dampness to pretty frocks and play suits.

Make a rich solution with a mild pure soap, like Ivory. Add a few drops of glycerin. When the guests have put on their aprons each one should be given an ordinary, inexpensive clay bubble blowing pipe.

Children are always pleased with the idea of a competition, especially if the hostess awards some simple prizes. A board of judges should be appointed (chosen from among the children, if possible, otherwise grown-ups may serve) and each contestant for the prizes should be required to blow his or her prize-winning bubble before the judges. Ample time for preliminary practice should be allowed.

An interesting variation of the soap bubble blowing party would be to ask the guests to come in costume and stage a party exactly like the ones their mothers and daddies enjoyed when this fad was at its height. The children will enjoy dressing up and any grown-up present will be equally glad to have a pipe, a cake of Ivory soap and a bowl and join in the fun.

In the Nation's Youth

The first United States census was taken in 1790. The leading ten cities then were: Philadelphia, 42,444; New York, 33,131; Boston, 18,008; Charleston, 16,339; Baltimore, 13,463; Salem, Mass., 7,921; Newport, 6,716; Providence, 6,380; Richmond, 3,761; Albany, 3,498.

Pasting Oilcloth

If you want to paste oilcloth down on shelves, buy a pot of good library paste and use with very little water added. Put the paste on the shelf, not on the oilcloth, and, with a cloth in your hand, smooth out every crease as you go along.

Sunshine Lengthens Legs

Sunshine makes the legs grow longer, according to Dr. Kathleen Vaughan, woman medico. She asserts those who are killed from their youth up grow taller than those who are killed later. The kilts allow the sun to strike the knees and shins.

Sun's Immense Size

This glowing mass of incandescent gases which we call the sun is equal in bulk to 1,300,000 earths, says Nature Magazine. It rotates slowly on its axis in about 24½ days at its equator, and in about one day longer in latitude 35 degrees north and south of its equator.

Error in Marketing Brood Sow Too Soon

Point Often Overlooked by Pork Producers.

Good breeding and good feeding go hand in hand. Swine, like all classes of live stock, should be selected on the basis of their performance from the standpoint of prolificacy, vigor, quality and yield of carcass. Prolificacy and the ability to utilize feed economically are matters of heredity. Pork producers should take advantage of this fact. Feeding and carcass tests will enable the producer more accurately to select breeding stock.

The hog producers of the country are suffering a great loss due to the practice of using brood sows for only one or two litters and then marketing them. Under this system the number of sows is proportionally greater than would be the case if the brood sows were kept their full life of usefulness, which is frequently five or six years. It would be profitable to the producers to keep the sows which have proved good mothers just as long as they continue to farrow and successfully raise large litters of desirable type that are economical feeders. Two litters a year not only reduces the cost of production of market hogs, but it gives the producer two chances at the market during the year instead of one.—Breeder's Gazette.

Operation of Seeding Without a Nurse Crop

The cultural practices which have proven most satisfactory in seeding without a nurse crop are as follows. The land is disked or cultivated after harvest, or early in the spring before the main grain crop is seeded. This cultivation conserves the moisture in the land and is an insurance that all the wild oats and other weed seeds which fall on the ground will be germinated and not plowed down as viable seeds. The land is plowed after spring seeding is completed, at which time wild oats and other spring germinated weeds will have made sufficient growth to insure that they will be killed by plowing. The land is then worked down into a fine seed bed and kept well worked and harrowed until the latter part of June. If sufficient moisture is available and tillage is given every ten days, a number of successive weed crops will be germinated and destroyed before the grass or clover is seeded.

Phosphate Aids Crops

Phosphate increased beet yields nearly four tons an acre for Stewart Thompson, Lawrence county, South Dakota. Mr. Thompson had his soil analyzed. It was rich in lime and potash and had sufficient nitrogen, but it was low in phosphate. He decided to try superphosphate on sugar beets. On a field of 6.83 acres 12 rows of phosphated beets were alternated with 12 rows that had no fertilizer. He got seven tons an acre from plots that had no fertilizer and nearly eleven tons an acre where he applied phosphate.

The contract price of beets was $7 a ton, so the phosphate increased returns nearly $28 an acre.

Wheat was put on this field the following year. That on the fertilized strips matured four to five days earlier and made 32.15 bushels an acre. The rest of the field made 22 bushels. Last year the field was in corn. That from the strips where phosphate had been applied to beets was a foot taller, matured five to six days earlier, and looked good enough to double the yield of that on unfertilized plots.—Capper's Farmer.

Seed Corn Treatment

Treating seed corn with dust disinfectants increased the yield three bushels per acre in Illinois, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. With well selected lots of seed under proper storage conditions seed treatment was found to be as effective as the germination tests in increasing yields.

The dust treatment effectively controlled two of the ear rots most common in well selected seed. The treatments also gave partial protection against soil-borne diseases.

Around the Farm

Get after the weeds early and often. They work fast.

Alabama farms have more hogs and cattle but fewer horses and mules than a year ago.

A rich sandy loam soil with a good supply of decaying organic matter is the best for potatoes.

Over two thousand horses and mules have been treated in Vermillion county, Illinois, for the control of internal parasites.

Blue grass sod is one of the preventives of erosion in fields.

Heavy feeding and no exercise on Sundays or rainy days are bad for horses. Be sure to reduce the feed when the horses are idle, live stock specialists urge.

Covered smut of wheat, barley and oats causes tremendous losses to grain growers in Dakota, but is effectively controlled by the use of a solution of formaldehyde or with copper carbonate dust.

Elements in the Sun

Of course nothing is known about the composition of the sun's interior. The spectroscopic has shown that the outside layer or chromosphere consists largely of hydrogen, helium and calcium vapor; the vapors of iron, titanium, manganese, nickel, cobalt and other elements (over 40 in all) have also been detected.

DICTATES POEM FOR RADIO SONG ACROSS THE COUNTRY

In his daily programs, Lowell Patton, composer, organist and director of the "Song for Today" program over WJZ and associated radio stations, features at least three songs in each broadcast for which he has written the music to original poems. Many of these poems are written by his listeners, and others by his mother, Mrs. Bella McIntosh Patton, a well known Portland, Ore., writer.

It sometimes happens that Mr. Patton needs a special song for a particular occasion. A telephone call from New York to his mother in Portland informs her of his need, and within a short time she calls back with a poem whose words he takes down over the long distance wires and then arranges in a musical setting.

The last occasion on which he made use of the telephone to Portland for this purpose was on his father's birthday, when he called to offer his congratulations. At the same time his mother read to him the lyric for a new song which she had written and dedicated to her husband. The son copied down the words, and the next morning the song was heard on the regular "Song for Today" program.

Varying Tidal Waves

The irregular shape and depth of the oceans and the obstructing land masses cause the actual tidal waves to differ very greatly. In the open ocean the amplitude of the rise and fall of tides is not more than 1 or 2 feet, but around the continents, where the tidal waves sweep into the shallow or narrow seas, the waters are heaped up, and the rise is sometimes 20 feet or even more.

"Dakota Medicine"

Sorcerers of some of the plains tribes chewed the leaves of the false mallow and rubbed their hands and arms with the mucilaginous paste, says Nature Magazine. This rendered them insensible to heat, so they were able to pick up hot objects or take meat from boiling water to the amusement of the spectators. The Indians called the plant Heyo's pezheta, meaning "Dakota medicine."

Death Across the Rhine

History has not preserved his name but it is a commonly known fact that the first man in the American Army of Occupation to cross the Rhine, died on the following day. He was an engineer who had been struck down and injured by a train at the railroad of Coblenz, several days before.

A Red Cross hospital was established directly across the river. It offered the nearest refuge for the injured man and he was taken over the stream he had doubtless dreamed of crossing ever since leaving America. He died there the next day.

The hospital was packed at the time with German wounded. These enemy soldiers pooled their funds to buy a wreath for the American's grave. It was placed there by a detail which buried him in the little village churchyard.

"When the engine gets hot"

said MRS. MOLLA PROPP,

"one can always shut off the radiator"

YOU know, my dear, Henry can be almost ARABIAN at times. So I wasn't so much surprised when—jokingly, of course—he dragged me to the car for a trip to the golf course.

Henry kept telling me all the way how the transmission is full of wheels and things and how the gas goes through the gaskets. He's SO mechanical.

Who should we meet but the Georges in their new car and George was blue in the face and told us all he was going to do to the salesman. Henry told him to keep cool and maybe it was only the generator which needed charging.

But it wasn't, for the car didn't go any better. Then I remembered what I always tell Henry. "I'll bet it's the gasoline!" I said over and over again.

And right away Henry knew what was wrong and we stayed with the Georges until they limped to one of OUR stations and filled the pan with gas.

So we didn't play golf after all, but all of us got into the Georges' new car for a long ride. And George was so tickled with his new car and said it was the best made, which got Henry peeved because he says OURS is best.

And they argued all the way home comparing wheelbases and what-nots until midnight. Oh, those men!

carried 21 men and 8 women.

As the boat was beached the crowd surrounded it. A little girl was the first passenger lifted ashore. She was dripping wet but smiling and she blew a kiss to the crowds that cheered her as she was carried into the hospital tent. "I'm all right. Help those other people. Just give me a coat. I'm cold," she said. To a big six-foot Shriner who tore off his gold-laced, trimmed green velvet coat and flung it about her shoulders, she smiled her thanks.

Two frail women, biting their lips in their effort not to break down under the strain of their experience were carried in to land. They were dressed in heavy blue overalls and jumpers. One of them fainted as a sudden blast from the band which was madly playing "The Star Spangled Banner" carried the tune of the national anthem to her ears. The other woman also as she heard the music for the first time seemed to realize that she was freed from the terror of the sea and among friends. "We're saved" she remarked simply, then fell unconscious into the arms of a doctor.

An Interrupted Parade

June 4, 1918, was an eventful day at Atlantic City, N. J. Hundreds of bathers were at play in the surf. A parade of Knights of the Mystic Shrine was in progress along the boardwalk, preceded by a band which played "Where Do We Go From Here." Suddenly a boat appeared around the end of one of the long piers, a white flag of distress, whipping at the bow. There was a moment of stunned silence then a shout of welcome arose from the crowd. The band swung into "The Star Spangled Banner" and excited shoppers, mindful of their regular, rushed waist-deep into the surf.

For they recognized this craft as one of the lifeboats of the New York and Porto Rico liner, Carolina, which had been torpedoed by a German submarine off the coast of New Jersey on June 2. Other lifeboats, carrying the survivors of the attack, had been picked up but up to this moment nothing had been heard of No. 5, which
